

Fire Wiling Of Spuds May Aid Producer

The flames that will cover three or four acres of potatoes in the valley of the Snake river, according to Hansen, Butane gas burners under high compression are fastened onto the stems of the potatoes by two men.
The flames are passed quickly over the growing potato plant and it is wilted within five or ten minutes, varying slightly with the weather.
Hansen explained that the toughening of the potato skin by the flames will be beneficial in combating the tuber moth, while the flames will also toughen the skin toughening is done to "protect itself."
The degree of wilt given to the plant is determined by the season and amount of growth of the tuber. Hansen said that the flames will stop further growth of the tuber and bring about immediate maturing of the potatoes. The flames will also hasten the maturing process.
Among the factors to be determined by the experiment are the extent of flame to be used, the degree of toughening of the skin.
Hansen said that on the several plots being tested here, potatoes from the flame-wilted row will be matched with potatoes from two adjacent rows and will be compared by weight, grade and test of the potatoes.
He said that the potato wilting experiments would be continued through this fall. Results of the experiments will be published by the agriculture class in the fall.

Two persons were hospitalized and two others were treated at a physician's office for cuts as result of a collision at 7:30 a. m. Saturday at intersection of U. S. highway 30 and the Rock creek road at Hansen which badly damaged a 1945 Buick sedan, according to Sheriff W. W. Moore, who investigated.

The accident occurred when Mrs. F. H. Dierker, 41, Hansen, entered U. S. highway 30 in a 1935 sedan. Although she halted at the stop sign, evidence was called to see the approaching car driven by Leand Bell, 25, Burley, and struck the side of the other car, a five-passenger coupe.

Sedan Sidswiped

The crash occurred when the front spring of a milk truck, driven by the Clayton, 31, Buhl, broke, and jerked the vehicle to the left, causing it to swerve into the sedan driven by Dr. Melvin A. Drake, Buhl. No one was injured, but the left side of the sedan was badly damaged, according to Deputy Parrott.

Welfare Job Must Keep on, Says Romney

Addressing the stake leaders of church welfare at the 3:30 p. m. meeting of the Twin Falls stake quarterly conference, Marion G. Romney, representing the general authorities in Salt Lake City, emphasized the need of continuing the welfare work of the LDS church, "even in the face of apparent surpluses."
In the past few months the LDS church has sent thousands of packages of food and clothing to the devastated Europe. Romney stressed the necessity of continuing this. At 8 p. m. Monday, who is the assistant managing director of the welfare program, addressed all the stake Melchizedek and Aaron priesthood leaders on the subject of their responsibility to church welfare, church service and personal service.
Stressing their responsibilities as leaders, Romney said that it was up to them to see to it that all the different quorum activities were carried on.

Forum Hears Collegians on Liquor Issue

"The worst crime against youth is being committed by society itself in that it is not going against a student for drinking," declared Audrey Smith, Twin Falls college student, in a Youth-Temperance forum Saturday evening.
She added that young people are being encouraged to drink by misleading advertising and by the more subtle influence of the movies and claimed that there is a lack of role models who stand for moral action.

Second speaker on the program which was sponsored by the Allied Girls, was Helen Masby, another college student, who pointed out that abstinence is not only the influence of the movies and not-in-indulgence but is a philosophy of life. She stated that medical evidence shows that three out of every five persons who drink eventually drink to excess.

Today Turner, college junior understood figures showing that alcohol is costing every person in the United States $50 yearly in taxes and contributions to charitable organizations for victims of intemperance.

It was one of our efficiency, jeopardizes our lives on the highways, breaks up homes and fills prisons, he added.

Joint sponsor of the half-hour KVMG program was the Twin Falls Inter-Church Youth affiliation of which the speakers are members. Master of ceremonies was the Rev. Hugh B. Garner, an officer in both organizations.

Weather Held Vital to Farm Labor Supply

problem and that it is hoped enough beet topping machines can be obtained for this area to handle 40 to 60 per cent of the acreage.
A. J. Meeks, manager of the Twin Falls U. B. employment service office, said Saturday that "lots of requests are being received from the east asking about farm labor in this area, but that housing for the workers is the big problem." He explained that formerly board and room was easy to find in this area, but that now workers are reluctant to come here because of the inability to find lodgings.
Prefer Piece Work
Meeks said that quite a few farm workers are being sent out by the U. B. office on early potato picking jobs and that workers are generally interested in piece work. He pointed out that the $200 monthly farm wage ceiling here is higher than some parts of the country and Canada and that fact may attract transients.
The Farm Labor Sponsoring association has requested an additional 500 laborers from the extension service but there has been no word yet regarding the approval.
Meeks was optimistic over the farm labor situation and said that the labor supply should be the best since the war broke out.
Smith pointed out that although there is no definite assurance how many beet harvesting machines would be available, the labor supply would not be scarce if an early frost would permit the early harvesting of potatoes.
Sugar Run News
That would permit the potato beet harvest to get under way. Opening of sugar company receiving stations in several Magic Valley towns is scheduled for Sept. 30 and the factories at Twin Falls, Burley and Pocatello will begin the sugar run about Oct. 3 or 4.
A. W. Morgan, superintendent of Twin Falls schools, said Saturday that no provisions have been made yet for a harvest vacation in local schools. He pointed out that this vacation, which was done during the war to help alleviate the labor shortage, interrupts the school program considerably.
The decision on a harvest vacation will be up to the board of trustees, he said. The board will meet Monday evening and the harvest vacation may be discussed.

