

Truman, Wallace Make "No Deals"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—The White House said today President Truman made "no deal" with Secretary of Commerce Wallace in return for Wallace's decision to keep quiet for the duration of the Paris peace conference.

Meanwhile President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes held a 20-minute "conversation" by Washington-Paris teletype today, but what they said to each other was not disclosed. It was the first direct exchange between the two since Secretary Wallace criticized Byrnes' foreign policy in a speech last week.

Reporters asked Charles G. Ross, the President's press secretary, about some news stories that mentioned a "deal" and a "this for that" arrangement with Wallace.

"That is absolutely untrue," Ross declared. "There was no deal or anything resembling a deal and I can say that from first hand knowledge."

Ross was present during the latter part of a two and a half hour conference yesterday between Mr. Truman and the commerce secretary, which ended with Wallace still a cabinet member. It was at this meeting that Wallace agreed to keep his speeches and statements until the Paris conference ends.

In response to questions, Ross said he was unable to say what led to Wallace's decision. He said the secretary was the proper person to discuss that.

One report said that the "something in return" Wallace was supposed to have extracted from the chief executive was an implied promise to promote some changes Wallace advocated in foreign policy.

Ross disclosed that Mr. Truman had tried to recall Secretary of State Byrnes to the White House this morning but "atmospheric disturbances" prevented.

Ross said he is known here, Mr. Truman has not been in direct contact with the cabinet since the morning but "atmospheric disturbances" prevented.

Newlyweds Think Trailer Fine at U. of I.

Robin O'Neill, Spokane, junior at the University of Idaho, gets breakfast in his trailer parked near the campus before dashing off to an eight o'clock class. Mrs. O'Neill, the former Mary Burke, Jerome, is a bride and her cooking draws a big smile from her husband. O'Neill is one of about 100 students who have brought trailers to the university to provide ready-made housing. (Staff engraving)

Vets at Moscow Won't Admit Any Discomforts in Trailers

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW, Sept. 19.—What are the inconveniences of living in a trailer while going to college? Well, off-hand, we can't think of any.

The spirit in which war veterans are taking the crowded conditions at the University of Idaho was summed up in these words by Robin O'Neill, Spokane, former marine, who has parked his trailer with an attractive bride in it on a vacant lot near the university campus. Of course, there are inconveniences, but the O'Neills are not admitting any.

For instance, there is the lack of shower facilities in the trailer. But in this respect, the O'Neills are lucky. He is a Kappa Sig and she is an Alpha Phi. When they go visiting at their respective homes, they frequently take along towels and soap.

Their folks stocked them up with canned fruit, but they have no place to put it. It is still "stored" in their car, and they keep the car carefully locked, the sugar and fruit situation being what it is.

The O'Neill trailer is really a deluxe model. It has three "rooms"—living and dining combined, kitchen and bathroom combined, and bedroom. No space is wasted, however, and sometimes in the morning Robin O'Neill is shaving, he finds himself looking into a pancake burner welded by his wife instead of the washroom mirror.

Soldiers Given Light Fine, Get Dog Pets Back

CAMP KILMER, N. J., Sept. 19.—Five soldiers who faced summary courts martial for bringing dogs back from Europe soon will be with their pets again.

The soldiers, who pleaded guilty to charges of violating army regulations against the movement of pets on troop transports, were fined $20 each yesterday and sent from this debarcation point to army barracks.

Four of the dogs went home ahead of their masters. The fifth, a small white mongrel, which saved the bombing of Naples, left with his master, Sgt. William E. Lee of Shrewsbury, N. J.

Blades Lee, the soldiers, as listed by the camp public relations office, were: Pfc. John J. Waldron of Elmhurst, N. J.; Sgt. Ralph J. Marnon of Hartford, Conn.; Sgt. David A. Barr of Sidney, Ohio; and Sgt. Lawrence Weikens of Philadelphia.

The army ran similar tests on guinea pigs. Their lives went on just the same.

Enter Meat Controls To Avert Closing of Mines, Lewis Asks

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—C. Dean McNeal, head of the OPA food price division, said today that "at the moment there is no plan to modify the recent order rolling back meat menu prices to June 30 levels."

