UAW Ask President To Assist

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (UP)—Representatives of the nation's major railroads and unions speaking for 1,400,000 workers met today to decide on proposals for negotiating wage demands ranging up to 30 percent over present pay scales.

By United Press
Striking CIO auto workers appealed directly to President Truman today for intervention in the General Motors shutdown.

The United Automobile Workers union at the Terminal plant of GM's Fisher Body Division, Detroit, asked Mr. Truman to "use the power and facts at your command" to bring company officials into immediate negotiations over the union's demand for a 30 per cent wage increase.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (UP)—President Truman said today that he has no need for more big three conferences if the United Nations organization works as it should.

He wants the United Nations to do its job, he added, according to the charter. He said he remembers that the League of Nations was rained by special conferences.

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 29 (UP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in a report released here today, criticized the French government for hampering the allied control council and urged early establishment of central German administrative machinery.

Summarizing the situation in Germany in October, before he left to become chief of staff of the U. S. Army, Eisenhower cited the "potential dangers of unrest and disease this winter."

By United Press
He declared, however, there was no immediate emergency in the American and British zones as long as current rationing can be maintained.

Nurse Slayer Described As 'Half-Awake'

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29 (AP)—"Semi-conscious" a word, half-awake state of mind, was projected as the condition of Mrs. Anne Irene Mansfield when she killed a suspected rival for her husband's affections.

Defense Attorney Vincent Hallinan, in his opening remarks to a jury of seven women and five men hearing the murder trial, yesterday portrayed his client as a wife and mother whose married life was haunted by the "specter of hereditary insanity."

Over prosecution objections, Hallinan outlined the strange relationship between the late Dr. John H. Mansfield and his wife, which he said was the cause of her drug-induced state when she shot and killed Mrs. Veda Martin.

"We do not claim a hereditary homicide," Hallinan said. "We are not looking any unwise law... It is our contention that Mrs. Mansfield was intoxicated, not by liquor, not by drugs involuntarily taken."

Hallinan said that Dr. Mansfield had given his wife a strong sedative and "two pills with a sweet liquid" the night before she killed the attractive 36-year-old nurse with a revolver "she had" in the vaguest file box to load or operate.

The drug, Hallinan said, "produced a profound, unwise sleep for Mrs. Mansfield—so sleep so abnormal it tore loose the structure of her subconscious mind, which like Pandora's box had been stored away the terror and horror and fears of countless years."

"When she awoke in the morning she was suffering from a condition reminiscent in which she gave the aspects of consciousness but actually was only semi-conscious," Hallinan contended.

In this condition, the attorney said, she drove one of her three children to school but went through 400 signs and otherwise frightened the child despite her usual careful driving habits.

Why You Don't Have BUS SERVICE
Because of the hitting of the 35 mile speed limit by the ODT the Overland Greyhound Lines' Management met with the officers of the Amalgamated Union, representing 192 Bus Drivers in the territory north of Salt Lake City, on September 28 and October 27, and again November 13. AT THE FIRST MEETING THE COMPANY OFFERED TO SUBMIT FOR ARBITRATION THE QUESTION OF WAGE RATES TO BE EFFECTIVE AFTER OCTOBER 1, 1945. THE UNION, HOWEVER, REJECTED THE OFFER OF THE COMPANY TO ARBITRATE AND WENT ON STRIKE.

435 drivers in the territory south and east of Salt Lake City DID NOT STRIKE but agreed to arbitrate and RECEIVED AN ARBITRATION AWARD which granted the Drivers a new wage rate which is the HIGHEST RATE PAID BUS DRIVERS IN THE UNITED STATES.

At the meeting on October 27, the Company OFFERED THE UNION THE SAME RATES of pay that were awarded the other 435 drivers who did not strike, but AGAIN THE OFFER WAS REJECTED. Obviously, the Company cannot agree to pay a higher rate of pay to the 192 striking Bus Drivers than was allowed through arbitration to the 435 drivers, who submitted their demand to arbitration without interrupting service to the public.