Buhl Service Arranged for Rifle Victim

BURLEY, Sept. 7.—Funeral services for Jacob Henry Copenbarger, 45, will be held at 2 p. m. today at the Buhl Luth. church with Rev. Pettis, bishop, officiating. Burial will be in Buhl cemetery.
The body of Mr. Copenbarger, a Buhl resident in the head, was discovered at 3 p. m. Friday in his trailer home on the Todd Shangle property one mile north of here. A 25-30-caliber rifle was found beside the body.
County Coroner J. O. Humphrey termed the case "premeditated suicide" and said no inquest will be held. Investigation included Sheriff W. W. Lowery, Deputy Sheriff D. C. Parrott and Clyde Pryor, Buhl police chief.
They said Mr. Copenbarger, who was divorced Aug. 16 at Twin Falls, left instructions for photographs of his former wife and their two children to be "buried" with him.
Buhl residents last saw Mr. Copenbarger at 10:30 a. m. when he visited a local tavern and left a package with instructions it be delivered "one hour later." The time of death was tentatively fixed at 11:30 a. m. by the coroner.
Evelyn E. Copenbarger filed suit for divorce against Mr. Copenbarger Aug. 2 at Twin Falls, district court records showed. The marriage took place Feb. 11, 1929, in Jerome county. The charge was desertion. The decree gave her custody of a daughter, 16, and a son, 14.
He was born May 2, 1902, at Trinidad, Colo., and came to Buhl with his parents in 1918. The body rests at the Albion funeral home.
Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Winnie Copenbarger, Buhl, a daughter, Delores, and a son, Larry, Buhl, two brothers, Charles, Buhl, and Roy, Roseworth, and a sister, Mrs. Nora Shangle, Jiggs, Nev.

That Odd Machine, the Jeep, Even Hypnotizes Idaho Deer

By LORAYNE ORTON SMITH
(Magic Valley Editor)
Matters concerning that weird vehicle introduced by the war—the jeep—have drifted into the Unusual Happenings editors desk this week. It seems that jeep act as a charm on George Elmer, owner of Rock Creek, who offers as proof the fact that he drove within 15 feet of two different deer.
The animals had stood and stared in curiosity.
The pertinent, almost momentous, same thing during hunting season.
As for the jeep owners: If you ever get stuck with your vehicle, contact the Chris Callers of Jeep. While en route to visit Magic Valley resort manager E. C. Olsson they got on the wrong road and ended in a masher too deep even for a courageous jeep.
Still a Mystery
They were forced to roll the unoffending jeep on its side. The mystery of the story is that, although they eventually arrived at the resort, their method, obviously effective, is still unknown.
It is not particularly odd. The only thing unusual about it is that many people can't do it. Anyway, we've collected that Magic Valley people like to travel—and travel they do, not only in the States, but to Europe.
There are probably more, but we know of at least two families who have decided to go back "home" look up old acquaintances and renew family ties across the waters.
The O. E. Peterson family, Buhl, will sail Sept. 21 for Stockholm, Sweden, to visit Mrs. Peterson's twin sister and a brother.
Already There
Going the same direction is Mrs. D. N. Enright, Pier, who has already arrived in Berlin, Norway, to visit relatives there and in Oslo. Going to Germany, but for a different reason is Mrs. Alfred Elder and children who will join Field Officer Elder stationed at Frankfurt, Germany.
Two boys over at Burley are each 25 richer this week after they accidentally stumbled onto a brand new tractor stolen from Jerome last April and hidden in a thicket in an abandoned canal south of Burley. The owner, W. W. Wilson, was so pleased to recover the tractor he left $150 at the sheriff's office for the boys.
In the Luck-Was-With-her department is Wanda Cole, up at Shoshone. Riding her mule pony to its stable after participating in the Idaho county fair parade that morning, the high school girl's horse was struck by a car.
After flying 15 feet through thin air, she landed on the roof of the car. And although her pony, given to her as a birthday present only three weeks before, had to be shot, Wanda came through unharmed, only shaken up. And she rode to the fair the next day too.

