Vet Subsistence Claim Change to Take More Time

At least three months will be needed to cut back the new law on veterans in education and on-the-job training programs, necessitated by recent changes in the service men's readjustment act. W. C. (Jack) Nunan, veterans administration official representative, said Monday.

For at least three months, veterans will continue to receive checks for the same amount as they had received prior to the amendment, Nunan said. He added that the checks will be warranted that the veteran may have to return some of the money if the law is not changed in the interim period. Each veteran is to give his training officer or the regional office a statement of his earnings during August, September and October by Nov. 5, Nunan said.

Interim legislation put a limitation on subsistence allowances for veterans enrolled under the GI bill of rights stating that in no case shall the rate of such allowance plus the compensation received exceed $175 monthly for veterans without dependents or $200 a month if he has a dependent.

Veterans can arrange adjustments sooner by making special requests to the veteran administration regional office handling their training. Nunan declared.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

STRATEGY—Sen. Harry Flood Byrd's conservative Virginia Democrats have completely ousted the White House control of the all-powerful house rules committee.

Sen. Byrd, who had been expected to lead the charge in great detail with President Truman after Congress adjourned, and who had said he would support the White House control of the all-powerful house rules committee, has changed his mind.

It worked 50 percent with President Truman's aid in the reorganization of the committee, but Byrd's strategy was successful.

Mr. Lauchlin was one of the two Democratic representatives in the committee who, in cahoots with the Republicans, always voted to block presidential proposals, especially his pro-labor legislation.

Since the Truman-Rayburn-Hannegan trio figure that they must jump several "liberal" measures as a political build-up for the 1948 presidential campaign, especially a housing and health program, an increase in minimum wage rate, they considered it essential to "purge" the two Democrats who invariably lined up against the White House on the committee. This has been his final voice in the operation of the legislative machinery.

BOB HOPE

Everyone is buying frozen foods these days and it's fast becoming one of our biggest industries. It's nothing new, though... it started when a farmer in California forgot to ship his apples.

There's a great future in frozen foods and experts see it as potentially greater than even our automobile industry. But I don't agree with that. Can you imagine any one peeling up a '46 car for a box of broccoli?

I understand the business is now being run by a few experts and some Eskimos, so you guys who are looking for a business with a future, hop to it. There's only one drawback... every time you go in to ask the boss for a raise you're bound to get cold feet.

To help the growth of new industry, Cornell University is giving away scholarships for study in the frozen foods field... a sort of education.

All I can say is that I bought a deep-freeze myself recently and find it very convenient. I don't have to find the frozen armorer, and my jokes keep for weeks. I won't say that that's cold, but it's the first time I ever saw pig knuckles rubbing themselves together to keep warm!

It's already made changes in our social life. The fella are now asking the girls to come up and see their frozen foods.

THE CHOICE IS CLEAR

Reimposition of price controls on many foods, and particularly on meats, has caused many to predict resurgence of the black market, but so active early in the summer but subsided largely when ceilings went off.

Such an unfortunate development is entirely possible, though not at all necessary. If it transpires, it will be because of the black market or apathy. If it is prevented, it will not be principally by law enforcement but rather through the alertness of consumers.

There is little question that quantities of meat, and other of the scarcer consumer goods, will find their way into illegitimate hands, where they will be offered at exorbitant prices to those who insist upon gratifying their lusts at whatever price, and that they will remain in those hands so long as an appreciable market exists.

The consuming public as a whole is going to be faced with a difficult but important choice—temporarily to go without, or restrict its use of things it wants and can pay for, in order to force the return of legitimate conditions; or to gratify its immediate desires, at great cost to its pocketbook and at the risk of upsetting the whole economic apparatus.

Meat, or any other desirable commodity, will go into the black market as long as a foolish public is willing to buy it under the counter at unnecessarily high prices.

When price controls went off, and meat appeared in stores at high prices and in quantities enough to allow the almost total public feeling of deprivation, a modified buyers' strike began to develop which, if it had been given time to spread and strengthen, would have brought prices down.

