Pearl Harbor Attack Blamed on Military Men by Investigation

WASHINGTON, July 20 (AP)—The American failures which contributed to the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941, were attributed solely to military men today by a majority of the congressional committee which investigated the disaster.

As for the late President Roosevelt and his cabinet, the eight-man majority of the committee said in a lengthy report on its extended inquiry that they "discharged their responsibility with distinction, ability and foresight."

Two Republican committee members, Sen. Brewster, R., Me., and Ferguson, R., Mich., dissented sharply from that finding, however.

Both the majority and minority reports concurred in finding that Adm. Husband E. Kimmel and Lieut. Cdr. Walter C. Short—navy and army commanders in Hawaii at the time the Japanese made an early morning carrier-plane attack on the islands—had not measured up to their assigned responsibilities.

The Japanese attack killed 3,335 Americans and knocked out eight battleships and 10 lesser craft.

In its report, the committee majority held that "the errors made by the Hawaiian commanders were errors of judgment and not derelictions of duty."

Thus, the majority disagreed with a finding of "dereliction of duty" which had been made by a presidential commission, headed by Owen J. Roberts, at that time a supreme court justice, in its investigation within a few weeks after the Japanese attack.

Both the majority and minority reports in their minority report took sharp issue with the majority's contention that Mr. Roosevelt, then president, had handled the situation effectively.

Military Gets Pearl Harbor Attack Blame

Brewster and Ferguson, along with the military, said that a share of the blame for the surprise element in the Pearl Harbor attack must go to the Hawaiian commanders.

In a supplement, Rep. Keefe, R. Wis., expressed his view that the majority report, which he signed, endeavored "to throw as much a fight as possible on the Washington scene." He contended Congress and Admiral Stock each had "failed to exercise the care and diligence which his position required."

Brewster and Ferguson said President Truman put the blame on the day of the inquiry by permitting only committee counsel to obtain documents from documents and barring individual committee members from exploring the files.

The Secretary of the Senate didn't answer all of the questions put to him, adding that he didn't get many newswriters exchanged between President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill.

"The whole question of whether or not it would have been possible to avoid this by more diplomatic action and thus avert the Pearl Harbor tragedy was left largely unanswered," they contended.

Solons Reach Agreement on OPA Revival

the consideration. Previously the house had voted a 40-day extension of the OPA authority which expired July 1 with President Truman's veto of an extension bill.

The senate-house committee also made a minor change in a pricing provision the senate had inserted in the bill as a substitute for the amendment by Senator Taft, R. O., which President Truman had criticized as the "most damaging" of the sections of the original extension bill he vetoed June 20.

As it came out of the conference, this provision still contained discretionary authority for the OPA against which Taft had protested vigorously in the senate. Under it the agency could make "reasonable adjustments" to meet abnormal production. In cases where ceilings were high enough to cover costs, it could refuse to raise them if it would not boost production or would reduce production of other necessary items.

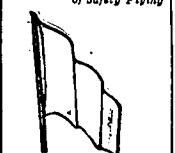

As the compromise proposal now is drawn, it would establish a three-member, nonpartisan board, to be named by the president and confirmed by the senate, which would be empowered to lift ceilings of individual commodities after all had been automatically subjected to controls.

Scouts Ready Kits for Trip To Sawtooth

Most of Magic Valley's Scouts starting out on a week-long camping trip undoubtedly would forget a hair-dressing vital little item that were entirely overlooked until the camping party was high in the mountains. But not the Boy Scouts who are going on the wilderness boys trip Aug. 10 to 17 in the primitive area of the Sawtooths.

A complete list of suggested items has been prepared by Robert W. DeBaur, Boy Scout field executive, that includes everything from whistles, blankets, pins, tinners of mercurial, toilet paper, chloride of lime tablets for water purification, salt tablets and dozens of other items that could be overlooked.

"Why the whistles? Scouts and parents probably will ask DeBaur explained that should a boy stay too far from the rest of the group that a whistle attracts more attention and takes less energy than yelling.

The Scout head also recommended that the boys take along food that is light to carry, such as dried potatoes, fruits and vegetables, milk powder, raisins, bar chocolate, corn meal, spaghetti and noodles. These were recommended because of the heat because the container is too heavy.