2,000 Idle in State; 3,500 Posts Vacant

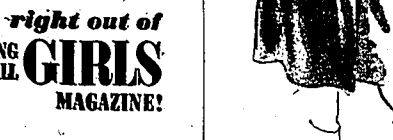

BOISE, Sept. 7.—The Idaho labor picture which finds 2,000 unemployed, as the same time that 3,500 jobs are open, is chiefly caused by reasons other than "chickens who try to draw unemployment compensation illegally," the U. S. employment service said today.
The differential is due to the separation by localities of supply and demand, housing shortages in labor shortage areas, spending for men while the supply is chiefly women and vice versa, the USES said. It added there was an increasing situation where a large demand for skilled manpower exists with only unskilled applicants available.
These and similar reasons together with the inevitable small percentage of chiselers account for the situation," the USES said in its weekly labor market summary.
The service also reported that the state labor supply as of August 31 was estimated at approximately 2,400 but, in contrast, manpower shortages were evident in Kellogg, Wallula, Boise, Pocatello, Lewiston and Caldwell.
The total of non-agricultural job openings listed approximately 3,500 offices inched upward again for the week ended August 31 to 3,238, an increase of 25 over the previous week. A large part of this demand was for skilled workers such as carpenters, lumbermen and electricians.

Minidoka Polio Unit Organizes

RUPERT, Sept. 7.—Mrs. John Garro was elected chairman of the Minidoka county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis at a recent organizational meeting here. Mrs. John E. Hayes, Twin Falls, presided.
Other officers chosen include Mrs. D. P. Blavin, re-elected chairman; Virginia Hawk, secretary; Robert Reed, treasurer; Clark Cameron, executive committee at large; and Mrs. Gene Killion, women's chairman and hostess.
Estes Rowlands is director for the March of Dimes campaign, and Cal Wright, publicity chairman.
The local chapter discussed contributing 10 per cent of the treasury balance up to $100 for a special state child health facility survey which would be financed in similar manner by Idaho's 44 county groups.
A film showing the value of physical therapy in treating and rehabilitating polio victims was shown by Carl Huntington, Mrs. Rodney Goodman, retiring chairman of the chapter, took a special training course in California.
Estes Rowlands was authorized to attend a March of Dimes campaign in Salt Lake City.

Foes of CVA Unfair, Says Demo Talker

HAGERMAN, Sept. 7.—Columbia valley authority has a black eye in Idaho because of "unfair propaganda," said Pete Leguineche, Boise attorney—who is Democratic candidate for congressman, second district, at a rally sponsored by the Pomona Grange here tonight.
"Such developments are necessary to coordinate federal effort," he maintained. Also discussing the question was John Sanborn, Hagerman, who is Leguineche's Republican opponent in the election.
Leguineche expressed the belief that Idaho will never have a federal industry without such valley authorities. He maintained that the water rights of farmers will not be placed in jeopardy by CVA though he admitted that the federal bureau would have the right to condemn land.
"But," said the Democratic nominee, "all federal agencies have such powers."
Sanborn declared that "once the people get such an agency as CVA, they can never get rid of it."
He pointed out that federal bureau are inconsistent, sometimes spending millions of dollars to do what a little later they spend money to destroy.
"Prominent socialists on the federal payroll are now promoting CVA," he asserted.
On the water rights question, Sanborn asserted competent attorneys have informed him that, as now constituted, CVA could control all the water of southern Idaho, allocating it to any use that suited the federal whim.
"We have no reason to believe that this bureau would be any more efficient than bureau which Mr. Leguineche has censured," he said, meeting here. Mrs. John E. Hayes, Twin Falls, presided.

Mayor, Board - Quit in Body In Tennessee

ATLANTA, Tenn., Sept. 7 (AP)—The board of directors of the city of Atlanta following the Aug. 1 riot in which veterans supported their cause with bullets left this city without a municipal governing body today.

Mayor Paul Walker and the board of aldermen addressed a letter "to whom it may concern" yesterday, with a copy with City Recorder Lee Moses and quit, saying they feared for the safety of themselves and their families.

Reign of Terror
"A riotous, dramatic action followed a nocturnal reign of terror against the aldermen which was climaxed when they were fired from a night-prowling car into the home of Alderman Hugh Rixes.

Rixes and his wife, two daughters, son-in-law and six-year-old grandson were asleep in their home when a fusillade of shot awakened them about 1:15 a. m. Thursday.

Bullets, he said, ripped into the hallway and through the kitchen windows.

The mayor of this once peaceful city Tennessee farming town of 7,000 described the gunfire at Rixes' home as the "most heinous act of violence" that he had ever known.

"It is pretty bad," Walker said, "when a man is emptied into the house in which your family is asleep."

Situation Too Deep
Walker said the situation which prompted his resignation and that of the aldermen is "too deep for me. The situation is out of the hands of the aldermen. In fact, they asked us to resign, but we have to do something."

County Votes
In Races for School Board

Delayed returns on independent district school board elections last week show the following results:

Big, hay and cattle received 54 votes and Blake Frolich drew 52 to capture two Hansen school trustees formerly held by Ans. Fryer, who ran third with a count of 44 ballots, and Harold Koenig, who was not a candidate in the 11-vote race.

Koenig now sits near Gooding. Out of 21 three-vote districts counted at Marcus, Thomas Bucklin with 17, Homer Bean and Charlie Clark with 13 each, and the three spots open on the school board, Bean and Bucklin succeeded.

Twelve voters at Kimberly requested a show-in for Perrie O. Freeston and Edwin Gill, who were opposed for two openings on the school board, one of which Freeston had held during the previous term.

