Woman and Boy Hurt When Hay Team Runs Off

BULH, June 20.—Two broken necks and a demolished hay wagon resulted when a team hauling hay on the Russell-Lyon farm in Idaho valley went off a high embankment Tuesday night. The horse frightened when the wagon lurched while crossing a ditch, bolted when the neck broke.

The four were driven by Darrell Lyons to Buhl where they received first attention. The wagon was owned by Cecil Lyons.

High Auto Output Not Seen in 1947

If all conditions were favorable 11,000,000 American cars could be produced yearly, but because of present problems a previous high of 6,000,000 probably cannot be attained this year.

J. Ray Currie, Lawson, president of the Idaho Automobile Dealers Association, said this prediction Wednesday night to 40 dealers of the south central Idaho district during a meeting at the Twin Falls county general hospital.

War-time research will result in better automobiles, he said. He pointed out that improved artificial methods had "doubled the production of the automotive industry."

The members tried to endorse the safety program of the Idaho chapter, National Safety Council. Another speaker was Ed A. Weston, Boise, however, who discussed the OPA and other legislation which affected the dealers.

Wyatt Asking for No Strike Pledge

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt is sounding out AFL and CIO building unions on a six month no strike pledge to let the home-for-veterans program swing into full stride.

Aides of the NHA administrator disclosed his no-strike efforts, saying privately that Wyatt hopes to obtain a pledge from organized labor in the construction and building materials industries to refrain from any work stoppages until December.

By that time, they said it is felt, thousands of homes now standing partly finished can be completed, new residential starts can be made with confidence, and—as one official put it—the 1946 shelter program can "get over the hump."

BOB HOPE

IF A GUY isn't wearing a straw hat, he's definitely not in step with the times. I have the same hat I used to wear in vaudeville, and I'd still be wearing it if I weren't for those damn stains on it.

But everybody must be buying new ones now. I went into a store and said, "What do you have in the way of a straw hat?" The clerk said, "About 60 or 70 other people."

After all, what's a straw hat? It's a very embarrassing when the salesman took off my hat and started looking for the price tag. I don't know why they make such a fuss about straw hats, anyway.

Chambers of Commerce

Chambers of Commerce along the route are becoming enthusiastic over a proposed transcontinental highway that would mean much to Twin Falls.

This proposed super-highway, which has been described as the most needed and most useful cross-country thoroughfare, would follow a northwest-southeast diagonal extending from the state of Washington through Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Colorado, New Mexico, Texas and Louisiana, thence along the Gulf coast of Mississippi and Alabama and diagonally across Florida to Miami and Key West.

To the north, at Oroville, Wash., this great highway would connect with the Okanogan Valley highway of British Columbia, which is being recommended as the logical future route to Alaska, the "Alcan" highway being on the wrong side of the Rockies for year around traffic.

In Texas, this new diagonal route would connect with the Mexican highway at Laredo, extending to Mexico, D. F., and beyond and ultimately to the Canal Zone and South America.

This proposed highway is not merely a dream. Extensive promotional efforts have been organized, Chambers of Commerce in states near the extremities of the route are passing resolutions and whipping all the enthusiasm they can. The International Highway Commission of the United States and Canada has already taken many preparatory steps. Maps showing the proposed route have been printed, and publicity is being sent to newspapers all along the route.

Here are a few snapshots of the publicity that is being given to the proposed route:

"Over the world's scenic highway, from everglades to glaciers, from citrus groves to apple orchards, from sage brush deserts to dense forests, from rugged mountains, canyons, roaring rivers and mirror lakes."

"Refrigerated trucks on such a super-highway would carry fresh and quick frozen seafoods, citrus fruits, figs, yams, strawberries, watermelons, the Pacific northwest, and return with tree ripened apples, apricots, peaches, prunes, cherries, peas and berries—with increased profits to producers and lower costs to consumers all along the line."

Magazine Twin Falls—already located on U. S. 30 and U. S. 93 and about to be hooked up with national airline connections—being one of the key points on this great international highway of the future.

And, the most, showing the route of this great highway, have Twin Falls standing out there just as big as you please—right on the main line!

It looks like our slide-track days are over.

"PEACEFUL" ACTIVITIES

Congressional action on the Hobbs "anti-racketeering" labor bill will have an important bearing on the post-war economy of this country.

Either congress will decide to make labor law enforcement more general restrictions that apply to all other phases of American life, or we can expect serious trouble based on class distinctions.

Labor has gone too far in throwing its weight around, but the Peace of America politicians may hesitate to admit it, that does not relieve congress from its responsibility of recognizing that important fact.

