Bolyard Signs to Manage Cowboys In Pioneer Loop

Player-manager of the Twin Falls Cowboys baseball team in the Pioneer league for 1946 will be Earl Bolyard, 33-year-old navy overseas veteran and a topnotch minor league pitcher.

That was the word received by telephone from Chicago Wednesday by M. J. (Maury) Doerr, president of the Cowboy club.

Joe Devine, western representative and scout of the New York Yankees club, told Doerr that Bolyard signed Tuesday night to manage the Twin Falls club.

Bolyard, born of Chattanooga, Tenn., to Chicago to sign the contract.

They arrived home Monday evening from the minor league meeting at Columbus, O., and the major league meeting in Chicago without definite assurance that Bolyard could be secured to handle the Cowboys. He had not been able to secure a commitment at Chicago from George Weiss, Yankee vice-president and "farm" director, because the Yankees were considering using Bolyard as a class AA pitcher.

Great News, Says Doerr
"This is great news," Doerr said. "I am thoroughly sold on Bolyard after talking with him."

"I was extremely disappointed when we appeared we couldn't get him. He is a very fine gentleman in addition to being a top outfielder with a good arm and a very strong ability. He's quiet, reserved, low to work with boys—in fact, he's never been batted under 300 average in such leagues as the International, American association, Texas, Pacific coast and Eastern. He played with teams of the caliber of the Yankees, Dodgers, Giants, Oakland and Dallas among others."

Bolyard was with Dallas in the Texas league, hitting .310 in mid-season when he joined the Yankees. "I'm sure," said Doerr, "he is known as the toughest on hitters because of many major league clubs and teams up into the big-time."

Navy Athletic Expert
After finishing his war and taking preliminary training, Bolyard went to the Great Lakes naval aviation center, where he was assistant manager of the Great Lakes ball team, which included many of the best players in the country one year under Mickey Vernon and one year under Johnny Mize.

He then worked up to chief pitcher as athletic specialist, was sent overseas to the Pacific theater in charge of the U. S. naval athletic team.

Big League Caliber
Doerr, ex-Bozeman, O'Boone, former big league star who is now chief pitcher for Cincinnati, told him he has an outstanding ball player being Bolyard was major league caliber. "I don't think I've ever seen a kid like him," he said.

Doerr, who is now manager of the Columbus club, told Bolyard that he had been with the team from 1940 to 1945 in the Pioneer league.

Edna, Bolyard's former Twin Falls manager who will report to Twin Falls this year, praised Bolyard.

Her "date" was a handsome, bespectacled and blond young man named Charles Villiers, who arrived as a cousin in the elite grenadier guards. A few hours earlier the king had decorated Villiers—renowned Villiers with the military cross for valor.

The hero guided the princess around the small, crowded dance floor as she was handing a piece of rare china.

Announces Moves To Curb Inflation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—President Truman today announced the government would place price ceilings on coal and new dwellings and would reinstate government priorities on building materials.

It also announced that he was accepting the suggestion of Reconstruction Director John W. Snyder, for the appointment of an over-all government housing boss.

He appointed Wilson Wyatt, former mayor of Louisville, Ky., to the job.

Wyatt's title will be housing expediter.

The new housing program, aimed primarily at curbing inflation in the real estate market, was in the form of recommendations from Snyder to the President. The President said he approved the program and that it would be put into effect as rapidly as possible.

The program has three basic provisions:

1. Surplus housing units and building materials, including army and navy barracks and dormitories, held by the government will be released immediately to the states and local communities.

2. Priorities on building materials will be assigned on a sliding scale, according to the urgency of the need for the materials. The statement said this would put about half of all available building materials into the hands of the private sector.

3. Ceiling prices on old and new housing. While some steps in this direction can be taken by the office of price administration, the president's agencies of the government, legislation is necessary to provide for a permanent ceiling on old and new housing. Such legislation would be effective before the end of the year.

