A total of 269 officers and enlisted personnel of the army of the United States, recruited or inducted from their homes in the nine counties of Magic Valley, were officially declared to be casualties of World War II by the war department Wednesday night.

The war department gave its first consolidated postwar report, listing only army casualties at 308,978 dead and missing from the nation as a whole, and 1,419 dead and missing from the state of Idaho.

England Sets Bread Ration For July 21st

LONDON, June 27 (AP)—Bread will be rationed throughout Great Britain beginning July 21, Food Minister John Strachey announced in the house of commons today.

The British did not ration bread in either of the last two wars. Strachey said flour also would be rationed.

The black bread ration will be nine ounces daily for adults. Manual workers will receive 15 ounces and expectant mothers will get 11.

Heavy Ration

England's "ration" of bread is double the average amount consumed per individual in the Magic Valley, a Twin Falls bakery owner said Thursday.

He said nine ounces of bread would amount to 11 standard half-inch slices, or more than half of the 20 slices (including heels) in a standard size loaf.

Average Magic Valley consumption was estimated at five or six slices per day.

"That's a heavy ration," the bakery owner asserted. "That's where all our wheat is going."

Women engaged in manual labor would be given 15 ounces instead of 11 that the average citizen would be allotted.

He noted recently emphasize that the government has reached this decision because they are convinced that it is necessary to ration bread and flour at the present time would be to take an unjustifiable risk with the basic food supply of the British people, the food minister of the labor government said.

Ration books good for a year from July 21 are being distributed.

BOISE, June 27 (AP)—Building on Republican and Democratic tickets in Idaho's June 21 primary election was not as evenly matched as the official report of the state board of canvassers showed today.

Pioneer Who Came in Covered Wagon Takes Plane Ride at 80

Mrs. E. B. Williams of Twin Falls didn't leave the pioneer spirit behind with the covered wagon in which she came to Wood River in 1881, Wednesday afternoon she carried it into the skies and fulfilled her wish of long-standing to take an airplane ride.

Mrs. Williams has passed her 80th birthday, but her outlook is as youthful as in the days at Eagle Hot Springs where her father, after whom the area was named, operated the first stage station there.

Having traveled in nearly every type of conveyance, except an airplane, Mrs. Williams, who is the mother of Mrs. Harry Bennett, has been looking forward to such a ride for many years. When the air trip was originally planned, unfavorable weather interfered. Then Wednesday afternoon, Kenneth Self, local business man, made her wish come true by arranging to have Mrs. Williams go up in his trim Silesco Vought.

Mrs. Williams enjoyed every minute of the ride, with Pilot Norris Stettler at the controls.

"It was just like a patchwork quilt," she said, "as I looked down below," exclaimed the pioneer a little breathlessly as she got out of the plane at the Twin Falls airport. "The cars and people and fields all looked like miniature, and the Snake River canyon was beautiful."

When Mrs. Williams got into the plane for the ride, her great-granddaughter, Norma Lou Bennett, age 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bennett, said, "I wanna go too!" So after Mrs. Williams returned from her ride, Mrs. Harry Bennett, the little girl and Ed Bennett took a ride.

Norma Lou and Mrs. Williams were equally thrilled, showing that the age of 2 or 80, you're just as young as you feel.

Some of the other modes of travel Mrs. Williams has enjoyed include the covered wagon, the stagecoach, horseback, and, of course, the airplane.

Idaho's FSA Leads in Help To Farm Vets

Idaho's farm security administration program, lead the Pacific northwest in helping farm veterans reestablish themselves on the land, helping smaller farmers place their postwar operations on a sound and profitable basis and developing small water facilities. Walter A. Duffy, regional FSA director, Portland, told a work-meeting of county representatives from Magic and Boise valley counties, opening its second day at the Idaho Power company auditorium this morning.

Nearly twice as many returned veterans were able to rent or lease farms where they could establish themselves with farm security loans for livestock and equipment, as in Washington and Oregon combined," Duffy said, "out of the $2,247,000 loaned in Idaho for the fiscal year ending July 1 to purchase livestock, equipment and operating goods, over half was used to establish about 500 veterans on farms, many in this district. An additional 50 to 60 veterans will have farm ownership loans completed by July 1."

Water Funds Boosted Presenting the outlook for FSA's program for the new fiscal year, Duffy reported that congress had completed action on department of agriculture appropriations and funds for next year will be about the same as this year except for a substantial increase in water facilities money. Water loans are particularly important in this section of Idaho in view of the fact money for this program was exhausted early this spring.