Expenses in Caldwell
District Clerk Charles Chester, Mrs. Clara and Melvin Harrison as the school board for the upcoming year, casting its vote in the precinct.

Although only 11 voters showed up at Hollister schoolhouse, the election of candidates for two positions on the school board was strenuously contested. The six candidates who lost to H. Kemstock and Oran Jones polled only eight votes amongst them.

They were joined by L. D. Hill at Hatter for the trip to Hatter, where an outfitter who has charge of the hunting expedition.

Planning to be gone about a month, the party will hunt grizzly and black bear, caribou, moose, mountain sheep and goats in the territory about 450 miles northwest of Edmonton.

Grand Master Visits
HAILEY, Sept. 7.—N. E. Jensen, grand master of the Idaho IOOF, paid an official visit to the Wood River lodge recently. Subordinate lodges from Bellevue, Hailey and Tetchem were represented.

Little Lamb Annie Curran Brought to School Recalled by Hagerman Teacher

By MARTHA McNAMARA

Annie had a little lamb with fleece as white as snow and it followed her to school and, believe it or not, attended classes. Just ask Charlie Reeves, the first school teacher at Hagerman, who opened the first school there 50 years ago.

"The girl was little Annie Curran who wandered in at various times of the day for her lessons, followed by her sheep and dog," I instructed her in ABC's as soon as she arrived so we could get the sheep and the dog out and continue our work.

Reeves chuckled to Roy Vader, Hagerman, who was one of his first pupils. The two men sat in the lobby of the Fernie hotel last week recalling various events in the first Hagerman classroom.

"As for Roy," he laughed, "we had them from youngsters of four, anxious to learn their ABC's, to men of 40—45 years—to learn how to spell their names."

The ex-school teacher, peering over his glasses, explained that students came from several miles around, sometimes riding horseback great distances to be taught.

Youth Hired Horseback
"I remember Lee Vader rode eight miles on horseback to school. When we first opened the school it was in a little shed on the John Curran property. Later the older boys and girls, who came to the village and after school. It was a fine house with a dirt floor and a saguaro burner for heat in the winter time.

We moved into the school before we had a chance to put in windows. "Everyone who came to the village loaded in saguaro and left it at the school for the burner. When it supply ran out the older boys and I went out and gathered more."

Vader, now a school teacher in the room with a saguaro burner, recalled that there was no course of study in the school.

"We had McGuffey's, The Independent Reader, Robinson's arithmetic and Ray's arithmetic. Music and the cultural fields were unheard of in schools at that time."

Courses Were Practical
Practical said work was done along the courses taught the older boys. It included surveying and measure. Big, hay and cattle received 54 votes and Blake Frolich drew 52 to capture two Hansen school trustees formerly held by Ans. Fryer, who ran third with a count of 44 ballots, and Harold Koenig, who was not a candidate in the 11-vote race.

Koenig now sits near Gooding. Out of 21 three-vote districts counted at Marcus, Thomas Bucklin with 17, Homer Bean and Charlie Clark with 13 each, and the three spots open on the school board, Bean and Bucklin succeeded.

Skirt Length Increase Set After Winter

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—The government may yield an inch to fashion in the battle of the bare knees.

But not until next spring, that is. The civilian production administration says it will fight it out on the present hem line all winter.

Not until next spring, that is. The civilian production administration says it will fight it out on the present hem line all winter.

Also, all other curbs on styling would end—the ban on big, fancy sleeves and extra pockets, the limitation on frills, flounces and pleats, and the two-inch hem.

However, Maynard told representatives of the dress and women's apparel industries who met with him yesterday that OPA will not change the rules of the game during the fall cutting of garments, now under way.

Any change, which may be proposed, would not take effect until spring cutting begins, which means October for what the trade calls "high style" dresses and December for the ordinary kind of clothes.

Court Receives Petitions for 3 County Estates

Two petitions for appointment of administrators of two estates entered Twin Falls county probate court, records Saturday, and a petition for probate of a will was received Friday.

Also as heirs, besides the widow, are Robert E. and Richard H. Bailey, sons of both of the late Judge.

Attorney is F. C. Sheneberger, Twin Falls. The hearing is set for 10 a. m. Sept. 10.

Also filed is the petition of Guy H. Shearer for appointment as administrator of the estate of Walter Wesen Lowe, who died July 27 at Boise. Value of the estate does not exceed $1,000, the petition shows.

Also as heirs are: Mrs. Carrie Lowe, mother, Portland, Ore.; May Nelson, sister; Leroy Everett Lowe, Carey; Nora Leona Powell, Corvallis, Ore.; Rose Ferris, Woodland, Wash.; and John Lowe, Sweet Home, Ore., all brothers and sisters.

The hearing is set for 11 a. m. Sept. 10, and Rayburn and Rayburn are attorneys.

No will was left in either estate. H. F. Deardorff, Twin Falls, husband of the late Rosa V. Deardorff, who died Aug. 11, petitioned for probate of the will.