THE COMPANY REGRETS THAT IT IS UNABLE TO FURNISH ITS PATRONS WITH BUS SERVICE, BUT UNTIL SUCH TIME AS OUR BUS DRIVERS ARE WILLING TO ACCEPT THE HIGHEST PAID RATES IN THE INDUSTRY FOR THEIR SERVICES, THE PUBLIC WILL BE DEPRIVED OF BUS TRANSPORTATION THAT THEY SO RIGHTFULLY DESERVE.

Sweden Has Only Stable Money Plan

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 29 (AP)—The stability of the Swedish dollar has been a major factor in the success of the Swedish economy since the start of the war. In the last six years the number of Swedish crowns to the dollar has varied only from 420 to 437.

But it is not the exchange and market value of the stability of those values that make the Swedish crown so important in the buying power.

Sweden's almost nothing to buy in Denmark, Norway and Finland. Sweden has plenty of almost everything in self-defense, and as good business practice, the Swedes limit the exchange of currencies with other countries.

Sweden doesn't want Norwegian or Danish crowns or Finnish marks. The only way you can get Swedish crowns is with U. S. dollars or much less surely — with British pounds.

Minister Wigforss, who heads the finance department, points out that Sweden has been sending goods not only to her Scandinavian neighbors, but to the Netherlands, Belgium, France and Poland.

It is not the surplus buying power in all these countries because the Swedes take their currencies and they have nothing to sell.

Wigforss concludes that the situation is making the Swedish crown mighty important.

"But there is only one worldwide stable currency," he says, "and that is the U. S. dollar."

For the Swedish crown really to rival it, he declares, would be "quite impossible."

"Unless," he adds dreamily, "you mean war in the future."

The lodge was built before the war through cooperation of the forest service, Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Ski club.

Lie Detector Now Becomes "Fool Proof"

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP)—The lie detector has been equipped with new attachments designed to trap suspects who try to "beat the machine."

John E. Reid, a specialist in operating the instrument at the Chicago police department's crime detection laboratory, has developed equipment that registers not only blood pressure and respiration, but muscular tensions and movements—even the wiggling of toes.

For years the subject in polygraph tests sat in a chair. A flexible tube was strapped around his chest and a blood pressure cuff was fastened on his right arm. Both devices were connected with a recording machine on an adjacent table.

The first few questions usually concerned his name, age and address. The tracings on the paper graph moving through the recording machine at the speed of such commonplace queries established his normal pattern. Loaded questions—such as "did you kill Joe Roe?"—followed. At the end of the interrogation the graphs were examined and any marked irregularities in the lines were taken as indication of guilt or guilty knowledge.

Reid still uses that sort of equipment and technique, but he now test suspects who seek to falsify their blood pressure and respiration recordings by tensing their muscles at opportune times or by remaining rigid throughout the examinations.

The new attachments are inflated rubber bladders. One is placed under the subject's right forearm and the other under his left forearm and the third on the seat of the chair under his thighs. The bladders are connected to bellows in the recording machine. The bellows activate pens

Two Ask Divorce In Local Court

Two divorce complaints were filed here late yesterday in the district court.

Charging extreme cruelty, Colleen Warnbacher filed suit for divorce from Clarence Warnbacher, whom she married at Twin Falls Oct. 29, 1943. The plaintiff asked for an even distribution of community property, household goods valued at $700. W. L. Bruhn, Twin Falls, was attorney for the plaintiff.

Eileen Urlich, charging cruelty, filed suit for divorce from George Urlich. The couple was married at Olympia, Wash., Feb. 3, 1943. Raymond and Hayden, Twin Falls, are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Army Superiority Tangles All-Star Vote

By HARRY GRATSON
 Staff Sports Editor
 NEW YORK, Nov. 29 — The first letter recommending one of the candidates for All-American came today and that means the end of the 1945 football season is drawing near. The two leading candidates are Army and Navy. Army has a strong case among the selectors this year and the best of the division is this superior Army team. One group would happily affirm the entire position of selecting Army simply awarding the top positions to Army starting eleven. The other group would declare all Cade's ineligible for the All-American and other honors.