The great danger of a black market now is that, when meat begins to disappear from legitimate shelves and to be found principally under the counter, housewives will forget that they found it entirely possible to resist high prices during the hiatus, and will begin scrambling desperately for anything from anybody at any price.

The choice is clear. We can buy on the black market, which no government enforcement agency can do more than harass, and thereby delay the return of a normal economy; or we can temporarily go without, or restrict our use of scarce commodities to what is available from legitimate dealers, and thereby break the black market.

It ought not to be too difficult to decide on which side our bread will be buttered in the long run.

ENEMY—When the Virginians assembled at Richmond, Mr. Smith found himself opposed by two formidable opponents, Rep. A. Willis Robertson and Gov. C. W. Darden, Jr.

Mr. Darden could have had the nomination, but he refused to run. However, he sent word in Congress to weaken Mr. Smith's chances, according to the latter's friends. When Mr. Darden pulled out, the nomination fell to Mr. Smith.

Mr. Smith's matter than ever at the collapse of the Truman-Rayburn-Hannegan trio. He will return to rules as an even more bitter enemy of the administration.

PATRIOTIC—Mr. Robertson, who apparently was not given a full glimpse of Mr. Rayburn's legislative designs, now reveals unwittingly that the President promised him a "Hill job" if he would seek reelection to the house and remain out of the senatorial contest. Had Mr. Robertson acquiesced, Mr. Smith would have been removed from the house by promotion to the upper chamber.

In accepting the nomination, Representative Robertson expressed that he had received "flattering offers of private employment during World War II," but he declined them because he felt that it was his patriotic duty to serve the country on Capitol Hill. After thinking that he had thought of quitting the house, Mr. Robertson spilled the bribery beans.

INDUCEMENT—"My good friend, Sam Rayburn, speaker of the house of representatives," continued Mr. Robertson, "urged me to be a candidate for the United States Senate. He said that if I did, he would help me to get elected. He said that if I did, he would help me to get elected. He said that if I did, he would help me to get elected."

"As an inducement to do so, and in recognition of my wholehearted support of his foreign policy," the President of the United States offered to provide for my future by giving me an appointment to a federal court that carried a lifetime salary of $17,000 per year.

"I, therefore, faced the decision between my personal interests and a possible duty that I felt to my party. I love and which for 20 years in the state senate and in the house of representatives had trained me for legislative work."

CONSERVATIVE—President Truman's offer of a judgeship to the representative from Charlottesville will undoubtedly arouse anger "liberals" inside and outside the administration.

Not so much because of his admitted lack of judicial experience but because, as a member of the house and of the important ways and means committee, he has voted against every social, economic and labor measure submitted to Capitol Hill by the White House. He has been as conservative as Virginia's political czar, Senator Byrd, supporting the President on every foreign policy.

In the field of domestic legislation he has been one of Speaker Rayburn's worst problem children. The presidential underdog, and tender, to him to become understandable only in the light of the desire to pack the rules committee.

A WORTHY CAUSE

The Salvation Army has launched a campaign in Twin Falls to raise a total of $25,000, all of which will be used for the construction of a new building to house the organization's activities in this immediate vicinity.

For 25 years the Salvation Army has operated in Twin Falls, giving aid to transients, distributing clothing to needy families and generally helping those in distress.

This work has been carried on under a serious handicap because the organization's building accommodations have been inadequate.

Throughout all these years, the Salvation Army has served this community loyally, and what it asks now is small in proportion to the good work that has been done.

The new building, to be of brick and concrete construction, will be designed to include a chapel, a craft room for the boys and girls, a sewing room for the women of the Salvation Army home league, and for what some regard as the most important function of all, a day nursery.

Inasmuch as the $25,000 is to be raised by popular subscription, everyone can show his appreciation by contributing liberally to the fund.

Let's put this campaign over in the least possible time. That's the best way to show the Salvation Army that it has our united support!

REMARKABLE AGREEMENT

We see where the French Constituent assembly passed in the short space of one day the first two clauses of the country's proposed new constitution. They were:

The national emblem is the tri-color flag, blue, white, red in three vertical bands. The republic's motto is: "Liberty, equality, fraternity."