By order of the President, the board of directors of the Federal Housing Administration is authorized to issue orders to the states and local communities to provide for the construction of new housing.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—A prediction of eventual house approval of a broad federal aid program for hospital construction was made today by the Senate.

Representative Fred D. Smith, author of a similar bill and chairman of a house public health subcommittee, said he plans to call hearings soon after the Christmas recess. He added to a reporter that the bill would be passed.

Atomies Not Main Reason For Meeting

By LOUIS F. REEMLE
Tribune Staff Correspondent

The conference of the big three foreign ministers scheduled to start in Moscow next Saturday has an importance far beyond its discussion of the atomic bomb.

It is, of course, the most important topic in the world at present, but the three ministers are not expected to reach any binding decision on it. The best they can do is to exchange views.

By announcing that the atomic bomb is one of the main purposes of the meeting, the United States, Great Britain and Russia presented a plausible excuse for not inviting France to the conference in a larger section of the big five.

Diaper Suspicion

The real purpose is to dispel suspicion among the big three, not only regarding the atomic bomb, but on the immediate problems of postwar adjustment. Decisions on international control of atomic energy and the sharing of its secrets will require more conferences than the present one, with complete agreement among the principle powers necessary before the United Nations organization can act.

Meanwhile, the urgent necessity of preparing the peace treaty is so that the nations will know where they stand and be able to shape their minds on an orderly basis. Until that is well under way, the first round of the atomic bomb conference will be futile, since the UN is not empowered by its charter to enforce the peace treaty if it after it has been made.

Agree on Procedure

Procedures for laying out the peace must first be agreed upon by the United States, Russia and Great Britain before any other nations are made. They are the dominant powers, and their direct interests cover almost every corner of the earth, in contrast to all the others, whose interests are more limited.

The Moscow conference has vast possibilities, and it is almost certain that the three ministers will do their best to offset the unfortunate psychological effect of the failure of the council of five in London. It agrees on anything.

Agreement among the other nations to announcement of the Moscow meeting has been entirely unnecessary, since the situation is generally recognized that if the war-time cooperation among the three is to vanish, the UN is an empty shell.

Even France, which might have been expected to object strongly to the limited meeting, has taken it with calm. Foreign Minister Georges Bidault merely pointed out in a speech on Sunday that France does not expect any final decisions to be reached at Moscow and that the event, while not free from anything decided there which affects France, is ultimately a matter in which France has an interest in everything that concerns the future world structure.

POT SHOTS

AN OLD GUY WORKS
Dear Pot Shots:

It was a long time ago on a hot day in the summer of 1941, when I was a boy of 12, that I was out with my father and brother in the garden. We were digging for potatoes. I was holding a spade and was about to strike a potato when I saw a small, dark, round object in the soil. I picked it up and it was a potato. I was disappointed. I had expected to find a bomb. I was disappointed. I had expected to find a bomb.

Answers or Are They?

I'm no mathematician but I'd say the answer to that grain of wheat on a chessboard problem would be somewhere around 50,000 bushels.

The puzzle answer is 200,000 bushels.

REUNION AND SHOWER

In case you didn't know, Johnny Schultz, quarterback for the Bruin footballers in 1933 and 1934, was among the Wake prisoners rescued from the Japs. Incidentally he worked under Bud Kims at Wake, Kenney Stewart didn't know Johnny had been rescued until a few weeks ago, just before the reunion. Sam got a phone call. "This is Johnny Schultz," said a voice. "I said Schultz, 'yes,' said the voice. "Have you got a shoe stamp?" "Sure," said Sam. "Let me have it," said the voice. "The pair of shoes I've got is a pair the navy gave me."

Weed Poison Not So Good In Idaho Use

MOSCOW, Dec. 12 (AP)—Idaho farmers who hoped for a quick, sure and economical weed killer will have to wait. Lambert Erickson and C. J. Bentley, weed specialists of the University of Idaho, said today.

The supposedly revolutionary 2,4-D hormone, which had been an all-factory in other sections, has not been so satisfactory in killing all types of weeds in Idaho, the specialists said.

