Maritime Strike Averted; Seamen Ratifying Terms

The nation's maritime union workers on deck and ship began a back-to-work movement yesterday after some ports, but thousands remained idle as union memberships voted on ratification of the last minute settlement reached in Washington in the wage dispute that had stalled vital shipping.

Settlement of the waterfront was announced just before the midnight deadline Friday night—but not in time to avert the scheduled walkout of the seven-union committee for maritime unity.

Five union groups in New York City, comprising all elements involved in the walkout, voted yesterday to end the stoppage and accept the settlement. The unions claim a membership of 30,000 in the nation's largest port.

About 500 seamen of the national maritime union in Philadelphia voted to ratify the agreement and the port returned to normal.

At Baltimore, merchant seamen voted overwhelmingly to accept the terms and prepared to return to work immediately.

Anthony Lazio, NMU port agent at Charleston, S. C., called off picket lines pending the outcome of the voting. Shipping remained stalled, but activities were normal at Mobile when seamen, who have been on a standby basis, went back to work after official notification of the settlement.

Lasted Two Hours

The walkout lasted two hours in Boston, involving 700 men. They soon drifted back to their vessels following NMU ratification there.

Seamen at Norfolk remained on their ships awaiting confirmation of settlement.

Port activities were normal at New Orleans, according to NMU officials. Seafaring workers resumed their duties.

Pacific coast ports were crippled with 25,000 men out pending the settlement referendum.

At Seattle 7,000 maritime workers were told to quit work. At Portland, Ore., CIO longshoremen voted to return to work Monday, pending a ballot this week.

Some maritime unionists at San Francisco were out but their leaders recommended acceptance of the settlement.

A strike call was answered by 5,000 seamen at Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor. Seamen remained on their ships but refused to work.

Shoemakers said about 48 hours would be needed for west coast membership to ratify or reject the settlement.

Pent-up Twin Falls Buying Power Far Over U. S. Average; '45 Income Soared 8,000,000.1b.

NEW YORK, June 15 (Special)—Twin Falls is shown to be a more prosperous market, with a pent-up buying power than that of most cities in the country, according to Isaac Management's new survey of buying power.

Residents of Twin Falls had a gross income from all sources of $22,978,000 in 1945, an increase from the $19,040,000 of 1944. After payment of federal taxes there was left an effective buying income of $12,020 per capita, far above the national figure of $10.08 per capita and with that of the state, $11.00, and the mountain states, $10.63.

This was real "spending money," although only 41 per cent of it, on the average, was turned into actual retail sales because of controls and shortages. The rest, held largely as savings, is awaiting the appearance of new houses, auto, appliances, clothing and the like.

Despite restrictions, Twin Falls residents spent $18,702,000 during the year in local stores, accounting for 92.2 per cent of the nation's business with only 0.10 per cent of the national population. The city was also well over its state quota, with its retail business 6.33 per cent of the state total, although it has only 2.64 per cent of Idaho's population.

Boy, 12, Falls 100 Feet Over Canyon—Gets Minor Injuries

Surviving a fall of nearly 100 feet down the sheer side of Hook creek canyon on the east rim-rock near the skydivers Saturday morning, the 12-year-old Twin Falls lad came out of the accident with a fractured wrist and a lacerated ear.

The boy, Richard Reed, son of Mrs. Lyma Suttmiller, 625 Third avenue east, slipped off the edge of the canyon while playing with some friends, he was rescued by the Twin Falls city police, he was taken to the Twin Falls county general hospital, where examination revealed that he sustained the arm and ear injuries, but was otherwise unharmed.

He was able to return to his home Saturday evening.

As the accident was reconstructed by Police Chief Howard Gillette, who rescued the lad, the boy fell and slid about 70 feet to a ledge and there dropped another 30 feet. The child, who was assisted by two other officers, commented on the fortitude displayed by the youth.

"He went through the ordeal without a whimper," the officer said. "The accident was first reported to workers at the Union Pacific freight depot, who notified the police."