McNeal talked to reporters after a conference with George H. Le Sueur, chairman of the government relations committee of the National Restaurant Association, and John L. Hennessy, chairman of the food committee of the American Hotel Association.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—John L. Lewis called on the price control board today to remove price controls on meat, saying that mines in three states are closing because miners cannot pay meat.

The United Mine Workers' chief told the board in a telegram that "grave unrest" is spreading throughout all the mining areas, because miners "cannot perform the laborious and hazardous work" of producing coal on a diet of cereals and vegetables.

Three states in which the mines are shutting down are Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky, in the heart of the rich coal belt.

The union leader's telegram reached the board today. Lewis asked the second day of its hearings for restoration of price ceilings to dairy products.

Yesterday was the deadline for the board to announce its decision. But letters and telegrams still were arriving at the board during the day appeared remote.

Milk, cheese, butter and other dairy products have been free of control since OPA lifted June 30.

The board's decision was expected to prevent any disruption in shipments of milk, butter and cheese.

"Pete" Can't See Furor at Wallace Talk

The demand for power lines to run from the dam to Pocatello and beyond has been "shelved in the department of interior for years."
"If they put the power line in, they could send power to the south," said the Phoenix Times, "and could build up an industry in Idaho that could compete favorably with the entire west," he said.
Again switching topics, Leguine stated:
"We are tending toward war. We spent four years fighting and now in one year we are getting ready to scuttle our program for peace and heading toward war again."
After turning to practical politics, the congressman declared that the Democrats in Idaho "have got to poll 300,000 votes this year. If we can reach this mark, we can elect the whole team. We've fallen below that mark in the past years, but we've got to do it this time," he concluded.
Another speaker, C. C. Sullivan, state superintendent of public instruction, declared that, owing to the wartime scarcity, there are now 600 teachers in Idaho who hold only emergency certificates.
Because so many of these teachers are "well-known" for their jobs because, in some instances, they have been out of touch with the school situation for so long, Sullivan hopes to be able to reduce their numbers each year until there are only certified teachers instructing in Idaho.
Sullivan advocated a "more equal distribution" of tax money to institutions of higher education, but declared "I think this money should come from places other than taxes on homes, from which people are so now taxed."
At the close of the meeting was attributed to lack of "publicists" that had been done, indicated Roy Eames, Eba, chairman of the rally.

The proper street number and a mailbox is in order.
All this is pretty luminous to O'Neill, who fought in the muck and mire of Guadalcanal in the early days of the American occupation. The son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O'Neill, Spokane, he was graduated from West Valley high school in 1941, and in the ordinary course of events would have graduated from the university in 1945. But war interrupted his education in business administration, and he is glad to be getting back at it under any circumstances.
He was married Aug. 3 this year at Jerome, to Mary Burke, daughter of Mrs. Edna Burke, Jerome. Mrs. O'Neill was a freshman last year at the university, but she has turned to a secretary.
More than 100 trailers are parked on university lots and at tourist camps. In addition the university has set up a 100-unit trailer city for veterans.

U. S. Anthem Being Taught To Germans

By TOM REEDY
FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 19 (AP)—German children are learning to sing "The Star Spangled Banner." It's tough going, but they are trying.

Air force officers have added a German version of the U. S. national anthem to recreation courses for German youth, sandwiching the song between baseball and football.

Trifle Different
As a substitute for some of the songs the German boys and girls used to sing, the anthem presents some problems. Where it fits the music in English with ten short words for the first line "Oh, say can you see" comes out in German: "Oh, sag, kannst du beim Licht des fruchten morgenrotes sehen" and what started out as "What do we proudly hail" by the twilight's last gleaming" comes out:

"Was so stolz wir grüestens wachend des zwielichtes letztem schimmer."

The American flag flies over the fields on the children sing the anthem.

Inaugurated Student
Lieut. Bob Metzger, Natchez, Miss., was the first to try the stunt in his classes for several hundred children at fourth air force base. The idea has caught on in other air force installations which led the way in conducting programs for German youth.

Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, American commander-in-chief in Germany, recently instructed all units to conduct similar programs. One of the general's close associates said that the next step would be an order making it compulsory for all Americans in the theater to make some contribution of time and effort toward educating German youth.

Metzger said the job was difficult but certainly not impossible despite all the propaganda about Hitler's influence on the younger generation.

