Thompson Ruled Chief of Georgia By State's Court

ATLANTA, March 19 (AP)—The state supreme court in a 5 to 2 decision today held that M. E. Thompson is Georgia's governor and that Herman Talmadge's election by the legislature was void.

Talmadge, who assumed office with the backing of national guard officers and state troopers, announced that he would vacate both the executive office and the mansion "as soon as we can get the files out and our personal effects packed."

Thompson will serve until January, 1949. Talmadge said in a statement to newsmen that he considered the people of the court of last resort in political questions, and said the question of last resort would be to elaborate further on that statement.

Talmadge said he would not ask the supreme court to reconsider its decision. The supreme court thus moved to end nine weeks of political turmoil in which rival governors occupied the capitol and contended for control of state agencies and departments.

Talmadge operated from the executive suite, however, and a great majority of the departments recognized him as governor. Not Final Yet

The court's decision will not become final until it is affirmed in two motions for rehearing expected to be filed by the losing side. Both sides have said there would be no attempt to carry the dispute into the federal courts.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, who presided over the court, said the court's decision was not a final one. He said the court would meet again in two weeks to consider the case.

The court's decision was based on the fact that the Georgia constitution provides for a governor to be elected for a four-year term. The court said that the Georgia constitution was violated when Talmadge was elected.

The court also ruled that the Georgia constitution was violated when Talmadge was elected. The court said that the Georgia constitution was violated when Talmadge was elected.

Jack Smith Elected Alumni Group Chief

Election of officers, appointment of committees and discussions of future activities constituted Tuesday night's initial organization meeting of the Twin Falls chapter of the Idaho Alumni Association at the Idaho Power company auditorium here.

Jack Smith, Twin Falls county agent, was unanimously elected president of the new unit, which also includes the Kimberly-Hansen-Murtagh area. Other officers are Mel Sackett, vice-president, and Mrs. Don Murphy, secretary-treasurer.

The meeting marked the first step in organization of a sub-district of the Idaho Alumni Association within the south central or fourth district, of which Huley Payne is chairman. After opening the session and pointing out the chapters will be formed for the Burley, Rupert, Jerome-Edna-Tarz, Hooding-Wendover, Hagerman, Hilly-Keetchum and Buhl-Casale, Ford-Pleier areas. Chairman Payne outlined the meeting over to the newly elected officers.

First focal point of alumni efforts will be to arrange for welcoming of M. P. (Dixie) Howell, new Washington football coach, when he visits this area in April. A state-wide tour after spring graduation practices. Hank Powers and Bob Leight were appointed by President Smith as co-chairman of the committee to arrange for the Howell visit.

Other committee chairmen appointed were M. B. (Bill) Priest, completion of mailing lists; Don Murphy, M. P. (Dixie) Howell, and Lynn Hempling, program committee; and John B. Brogan, public relations committee.

In opening the meeting, Payne outlined objectives of the alumni organization, such as encouraging attendance at the university of high school graduates, placement of Idaho graduates in positions within the state, and of forming an articulate group able to make its wishes known in regard to matters affecting the university.

The next meeting is scheduled for April 15. To speed up distribution of auto licenses, County Assessor George A. Chas. and County Assessor George A. Chas. are sure to bring either last year's registration of their automobiles.

The registration should be handy because it is supposed to be kept in the car. Chas. said. "Our owners must bring either it or the title at the time they apply. If they don't, they'll lose their place in line when they go back after it."

Chas. will start issuing licenses Wednesday for motorcycles and Twin Falls and the east end of the county. West end drivers will obtain their plates in next week from W. Lee Howard at Buhl.

Because March 15 is the deadline for the purchase of new licenses, Chas. said, "It will be a busy day for me to accommodate motorists by looking up their previous registration records. I expect my office to be overrun with applicants."

Most of the plates would have been issued by this time and only last-minute stragglers would make application in the next few days. Because the plates did not arrive until this week, the bulk of the plates will be turned out in the next week and a half.