Well, that's something. In these days of disagreement—especially coming from Paris. But we'll bet that if Mr. Molotov had been a member of the assembly the tri-color would have been into small squares by now, with Mr. Molotov threatening to walk out if it weren't redesigned in a red-white-and-blue checkerboard pattern.

LEGIONNAIRES AGAINST BONUSES

Missouri American Legion convention delegates displayed excellent sense in overwhelmingly turning down a state veterans' bonus proposal. It was the more noteworthy because it involved the president of the convention, a presumptive statesman who ranked-and-file realists approved a faction which hoped to buy leadership too easily and too cheaply.

WHAT HEAT OF BATTLE

The navy, planning to air-condition its ships in order to keep its men in the best of fighting trim, has introduced a new note into the science of competition. Fighting an air-conditioned enemy with no better air on one's own side than Nature has provided is, we gather from what the admirals have to say of it, very much like taking up an argument and going out to do battle with a super-soldier rocket. There is no manner of percentage in it.

The American naval man means to have the percentage on his side. His strength will be as the strength of 10 because he is air-conditioned. Does the prospect strike terror to any would-be challenger? It should also strike a quaver or two to all competitors everywhere.

PIONEER LEAGUE DENIED; '47 ALL STAR TILT HERE

Directors Air Provo Request To Enter Loop

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 16 (AP)—Pioneer League directors turned down the bids of two Colorado clubs for inclusion in the loop during a meeting here and also decided against considering Provo, Utah, for membership until another league city to support a club can be found.

The circuit's directors, who met yesterday, also named Twin Falls as the site of the 1947 all-star game which was played this season at Pocatello.

Explaining the loop's stand on expansion in Colorado, William W. Williams, Jr., representative of the St. Louis Cardinals, sponsors of Pocatello, said:

On action on Provo

Circuit President Jack P. Halliwell said the possibility of adding Provo to the loop was discussed but no action was taken.

"The directors would look favorably on a Provo request for membership if another potential center was available," said Halliwell. "But no such thing is known further we can do in the matter."

Colorado representatives at the meeting said they were ready to make "down payments" of $2,500 for each city if their requests for membership were approved.

"We are extremely sure and disappointed," said William W. Williams, Jr., representative of the St. Louis Cardinals, who said that he would like to see the loop expanded to include Provo, Utah.

"We feel that travel difficulties are too great for a class C league," said Halliwell.

Circuit President Jack P. Halliwell said the possibility of adding Provo to the loop was discussed but no action was taken.

Louis, Who Won't Have to Stalk Challenger, Expects to Kayo Mauriello in Four Rounds

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (AP)—Joe Louis is expected to knock out Billy Conn in four rounds at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 18. The champion boxer is expected to win in better shape and trainer Marnie Stinson assures me that the challenger here and also decided against considering Provo, Utah, for membership until another league city to support a club can be found.

Louis Says Wednesday Fight Short

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Sept. 16 (AP)—Joe Louis was scheduled for a final four-round boxing fight today in preparation for Wednesday night's title defense against Tami Mauriello.

Louis has boxed 53 rounds in preparation for his bout. He weighed 210 pounds, and said he expected to fight at 208. He predicted a short fight, for both he and Mauriello are punchers.

ODDS 9-1
NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (AP)—Tami Mauriello will be the man to watch tonight although it's a 9-1 bet that he'll be defeated in the Bronx Wednesday night.

Tough Tam will be honored by a torchlight parade tonight—a gesture of Yankee confidence that the battling Bronxite will defeat Joe Louis at Yankee stadium and become the borough's first world heavyweight champion.

The formerly fat Bronx tavern-keeper, who now is a solid-looking slugger, was in excellent spirits today as he shifted his training quarters from the Bronx park arena to Bobby Gleason's gymnasium, also in the Bronx. The shift was made because he had completed his boxing preparations and would need less spectator space for two consecutive sessions of light limbering exercise.

Fairfield Grid Team Defeats Dietrich 20-6

DIETRICH, Sept. 16—A heavier Fairfield high school football team pushed over three touchdowns in the second half to defeat Dietrich 20-6 after being outplayed in the first half.