Resting fairly comfortably at the family home Saturday night, young Reed said that he was attempting to cross on a ledge when the rock gave way beneath him. He landed on a corrugated cardboard box which partially broke the fall.

World Peace Hope Termed Hinging on Coming Few Weeks

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The world should learn fairly well in the next three or four weeks how much chance it has for an organized, lasting peace. The United States atomic control plan laid before the United Nations yesterday by Bernard Baruch completes the American master pattern of peace organization.

The foreign ministers' conference opening in Paris today is the start of what seems certain to be a showdown with Russia on European settlements.

Washington diplomats are keeping one eye on the progress of the atom plan in New York and the other in Paris. They say that if the great powers can work together to harness the atom and draft the peace treaties, they can solve eventually all their other problems.

If they fail, no one seems certain that they will be able to solve anything important.

It is because the blue chips are down in this final sense that the War, Peace and State departments both have sought in recent weeks to discourage renewed talk of a big three meeting to try to find a way around the difficulties.

The pattern of one which the atomic plan completes is contrasted with the primary assumption that the United States and Britain are moved primarily by the sources of disarmament.

Main elements in the pattern and their present status are: The United States and Britain are moved primarily by the sources of disarmament.

Reds Reverse Stand, Allow Austria Talk

PARIS, June 15 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov agreed today to add Austria to the foreign ministers' conference agenda, then indicated that the Italian political situation was watched to prevent a reformation of fascism into full scale civil war.

In a sudden and surprising concession as the ministers reopened their discussions on peace treaties with Austria, the Soviet government reversed Soviet policy last month and consented to study Austria as a "problem."

Molotov objected to confining the Austrian question to the American-sponsored draft treaty which Washington had circulated among the other powers—France, Russia and Britain.

Parachutist, Pilot Escape in Air Collision of Plane, Chute

ADRIAN, Mich., June 15 (AP)—Professional Parachutist Warren Berg, 25, of Detroit, escaped seriously unharmed in a mid-air collision with a small two-seater private plane plowed into his parachute during a jump at the Adrian airport today.

Berg, a lieutenant in the U. S. Air Corps, was jumping from a C-47 transport plane at an altitude of approximately 1,000 feet, swinging him under the plane and up onto the tail, where the second plane was flying.

Meanwhile the little craft, its propeller smashed in the twisted wreckage, nosed over into a slow spin toward the earth.

When the crash drifted to the ground, the center of the plane was found to be in a state of complete ruin.

At Adrian hospital Berg was reported to have only a few minor bruises and no serious injuries.

Tiny Parents Hoping Baby Doesn't Grow

AUSTIN, Tex., June 15—The midge-parents of a healthy, six-pound daughter hoped today she would turn out to be the world's first third-generation midge.

Dr. Audie L. Nanney, who delivered the baby, said it would take a year to determine whether she is going to be a midge. But he said the characteristics of the baby's head and jaw indicated she might be.

Both Midge's The infant was born yesterday by cesarean section to Mrs. Myrtle Myrtle Swensen, 20, who is only 47 inches tall. The father, August G. Swensen, 27, radio technician at the University of Texas, is 52 inches tall. He is the son of normal parents. Mrs. Swensen, however, is the daughter of midges.

Doctors believed there was no case on record of a third-generation midge. They said that the birth of normal children to midge parents is rare enough, but the birth of midge children to midge parents is even rarer.

Being Fine The infant, named Nancy Gull, and her mother were reported "doing fine."

Both the parents and the grandparents hoped she would be midge.

"We want her to be a midge, so she won't be out of line with us," said Grandmother Clifton.

Swensen said his daughter was "a little bit of heaven to us little bits."

Smoke Screen Machine Used Against Bugs

Approximately nine and one-half acres of colonies were sprayed Friday evening with an ex-army aerosol generator, in experiments to control the insects known as onion thrips.

The experiments were conducted by the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine at the farm of Ray Warren and Layton Warren immediately north of the bureau building.

