

Death Takes

Mrs. Wagner

Mrs. Joseph Wagner, 65, 514 Blue Lake boulevard, died at 9:45 p. m. Wednesday in the Twin Falls county general hospital.

A Twin Falls resident for the past 20 years, Mrs. Wagner was born Feb. 1, 1881, in Hungary. On May 4, 1903 she married Joseph Wagner in Hungary. The couple moved to Twin Falls, Idaho, here she lived for 10 years.

Born in Hungary, Mrs. Wagner is survived by the following children: Mrs. Herman Hunsaker, Portland; Mrs. Mary Randolph, San Francisco; Mrs. Harry O'Halloran, Twin Falls; and Mrs. Wagner, Shreveport, La. A son, Joseph, preceded her in death in 1922.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at St. Edward's Catholic church. Rev. J. P. O'Neil will be celebrant.

Judge May Take Personal Look at Land in Dispute

The problem of irrigation near clarification over to courts at times. District Judge James W. Porter, presiding during the case of Alex. Schuler vs. J. M. Humphreys and Lee Blumberg, said in court Thursday that he might visit the land in question. This would be done to get a clear picture of the dispute.

The plaintiff seeks to irrigate some 15 acres of high land. He wants right of way for an irrigation ditch across the defendant's land, one mile south of Berger.

The defendants recited their case. The plaintiff had already done so and trial resumed at 3 p. m. after a luncheon recess. Judge Porter was expected to announce in the afternoon whether he will visit the property.

Testimony for the plaintiff was given by Alex. Schuler, and on the other side by Schuler and Blumberg.

ANOTHER GOOD EXAMPLE

The Times-News has contended for years that the highest job in Idaho's governmental set-up is the state's system of handling parolees and pardons. The ease with which state parole board releases criminals from the penitentiary, and the flimsy excuses advanced to justify such releases, have made laughing stock of our courts and law enforcement generally.

For weeks to our risk lives in making arrests, and our courts to go through all the laborious and expensive routine of winning convictions, and then to find convicted criminals turned loose even when their crimes are still fresh in our minds, is a force that puts Idaho to shame.

Now from Duke comes the news that William H. Hale has been given a reduction of sentence by the state parole board. It will be recalled that Hale and Danny Williams were convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment for the fatal shooting of Craig T. Bracken, a member of the state police force, after an armed robbery, May 7, 1939.

Apparently for no better reason than because Warden Louis Clapp would "like to see Hale given something besides life to look forward to," the parole board has decided to reduce Hale's sentence to 25 years to life. That means, with the way the parole board and penitentiary officials handle things out with parolees and the wisdom and the fact that it will be possible for Hale to get out of prison in about seven years.

It demonstrates again that our parole boards (they usually change with each election) are forced to give criminals a second chance in prison in the first place. The fact that Craig Bracken, a veteran of the first world war, lost his life protecting society against such criminals, and that a fellow inmate, Danny Williams, apparently doesn't concern Warden Clapp and the parole board half so much as the fact that Hale hasn't "something besides life to look forward to."

But Hale's case has moved to terms by Warden Clapp's sentimentality, let it be recalled that Hale's part in the killing of Officer Bracken was not his first offense, nor was it his last. Hale had been in prison for a long time before he was sentenced to life for the crime he committed.

How long will the people of Idaho put up with this travesty which leans over backwards to free hardened criminals so they may resume their business of preying upon the public?

POINTLESS REQUEST

Congressman Frank Keefe of Wisconsin wants the Pearl Harbor inquiry reopened so he can ask General Marshall and Admiral Nimitz to resign. In the House, Keefe's Secretary Stinson's memoirs, they might not have been at a White House conference on the night of Dec. 8, 1941. Mr. Keefe suggests that the memoirs may help to "refresh the memories" of the general and the admiral.

FURTHER PROOF

The roundup in Germany of the sizable cell of a new Nazi movement re-emphasizes the need for a strong American force in our country. It is hard to convince congressmen, if further convincing is needed, that the draft will have to be extended if enlistments continue to fall—as they are falling now—to bring army strength to the point which military leaders say is a necessity.