AL SPARLIS CAL ROSSI

There is a democratic note to the letter suggestion for it would open up the mystery of how the nation's better operatives, who may be considered as being Brothers Davis, Blanchard, Tucker and Williams are murdering the opposition. It would be a break, for the Olmsteads, the Fetters, the Diastec, the Fountains and the Grooms. Speaking of All-American candidates, one of the season's strange twists is the transfer of Cal Rossi, the highly-regarded halfback from the University of California, recruited by the Navy to Cambridge for further training prior to being commissioned but because he outgrew his middle of the term Dick Harlow cannot use him on the Crimson squad.

Doerr Expects Name Revealed At Minor Meet

The followers of Pioneer league baseball should know the name of the Cowboys' 1945 pilot and also several players on the team when Maury Doerr, the Cowboys' president, returns next week from the annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues at Columbus, O.

Doerr said that George Welso, president of the Yankees, with whom the Cowboys have a gentlemen's agreement, has promised him that he would have the name of the manager available when they meet in Columbus. Welso also intimated that the number of players who will be sent here also will be made known at this time.

Report On the War

By General George C. Marshall

ROME FALLS

Further south the Fifth Army offensive had been halted before strong defenses of Cassino. Some of the fiercest fighting of the war took place at this point. Determined attempts to capture the town failed in the face of fanatical resistance by crack German units—namely the 1st Parachute Division, which General Alexander termed the best German division on any front. Lt. Gen. Jacob L. Devers, Deputy Allied Commander, wrote me on 22 March: "We are struggling here with time. On March 15th I thought we were going to lick it by the attack on Cassino and advance to the Liri Valley. We used air, artillery, and tanks, followed closely by infantry. I witnessed the attack from across the valley. It got off to a start with excellent weather. The bombing was excellent and severe, and the artillery barrage which followed it and lasted for two hours was even more severe and accurate, with 800 rounds participating. Two groups of medium bombers, followed by 11 groups of heavies, followed by three groups of mediums, started on the minute at 8:30 a.m. and closed at 12:00. The groups returned after only 10 minutes up to 5:00 o'clock and thereafter every 15 minutes. In spite of all this and with excellent support all afternoon with dive bombers and artillery fire, the Germans were not able to attain their first objective. Consequently, the tanks which were to lead the assault could not get started. These results were a sobering shock to me. The infantry had been ordered to move in the early morning hours five miles to the north of Cassino. When they tried back to the town and Cassino at approximately 1:00 o'clock close behind the barrage, the Germans were still there, were able to slow up their advance and even to reinforce themselves during the night by some unaccountable means.

The attack still hung on half. It is my opinion that all we will gain will be the town of Cassino and possibly a bridgehead over the Rapido in that vicinity; General Alexander must then stop and regroup his forces which he hopes to accomplish by the 15th of April."

Retreats Fight As Veterans
After reorganizing, the Fifth and Eighth armies launched a coordinated offensive on 11 May. As the attack got underway, the U. S. VI corps, now under Maj. Gen. L. K. Truscott, struck out from Anzio unopposed on 23 May. The attack was made by the 3d, 4th, and 45th Infantry divisions, the 1st armored division, the 1st special service force, the 10th Japanese Infantry Battalion, composed of American of Japanese descent, and two British divisions. The 1st special service force drove east to pave the way for a junction on 25 May with other Fifth Army forces advancing northwest along the coast. These forces included the 8th and 6th divisions which had recently arrived from the United States and entered the line 15 March and April. Activated after 7 December 1941 and composed almost entirely of selectees, these two new divisions fought as veterans units in their first combat assignment, overcoming extremely heavy resistance. This was the first confirmation from the battlefield of the soundness of our division activation and training program, which was described in detail in my last report.

The attack from the south then moved to Anzio from which the beachhead forces were already withdrawing. The German withdrawal to the north of Rome. The Italian capital fell to the Fifth Army on June two days before allied forces began the invasion of France. We were weakened seriously in the intense fighting along the approaches to Rome. On 22 June we replaced the casualties promptly. On 4 February General Devers had reported: "Casualties have been unusually heavy for the past 10 days, particularly in infantry. Clark reports 2d division casualties alone total 2,400. The 1st division, the 38th division is 1,300 and in the 38th division, 3,000. Since present operations involve simultaneous use of all divisions, it is imperative that table of organization strength be maintained."

