

Uncle Sam Sparing No Expense to Assure Ringside Seat for You at Atom Bomb Test

By S. BURTON BEATH
EN ROUTE TO BIKINI, June 28 (AP)—When a Nagasaki-type atom bomb bursts over the battle-scarred dreadnaught Nevada early in July, you and your wife and all your children are going to have almost risible seats for the historic occasion.

Obviously even our great navy could not transport 140 million Americans to the Marshall for a month's visit. But short of that, Uncle Sam has spared no pains to see that his tax-paying nieces and nephews here, read just as everything concerning the A-bomb tests that they possibly can understand and appreciate.

With luck you can actually hear the bomb explode, by listening to the radio. No, you can't see the reverberations have ceased, then you will be able to hear a radio announcer, representing all networks, describing what he sees from a Superfort high above the bomb target.

The Times-News will have full accounts of the history of the fact that more than 115 trained reporters have been able to see for themselves the bomb in the time available from naval, military and civilian experts. Meanwhile moving pictures taken from every conceivable distance and angle, at high low and normal speeds, covering every phase of the bombing and its aftermath—by service photographers, newsreel cameramen, motion picture operators—will be rushing by fast plane to the States for processing, review, and release of the usable portions to your favorite movie theaters.

There isn't anything that radio, newsreels, or motion pictures can't do. The photographer can picture, without being blown up along with the bomb, either in person or on the television screen on the press ship, that won't be moved along to you at once.

Picture, still and moving, will be released only to the trained agents of any foreign power, but by comparison, foreign agents won't be willing to forgo others to know at the time. You won't be told or shown everything. Certain facts will be withheld.

Eye for Atom Bomb Test

A few of the million photographs to be taken within 30 seconds of the big bomb at Bikini will be made with this 200-pound "Big Bertha" camera. It took three men to install it in this converted C-54 photo plane.

held, from the reporters and from you on the ground of national security. But now facts will be about things that you couldn't understand if they were told to you, unless you are a highly trained scientist.

In this party, bound from Washington to the Marshall Islands, are about 20 reporters, magazine writers, radio men, still and movie photographers, heading for Bikini to make sure that the A-bomb tests will be the most completely reported single episode in scientific history.

We are due at Bikini June 29. We have been promised that we shall be by photoelectric cells that will respond to the flash of the explosion. Vice-Adm. W. H. P. Blandy, task force commander, said that a million pictures will be taken with 30 seconds of the explosion. That number seems high. But there will be a lot more pictures than that person would care to look at.

As soon as the smoke dust begins to dissipate, photoelectric lenses and small water craft will approach the target with optical devices to test for lethal rays and other dangers. When it seems reasonably safe, scientists will fly over the spot with balloons with testing devices. As soon as they give their okay your reporters are to be put about small craft, taken around the lagoon to see the damage, and then taken aboard one of the target craft still aloft.

These precautions have not been made for the gratification of reporters and photographers, but to give them every feasible opportunity to tell the world public about everything that can be seen at the spot.

You won't get the whole scientific story of the bombing at this time. Some experts say that it may be years before all the data that will be recorded by thousands of ultra-modern instruments, and that will be gathered by tests on the target ships and islands, and the analyzed contents, can be completely analyzed and assessed.

When M. Hour counter, the instant of the blast-camera will click all over the place—cameras in a photographic plane, cameras in pilotless planes that will be sent right into the heart of the explosion cloud, cameras in high towers on Kwajalein and a two others outside Hawaii. Many will be manned by photographers, but probably they will be operated either by radio or

Radio to Carry Atom Explosion

NEW YORK, June 28 (AP)—Anyone who'd like to hear an atom bomb go off can do so Sunday—by tuning on a radio provided for operation "crossroads" not delayed by unfavorable weather.

All major networks are set to pool their facilities and personnel for a broadcast from Bikini, with beginning at 2 p. m. (MST), which will include eye-witness accounts, interviews with scientists and military men, and voices of crewmen aboard the bombing planes and the blast of the bomb itself.

FSA Speaker Predicts Jump in Vet Loans

An increase in the number of farm security administration loans for Idaho veterans was forecast Friday by Howard Bertsch, Portland regional farm security speaker, in an address before the district FSA conference here.

