Stassen to Speak Here Oct. 8th

Former Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota will speak Tuesday, Oct. 8, at Twin Falls, it was announced last night at a meeting of the Republican central committee here.

Will Talk Here

Clyde Musgrave, Flier, county chairman, said complete details of Stassen's appearance, said the big open rally here should be ready for announcement later, on plans for Stassen's talk here.

"Twin Falls will be Stassen's only stop in Idaho on his western tour, and all Republican leaders throughout the state are expected to be there to attend the rally," J. B. Thayne, executive secretary of the county organization, said.

Tentative plans for Stassen's visit include a luncheon and a political rally in the evening, Thayne said.

Stassen is prominently mentioned as a possible GOP presidential nominee in 1948. He was a naval captain during the war and gained much prestige as being one of the country's youngest governors. He was a delegate to the United Nations initial conference and is a strong proponent of American participation in an international form of government.

Wendell L. Dill, who was defeated by Franklin D. Roosevelt in the 1940 election, was the last Republican national politician to speak in Twin Falls.

Thayne said that it is hoped that all the state and congressional Republican candidates will be able to attend the rally.

Fully 50 per cent of the county's precincts now are completely organized under the sector captain plan.

James O. Eastman, Flier, district chairman for eight Magic Valley counties, and a member of the state GOP executive committee, will be in Twin Falls to organize his area will start soon.

Kaiser Denies Great Profits

On War Jobs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser, who is defending himself against charges of fabulous profit-making, testified today that one of his largest wartime shipbuilding enterprises had paid no income taxes because it had a "net loss in every year."

At the same time, he said and partly industrially emphatically denied that Kaiser's interest in "excessive or unreasonable" fees or profits in constructing shipyards and other plant facilities for the government.

"It is obvious that the fees or profits of the Kaiser companies were not unreasonable since there were no fees or profits on the facilities," he told the Senate subcommittee on the committee.

Kaiser appeared before the committee during the testimony to several questions asked by committee counsel during and after his opening statement.

He said that one of his firms, Kaiser Co., Inc., actually lost more than $100,000 despite a committee estimate that it made about $4,000,000 in shipbuilding. The overall loss, he said, was suffered because it was necessary to build a steel plant to supply the materials.

105,600 Sugar Stamps Stolen; Utah Pair Held

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 24 (AP)—Enforcement agents here today said the arrest of a Salt Lake City couple resulted from an investigation of the alleged theft of 105,600 ration stamps, each good for the purchase of five pounds of sugar.

The stamps were missing, said Merrill C. Faux, OPA chief enforcement attorney, from the Continental Bank and Trust company, where they had been stored prior to shipment to the verification center at Denver.

The pair was having two $250 bonds.

"I received a sheet of sugar stamps mailed by an anonymous person, stating that Bert Pope, Salt Lake City, was selling them. This led to the wife who was employed as a janitor at the Continental Bank building and admitted to the Continental Bank and Trust company's lack of knowledge.

"Later evidence disclosed that Pope had assisted his wife in her theft of stamps from the bank and that the stamps had been sold to 105,600 stamps had disappeared."

Real War Threat Faces World, Stalin Says, Calls A-Bombs One Peril at Temporary, Indecisive

Steps Begun for Federal Power in Southern Idaho

BOISE, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Bonneville power administration has been directed by Interior Secretary J. A. Krug to prepare "to assume the responsibility for power marketing" of federally generated electricity in the southern Idaho area.

C. Girard Davidson, assistant secretary, said here today the BPA was instructed "to include in its 1946 budget estimates of funds required for the transmission lines, marketing studies and development work in that section of the Gem state."

Davidson said Krug's action "follows a closely numbered request for early and adequate power supplies to develop Idaho phosphates and other resources."

The assistant secretary — on a one-day visit here — said Krug asked that the BPA be directed to "apply the principle of a uniform power rate throughout the entire power area including the Snake basin."

Davidson said the department of interior previously asked the reclamation bureau and BPA to make a joint study of southern Idaho to provide for the needed development of the upper Snake basin through the construction of multiple-purpose dams.

The last action was determined by the bureau of reclamation and through the availability of the lowest power from the Columbia river system."

The BPA, Davidson declared, has been directed "to proceed immediately with planning surveys and construction of transmission lines connecting these plants to load centers and also interconnecting Idaho with the Columbia river power."

Davidson said "it is planned that the bureau of reclamation will be reimbursed for all power delivered on a basis which will continue to assist in the expansion of irrigation costs not carried by water users. Thus the Bonneville power administration will add means for lower cost power development of Idaho resources."