O TEMPORA

Prof. C. Herman Pritchett's most recent analysis of the court decisions brings the rather startling revelation that every time the gutter body is not impetuous to time and inner change.

Specifically, Professor Pritchett informs us that Justice Felix Frankfurter is now one of the conservative minority of the supreme court. That's right—a conservative minority.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLWIG

CONTRACTOR—Political rather than economic differences inspired the investigation of Mr. W. Snyder's recent statement that the United States has passed through the most difficult crisis in its history.

The row has brought fresh demand from liberals that the St. Louis market be returned to private life. Although President Truman accepted and released the report in the St. Louis market, he merely on friend Snyder for such a statement.

Mr. Snyder's facts are so contradictory to Snyder's conclusion that the business world and the ordinary citizen will see confidence in future promises and results.

DEFENSE—The manufacturers, according to this school, know that they cannot get raw materials, sufficient labor and a definite OPA arrangement in prospective, and prices. The manufacturers have discovered that they cannot obtain materials of quality, made from national merchants.

Mr. Truman himself indicated that he regarded the situation as a political device, for he exhibited an air of aggressive irritation when he used it as his armor to charges that his war-price policies had tended to restrict restoration of normal conditions.

EXCUTION—The past two centuries critics take special and sharp exception to Mr. Snyder's statement that the nation is now producing goods and services at the rate of $100,000,000 a year, the largest dollar volume in peacetime history.

They are willing to concede that the cost value may amount to the figure of $100,000,000 a year. But they note that the price value has increased by as much as 25 per cent more in such items as food and clothing, and many other necessities.

BARNSP—Another reason for their suspicion of the Snyder figure is that manufacturers, farmers and retailers are known to be holding back a vast amount of goods because of the current uncertainty about future prices in the general price level.

ASSIGNMENT—House Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., has been forced to take cognizance of this burst of criticism. He explains that National Chamber of Commerce only acquiesced to a resolution, if possible, and that he will not let policies for the committee, the opposition took on capital hill for the Great Old Party, but he may have a difficult time in selling that idea to the voters.

What is happening to the candidacy of Harold E. Stassen? This young, progressive and dynamic Republican leader is being marketed for slaughter by the old guard WHN. He has been named by the old guard, who was elected as chairman of the Republican Party.

Pot Shots

DEAR SEN UP, PLEASE
A Burley couple was buying groceries to take home to their children. The husband had given the lady and they were having quite a time finding everything on the list.

STILL HIS FAME GROWS
The shooting of Harry Straley, Pilot Harbor, a marine in uniform, while he was on duty on the radio was surprised to hear "Harry Straley" of Twin Falls, Idaho.

DEAR POTATO
Last week's notice was advertised for sale in the Journal North Side News, but the ad appeared with the wrong address on it.

KIDS WARY
One of our constituents phoned the Pot Shots Dept., offering a reward for information about a small dog, said dog is a male, is seen with kids and would make a good pet.

FLUNTER
Would like to find a man to "temporarily" condition. The city travels are the different in the history of our city along with the side-walk. Why not use the "flunker" and save his face, too?

FAMOUS LAST LINE
He died his GI pants green, but what a green they turned out to be.

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW
Had another close-up of American Indians on a recent trip to Arizona and finally discovered why they are called "Vanishing Americans."

Washington, D.C. (AP)—The Soviet Union has a large number of citizens in this country. The total includes 1,009 officials and assistants, 443 wives and children.

The Soviet purchasing commission has a personnel of 700 and 150 American citizens in the Soviet Union. The total for the Soviet embassy in Washington, including families and military personnel, is 1,458.

For the most part, these Russians in America live a completely secluded life. Their contacts with Americans are limited, with rare exceptions, to formal official relationships.

To house Soviet citizens in the New York area, the Russian government has purchased one of the most beautiful and secluded estates on Long Island. This is a fine colonial house, the estate at Glen Cove of the late J. P. Morgan, who sold it to the Russian government.

