

GI Ingenuity Used Against House Dearth

By FRANK E. BARDEN
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—GI ingenuity—credited by many generals with being one of America's most potent weapons of the war—has been turned loose against the housing shortage in Oklahoma City.

Unable to find suitable homes, a group of veterans of World War I decided to build their own building company and build their homes themselves. They will incorporate the Veterans' Home Builders' Association.

They gathered together—100 strong—and met in the former downtown parking lot for their office.

Accumulated rubbish, a couple of old buildings and wrecked automobiles disappeared in no time as the former servicemen, including former officers, army privates, machine gunners and sailors, set to work. The job, which leaders estimated would take two days was finished by nightfall with no outside help. The tools were borrowed, the office site leased by an Oklahoma City business firm.

Plans call for remodeling of the houses, but with immediate rent and a big line—three fireplaces being added. Plans for the first house call for several large cottonwood trees felled to clear the lot.

Work is going forward on the incorporation papers, said Harry Brand, president of the group, and going to get started building some homes as soon as we can get organized.

Under the plan, the corporation will not operate like a private business except that all labor will be recruited from among former servicemen who will be paid prevailing wages, plus a bonus for all hours completed.

Club Told Nazis
Were Preparing
For War in 1925

JEHOE, Feb. 16.—S. Carl Worthington, former high school science instructor here, said members and guests of Jerome Rotary club, giving his impressions of Europe prior to the war, and the spread of Germany and her empire. Worthington, who spent time in 1923 to 1924 in that country, pointed out the existing conditions among the German people, their attitude of patriotism to their country and their preparation for World War II in which they hoped to conquer the world.

Preparation for war was in progress even here in 1925. Worthington said. He spent 1925 to 1927 as an LDS missionary, and the year 1928 he traveled more extensively through Europe.

W. A. Crowder, Salt Lake City; Jack Kennedy, Rex Davis and Virgil Cross, new country extension agent, were other guests at Tuesday's luncheon. The victory stamp attendance prizes went to August Vogeler and S. G. Davis.

Heyburn Exhibit To Open March 3

JEHOE, Feb. 16.—Opening date for the 11th Heyburn exhibit will be Sunday, March 3, O. P. Wright, superintendent of Heyburn schools, announced today. The exhibit will close March 17.

Replicas have been coming in from artists throughout the United States, stating that they are sending oil paintings to the exhibit since 1941.

Several evening and afternoon programs are now being planned for the two weeks of the show. The public is invited and there is no charge.

Resigns From Board

MURTAUGH, Feb. 16.—At the regular meeting of the school board here, Henry Reay, who plans to move to Twin Falls, resigned his position on the board. David G. Moyes was appointed to fill his term.

Consolidation of Schools Planned

JEHOE, Feb. 16.—At a special meeting held recently at Eden grade school, the first steps were taken toward consolidation of the Eden and Hillsdale common schools. It was announced this week by Mrs. Nellie Roberts, county superintendent. Mrs. Roberts was legal secretary for the session.

School board members present in addition to Mrs. Roberts were: S. E. Edie, Edna Shaver and David Purman, Eden, and Larry Martin, Roy Grant, Roylance, for Hillsdale school district. Fack acted as chairman of the meeting.

Tranmer Services

Funeral rites for Harvey T. Tranmer were held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Twin Falls mortuary chapel. The Rev. H. G. McCallister officiated. Music was furnished by Mrs. Nellie Roberts.

Pallbearers were Jasper Stewart, Garth D. Price, Guy Oberhauser, Jack Miller, Raymond Venable and Marvin Wisom. Burial was in Twin Falls cemetery under the direction of the Twin Falls mortuary.

Scouts Participate In Church Services

GOODYEAR, Feb. 16.—Observing the annual meeting of the Boy Scouts of America, members of Goodyear troop 32 and 33 attended Sunday morning church services at the First Methodist church in a group.

Participating in the services the Scouts gave the pledge of allegiance to the flag, led by Marvin Elliott of troop 32; recitation of the Boy Scout oath was led by Charles Hughes, troop 32; the Scripture reading from St. Luke, chapter 2, verses 40 to 52, was by John Meyer. Color guards were Donald Shaw, troop 33 and Richard Blank, 32.