DeBaur also recommended that the Scouts take saccharin tablets in place of sugar and reminded the boys not to forget the salt. He pointed out that saccharin is 55 per cent lighter than sugar. High on the list of "things to bring" were extra pairs of wool socks. Down-filled sleeping bags were suggested because they are a lightweight bag and DeBaur suggested that unless tents were light bakers' tents it would be best to leave it home. A shelter half or a light piece of canvas was suggested in case of mountain squalls.

Any first-class Scout or members of Air Scout squadrons or Explorer posts are eligible to attend the pack trip provided they pass a medical examination.

Farm Leaders Have Victory Over Subsidy

WASHINGTON, July 20 (AP)—The end of OPA's farm subsidy has given farm leader critics of these federal support payments a victory for which they have been battling for more than a year.

Much of the criticism which such farm organizations as the National Grange and the American Farm Bureau federation directed at the OPA was not centered so much with price ceilings as with subsidies.

Picture blasted

They contended that the payment of more than $150,000,000 a year in food subsidies from the federal treasury had the effect of giving consumers an "unrealistic" picture of food costs.

The subsidy program had the effect of dividing people's proper bills. The consumer paid only a part of the bill when he bought food. The government paid the rest in the form of subsidies, and then collected it in taxes.

Effects feared

Farm leaders feared that if subsidies became plentiful, farmers would be forced not only to take a cut in prices, but would lose the subsidies as well. They argued that Congress would be unwilling to continue subsidies to help pay food production costs after the war emergency was over.

Since the subsidies expired, there has been arguments as to whether food costs are actually any higher than they were under the OPA, taking subsidies into account.

City Jail Cooks Off Driver Who Resents Ticket

A Wacongan motorist who resented being given a ticket for running a stop sign Friday afternoon narrowly escaped facing a charge of disturbing the peace, Municipal Judge J. O. Humphrey said.

He was Stanley Gorski, who was arrested at 1:30 p. m. after becoming abusive when the traffic citation was made, said Twin Falls city police.

Gorski was "cooled off" in the city jail for a short time. When he appeared in court, he was fined $10 and $3 costs for the traffic violation and released.

Great Dane is a beautiful animal and the envy of everyone on the block. In fact, he's the only dog in the neighborhood with a "no crancy" sign on his doghouse. He says his faults, though. Everytime he brings in the morning paper, he has to say, "Nice doggie, let go." You see, the newsboy is still holding the paper.

Secret Trick Faces Use at Test of Bomb

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
 ABOARD USS APFALCHIAN, July 20 (AP)—Tricks learned in a secret test during the recent war will be used by the navy to submerge empty submarines for the underwater atomic bomb test at Bikini lagoon.

Early in the war, President Roosevelt gave the navy permission to depth bomb and otherwise shoot up three American submarines off Portsmouth, N. H. So the navy knows just how to go about preparing the target subs for the approaching atomic experiment.

Maneuver Net
 First the subs will be taken outside the lagoon and put into deep dives. During these dives, some of the tanks inside the hull, fore and aft, will be filled with water. The maneuver assures that the submarine will be balanced on even keel when under water.

With these tanks filled, the craft will rise to the surface. Crews will run them back into the lagoon and down.

Next, steel bridges will be hung across both bow and stern. To these bridges will be attached 30-ton concrete weights.

As the last step, a submarine rescue ship will attach long hose lines to valves opening tanks of the submarines and let water in. As the water enters, the subs will sink steadily. But at the moment the concrete weights touch bottom, each will be relieved of 60 tons of weight and stop sinking. Then the valves will be closed.

To Surface Subs
 If the submarines are not taken out of the bomb, they will be brought to the surface by the rescue ship. The ship will pump out the water pressure into the water-filled tanks of the subs.

It is predicted that the underwater explosion July 25, Bikini time July 24, U. S. time, may merely blow some submerged subs to the surface, and leave them floating there not too badly damaged.

Float for Beach
 Built by Rotary
 BURLING, July 20—A new float in the Snake river near Rotary beach is being constructed to replace the one that has been in use for the past 16 years. The structure, mounted on steel barrels, will be approximately 12 feet square.