In Washington, members of the purchasing commission occupy an equally luxurious estate of 24 acres which includes formal gardens and a pool, a superintendent's cottage and tenant's home, greenhouses and farm buildings besides a mansion of stable proportions. All of this within 15 minutes of downtown Washington. This estate has now been sold, which may create a housing problem for the Russians in over-crowded Washington.

DEAR SEN UP, PLEASE
A Burley couple was buying groceries to take home to their children. The husband had given the lady and they were having quite a time finding everything on the list.

STILL HIS FAME GROWS
The shooting of Harry Straley, Pilot Harbor, a marine in uniform, while he was on duty on the radio was surprised to hear "Harry Straley" of Twin Falls, Idaho.

DEAR POTATO
Last week's notice was advertised for sale in the Journal North Side News, but the ad appeared with the wrong address on it.

KIDS WARY
One of our constituents phoned the Pot Shots Dept., offering a reward for information about a small dog, said dog is a male, is seen with kids and would make a good pet.

FLUNTER
Would like to find a man to "temporarily" condition. The city travels are the different in the history of our city along with the side-walk. Why not use the "flunker" and save his face, too?

FAMOUS LAST LINE
He died his GI pants green, but what a green they turned out to be.

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

Area Council Will Send One Boy Scout to National Camp

The Snake River area council Wednesday night voted to send one Boy Scout to the national Scout camp at Philmont, N. M., in a chartered party going there in June. Each of the 17 troops in the council will nominate one Scout to be considered for the award. Each of the 17 Scout districts will then participate in determining the district candidates for the trip and the executive board will select the council representative. Scoutmaster nominees: Herbert R. West, Scout executive, and...

Surgeon Relates His Troubles in Famed Operation

Dr. Howard L. Stone, former army medic in charge of a famous field hospital in the China-Burma theater, described some of his experiences in the operation of the Thursday night luncheon meeting of the Twin Falls Kiwanis club. Dr. Stone explained his experiences in being flown from China to French Indo-China to do a new-fangled operation on a Chinese general who had a ruptured appendix. He told Kiwanians that, although the general needed immediate medical attention, before Chinese officers would permit him to operate four different conferences were held at which the main topic was the weather. Dr. Stone also told of how he performed operation by lantern and that was the lanterns went out how flashlights were used. He said that Chinese officers assisting him would invariably turn away the flashlight when it was needed most. Chinese, after the operation, doubted that he had removed the appendix so he had to rummage through garbage piles in an effort to find the growth he had removed. It developed that one Chinese officer had taken the appendix for a souvenir. The story of how the Twin Falls officer and a colleague saved the general's life was carried on press wires throughout the world. Two new members were welcomed to the club by H. H. Henderson. The new members are Frank W. Warner and Fred Rudolph. Dr. Joseph W. Marshall was program chairman. Guests were Ray Robinson, a former Kiwanian; Jewell Ahlin, Kenneth Ballantyne, Mitchell Rami, Jr., and Matt Sedwice, Boise.

Firestone Offices May Locate Here

Matt Sedwice, Boise, district representative of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, was in Twin Falls Thursday in an effort to find suitable accommodation to establish his district headquarters in the Twin Falls. At present they are located in Boise. Sedwice will be in charge of wholesale and distribution of Firestone products from the Nevada line to Salmon City and from Boise to Haft River.

Chimes Part Not Here So Delay Comes

Because part of the chimes system has not yet arrived, installation of Idaho's first set of Mass chimes will be delayed until next week at the latest. The chimes, which the Rev. Herman C. Rice said Thursday afternoon. The chimes were to have been installed Friday or Saturday. Check-up of the shipment showed that already arrived, however, showed a part of the chimes system hasn't arrived. The missing part, the Rev. Mr. Rice said, is believed to have been shipped from New York and New Orleans. As a result of the delay, the planned dedication chimes program at the new church will be postponed from Sunday evening until a later date. The $2,500 chimes system is being donated by a member of the Baptist church. It will include a lower loud-speaker system to permit broadcast of chimes music, audible for several miles, but no louder at the source than at a distance.

HELLO! Remember Me?