A. H. Yeomans, Washington, D. C., operated the generator, using mixtures of 10-W motor oil and five per cent DDT solution.

J. R. Douglas of the bureau said a population count will be made to determine the effectiveness of the insecticide.

On the inside of this area by Yeomans included an acreage of sprays for aphids and leafhoppers, and beetles and leafhoppers.

The generator was used during the night by the army to lay down smoke screens, and in mosquito control work.

Everyone was excited except the bees Friday afternoon when this swarm came down Main avenue and clustered on a bicycle seat at the main avenue-Shoshone street intersection. Jamboree Will Open Rupert's Rodeo Session

RUPERT, June 15.—Opening Rodeo's 17th rodeo season, the annual Jamboree and chuck wagon feed, the last one of the season's rodeo and chuck wagon feed, will take place in this town at 8 o'clock Friday, June 22, it was announced today.

All participants must be attired in cowboy fashion to gain admission. Attorney "Champ" Cresson will lead the chuck wagon feed, while Rusty "Champ" Rogers, local restaurant man, heads the committee in charge of the affair. A rodeo queen and her attendants will be elected by popular vote.

For the first time in history there will be three rodeo performances during the evening of July 3 under lights recently installed in the newly remodeled rodeo park. There will be performances in the evening and evening of July 4. J. C. O. Cresson, Cresson, will furnish the stock for the event. An added feature will be a tribe of Indians from Fort Hall.

To advertise the annual show a parade of floats will pass through the main street of the town in the evening of July 4. The parade will be headed by a float from the Jamboree.

Second Meeting Scheduled on Conditions at County Hospital

Brought into the open by Friday's meeting of nurses and physicians with Twin Falls county commissioners, long-dormant but pressing problems of personnel shortages and inadequate hospital care will be discussed at a session of representatives of groups concerned.

Attending the conference, to be held in the county hospital, will be the committee from the Idaho State Nurses' association, interested physicians, the county commissioners and members of the hospital board. H. C. Jorgensen, superintendent, has been invited to attend, according to Carl D. Irwin, hospital board chairman.

The meeting was originally scheduled for Thursday night but was postponed because doctors will be attending the convention of the Idaho State Medical association in Boise.

It was announced that the hospital, for lack of personnel, has returned to its former emergency basis for operations. Only emergency surgery will be permitted; elective operations must wait.

Speaking for the hospital board, Chairman Irwin said Saturday: "We are interested in a complete solution of the problem, but primarily in arriving at a solution as soon as possible."

He indicated belief that the board can arrange to provide for most of the requests for more capacity, but that they may have to increase in personnel which is a highly tough problem.

Following the Friday meeting, which representative former and present nurses, as well as several local physicians, failed to puncture, in telling him what the staff is up against, Commissioner Jorgensen said he would recommend appointment of the committee to work with the board on the problem.

Members of the committee are: Mrs. G. S. Siger, a former nurse; Mrs. Edith Miller, supervisor of the maternity unit staff at the hospital; and Miss Dorothy Collier, supervisor of the hospital's south section, chief health unit and district and state nurse association president.

After nurses and physicians had presented a picture of what the hospital is up against, Mr. Siger outlined the district No. 1 Idaho Nurses' association recommendations to the board.

'Model-T' Hospital, Railroads, Phones, Legion Head Charges

Twin Falls and Magic Valley not only have been "limping along on a Model-T" hospital, but "our community has been getting the short end of the stick in regard to railroad and telephone service, veterans of World War I and I were told here Friday night."

The inadequacy of hospital facilities here in the valley is lamented by Dr. H. C. Jorgensen, Idaho department commander of the American Legion, addressing fifth district convention delegates from Moscow, Cassia, Minner, and Twin Falls counties at the Legion hall, Tuesday.

"If the community as a whole is to reach an agreement on a hospital program, the Legion should be in a position to step in and establish a proper hospital plan," and provide this hospital service either through new construction of its own or under contract with other agencies which may join to create new hospital facilities, Jorgensen said.

