

Reds Gaining In Producing Coal, Metals

By REMBERT JAMES
STALINO, Ukrainian Republic, Sept. 15 (Delayed AP)—The Soviet Union's strenuous efforts to restore coal, steel and pig iron production in its war-ravaged Donets river basin has begun to show results. The center of the heavy industrial production is the Stalino region where, according to figures furnished by local government officials, the over-all production of all industries during the first six months of 1946 averaged 43.2 per cent compared with 1940.

Percentages Given
The Stalino district's output during the same six months for steel was 40.4 per cent of the pre-war figure; for coal, 44 per cent; pig iron, 40.2 per cent, and rolled metals, 39 per cent.

Before the war, the figures of local government officials showed, the Donets basin was the most important coal producer in the Soviet Union, accounting for approximately 40 per cent of the nation's total. Of the Donets basin coal, the Stalino region produced 60 per cent, the Voroshilovsk region, 30 per cent and the Rostov region, 10 per cent.

Reporters Tour Area
Twelve foreign correspondents from Moscow, on the third anniversary of the basin's liberation, made the first tour of the region in years by foreign reporters, talking to numerous government and industrial leaders. Before seeing Stalino they visited Voroshilovsk.

During a news conference the chairman of the Stalino regional planning commission talked freely of his district's needs and gains since the Germans caused 20,000,000 rubles damage here and killed or displaced half of its 3,500,000 pre-war population. "The ruble has a diplomatic exchange rate of eight and a third cents."

Bickel Division Hearing Listed For October 15

Public hearing before the county commissioners on the proposed annexation of the east part of Bickel common school district to Murtaugh district and for the west share to Hansen was set Monday for 2 p.m. Oct. 15, at the county courthouse.

Doris Stradley, county superintendent of public instruction, published legal notice Tuesday of the receipt of petitions favoring the double merger and of the scheduled hearing.

This is the projected school consolidation which was defeated in district court here last week on several technicalities. Errors listed which voided the elections in three districts which were first scheduled for last spring were:

That proper publication of election notices were not posted by the county superintendent last spring; that the order of elections as announced by the commissioners was defective, and that the commissioners had failed to register a recommendation about the merger.

ICC Ends Hearing On License Here

A joint board of the interstate commerce commission Tuesday conducted and concluded a hearing at the Twin Falls city hall upon the application by Clarence William

Ford, doing business as the Ford Transfer and Storage company, for a brokerage license. Ford said last night the hearing appeared to have progressed satisfactorily and after the application receives further consideration at Washington, D. C., an 100 ap- provement should be due for about 30 days on the result of the hearing. READ TIMES-NEWS WANT ADS

Test Blast of TNT Set for Arco Sector

By MURRAY M. MOLE

ARCO, Sept. 25 (AP)—A test from Tuesday, 500,000 pounds of explosives—old but still potent—will be set off at the navy's Arco proving grounds to see what happens when 250 tons of TNT explodes at one time.

The test charge will be arranged in the center of the proving ground. In other storage centers nearby will be more than 1,000,000 pounds of additional powder.

Tests Storage The idea is to determine if this additional powder is stored safely. If the navy ordnance experts have figured correctly, it will remain intact. If they figured incorrectly, the selected group of witnesses will see an even greater show than expected—and the explosion already is billed as mankind's greatest deliberate peacetime gunpowder blast.

Capt. Walter E. Pocatello, veteran commander of the Pocatello ordnance plant, assured the witnesses—navy officers, reporters and civilians—that they will be stationed at a safe distance, safe even if all 7,000,000 pounds go off.

No stunt Brown emphasized that the test is not a stunt being conducted simply for the spectacular effects that are bound to come.

"We are combining the destruction of unexploded ordnance with the making of tests to determine the safety distances for ammunition storage," Brown said.

The exact method of setting off the mountain of powder—which is set into bombs would fill about 20-25 Superfortresses—has not been made public yet.

The Arco proving range is on the eastern Idaho plains, about 60 miles northwest of Pocatello where the navy has operated a big gun training and naval ordnance repair depot since before the war.