"We are not ready to cast out the old established method of weed control and must consider 2,4-D as a weed killer in the weed control of weeds instead of a replacement," Bentley explained.

In only one instance—a treatment of Canada thistle in Owyhee county—under very unusual moisture and soil conditions did the results look like a complete kill, he added.

Erickson said he was not sure what benefits could come from a re-application of the chemical to noxious weeds.

Gardners should beware of spraying, garden plants with chemical for the purpose of killing weeds or some, applications may have a toxic effect on soil that causes barrenness for as long as four months, the specialists explained.

"Dead" Heroes Back in Japan

TOKYO, Dec. 12 (AP)—More than 41,000 Japanese soldiers whose names were exhibited among nation's heroic war dead are coming home to astonished families.

They were supposed to have given their lives gloriously for the emperor in brutal charges. Their deaths had been officially announced by imperial headquarters.

Among them was a unit of 300 men that imperial headquarters "confirmed" gave their lives for the emperor on two Jima. The entire 300 returned alive.

The Japanese demobilization ministry is busy restoring these men to civil life. Members of the diet are demanding a full explanation of how they were erroneously reported dead.

Allies to Finance Imports in Economic Policy for Germany

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—The state department today announced a broad scale economic policy for Germany which calls on the United States and other allied powers to finance a program of German imports over the next two years.

Such aid will be necessary to "prevent disease and unrest" in the shattered nation, the department said. There was no estimate of the amount of money involved in the proposed financial aid, but it was believed the American share might run into hundreds of millions.

The policy statement forecasts great hardship in Germany this winter, but calls for starting a recovery program as early as possible at getting Germany back on its own feet economically and industrially in 1946.

This means what officials here called a "delayed process of reconstruction" in the sense that a head start on postwar recovery to the European continent that Germany would not be allowed to exceed that.

Under the American plan, the German standard of living in 1946 would not be allowed to exceed that of the United States.

Approval came after the senate rejected a long series of amendments recently offered by Sen. Murray, D., Mont., and Wagner, D., N. Y., which they said would bring the bill into line with President Truman's recent congressional message for a national health program.

Sen. Hiram B. Aldrich, D., N. Y., threatened to delay the bill by offering amendments to delay the bill.

Senate Okays Federal Aid Hospital Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—A federal aid hospital program expected to provide $100,000,000 in federal aid to the states for the next five years was Senate approved today on a voice vote. The measure now goes to the house.

Approval came after the senate rejected a long series of amendments recently offered by Sen. Murray, D., Mont., and Wagner, D., N. Y., which they said would bring the bill into line with President Truman's recent congressional message for a national health program.

Sen. Hiram B. Aldrich, D., N. Y., threatened to delay the bill by offering amendments to delay the bill.

Increase in Farm Labor Funds Asked

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Senate senators will ask the senate appropriations committee to double the amount of money appropriated by the house for importation of farm labor in 1946.

Senators Johnson, D., Colo., and Miliken, R., Colo., told a reporter today they would request an appropriation of $25,000,000. The amount authorized by the house in its passage of the deficiency appropriation bill was $12,500,000.

Johnson said it is estimated that about 75,000 imported workers will be needed, of which about 7,500 could be used in Colorado, mainly in sugar beet fields.

Both senators also said they will protect any move by the committee to reduce the original provision of the deficiency bill to permit the secretary of agriculture to levy charges against farmers using imported workers in order to help defray costs of recruitment. This provision was eliminated on the floor of the house, Johnson said he had heard that attempts might be made to reinsert it in the senate committee to restore it.

Under the American plan, the German standard of living in 1946 would not be allowed to exceed that of the United States.

Approval came after the senate rejected a long series of amendments recently offered by Sen. Murray, D., Mont., and Wagner, D., N. Y., which they said would bring the bill into line with President Truman's recent congressional message for a national health program.