Lewis Downs to Supreme Court Mandate; Orders Observance of Contract

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—John L. Lewis bowed today to a supreme court mandate and told his 400,000 soft coal miners their contract with the government will continue in force after March 31.

The mine leader's action thus removed the threat of a nationwide bituminous mine shutdown which might have occurred on that date had the contract been allowed to expire. The miners traditionally do not work without a contract. Lewis sent a 20-word letter to Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug, formally withdrawing the notice of last Nov. 15 ending his government contract. It was that notice which touched off the 17-day strike.

It also involved Lewis and the United Mine Workers in legal proceedings that led to their conviction of contempt of court and heavy fines. The case went to the supreme court which upheld the conviction and fines and directed Lewis to call off his notice ending the government contract.

Krug did not comment immediately on Lewis' action. However, Navy Capt. N. H. Collison, coal mines administrator under Krug, said: "This appears to be full and complete compliance, without hedging of any sort. I don't see how it can be otherwise construed."

Collison said he and Krug planned to confer as to the next step. K. C. Adams, editor of the United Mine Workers Journal, distributed copies of Lewis' notice ending the strike threat to newsmen. The UMW leader himself was not present.

The government has been operating the mines since last May 27 when they were seized and a 60-day strike. President Truman recently received authority by which the mines were seized under a war powers act.

Whether Lewis and the coal operators extend the government to take and operate such properties in the public interest is the question of the coal mines administrator will be decided June 30.

Committee to Revise State School Areas

BOISE, March 19 (AP)—The state-wide committee to supervise reorganization of Idaho's school districts is expected to propose a new law adopted by the 29th legislature will be appointed probably April 19 by the state board of education.

Alton D. Jones, state superintendent of public instruction, said appointments will be made at a meeting of the board earlier this week in Pocatello.

The nine-member committee will plan the proposed reorganization plans which will be initiated by county committees. After approval by the state board of education, the proposals are submitted to voters of the affected areas for final action.

Jones said the state board of education would consider recommendations of the board of education and organizations having statewide influence. Among those groups, Jones said, are the Idaho Education Association, State Chamber of Commerce, Idaho Orange State Parent-Teacher association, Idaho School Trustees association and State Federation of Labor.

The state reorganization committee will be composed of one member from the state board of education and one member from each of the state's two congressional districts. Jones said the board of education would make appointments in its April meeting in a city to be designated later.

Operator Has Close Escape In Line Mixup

MURTAUGH, March 19—A telephone operator narrowly escaped death yesterday and electric service was disrupted for about two and a half hours when a falling tree struck a utility pole, severing power lines which "exploded" in his face.

Shortly after the power lines fell across the telephone wires, Kenneth Burley, telephone operator, noticed something was wrong with equipment and started to open a switchbox. The power lines were severed by a brilliant flash. He sustained burns on three fingers and was temporarily blinded by the flash.

Burley said he believed his life was saved because he was standing on a dry surface. The power lines were severed by 7200 volts of electricity, much greater than the highest voltage of a telephone circuit.

A crew of workmen, under the direction of Harry Summers, was removing dead trees from the old tower after spring gridiron practices. A branch of one of the trees fell against a utility pole with what was described as little force. However, the power cables broke and fell on telephone wires, generating sparks.

Power lines were out of service for about two and a half hours while workers worked to restore service. Two separate telephone lines were put out of order. The tower is being repaired and will be in service first, with a Union Pacific railroad line being out of operation for nearly three hours.

He is survived by his wife, the former Nellie Criss; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Smith; Burley, and a sister, Mrs. Viola Solomon, Burley. The body is in the Burley funeral home pending funeral arrangements.

The registration should be handy because it is supposed to be kept in the car. Chas. said. "Our owners must bring either it or the title at the time they apply. If they don't, they'll lose their place in line when they go back after it."

Truman Asks Extension of Export Rules

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—President Truman today asked congress to extend the government's control over exports for a year beyond their present expiration date, June 30.