"Every effort will be made during the coming year to meet the needs of all qualified veterans who can find good farms for lease or sale and need capital goods and management assistance to get started on a sound basis," Duffy pointed out. "Our second major responsibility is the suits a 'political move'."

County Seen As No. 1 State Medical Center

"I see no reason why this county couldn't become the most important medical area in Idaho," Alan Fisher, architect, representing the firm of Fisher and Fisher, Denver, said Wednesday morning after having completed a survey of the county's general hospital.

He recommended construction of a new hospital building at Twin Falls. The clinic to be established in this city by six local doctors will also spur realization of the possibility that this county would become the state's top medical center, he said.

Fisher arrived here Tuesday and began the hospital survey for the county. Purpose of the study was to determine the extent to which the present hospital's present facilities might be used in contemplated establishment of modern hospital facilities here.

The architect also conferred Tuesday with the clinic staff, Dr. Joseph W. Marshall, one of six clinic physicians.

In his report, to be submitted to county officials in about two weeks, the Denver man will recommend that the present hospital's equipment might be used for the new structure. But he added that the old building should not be a part of the new hospital. "The former could be converted into a health center," he said.

He visited the Buhl area Wednesday and studied the section and the relationship between the town and Twin Falls. Accompanying him were Charles (Chick) Crabtree, and C. D. Hatt, members of the local home and hospital association. This group has tried to aid planning for expansion of hospital facilities here.

In his report the hospital expert will outline how the county's general hospital might be used in the new structure. He also will outline the advisability of establishing also of a smaller hospital building. (Staff photo—grazing)

American Scientists Sent Note to Nagasaki With Second Atom Bomb

By TOM L. SHAFER
Copyright, 1946, by NEA Service, Inc.

TOKYO, June 27 (NEA)—A few minutes after Nagasaki was rocked by the second atomic bombing of Japan, an unsigned, handwritten letter to Japan's leading nuclear physicist flooded down on Omura.

The mission of the pencilled note was to urge the Japanese scientist to surrender the general staff to surrender, but he did not receive it until early October; by then, the war was hardly being fought.

Now the U. S. is preparing to drop the world's third atomic bomb at Nagasaki. On Sunday afternoon, U. S. time.

Reveals Note Existence of the letter was revealed by the man to whom it was addressed—Prof. Ryotachi Sagané of the University of Nagasaki. He turned the matter over to Dr. Wilson Compton of the American education mission in Japan. Dr. Compton has taken the letter back to the United States and gave it to his brother, Dr. E. T. Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who played a prominent role in the atomic drama.

Professor Sagané said the letter was found by a Japanese naval officer at Omura, not far from Nagasaki. It was found in a box of a four-foot aluminum tube which contained, besides the letter, an oscillator designed to record pressure waves set off by the atomic bomb.

Note Dropped Although the unique method of "mailing" did not bring the letter to Professor Sagané until long after it was dropped, it apparently drew the curiosity of Japanese high officials; when he finally received it, the letter was given him by Vice Admiral Nakamura, who was in the top echelon of naval command.

Sagané, who was in another part of Japan when the letter—and the atomic bomb—were delivered, said the copy of the letter were dropped, since the one he received was in Japanese. But he never received any other.

The letter was headed as coming from "one of your former scientific colleagues during your stay in the United States." Sagané, speculating on the authorship, recalled several prominent American physicists with whom he became acquainted during the year he spent studying cyclotrons at the radiation laboratory of Dr. P. A. B. He thought of a Dr. Serber and a Dr. Louis Alvarez, among others.

Dr. Serber, who was at Los Alamos, and Dr. E. T. Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who played a prominent role in the atomic drama.

Headquarters Atomic Bomb Command August 9, 1945

To: The Honorable S. Sagané From: The Honorable S. Sagané

We are sending this as a personal message to urge that you as a person of science and humanity, as a physicist, to convince the Japanese general staff of the terrible consequences which will be suffered by your people if you continue in this war.

You have known for several years that an atomic bomb could be built if a nation were willing to pay the enormous cost of preparing the necessary material. Now that you are aware of the consequences of the production of this war, there can be no doubt in your mind that all the output of these factories will be used in a day, will be expended on your homeland.

Within the space of three weeks, we have prepared one bomb in the American desert, exploded one in Hiroshima, and fired the third in Nagasaki.

