Improper House Numbers Flayed By City Firemen

That the fire department has been having difficulty locating fires because of absence of proper house numbers was called to the attention of the city council Monday night by W. W. Thomas, safety commissioner.

"People should ascertain their correct house numbers and display them for their own protection," Thomas told the council.

The commissioner recalled a case in which a residence in the 300 block of a particular street was numbered 712. In responding to an alarm from such an address, the fire department would miss the fire by four blocks. To further complicate matters, the house was on the "odd"

Correct house numbers may be obtained from the city clerk.

POT SHOTS

LETTERS TO SANTA DEPT
Tis getting that time of the year when most of Magic Valley country is in a state of excitement. Those old enough to hold a pencil and not old enough to be disappointed—believe me, Santa Claus is here. They're found everywhere—these Santa Claus letters. They're found in stores, letter boxes, school on paper bags, and in the way that some have found their way to Pot Shots.

Dear Santa Claus,
I'm writing after you to you will be sure to get my letter. I am five years old. Would you please bring me a rubber doll and clothes for her. I like to play with a bicycle. I like to play with a bicycle. I like to play with a bicycle. I like to play with a bicycle. I like to play with a bicycle.

Jaycees Hold Discussion of Labor Future

A sample plan to solve labor problems was outlined by Art Kinkopf and Boyd Lyle charged the playing politics with the labor situation at the Junior Chamber of Commerce round-table discussion held last night. Jaycees discussed the labor situation from John L. Lewis' calling off the nation-wide coal strike to the union practices of choosing officers. Lyle urged strict observation of the constitution and more strict enforcement of labor legislation in eliminating strikes. He declared that unorganized workers were the way to avoid economic depression.

Many "rabble rousers, demagogues and leaders who are not interested in the welfare of the public in control of the union," Lyle said. He urged elimination of the political, organizational, sympathetic and unsympathetic union practices to strengthen the arbitration panels to minimize strikes.

Fine Ruled for Driver of Truck Killing 19 Sheep

A fine of $25 and costs for Everett Roseberry, whose Utah construction company truck killed 19 sheep on U. S. highway 93 at noon Nov. 20, was ordered Monday by Judge J. H. Smith. The misdemeanor charge, driving a truck without proper brakes, was presented by Deputy Sheriff D. C. Parrott, county traffic officer. The mishap occurred one and one-half miles south of the intersection of the north of Curry. Roseberry, represented by John H. Daly, attorney, said the sheepman had been recommended for the loss.

Swine Breeders Set Filer Sale

FILER, Dec. 10.—South Central Idaho Swine Breeders' association Monday night tentatively approved Feb. 17 for their 1947 sale at the Filer fairgrounds, said "Tun" Roseberry, secretary, following an opening here.

Other dates approved were Moscow, Feb. 10; Caldwell, Feb. 10; and Blackfoot, Feb. 20. The sales rotate around the four communities.

Parks said 40 head would be required for the sale here and that the association planned to contact breeders who have a large stock in the past to line up the 1947 sale.

The sales are sponsored by the Idaho Swine Growers' association in conjunction with local breeders.

Eagles Meet for Dinner and Play

An old fashioned play party, sponsored by the Eagles lodge at the Odd Fellows hall Monday night, was attended by 70 members and their families, according to W. D. Stearns, secretary. A potluck dinner was served and the evening was devoted to games.

The lodge signed up 25 new members as an initiation rite in forming an Eagle auxiliary. A quota of 50 women must be met before a group may officially organize, Stearns said.

Requiem Mass Held For Mrs. C. Jaycox

JEHOE, Dec. 10.—Requiem mass for Mrs. Catherine Jaycox was celebrated in St. Jerome's Catholic church here. The Rev. Father A. E. Schermerhorn was celebrant.

Palmer included R. W. Williamson, D. L. Harrison, Julius Carls, M. V. Wolfe, Jim Pfeiffer and James Bud. Burial was in the Jerome cemetery.

OPA Credited for Having Kept Girdles Off War Ration Lists

WASHINGTON, (NPA).—With OPA credit, it should be safe to say the inside story of how women's two-way stretch girdles were not rationed. As every woman knows, there was a real wartime shortage of girdles. Big war-production firms employing many women workers put out a complaint that the war effort was really being impeded because their female workers could not get the foundation garments which would enable them to work more efficiently. The employers wanted the government to do something about this, quick.

A question was referred to some of the big brains in the war production board's office of civilian control. They then put it in a pigeon hole and forgot it. It was finally ended up on the desk of C. C. "Chiff" Hill, who was one of Don Nelson's brightest men. There he got it. Anything Chiff could do about it himself, but he was obligated to forward it to the appropriate authority, the War Relocation Authority.