Hundreds of ammunition storage igloos have been erected on the proving range to store powder ordinarily used to test naval rifles. Part of the grounds are now being used as a "parking lot" for various types of naval ordnance that now are out of service but are being preserved for possible future use.

Set for Tuesday The actual explosion has been scheduled for 11 a. m. MST, next Tuesday, the witnesses will be headed by Col. F. H. Miles of Washington, chief of the army-navy explosion safety board.

In 1945, a similar test on a smaller scale was made. Then, 250,000 pounds of TNT were exploded in an area where 750,000 pounds of other ammunition were stored. One third of the stored explosives were detonated by this test blast.

Officers believe the test will be heard—and felt—over a wide area. Observation posts are being set up throughout southwestern Idaho, northern Utah, western Wyoming and northern Montana to record possible reverberations of the explosion.

MARRIED IN JEROME JEROME, Sept. 25 — George Bruckner and Gloria G. Pease, both of Halsey, obtained a marriage license here and were married by the Rev. John M. Pratt, pastor of the Christian church.

900 Owe Life To Sailor on Pacific Isle

(By Hugh W. Lytle, of the Honolulu Advertiser. Written for the Combined United States Press.)
SONGBOONG, ROTA, MARIANAS ISLANDS, Sept. 25 (AP)—How three Americans of varying antecedents saved 900 Rotanese—the entire population in Sundaia—was revealed today when navy relief planes carried food and medicines to this island north of Guam.

A sailor, a marine and a Guamanian policeman shepherded the Chamorro (natives of Rota) into three enormous caverns, rigged electrical generators and kitchens and the entire population survived the worst blow in 35 years practically unharmed.

Buildings Kindled
Nearly all structures on the island of 40 square miles were blasted, ripped and scattered. Nearly every resident is homeless and has lost his possessions and crops. Already, though, the Chamorros are diligently rebuilding, clearing the banana plantations and reseeded crops.

James W. Burns, radio man, first class, Chelan, Wash., unofficial governor of Rota by virtue of his position as senior representative of the military government, must be credited with the leadership which saved the population. A Chitawaw Indian marine and a Guamanian policeman aided.

Warned by Radio
Burns got a radio warning Saturday afternoon that the typhoon might directly overpass Rota, which is administered by the naval command of Guam since the Japanese cartoon surrendered.

Men, women and children from the village of Songboong, use of the spectacular limestone cavern in a cliff behind the village as a refuge. Under the stalactite-studded roof the Japanese army installed a field hospital during the savage American bombing of Rota.

Rule of CVA Gets Retort Of Assessor

In rebuttal to certain campaign-platform statements concerning the Columbia valley authority which were made at the Gooding Democratic rally, Monday night, George A. Childs, Twin Falls county assessor, Republican candidate for another term in office, which he has held for the past eight years, and a man who has been in Idaho since the turn of the century, declared Tuesday:

"The CVA sets aside the constitution of the state of Idaho and laws passed by our state legislature which provide for the state right to control of all waters arising in or flowing through Idaho."

Not Responsible
He stated that "the CVA commission is a three-man board appointed by the President and responsible to nobody. They make no report to the federal treasury of the expenditure of any funds."

"As constituted," he maintained, "the CVA would give to this board control not only of water and power and the allocation of water to irrigation projects, but also indirect control of all wild life, forests and grazing."

Referring to Sen. Glen Taylor's statement that the "valley authority... could build these dams a whole lot cheaper than... the way we have been doing it in past," Childs asserted:

"Two different federal public housing authorities have told me that government projects cost four times as much as the same construction would cost when let to private contractors."

"Why," asked Childs, "when there's more power in the Snake river in Idaho than in all the streams east of the Appalachian mountains, should power be brought from the Bonneville dam in Oregon to Burley, which is contemplated under the CVA?"

"If Idaho water rights are incorporated bodily into CVA, as Leguineche (Pete Leguineche, Boise candidate for second district congress in the Democratic ticket) claimed," declared Childs, "doesn't that mean that they are taking them over, Mr. Leguineche?"