Not Convinced
"They aren't convinced yet we won the war," the Mississippian said frankly, "but they are willing to see what we are like. And the boys are here on the playing fields see the very best Americans there are in Europe, the healthy, strong Americans who are not chasing around the streets getting into trouble."

Murtaugh Students
MURTAUGH, Sept. 19—Murtaugh college include Aileen Barker, Kenneth Briggs, Walter Morrison, Keith Penlayson and Ralph Thomson, all enrolled at the University of Idaho, Moscow; Barbara Littlefield, Albion State Normal, and Truman Biel, University of Idaho southern branch, Pocatello.

Sanborn Asks Candidates to Reveal Stand

HAGERMAN, Sept. 19 (AP)—John Sanborn, Republican candidate for congress from the second district, last night demanded that Democratic senatorial and congressional candidates "make clear their stands on international policy."

"In this crisis of international relationship," Sanborn said in an interview here, "when a third World war may actually be in the making the voters of Idaho have a right to know how the candidates stand."

"I have repeatedly stated that I am for a strong firm foreign policy demanding justice for the small nations of Europe and international security for the world, and now I call upon my opponent and his colleagues on the Democratic ticket to make their positions equally clear."

Sanborn, who is a graduate of political science from Columbia university, added:

"I want to know, and the voters of Idaho have an undeniable right to know, whether the candidates on the Democratic ticket propose to support the appeasement policy advocated by Secretary Wallace or whether they favor the firm stand that is favored by Secretary Byrnes. Even if they are in the same uncertain vacillating state of mind as President Truman, the voters are entitled to know it."

In 110 recordings it was discovered that mosquitoes have language all their own—a tone for danger, another for mating, a cry to express anger. None of these sounds is audible to the human ear. The buzzing that can be heard is made by the beating of mosquito wings.

Wallace Case Reveals U. S. Looks Abroad

By JAMES D. WHITE
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—The growing uproot over the Henry Wallace stand on American foreign policy illustrates, if nothing else, how terribly much more important foreign affairs are becoming in the conduct of this nation.

Whether you agree or disagree with Mr. Wallace, or with his critics, the change has been very accelerated by the war and underlies the whole situation. There is a sense of urgency, perhaps a little exaggerated, but almost universally recognized, that sharpens the arguments from every side.

Heard of Bomb
To illustrate 15 years ago this country heard that a bomb had exploded on some railway tracks in Mukden, in Manchuria. Then came news that the Japanese army had used this as an excuse to take the city of Mukden, and that the city of Mukden, World War II was in the works.

Although Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson formally condemned this act of aggression, Manchuria was a long way from being an American people as a whole let it slide. Today we know that Manchuria is not nearly so far away, that the oceans about us are no wider than the range of a guided missile, and Americans are not nearly so inclined to let things slide. They grope for the right way to keep them from sliding, realizing they cannot let it happen again, and differing only as to how.

Burden Imposed
The fact that we are the world's wealthiest and most powerful country thrusts upon us the burden of leadership among smaller or weaker countries who look to us for the cues by which they shape their own policies one way or another.

The mere fact that we retain the world's largest reserve of technology in this technological age makes this so. Already we have demonstrated twice that if anyone wants to start a technological war we can decisively outdo them. This makes us, whether we are ready for it or not, the natural leader.

Many foreigners still entertain grave fears that by habit and constitution we are not ready for this. As for ourselves, we are the problem of proving that we are ready for world leadership, and our problem is also one of proving it without sacrificing the liberties we treasure.

Girl, Boy Unhurt In Bike Accidents

Two traffic accidents involving youthful cyclists and cars were entered on Twin Falls police records Wednesday afternoon and evening. At 5:08 p. m., a car driven by Alta I. Ortel, route 2, Filer, was involved in a collision near the city garage with a bicycle ridden by a young boy, Carlos Baros, 220 Sixth avenue west. The youth was not hurt. At 12:25 p. m., Alton Young notified police a school girl, riding a bicycle, had run into his car which was being backed from a curb in the business district. She was not hurt, he said. Her name was not given.

8 Apartments Ready Friday for Veterans

Eight more apartments at the veterans' housing project at Washington courts will be ready for occupancy Friday, Dale Wakem, apartment manager, announced. Opening of the apartments had been delayed by the lack of stoves, he said. Stoves that are being installed were loaned from another Magic Valley housing project in which the houses are not erected.