When OPA got the works, it was a document an inch thick. It was marked secret, restricted, confidential, do not read, and so on. It finally came to the attention of Patience French, one of the "professors" high in OPA's rationing division. French tossed it to William Molster, one of his assistants, who had to read it.

It was not a directive, it said, but a request that OPA initiate a program for the rationing of two-way stretch girdles, due to the increased demand and the shortage of necessary materials.

Molster reported back to French and the two of them put it in a pigeon hole. They didn't want to ration girdles. They had enough other troubles. But how to turn down the WPP boys was a problem. They were so earnest about it and took them so seriously that the evening was devoted to games.

The lodge signed up 25 new members as an initiation rite in forming an Eagle auxiliary. A quota of 50 women must be met before a group may officially organize, Stearns said.

German Cities Need of Food In U. S. Zone

DUESSELDORF, Germany, Dec. 10 (AP).—Dr. Rudolph Amshelzen, minister-president of the North-Rhine-Westphalia provincial government, means that the whole experiment of teaching democracy in Germany might fail unless people can be given more to eat in the coming months.

In his big office overlooking the wide sweep of the Rhine in the heart of wrecked Dueseldorf, the minister-president said in an interview that "the need of these Ruhr cities is greater than anywhere else. There is a real danger of epidemics. A few weeks ago I did not believe that. Today I am convinced that it has to be reckoned with."

Also, people are becoming increasingly dissatisfied. Great demonstrations were planned by the workers here in Dueseldorf, but the unions managed to calm them. They may not always be so successful.

Amshelzen said that many in the Ruhr cities believed the Ruhr food shortage was caused by the British shipping food to England, "but that of course is nonsense."

Truckly Population
"With 12,000,000 inhabitants—3,335 per square kilometer—this is the most thickly populated area in Europe. Food available in our zone cannot possibly feed more than one-third of the population. About 1,000,000 starved after the last war."

Road Stations To Enlighten Farm Worker

SPOKANE, Dec. 10 (AP)—Migrant farm workers are going to get service with a station in the western states next summer—from roadside information stations.

A number of such stations are to be established in seven western states—Washington, Idaho, Oregon, California, Montana, Utah and Arizona.

From the highway stopping place, workers can get up-to-the-minute information on where the jobs are and when they will open up.

Plan Worked Out

The new development was reported by Walter E. Zuger, head of the Washington extension farm labor program, who said it was worked out at a meeting of extension labor officials from the seven states.

To assure the roadside stations the latest data, job information from the various states is to be telegraphed to a central district office at Berkeley, Calif., headed by Robert Fowler, Jr., formerly of the Oregon extension service. He will promptly relay it in bulletin form to all highway stations.

Each station will be able to supply information not only for its own state but for all the other states, enabling the migrant farm worker to plan his schedule for the entire summer.

Can Plan Summer

"Instead of just traveling wherever the wind blows," said Zuger, "he will know in advance where he is likely to be needed during each month of the crop season. He can plan his summer; and he won't lose any more time on the road than is necessary between jobs."

Zuger said some of the stations may be put to another use, serving as overnight stopping places for migrant workers. They could be equipped with such facilities as shower baths, cook stoves and laundry tubs, he pointed out.

"It might be necessary to have these camping places, if we get the big flood of migrants that's expected the next few years," he added.

U. S. Way of Life on Trial, Speaker Says

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10 (AP)—The American way of life is a relatively free economy in which private enterprise has wide scope for development—is on trial before the nations of the world, Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, said here today.

In his annual address, prepared for delivery at the 28th annual convention of the Farm Bureau federation, he noted that with the spread of Great Britain toward state-controlled economy, the United States "is pretty much alone" as proponents of the free economy principle.

"If our economic philosophy and institutions of democracy are to command the respect of other nations," he told the 12,000 delegates who have registered for the states and Puerto Rico, "it must be demonstrated beyond doubt that their application does produce for the great masses of people a high level of economy and social well being."

"That can be done only by following domestic policies that will maintain economic balance among groups and lead to abundance of production and consumption of goods and services and constantly rising standards of living."

O'Neal agreed with previous speakers that a war-time farm-price bonanza is near an end, and after tracing the inflationary rise and crash of agricultural prices in the first World War period, added:

"There is every likelihood that farm prices will slump this time, too."

However, he pointed out that the 80-per cent parity bill passed by Congress turns a "stop-loss" cushion which would give farmers a chance to adjust themselves to peacetime operations.

Explosion Breaks Big Inch Pipeline

LONGVIEW, Tex., Dec. 10 (AP)—An explosion which startled residents of Longview from their beds before dawn today tore out 30 feet of pipe a mile and a half from the city and halted the supply of gas from the offshore field to the big inch pipeline.

H. M. McDonald, division superintendent of Williams Brothers, Inc., holders of the maintenance contract, said they had been building up pressure to purge both the feeder line and the big inch at the time of the blast.