Harvey Stuel, supervisor of summer youth recreation work, and Harold Seeds, chairman of the Red Cross swimming program are in charge of the float construction. The work is being financed by the Rotary club.

It was recommended at the last Rotary session that the beach be closed of all refuse that has been dumped near the swimming spot. The club is continuing its support of the Rotary beach by paying one-half of the life guard's salary.

Members of the youth service and boys work committee headed by the Rev. Father Francis O'Driscoll were announced as Herman King, Harry Harper, LeRoy Piers, Don Chisholm and Ross E. Barney.

A $300 contribution toward improvement and equipment of any recreation area secured for Burling was voted by the Rotarians.

Ladies' Night
 WENDU, July 20—The Wendu Lions club held the annual ladies' night program on the lawn of the city hall. M. L. McBride, president, was in charge. The radio committee reported and refreshments were served.

RECKLESS DRIVING FINE
 HALLLEY, July 20—Reckless driving on Halley street cost Gordon Bes, Triumvir, $25 and costs and his driver's license suspended for three months. He was tried before Probate Judge George A. McLean and arrested by W. D. Martindale, city marshal.

They Sent Butter, Spuds to California

This picture showed the start of a journey which brought all kinds of west coast newspaper publicity this week-end. Directors and the executive secretary of the Rupert Chamber of Commerce pose with potatoes they sent to Whittier, Calif., to the western institute for trade association and commercial project (note the sign). Potatoes, Butter to "Protect" Secretary, Rupert Tells Coast
 RUPERT, July 20—Rupert sent Idaho butter and spuds along with its Chamber of Commerce secretary to "protect" his health" while he is in California by "supplementing" his California diet—or at least that's what a humorous note told Los Angeles and Whittier, Calif., newspapers.

The note, all in fun, said: "Our body, after spending considerable time and money, secured the services of a very efficient as well as handsome executive secretary. Our group, after careful deliberation, with certain reservations voted unanimously to enroll our secretary in the western institute for trade association and commercial project. The institute is located in Whittier, Calif., July 21-28. Said reservations are:

"Inasmuch as so much difficulty was experienced in obtaining this young man from a certain radio corporation, and inasmuch as we are desirous of protecting his health, welfare and good looks of this hard working young man for future service to the biggest little town in Idaho, we humbly beg of you permission to dispatch with him a sufficient quantity of those delicious Idaho potatoes for a dinner some time during the week of the institute. It was signed, 'Rupert Chamber of Commerce'."

The potatoes, 200 pounds of them, were given by Tony Dots and Chris Walters and were secured by Ann Mast and George Zeimetz, farmers. They were not kept in cold storage but a good cellar.

The butter, 20 pounds of it (and that's a gold mine in California), was furnished by the Jerome Cooperative creamery. Incidentally, while Kullion is in California he intends to let the coast know about one of the great projects for former Oia—the Minidoka north side extension project. This irrigation project, on the north side of Snake river in Malheur county, is being backed by the Rupert C. of C. and would provide 7,000 acres of the finest soil in the world for GI homesteading.

The land has been examined and a good portion is identical to the once soil loam on the famed Nile river in Egypt.

WITH JOHN BROSNAN AND LORAYNE ORTON SMITH

THE QUESTION

"What do you think of the hospital situation here?"

THE WINNER

Mrs. V. D. Nelson, 305 Third avenue west, was the 11 award for submitting the question used above. Questions may be submitted by phone, mail or in person for the Thumbnail Forum up to noon Saturdays.

THE PLACE

In the Twin Falls city park.

THE ANSWERS

Mrs. M. C. Elliott, Nampa, the former Media Humphrey who grew up here: "Twin Falls has had swimming pools, parks and playgrounds, but no adequate hospital. I can remember when we lived here that even then there was a need for a better hospital."

MRS. ELLIOTT

Mrs. Ed Crane, who was once paying for her son to go to the pool: "They don't have enough help and some of the help they do have is incompetent because, I think, of the lack of funds and proper management. We surely need a new hospital."

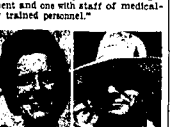

Chester Wrigginton, Buhl farmer attending the Moose convention here: "I don't know what the situation is, but we surely need a new hospital in this county."