He said in a message requesting speedy action that an uncontrolled outflow of goods and services would lighten domestic demand and increase the "already substantial" burden of living costs borne by the American people.

Truman said the government's control over exports is necessary to maintain the balance of payments and to protect the national interest. He requested that the control be extended for one year.

Wedding Fete Ends in Jail, Bride Leaves

With the bride missing overnight and the bridegroom and three companions jailed, Twin Falls county sheriff's office believed the celebration Monday went from joyous to joyless.

John and varying court costs by Probate Judge S. T. Hamilton Tuesday afternoon on charges of drunkenness were the bridegroom Robert T. Delamare, Pocatello; Ben Martin and Mark Martin, Twin Falls.

Emil H. Heib, the fourth man of the party, was not arraigned with the others. He was released by district court when further action on an alcoholic hearing was withheld.

Heib was committed to the U. S. veterans bureau for treatment for alcoholism in an order dated Feb. 4 by Judge James W. Porter. When the bureau was unable to receive him, Judge Porter released Heib last Friday.

His latest drunkenness charge brought him into an order dated Feb. 4 of the previous action against him in district court, according to county officers.

According to the story given to Deputy Sheriff Claude Wiley, Delamare and his bride were hitchhiked a ride with the Martins Monday afternoon near Wells, Nev., and the entire group near drinking heavily. At Corral, Nev., the party ran out of liquor and purchased more on credit.

When miles south of Rogerson, Wiley indicated, a split-up agreement broke out among the others. Monday night, before going to bed, Wiley and the party took bottles and car tools back to the party rather indelicately. The party called and the party took Delamare and Ben Martin were taken into custody at Rogerson. The other two were taken by officers at Piler.

The bride meanwhile had hitchhiked a ride to Twin Falls where she was picked up by a car which was taken to Burley where she was located Tuesday night.

Nursery Has Trees as Aid For Farmers

"We have plenty of order blanks for plenty of trees," said County Agent Jack Smith in pointing out that local farmers have ample opportunity to secure all the trees they need this year for field windbreaks that will save them crops and soil.

"Order blanks are available at the county agent's office in the courthouse here."

Smith said he was informed by Vernon Ravenscroft, extension forester at the University of Idaho that "we have almost had a million trees listed for sale at the university nursery this spring, and we want to see them get good homes on Idaho farms. It is a fine time for farmers to make those field windbreak plantings they have long wanted."

The forester added that the day when a farmer has to put up with winds that blow his soil into the next field or across the road to a neighbor's yard is long past. Experimental plantings in the windbreak parts of the state show that trees planted in the right order and in the right places will save farmers seed fields for as much as 20 times their own height.

"Trees coming from the university nursery show 13 species offered in quantity this spring. Prices range from 15 to 25¢ per thousand trees with slight increase in the cost for smaller numbers. Orders must be at the university nursery not later than April 1 for delivery this year. The trees make the trip to any part of Idaho at no extra cost and come by truck to the various counties, by express to northern counties. All shipments are made to the county extension agent at whose office they may be picked up by farmers who have ordered them."

Statement of MacArthur Is Big Surprise

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Observers in this country, both official and unofficial, were puzzled if not actually startled by both the timing and content of General MacArthur's statement suggesting an early peace with Japan and withdrawal of our occupation forces.

Indications are that he spoke without consulting the state department.

MacArthur's suggestion does not appear to fit into present foreign policy, into the United Nations program nor into the conception reported from MacArthur's own headquarters several months ago that Japan must be held as the far western anchor of a world-wide defense line against communism. Nor does it jibe with the still-pending U. S. proposal for a 25-year-treaty with Britain, Russia and China for control of Japan.

The Japanese, of course, are jubilant that their economic position has been presented so well—MacArthur stressed the necessity of readmitting the country to world trade—but even some of them express fear that any civil regime such as might be operated through the United Nations would be unable to prevent the encroachment of communism, which already is creating a pressure which MacArthur has recognized on more than one occasion.