CVA Rapped By Ballot of Idaho Grange

BOISE, Dec. 12 — Six hundred enthusiastic delegates in attendance at the annual meeting of the Idaho State Grange held in Moscow, December 4 and 5 adopted a resolution opposing pending "authority" legislation, declaring that Idaho water rights represent a sacred heritage. In opposing the CVA legislation the resolution adopted listed the following reasons:

"We do not want a board of men appointed from without the area involved to have complete jurisdiction and control of our water and other resources in our state."

"We do not want any federal agency so powerful that it can nullify, or in any way adversely affect our present water rights, or eliminate existing federal agencies."

The Grange meeting also adopted a resolution endorsing the program for the development of Idaho's resources.

Also the meeting of the Idaho Farm Bureau federation held in Pocatello on December 3rd and 4th, a resolution was adopted strongly opposing the creation of a Columbia Valley Authority. N. V. Sharp of Piler, President of the Idaho State Reclamation Association, met with the Farm Bureau and discussed the CVA.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—Previous to the first bowl football game to be broadcast by four networks New Year's afternoons, two other contests have been put on the schedule.

The first, Sunday on ABC at 11:30 a. m., is the national football league professional championship played at Cleveland with description by Harry Warner and Johnny Johnston. Contenders are the Washington Redskins, eastern winners, and the Cleveland Browns, western leaders.

The other is the annual Associated Press college basketball game for the last Saturday of the season, Dec. 16, slated for 12:30 p. m. by NBC. It takes place at Monticello, N. Y.

No more dissolving, legal or otherwise, over which network can use the initials ABC. It was all settled out of court, the American Broadcasting company, once the ABC, ending the 1944 Associated Broadcasting corporation of Grand Rapids, Mich., which had instituted litigation action, agreed to change its name to the Associated Broadcasting System, and the accompanying initials ABC.

Civvy Draft Boards May Call Youths

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—The war department said today that local civilian agencies similar to draft boards would select young men to undergo a year's compulsory military training if a law for that purpose is passed.

The department emphasized that the trainees would not be considered as being a part of the army and would not be subject to actual duty without special authorization of congress.

They would wear special insignia. They would be paid about $30 a month, whereas an army private gets $50.

The army's plans were outlined by four major generals to the house military committee as it neared the end of hearings on a compulsory peacetime training bill.

The generals proposed that the army train 700,000 annually and the navy 200,000. They estimated 140,000 to 200,000 would be rejected yearly although physical standards would be lower than they have been for draftees.

Men 18 through 20 would be subject to training. The year of training normally would begin at 18 unless a boy had not then finished high school, in which case he could wait until he graduated. A boy of 17 who had finished high school could start training then if his parents consented.

Here's Husky War Trophy

Here is Trau, happy in Idaho at the home of his master, Lieut. Joseph C. Ryan, who brought him back to the States from Germany. Trau, a German war dog, was a member of the German canine corps, when he was "liberated" by Ryan from a German colonel in the upper photo he is shown in a playful mood with his new master and incidentally "showing off" his side. In the lower photo he gives a formal pose in the parlor of the Ryan home. (Staff photos—enlarged)

Even Customs Agents Didn't Bother This War "Souvenir"

By JACK ROTTIER

Nobody interfered with the homecoming of Lieut. Joseph C. Ryan. Even customs officials in New York kept him. Among this veteran combat officer's war souvenirs was a large German war dog, former member of the German canine corps and a personal guard of a German colonel.

Lieutenant Ryan, commanding a machine-gun platoon, was an officer in the 42nd Infantry regiment, the Japanese American outfit overseas. After fighting in Italy with the 10th army, under the command of General Clark, Ryan and his regiment were transferred to the French-occupied theater in September 1944.

For this final drive in Italy against the Germans, the 42nd regiment was ordered back to the Italian theater in March, 1945. It was during this drive that Lieutenant Ryan came across the German war dog and decided it would make a companionable pet and guard.

He Became Master

So Trau was "liberated" from the oppressor and became the mascot of the American regiment.

Trau is a German Alsatian wolf dog or shepherd dog. He is of rare breed and is "top" for personal protection.