A line back by Tack and an end run by Baldwin in the final quarter clinched the game for the Mustangs. Backman converted after both scores.

Other backs who have been alternating on the varsity lineup: Quarterbacks—Charles Platino, Jerome; Jim Hammond, Caldwell, and Neil Weister, Spokane. Halfbacks—Sam Thies, Cour d'Alene; John Kivua, Mankate, Minn.; Bob Harbaur, Boise; Jerry Diehl, Jerome; Jack Hatch, Cour d'Alene, and Larry Eater, Boise. Fullbacks—Woody Delano, plummer; Laune Erickson, Salt Lake City, and Russell Moffett, Idaho Falls. Platino and Erickson are pre-war letter winners.

Pitchers Undecided for Third Game in Pioneer Playoff Tonight

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 16 (AP)—Both managers were a little worried about pitchers today as the Twin Falls Cowboys and Salt Lake City Bees came to town to resume their playoff for the Pioneer league championship in Derks park tonight.

They are undecided in the best four-of-seven series, Salt Lake City sweeping the opener 21 to 2 and Twin Falls winning the second 10 to 4. It's been a hitless series so far. The Bees have smashed 34 hits in the two games, seven of them home runs with rightfielder Joe Brown hitting two. The Cowboys have powered 21 hits, two for the circuit.

The pitching problem seems to be a hit more acute for Skipper Earl Boyard of the Cowboys, who has been pained to see his two chucks knocked off the hill on consecutive nights.

However, Jim Arnold, hammered by any amateur chucker in the opening game, played next to shut-out and the next night to one-up a Bees rally and save the game. After Bob Gleason hurled a commendable game for the opening decision for the Bees, Len Kasparovich tried for victory that has been eluding him so long and was relieved to the showers by the Cowboy hitters Saturday night.

Castro Takes Loss
However, Salt Lake City took the score after he left. El Castro had to shoulder the defeat, Kasparovich, after winning 18 games over the season, was beaten in his last three appearances before the play-off. He was beaten in his last 20-inning career, occupied only by "Twin Falls" Arnold and Ogdin's Barry.

Manager Joe Grogno of the Bees named Larry Powell, a lefthander who has looked good, powerful and terrible, depending on the night, to pitch the first game tonight before the home fans who promise to fill Derks park to overflowing for all three games here.

Saving Arnold
Barry may come in with Willie Greer, Harold Fowler or Bob Witt, probably saving Arnold for Tuesday night when Gleason again will oppose him.

The players won't share in any of the receipts after tomorrow night's game. Their melon consists of 60 per cent of the gate, 40 per cent of the receipts, the 40 per cent remaining, the two clubs get 30 per cent and the league 10 per cent, but only the two clubs share the receipts of all games after four.

Dead Heat Heat Looms for Brooklyn, St. Louis

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

For the first time since the season's start, the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals are in a dead heat for the first place in the National League. The Cardinals' advantage is all in the win column since they played and won three more games than Brooklyn.

Unless main interferences, the Dodgers should make up those three games by Friday at which time each contender will have played 14 games with eight to go. The Cardinals' 10-inning tie with the Cincinnati Reds is slated to be played Friday.

The Cardinals gained a full game on the Brooklyn Dodgers when they defeated the Giants twice 3-0 and 7-4 while the Dodgers were held to a split by the Cubs.

Cubs, Dodgers Split
After dropping a thrilling 4-1, 10-inning decision to the Cubs, the Dodgers rebounded by beating the Cubs 3-0 in their last game. The Cardinals' brilliant sophomore, won his 25th game as the Philadelphia Athletics champion Red Killebrew, who pitched nine innings for the Sox. Ferris allowed eight hits in winning the opener 4-1 but Chicago came back to beat the Sox 6-0 and behind Johnny Rector.

Bill Cahan, manager of his first club in the major leagues, beat Bob Feller in a hurling duel as the Philadelphia Athletics split with the Indians. After Bob Lemon had pitched the tribe to an 8-1 victory, McCahan limited the Indians to seven hits and a 2-0 win.