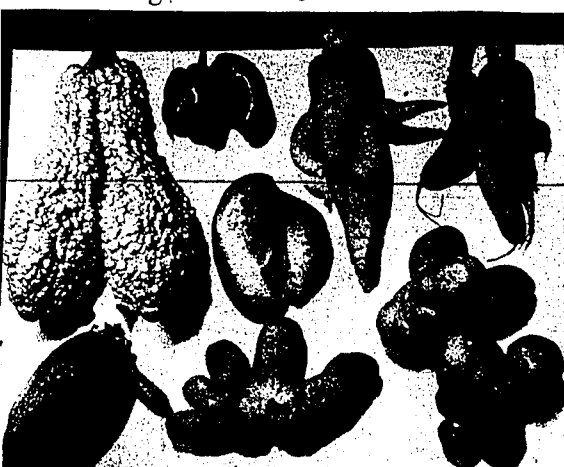

"And as for Summerfield (Robert L. Summerfield, Democrat, nominee for lieutenant-governor), if he's so strong," concluded Childs, "let the veterans I'd like to point out that merely by raising the American Falls reservoir dam three feet, they could store enough water to open 75,000 additional acres of land to veterans along the Cassia-Twin Falls county line."

No Grange Exhibit--Just More Oddities

Here are eight more reasons why the agricultural oddity exhibit is graying around the temples. The large twin squash in the upper left corner was brought in by Anne Posey, route 1, Jerome, and the Siamese green peppers second from the upper left, were entered in the Times-News agricultural oddity contest by Mrs. Earl Peterman, 420 Fifth avenue west, Twin Falls. The headless carrot dancer was grown by Mrs. Myrtle C. Ward and the carrot monstrously in the upper right corner was entered by a real gardener—Ruth Oardner, 348 N. Elm, Twin Falls. In the center of the exhibit is one of the many twin cucumbers entered in the contest, which has attracted nearly 50 freak vegetables from Magic Valley farms. The twin "cukes" were grown by Mrs. Ray Wilhelm.

In the lower left corner is a cucumber with a little split growing out one side. It was grown by 11-year-old Joan Pettysgrove, Twin Falls. When Al Hacker, Rupert, brought in his exhibit he declared, "Shake hands," and brought forth the large hand-shaped potato in the lower center. The potato in the lower right corner looks like a Disney cartoon animal of some sort. You can take your choice what kind. (Stuffed photo-engravings)

Negro Labor Refused for Beet Harvest

Although no solution to the pending labor shortage in Twin Falls county — which will no longer be "pending" when the beet dumps open Oct. 1—was found at Tuesday night's meeting of the county Labor Sponsoring association in the courthouse, they decided that they couldn't handle Negroes here because of a housing shortage.

Last week the board was informed that 200 Oklahoma Negroes could be obtained for work on potatoes only.

A shipment of 50 Mexicans arrived Tuesday and was taken to the Twin Falls labor camp, Jack P. Smith, county agent, announced. These workers do not in any way alleviate the acute need for fieldworkers which the county will feel for they belong to a contingent of 400 Mexicans which has been earmarked for this area, all to arrive before Oct. 1.

A possible way out of the puzzle of where to find more workers was suggested Tuesday night by A. J. Meeks, Twin Falls UES chief, who declared that men who formerly worked the harvests here have been inquiring about field-work this fall. Smith pointed out that these men cannot be housed at labor camps.

B-29 Airmen May Be Held In Far Land

By JAMES D. WHITE
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25 (AP)—If your parachute dropped you in the wild and windy world of Tibet, you would be among the Lolo, the super-hillbillies of silken province.

The Lolo probably would treat you fairly well according to their standards, because slaves are hard to get these days. There would be chances for advancement if you behaved.

May Have Happened
This apparently is what has happened to some American B-29 fliers who disappeared two years ago in west China. So here's something about Lolo.