Legionnaires were told that "the present hospital is one of the richest contributions of freight revenue," yet this area "has just about as inconspicuous a passenger schedule as could be devised."

"Slave to Oregon" Jorgensen said. "The Pacific Railroad has made some outstanding contributions to the development of Idaho," but "the railroad has permitted itself to become a slave to the Oregon passenger and freight service from Butte and the upper Snake river valley down through Pocatello, Minidoka, Rupert, Twin Falls, Rogers, and so on, to the coast."

He recommended the passage of legislation to permit the railroad to become a slave to the Oregon passenger and freight service from Butte and the upper Snake river valley down through Pocatello, Minidoka, Rupert, Twin Falls, Rogers, and so on, to the coast.

Order Means Sugar Rolls Not So Sweet

Twin Falls residents will get their sweet rolls and cinnamon rolls with less sugar as a result of a government order reducing sugar rations for bakers by 14 percent, according to Herb E. Nuegen, Twin Falls baker.

"Doughnuts and rolls without icing will not be affected by the order unless the firms that make the prepared flour mix used for these bakery goods are hit by the order," Nuegen said. He explained that a prepared mix containing flour, sugar, eggs and shortening is used for rolls and doughnuts.

The production of flour, which is not affected much, will not be affected much, but bakers are taking only one place in which the sugar is provided in the baking. Nuegen said that the only types of pies that are making trouble now are frozen fruit in which sugar has been frozen with the fruit. Baking is out because the sugar is frozen.

not frozen with the berries, Nuegen said.

No cake has been made at one Twin Falls bakery since last June and this order curtailing sugar use will bring the death knell for commercial cakes.

Bakeries have been using corn syrup and malt syrup as substitutes for sugar ever since rationing began but are unable to get more syrup. Nuegen said syrups are being allotted to bakeries, he explained.

Sure, There Are Food Shortages—but the Unruffled Housewife Is Going Right Ahead by Way of Originality, Lots of Ingenuity

By MARTHA MACNAMARA
With headlines screaming food shortages, little attention has been given the greatest mediator who copes with the problem—the housewife. Her unruffled approach to making the best of things (remember the cunning little red and blue ration tokens?) leads to seeing her family well fed with all the vitamins and nutritious elements necessary.

In investigating a number of Twin Falls homes, originality and ingenuity was discovered in the kitchen.

Take It In Stride
Porous to experiments and deal with all types of foods during the war, the quakers of the kitchen are taking the present emergency in their stride.

Mrs. Lyons Smith was preparing dinner for her family when I arrived to chatter about the shortages.

Cool and immaculate, she whipped up a dinner that made my mouth water. "This," she smiled as she lifted the lid from a skillet is one of our family favorites.

The delectable dish was meat balls, rice, tomato sauce, green string beans. The recipe is as follows: One pound of hamburger with four level tablespoons of uncooked rice and shape into balls. Brown onion and fat and cover with a pint can of tomatoes. Let simmer until the rice puffs up.

"Your green beans can be placed along the side of the skillet and there is the main portion of your meal," Mrs. Smith said.

Baked potatoes and cinnamon rolls, made with whipped cream to conserve butter, completed the Smith dinner.

Desert Recipe
Another recipe to come from the Smith household is to conserve sugar in a dessert "Creamy Rice With Fruit." It includes one half cup rice, one and one half cups milk, one half cup sugar, two cups boiling water, one half teaspoon of salt and two cups of raisins. Boil rice in water until fluffy. Add other ingredients and cook until creamy.

Leaving Mrs. Smith with her culinary perfection, I journeyed to the street and stopped to chat with Mrs. E. M. Sweeley, who was busy working in her garden.

Interested in the present emergency, Mrs. Sweeley suggested a novel idea for combining flowers and vegetable garden. "Try pepper plants, and tomato plants with background of blue morning glories and you will have a scene in the middle of the summer garden to light the eye," she said as she pointed out such an arrangement in her garden.