"Two weeks later he again reported: "Replacements allocated to this theater are not adequate to sustain operations on Italy on the present scale. At the present time the 130,000 effective net shortage of 1,002 officers and men."

This shortage of men resulted in a desperate loss of our battle line because of the inability of the selective service system to meet the army's call for manpower the previous summer. In that selective service had delivered 194,000 men of the army's call of 225,000. In August 1944 and September the army had requested 275,000 men in August and 127,000 in September.

Pursuit to the North
This shortage of men was made more acute even though we were now making heavy withdrawals in preparation for ADVP, the attack in southern France which was scheduled for August. Between mid-June and the first of July more than a division a week was withdrawn from the front in Italy to train and take part in this operation. The 45th was ordered out of the line on 14 June, the 3d on 17 June, and the 4th on 27 June. The United States 3rd corps under Maj. Gen. W. D. Cristaller moved into the line in place of the VI corps, which had been withdrawn June. The French corps of four divisions (4th motorized Moroccan, 3d Algerian Infantry, 4th Moroccan mountain, and 2d Moroccan Infantry) were withdrawn between 2 and 21 July, and replaced by the II corps which had been out of the line for a rest.

To compensate partially for this heavy drain on its resources and to utilize more fully antitank units which were no longer required in such large numbers as a result of our increasing air superiority, the theater commander retained several groups as infantry to form the 45th Infantry. At the time the 44th Infantry regiment, composed of Americans of Japanese descent, was fighting with distinction on the left flank of the Fifth Army. Thus, by the end of June, Pescara, 80 miles east of Rome, had been captured and the allied line extended across the peninsula between Lake Trasimene. In July the fifth and eighth armies advanced 50 miles. After heavy fighting during two weeks, First Army fell to British troops of the Fifth Army. Five days later United States troops captured Fogg. Meanwhile, the eighth army had passed through the Apennine divide and on 21 September captured Rimini in the valley of the Po.

U.S. Entered Atomic Race 6 Years Ago

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—The United States entered the atomic bomb race on Oct. 11, 1939, when the late President Roosevelt, convinced that Germany was seeking atomic energy for use in war, told a trusted assistant that "this requires action."

The story of how the United States got into the race was told by Alexander Sachs, New York economist, to the senate atomic energy committee headed by Sen. Brian McMahon, D. Conn.

The 11-man committee opened hearings into all aspects of atomic energy and bomb in a crowded room brilliantly illuminated by the lights of photographers and cameras.

Sachs, who had previously been in close contact with President Roosevelt on other matters, had written to the White House on Oct. 11, 1939, with a letter from Prof. Albert Einstein warning of possible consequences to this country of atomic research then going on in Germany.

Sachs and foreign-born scientists in this country as refugees from fascism or from nations which Mr. Roosevelt with much of the information which motivated him in turning this government into atomic research.

When the President was presented with this evidence, Sachs said, he turned to his wife the late Mary-Gen Einstein (Eva) and made the remark which put the United States into the race.

Each said such refugee scientists as Einstein and Dr. Leo Szilard went to him first because "I was in position to talk to the President."

"They knew that Germany was organized to carry out atomic experiments without stint and were fearful that the safety of the United States would be greatly endangered."

Sachs testified that Einstein's letter to Mr. Roosevelt stated that experiments by Enrico Fermi and Dr. Szilard "lead me to expect that uranium could be turned into energy. Einstein added that the situation calls for watchfulness and quick action."

High scores in the Elva bridge tournament held Wednesday night were Mrs. P. H. Stowell and Russell Potter. Mrs. Bert Lund and C. A. Bailey were second. Mrs. Duffy Reed and Charles Larson were third. Mrs. and Mrs. Harry Bond, fourth.

The committees in charge of the affair were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mr. and Mrs. Truman Greenhalgh and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wrochalek. The next party will be Wednesday, Dec. 12.