The Rev. Irvin S. Moez chose as his sermon topic "In Christ There is no East or West." Boy Scouts work together no matter the race, creed or color. Scouting equipment has been on display in the Idaho Power company window this week.

Plans Aired For Parking Meters Here

Meeting in special session Saturday, city commissioners together with a group of business men of Twin Falls are considering a plan for establishing meters in the downtown area of this city on a trial basis.

City Commissioner, Seattle, told the commissioners that his firm would install some 30 meters in the busy downtown area of Seattle, let the city try them for six months and at the end of that time, report on the revenue from the meters and the parking devices. All this, he said, would be required to pay for a cent of cost to the city.

In the event that Twin Falls decides to keep the meters, they may be paid for out of revenue they take in, Commissioner explained. This can be done by the company taking either 20 or 25 per cent of the revenue from the meters each month, as the city desires.

He estimated that two years or less would be required to pay for the meters.

Mayor Bert A. Sweet, voiced the opinion that revenue from the meters, if the city decides to use them, should be used to pay for the city's fire department.

Under a tentative proposal submitted by Commissioner after looking over the business area the meters would be placed along Main avenue from Third street west to Third street east and along Shoshone street from Third avenue west to Third avenue east. The meters would also be installed on Second street and Second avenue for one block off Main avenue and off Shoshone street.

Thirty degree parking will likely be brought into the picture also to replace the present 45 degree parking. This plan, commissioners are agreed, will provide a wider lane of travel for motorists on Main avenue.

The parking plan as outlined by Commissioner would provide one hour parking on Main avenue and Shoshone street in the present parking zones for five cents or 12 minutes parking for a penny.

Two hour parking would be allowed on Second street and Second avenue for five cents.

POT SHOTS

VALENTINE TO MR. H
"From Your Secret Admirer"—to Ray J. Holmes.

With lots of paper lace and a picture of a not too heavily clad girl in evening gown.

It came in the mail. Ray thought maybe one of his daughters had sent it, but he took it home. He showed it to his wife, confident somebody in the family was the culprit.

But the MRS., with a deep frown in her eye, said no one hadn't and neither had anybody else in the family, so what?

So what? Ray's friend, says Mr. H. is in the hospital on account of his "Secret Admirer."

Those same friends say they don't believe his claims that he is NOT in the hospital until Mr. H. verifies to that effect in a newspaper. Pot shots, so true, since we are practically everything here, we're trying to make us a dasher here.

THE BRIDGE MATTER

What's a couple of boys lately regarding the rim bridge, we had our research department look into the matter for you constituents.

The department finds: The steel for the bridge repairs is NOT here; the steel and coal strike will delay arrival of the steel. Even if all the steel were here, pouring of concrete for the thick new concrete floor of the bridge must wait until at least the first week in May because of temperature, according to bureau of entomology records here.

Incidentally, it's going to be quite a bridge. There will be a long-needed safety improvement. Heavy steel rails along the side (the present ones wouldn't stop your car), and a two-foot pedestrian walkway on each side (nothing for pedestrians now). The bridge will be 22 feet from rail to rail (it's now 27 feet). Roadway will be a full 27 feet.

Let us, brethren, since Lynn No. 4 and put period to the bridge matter for the moment.

In a double ring ceremony at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, Maxine June Corey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn P. Corey, Twin Falls, became the bride of Howard W. Williams, son of Walden Williams, Pocatello.

The vows were exchanged at the home of Hibbard J. C. Fredericksen in the second ward Lds. church.

For her wedding the bride was in a grey two-piece suit. Her carriage was of gold-toned and rose. Louise Corey, sister-in-law of the bride, was maid of honor. Francis Corey, brother of the bride, was best man.

Mrs. Williams attended Twin Falls high school and has been employed at Newberry's for the last two years. Mrs. Williams graduated from the Twin Falls high school in 1942. He served 18 months in the European theater with the third army. Following a wedding trip the couple will live in Pocatello.