Utility and Beauty
My eye opened in amazement as she sketched a garden scene, not only for beauty, but for utility as well. "Carrots complement any garden for their hardy nature," she discovered from this ingenious combination that beans, onions, cucumbers and tomato plants can be decorative touch to any garden.

"Don't plant them in large quantities. Small will feed a family the entire summer," Mrs. Sweeley suggested.

A unique twist for a garden is the new dwarf trees which have been introduced into the Swedish garden. "They are really wonderful and the dwarf tree in my garden has several varieties of pears. Almost all types of fruit trees come in the dwarf size and are ideal for small gardens," she said.

Anyone Can Do It
"From the practical standpoint anyone should be able to spray the small trees without having to engage a professional," Mrs. Sweeley added as she sprayed.

"The dwarf trees make it possible to have a larger variety of fruit in your garden and still provide all the fruit a small family needs. After all, when you are planning your plant trees throughout your yard you might just as well plant those that are useful," Mrs. Sweeley concluded as I took my leave and resumed her work in her garden.

Trudging down Main I paused at the Howard J. Larsen's home to cover her kitchen fees for the afternoon. Yummy! Her kitchen smelled good, as it would to such a coffee lover as this reporter. She had just completed a coffee vanilla pudding with a dash of whipped cream and a strawberry on top.

Saves Sugar
"This is ideal to save sugar as it calls for honey. Most packaged puddings take a little fat unless represented with a little kitchen oil," Mrs. Larsen said as she set her table for the evening meal.

Her recipe calls for one package or two thirds cups of vanilla pudding powder, two cups of milk, one egg (beat with two tablespoons of honey), two heaping teaspoons of instant coffee or substitute one cup of strong coffee for one cup of the milk. Cook over a slow fire until thick and add one teaspoon of vanilla and cool, pour into sherbet.

Housewives Face Food Emergency—And Smile

glazes and chill in the refrigerator. When ready to serve top with whipped cream and garnish with a red cherry or strawberry. This recipe serves from four to six.

Must Experiment
"Experimenting with various types of food has become a must in most households since shortages are now a reality. My family seems to enjoy learning new ways to cope with shortages and they like to have me make with the means and recipes," Mrs. Larsen said.

"Although the new flour has more food value, one can't let the bread get as light as previously and it has to be watched carefully," she said. "I have to work right along with the bread. I can't do a little bit now and then return to it later. However, we have discovered that the new flour has an excellent flavor."

Rolls De Luxe
Mrs. Miller's step de luxe recipe includes a half cup of sugar, one egg, two level tablespoons of shortening, two level tablespoons of yeast, two eggs, two cups of boiling water and one fourth cup of lukewarm water. She warned that the eight cups of bread flour in the recipe has to be judged carefully as it is expanded.

the boiling water with one cup of sugar, salt, shortening, together. Cool until lukewarm. Soften yeast in lukewarm water and add one teaspoon of sugar and stir into the first mixture. Add brown egg and stir in four cups of flour, then beat thoroughly and stir in the remainder of flour. Brush the top of the dough with melted butter, cover lightly and store in refrigerator until ready to use. Then shape as desired and place in warmth until the bulk has doubled. Bake 15 to 20 minutes in a hot oven of 425 degrees.

Stretch It
"Let's stretch the meat loaf," Junilia Buttrick, high school home economics teacher, suggested when I stepped into her gleaming kitchen. Fascinated, I watched as she neatly tossed together a loaf that proved to be out of this world.

As she mixed the loaf there came a first layer of meat then a layer of dressing and another layer of meat. "Try putting out your meat and placing mashed potatoes in the center. Roll like a jelly roll and bake, then slice. Ground carrots and celery can also be used to stretch the limited supply of meat," she asserted.

Here's a Good One
A cake frosting with very little sugar that will keep in refrigerator for as long as five days was recommended by Mrs. B. F. Magel. The recipe has one half cup of egg white, one and half cups of Karo corn syrup, one and half teaspoons of water, one half cup of sugar and one fourth teaspoon of salt, and flavoring to suit. Place ingredients in the upper part of a double boiler. Beat thoroughly until mixed over boiling water. Cook nine minutes beating constantly. The mixture should hold a peak when dropped from a spoon.