Yanks Beat Twins

Buddy Lewis and Cecil Travis collected nine hits between them and pitcher Early Wynn hit a grand slam home run to help Washington capture the Detroit Tigers 11-5.

The Boston Braves advanced to within two games of the third place Cubs by winning the Reds twice 2-1 and 6-1.

The Phillies offset a single tally by Philadelphia in the top half of the 11th inning with two in their half to defeat the Pirates 6-5.

American Net Stars Look World's Best

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (AP)—Above all else, the American victory over Sweden in the Interzone Davis cup finals which were completed at Stockholm yesterday, was the United States has the best assortment of amateur tennis players in the world today—with the possible exception of Australia.

And the Americans will get their chance to prove that threat. Dec. 26-28 when the cream of the U.S. current crop barges into Melbourne to challenge the Australians for the trophy that has been the symbol of international tennis since the turn of the century.

The U. S. team, which won its way to the challenge round Saturday, completed its victory over Sweden's European champions yesterday by taking the last two singles matches to make the Interzone series a grand slam.

National Champion Jack Kramer triumphed over Bertil Bergelin, the Swedish U16 champion, 6-2, 6-0, 6-0, and Frankie Parker topped Tord Johansson, 6-7, 6-2, 6-1.

Actually, Sweden was eliminated Saturday when Billy Talbot and Garrison Mulloy, the U. S. doubles champions, topped Bergelin and Johansson, 3-6, 9-7, 3-6, 6-0, 8-6.

Lesnevich Looks Like Bout Cinch

LONDON, Sept. 16 (AP)—British boxing fans rubbed lucky today, but nobody was making any rash predictions that Bruce Lesnevich would stop Sam Lesnevich tomorrow night at Harrington arena in their 10-round non-title bout.

The news from the American light heavyweight champ's seaside training camp at Brighton was not encouraging for the backers of Woodcock. The British heavyweight champ, Gus looks at good as he did when he put Freddie Mills to sleep last May, maybe better. Woodcock is no Joe Louis but he's no pushover either. He'll have weight and height advantage over Gus, who expects to weigh in at 162.

Seals Heading To First Win Since 1935

By The Associated Press

A 3½ game lead over second-place Seattle, the San Francisco Seals today as they headed into the final week of the Pacific coast league season in quest of their first pennant since 1935.

The Seals today took the first of the season's first game, beating the Auburn Seattle Rainiers yesterday to salvage an even break in the season. They had a 1-0 lead in the first inning, but they had a hitting spree against two Seattle pitchers to win the first game 12-4. The sixth inning of the nightcap was the pay-off one for the Seals. Trailing 3-0, the Seals batted around in that inning to score all their runs for a 6 to 4 verdict.

Oakland meanwhile was splitting a doubleheader with San Diego, losing the first game 3-2 and winning the nightcap 7 to 1. The Oaks won the series five games to three.

Battling for a spot in the first division, the Sacramento Solons split their doubleheader with the Los Angeles Angels, winning the first game 2 to 1, but losing the second 3 to 1. The Angels, who in turn were only half a game behind the third-place Hollywood Stars lost the Sunday doubleheader to Portland, 6 to 0 and 9 to 3, winding up their home appearance on a sour note as the Beavers captured the series six games to three.

Bowling League Starts Tonight

League bowling gets underway at the Twin Falls Bowldrome tonight with eight teams in the merchant league scheduled to perform.

Those appearing tonight are: Sears Roebuck, Pocatello, Safeway No. 1, Swift, Recruiters, and the Twin Falls Golf and Country club and Safeway No. 2.

Schedules for bowling this winter include one team in the two minors, women's league, commercial, boys and church league on Sunday.

In addition, two teams each for Gooding, Buhl, Jerome and Twin Falls will compete with two teams from outside towns present at the Bowldrome each Sunday.

Late Touchdown Defeats Glens Ferry 7 to 0

GLENN'S FERRY, Sept. 16 (AP)—American Falls pushed over a touchdown in the last two minutes of play to defeat the Glens Ferry Pilots 7-0 in the opening game of the year here.