We intend you to confirm these facts to your leaders and to do your utmost to stop the destruction and suffering which will be suffered by your people if you continue in this war.

We intend you to confirm these facts to your leaders and to do your utmost to stop the destruction and suffering which will be suffered by your people if you continue in this war.

Japan, Nazis Disclosed As Not Friendly

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—Hitlerite secret German documents seized at the end of the war revealed today that Japan and Germany were far from friendly allies. They quarreled about political policies, economic aid to each other, and military strategy.

Failed Attack on Reds
Germany wanted Japan to attack Russia and meet her midway in Siberia in the fall of 1941, Japan attacked Pearl Harbor and blasted Nazi hopes of keeping the U. S. out of the war.

These facts are revealed in a series of German documents on Japanese relations now being made public by the state department as they are analyzed. The latest documents revealed:

1. The grandiose plan for a Japanese attack on the United States in the summer of 1941—before Pearl Harbor—was abandoned because of a sudden change of mind.

2. Japan delivered an "earnest protest" to Germany on Aug. 23, 1939, against the signing of the Nazi-Soviet pact, claiming it was in contradiction to the secret annex of the anti-comintern pact.

3. The Japanese ambassador in Berlin double-crossed his own government by not formally placing its protest before the Nazi foreign office when the latter informed him that the annex would be "disregarded."

4. The Nazi foreign office met Japan's demand in June, 1940, after the fall of France, for help in getting Japanese control of Indo-China with a bill of particulars citing Japan's failure to cooperate with the Nazis.

New Head for GOP Seen in State Meeting

BOISE, June 27 (AP)—There were increasing indications today that a new state chairman may be chosen when the party regulars and delegates to the Idaho state platform Saturday at its bi-annual convention in Pocatello.

Incumbent Rellie Atkinson, Boise businessman, has not made any announcement of his plans but there were several factors that tended to indicate some one other than Atkinson would be selected.

The significant reason appeared to be the fact that the supporters of Dr. C. A. Robins, the party's gubernatorial candidate, feel a "debt of gratitude" to William Deweller, Twin Falls, the 1944 GOP nominee for governor.

The "debt of gratitude" resulted from Deweller not opposing Robins in the primary. One Robins supporter put it this way: "Deweller could really have muscled things up if he had run."

Deweller is considered at odds with Atkinson because Atkinson represents the group that forced out S. L. (Vern) Thorpe, Jerome, a party chairman, Thorpe was Deweller's choice as chairman.

Political observers noted that while the Robins-for-governor committee would not necessarily let Deweller's wishes prevail in the selection of a chairman, neither would the Robins group permit Atkinson's reelection—a move that would antagonize Deweller.

The choice of a successor to Atkinson is expected to be agreed to long before the actual vote takes place at Saturday's convention. There is no expected to be a floor fight.

Several possible candidates for the chairmanship have been mentioned. Lloyd Neale, Twin Falls, member of the state tax commission, appears to have strong support in the Robins group. He would be acceptable also to Deweller, it is generally agreed.

L. F. Hagler, Halley, a Blaine county state senator, is also mentioned frequently. He was chairman of the Robins-for-governor committee, the group that "drafted" Robins for the gubernatorial nomination.

Legion Opposing GI Benefits for Merchant Sailor

The American Legion will oppose a congressional bill to provide benefits to the merchant marine which equal or exceed those of veterans. It is the latest of a series of similar bills introduced by Senator Charles McNary, Oregon, which the Legion opposes.

The Legion does not consider merchant sailors as veterans. It claims that the merchant sailor is not a member of the armed forces and that the merchant sailor is not a member of the armed forces and that the merchant sailor is not a member of the armed forces.

Swim claimed merchant seamen received "big pay" were not subject to military discipline. The latest document said the Legion's national executive committee at Indianapolis, Ind., heard of one case where the civilian crew of a vessel received more wages than the naval officer in charge of the ship's entire defense armament.

Cowboys Divide Double Bill With Ogden But Lengthen Lead As Cards Down Bees

By GEORGE F. REEDMUND
Times-News Sports Editor

The Pocatello Cardinals, who were the Twin Falls Cowboys' "cousins" early in the season, became their "sweethearts" today—and that even goes for second baseman Billy Hemm, the feeder.