Stalin Expressed Views in Answer to Nine Written Questions Submitted by Alexander

MOSCOW, Sept. 24 (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin said today he could see no real danger of a new war and expressed his unqualified belief in the possibility of long and friendly collaboration between the Soviet Union and the western democracies, despite ideological differences.

At the same time he said the United States now held a threat to peace in "monopolist possession" of atomic weapons, but that such monopolist possession could not long be maintained. In any event, he said, wars could not be won with atomic bombs.

He also charged that the retention of United States military forces in China threatened peace.

Stalin expressed these views in answer to nine written questions submitted by Alexander Werth, Moscow correspondent of the London Sunday Times.

The Soviet leader said he did not believe the United States and Britain were trying to encircle Russia with a capitalist ring and could not do so "even if they so desired." He said Russia had no intention of using Germany either against western Europe or against the United States, since this would not be in the interest of the Soviet Union.

He called for "democratization and democratization" of Germany as one step toward a "stable and lasting peace."

"One cannot strongly differentiate between the hus and cry about a 'new war,' which is taking place now and the real danger of a 'new war,' which does not exist at present," Stalin said.

Stalin's reply to Werth were his first answers to any foreign correspondent's letter since March 22, when he told Associated Press Correspondent Eddy Gilmore he believed in the United Nations as an instrument of peace. At that time he told Gilmore he believed "either the nations nor their armies are seeking another war," and he urged a campaign to expose "war-mongers."

Werth asked Stalin if he believed the actual monopoly possession of the atomic bomb by the United States of America is one of the principal threats to peace.

Ballistic A-Bomb

"I do not believe the atomic bomb to be as serious a force as certain politicians are inclined to regard it," the prime minister replied. "Atomic bombs are intended for immediate use in the event of war, but they cannot decide the outcome of war, since atomic bombs are by no means sufficient for this purpose."

He added that there were two remedies to such a threat: Monopoly possession could not last long, and use of the atom bomb would be prohibited.

Werth, stating he was using the word "monopoly" in the sense of the word of Commerce Henry A. Wallace in his recent foreign policy speech in New York, asked Stalin whether western Europe and the United States could be assured that Soviet policies would not be directed against them.

The prime minister replied that use of Germany as a weapon against the west was excluded both by the Potsdam agreements and by the Soviet mutual assistance pact with Britain and France against German aggression. He added that Germany would not be directed against them.

Filer Gambling Case Probe Not Abandoned

Investigation is continuing into possible criminal aspects of three Filer gambling cases, according to Prosecuting Attorney E. M. Sweeney, although the case against Sheriff W. Lowery was closed Monday afternoon with burning of the last pieces of the devices involved.

Lowery, building custodian at the court house, burned the last pieces of gambling equipment brought from Filer after it had been confiscated under a justice of the peace court order.

After placing the last part of the equipment in the furnace, Lowery reported to the sheriff that all of the equipment had been burned by him. Lowery, and the sheriff said that an official return to that effect will be made to the court of Justice H. L. Leavelle at Filer.

The final piece of equipment confiscated to the flames by Custodian Lowery was the wooden roulette wheel, which had created some controversy because it was missing from the roulette table which appeared in a Times-News photograph taken at the time the equipment was brought to the court house by the sheriff and his deputies. The sheriff pointed out that this wheel, which he might have rolled off the table, was brought to the court house by the sheriff and his deputies.

Turning to the prosecution procedure, which, up to this time, involved only the confiscation of equipment as provided by state law, Sheriff Sweeney said that the position of gambling equipment is not in fact an offense and that the only offense is the possession of the equipment under a court order.

mean a departure of the Soviet Union from its fundamental interests.

Stalin described as "absurd" any thought that policies of communist parties in other nations were dictated by Moscow. He added that he believed "communist" parties in other nations were "not a country," particularly such a country as the Soviet Union, was "fully possible." Thus, he said, he believed the future possibilities for collaboration among the nations could increase.

The league said it was checking the circumstances before taking action.

In an official bulletin released tonight, Octavio Rodriguez, league secretary, said:

"The players Mark Lanier, Lou Klein and Harry Feldman abandoned their Veracruz team in the port of Tampico, and it is not known up to this moment what motives guided them."

An afternoon paper here reported that Lanier had left the team after an argument with Chico Gomez, and suggested he might finish the season with the Mexico City Red Sox.

None of the three played in today's extra Veracruz-Tampico game. They were not available at their Mexico City homes.