I'm Joe, The Sign Man

I showed you this sign board back in January. Then it announced the appointment of RISER-CAIN Appliances, as exclusive FRIGIDAIRE dealer for Twin Falls. At that time they opened in a temporary location until they could occupy their permanent location at 150 Main Avenue North.

NOW, I've been asked to make this sign announcing their formal opening. I've seen the preview of their new store, it's a beauty. Don't miss their... opening. Wish I could tell you more, but I gotta go now.

Chemists Say Tough Plastic Is Acid-Proof

By FRANK CARLEY
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 10.—A new industrial plastic, described as resistant to corrosion by strong acids and capable of withstanding temperatures up to 675 degrees, was announced to the American Chemical Society here.

Chemists also were told of the experimental development of a new synthetic rubber which "bounces higher than present synthetic rubber and can be stretched more."

The new plastic, which already has had previously-undiscovered military use as an insulating material in jet engines and applications in radar and television, was announced by the duPont company which declared "it is the only plastic that will stand up under the high temperatures to which it is subjected."

The material—chemically known as Tetrafluoroethylene resin—is still in the pilot-plant stage of production. Dr. Malcolm M. Benfrow said, but limited amounts in the forms of sheets, tubes, control wire, tape and fabricated section are now available "for experimental purposes."

No substance has been found which will dissolve or even swell plastic. Benfrow said. It with stands acids which dissolve gold and platinum and is transparent when thin, white or gray-colored when thick, he said.

The report on the new synthetic rubber was made by Dr. Charles E. Spling of the Phillips Petroleum company, Phillips, Texas.

Burley Organizes New PTA Group

BURLEY, April 11.—The PTA for the junior and senior high schools of Burley was re-activated after a lapse of several years.

At a meeting here Friday night, Mrs. Vic Overton, Twin Falls, president of the 4th district PTA, spoke on procedure and plans of the PTA organization.

Officers elected include Mrs. John H. Reicher, president; Mrs. Gladys, vice president; Mrs. Lorel A. Holsak, secretary; and Mrs. Orland Holsak, treasurer.

The time and place of the next meeting will be selected by the executive committee, composed of four elective officials, the superintendent of schools, the principals of the junior and senior high schools, the student body president from each school, one elective representative from each school and the chairman of the standing committee.

It was decided to send a representative to the convention in Lewiston this week.

Play Is Success At Glens Ferry

GLENS FERRY, April 11.—"Sweet Sisters," a three-act comedy by Ray Rodero presented by the Junior class of Glens Ferry high school, has been termed a complete success.

The production crew included Earl Harmon, Jack Rash, Lyle Owens, stage; Moore and Stokes, publicity; McGill and Johnson, tickets; Ruth Beum and Zeller Spencer, prompters; Larsen, Maxwell and Rash, properties; and Beum, makeup. Evelyn Sayler directed the show.

Truck Driver Pays Fine in Court Here

Frank Diandren, truck driver from Melrose, Mont., was fined $10 and costs Wednesday on a misdemeanor charge of driving a motor vehicle without proper license plates.

He appeared before Probate Judge C. A. Bailey after an arrest by E. R. Harding, Idaho state enforcement officer. Diandren pleaded guilty, acknowledging his truck had 1944 Montana plates.

Scout Executive Talks at Jerome Court of Honor

Jerome, April 11.—Herbert R. West, Scout executive of the Snake River area, was chief speaker at a Jerome district Boy Scout court of honor held here. Awards were presented by Charles Fleenor.

Badges of rank were awarded as follows:

Burley Man Notes 94th Anniversary

BURLEY, April 11.—A. R. Dowd, Burley and Blackfoot, celebrated his 94th birthday Wednesday in Burley at the home of his daughter, Mrs. M. H. King. Friends called during the day.

On Sunday, a family dinner was given in honor of Mr. Dowd by Mrs. King. Covers were laid for eleven including Mr. and Mrs. Horace Dowd, Blackfoot, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dowd, Shelly, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman King, Burley.