The estate, valued at $43,514, includes acreages in Cassia county and three lots in the 200 block of Millmore street and a portion of a lot on Elm street near Eleventh avenue east here.

The heirs include Deardorff, and two daughters, Gladie D. Nell, Coquille, Ore., and Esther D. Wilcox, Olympia, Wash.

The hearing was set for 2 p. m. Friday, Sept. 20. The petitioner's attorney is J. I. Burgess, Burley.

83-Year-Old Woman Receives Award

C. H. Jackson, second from left, vice-president of the Kiwanis club, is shown here awarding Mrs. Mary Jeffries, 83-year-old mother of Mrs. R. H. Smith, a $25 check for third prize in the Kiwanis club's annual lawn improvement contest. Left to right are Mrs. Kenneth H. Kall, who won first prize; Jackson; Mrs. Jeffries; Mrs. W. Woman, 83, Given Prize for Job Younger Folk Couldn't Do

Mrs. Mary Jeffries is only 83 years old, but Saturday afternoon she was presented a $25 check by the Kiwanis club for a job that many young men and women couldn't do.

Mrs. Jeffries spent many afternoons in her yard this spring and summer planting flowers, pruning bushes, and digging on her yard. It paid off. She won third place in the Kiwanis club's lawn improvement contest.

Mrs. Kenneth Kall won first prize of $100 and Mrs. W. Menzies took the $50 second prize, according to John D. Platt, president of the club.

C. H. Jackson, vice-president of the civic organization, said that next year the contest would be enlarged and that entries would be judged on the basis of most improvement in the appearance of the lawn.

Mrs. Jeffries just returned to Twin Falls recently from a trip to Virginia. Announcement of the winners of the contest, were made previously, but awarding of the prize to Mrs. Jeffries had been postponed until her return.

She said that "I did all my own work on the lawn except a little of the digging which would be too much for me."

Mrs. Jeffries explained that she used the same lawn decoration pattern used by her daughters in Virginia. She is the mother of Mrs. H. H. Smith and has been living in Twin Falls for the past 16 years.

Campaigns of Two Senators To Get Probe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—A spot check of the recent primary election campaigns which resulted in the renomination of Senators McKellar, D. Tenn., and Bilbo, D. Miss., was prompted by the senate campaign investigating committee today as soon as it can recruit a staff.

The decision to investigate sworn complaints made by interested citizens was reached at a closed session of the committee late yesterday.

The complaints charge that McKellar and his supporters spent more money than the Tennessee law allows ($10,000), and that Bilbo advocated intimidation of Negro voters to keep them away from the polls.

Edwin W. Carmack and John Randolph Neal, unsuccessful contenders for the nomination won by McKellar, filed the Tennessee complaints. The Mississippi charges came from Edgar G. Brown of Washington, director of the National Negro Council, and Dr. James L. P. Rumble of New York, chairman of the Citizens' National League, Inc.

Carmack declared that Ed Crump, Memphis political leader, and his supporters, spent more than $100,000 for newspaper advertising alone in McKellar's behalf.

Brown's petition demanded that Bilbo be denied a senate seat because of reports that he urged "red-blooded Anglo-Saxons" to "resist to any means" to keep Negroes from voting in the primary.

THE QUESTION
Can men dress comfortably and still look well?
THE WINNER
At Weeks, Twin Falls, win the $1 award for submitting the question used this week. Questions may be submitted by mail, phone or in person up to noon Saturdays.

THE PLACE
In Twin Falls stores and along Main avenue and Shoshone street.
THE ANSWERS

Harold—L. Armstrong, grocery store owner, who was wearing a bright yellow checkered sport shirt: "I'm all for wearing sport shirts and other comfortable clothing, as they're certainly more comfortable and make it possible for a person to do better work."

Charles Shirley, men's clothing store operator: "If suits are properly tailored and fitted, they will be comfortable regardless of design. The trend, however, is toward looser clothing and sport shirts are here to stay after being constantly improved in appearance and quality since they were first boosted by California."

Virginia Fuller, saleslady, at a women's ready-to-wear store: "Sport shirts and similar clothing are all right if men have good posture and are generally neat in appearance."

Charles (Chie) Crabtree, radio station operator: "If sport shirts and other informal dress are neat, in addition to being comfortable, I think men can look well in them. I other, the radio-station campaign to boost sensible clothes for men is a good idea and is helping the cause considerably."

B. N. Bailey, former farmer and now operating a school bus: "I feel that being comfortable is the most important thing, but it is usually possible to do that and look well at the same time. Of course, a lot still depends on the occasion and just how informal the dress may be."

Marjorie Bingham, Twin Falls, who is a teacher in the Kimberly schools: "I think men owe it to their business to dress appropriately, although it is often possible to do this and be comfortable at the same time. Looking dressed up should come ahead of sheer comfort though."

GOP Raising Fund to Save Free System

Editor, Times-News:
In regard to Marshall Chapman's statement at Boise accusing the Republican party of buying the election, I wish to say that they are taking a free-will offering to help pay the necessary cost of campaigning and education to inform the people who do not keep up with the times.