This will easily frost three angel food cakes so the recipe may be cut to suit personal needs," Mrs. Magel said.

These visits to a few homes in Twin Falls are just a sample of the ingenuity of Magic Valley housewives to meet the food emergency with a smile.

First Ward Services
Bishop Mitchell W. Hunt, Jr., announced services for the first ward LDS church as follows: Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. under the direction of Sup. Karl Evensen; priesthood meeting at 11 a. m. The sacramental service at 5 p. m. will be under the direction of members of the Melchizedek priesthood honoring the anniversary of the restoration of the priesthood. Special musical numbers are planned including vocal selections by Faith and Flowers, Corrie, Paul and vocal solo by James Clawson. The public is invited.

WEED MEETING
Weed district No. 3 of Twin Falls county will meet at 8 p. m. Monday in Shumrock school. The session will be conducted for the district and all interested persons.

Great Potato Crop Seen in Two Months

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—There'll be more Irish 'taters in June and July than this country ever had before.

By September the U. S. department of agriculture says approximately 750,000 bushels of Irish potatoes will be going to market all over the country.

But you may not be able to buy any. Some localities will suffer potato shortages from time to time, the Washington experts suggested, because of the possibility of the car shortages, the scarcity and summer showers holding up the harvest.

It will take 85,000 cars to ship potatoes this year from the south and west, 75,000 cars in June alone, agricultural officials said.

In July trucks will take over much of the potato load, when 'taters move out of North Carolina and from northern producing states. Only the best potatoes will get to dining tables. The low grades, they said, will be fed to cattle.

Asks Estate Power

Nephew Larsen, Hansen, surviving husband of the late Olie Larsen, who died Jan. 28, 1945, petitioned Judge for letters of administration of the estate in the court of Probate Judge C. A. Bailey.

The estate involves community property valued at $10,000. The hearing was set for 10 a. m. June 26. Larsen's attorney is G. T. Hamilton.

Elks Lodge Rites Honor J. Shouse

Funeral services for J. W. Shouse were conducted at 4 p. m. Friday in the Twin Falls mortuary chapel by members of the Elks lodge. Musical selections were presented by the Shouse family, accompanied by Mrs. Nellie Catron.

Participants included Floyd Brown, E. F. Hansen, James R. Hansen, Ralph Brown, James Ruge and Ross Cunningham. Burial was in the Twin Falls cemetery.

THE QUESTION
THE WINNER
 W. C. Stone, route three, wins the $1 award for submitting the question this week. He requests that the money be sent to the national fund. Stone, who also submitted the question chosen by the Thumbnail Forum last week, donated that award to the city recreation fund. Questions may be submitted by mail, phone or in person up to noon on Saturdays.

THE PLACE
 At Washington courts.

THE ANSWER
 Mrs. Mable Schoepf, housewife: "This has always been my home as naturally I like it. But I've lived here for other places and I've always moved back."

MRS. SCHOEPF DORSTADDER

Jay Duestader, discharged army aviator: "I've seen places I liked a lot better... for instance the lack of recreation here is one bad feature." But the veteran, who served two years overseas and who has been in seven countries, adds: "I'd take the worst spot here before I'd take any of those countries."

Mrs. E. Kennepp, "Twin Falls is the best place I've seen yet. We're making our home here after moving a lot during the war."

KENNEPP MRS. KENNEPP

Kennepp, overseas veteran employed at a local sports shop: "I've never seen a place I liked better."

Mrs. Alden Newman: "This is where we're building our home. I've lived in lots of different places both east and west, but I like Twin best."

MRS. NEWMAN MRS. GRIFFIN

Mrs. Bill Griffin: "I think it's pretty wonderful. I've lived around here most of my life and I don't want to move."