Pilots were inside the Deavers 30-yard line most of the first half but failed to score. Spencer Hildreth, quarterback, was in the end zone and ready to be stopped two yards short of the goal line.

The touchdown pass into the end zone was dropped by the Pilots and another that would have been good for a score fell incomplete on the Deaver 30-yard line in the second quarter.

Softball Hurler Wins

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 16 (AP)—An ultimate in one-man teams was reached in the world softball championship tournament yesterday by John Stenich of Lorain, O., who pitched a no-hit, no-run game to win by a score of 1 to 0 on a home run that he himself hit.

New Golf Champ Won't Turn Pro

SPRINGFIELD, N. J., Sept. 16 (AP)—about the only certainty that came out of last week's national amateur golf championship, were that the new champion, Blipho, won't become a professional, and that United States Golf association officials were well satisfied with the eighth national championship played over the historic Baltusrol course.

Former Stars of Service Schools Facing Draft

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 16 (AP)—President Truman reportedly has ordered the induction into military service of football stars who have left West Point and Annapolis to play at the old home school. The Commercial Appeal and today in a copyrighted article.

It is understood, said the paper, that Mr. Truman has become pretty ticked about the departure from the academies and has ordered his military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, to do something about it.

"This something is reported to be a series of phone calls to the electors of these schools," the paper said, "are harboring 'escapees'—phone calls suggesting that draft boards immediately induct football stars who have left West Point and Annapolis to play at the old home school."

Such action, the story added, would affect Thomas, (shorty) McWilliams of Mississippi State, Clyde Scott of Arkansas and Notre Dame's Bob Kelly.

No comment was immediately available from the White House.

Joint Agency Falls Heir to 'M-Day' Plan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—The army-navy munitions board apparently has fallen heir to the job of drawing a new "M-day" plan for the industrial mobilization of America for any future war.

The joint military agency has been working quietly on a standby arms plant program of undeclared aid, a task to which President Truman also has assigned Donald M. Nelson, former war production board chairman, to advise and assist.

Report Blaise Nelson, it was learned here, is to prepare a report outlining a cold-storage war industry and recommending any legislation necessary to authorize and finance it during peacetime, in readiness for any national emergency.

This program is less comprehensive than the broad "workable plan" for the immediate mobilization of war industries demanded two weeks ago in a report of the senate committee on national defense, but apparently may grow to that stature.

In broad outline, this is the aim of the standby program, which some have reported will come to $2,000,000,000 in cost.

1. To insure that machinery for making key munitions is kept in a government pool, or stored and cared for in the war plants when the plants are added to private industry.

2. To devise legal means of "keeping a string on" the plants and equipment, especially those producing key materials and parts not ordinarily used in peacetime industry.

3. If necessary, to keep a military production line ready for use even in the event that the whole program will provide a strategic network of war industry.

4. To decide what funds will be needed by the army and navy to maintain the network, to recommend needed legislation, and to work rapidly and in close cooperation with the war assets administration in order to prevent needed plants from being sold as surplus before the government has tied in its strings.

Rover Boy

Five-year-old Jimmy Carner, of Jersey City, N. J., is probably the nation's unofficial runaway champion. He is pictured here being brought home from his 32nd wandering in the last 18 months.

This time the 25-foot, 40-horsepower rode a ferry across the Hudson river, traveled the subway and was taken to the Bronx, where New York police picked him up.

Wallace Top Despite That 'Reputation'

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—The Democratic national committee has scheduled Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace in top position on its campaign speakers' list today despite President Truman's reputation of his address on foreign relations.

Wallace is scheduled to speak before the National Citizens PAC in Providence, R. I., a week from tomorrow. Shortly thereafter he is booked for a swing into upward of a dozen states where left wing organizations more often than not will be prominent among his sponsors.

Disavowed by Truman

Over the week end Mr. Truman disavowed Wallace's New York City speech on foreign relations but with an explanation that he considered the secretary's rights to propose a foreign policy widely interpreted as different from that of the administration.