WRIGHTON

Mrs. Walter Craig, also accompanying her son to the pool: "The first thing I think of is that we need a brand-new hospital." She added that Twin Falls could well support another hospital in addition to the county one.

Mrs. June R. Thayne, talking her daughter on a stroll through the park: "After being a patient there, I'm sure we need a new hospital free from political management and one with staff of medically trained personnel."

MRS. THAYNE

Frank L. Stern, who works here summers and lives in Preston, Ariz., during the winter: "I think that hospital should be the present hospital. To make it large enough."

Query: Did Taylor And Dworshak Do Some Convinching?

Editor, Times-News:

Did Henry Dworshak and Glen Taylor convince for their 1946 and 1950 election in Washington or was it an underground map for the PAC?

They have nothing in common, except their election. Dworshak is a disciple of the Smoot, Watson and Moses Gang, while Taylor seems to get his democracy by reading Russian newspapers. Taylor quoted Dworshak as saying that as a Republican, Wad Dworshak said Gosssett might get enough conservative votes to defeat him in November.

Did Taylor want Gosssett out of the way, so if Dworshak was defeated in the election Dworshak would be actually bound to support him in 1950?

Why weren't Vardis Fisher and Wladimir Gosssett?

The November election will undoubtedly tell the voters the whole story.

M. J. MIDDLESWORTH (Gooding)

"Pull?"

Editor, Times-News:

The Fourth of July celebration committee seemed to have a great financial pull.

I notice some of the best lumber could be obtained to put on a partial show out north of Twin Falls. I'm just wondering how it all came about.

The commissioners tell us lumber cannot be obtained to fix the South Park bridge.

It just seems as if we have very little brains in Twin Falls.

HERMAN NICE (Filer)

FINED $15

HATLEY, July 20—Arnold Bryson, Paul, was fined $25 and costs by Probate Judge George A. McLeod for tampering with evidence in Paul creek near Carey. He was arrested by conservation officer D. L. Mesinger.

Another factor in this situation is the increased number of hunters that would pour into the hills and drive the sheep away into isolated areas. Inside the actual killing of the animals, the sheep-up in breeding as a result of people invading their haunts would be another point to be considered. I deeply believe that it would be a dark blot on Idaho's record were we to lose this one more step toward complete extermination of these valuable animals.

The Moose, of course, is a much more rugged type of wild life, living more in the lower regions where weather conditions are more conducive to breeding and they can in time be reduced. The sheep is a native of our mountains and their habits offers very little natural protection from predatory animals. Their number is decreasing rapidly and they will soon become extinct. I feel that if the season absolutely must be opened on either moose or sheep, the latter should be exempt because of the greater ease with which it becomes prey to factors that tend to wipe it out.

For one, rest assured, would be deeply grateful for any effort on your part to preserve our remaining moose and sheep and feel that creative energy should be exerted toward the elimination of cougars and other predatory menaces to our wild life.

If you give this letter your favorable consideration.

Move the Fair Out of Filer To Twin Falls, He Advises

Editor, Times-News:

Here it is almost fair to travel. And no road between Twin Falls and Filer.

The road is not fit to travel. Why couldn't that fair be down here, where we have a better location and more convenience? It would be a good time to move it as the old buildings are in bad shape up there and no foundations under them. We people down here have to run it anyway.

There is a beautiful spot on an 80 north of town. It is more central and more people attend from this end of the county than from the west end.

So why not?
Yours on the run.

Spending of Tax Moneys on Weed Sprays "Wrong"

Editor, Times-News:

The weed problem in Twin Falls county has resulted in a lot of hysteria. Spraying of dandelions on lawns has been very effective and city dwellers may think that the farmers' weed problem has been solved too. But not so. Canadian wheat is one of the major weeds and, to date, I don't know of a single case, experimental or otherwise, where Canadian thistle has been effectively treated with those preparations now being used.

Therefore, I consider it wrong that the county, highway districts, and individuals, under pressure from their weed districts, should spend their money on this quick remedy.

It is proper that there be scientific experimenting with any preparation or method that holds out hope, even by individuals of their own free will. But this broadcasting of the people's earnings on something that has been tried and tried, but not proven, is all wrong.

A house for the superintendent of the hospital is a small matter compared with this.