Bertsch said that 50 to 60 veterans have obtained FSA loans already and that the recent trend in FSA policy seems to be to encourage veteran loans.

"Farmers can support a debt of about 50 per cent of the value of the FSA is completed to grant 100 per cent loans," Bertsch declared. "I mean that the farm area are corrected."

Bertsch stressed the necessity of accurate and thorough planning of the organization's $60,000 membership to compensate for the 25 per cent jump.

"The whole program will fold unless this planning and supervision is done," he asserted.

Bertsch explained the administration of the Bankhead-Jones act of 1937 and that the main objective of the farm security administration is to make farm owners out of farm tenants.

Bedford Bids, Portland, regional director, said that the value of the morning session of the conference was emphasized the necessity of health, and that the farm security income and curtailment center.

The conference which attracted delegates from 19 FSA offices in Idaho, Idaho continues Friday afternoon.

Sizzling Grease Blazes up at Cafe

First the sizzling in the ceiling from grease that boiled over in the kitchen of S. & M. Cafe, 102 Main avenue, north, then the sizzling in the ventilating system and interior of the rear of the structure shortly before four noon.

Using chemicals and water, Twin Falls city firemen brought the blaze under control, but heavy special damage resulted. In its early stages the blaze caused heavy damage to the rear of the structure shortly before four noon.

The management indicated that the cafe will not close and will be repaired as quickly as possible. The damage was covered by insurance.

In approaching the fire through the rear of the structure, the firemen found the rear of the structure of parked trucks and city police are citing drivers of these vehicles to appear in court.

Brush Fire Burns Area Near Nevada

BURLEY, June 28—A range fire which burned several acres of brush and timber country and just east of the Nevada border has been extinguished, Ralph Anderson, Burley, grading service supervisor, said today.

Union Pacific railroad station crews helped put out the blaze. The land burned was on the railroad right-of-way.

D. T. Strong reported the fire Thursday afternoon to W. W. Loxery, Twin Falls county sheriff, adding that it was near an underground oil well.

Over 600 Signed For Kids Parade

More than 600 youngsters have been signed up for the "kid's parade" to be sponsored by the Elks lodge at 10 a. m. July 3, Bill Polson, city recreation director, announced Friday.

Forty-two Twin Falls business firms have entered floats in the parade and several organizations of youngsters will march in a body.

Efforts are being made to have at least 1,000 children participate in the event, Polson said.

RECRUITER AT SHOSHONE

Recruiter Ted Leland, Twin Falls, reported to county treasurer, will be in Shoshone Saturday between 2 p. m. and 4 p. m. to recruit for the Elks lodge.

President Warned OPA Dies Sunday If Bill Not Signed

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—Congressional leaders told President Truman today that if he does not sign the compromise OPA bill price controls will die Sunday.

Democratic Leader Barkley, Ky., told reporters after a White House conference that the majority leaders were unanimous in telling Mr. Truman that it is "all or nothing" so far as the bill now pending before the senate is concerned.

Barkley said he, Speaker Rayburn, House Majority Leader McCormack and Senator McKellar, D. Tenn., told the President that no simple resolution continuing present OPA powers even temporarily could gain approval of congress in the event of a veto of the compromise bill.

Those who saw the President said he did not commit himself. They told the President, Barkley said, that any such resolution would be "loaded down" with the same sort of amendments—or possibly more drastic ones—than are attached to the compromise measure, which the house has approved.

Barkley predicted the senate will pass this bill by mid-afternoon.

Only three senators were on hand when the senate met at 11 a. m. so far today. They were McKellar, D. Tenn., chairman of the committee on Banking, Currency and Finance, and White of Maine, the Republican leader.

There was no sign of Senator O'Daniel, D. Tex., who talked for eight hours yesterday and last night against the bill.

Under Compromise

Barkley said that President Truman is under compulsion to act one way or another on it before Sunday night, when the existing law expires.

We told the President this is the best bill we can get out of congress now and it is either take it or nothing, the Kentucky said. "Even if it had nothing to it but rent controls, it would be worth signing."