Day Nursery Gets Support From Schools

Continued rapid progress in the Salvation Army building fund campaign is reported by the Twin Falls division. General Chairman H. O. Lauterbach, division captain, reported near-quota results from canvassing Mrs. Doris Stradley, county superintendent of public instruction, expressed support of the effort to provide a day nursery for Twin Falls, which is one of the chief objectives of the drive. The campaign, which has a $25,000 goal, is designed to raise funds for a general headquarters for the Salvation Army, which will include the nursery.

"There is a great need for a nursery school in Twin Falls," said Mrs. Stradley. "There are so many small children playing in the streets without supervision, and children whose parents are working are many times left alone."

"The children from two to six years of age are in the formative period. The need of training and supervision at this time is more important than in later life. A nursery school operated by the Salvation Army would be a step in the right direction," she stated.

It was also noted that a survey in the warehouse district showed that 45 children of pre-school age should have been in nursery school, and this survey was made in 1945 when the population was less than at present. The official added that children who have attended nursery school are better equipped for entering public schools.

Encouraging reports from canvassers include one from C. J. Childs, Piler, who as committee chairman assisted by Mrs. Childs, raised substantial sum in that community. Charles P. Larsen, head of the first team in division 10, reported 425 calls out of a $500 quota, and many contacts not reached yet.

Episcopals Urge Belief in Russia

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19 (AP)—An appeal for "faith and fellowship among the Russian people and the United States," given the thought of war with the Soviet Union, was urged in a resolution adopted today by the house of bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church.

The motion was passed by the 133-member house of bishops on the 19th day of the group's 58th triennial general convention which opens tomorrow. It was sent immediately to the 600-member house of deputies for concurrence in order to become an official act of the convention.

Earlier both houses had passed a resolution endorsing the idea of a world federation of democracies as a stronger group for preserving peace and order than the United Nations.

The bishops' resolution on Russia was presented by Bishop William Brewster of the diocese of Missouri and asserted that difference between the U. S. and Russia must be resolved.

"To conclude that the only way in which these tensions between the Soviet Union and the United States can be resolved is by war would be calamitous, and to contemplate such a war in the name of religion, unthinkable," the resolution said.

Slavs Planning Archbishop Trial

BELGRADE, Sept. 19 (AP)—The Yugoslav government has decided to prosecute plans today for the expected war crimes trial of Archbishop Alois Stepinac, leader of 2,000,000 Croatian Catholics, which many officials believe may create more international interest than the Mihailovich trial.

(Pope Pius XII dispatched Major Joseph Hurley, bishop of St. Augustine, Fla., from Vatican City to Belgrade to investigate Stepinac's arrest. Hurley is acting apostolic nuncio to Belgrade.)

Stepinac was under arrest in an undisclosed place, facing indictment on charges of "crimes against the people and the country." The 48-year-old archbishop was expected to make a strong defense.

Efforts to organize the National Farmers union in Twin Falls county will be accelerated here Oct. 1. James C. Patton, Denver, Colo., president of the farm organization, will appear at a county-wide meeting here at 2 p. m. to organize the National Union Farmer, said Thursday while in Twin Falls with H. D. Rolph, Joplin, Mo., vice-president of the organization.

Patton expects to stay in Magic Valley more than a month organizing National Farmers union chapters. He said that Twin Falls county would be organized first and that Jerome, Gooding, Latah, Cassia and Blaine counties also would be organized.

"There is a great need for the formation of cooperatives among the farmers and that marketing, supply, consumer and service cooperatives would be formed in Magic Valley when the movement is started," he said.

First County in South Twin Falls county is the first southern Idaho county to be actively organized in this winter's drive, Patton declared. A few chapters in the Coeur d'Alene area are active.

GOP Official Under Attack By Cavanagh

BOISE, Sept. 19 (AP)—State Democratic Chairman Dan J. Cavanagh said today that Grant L. Ambrose, secretary of the state Republican committee and county deputy prosecutor, "should act as his own house in order before criticizing the attorney general for allegedly lax enforcement of liquor laws."

Ambrose in a speech here Monday night said that the state attorney general was responsible because "the people of Idaho are flagrantly and openly violating the liquor laws."