He was trained by the Germans for war duty, and was used for guard service with the German army. He is trained to know down the enemy rather than bite him.

When Trau was first captured he was reluctant to eat and suspicious of his new master, Lieutenant Ryan said. However, after Ryan learned a few German words so he could command his new companion, a warm friendship developed. Now his master commands him in German and they are "telling him fine," the officer chuckled.

Had Run of Ship

Trau accompanied his master all the way from Italy to his home in Twin Falls. He has run the ship on the ocean voyage and played a friend of the soldiers on the troop train from New York to Salt Lake City.

As a senior in the University of Idaho, where he was majoring in political science, Lieutenant Ryan entered the service and received his commission at Ft. Benning, Ga. He was then attached to the 42nd.

Who Is She?

Any reader who can answer the 2nd question of the members of the light cruiser, USS St. Louis, "Who and Where is Nellie?" and provide her complete name, address and—of course—telephone number, will receive that amount in cash.

This pretty brunette is Nellie, pin-up girl and good luck charm for the crew since October, 1941, when she "reported aboard" after being escorted all the way from Yuma, Ariz., where a sailor found her in a baggage train, she kept them from harm during Pacific engagements and now 24 sailors clipped in $2 apiece for a reward to the person who can identify Nellie.

French Civil Workers to Strike Today

PARIS, Dec. 12 (AP)—More than 1,000,000 police and other civil workers will hold one-hour total strikes throughout France today to protest the government's refusal to grant general $20 a month pay raises.

Strikes were scheduled from 2 to 4 p. m. (10 to 11 a. m. EST) in some places and from 4 to 5 p. m. in others.

Besides the police, the striking groups will include teachers and employees of postoffices, subway and bus lines and public offices.

Ones, electricity and water utilities and railroads will be affected.

Union officials called the strike yesterday afternoon immediately after the labor ministry announced refusal of demands for the $20 increase for all workers retroactive to Aug. 1 and a recalling of all salaries and bonuses beginning Jan. 1.

A government offer of $20 a month increase for workers earning less than $80 a month was rejected.

ABNORMAL BUYING POWER

SHORTAGE OF GOODS

Dangerous mixture . . .

During the war there was little production of civilian goods, and a lot of the things people had were worn out or used up—

People did not spend the high wages they earned, so savings increased rapidly.

The result is that America has built up tremendous buying power.

Lots of buying power and little to buy make a dangerous combination—like chemicals that explode when put together.

When people need things badly and have plenty of money, they are apt to pay too much for what they need. INFLATION then begins!

GENERAL MOTORS

"More and Better Things for More People"

It's a dangerous mixture—shortage of goods and plenty of money.

The answer to high prices and inflation is plenty of goods.

America's factories should be working day and night to turn out the things people need—to balance needs with goods.

Instead—what do we have? A demand by UAW-CIO leaders for a 30 per cent wage increase; More than that, a strike which has closed down General Motors plants. Both are inflationary. Both make the mixture still more dangerous

Marine Chief In China Has Strife Fears

By HAY BOYLE

TSINGTAO, China, Dec. 12 (AP)—The job of commanding more than 80,000 United States marines in north China, a post held by a 57-year-old major general, battle-tested in two wars and somewhat accustomed to ticklish situations.

Maj. Gen. Keller Bunker Rockey, a summa cum laude graduate of the hard schools of Ballou Wood and two Jimas, has had more active than dull duty in the past 22 years with the marines on three continents and on more lands than he can readily recall.

"My biggest worry has been the lack of getting involved in Chinese fratricidal strife," Rockey confessed during a recent plane flight here from Shanghai.

But, forthright and yet diplomatic in approach, the "Rock of Two Jimas" is a large, strong-built man who has gray-gold hair, a weathered, leathery face, and piercing black eyes in talking to him, one has the odd feeling of having been hit by something before and then of remembering where—on the reverse side of a buffalo nickel.

Rockey joined the marines in peaceful Philadelphia in 1913. After weathering German artillery and other hazards along the Rhine in the first World War, he returned home, then spent four years with the Hawaiian constabulary.