Should we go back to free and individual enterprise and man's own ability to rise to heights of fame and usefulness to himself and the nation? Or continue under government control by a clique that does not follow the constitution of the United States and in place substitute the principles of communism?

Mr. Chapman, you say the GOP intends to buy the election because they want to raise a campaign fund. And now that the Democrats have their $100-a-plate Jackson day dinners for their one-thousand clubs and the communists go to work, assessment on the laboring man that is a union man.

As to buying the election, Mr. Chapman, which is the most honorable—to buy or to defraud and steal? And how about Mr. Chapman, stand on the wholesale pardon of gangsters, thieves and slugs by the government?

Now, Mr. Chapman, do you stand on the object of Mr. Truman's state under Pennington, where there are over 60,000 illegal votes in Kansas City alone, and sent Mr. Truman on to glory?

Now, Mr. Chapman, these are facts that cannot be denied and are enough to shame any group or man. I am from Missouri and know for sure of two cases where voters have been deceived by the Pennington Democrats continued to vote the absentee ballots in glory.

Mr. Chapman, which is the most honorable—to buy or to steal? Who gruffed whose $100,000?

Pleasant Valley To Get Road Tour
Following appearance of a delegation of farmers from the Pleasant Valley section south of Kimberly during Saturday afternoon's Twin Falls highway district meeting, members of the board decided to make an inspection trip to that section within the next two weeks.

Purpose of this trip will be to determine whether the proposals to improve about three miles of roadway will be included in next year's highway program.

Director J. D. Sluerna reported that the summer maintenance program has been completed with placing of new oil on 11 1/2 miles of roadway and resurfacing of six miles of old oil in the district. This brings the total mileage of paved highway district road to 92.

He Tells Ex-Marine That VFW Protested Training Aid Limit

Editor, Times-News:
I agree heartily with the Ex-Combat Marine's letter of last Sunday concerning the history of veterans organizations on some of the more vital issues that take care of the veterans welfare, but I do have to take issue with him on one statement, which I presumed, he included all veterans organizations and that was that none of the said organizations had complained about the $200 a month limit placed on the on-the-job-training program by a recently passed law.

During a regular insistent meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, post No. 2126, Twin Falls, held Aug. 13, a resolution was passed vigorously protesting the above mentioned law and copies of this resolution were sent to the Idaho representatives in congress, the two Idaho senators, all of the other VFW posts in this state and to the VFW department at Boise. Acknowledgments have been received from these persons, indicating that something will be done about it in the next session of our national legislature.

The VFW has a gripe department where any and all complaints will be received and acted upon accordingly. I would suggest that the Ex-Combat Marine either join the VFW and actively participate in these issues or, if he already belongs, that he attend the meetings and know what is going on.

Country Afflicted, Says He, By Overdose of Selfishness

Editor, Times-News:
When this country seems to be troubled with in an over-dose of selfishness. Everyone wants all they can get, regardless of whether any one else has anything or not.

One wants more sugar. Another isn't satisfied with the price of hogs. I think the top price was $23—the highest I have ever known it to be, and I've raised lots of hogs in my time.

Now, anyone knows that folks living in town on wages can't buy pork chops out of a $23 hog, but they stop to consider that? Never!

It seems from my observation of men on the street, that those making the most suggestions about what our officials should and should not do haven't got on the front page very often themselves.

Now I want to say that if it was suddenly put in at the President of the United States, my first official act would be to resign. I wouldn't feel big enough for the job. At that, I think I am well qualified as most of the beefers and kickers.

Now to quote Aunt Doubtful, I know everything is wrong. Nothing is right. But I hope to God they don't change it in my remaining years.

Building Permits Hit Low of $3,450

Building permit applications, added to a new weekly low during the six-day business period just passed when a total of only $3,450 was recorded at the office of the Twin Falls city clerk.

This marks a sharp decline as compared to the previous week, which itself was below the average with a $22,158 total.

Best recent week's total was for Aug. 4 through 10 which jumped to $91,092 when the St. Edward's parish school permit application of $70,000 was recorded.

She Asks About Punishment for Slugging of Vet

Editor, Times-News:
About that disabled veteran who was slugged by a female in a beer parlor, why didn't we hear of some punishment following? There must have been plenty of witnesses, or did she have "connections"?

But the worst of it was the cowardly shrinking of responsibility when the couple deliberately pushed him out onto the road.

If the news report was correct, it sure "smells."

County Prosecutor Urges Cooperation of Motorists As Fatalities On Magic Valley Highways Hit Record-Breaking Total of 30 Dead

Here Are Where the 30 Black Flags Fly in Magic Valley

With Magic Valley traffic fatalities mounting to alarming proportions, County Prosecutor E. M. Sweeley called Saturday upon the motorists to shoulder its responsibility in reducing the hazard of highway travel.

The county official's call for cooperation from those who use the highways was endorsed by Sheriff W. W. Lowery and Police Chief Howard Gillette, whose departments are making every effort to combat the growing menace of automobile accidents.

