

Official Announcement of Land Opening Expected Within Month

Final copies of a public notice announcing the opening of 43 homesteads on the Mindoka project near Fruit have gone to Washington, D. C., for final approval, according to information received by the Times-News from the regional office of the Bureau of Land Management.

When approved by the commissioner, the notice will be printed in the announcement of the land opening is expected within the next 90 days.

Block was II veterans with at least 90 days of service will have a preferred right of filing for the public notice. All applications received within the first 45 days will be coming in simultaneously and applications of non-veterans will have an equal chance for the land.

To qualify, veterans must meet certain requirements set up by the department of land management, composed of settlement problems on New Land. Members of the board are B. R. Marston, Burlington, superintendent of the Mindoka project; Roy C. Johnson, Idaho; Otto W. Paul, Rupert; Ed G. Gooding, Shoshone; and Henry C. Gooding, Boise.

Applicants must have at least 90 days of farming experience, contrasting with openings on other projects where only two years are required. Applicants also must have a minimum of $3,000 in liquid capital or assets usable in development of an irrigated farm, good character and industry and the physical ability to do the work required.

After the first 45 days, applications will be reviewed by the examining board for conformance to the requirements. Applicants found ineligible will be given a chance to appeal. The appeal period has passed, the names of all eligible candidates will be placed on a roster.

"What's all the hoopla about?" he asked over the telephone Saturday after relating a tale of snow five feet deep, freezing the well and no mail since U. S. highway 33 drifted over so badly that ordinary horses can't take their way through to her home.

An aged retailer, Lawrence Cook, who has been hauled in the wood snow endlessly falls, makes up his mind to go to the well and get the new well "Nifty" Mrs. Barber's half-Mormon, half-Colo. horse, which will get at least one-half of the money if they are available.

A man at Hatley who owns an airplane, Paul Trueman, has been able to drop her mail to Mrs. Barber some time ago. "I can hardly wait," said Mrs. Barber.

"Dimes" Drive Falls Short of $8,000 Quota

Now lagging nearly $9 per cent short of its $8,000 goal, the Twin Falls county "march of dimes" campaign will be closed in one week in an effort to meet the quota, Chairman Larry Laughridge announced Saturday.

"We appreciate the support shown by this highly essential campaign, but we need nearly $4,000 more to meet our obligations," Laughridge declared. "We feel sure that when this is brought to attention of the citizens of the county they will come through with sufficient extra assistance to cover the gap."

Chairman Laughridge also announced that, as he has been called to Boise on business, Frederick H. Riles will assume the county chairmanship. He has been serving as chairman of the effort.

Contributions for the fund to combat infantile paralysis may be made in any amount. The fund is collecting contributions to purchase dimes for the fund. The collection contains placed in public places throughout the county.

The Twin Falls representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will attend a meeting in Boise on Saturday. The meeting is being held at the Hotel Morrison. A. Seldenfield, director of psychological services for the National Foundation, will be present.

W. H. E. Riles, chairman of the county chapter, also will attend.

March 15 Tax Deadline Worries Galena Woman

GALENA, Feb. 1.—Winter has taken a choke-hold on roads leading to this population, two and one-half miles at the base of Galena Summit but the only worry of Mrs. Paul Barber, "somewhere past 50," who has been snowed here for two weeks, is how she can file her income-tax return on time.

"What's all the hoopla about?" she asked over the telephone Saturday after relating a tale of snow five feet deep, freezing the well and no mail since U. S. highway 33 drifted over so badly that ordinary horses can't take their way through to her home.

Hospital Head Decision Tops Board Agenda

Leading item of business before Monday night's meeting of the board of directors of the Twin Falls county general hospital board will be consideration of a resolution on the position of hospital superintendent, officials announced Saturday.

The resolution on the position now on file with the board number 18, representing candidates from newly elected groups of members. Effort will be made to reach a decision on who will head the institution in liquid form.