Afterward, Rockey served terms at sea, spent two years in Nicaragua and did staff work in Washington before he took up what he calls his most interesting assignment—commanding and training the fifth marine division.

His fifth was one of the divisions that landed on Two Jimas last February, and it was his men who planted the Stars and Stripes on Mount Suribachi and took both the southern and northern ends of the island.

Speaking of that deadly "how," Rockey says, "we opened it and closed it."

Now he commands the third amphibious corps with some 100,000 men, representing a rollcall of American activity in the Pacific.

"My air boys came from Manila and the Philippines, my marines from Hawaii and a half dozen other island groups, and my seaboys from everywhere," he said.

Rockey's marines have completed removal of some 2,000 allied war prisoners and internees that the Japanese had held in north China, but have not yet completed disarming the Japanese and evacuating Japanese civilians.

Now the marines are chiefly employed in seeing that the railroad—tag open so that coal moves down to Shanghai and Hongkong, Rockey and the marines are keeping their fingers crossed.

Church Rector Is Banquet Speaker

The Rev. E. Leslie Holt, rector of the Ascension Episcopal church here, was the speaker at the father and son banquet held Tuesday night by the Men's Brotherhood of the Baptist church.

The rector compared shaping one's life to the putting together of an old fashioned jigsaw puzzle. "While we build up the life that is visible from the outside, we should also build up our inner selves," he said.

George Warberg was toastmaster. The dinner was served by Scout troop 69 under the direction of Scoutmaster Elwood Boller. Members of the serving committee from the men's group included Ed Skinner, Robert Miller and Arthur Gordon.

Two solos were presented by Tommy Chung, accompanied by California Bailey. Piano duets were played by Phillip Burkhardt and Max Bailey. The meeting closed with the Scoutmaster benediction led by Kent Talbot.

T-Sgt. Jack Buck, in charge of the army recruiting office in the Burkholder building, reported here yesterday that Tuesday enlistments in the regular army included Milton L. Frye, 17, route one, Wendon, and Edward L. Robinson, 17, route one, Wendon.

Both enlisted with parents' consent, for three years in the infantry for service in the European theater and left yesterday for Ft. Douglas.

Nazis Tried "Worst Gas" On Inmates

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Senator Brandt from a military government official today that Germany "developed the deadliest poison gas in the world" by testing it on concentration camp inmates.

The testimony came from Col. Bernard Bernstein, director of the division of control and external affairs, U. S. military government in Germany. He submitted a statement to a senate military subcommittee headed by Senator Kilgore, D. W. Va.

Bernstein also offered what he said was a German denial of a Standard Oil company of New Jersey contention that the United States benefited, rather than suffered, from the German gas.

"But at least one of the terrible secrets which the Germans hoped to save for the next war was uncovered."

Our investigation has disclosed that an I. G. Farben official at Wuppertal-Ehrfeld developed the deadliest poison gas in the world. This gas, known to the military authorities of the allied nations, could have precipitated any gas mass in existence.

It was generally carried out in poison gas experiments on monkeys; later on human beings. . . . These gases were not only used on helpless people during the stages of experimentation, but were later used with full knowledge and acquiescence on the part of Farben to exterminate whole groups in concentration camps.

Who Is He?

"MEN ARE BUT BOYS OF A LARGER GROWTH"

By CHARLES C. MERRILL

Born near Humphrey, Mo., in 1881, this boy is known to his family and friends by four different names, none of which is the name given him at birth.

He led the normal active life of a boy on a Missouri farm on which his father "didn't raise much except boys—and, of course, a plenty to feed, clothe and educate them." There were six boys and no girls. So this boy's wife rejoices that he, being one of the middle two, learned to make himself handy in the kitchen.

He contracted the western fever early in life, emigrating to the state of Washington in 1893 where in due time he heard of the "big ditch" being dug across the sagebrush desert of Idaho.