Attorney Sweeley's statement follows a rapid succession of fatal accidents, bringing total traffic deaths to 30 for Magic Valley this year, as compared to 27 for all of 1945. Of this number, 10 have occurred in Twin Falls county alone.

Here is the county official's assumption of how every driver can assist in making the highways safer for himself or herself, as well as others:

"Each community, whether city, county or state, has just as high a standard of safety on its highways as it demands for itself; but the demand, to be effective, must come from the community itself and be expressed by action instilling upon and backing up its demands. Safety is not a matter of statutes or rules or regulations. We have an abundance of those, but no statute, no rule and no regulation is any stronger than the will of the people behind it. It cannot be forced upon a community."

"The people will accept only so much pressure as their collective conscience approves, and every attempt to exert pressure beyond this point results in resentment and opposition rather than in improvement. This is because all law enforcement comes finally to the judgment of the trial jury. Every jury represents a fair cross-section of the people of the community as a whole. Where the people ask for and insist upon a high standard of department, juries convict. Where the people of the community are indifferent to or resentful against a high standard, juries will not convict."

"There is a wide-spread and complete idea that the law officers have the duty of doing all of the work and carrying all the responsibility for the enforcement of traffic laws. This idea is completely wrong. The officers cannot do the community's work for it; there are too many of them and working alone they can accomplish very little."

Inadequate Coverage

"There are about 20,000 licensed drivers in this county. There are hundreds of miles of highways. Counting the sheriff's force, the police departments of the cities and all of the constables in the county, we have only about 30 officers. If all of these men spent all of their time upon the highways they could not cover the roads of this county with anything like adequate coverage. It is only seldom that an officer happens to be at the scene of a law violation, or of a collision or wreck at the moment it happens."

"When the officers arrive at the scene of a wreck and begin their investigation, they frequently run into difficulty. The people involved in the wreck, if they are able to talk, usually either cannot or will not tell the truth. People not involved in the wreck but who saw it are very frequently unwilling to speak. There is a disposition to

Traffic Officers Plan for Accident-Free County Fair

Plans for meeting the west end traffic problem during the Twin Falls county fair at Piler this week were announced last night by Sheriff W. W. Lowery.

In announcing the method by which traffic will be handled, Sheriff Lowery urged full cooperation that drivers will not be hampered by highway accidents. He also pointed out that during the harvest season, operation of large trucks creates a congested condition that the fair will place an added burden on all concerned.

It is the plan:

All westbound vehicles traveling from Twin Falls and other points to Piler will be routed over the detour which lies north of U. S. highway 30. Eastbound traffic will be routed on U. S. 30, which is still under construction, but which can be used by one-way traffic only.

Sheriff Lowery pointed out that shoulders on U. S. 30 will be soft and that there will be "drop-offs" at the edge of the pavement, so motorists must travel at safe speeds not exceeding 35 miles per hour.

State Police Officer John E. Leiser and County Traffic Officer D. G. Barrett, assisted by special officers, will handle routing the traffic and patrolling the roads in that section.

Although two-way traffic will continue on the detour, the sheriff urged that as many motorists as possible take advantage of the one-way travel on U. S. 30 when traveling east.

On certain sections of the detour, dust and washboarding will be unavoidable, so drivers are cautioned to exercise all possible safety measures in driving lightly, having their lights properly adjusted, watching for narrow bridges and traveling at moderate rates of speed.

withhold information from the officers on the part of those who know what has started, and coupled with this is the disposition of those involved in a wreck to put all the blame on the other fellow. This attitude develops from the fact that the members of the community as a class seem to feel that they have shifted the entire responsibility onto the shoulders of the officers, and not only owe him no help but are justified in refusing help where automobile wrecks are involved.

Hits Reckless Drivers

"Every person who has had any experience with traffic matters knows, even though it can only rarely be proved, that for every wreck there is a human and avoidable fault. They also know that in the great majority of cases those who are really responsible for automobile wrecks give long warning of their reckless and dangerous driving. In very many instances after a wreck has occurred the officers learn that one or more of the drivers involved in the wreck have been known to their neighbors and associates and to those who see them on the highways to be reckless, risk-taking and unsafe drivers."