The "anti-racketeering" labor bill would make it a felony to interfere by robbery or extortion or by threats of violence with movements of goods in interstate commerce. There can be no logical criticism of such a measure because it does not interfere with legitimate union activity.

VIEW OF OTHERS

A BIT OF HERESY

In his autobiography William Allen White, the editorial writer of the Des Moines Register, has written some interesting features in the activities of the little Kansas college he attended in the early 1880s.

White, who was a football player, says that it was a fine football player to be fifty years later and all the students followed with enthusiasm his career in competition against other colleges.

We know that Mr. White writes the truth, for, twenty-four years later, we also attended a little mid-western college and we can remember that the boy who won the annual oratorical contest and went on to represent the school against other institutions was quite as important as the captain of the football team.

We can recall too, that all of the school days, deeply humiliated when our current oratorical idol was found to have feet of plaster, was convicted of having stolen the speech which he won, and we can remember something else, a fact that must seem quite ridiculous to Joe College and Betty Good today.

At a time when we have football and basketball and several hundred young voices could produce. And that is a time when we have football and basketball and several hundred young voices could produce.

At a time when we have football and basketball and several hundred young voices could produce. And that is a time when we have football and basketball and several hundred young voices could produce.

Meetings End Forest Strike Of Canadians

VANCOUVER, B. C. June 20 (AP)—The strike of 30,000 lumber workers, which has paralyzed British Columbia forest industry for 30 days and threatened the paper supply of many newspapers in the United States, ended today.

The International Woodworkers of America (IWOA) announced that members had been instructed to return to their jobs at 11 a. m. today, at which time an agreement will be signed in Victoria.

The union announcement by Harold Pritchett, district president, said the settlement on the Sloan formula provides a 15-cent hourly wage increase; a 44-hour week in sawmills; a 48-hour week in logging camps, with reduction to 40 after six months; a dues check-off system for union members who sign an "irrevocable" agreement for such procedure.

The union had demanded a 25-cent wage, a 40-hour week and union security.

Newspapers of western Canada and the United States became directly concerned in the prolonged strike because of the cut-off of the log supply for the Big Bear Paper Company plant. No statement was obtainable from Powell River officials on their newspaper supply situation, but the Canadian press said a statement was expected after the officials have reviewed the situation fully.

Irrigation Suit Is Under Adversement

District Judge James W. Porter took under advisement Wednesday afternoon the civil suit of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Monroe against Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Saxton. The plaintiffs asked that the defendants be required to use only the quantity of water that can be put to beneficial use on 20 acres of land.

The defense relied after calling witnesses: J. W. O'Donnell, Arthur P. Boonman, Claude Reed and Russell H. Bright. Rebuttal witnesses called were Monroe and Herman DuRoi.

Ray Saxton, Castleford, son of the defendant, testified Wednesday morning that he has used as much as 250 in line of water on the farm in 1944 and 1945 when rented land involved in the trial. Property under discussion is some four miles northwest of Castleford. The plaintiffs contend that 25 inches would be suitable. The Saxtons allege they can use as much as 250 inches. The ditch is on the Monroe land but both parties have a right to it.

Another witness was J. L. Smith, Rich, who discussed irrigation in the area.

Attorney for the plaintiffs is James R. Bethard. Frank L. Siegmund is counsel for the defendants.

Moore said Mrs. Sproule, "who has a good business head" was anxious to make the trip. He added the apple-cheeked Delbert still "didn't have much to say" but was pleased because neighbors would care for his animals while he made the trip.

ON THE SPORT FRONT

Yale Old Sport Scrivener has never seen it fall—and he's not telling you, and you, too, this as an I-told-you-so guy. What OSS means is that the fighter who does the most smiling and clowning generally winds up with his face in the rear. And that's been his deduction in covering several hundred battles from a front seat across cauliflower rows.

When the wire reported early in the second round that Billy Gertz was calling and snealing in his battle with champion Lou Louie, the ancient word padder started to come later. Com Thomas Johnson, and remarked that that end was not far off.

Cous was "only" Louis' younger brother, although they had not been thrown at him as yet in the torrent and might that was to come later. Com was hurt and ailing because he had sympathy—he wanted that sympathy to bolster him for the finish that he knew was near.

Winning fighters don't smile. It's grim business with them. They know they can triumph and about nothing but to bring it about.

Louis didn't smile last night—at least not until after the bout. And THAT'S THAT FOR NOW, EXCEPT: Anyway, mark up another for the Cowboys.