James Glen of the Chinese news agency tells me he visited the fringe of Lolo land a few years ago, and was impressed with the tall, slender men, their direct and straightforward ways, and the very different culture they live under.

"Furthermore," says Mr. Glen, "they have pronounced noses, not the Chinese." He alludes to the suspected Caucasian origin of the Lolo.

Federal Society
Mr. Glen describes their society this way: At the top are feudal lords, the "black bones." Under them is a middle class of "white bones" supposed to be descendants of slaves captured long ago but who have been degraded into shopkeeping and primitive crafts.

Slaves are never captured people, and are held in bondage by the simple device of binding to the "black bones." Under them is a middle class of "white bones" supposed to be descendants of slaves captured long ago but who have been degraded into shopkeeping and primitive crafts.

Ex-WAC Suggests Housing Proposal
BURLEY, Sept. 25 — A proposal which would provide 64 permanent homes for Burley veterans was suggested at a meeting of the American Legion post by an ex-WAC, Jean Cunningham.

A non-profit corporation was advocated by Miss Cunningham, who said that veterans would buy and build together. Individuals could purchase lots for an estimated $300 plus $7 for sewer installation. Building the houses themselves, the price could be kept at approximately $600 per house with monthly payments of $36 per month.

Mayor Charles McDonald stated that if the proposal was fulfilled, the city would make the area into the city limits and put in streets, water and sewer. Material would be available shortly under the new veterans' priority order, he added. There are 102 priorities now filed with local lumber dealers.

Hailey Mine Gets
3 Transformers
HAILEY, Sept. 25 — Installation of three transformers, brought from the Hunt relocation center, at the Olinet sub-station which furnishes power for the Troutman mine is now completed, according to H. K. Putner, local Idaho Power company manager.

The three transformers previously used at Olinet have been taken to the Hailey sub-station where they will be installed soon to furnish 1,000 additional kilowatts for this area.

While the additional electricity will not be needed immediately, Putner pointed out that with the reopening of Sun Valley in December and additional enterprises to be completed this winter, the work must be done now while weather conditions permit, so that the power will be available during the winter months.

Organizes at Jerome Meet
JEROME, Sept. 25 — Fred Nelson, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Northside soil conservation district, presented a charter of organization to the group Monday night at a meeting in the 808 office.

Certificates of election to three district supervisors were received from the state commission by John Hoke, Eden; O. H. Albert, Jerome; and Nelson. These men will transfer their offices to Jerome when they secure living quarters for their families.

Harold L. Harris, soil conservationist from Pocatello, was present and also agreed to set up an office here as district supervisor of the program.

Chief business of the group was the approval of an application form used by farmers in securing assistance from the district commission.

The group also initiated an outlined "work program" dealing with major land-use problems such as land leveling, irrigation erosion, sandy soils causing wind erosion, changes in irrigation systems, and improvement of crop rotation, Nelson said.

He will appoint a committee which will present the outline for review by a board of supervisors at an Oct. 7 meeting.

Be prepared-get your "Zerone" or "Zerex" anti-freeze now!

ZERONE is made from the most efficient of all known safe anti-freeze materials. Three quarts of "Zerone" will do the work of four quarts of most other types of anti-freeze. "Zerone" needs only one seasonal check-up. It improves cooling—retards rust and corrosion. Get Du Pont "Zerone"—it's the dollar brand in most demand.

ZEREX is non-evaporative—one filling lasts all winter. Like "Zerone," it contains a special chemical inhibitor that retards rust and corrosion and provides an "alkaline reserve," giving the cooling system long-time anti-acid protection. "Zerex" won't clog radiators or cooling systems. There's no better anti-freeze.

$1.00 a gallon $2.65 a gallon

DON'T FORGET to have your car's cooling system checked up before you put in anti-freeze. Ask your dealer to make sure all hose connections are tight, seal all leaks, check the thermostat, and have the radiator flushed if necessary. But don't wait until the last minute—give him time to do the job right. And remember, supplies of "Zerone" and "Zerex" are still limited.
