Bread Lines Increase; Relief Predicted Soon

CHICAGO, June 5 (UP)—Bread lines were forming in most of the nation's stores and bakeries today as the country experienced its worst wheat shortage, but the National Federation predicted relief in a matter of weeks.

However, Herman Steen, executive secretary of the federation, said "this is the worst week the millers will have" and added that from 80 to 90 per cent of the nation's flour mills will shut down for lack of wheat to grind into flour.

Scarcely any city escaped the pinch.

Two factors pointed to an uptick. They were the new winter wheat crop, running 20 per cent above expectations from 1934 in Texas and Oklahoma; and a plan by the department of agriculture to divert some foreign relief wheat stocks to the most acute domestic bread shortage areas.

Steen predicted the shortage would be considerably relieved by mid-to-late July as more of the new winter crop reaches the mills. He said, however, "government relief" shipping the grain from elevators in Texas, making the right "blend" for bread flour, and delivering the flour to bakers, all would require a time lag of two or more weeks.

MILLS ON 24-HOUR BASIS

Although 98 per cent of the nation's four major flour mills are open to the wheat shortage, the Twin Falls Flour mill will continue work on government orders, said James J. Kelly, owner of the mill.

The government is using our flour, ground from local wheat, for export overseas," said Kelly Tuesday night. "We are working 24 hours a day, and this will continue for the next two weeks."

Kelly said that flour previously milled before the shortage took effect, is being "rationed" out from the mill warehouse to dealers.

Ship Owners Present New Compromise

By the Associated Press

West coast ship operators today offered a new compromise proposal to the Maritime Police Commission in fresh attempt to head off the threatened mid-June maritime strike on all coasts.

As this move brightened the prospects of settlement, Commission Director Dipt L. Warren said in Washington he believed it "too soon" for the government to get in with its own settlement proposal.

"But maybe we will later," Warren said in a statement. "We are in the day-long negotiations between the country's shippers and the Maritime Police Commission, which is the committee for maritime union."

Under the offer, the shippers disclosed, President John B. Bryan of the Pacific American Shippers' Association would agree to "do everything"—in other words, the entire four-point demand levied on employers by the Independent Marine Union.

The shippers have demanded wage increases ranging from 22 to 40 cents hourly; a 40-hour week, subsequently reduced to 42; higher overtime pay; and retroactivity of the new wage scale to last Oct. 1.

The offer was made in a letter which said that the shippers are officials that if the joint strike of CIO seamen and dockworkers takes place, the shippers will have a problem finding qualified men to man the ships.

The offer was made to the Maritime Police Commission, which is the committee for maritime union.

Fire Victim Toll Soars to 58 in Hotel

Hottest at Chicago; Many a Leap to Heat in crowded Streets of 'Loop'

CHICAGO, June 5 (UP)—Fire leaped from an elevator shaft early today and flashed through the lower floors of the 23-story La Salle hotel where 58 persons died in the worst hotel fire in Chicago's history.

Coroner A. L. Brodie set the death toll officially at 58, and said many of them died as the result of mass hysteria and panic. Many leaped to their death from windows high above the crowded streets of Chicago's loop.

Twelve hours after the fire started there were 64 bodies at the county morgue and one at St. Luke's hospital. One fireman's body was taken to a private funeral home.

Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan also said many of the deaths were "tragically unnecessary."

The flames spread from an elevator shaft to an adjoining cocktail lounge and within seconds turned the ornate lobby into a fiery inferno.

Brice McBride, RFD 2, Provo, Utah, was one of the dead. Moderate leftist upholstery in the lobby had ignited almost instantly and soon the expensive wood paneling and walls of the lobby were enveloped in flames.

While thousands of spectators jammed the streets and hampered firemen's efforts, the fire raged through smoke-filled halls. Many through smoke-filled halls. Many through smoke-filled halls. Many through smoke-filled halls.