Born in New York, he came west to live with his parents during the 1890s. Prior to moving to Blackfoot with his wife, he lived in Colorado and Seattle. After retiring from teaching at the Indian School at Fort Hall, he farmed at Blackfoot.

For the past several years, he spends the winters in Burley at the home of his only daughter, Mrs. King, and the summers at Blackfoot, where his son, Horace Dowd, lives.

School Tax Poll Set for Jerome

Jerome, April 11.—The Jerome school board has set Monday, April 22, for the special election on levying the millage for general school purposes and one mill for operation and maintenance of playground and gymnasium. Voting will be from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. at the high school.

The board also authorized the Western-Daily, Inc., Boise, to prepare legal proceedings for a future bond issue on the question of a new $200,000 high school and gymnasium. Date of this bond issue has not been set.

School board also authorized signing of an agreement with the federal work agency covering an advance of $6,000 for architectural plans on the school expansion program.

Civic Leaders Plan Booklet On Bond Data

To provide facts to guide Twin Falls taxpayers when they vote May 21 on the proposed bond issue to finance city water improvements, the Twin Falls community coordinating committee is preparing a booklet on the project's progress.

Preliminary drafting of the publication came before the committee meeting at 8 p. m. last night. The booklet will represent an investment, rather than an expenditure.

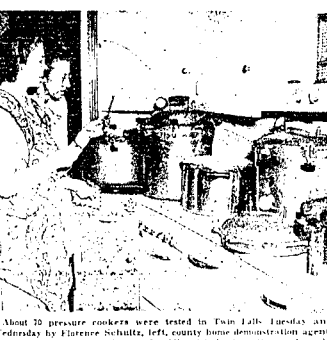

Director of Public Works, chairman of the committee, outlined the project's progress. He said the committee also had held the project.

Committee at 8 p. m. last night will present a booklet on the bond issue, containing a list of the project's progress. It will be presented by John D. Platt, chairman of the committee. He will also present a booklet on the project's progress.

Pundits Miss Big Items of Truman Year

By FREDERICK C. OTTMAN
WASHINGTON, April 11.—The political pundits are spending this day pondering the first President Truman's first year in the White House. Only trouble with these pundits is that they don't even mention the unimportant things which come up and add up millions of men to the most important of all.

This is what I mean: The President took a long look at the dingy walls of his house and smiled a coat of gleaming white paint. He obliged a photographer during a blitzed by testing a shoe-bulb on him. When spring arrived he favored another cameraman by assuming a Ferdinand pose, sniffing a flower.

He ate three Christmas dinners the same Christmas in Missouri; a few days later he ate two lunches in two hours at Kansas City. He mentioned his love for white shirts, size 15½. He got a new yacht, equipped with two pianos and spent a many week ends aboard as he could.

Broke Locomotive
He drove an electric locomotive, a fire in his four-engine engine. Cow through a billiard that rounded commercial air lines. He caused millions of men to struggle with his loss; then he turned the sartorial world inside out by appearing at the Jackson day banquet in a dinner jacket and a bow tie with silver stripes. Adolph Menjou said he should have stuck to black.

Sniffingly Paced
He posed for his portrait in oils, in marble, and on film. The result was a 45-minute ordeal, but the result was you doubtless have noticed. He was sniffing. He challenged the bird help by getting to work each morning at eight. He pulled the secret service by riding his horse then and taking a stroll through the city. He called the White House "The job." He set out of it whenever he could.

He did his banking personally on 14th street, where the cops had to look back the crowds whenever he deposited a check. He checked a down White House scenario as an economy move. He went fishing in Washington state, securing one of the loveliest sweaters ever seen off the back of Bling Crosby.

Pinned on Medals

He had the locks sprayed with a special jelly to kill the wild ones, but not the grass. His radio technique improved perceptibly. He pinned medals on numerous heroes; pardoned thousands of ex-convicts who were here in the White House; started to remodel the executive suite as to include a radio and television theater.

His architect had the bug dog counters slapped down on the idea. He postponed the atom test, planned to drop in on the Philippines next fourth of July, and dressed half a dozen times in a flat black hat to accept honorable colors degrees. He returned so often to the "Missouri Waltz" he must have tired of it. Some Texas Democrats denounced him when they learned he liked an occasional slug of whiskey; liked capital Democrats announced their intention of continuing their power for him.

