Washed down Main last night and it was cluttered up again as usual with popcorn cans and paper fragments and other trash. A whole bunch of them came and put the stuff in trash cans, even though there were many of them.

Then a new squander truck went into action and there was more mechanical blower work.

Householder's law was more than all trash on results in all the collecting today. The city of course, of course, has no more than the city will do the work and more.

The members of the Jaycees, who have been taking part in the cleanup of items for all an hour or so in the city, are the Jaycees who are company members. Some 25 Jaycees made about 190 yards from local citizens, drove several toward building a new bathroom at Harmon park swimming pool.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER

The West's great cattle industry, born in 1870, a year before the Civil war. The beginning: A few ninety-beans of bull—exhausted Oregon Trail oxen—lashed into beef stock on Montana territory's lush pastures. Today "beef-trail" from Montana are premium quality.

Something Else to Remember

The smooth, satisfying mellowness of Corby's Even before the historic cattle industry in Montana, Corby's was a great old Canadian whiskey known for its fine whiskey. Today Corby's, a high, smooth blend, carries on this quality tradition. Ask for it next time!

"Play-It-Safe" Urged in Use Of Bug Killer

By CLARENCE MOORE

SPOKANE, April 15 (AP)—Care and determination in the use of DDT—a "play-it-safe" approach—characterizes the attitude of David Brannon, extension entomologist at Washington State college, toward the potent new insecticide.

Formerly and homemaker, he says, should be cautious about using DDT on food crops until research men have learned more about its internal effect upon man, animals and fowl.

Be Recommendations

He points out that only a few recommendations have been made by the college for its use on crops in the 1946 growing season.

"This," he says, "is because there is considerable school in yet unknown about DDT and much additional time and basic research will be necessary before we can get the full story as to its value and its limitations."

Brannon says a good safe rule to follow in the meantime is to use DDT only on the ground, that is, to treat the house, barn and other buildings, and not on crops which require application of the DDT on foodstuffs.

But having said that and one phrase caution, he goes on to point out possible exceptions.

The cabbage caterpillar, he says, may be sprayed with DDT up to within 20 days of the time when the cabbage will be ready for use. The corn should take special precautions that exposure is not prolonged. In all, he explains, DDT is readily absorbed through the skin of man and animal.

Good for Vines

DDT also may be used on the portions of plants which are not in food, such as potato vines and tops of alfalfa.

It is valuable in controlling pests which defoliate shade trees, Brannon indicates. He says it may be

Regular Army Awarding Pay For Enlisting

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—Draftees now have the option of signing up with the regular army and getting $100 of their muster; but pay in advance, the war department said here.

A spokesman who said the practice has been ruled "legal and not objectionable," said it works this way:

Until he has received a notice of induction from his draft board, the prospective draftee can be approached by an enlistment officer and enlist for the regular army.

Enlistment Plan

After he gets his notice to report for induction, no attempt to enlist him can be made.

Once he has been sworn into the army of the United States (which is the regular branch, a period of several hours each at the induction center before the new inductor is assigned to some unit in the stream of replacement troops.

During that interval, the inductor can be approached by an enlistment officer for the regular army. This officer, explains that the inductor is in for the duration and six months thereafter, unless sooner discharged by competent authority.

The inductor is further reminded that congress has not yet defined the end of the war and that the inductor's term is therefore indefinite, but that by enlisting in the regular army, his term of duty will be a definite 18 months.

Gets $100 "Bonus"

The inductor also is told that he gets $100 for the regular army. He can get in advance $100 of the maximum $150 mustered out pay eventually due him.

If the inductor wants to get into the regulars, he can then be discharged from the army of the United States by the regular army enlisting officer, and at once be enlisted for the regular branch.

Whether the new soldier takes his $100 advance mustered out pay is purely optional.