Cavanagh suggested that Ambrose prosecute such violators in Ada county.

"He is the assistant prosecuting attorney of Ada county and he has duty to prosecute violators of those laws," said Cavanagh. "If he knows it is a criminal offense for his office to refuse or neglect to prosecute those who are violating these laws."

Cavanagh quoted a section of law which provides "prosecuting attorneys of the various counties are charged with the primary duty of prosecuting violators of the liquor laws."

Survey Shows Rooms Crisis In New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP)—What hotel men call the worst hotel crisis in New York City's history was under way today by a survey of hotels, Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. and even Turkish baths.

"The travelers' aid society said the influx of visitors to the city had gone 'out of control,' and that large hotels in the city could hold for at least a month, small hotels for at least a week, Turkish baths, were being used for shelter, and many were seeking refuge in subways and railroad stations."

One spokesman said "the trouble seems to be, now that the war is over, that foreign business is picking up fast while the wartime domestic business has nearly leveled off."

Other causes listed by the harassed hotel men were the shipping strike, which prolonged business days of men attempting to receive deliveries, the general upswing in business, the pleasant weather which attracted many tourists, and the fact that tourists to New York, the premiere here of United Nations personnel, and other persons had been given general housing shelter which had made hotel spaces of city residents.

Persons who have booked rooms ahead arrive to find the person in the room cannot leave because he has no place to go. While they have relinquished the war-time five day limit, hotels said they did not bodily eject guests.

Oregon Town Holding Breath Over Veteran's Gold Discovery

PINE CREEK, Ore., Sept. 19 (AP)—This little village on the California line near the Nevada border today was holding its breath lest it be overwhelmed with a gold rush in the wake of a new discovery—a discovery by a former soldier following the footsteps of an old timer who came within 15 feet of the vein after 30 years of futile prospecting.

The discovery was reported by William Smith, 35-year-old ex-G.I., who followed a hunch after George Cline, now dead, came out of Alameda, Calif., years ago in a vain quest.

Smith, who had prospected the region before going to war, might be said to have inherited the thirst for buried gold, as his mother had prospected this country before him.

Frost Hasn't Injured Fruit, Wilted Spuds

Frost which spotted Twin Falls county Wednesday evening did little to speed the potato harvest and damaged no fruit. County Agent Jack P. Smith and Franklin Orr, Piler, Mayfair Packers owner, said Thursday.

Smith said the frost Wednesday night was not severe enough to wilt the potato plants. He said that the frost throughout the county was "spotted" and that some areas apparently weren't affected at all.

Orr declared the frost did the apple crop good, giving the fruit more color. He said that peaches, pears and other fruits already have been picked and that apples are the only fruit left on the trees. Orr said that the picking of apples would get underway the first of next week.

A killing frost now would scarcely hurt the farm laborer, but plants and that they will continue to grow. A clear cold night does more toward wilting the plant, he said.

The Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C. was erected at a cost of $3,000,000.

Bees Need Victory Tonight To Take Penman; Arnold, Kasparovich to Hurl Contest

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 19 (AP)—The 1946 Pioneer league championship will go to the Salt Lake City Bees tonight when the Twin Falls Cowboys' ace hurler, Jim Arnold, can stem the tide and come up with a win in the final game.

The Bees won their third game in the playoff series last night with a wild and woolly 13 to 10 victory over the Cardinals. The Cardinals' ace hurler, Len Kasparovich, originally scheduled to pitch in the fourth game, was replaced by Bob Clemons and is scheduled to hurl what may be the last contest of the series tonight.

Approximately 4,000, thoroughly aroused spectators are expected to be on hand for the 40 minutes of baseball that should be the time no better than schoolboy performance.

Bob Clemons, a free-standing all-season hurler who won the first win of the title series, again went the distance but it was probably his worst game of the whole year—certainly the worst he has won.

Best Bonomi whiffed. To end the game he fanned Bert Bonomi with two men on base in the ninth after the Cowboys' first out previously had smashed a triple, double and single.

The Dons advanced hotly against the Bees in the eighth. The Dons' first out was a triple, double and single. The Dons' first out was a triple, double and single.