He accepted all prayers gratefully. He worried about his weight. He turned out to be a thoroughly human, human-being. All of his new political columnists; you may take it away.

R. L. SUMMERFIELD

Rep. L. Summerfield will seek the Senate nomination on the Republican ticket, Sandborn, Hagaman, and many-time legislator, will try for GOP nomination to House's present congressional post. Summerfield, World War II veteran, is the first Democratic candidate to announce for lieutenant governor.

Summerfield In Race for State Office

Robert L. Summerfield, chairman of the veterans advisory committee to the state planning board, announced that night his candidacy for the Democratic nomination of lieutenant governor in the June 11 primary.

Summerfield, local jeweler, is 29 years old. He entered the army Nov. 11, 1942, and served as a transport commander on an army transport and cargo ship in the Aleutians. He has resided in Idaho for the past seven years.

Summerfield, first Democrat to announce for that office, is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Rotary club, Chamber of Commerce and Elks.

Republicans who have announced they will seek the lieutenant governor nomination in their primary are Don Whitehead, Boise druggist, and Milton L. Howley, Soda Springs, who has served several terms in the legislature.

Lieut. Gov. A. B. McCabe, St. Maries dentist who was recently appointed to the office by Gov. Arnold Williams, has not indicated if he will seek the Democratic nomination.

Crew Shaken Over Baboon, Persian Girls

By WALTER RUNDLE
SHANGHAI, April 11.—This is the tale of the Persian dancing girls, a vodka-drinking baboon and certain other matters of interest. A crew of the Russian freighter, Aha Rehan, swore in Shanghai and today was in the city.

It wouldn't have been so bad, they said, if they hadn't had both the dancing girls and the baboon aboard ship at the same time. Or if the captain hadn't had a nervous breakdown. Or if the sailor hadn't tried to steer the ship through a minefield with a musket in his pocket that made the compass spin like a top. Or if he hadn't thought the mine's size fuses basking in the sun. Or...

This left the ship back to the beginning.

The Aha Rehan cleared San Francisco on a routine run to New Orleans. That was Aug. 16, 1945.

Eight months later the stevedores into Shanghai with a load of railroad equipment from Iran, the load of dancing girls and mine the baboon and her captain.

That happened, the seamen said, was last after clearing San Francisco the Aha Rehan was requisitioned by the war shipping administration and diverted to Chile for a load of nitrates.

The ship then was diverted to Tripoli and it was passing through the Mediterranean when the episode of the minefield occurred. With the aid of his pocket magnet and his belief that the mine was turtle, the seaman succeeded in steering the ship into the heart of the field.

By the time the Aha Rehan was excited and berthed in Tripoli—somewhere without blowing up—the captain, the seamen said, had suffered a nervous breakdown and was removed from the ship.

But this was not the end. The freighter and on under command of First Mate Harry Haas. What with one thing and another by the time the crew reached Korea, they were left to sail longer under his command. With the aid of one crew member Haas persuaded the crew to continue and all went well, except for a couple of knifings, until the boat reached Korea again, Haas.

The railroad equipment was loaded. Also were the baboon and the Persian dancing girls were acquired. The ship-on was the gift of a seaman's club which was being dismantled. Just where the girls came from was not clear but both aboard the steamer.

Baboon Board
The baboon, the seamen said, had acquired a taste for vodka and beer. When this vodka came out, fire was started, vodka, the crew said, his temper, broke his cage took a nip out of a seaman's rule and pumped ship.

The warship crew organized a posse and finally found the baboon in a date case where they shot him. That ended the baboon but they still had the dancing girls.

The seamen said the difficulty with the girls centered around the "unfair" action of one of their comrades who promised to marry several of the girls with the result that the girls would have nothing to do with anyone else. Now, they complain, this seaman has been in love with a white Russian girl in Shanghai and leaving the "damns" sleeping and tumbling aboard ship.