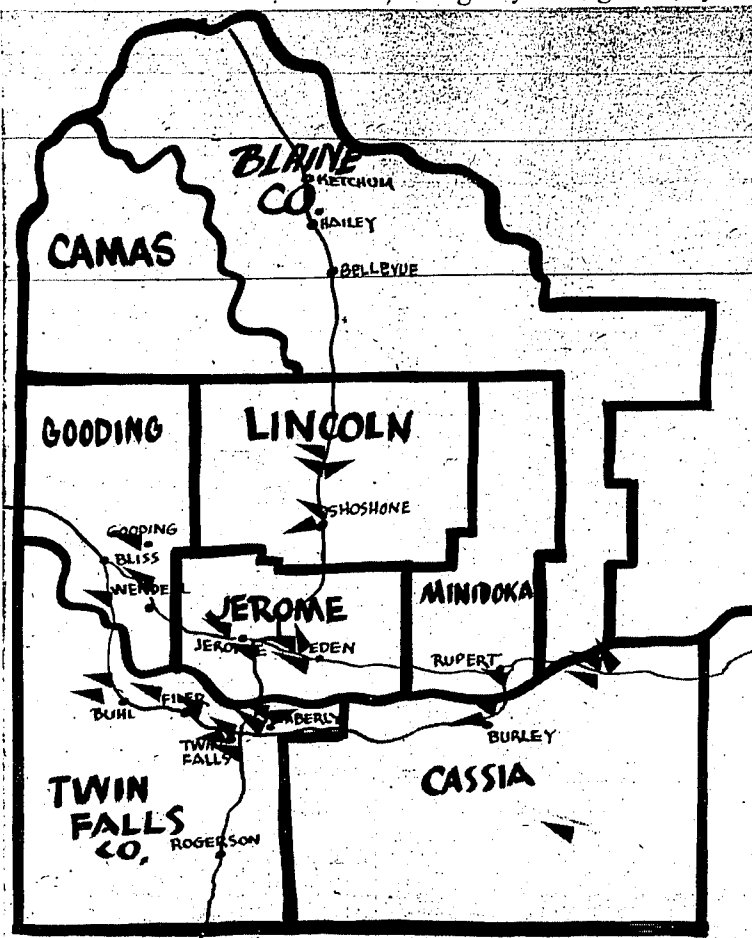

"It is a very general rule that those who drive recklessly and with deliberate contempt for the rights and safety of others continue to do so until they are checked sharply and harshly, either by a wreck or by the hand of the law. In the very nature of things the officers do not learn of such drivers until a wreck, and possibly some injured or dead people, bring the facts to light. Those who do know of them and report to the officers, or take any other steps calculated to restrain drivers of the reckless sort, not only accept the low standard of safety which such persons create on our highways but by their silence actually encourage others to drive recklessly and in a danger-creating manner."

Cites Dangerous Attitude

"They evade their responsibility as citizens on the theory that it is none of their business. This is a dangerous attitude. All law and all enforcement begins with and ends with the citizens themselves. The officers can go no further than a point at which they are backed up and supported by the community as a whole. The officers cannot do the work of the community alone at all times. It is through which the community can better and more effectively do its own work."

"Unsafe driving is the result of two main causes. The first is the wide-spread and almost universal ignorance of traffic rules. Not one driver in 20 has any comprehensive idea of traffic rules and even a less number has ever made any effort to learn what those rules are. The great majority of drivers, perhaps 80 per cent, want and honestly try to drive carefully and safely, but they just don't know how. They have learned to drive by watching what others do and they have continued to do so as they see others on the highway driving. That this way of driving may be safe frequently is in violation of traffic rules they do not know, and so, even with the best intentions in the world they in their turn become unsafe drivers."

"The second cause of reckless and unsafe driving, which is found in only a small percentage of the whole number, but which causes the greater number of wrecks, is the disposition to ignore the rights and the safety of others. In part this is the result of not caring what the traffic rules are, but in major part it comes from the selfish and heedless way of some drivers to go just as far as they can. Such drivers seem to enjoy flitting with

With more than three months yet remaining in 1946, traffic fatalities have already mounted to 30, of which 10 have occurred in Twin Falls county alone. The triangular flags show how tragedies are grouped along heavily-traveled arteries and how it is impossible to travel in any direction without encountering one or more points where death has struck. Cassia county is close behind Twin Falls with six deaths, followed by Jerome and Lincoln counties with five each. Gooding county has been the scene of three fatalities; while one has occurred in Minidoka county. (Map by Vic Goertzen, staff engraving) consequently, whether they be an encounter with the law or an actual wreck upon the highway.

"There are ample means of curbing the unsafe and reckless driver if the community really wants him curbed, but this cannot be done by the officers acting alone. An officer can make an arrest for a traffic violation without a warrant only when a violation occurs in his presence. In the very nature of the situation the officers see only a very small fraction of the total number of violations. Unless the citizens who do see these violations report them to the officers or to the courts, and give the necessary support to place the violators in check, the violators escape consequences and continue their unsafe driving methods until they cause a wreck, with possible injuries and death to persons involved."

"Whenever the citizens of the community reach a point where they want their highways safe and willing to bear their fair share of the work necessary to attain safety on the highways they will become safe," the prosecutor concluded.

Included in the exhibit is a colored chart, professional type as used in shoe stores, using patterns and primary colors only. All books and loose leaf binders were constructed by Beverly. Gordon to Tigers for Dizzy Trout to Start Big Yankee Shake-up

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Joe Gordon is reliably reported to have already been traded by the Yankees to the Tigers for Dizzy Trout. It is said that the announcement will be made with the season's close.

"This is the first step in a general New York shake-up."

"The club needs to be strengthened in all departments," says Larry MacPhail.

"Plans are under way. There are players in the Yankee organization who would assist other clubs and we believe we can make deals that will help our club," President MacPhail was never one to sit still.

Dizzy Trout won't be around next spring, and it would surprise no one to see Phil Rizzuto, Bill Johnson and Johnny Lindell change lives.