Jerome Coach Predicts Win Over Shoshone; Others Pessimistic

"If we win, we'll be tickled to death," was Coach Hank Powers' view of his Bruins' chances against the Shoshone tonight. He pointed out that the Bruins' high hopes were at 8 p.m. Friday.

Powers was pessimistic. "The team is pretty weak but we'll play a better game than we did last week," he said.

On the other side of that coin, Don Requa, coach of the Shoshone, was confident. "We'll take Shoshone because we're too tough for them," was his confident statement.

Louis Scores Win In Near Record Time

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Sept. 19 (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis kept his promise last night to make his scrap with Tami Maurelio "a quick one" but he kept the promise so well probably even he was surprised.

He saved the roof in on the lumpy Bronx barkeeper so completely and so rapidly with a fancy display of all his gaudy artillery, that he chalked up the second fastest knockout in modern heavyweight championship history.

It took him just 1 minute of 9 seconds to turn the trick—to beat the record man from right hand and left.

But for two right hand "crunches" he missed by a slim margin. A few seconds earlier, he might have been equalled the 1:04 it took him to stiffen the second fastest knockout in modern heavyweight championship history.

Tami walked out as he'd been expected, with his fists flailing. And one of the very first flails—the first punch of the fight in fact—caught Joe flush on the mouth, and for a moment there was a possibility that the lagoon tender might be the loser.

Joe staggered halfway across the ring. There is no doubt he was hurt by this right-hand hammer that tore into his face. He bounced into the ropes, he slipped, he staggered slowly to meet the rushing challenge of the dark-haired cloutier who had himself a record of 51 knockouts in 77 professional affairs.

There was no doubt that when he shot back a right hand, he had one to-night after Tami had staggered him once and later shot him up with the right hand. He still packed all the old dynamite he ever exploded.

He caught up with Tami in a hurry and began belaboring him with his Sunday shoes. Tami tried to hold on, but Joe wasn't having any. He took loose simply by dragging both hands to the body so deep that only the tips of his gloves were showing. He drilled a right hand over, and a cash open-mouthed Tami lay eye open, brought the red dripping.

Finally, in a neutral corner, he fought the range and jabbed a right hand flush on the chin. Tami went under like a building that has lost its floor blocks on to the ground. He tried to get up at five, went down again, and took nine.

He might as well have taken the entire act of numbers then, because Joe had the paying teller's window open and was ready to take the money. After punching the barkeeper around the ring once more, Joe again got within shooting distance of the bullseye, in the same neutral corner.

Tami probably never knew what hit him after the first couple of blows. It was impossible to count them, they came so fast and so close range. Tami started to topple like a tired tree in the corner as he could get, seeming to be trying to get clear out of the ring to escape the onslaught.

He got to one knee at seven, but couldn't make it the rest of the way. Tami was in a corner as Referee Donovan reached him.

The average estimated teacher's salary in elementary and high schools in the United States in 1945-46 was $1,975.

Meat Pricing Starts Move To Kill OPA

By LEE HANNIFY
WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP) — The meat shortage, coupled with OPA's price controls on restaurant meals, today spurred congressional demands for an earlier-than-scheduled abolition of OPA.

Sen. Alexander M. Wiley, R., Wis., denounced OPA for its "high-handed" action in ordering restaurants to push prices of meat courses back to June 30 levels despite their own higher meat costs.

Another Blow
"Your agency's action will smash another body blow at the American stomach, just as your meat controls have caused a meat famine," Wiley wrote Price Chief Paul Porter. "It is one more reason why I, for one, will urge at the opening of the 80th Congress that your agency be abolished outright."

OPA now is scheduled to expire June 30. Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., an influential Republican leader, has called for elimination of all except rent controls by April 1.

Wiley unleashed his blast at OPA amid these other developments:
1. The agriculture department halted allocations of meat for export in a move to conserve all possible supplies for the American people during the lean months ahead.

Price Boost Looms
2. Merrill Gille, chief of OPA's restaurant price branch, said the agency was ready to consider a price increase for restaurants if they can prove they deserve one.

"If sufficient evidence were presented," Gille said in an interview, "OPA might even grant more to restaurants than just an allowance for increased meat costs."

But so far, he said, the OPA industry advisory committee has presented no information to show it is not earning a profit equal that in the 1935-36 period, the yardstick for granting increases.
