BURLEY, July 19.—Not an inch in the area is escaping the vigorous campaign to exterminate the tuber moth infestation here which threatens Idaho's $35,000,000 a year potato industry. Wilson Kellogg, acting director of the bureau of animal industry, said this noon that what it is too early to learn results of the land and air spraying of 5,000 pounds of DDT rushed into the area, the insecticide was "thorough."

Three planes from the Beechey Flying service, Twin Falls, were during a rush of thirty or more this morning. Four power sprayers from Caldwell, Burley and Twin Falls are being used in a thorough spraying. Gene Fraehner, associated with the state agriculture department and in charge of the work, said, reported.

Work from the Boger brothers processing plant where the moth was discovered Sunday, the crew is spraying all warehouses, streets, railroad track, switch yards and any weeds lurking in the area. Kellogg said that in a one mile area from the plant will also be sprayed and that the spraying will continue Saturday and Sunday. Kellogg said that other men from the Boger brothers are here helping in the campaign inside Dr. H. C. Marks and Dr. W. D. Campbell.

Senate Fails to Agree on Revival Bill

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—Democratic Leader Barkley, Ky., said today a senate-house conference committee had found "no common ground" for agreement on the terms of an OPA revival bill. "It doesn't look so good," Barkley told reporters, when a asked about chances of an agreement on the senate-approved measure which administration leaders said would meet objections of President Truman.

Barkley said a proposal drafted by a subcommittee headed by Senator Radcliffe, D., Md., to provide for the restoration of price ceilings on major items exemplified by the senate was in such "rough form" that the committee made no progress in considering it.

He hinted at a possible compromise by which the decision on returning commodities to OPA control might be given to the civilian production administration. He said this would eliminate contentions that the OPA would be arbitrary in its decisions.

The prospects for an OPA revival hit a new low as the CIO called for a national buyers' strike and new round of wage increases.

Chairman Spence, D., Ky., of the senate banking committee told newsmen "the prospects are dark for the restoration of effective price controls."

His comment came after senate members of the committee rejected a house proposal to revise the anti-trust bills on any future ceilings for such material market baskets.

Meanwhile, the house agreed—on reservations—to a senate plan against use of any OPA funds for "propaganda" in support of price controls.

The action was by voice vote on a senate amendment to a deficiency bill carrying funds for OPA and other government agencies for the year that started July 1.

The house voted to limit the prohibition to propaganda in support of price controls generally but removed the inhibition against any actual price control program.

Meanwhile, top leaders laid aside their "planks" for the day being today in favor of other means to push price down.

The CIO, pointing to rising living costs, said a round of wage increases was being today in favor of other means to push price down.

President Truman called a labor-management-government conference to discuss the situation and to stabilize the national economy.

This position, plus a pledge from the OPA, President Philip Murray said his unions will respect existing contracts and will not demand more money.

He said after a meeting of the CIO's executive board.

No Strike of Buyers Here; Prices Stable

No buyers strike has developed in Twin Falls, although the eastern part of the country is being plagued by a series of consumers' reactions against increased prices. A Times-News survey of local merchants showed stability.

Most merchants declared that no buyers strike is evident here because very few price increases have been made. Merchants said that price increases have been made on a few individual items but that the majority of the prices have remained the same as during the reign of OPA.

Probably the closest thing to a buyers strike here is the threat of a buyers strike by the eastern part of the country. The threat of meat and more hamburger, once again, has been made. But no meat and hamburger on their menus for meat and chops.

Clubmen Urge Expansion of Fish Hatchery

SHOSHONE, July 19.—Recommendation of a $50,000 program to increase the production of the Shoshone fish hatchery is being considered by the Shoshone Board of Fish and Game.

The proposed hatchery would provide for 5,000,000 fish annually in place of the present 1,000,000. The production will be completed for presentation to the club and then will be sent to federal authorities and Idaho senators and congressmen, according to C. C. Martingale, club president.

The construction of a 75-ton capacity cold storage plant was discussed. The $20,000 plant would hold a substantial supply of meat for fish feed and would provide for storage of cans and sugars stored from the Snake river.

Improvements suggested were fences and pipe lines, pump improvement, fish tanks, two dwelling residences and a truck for general use.

Dr. J. E. Potter and John Thomas represented the hatchery planning committee and Howard Adkins the local committee.

Renovate Beds

If you're an old bed in the attic or in the dump, it's time to get rid of it. You don't discard them without giving a little thought to how they can be made to look modern and practical in your home.

You may be dreaming of having a canopy over your bed, and in that case by all means have one, suggests Mary Brooks Picken in her book, "Sewing For the Home." Dress up an old bed by making a framework out of lightweight wood in any shape that you like and attach it in position to the wall above the bed. The canopy lining should be of a color that is right for the room and the bed. It should be with ruffle or drapery before being attached to the wall. A narrow ribbon can be used to streamer the frame under the canopy down to the headboard of the bed, thus tying it all together.

We, the Women

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer
If we get into another war within the next decade, it might be wise to skip the patriotic propaganda about fighting for the American home.

If it is used again, it may get nothing but cynical laughs from the veterans of World War II, the men who came back from a war to save the American home only to discover that it was not their own home they had saved—the men who came home to homelessness.

Too many of these veterans will have memories of living in trailers and homeless huts, or of having to fall back on the generosity of laws in order that their wives and kids might have a place to stay.

Too many of them will have among their survivors' selection none of the materialized landings whose names they saved, delivered a few hours after the death of CPA. These survivors will read in effect: "Get out within 30 or 60 days or action will be brought to remove you from the premises."

Veterans were to have had six weeks grace before eviction, of course. And the "premises" they are being forced to vacate are, of course, the very homes they subsequently went to war to preserve. But the war is over now and with it the patriotic homeism.

If called upon to fight again for the preservation of the American home, the veterans of World War II