Divorces in England See Heavy Rise

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
LONDON, Dec. 12 (AP)—The heavy increase in divorce in England represents in large degree the opening of the floodgates to the accumulation of grievances between the soldier overseas and his mislaid home.

We don't need to murmur words. There's been a lot of unfaithfulness on both sides. The majority of the petitioners are soldiers but this certainly doesn't mean that the wives have been more unfaithful than their men.

Tommy Atkins sometimes has a naive outlook on this sort of thing. For instance, many married soldiers don't consider that they've committed adultery by associating with an unmarried lady of professional easy virtue.

Before his case came up for trial, Tommy likely will swear to his attorney with great fervor that he hasn't committed adultery. This is an important point in English law because if a petitioner is guilty of misconduct, and doesn't make it known to the court in advance, the case is thrown out. Well Tommy gets on the stand and his wife's lawyer demands:

"Do you mean to swear that you haven't had any relations with a woman since you've been overseas?"

To this the astonished young man retorts:

"Of course I've had relations with women. Who hasn't? But that isn't adultery so long as they aren't married."

It then takes a powerful lot of explaining to make Tommy understand that he has violated the law just as much as his wife when he is suing. This means that his case will be dismissed unless the court gives leave to amend the petition.

Mrs. Mac and I have dug deep into the reasons for the increase in divorces, and the chief cause probably has been the protracted separation necessitated by the husband's duty overseas.

This has been a long war, and the soldiers have been away from their wives in most cases between 40 and 48 months without leave at home. Naturally this has contributed to immorality. It has given more chance for playing about. Probably if there had been no separation there would have been less divorce.

Divorce Decrees Filed in Court

Two divorce decrees, granted Friday by District Judge James W. Puer, but unstated until recently, have now been filed in district court. Mrs. A. W. Warmbaker was granted divorce from Clarence Warmbaker, as she had charged extreme cruelty. She received custody of sons, 4 and 10, and daughters, 13 and 16. She was given the furniture, car and a Pler lot. The couple married Nov. 27, 1924 at Clayton, N. M.

Alberia Buckman was divorced from Roy L. Buckman, whom she had charged with extreme cruelty. She received 600 monthly alimony and the furniture and custody of daughters, 1 and 5. The couple married Feb. 11, 1938 at American Falls.

Largest windmill ever built stands in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco. It has a capacity of 50,000 gallons.

U. S. Goods Bring Fantastic Prices

SHANONAL, Dec. 12 (AP)—Unscrupulous black market operators, dealing in United States products bought on the sly from soldiers and sailors, are getting fantastic prices for American canned goods, cigarettes, candy and other luxuries.

A number two and a half can of peaches will bring $10 or more. U. S. money. A pound brand of cigarettes for 50 cents a pack. Nickel candy bars cost 25 cents. A seven-pound can of processed American cheese sold for the equivalent of $32.

Tree Crop Brings In $80 an Acre

Waste acres that grow nothing but weeds can be made to produce at the rate of $80 an acre planted to black locust trees, declared Vernon Haverstick, extension forester at the University of Idaho, according to word received here by Albert Mylro, county agent.

According to Haverstick, "locusts grow into one of the finest type of fence posts in about 10 years. And an acre of southern Idaho irrigated ground under ordinary conditions will produce about 1,000 posts in that time with a value of about $80 if cut and cared for in the right way."

Open WRA Lands To Vets, He Urges

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Gen. O'Mahoney, D. Wyo., wants 57,000 acres of irrigated land, used during the war by the war relocation authority, made available for veterans. A bill to open the lands for settlement in accordance with reclamation laws will be considered by the senate military affairs committee this week, O'Mahoney said.

The lands covered by the O'Mahoney bill were included in Japanese relocation centers at Hart mountain in Shoshone project, Wyoming; Fruit relocation center on the Minidoka project, Idaho; and Tule Lake on the Klamath project in California.

Most of the land in the projects was obtained from the reclamation service and since has been declared surplus. Under the present surplus property law they would be sold by the general land office, O'Mahoney explained.