With all senators limited to one hour of speaking time, Senator O'Daniel, D. Tex., claimed the first 60 minutes to develop this bill. "The farmers under this bill are the worst of this administration. It will sentence 300,000 farmers to remain for another year at least the economic gains of the government."

Trade sources estimated that more than 100,000 hogs and 50,000 to 75,000 cattle were being held on midwestern farms, while farmers waited to see what was to happen to price controls.

Solon Lashes Fund Vote As Slap at Reds

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—Deploping the action as a "disgraceful slap at Russia," Sen. Clarence Cannon, D. Mo., appealed to the house today to reverse its vote putting a "no new money" tag on future UNRRA relief.

The appropriations committee chairman said he was "hopeful" that on a roll call vote the house might nullify the top-heavy standing order of 194 to 53 by which it directed yesterday that none of a new $450,000,000 UNRRA fund be spent in countries denying American correspondence free access to UNRRA news.

The issue started to come to a head rapidly after President Truman reported to congress Tuesday that all nations receiving UNRRA aid, except the Soviet republics of Ukraine and Byelorussia, have made "satisfactory arrangements" for unencumbered transportation of UNRRA operations.

She's a Riot!

And a philosopher, too...

Not in years has an intermarriage columnist, much less one from Idaho, emerged with half the humor, philosophy and down-to-earth viewpoint of

INEZ PUCKETT McEWEN who will write "Life in Magic Valley"

It will be a weekly column each Sunday starting with the 1946-47 season. Inez Pucket McEwen became a booster for "Puck" just as we did when this versatile show Idahoan sent us a few samples. A resident of Twin Falls, Inez Pucket McEwen came to Twin Falls with her family in 1908 and was graduated from Twin Falls schools. She received her B. A. degree at the University of Southern California, and her master's degree at Scripps College, La Jolla (1922).

She has spent 34 years in educational and journalistic work in California but has always been a ranch in Idaho. Her plans came true in 1943 when she and her husband moved to a north side ranch.

McEwen spent two years taking notes and preparing her first Idaho book which will be published this fall. It is a collection of Idaho stories and contains episodes about Twin Falls, the north side ranch, and the life of the people who live there.

Negro Voting Issue—Flares

JACKSON, Miss., June 28 (AP)—The state of Mississippi, with a population almost half Negro, is in a hot contest at the polls since the U. S. supreme court ruled unequivocally that Negroes could vote in all states.

The contest held Tuesday features the effort of Theodore G. Bilbo, outspoken advocate of white supremacy to obtain his third democratic nomination to the senate—the equivalent of election in this one-party state.

Bilbo has defied the federal government to back the justice department's announcement that it will enforce the Negro's right to vote. He has called upon "all red-blooded Anglo-Saxons" to prevent Negro voting, and has offered his "legal services to anyone who gets in trouble."

Actually the Negro can form only a small percentage of perhaps 200,000 ballots expected to be cast Tuesday. Although there are more than a million Negroes in Mississippi—42 per cent of the population according to the last census—very few have registered.

Kansas City Has Plenty of Butter; Shortages Spotted

NEW YORK, June 28 (AP)—Would you like to be able to walk into a store and buy butter without giving up a transaction, a second thought? Well, go to Kansas City.

It is a big city of rice you are sure, look some place other than the chief rice producing state of Louisiana.

There were only a few of the oddities that came out of an Associated Press survey by key cities across and up and down the country of consumer items that are scarce in one place and available in another, due sometimes to a lack of transportation, sometimes to a lack of storage facilities, and sometimes to a lack of distribution.

Bread, butter and beef shortages were reported with great regularity, but with a few breaks showing here and there. Shortages of meat, milk and white shirts was almost invariable.

The scarcity list was long. But if a consumer had a magic carpet, a lot of luck and plenty of perseverance, the survey indicated he could come out of a nationwide buying spree with just about everything he wanted.

Take white shirts. Toledo, Ohio, reported that more of these sought-after articles were in the last month than in the first three months of this year put together. Philadelphia continued continually that one time or another there were a "few available." Many department store in New York recently advertised 20,000 white shirts at $4.98 on a holiday week-end.