Dr. J. H. Murphy has been named as head of the hospital since resignation of Dr. J. H. Jespersen from the post last fall.

Presenting at the session of the board was Chairman T. C. Bacon, who is attending the National World Growers association meeting at Pocatello, Idaho.

Mrs. W. H. Murphy has resigned his annual report on hospital operation for the year of Jan. 14, 1947, to Jan. 12, 1947.

The resolution that 472 patients were admitted during the year, including newborn infants. There were 472 patients during 1946 and 36 fluoroscopies, Dr. Murphy's report stated.

Chairman T. C. Bacon, who is attending the National World Growers association meeting at Pocatello, Idaho, will be present.

Teachers Ask Solons For 'Bonus' of $500

A salary increase of $500 for every teacher in Idaho for 1947 was requested of the legislature by 25 Twin Falls county teachers in a resolution adopted Saturday.

An instructor who described himself as a "permit" teacher, Robert Palmer, Murtaugh grades instructor, motioned the resolution.

"We, the teachers of Twin Falls county, request the legislature to make a salary emergency appropriation for a teachers' salary increase of $500 for 1947, to make the request of our organization for the teachers' retirement fund and we ask that the tax base be broadened to provide for future salary increases."

No Opposition

No votes were cast against the petition to the legislature but one supporter had a Qing or two on the floor.

Doris Stridley, county superintendent of schools, reported that she was "thoroughly disappointed" that the legislature did not pass the resolution of knowledge of the Idaho school set-up which legislators did not want to take to the State Teachers association in Boise two weeks ago.

"We are not the teachers' retirement bill that we had worked so long for that act and give all the money to the legislature," she declared, "I am sure this year we will be able to get it passed."

Ex-Officio Capacity

J. W. Waeg, Lucerne instructor, inserted the $500 appropriation to make the request of the teachers' retirement fund, he said.

Palmer's impromptu speech from the floor set the tone of the meeting.

Taylor Raps Tap For Law Breach

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Senator Taylor, R. Idaho, tonight charged Chairman T. R. Ide, and other members of the congressional economic committee with failure to comply with the law and called upon Taylor to resign.

Taylor said in a statement that if taking a "clear cut position" on occasion of his resignation, he would "involve personal embarrassment."

Taylor's candidacy for other public offices has been accepted by the chairman.

The senate-house economic committee was created by the 1946 election. It is required to report to congress on the economic conditions of the nation.

Soons Move to Get State Control Over Insurance Business

BOISE, Feb. 1 (AP)—The first bills to establish broad state control over the insurance business in Idaho were passed by the senate today as the Idaho legislature neared the halfway mark of its 60-day session.

Senators highlighted the 27th legislative day with quick approval of administration sponsored legislation intended to forestal federal regulation of the insurance business in the state after Jan. 1, 1948.

The House centered its attention on secondary legislation after sponsors received consent for the postponement of action until Monday on bills seeking to outlaw slot machines and boards of correction to administer the state's prison and parole system.

Gov. C. A. Robins in his inaugural address urged adoption of the new insurance regulations because of a federal law holding that after next January the various federal acts shall be applicable to the business of insurance to the extent that such business is not regulated by state law.

Robins also noted that the state's revenue from insurance firms has been "in excess of $600,000" annually and "that amount by proper supervision and regulation is capable of increase."

The governor warned that the "entire surplus money so guaranteed. If we leave this industry to federal regulation."

Sen. Edmond Deal, R., Canyon, floor manager for the bills, argued in the senate today that the federal state laws governing insurance had not been changed since 1911 and that the present practices outlined the current statutes.

Prepared by Agents

The pending legislation passed in 11 bills was prepared by an interim committee of insurance agents appointed by the last legislature to study the problem. The three bills passed today and sent to the house for consideration by the department of insurance, divorce the present bureau of insurance and the department of insurance.

The revenue would be divided 50 percent to the state and 50 percent to the counties.