Mr. Truman told his news conference last Thursday that he approved of Wallace's whole speech. There was an explosion of inquiry and protest at home and abroad by persons who believed Wallace's case-upon-Russia sentiments were in conflict with the be-firm-with-Russia policy statement made this month by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes in Germany.

Political Blunder

Mr. Truman is being charged here with a serious political blunder in permitting the incident to occur at all. Persons well acquainted with Byrnes believe he would have resigned if the President had failed to repudiate the Wallace statement of foreign policy. With Byrnes' resignation would have collapsed the effective but still limited Republican-Democratic collaboration in foreign policy.

Wide Itinerary

In addition to the Rhode Island engagement, Spierman has arranged for Wallace to speak during October in New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas, Iowa and Washington.

The schedule was subject to expansion when it last was under discussion. On Nov. 3 Wallace is due in Chile to represent Mr. Truman at the inauguration of President-elect Gabriel Gonzalez Videla.

Wallace's associates said he might have something to say today or this week about the foreign political speech.

Car Industry Behind by 10 Million Autos

By DAVID J. WILKIE

Associated Press Automotive Editor DETROIT, Sept. 16 (AP)—The automobile industry will have to build at least 10,000,000 more passenger cars before it will return to the pre-war balance between supply and demand.

That means the day of prompt delivery of new cars still is about two years away.

And if the scarcity of virtually all things that go into the assembling of an automobile are not relieved within the next few months the car famine will be even further prolonged.

Deaths Continue

Generally the car makers expect to feel the effects of basic materials shortages for at least another six months.

Granted, however, that the flow of materials into their plants can be reestablished on a normal basis within that time they can turn out 3,000,000 passenger units in 1947 and a like total in the following year.

That would be more passenger vehicles than the industry ever made in two years, but nowhere is there any doubt that level can be reached if material and manpower are made available.

Similarly there is no doubt in industry circles that manpower will become a major problem in the interim materials shortages are overcome.

More Labor Needed

Raising output levels to 3,000,000 passenger cars a year requires approximately 20 per cent more hourly rated workers than currently are employed. The industry needs much basic material as has been available.

In estimating the backlog of demand the motor manufacturers figure that instead of cutting into it during the first 12 months of postwar operations they actually have fallen farther behind.

Since July 1, 1945, the assembly plants have turned out about 1,200,000 passenger automobiles. More than 2,000,000 have been ordered from the highways to be scrapped during the same period.

Postwar output to date just about equals the production of the assembly plants for April, May and June, 1941.

Gone 28 Years, Voice Regained By Truth Serum

GOLDENDALE, Wash., Sept. 16

(AP)—A hair-raising ride with a stunt pilot failed to do it, and hypnosis had no effect, but 21-year-old Mark Smith, Killebuck county farmer, today credited sodium pentothal, the so-called "truth serum," with restoring his voice, lost 28 years ago in a World War I German artillery barrage in France.

And at the veterans hospital at Vancouver, Wash., where Smith was treated, Dr. Ben E. Grant, commanding officer, verified that sodium pentothal was administered, and added it was the first case in his knowledge of its use in restoring speech.

It was good news for Smith's 47-year-old mother, Sarah, too, because her eyesight is dimming and she was having increasing difficulty in reading her son's scratchpad notes to her.

Timber Fire

BOISE, Sept. 16 (UP)—Approximately 600 acres of slash-covered yellow pine timber northeast of Boise were blackened today by a fire which was brought under control yesterday. The Boise national forest office said the fire, on Daguerre creek eight miles northeast of Boise, was fought by 190 firefighters.

was presented a blizzard from Lions International for his 100 per cent record as club secretary for the past year at a meeting of the local club. Members were invited to attend the Gooding-Lions football game as guests of the high school student body by Coach Elmer Parke. The invitation was in appreciation of the gift of a section of bleacher seats.

A letter was read to the club expressing appreciation of a girl who had received eye glasses from the Lions. A report on the Idaho Lions breakfast was given. Guests of the club were William Dunham, Wade Miller, Chester Palmer, Donald Stroh, Howard Glaser.