Some of the nylon lines are shorter, although signs in evidence in many cities.

Other items of women's wear were listed as scarce in many cities. From Columbus came word that "women's apparel is available in abundance—except for lace."

The same Ohio city added that housewives recently were limited to a quarter of a pound of butter a week and grocers were rationing bread at one loaf to a customer. Report often duplicated elsewhere.

Automobiles. They are still hard to get, but Detroit again reported. (Continued on Page 2, Column 3)

Jerome Driver Charged With Manslaughter

EDEN, June 28—A felony charge, involuntary manslaughter, was filed Thursday against Sam Hansen, 56, a driver involved in a fatal crash in a Jerome county highway crash which resulted in two dead and four injured.

Hansen was arraigned at 2 p. m. Thursday in court of Ed W. Little, Eden justice of the peace, and will receive preliminary hearing. He was charged with manslaughter in the crash during the fall term.

Hansen is expected to furnish $500 bond for his release. He is the son of Lee S. Johnson, Jerome county sheriff. Hansen was not represented by an attorney at the arraignment.

County sheriff's manslaughter papers were drawn up by Richard Seely, Jerome county prosecuting attorney, and the complaint was signed by Johnson, Seely and Johnson, who conducted an investigation into the crash.

He was accompanied in court by son, Clyde Hansen, Jr. (Continued on Page 2, Column 3)

FLASHES OF LIFE

SAVED SPOKANE, Wash., June 28—Police arrived at the scene of a traffic accident and found a young woman unresponsively administering "first aid" to the male victim.

"I've got the pressure points," she declared, pointing to the man's clothing, well ripped up to reveal spots where pressure would halt any bleeding.

Rushed to emergency hospital, the victim was found to have suffered only a slight bump on his head and a scratch on his nose.

MISTAKE EVANSTON, Ill., June 28—Policeman Henry Rumsfeld was without his motorcycle today because he parked it behind an automobile while writing out a ticket for a motorist who drove through a stop sign.

After getting the ticket, the motorist started the car but it was in a vise and it backed over Rumsfeld's motorcycle, wrecking it. The driver pleaded that the car shifter stuck. Rumsfeld couldn't find any violation in his book to cover faulty car shifters, so the motorist was released, but told to appear in court Monday.

BRAZEN MILWAUKEE, Ill., June 28—Police are hunting for the hunky and noisy bundle who broke into a chain food store in the early morning hours. They carried a heavy safe up to a third floor glass window and let it drop to the street.

The Picture Proves It—See?

If Sheriff W. W. Lowery told you he had one of those man-hating Brahmins built, eating out of his hand, you might not believe him; but here's the proof. The bull is one of the string provided by R. A. Richter. He was shot in the July 44 rodeo in Twin Falls. Funding arrival of Richter, Sheriff Lowery said he had been told by the rodeo promoter and Twin Falls President that the Brahmin was a member of the mounted press and that he was a Brahmin. He decided to get down into the pen with the bull, and nearly fell off the fence when one came up and started to eat out of his hand. (Photo by John Brown—staff engraving)

Kansas Butter Supply Ample In Shortages

that buyers in that area were getting a break at least in supply was stocks and automobiles. Many are stored in that area.
In San Francisco, one grocer reported he has more than 1,000 items of foodstuffs, including milk, milk, soups, corn, sugar, syrup, gelatin, puddings and soups and condiments, principal shortages, along with scores of minor ones.
Cooking oil, soap, ketchup, flour, tomato sauce, macaroni, and a long list of other items were described as short in some of the 15 Southern cities. While others indicated they could be found with a bit of searching.
The supply of men's suits appeared to be limited almost everywhere. In many places, however, were a bottleneck. New Orleans, a warm weather city, showed a shortage of summer suits, particularly in the window shoppers in New York could see them by the score.

Device Ready To Get Speed Of Atom Wave

By HOWARD HAKESLEE
ABOARD USS APOLACHIAN, June 28 (AP)—Like catching the photo finish of a close race, a device will set up the speed of the atom wave set up when the atomic bomb explodes. It is one of a number of ingenious devices for recording effects of the blast.