British Loan Means Financial Ruin to U. S., Jesse Jones Says

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—Jesse H. Jones, former commerce secretary, expressed belief today that the proposed $3,700,000 British loan "carries us along the road toward financial ruin. I feel very keenly that the congress will make an irreparable mistake if it authorizes this loan in its present form," Jones wrote Chairman Rogers, D., N.Y., of the House Banking committee.

"We are willing to help the British to the extent we can afford to help them and that we should, as any other good American, but I feel very strongly that the proposed loan has not been properly negotiated," Jones said.

The United States Jones contended, should insist upon certain collateral security to secure the loan.

He listed these "major objections to the deal" as proposed:

1. By its very terms "it is unfair to the American people."

2. It is questionable whether the amount requested is actually necessary.

3. The deal is "most unbusinesslike."

Peron Choice Of Argentina Despite U. S.

By JAMES D. WHITE, Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5 (AP)—History may have turned a corner in South America with the inauguration of Argentina's new president, Juan Domingo Peron.

For this handsome 50-year-old candidate has emerged as his people's choice despite mutual efforts by the United States to discredit a trend he represents.

For two and a half years he dominated from behind the scenes the military governments which cleared Argentina through wartime neutrality. Secretary of State Cordell Hull repeatedly accused the Argentine government of harboring Nazis and other enemies of the United Nations.

Peron maintained his influence firmly, then early this year ran for president.

U.S. Published "Blue Book"

During the campaign the United States state department threw its famous "blue book" at his stationery office, charging that its military regime had made a wartime deal to fight on Germany's side and permitted a bad economic war machine to develop in Argentina.

The Peronistas denied and booted the intervention. Peron was elected with the greatest congressional majority any Argentine president ever held. He had, during a term which he was labor minister, initiated Argentine labor laws giving long-suffering workers Christmas bonuses, pay raises, a share in profits and lower taxes.

As his imagination approached, the government decided Peron's interest in joining UNRRA (meaning promising to sell as much food as possible everywhere) and to designate achieved the distinction of being the last to walk out of an assembly of the United League of Nations. A chili Argentine wind blew northward toward Uruguay.

Reformed Government

As Peron was inaugurated, he returned constitutional government to the country and said his foreign policy would consist of "justice and firm support of our sovereignty," and "cooperation on a basis of equality with all the sister nations of the (South American) continent."

Hispanic America's two other chief powers, Brazil and Mexico, already had indicated they would support normal friendly relations.

Britain, with his Argentine investment and rearing Argentine mail, had done the same.

Eight Boys Face Court in Burley After Break-ins

BURLEY, June 5 (AP)—Eight boys, aged 10 to 13, have appeared in police court on charges of participating in a series of break-ins, minor thefts and vandalism, W. W. Williams, chief of police, said Wednesday.

"There were over 10 offenders in the past two months, involving stores, warehouses and homes," he explained. "The articles stolen were usually of small value but the vandalism was most serious."

In one of the thefts, a shotgun was taken from a local home. The total value of cash and merchandise stolen was estimated at $50.

Williams said each boy, accompanied by a parent, appeared in police court, and the case against the boys had been turned over to the juvenile court.

The report asserted that a temporary labor shortage might develop during the harvest of wheat and head lettuce, which will require demand paid at the same time.

Rain and cold winds slowed down work in some southwestern counties, the report declared. Best work in southeastern counties was about one-fourth completed.

The report said the fourth week of the Northern Idaho crop were in excellent shape after the rain, the report added.

To save all possible blighting in cotton, the shorter the cooling the better.

Idaho's Farm Labor Supply Meets Needs

BOISE, June 5 (AP)—Farm labor supply kept even with the state's demand during the week ended Monday, the University of Idaho experts reported today.

The report showed the blocking and thinning of sugar beets was almost completed in southwestern Idaho counties. This work occupied the bulk of imported labor, the report said. It added that there was some work being done by transplanted labor in weeding onions, vegetables and vegetable seeds.