Mr. Deal said that the bills would be sent to the house for consideration by the department of insurance, divorce the present bureau of insurance and the department of insurance.

Hearing on City "Secession" Will Resume Tuesday

Hearing of the suit of two-acre property holders in Highland View area of Buhl for subdivision for detachment from the city will be continued at 10 a. m. Tuesday in district court here. Presiding Judge T. Bailey Lee is scheduled to open a session of district court at Jerome Monday.

James R. Bothwell concluded the presentation of the petitioners' side of the case Saturday afternoon, and City Engineer John E. Hayes was on the stand for the defendant municipality when court recessed at 4:15 p. m. Saturday.

Alm of the petitioners' testimony has been toward demonstrating they have not received any substantial benefits from their inclusion in the city. They have protested against a liability in garbage collections, and have asserted other benefits, as street maintenance and police protection, should have been obtained just as well from the county.

Hayes, under questioning by City Attorney J. H. Blanford, told of the city having voted a $350,000 bond issue, May 21, 1946, for a new trunking sewer and improvement of the present sewer system, and for new water lines. These improvements, he said, would serve the disputed area.

ON YOUR GUARD, SPORTSMEN! The sportsmen of Idaho are figuratively up to arms, but they shouldn't take their eyes off the firing line for a minute until victory is finally won.

Certain die-hard elements are doing their damndest to abolish the state fish and game department, so they can once more have this department under political control.

It would be the same old racket again—political appointment of a single state game warden, together with all his patronage-hungry underlings.

Maybe the Idaho Wildlife federation feels that it was accomplishing nothing, so when it requested the resignation of the director of the state fish and game commission and recommended that representation on the commission be reduced from five to three members.

Apparently the wildlife federation had no intention of taking issue with the principle of a commission, but instead was advocating steps that might improve the commission itself.

Be that as it may, these proposals nevertheless set off the old politically-controlled fish and game department—re-sult which the federation should keep in mind.

The seriousness of the whole business is demonstrated by the attitude of Governor Egan, who favors retention of the commission for "at least another two years on probation."

Imagine the commission being put on probation for another two years! No matter what happened, it could never stink any worse than the old system of the department being under political control.

The politicians, or even the Idaho Wildlife federation to the contrary, it's a warning for the average Idaho sportsman to be on his toes. Let's fight these political patronage seekers until hell freezes over!

Wanting as our words may seem in our discussion of this highly technical educational subject, we hope we have at least gotten across the general idea that our legislature has finally decided to concern itself with something "fundamental."

Now we're coolin'!

Writer Suggests Return to Spirit of Our Founders

Editor, Times-News:—As soon to celebrate the birthdays of two national figures of the past—George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

We have been prone to forget these great men in the stress of a world war and have heard too much about such men as Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin—these men with their new ideologies who sent nations to war with each other.

One of our writers, that was the USSR wanted a world revolution and then would control after the pattern of communism. This is not what the USA wants. Perhaps the ideals of Washington and Lincoln may seem old-fashioned and out-of-date to this generation. Nevertheless, their ideals and sound principles of government are still with us today.

There was a time when our schools made much of these birthdays, but not so with our schools of today. They are taking up with modern ideas that they have no time for the fine things of the past. However, these men were more than historical figures, they stood for qualities that all men should stand for in every age.

The characteristics of these men will ever stand out as fine examples for the young men of today. But how about the great men of our day?

Washington's unselfishness in line of duty and Lincoln's honesty in dealing with the fellow men mean more than all the fine speeches and promises of a Douglas or Roosevelt.

Only by the spirit of such men as Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and other great men and women of the past can we say with Nathan Hale "I regret that I have only one life to give for my country."

May we this February renew our faith in our country, in our form of government and give honor to these notable men of the past who gave their lives and fortunes that we might enjoy freedom of worship, speech and press. Let us ever be mindful of our duty as citizens and see that no foreign element robs us of our great heritage.

The kind of America we want is the kind the founding fathers gave us—not the kind of America new leaders forced upon us these last 13 years.