ON THE SPORT FRONT

Ye Olde Sport Schermer last week met a good opponent in the bowling arena. He had a hard time of it, but he won. He had a hard time of it, but he won. He had a hard time of it, but he won.

Smiling, soft, accommodating is Harry Lagler. You'd never think from his reticent disposition that he once handled the greatest hours in the world.

Among these bowlers was Rudy Steele, one-time intercollegiate champion of the world. Steele was Chucky Wingo, the 1935 world's greatest intercollegiate bowler. Steele was Chucky Wingo, the 1935 world's greatest intercollegiate bowler.

Explosive like Sgt. Sargent, hunk red-head from Weber who slugged Montana's high-collared Bill Burt's Friday night.

What a life with that boy? he mused. "I've him with that good heavy-duty before long."

And Harry Eager must say word of it.

Public Forum

He Says CVA Opposition Uses Misminformation Plus Trickery

Latter, Times-News:—As a former resident of Twin Falls for nearly two years, I have been interested in the economic and social welfare of south central Idaho. Actually I am interested in the entire northwest, as it has lived in a number of places in Idaho, Washington and Oregon. One of my qualifications for speaking about such matters rest upon my working life of several jobs, including one of assistant night auditor at a hotel in economics at the University of Idaho in 1932.

With no stigma or axes to grind, I am not in a position to take any position to the proposed project designed after the successful TVA experiment has been combined with information with every possible trick in our political and economic arsenal. For instance, an attorney of a recent reclamation meeting in Twin Falls said in a speech in the Times-News: "Under a CVA, the government could take every drop of water out of the Snake river, and dump it into the ocean."

This reclamation attorney did not say where that water would be taken or how it would be taken. He did say that some economist known to the government would change the course of the river, sending it in another direction? Or did he mean that under a coordinated plan for developing the Columbia river and its tributaries for the greatest productivity, the Snake River waters could be taken out of their channel and used on the land on both sides? If he meant the latter, he was handing the government the olive branch of a CVA. If he meant the former, he was as ridiculous as the rest of the dishonest information against this project.

Being more interested in facts and information from authorities than in listening to these outspoken abstracts of progress, I did considerable reading in Twin Falls library, wrote for Congressional Records, and studied something about equipment. Why not use moving lands with my hands? I am a photographer. The Chinese proverb says, "One picture is worth 1000 words." There are so many things to teach. Idaho is short 1,000 teachers and schools are in a deplorable condition, they say. If the farmers used the same farming methods they used in 1900 they'd be sunk as far as labor is concerned. They have progressed only because of machinery. What we need is a few progressive dumb farmers teaching in our schools.

MRS. BILLY MATTHEWS (Idaho)

Poverty

Editor, Times-News:—Will you kindly permit a youth of 40 years to reply to the letter of H. J. Gommert? There are so many different standards for measuring wealth and the lack of it that it is pretty difficult to pick out those who are poor and those who are not in any community. Certainly the family that does not have enough food, sufficient clothing, shelter and fuel to keep its members comfortable, is in a poverty-stricken condition. But if we were to use some of the richest people of our nation for comparison, a family that can provide all these essentials, and a few luxuries besides, might appear pretty hard up.

But consider the millions in Europe and Asia whose homes and means of livelihood have been wiped out by the war machine. That could hardly be laid to poor management by the individuals, although it could easily be traced to poor management by political leaders. That is something for us to think about when we elect our government officials.

Also, disease and poor health tend toward poverty, although that, too, might be charged to poor management of one's own physical resources, either by himself or by someone else responsible for his care. Any program that will help improve the health of the community or nation will surely make us richer materially.

My grandfather used to say that "the man is rich who is out of debt and living within his income. If grandfather were alive today he would probably be as busy out of debt as it seems that most people, including those who spend freely on luxuries, are in debt in their businesses, or for a home, or car, or some household convenience. And if that is poor management on the part of the purchaser, it is good management on the part of the salesman who collects his commission.

W. HENRIET KENNEDY (Twin Falls)

Trouble

Editor, Times-News:—Remember when the fighting was raging, I saw a lot of folks probably thought when it's all over our troubles would be over. But there is so much wrangling over it, that it seems that when it's all over, we will be right here in our country it is far from peaceable.

