SHANGHAI, Sept. 30 (U.P.)—U. S. army rescue mission today based up silver, foodstuffs and blankets to Swiss mercenaries who were waiting for more American airmen enslaved by head-hunting Lolo tribesmen in the wild near Tibet.

The U.S. military spokesman said finally was put on reports that a number of Americans downed while flying over the hump from India to China had been taken as hostages by the savage tribesmen.

Lieut.-Col. Herbert W. Wurtzler said he believed the reports were true and the mission which swung into action. He hoped to lure the Lolos into a trap, possibly by surrendering of the plane and its cargo, and then which for the savages would amount to treasure trove.

The mission today was gathering supplies for a possible trek into the mountain fastnesses if develop-with the primitive savages somewhere in Loloiland.

Already the word had gone out over the "bamboo telegraph" in the wild mountainous interior (Americans) were willing to pay a rich ransom in silver bullion, opium or other goods to secure the safe delivery of the enslaved aliens.

The first move in the delicate attempt to rescue the men, who presumably are being held captive by aborigines for more than two years, was made by a Chinese Catholic priest, who has endeavored to convert the Lolos, and his priests, who came from a Catholic mission at Hsi-chang on the border of Loloiland, 250 miles west of Chungking.

The priest intended to lead out the Lolos, find out their terms of ransom if such could be arranged, and return to the aid of the captured men had nothing but friendly feel-

Naxia Loze Grins
A packed courtroom watched the defendants grin at the most of them were smiling when they entered, but soon lost their grins as they heard the charges against them. Naxia Loze, president of Great Britain, presided at the tribunal, before reading the judgment.

In the four counts in the indictment, it was charged that the defendant had conspired in a common plan or conspiracy to commit the other three crimes, namely, piracy, slave trading and murder. The other counts charged the defendant with committing the three crimes against peace, war-crimes and crimes against humanity.

handi-inflicted the hickler that he did it "with this."
At this point, the hickler part of company with Everhardt, who walked over to where Don Smith, railroad station at Mountain Home, had parked in a shiny, 1942 sedan. Getting into the car, Everhardt shoved the revolver into his ribs and said "Get going!"
That's just what I did," Smith later told officers.
At gun point, he drove Everhardt about three miles out of Mountain Home, where he was ordered to stop and hand over his valuables.
After giving Everhardt about $4 in cash, Smith told him that this was his last chance.
"How about your watch?" asked Everhardt, feeling of Smith's wrist.
Smith, feeling of Smith's wrist, handed him his watch, but he ordered Smith out of the car and roared into the night toward Twin Falls. At this point, however, he overlooked the fact that Smith was carrying a valuable railroad watch and $20 in bills in his watch pocket.
Fascinated, as he left Smith standing by the side of the road, Everhardt told him if he had insurance on his car he'd "probably need it before the night's over."

HE STANDS ON HIS RECORD

Warren Lowery has every reason to be proud of his record during the three terms he has served as sheriff of Twin Falls county. Although rumors and inferences have been circulated for political purposes in this campaign, no one has been successful in raising any issue that would warrant the public's disapproval of the way Warren Lowery has conducted the affairs of the sheriff's office. He stands on his record in seeking re-election as sheriff of Twin Falls county in November.

N. L. TIE WINDS UP HECTIC SEASON

Dodgers, Cards Meet In 3-Contest Playoff

By JOE REICHLER

In a fitting climax to baseball's most turbulent year, the close of the regular season today found the National League without a champion, since the Dodgers and Cardinals wound up in a dead heat for first place. It is doubtful if ever before so many hectic episodes were crowded into one big league season. Here are just a few of the things that happened in 1940:

The Cards' doddered deadweight was something new in major league baseball. Never before had a regular campaign ended in such a tie, although the Cubs and Giants were ordered to replay a game to determine the champion in 1905. The Cubs won that regular season playoff and also the world series. The first Cards-Dodgers playoff game is to be played in St. Louis tomorrow. The two teams then will go to Brooklyn for a second game Thursday and possibly a third Friday.

Musial, Vernon Champ Batters

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—Stan Musial of the Cardinals and Mickey Vernon of the Senators are the unofficial batting leaders of the National and American leagues, respectively, today.

For Musial it's an old story since the Cardinals' center fielder has been batting .374 for the season. Vernon is not only his initial championship but the first time he has topped 300 in his major league career.

The Red Bird hit his major league home run on Sept. 21, 1939, when he gained the lead and held it the rest of the way to finish with a .367 average, highest figure in the league since Duke Snider's .366 in 1938.

Musial, 12th Red Bird to win the coveted crown, also led his league in runs scored, 121, hits, 229, doubles, 48, and triples, 19.

Vernon led the American league in batting average and slugging percentage at .355—11 points above Boston's Ted Williams, who finished second at .340.

Hank Greenberg, Tigers, clubbed 16 homers in September to win the home run batting title in the already enviable bag of baseball tricks.

The imperturbable Jansen, who formerly pitched for the Salt Lake City Bees, belted a 300-foot homer yesterday to win his 11th straight game, 6 to 3, and send the Bees into the final round of the governor's cup playoff.

Larry Jansen, whose 20 victories helped the San Francisco Bees win the Pacific coast league pennant, has added home run hitting to an already enviable bag of baseball tricks.

Everton Pointer Adds New Title to Already Long List

Mel Everton's starting point, Eagle's Don Mike, today stood out as the intermountain country's field trial all-time great after he had added another title to his already long list of championships.

The veteran beat out the finest field of dogs in the history of the revived two-day trials of the Southwestern Idaho Field Trials club when he won the No. 1 event, the all-age stake, yesterday afternoon. Finding two birds, Eagle's Don Mike held them perfectly to place ahead of R. W. Everton's male pointer, Spunky Jack, which was second, and Skipper's Merry Mary, owned by Ralph Spackman, Ogden.

Notre Dame and Texas Stand Out As Challengers to Army's Gridiron Reign

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—Notre Dame and Texas stood out today as the most serious challengers of Army's two-year reign in the college football domain after a week-end filled with surprises. The Fighting Irish opened their bid for national honors by whipping a strong Illinois team, 26-6, Saturday and should handle the second step this week against Pittsburgh at South Bend. Texas followed up its 4-0 conquest of Missouri by overwhelming Colorado, 14-0, on the Texas turf this week.

The Aggies saw a 20-game winning streak come to an end in a 21-21 tie with Arkansas Saturday, but still look powerful enough to rival the Longhorns their first real test.

Army, hard pressed to beat Oklahoma, 21-7, with Doc Blanchard on the bench, catches Cornell, 21-0, conqueror of Bucknell, in its third game at West Point.

Navy plays Columbia. Navy, which opened with a 7-0 triumph over Villanova, moves in against Columbia, which stopped Rutgers, 13-7, and Colgate invades Yale, 33-0 winner over the Merchant Marine academy.

Other top games in the east this week will find Brown at Princeton, Syracuse at Dartmouth, Tulane at Harvard, Detroit at Holy Cross and Lafayette at Pennsylvania.

Michigan, which opened its quest of the Big Nine title by shutting out defending champion Indiana, 21-0, enters the week-end at Georgetown and William and Mary at the Citadel.

Texas A. and M. upset by Texas Tech, invades Oklahoma, while Missouri will be at St. Louis, Boston college at Michigan State, Mississippi State at Louisiana State, Mississippi at Vanderbilt, North Carolina State at Clemson, Virginia at Virginia Tech, Wake Forest at Georgetown, and William and Mary at the Citadel.

Arizona invades Texas A. and M. as a 10-16 winner over Baylor.