Taxpayer Raps Bill to Bring 19 New Exemptions in Idaho

Editor, Times-News:—Bill HB-31 in the Idaho legislature deals with 19 tax exemptions.

Until Idaho puts our government on a just basis and demands that all share the costs equally as all share the benefits, we will be short of finance. I am sorry to say, I have paid taxes in full since 1909. No exemptions for me, and I want none. But I believe all other women should pay the same. There is no justice in permitting one woman to build an estate at the expense of another. Neither do I see why such a grant is called an exemption to one and the same amount of money given another in need called relief or a grant. Neither is it.

I believe both are in the same class after receiving—both are charity or neither is charity.

Resident of Buhl Takes Off Hat to 'Cleanup' Sheriff

Editor, Times-News:—It seems some people are taking it very hard—about our new attempt clamping the lid on gambling and other vices. I take my hat off to him. He said before he elected he would "enforce the law" and he is holding people voted for him and he will stand back of him.

I can see there is already an improvement there in my home town. Some people, gambled and lost their money, went home broke. Now they can buy food and stay home with their families where they belong.

It is gratifying to know that Twin Falls had a mayor who is in favor of decency and order. Buhl also has a splendid mayor who stands for right. This county, which is so productive, does not require gambling in order to pay expenses.

There will be less need for fines, as there will be fewer crimes and accidents. If the law is observed.

He Wonders How Folks Will Take Decrease in Pay

Editor, Times-News:—I'm just wondering if the folks who recently had their salaries, wages and pensions raised to fit high prices will kindly submit to having them lowered when prices hit rock-bottom as they did shortly after World War I and as they undoubtedly will again.

If they won't kindly submit, what about us poor devils who were not so fortunate as to have ours raised? We'd like to have lower prices with higher salaries, wages and pensions, too.

HESCHEL BONNER
(Rt. 2, Twin Falls)

Robert Hook is credited with inventing the compound microscope in 1665.

I do not ask to be given an exemption. I want to be a part of this state and carry my share, but I do not want to be forced to poverty by a tax load. I cannot pay white other women build an estate, by such laws.

The amount of exemption is great, I am told by county treasurers. We must have money for schools, protection and government which all share equally and no one should object to pay his part. In order to stop the abuse, the law should be changed and the privilege denied.

Teachers Ask $500 "Bonus" For '47 Term

Teachers are a joke, not to be taken seriously," he said. "I believe teachers should be paid for the work they do to the public by speeches and by radio broadcasts."

"We've had scabs in the teaching profession—teachers who offered to take another man's job for less money in depression times—and we need a fair wage scale," he asserted, attacking a verbal parallel with the union labor conditions enjoyed by building and construction workers.

ator, coal stove for cooking which is hooked up with water tank for hot water and a coal-burning stove. These are permanent fixtures in the apartments.

Landscaping Planned
Renters pay their own light and water, but the city provides garbage disposal. Plans for landscaping the grounds will be carried out as soon as weather conditions permit, Gee stated.

Clothes-line space is provided for each apartment and coal storage is provided at the rear of each unit. The city provided sewage facilities for the project. All units are wired for electrical appliances.

Wading Pool Available
Located just west of the city park, there will be plenty of shade and cool grass and a shallow wading pool for children of tenants in the summer.

The units are not a temporary type dwelling as in many cases of emergency housing. The sponsoring agent, the city of Gooding, will pay off its portion of the expense for Children were allowed to rent the apartments. The apartments are rented to suit the individual needs of families. Completely furnished the rent is $30 per month. Unfurnished they rent for $25, and partly furnished, $35, with additional assessments based on number of pieces of furniture needed. Each apartment has two bedrooms, a shower room, large living room-dining room and kitchen with large closets in each room. The kitchen has a double sink, refrigerator

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

By INEZ PUCKETT MEYEN

Mrs. Lester Henderson bestowed upon us "Mystery Tea" Saturday afternoon for Inez Meyen, whose book "So This is Hanching," a humorous account of tenderfoot arrivals in Idaho, is in the process of printing—San Francisco Examiner.