A large crew is at work laying new pipe, and service may be resumed this afternoon, McDonald said.

GOLD OUTPUT DECLINES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The nation's gold production, which reached a four-year peak in September, declined 14 per cent in October due chiefly to a seasonal recession in Alaska.

The U. S. Treasury department announced today, October production (in fine ounces) included: Idaho, 4,100.

Red Reverses Field Within Week at U. N.

By JAMES D. WHITE
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10 (AP)—Mr. Molotov got you on the ropes?

Here's a quick bone-up on what he agreed to last week and what he doesn't agree to this week.

Last week the Soviet foreign minister amazed all present at the U. N. assembly in New York. He agreed to American proposals to expedite control of atomic energy and other superweapons, and further, agreed that once this machinery is set up by the U. N. security council, where the big-power veto remains unimpaired—that the veto should not apply in day-to-day control.

In a committee meeting he also agreed on an international troop census—in connection with disarmament—to be provided by each nation for its forces both at home and abroad.

Now this week the British propose to double-check such a troop census, and Mr. Molotov balks. Specifically, he opposes the inclusion of troops at home in such a system, and presumably he opposes the idea of foreign inspectors nosing about inside Russia under such a system.

He gives his reason when he says: "We proposed that this section

should speak not only of military personnel but of armaments as well."

While many have their doubts that Russia ever would submit to inspection, this statement at face value seems to mean that Mr. Molotov wants troop inspection to proceed no faster than the general progress of disarmament, including atomic disarmament.

Timing would be important because it must be remembered that Russia may be long on soldiers but short on super-weapons. General disarmament, therefore, is to her interest, because that would tend to bring her possible adversaries down to her level—when it happens.

Here and in London, officials of the two governments said "informal exchanges of views" on peacetime standardization have been going on.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—A 10-pound undersea "monster," complete with four horns, five sets of teeth and four fins each bearing five fingers, stumped Isaac Walton in Brooklyn today.

William Atkins, 54, a fisherman 40 years, hauled the creature out of the Atlantic two miles off Ambrose lightship yesterday after an hour's battle.

Farmers Told of Post Treatments

Good fence posts can be made out of lodge pole pine by treating them with pentachlorophenol, Vernon Raynolds, extension forester from the University of Idaho, told farmers gathered at the Eugene Griff farm south of Burley Tuesday morning.

Raynolds demonstrated the use of the chlorine and carbolic acid mixture in treating posts and explained that the posts would be capable of lasting 15 to 20 years if treated by pentachlorophenol.

He explained that there is a lot of lodge pole pine available in the Minidoka national forest and that dipping of the post with the new mixture is easier than treating with creosote.

Prince Studied in Betrothal Rumor

LONDON, Dec. 10 (AP)—A glimmering newspaper buildup for Prince Philip of Greece and Denmark started a new wave of gossip throughout Britain today that he and 20-year-old Princess Elizabeth will soon be engaged.

Over the tapers of Mayfair and the mists of mild and bitter at the decade, the British people generally seemed to approve of the 25-year-old "bridegroom-presumptive," a third cousin of Princess Elizabeth. Most of the speculation stemmed from columns of newspaper space devoted to Prince Philip after an official announcement last week that his application for British citizenship was receiving priority.

Silver Price Jumps, N. Y. Sales Boosted

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—Several hundred thousand ounces of silver of Mexican origin were sold Monday in the New York market at 88 1/2 cents an ounce, an increase of 1/4 of a cent over last Friday's sales.

The sale followed announcement by Henry and Harman, silver traders, of an advance of 1/4 of a cent to 89 1/2 cents an ounce in the official price which is always 1/4 of a cent lower than the going selling rate.

Request for Boost in Hunting License Fee Loses on Tie Vote

SHOSHONE, Dec. 10—A recommendation that the state fish and game commission increase the general license fee to $3, $1 more than now, lost when the delegates to the annual meeting of the fourth district, Associated Sportsmen's Club, met last night. Twenty-four clubs from 11 counties were represented at the meeting.

That was the closest the delegates came to adopting a recommendation on the fee for next season, although many were offered, including

Adamson New President

JEROME, Dec. 10—For only the second time since its organization eight years ago the fourth district, Associated Sportsmen's Club, has a president other than W. R. Priebe, Twin Falls. He is H. E. Adamson, representative of the Carey Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the sportsmen's club committee who was elected at the annual meeting held at McCall's hotel here last night. Elected along with Adamson were C. F. Dickinson, Fairfield, vice-president, and Dr. J. E. Putter, Shoshone, secretary.

They were elected unanimously on recommendation of the nominating committee. Mackay was chosen for the June meeting of the organization.