Delegates Named By Medic Group

BURLY, April 11.—Dr. Alfred Popma, pathologist, Boise, was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the South Side Medical association Tuesday night at the National hotel here. Dr. C. A. Terhune, Burley, presided.

Delegates to the Idaho State Medical association convention, to be held June 17 to 20 in Boise, were elected. These men will represent the seven counties included in the South Side association. They include Dr. H. L. Stone, Twin Falls; Dr. R. C. Malson, Jerome; Dr. O. A. McMillen, Burley; Dr. Dan Anderson, Filer; Dr. C. A. Terhune, Burley; and Dr. M. J. Pfendling, Twin Falls.

Alternates include Dr. L. M. Kelly, Burley; Dr. Charles B. Boyer, Jerome; Dr. Frank Barrett, Gooding; Dr. C. L. Thompson, Twin Falls. Thirty-five persons attended the meeting. Dr. Neher, member of the state cancer control fund, spoke on the progress of that organization.

Guest was Dr. J. W. Davis, formerly of Glens Ferry who was recently released from military service. He is now associated with Dr. Terhune in Burley.

The May meeting will be held in Jerome and at the June meeting to be held here, the assistant director of the National Infants Paralysis foundation will be the speaker.

Staggering Betting Figures Loom As Racing Returns to Big Apple

By NED BROWN

NEW YORK, April 11 (APCA)—New and staggering figures, transcending the box-car numbers of last year in attendance, purses, betting and what have you, loom as horse racing returns to the Big Apple, opening at Jamaica.

Even the extra tax of five percent on post-race betting, passed at the last session of the state legislature, March 26, bringing the total take to nearly 17 per cent with breakage against 10 per cent and breakage heretofore, will not stop the horde from storming the post-its to bulge the seams of New York's antiquated courses and over-crowded betting machines.

Last year with a delayed 154-day season opening May 21, 1945, attendance topped 4,500,000, the mutual turnover hit $450,000,000, a five-month record of $21,216,000, the state netted $30,000,000, and the racing industry lost $10,000,000.

This season, with New York's 180 days and the background of new peaks in the winter season in California and Florida, the sky is the limit in predicting Eutawston field.

The Metropolitan club's spring meeting at Jamaica offers seven races a day, with nine stakes worth $125,000 in add-on money by closing day, May 4.

Only the horses can more at jam-packed Jamaica, and they rarely move rapidly enough for the thousands betting on them.

There will be no daily double this year, which officials optimistically hoped to cut down the jamming of early starts, but an innovation will be the timing of every kick of every race.

Ticket prices remain the same, $1.00 general admission, $4.00 for clubhouse.

Following Jamaica, the Belmont park, Aqueduct, Empire City and Saratoga meetings, with vastly enriched purses, will make New York the Mecca for the cream of the country's thoroughbreds.

For the first time since travel restrictions halted the sport at Saratoga, the Spa will again welcome the throngs.

Empire City meetings will continue to be held entirely at Jamaica. The Yonkers course has become outmoded.

With all the great and near great thoroughbreds, most of which are richest of stables, and sport-busier crowds concentrated here, officials require no such with official powers to predict that this year's colossal turf figures will be staggering.

So will the bettors.

Wife Leaps Into Ring to Aid Her 'Rasslin' Hubby

By LOWELL DICK

There was more action in the Flyer gym last night than you'll find in a crowd of greened pigs come together in time.

And as for audience participation, wait for the new leader in the Crockett ratings.

In the first place, Jack Wagner, alleged claimant to the intercontinental heavyweight title, took on challenger Jack Adams, who claims the Stage Valley crown in the same division. Wagner retained his title in two straight falls with handlocks, the first in 23 minutes and the second in 10 minutes, but that was just incidental.

Mrs. Adams, who is always to be found at the ringside when Hubby Jack appears, wasn't satisfied with the result, so she stepped in and, by half-punching Wagner and nearly hitting Jack Madray, the referee called a "no contest" fight.

That's where things happened. With a half-ton of blubber in the way of a heavyweight, Mrs. Adams, it would have taken a dozen movie cameras to record the gulf-