SAN FRANCISCO—The Peninsula Writers' League gave us a tea, and the call went out to all the literary folk in the bay area. Your Magic Valley scribe started with three big shots in present resident fiction—Helen Papashilly, author of "Anything Can Happen in the Mountains"; Kathryn Forbes McLean, whose book, "Ma-ma's BANK Account," is now being made into a movie, with Irene Dunn as "mama," and Barrett Williams, whose "Good-bye to the 'Spawns of the North' and other Alaskan tales are well known up and down the land.

Your Magic Valley scribe stood up in her black-lace-over-pink and told the guys and gals about her coming book, "So This is Hanching." In the telling she managed to do a bank-up job of selling us on the book. Inez Meyen, who writes features for the New Yorker, and the acknowledged author of red hot true stories reciting "The Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight."

Literary people are apt to be an informal lot. They wave their hands, raise their voices in enthusiasm, all on the floor in groups. A party ended with the labor editor of the San Francisco Times, doing a minute with a broad-beamed gal who writes features for the New Yorker, and the acknowledged author of red hot true stories reciting "The Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight."

We accompanied a professor of English to San Jose college and lectured to three of his classes. Once more subject was this column and the technique of getting 10,000 words into book form and sold. Once more we pulled hard for good old Idaho. These Bay City people are wonderful folks and when our book comes out, we are returning for literary teas and fetes which they have planned to help launch it into the reading world. If we have helped give old southern Idaho its just due in our visit here, we are happy.

All three had been students in our Journalism classes; all three had played places in the past. They came in and sat down. About each was the look of the cat who had just swished the canary.
"Teach," said Nelson, the husky red-haired one. "We got a swell new blue Blinn job out here at the airport and we ain't taking a ride of your life."
"But boys," we protested, "you KNOW you're poor old man brought phobia about flying in anything smaller than a B-17. Besides, our life insurance policy has lapsed!"
"No good," Teach, said Bill. "You're not going to let us down. Nelson will pilot the job and me and Rich will ride along to hold you in. Of course, Nelson was awful reckless out in the south Pacific. He Wants-to-Live-Forever Miller, they called him out there. But we will be here to keep an eye on him."
"Boys," we said, "one thing we MUST know before we embark on this outside flight—did we ever flunk any of you in class? Because if we did, we won't budge off terra firma!"
All three cried vehemently that they'd always got at least "C" from us, and Nelson swore he'd once even made a "D." So we crept trembling into some stacks and were whistled off to the airport where the blue Blinn was waiting among a lot of silver, yellow and other colored toys. Backless young men were scrambling down the field and careening through the sky in these frail make-ahills.

Nelson eased into the pilot's seat and Rich and Bill, after gently boosting us beside him, clambered in behind. "They kicked in a row about four of us going up before Nels got the hang of the thing," yelled Bill as the propeller began to whirl. We clutched the upholstery and gritted our teeth.
We taxied down the field and the

Housing Unit Provides Homes For 24 Gooding Vet Families

By LETITIA TESTER
GOODING, Feb. 1.—Although not exactly the latest in modern housing, the Gooding veterans housing unit, now complete and occupied, provides 24 families a "castle" of their own. Compared with some of the more recent abodes the units or apartments offer many modern conveniences. Most important, each apartment gives a home to only one family—and to many families this is their first home they've had.

Begin in March, 1946, under sponsorship of the city council of Gooding, assisted by the local Veterans of Foreign Wars, the structures were brought here from Vancouver, Wash. It is estimated the project is valued at $40,000. The government furnished the building and equipment.

Go Heads Unit
Merrill Gee, Gooding, is general manager in charge of renting and management. Occupants were chosen from veterans whose need for housing was deemed greatest by a committee. Only couples with children were allowed to rent the apartments.