The explosion is scheduled for Monday, July 1, 10:01 a.m. (Sun-day, June 30, eastern standard time), but it was feared that the unfavorable weather, if it continued into mid-August, might cause postponement of the first test until next year.

Speedy Start
The shock wave a wall of compressed air, starts out from the bomb at a speed estimated at possibly 1,500 miles an hour. It shows up rapidly, but in the first mile it is a wall of air and it is not until it is about 10 miles out that it begins to take the form of a shock wave.

Scientists want to know about this speed at all possible distances, but the shock wave is invisible except from the air, where it looks like a gigantic expanding soap bubble.

Explosives Used
To clock the blast, the flash is set up, triggered so that the shock itself will explode them. These explosives take place inside tubes filled with argon gas, which quickly quenches the flash so that despite the speed of the shock wave each flash is separate and distinct to the eye of the photo finish camera.

Scores of other instruments will try to beat the atomic push by leaving a permanent record before they are destroyed. And many others not destroyed will remain in place to tell what happened to the target ships. Ships that may remain intact will have on their plates, decks, rooms and holds records of every strain they took and of every major vibration felt.

Gooding Demos Elect Committee Officers
GOODING, June 28—Everett Deimler was selected chairman of the Gooding county committee for Gooding county at a meeting at the Gooding courthouse. Deimler has served in that office for the past two years.

Claude Drake was elected vice-chairman; Glen Hudson, secretary; Mrs. Carl King, state committeewoman, and Warren Thornton, state committeeman.

FORMER RESIDENT VISITS
HAILEY, June 28—Russell Eastwood, former resident attaché, held a party at his home for a number of friends. He is now in the west before leaving for home.

ORGANIZE 4-H CLUB
PAUL, June 28—County Agent C. W. Deigh met with Mrs. A. C. Clark and Mrs. Bertha Clark to organize a 4-H club for the summer. The club will take in members with four different years' work.

ATTENDS SCHOOL MEET
HAILEY, June 28—Mrs. Ruth Bergin, Blaine county superintendent of schools, has gone to Moscow where she attended the annual convention of county school superintendents.

Congress Has Reversal for Walkout Bill

By MAX HALL
WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—President Truman's emergency anti-strike bill, which congress cheered only a month ago, now appears to be unloved, unwanted, and unlikely to succeed.

Administration leaders are not pushing it, though President Truman again formally asked for it on June 15.

The lack of steam behind the measure has been widely noted on Capitol Hill.

The fact is congress has experienced one of the biggest reversals of sentiment in its recent history. On May 25 the house passed the emergency bill by a vote of 300 to 13. On June 1 the senate passed it, with certain changes, by a vote of 81 to 20.

Today it was on Speaker Sam Rayburn's desk and no one had yet voted to fight for it further.

Why the sudden change?
1. The heat's off. There are no major strikes.
2. Administration leaders in congressional circles are not pushing it.

grass have become noticeably silent about the bill.
3. Those in congress who had hoped to attach to this measure certain provisions of the Case bill—which was vetoed by the President—have not been able to agree on how to proceed.
4. A great many lawmakers have an idea it would be better not to have any more pro-labor, anti-labor fights until the congressional elections are over.

Mrs. J. Peterson Honored at Rites

WENDELL, June 28—Funeral services for Mrs. J. P. Peterson were held at the Methodist church with the Rev. James Summerton officiating. Music was provided by Mrs. Roy and Buck and the Gophers.

Harvey Beat, Clarence Boyd, John Reddick, H. W. King and Roy Min-tun.
Mrs. Peterson was born in Denmark in 1880. She and her husband came to Wendell in 1917 from Portland, Ore. She was a resident of Gooding county for 27 years.

In addition to her husband, survivors include two sons, Rodney L. Peterson, Minneapolis, Minn.; Kenneth W. Peterson, Gooding; the daughter, Mrs. Russell King-Wendell, three sisters, Mrs. Beth Boy-sen, Twin Falls; Mrs. Ella B. Olson, San Diego, Calif.; Mrs. James Berg-strom, Cedar Falls, Ia., and four grandsons.
Interment was in Wendell cemetery with the Rev. Oscar Amos officiating at the graveside rites.