Union Heads, by Case Bill Fight, Show True Goal

Editor, Times-News:
 The bitterness with which the union heads have attacked the Case bill only shows their true motives. There is nothing in this legislation that would hinder any just or legal handling of union business. The bill is aimed at unfair union practices which would damage the welfare of the nation.

In view of these facts the union heads in their bitter disapproval have only admitted that they intend to stop at nothing that will hinder them winning their dictatorial demands.

(Note to editor: A year ago my family and I left Twin Falls and how many times we have wished we were back! Although our stay was less than a year, we claim it as our home town and intend to return some day... I have now been off my work for over four months because of strikes. I am a construction engineer for a large pipe line across the state and the striking of workers has completely cut off our supply of pipe.)

Billions in Goods Left to Rot Overseas—No Shipping? Tsk

Editor, Times-News:
 Billions of dollars worth of consumer goods have been left to rot and rot at overseas stations because, as government officials tell us, it is more economical to leave such items as jeans, trucks and other machinery across the ocean. "We are told that the cost of bringing such equipment back to the United States is prohibitive. And we are told that there is no shipping space available in the event it is decided to bring equipment back for sale to civilians."

Naturally, it wouldn't exactly be to the advantage of large manufacturers to have the market flooded with thousands of used items when they'll eventually be able to sell new stock to consumers. It is well known that manufacturers maintain large forces of lobbyists in Washington to further their own interests. These lobbyists have plenty of resources and cash to help them accomplish their missions.

But is there any truth in the claim of officials of the armed forces that it would be more economical to abandon billions of dollars worth of equipment? Is there really a lack of shipping space to bring vehicles and goods back to the United States?

I am one of those veterans who was "sucked" in the Pacific area for what seemed like decades. I was still in the Pacific when the war ended and remained there for several months waiting for red tape to unwind and again waiting for assignment to a ship to come home.

During my "waiting" periods, I had ample time on my hands which I used to just look around. Even that soon after the end of the war, "motor pools" had been established in which thousands of vehicles were being stored. To the best of my knowledge, not one single vehicle was ever shipped to the United States. Many of the trucks and jeeps rusted and rotted away in tropical weather where unused.

There weren't enough troops left to operate and service the thousands of vehicles being "stored." There is no way of knowing how much other material is being treated in a similar fashion.

My waiting ended last October when I boarded a ship, the SS Cape Perpetua, bound for the U. S. During our 28-day trip from the Philippines, we ran into bad weather and at times had to reduce speed to three and four knots because the

Idaho's Farm Yield Values Told to Club

BURH, June 15.—M. W. Hunt, visiting Kiwanian from Twin Falls, talked to the Burh Kiwanian club this week on agriculture as his business in Idaho.

Speaking on the agricultural products produced by the state as a whole, Hunt pointed out that Idaho, with only 2,000,000 acres under irrigation and ranking 42nd in the nation in population, was the fourth highest state in the nation in the shipping of perishable products.

He also stated that Twin Falls county, which is a very small county compared to some in California and Texas, ranks 61th in the nation for counties for its agricultural products. This rating is held in spite of the fact that counties which carry on highly intensive farming, such as the orange groves, fruit orchards or berries, raise much more in proportion to the ground involved.

County ranks high. Twin Falls county, said Hunt, raises 60 per cent of seed beans of the garden varieties in the United States, 50 per cent of the onion seed in the nation and 70 per cent of the hybrid sweet corn seed. The agricultural industry in Idaho amounts to more than $225,000,000 annually.

In speaking of possibilities for new future industries, Hunt stated that Twin Falls county is ideal for the establishment of frozen food plants, and the processing and shipping of dressed meats.

"Farmers in Idaho," said Hunt, "are of the highest type in the nation. There are more college graduates engaged in agriculture in Idaho than any state in the union. The Idaho farmers are far more progressive in the use of the latest modern equipment than most other sections in the country."

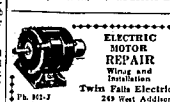

The Kiwanis club went on record as being in favor of making and enforcing a two hour parking limit in the business district of the city during business hours.