I don't think we can call our nation Christian without making an effort to help feed a starving world. Yet if anyone had suggested feeding our enemy when the war was being fought they would have been charged with treason. We can't help but wonder if we help them up now for the sake of humanity, will they when they get fed and their country rebuilt try to destroy that humanity again?

I think a lot of us have just lost confidence in the nations of Europe and Asia, and a lot of folks probably think that Asia or Europe is out of debt and living within his income. If grandfather were alive today he would probably be as busy out of debt as it seems that most people, including those who spend freely on luxuries, are in debt in their businesses, or for a home, or car, or some household convenience. And if that is poor management on the part of the purchaser, it is good management on the part of the salesman who collects his commission.

Hope

Editor, Times-News:—They tell us that "education is the light of the world." But it is not. Our government is run and has been for some time, by lawyers, doctors, professors, and other college graduates. You'd think these things would be perfect. James Abbe says our nation is better in so many ways both at home and abroad as it is today, since war broke in. I am sure that it is.

Something must be radically wrong with our educational system. We need more sense added, probably. I don't believe in special privileges for special groups. If you give one group more another group necessarily gets less. After all, that is why it is necessary to have a job done on our teaching profession and a lot of new parts added. Teachers are still using horse and buggy

New Bread Is Okay but How About Butter?

By FREDERICK C. OTTMAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—With only a few breads undoubtably is flourishing. Within its yellowish pores are all the calories, vitamins, and chemicals a fellow needs. But, Mr. President, how is it going to take without butter?

That, sir, is the question raised by the big butter shortage now gripping the country. They claim we haven't butter enough in this nation to go to a small war.

The coas are producing milk plentifully and in an ever-increasing amount according to the official figures of the special house food investigating committee. The usual amount of cream eventually finds its way to the top of every pail.

What happens next is best described by John Brandt, head of the milk-distributing president of the National Creamery of Minneapolis.

"Folks, he cried looking at the counterpane of the OPA display, butter experts coming in the heat-treated cream, we have millions of housewives buying butter of the cream and creaming it on their butter at the kitchen sink. And a lot of it goes down the drain."

Folks, there's something wrong when women have to get their butter that way."

Home-made butter, churned in the kitchen, costs about $1.20 a pound, even when you know the labor involved in creaming the apples from the cream."

Ketchum Soldier Gets Silver Star For Heroic Climb

WITH THE SIXTH ARMY ON SHIMOKU, Japan, Feb. 16 — A silver star has been awarded to Cpl. Joseph P. Ketchum, 17th Infantry, who, under heavy enemy fire, scaled a 100-foot cliff to lead his men to several comrades who had been trapped on the sides of the cliff by a landslide on Correll in the Philippines.

The men, who had been injured by flying bombs when the enemy set off a large quantity of explosives in a nearby cave, escaped from the cave in the night and had been buried alive.

Corporal Ketchum succeeded in lowering one injured man up the ground by means of a rope that night, and the following morning led all men up the treacherous cliff to administer plasma and medical aid to the wounded.

After helping the injured men to the ground, Corporal Ketchum returned and to the wounded. After helping the injured men to the ground, Corporal Ketchum returned and to the wounded.

Ex-Army Flier to Teach, Dust Crops

BUHL, Feb. 16 — 10 local flier who spent over the years as an instructor in the army air corps, has decided to devote full time to giving flying lessons, passenger hauling from the municipal airport.

Mr. Vogel has just completed a private hangar at the Buhl airport, a 25 by 40 foot building constructed mostly of metal. Today he purchased a Cub engine, three-passenger, he let himself for Arkansas where he will purchase an army Stearman which will be used for the crop dusting.

The city of Buhl furnished the material for an administration building at the airport, and the local flier built the frame structure. Vogel served as instructor in the army at Ontario and Lancaster, Calif., and received his honorable discharge in July, 1945, with the rank of first lieutenant. Since then he has been working with his father, William Vogel, on his farm near Buhl.