Several other separate hunting Scholer, Twin Falls, president of the and fishing licenses were adopted. Southern Idaho fish and game. Finally, on motion of Dr. George Scholer, the meeting decided to leave the question up to the fish and game commissioners. However, the delegates made recommendations aimed at slashing the big game and pheasant kill by out-of-state hunters. One would raise the license fee to $10 and would bar the shipment of birds from the state. They asked the day and bag laws and the hunting period remain the same as this year but that the season remain uniform throughout one Idaho.

The delegates recommended that the big game license fee for out-of-state hunters remain at $25 but would be limited to the killing of one species of game. For each additional species a fee of $25 could be charged.

A change in the opening of the general fishing season, from May 21 to June 1, was recommended by the delegates who found the closing date, Nov. 15, satisfactory. They asked that Magic reservoir season conform to that of the general fishing period, that Mackay reservoir be closed at the pleasure of the commissioners and that the inlet to Red Fish lake be opened. The bag and removal of salary limitation limit should remain as last season, the delegates recommended. An open season on antelope was proposed. They also would close a portion of Blaine county south of a line running from Bellevue to Fairfield to deer hunting.

Also favored was an increase in the number of conservation officers. Jerome, district chief, in charge.

The meeting asked that a law be passed to license packers. The meeting followed a banquet and a conference of committees in the afternoon. Today conservation officers met with P. J. McDermott, Jerome, district chief, in charge.

SPORTS

Although Ye Olde Sport Scrivener is unable to promise that the Cowboys in 1947 will be a championship club, he'll give you this right from the old feed box: It'll be a more colorful outfit than the team that won the first half championship of the Pioneer League last season.

And most of that color will be in a strident lead from Los Angeles—Sol Israel, Sol's good-in fact, one of the most promising players in the Yankee chain—and he'll give you the facts not his teammates to forget it.

That's the info that YOSB has received from Yon du Lac of the Wisconsin State League, where the Cowboys sent him on option for seasoning 1946. All he did there was to lead the circuit in runs batted-in, homers and doubles.

Now Sol's playing down the Los Angeles Winter League and, according to Bill Wickert, the Cowboy business manager who checked into Israel's demeanor while attending the annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, he is hitting a cool 0.15. However, that is hitting a cool 0.15. However, that is hitting a cool 0.15. However, that is hitting a cool 0.15.

Israel in the first game got three hits in five trips and the safeties included a home run and a triple. He came back the next Sunday with four straight which included two homers and a double. In the third game he got one for two, and in the fourth none for two, but made him right hits in 13 trips to the dish.

42ND KNOCKOUT
Pioneer League, Dec. 10 47—Blackjack Billy Fox, 170, Philadelphia, hung up his 42nd straight knockout last night by stopping Shelton Bell, 173, Youngstown, O., in 1:31 of the fifth round of their 10-round bout. Fox dumped Bell with a left hook to the stomach.

EARL BOLYARD TO RETURN AS COWBOY MANAGER

Pilot of 1946 First Half Champs May Become Part-Time Player

Earl Bolyard, the former minor league outfielder and sailor who made his managerial debut a winning one with the Twin Falls Cowboys in the Pioneer league last season, will be back at the Wrangler helm in 1947, President Maury Doerr of the local club announced last night after receiving Bolyard's signed contract from Port Wayne, Ind., his home club where the manager is wintering.

According to Doerr, Bolyard received a "substantial" salary in salary in a battle for his services with a number of other minor league clubs. In this the Cowboys had the support of the New York Yankee management with which the Wranglers have a working agreement.

The Yankees didn't want Bolyard to get out of their organization, said Doerr. "They have his later advancement in the chain in mind, something that is certain to come if he comes through with another great season like we had in 1946."

The Cowboy president revealed that the Yankees at the close of the season had intended to advance Bolyard to their class B Eastern league farm at Binghamton but on the plea of Gene Martin, eastern manager of Yankee farm clubs, it was decided to give Lefty Gomez, formerly a famous southpaw with the New Yorkers, a fuller chance at Binghamton. Gomez took over the Eastern league club in mid-season in 1946.

Doerr disclosed that Bolyard signed with the understanding that he would get into as many games as possible as a player. Except for pinch hitting and several innings of pitching, he was a bench pilot during the 1946 season. Bolyard has a lifetime batting average of better than .300 and was regarded as an exceptionally speedy outfielder.

The manager will be called upon to play more often during the next season for the reason that the Pioneer club probably will not be allowed the additional players permitted last year because of the GI bill of rights.

Although the Cowboys were not named as an expansion strong club, Bolyard piloted the Wranglers to the championship in the first half and to second place, behind Salt Lake City, in the second. He lost the playoff principally because he had injury to his star pitcher, Jimmy Arnold.

Manager of Twin Falls' champions of the first half of the 1946 Pioneer league season who has signed to pilot the club in 1947.