The Cowboys left Ogden last night, after winning 9-5, and today, in the double-bill opening their six-game series with the Ogden Reds believing they had lost the Pioneer league lead, which they have held since last night, only to learn half-hour later, via the Times-News, that Pocatello by a rally in the ninth had beaten the second-place Bees, 7-6. And it was the hated Hemm who scored the important run. This meant that the Wranglers' leadership, which had been by four points before the double-header, was now a half game.

This should furnish the incentive for the Cowboys for the victory tonight when they face the Cincinnati Reds' farm club in the third game of the series. Willie Greer, Frank Prowse—Manager Earl Boyd—could say which team they would counter with Schneider, of whom the Wranglers have little fear.

1355 See Twin Bill

That the 1355 fans, who welcomed the Cowboys home from their long road trip, did not see them increase that lead to a game and a half, was because of a losing Lew, a pitcher who hurled one-hit ball to beat a team of nine batters in the second inning. But this was nothing new to Mr. Lew. He was the last time slugged Jimmie's early season winning streak by tossing another shutout at the Wranglers.

Lew was as solid by Greer's Schmees—a great name for a future Red Sox as added by Greer's Schmees—who caught hold of one of "Good Old" Sam Djanich's off-bat and platters it over the deepest part of the center field wall for what proved the winning run in the second inning.

Unlucky Break

Sam's mates tried hard to get back the run for him, but Mr. Lew was master with the aid of an unlucky break on a decision which might have allowed Greer's Cowboys to count with the tying run in the third frame. With two down, Greer walked, took a lead on a delayed steal and went to third when first-sacker Long threw wildly to second. Radtke, noting that the third baseman was playing back, dumped a ball in that direction and it looked like he had safely into first as Greer crossed the plate, but the umpire saw otherwise.

In the fifth, Olney Patterson got the only hit made off Lew and sent to third when catcher threw wildly to second on his steal, but the next two batters went down. Greer walked and also got to second on Radtke's sacrifice in the eighth, but two more batters were unable to connect with Lew.

Brilliant Play

Lewyer also came up with the most brilliant play of the evening after the seventh. In the seventh inning after the seventh hit out McWilliams down at third as Greer tried to make a shoestring catch of Montana's low liner.

With Bob Wittig, the little southpaw on the hill and gaining his third straight victory, the Cowboys led 1-0, somewhat easily winning the opener. They went to work on Ray Blomker in the very first inning and chased him off the hill in favor of a Mr. Krauthammer—another name had whose name had been in front of him to Cincinnati.

Lewyer opened the attack with a bloop ball. Radtke then hit a blooper double over second base and that always means a run for the Cowboys with Greer on the plate. Patterson then singled to left and Greer walked and also got to second for allowing Babe Jensen a single, stopped the uprising.

That is he did until the second inning when the Cowboys chased away three more runs. The walk-off, Radtke singled and Heisel walked to fill the base, which Lowee scored with a double.

The Bees had counted one run in the second inning on successive doubles by Schmees and Robb, and then in the third came back with four more. Krauthammer walked, McWilliams fled to center and the pitcher was forced by Montana. But Robb singled, went to second on a passed ball, Schmees and Pawlick walked to fill the base and the trio scored home on successive singles by Robb and Larsen.

That finished the Bees for the evening. However, the Cowboys added a run to their total in the fourth. Heisel walked and went to third on Lowee's single. After Heisel was caught off third by a hidden ball trick, Lowee, Robb and Blomker brought him home with a hit-and-run single.

A walk to Blomker, Jensen's infield out and Wittig's single produced the Bees' final run in the seventh.

Between the games the crowd stood in one minute's tribute to the nine Spokane Western International league players who were killed in the last accident Monday.

The umpires failed to arrive on time and Cowboy catcher Harry Blomker and Red hurler Earl Boyd, who had been in the game, were not on the bases, respectively, during the first game. Umpires Bostwick and Bates took over for the second encounter.

Babe, Patty Win

DEER MOUNTAIN, June 27 (AP)—The track racing favorites defending champion Babe Dickinson Zahler and her partner Patty Berg yesterday handled the easiest and toughest leads respectively as eight survivors bounced into the quarter-final round of the women's open golf tournament at Watoudu.

Plan Tourney

Plans for a Magic Valley tournament will be made at a meeting of the Twin Falls Softball association at the Pocatello National Insurance company building at 7:30 p. m. today. Ron Wallie, the association president, said.

He asks all managers to attend the meeting.