Thinning of soft fruits has started and the first cartons of fresh produce was shipped during the past week, the report declared.

The report asserted that a temporary labor shortage might develop during the harvest of wheat and head lettuce, which will require demand paid at the same time.

Rain and cold winds slowed down work in some southwestern counties, the report declared. Best work in southeastern counties was about one-fourth completed.

The report said the fourth week of the Northern Idaho crop were in excellent shape after the rain, the report added.

To save all possible blighting in cotton, the shorter the cooling the better.

Enemies Halt Quick Action On Rivers Bill

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—Opposition to several major projects halted plans for quick house passage of a billion dollar rivers and harbors bill.

The measure was sidetracked until Thursday, with opponents apparently hoping for a change of mood that would keep the program almost intact.

Rep. Dondero, R. Mich., suggested the delay after the House approved his proposal, subject to recall, to discuss the $2,200,000 big Sandy river navigation project in Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia.

Dondero said a movement was afoot to kill the long-debated Tennessee-Tombigbee waterway and other multimillion dollar works. He did not designate the House project which he said members would attempt to "strike."

The economy move against big projects failed to eliminate the $500,000,000 Arkansas river basin program for which the bill carries an initial authorization of $55,000,000, when by a 240-160 vote, the House rejected an amendment by Rep. Montgomery, D. Okla., to kill it.

Other large items in the bill include the Columbia river, Foster Creek, Wash., $11,000,000.

TO PAY FOR BUILDINGS

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—The Senate Irrigation-Reclamation committee approved a house-passed bill to pay for buildings which will be flooded by completion of the Anderson Ranch dam on the Blue river, an aide of Senator Clegg, D. Idaho, said owners of buildings on the property never held title to land but had settled there many years ago.

The interior department acknowledged a moral reason for compensating the owners because of the "undisturbed possession for a long period of years may have lulled them into a sense of security."

Classes Begun by Recreation Group

Kindergarten classes will be conducted daily at Harmon park from 9 to 11:30 a. m. throughout the summer, Bill Palson, city recreation director, stated late yesterday. Classes, which are in charge of Mrs. Margaret Wallie, began Tuesday.

Activities include clay modeling, crayon coloring, drawing, finger telling, and all types of games. Assisting Mrs. Wallie will be Donna Platt and Dorothy Day.

While kindergarten classes are in progress, older children will have other playground activities, Palson said. Afternoon play equipment will be available to children of all ages. Handcraft classes, dramatic and sewing clubs will also be offered.

The park will be open from 9 to 11:30 a. m., 1:30 to 5 p. m., and 6:30 to 9 p. m. through Saturday. Sunday the park will be open for general use and Monday through Saturday are scheduled so the park can be irrigated.

Wife Sees Husband First Time In 12 Years of Married Life

PHILADELPHIA, June 5 (AP)—Happily married 12 years, Mrs. Helen David favorite saying these days is looking at the husband she never saw until a few weeks ago. The 35-year-old Philadelphia housewife credits her husband, Walter, with finding the medical assistance which partially restored her sight after 12 years of almost total blindness.

Physicians blamed an infection for her loss of sight. Walter, who never gave up hope, enlisted the aid of a surgeon who in two delicate artificial pupils in her eyes which now give her about 10 per cent of normal vision, with hope for further improvement.

Mrs. David said today that her first big thrill was in learning what her husband, whom she married June 18, 1934, looks like. Now she's anticipating picking out some of her own clothes, a chore done in the past by Walter and a neighbor.

And for the first time she now sees what the movie actors and actresses look like as they speak on the screen. She used to go to the movies; listen to the dialogue and think of Walter and a neighbor.

Doctors explained that an old iris, which acts like the shutter on a camera over the pupil of the eye, to form an adhesion to the capsule of the lens, located behind the iris.

This kept the iris almost completely closed over the pupil, the lens of the eye. The new pupils were created slightly to the side of the natural ones.