An action of the administration's policy of fighting the spread of totalitarian communism, observers wondered if MacArthur's plan would mean not only a recession from that line in Japan, but also a complete collapse of our position in Korea.

Finance Company Awarded $435.25 Car of Buhl Man

A six-man probate court jury Tuesday in a verdict finding for the plaintiff, awarded possession of a 1937 Chevrolet sedan and a money judgment of $435.25 plus court costs to the Pacific Finance corporation of California in its suit against Albert Hansen, Buhl.

The complaint and amended complaint filed by the finance concern in February, 1946, charged that Hansen had purchased the car in September, 1945, from the Buhl Motor company, buying it on conditional sales contract which provided that the motor company would retain title to the vehicle until completely paid for, and would repossess the car if payments were not made.

The complaints also charged that Hansen was to pay $147.72 in 12 monthly payments of $12.56 each, and alleged that he had made only one payment.

An answer and cross-claim filed by Hansen last January alleged that he had made two payments, that a collection agent had become unreasonable and abused his wife, and that the agent had threatened to drive the car away. Hansen charged that his wife had warned the agent that there was no oil in the crankcase because of minor repairs

NATIONAL ADMIRATION POLL

One of the most interesting questions in Dr. George Gallup's whole bag of quizzes is: "What person living today in any part of the world do you admire most?" And American public opinion, always unpredictable, is never more baffling than when it provides the answer.

This is not meant as any reflection on Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who has been the winner in the last two years. It is simply that most of us, if asked to give a guess as to America's No. 1 pin-up boy without Doctor Gallup's aid, would probably come up with another answer.

General MacArthur's popularity assets are not hard to find. His role in the war was unmatched for sustained drama. The long struggle back from defeat, accomplished with consummate skill against tremendous odds was something to fire the imagination. And certainly the general's colorful personality and handsome presence do not detract from his general appeal.

Yet General MacArthur has not set foot on continental American soil in many years. His present assignment is a passive one. It is safe to say that few of his admirers have ever seen him.

So it must be that Americans' gratitude and admiration are less rickety than we might sometimes suppose. This conclusion is borne out by the fact that for the second straight year Dwight Eisenhower took second place in the poll.

But what of the other names in the top ten on the Gallup list? They are Winston Churchill, Harry S. Truman, George C. Marshall, Eleanor Roosevelt, James Byrnes, Pope Pius XII, Elster Kenny, and Thomas E. Dewey. In that order.

Last year Mr. Churchill was in fifth place, behind President Truman and Mrs. Roosevelt. Now, a year farther removed from Britain's highest office and the object of increased criticism at home and abroad, his American popularity is increased.

Last year Henry A. Wallace and Harold Stassen were among the top ten. Have Americans grown more conservative in the past 12 months? Before an answer is made it should also be noted that Herbert Hoover, who held sixth place on last year's list, is now missing.

There are other items of interest. Last year Mr. Byrnes, as secretary of state, was in tenth place. Now, retired, he is in seventh, ahead of Pope Pius, whose name did not appear in last year's first ten.

The current appearance of General Marshall's name is not hard to explain. But why Sister Kenny? She did nothing so new and spectacular in 1946 as to account for this sudden notice. Maybe she should thank Rosalind Russell and Hollywood for her present eminence in the public esteem.

We don't know who she is. But we do know the only thing we're sure of is that we made a mistake above in speaking about "popularity." Popularity and admiration aren't the same thing. General MacArthur might have trouble in outdaring Bob Hope in the same way on the same night. And some would probably pass up a speech by Mr. Churchill to see Bob Feller pitch against the Red Sox.

Perhaps the chief difference is that the popular heroes get rich, while the admired heroes get to paste Gallup Poll clippings in their scrapbooks.

PROOF POSITIVE

We have written, and believed, that the air age was dawning. We have been impressed by progress in jet plane development, and we have marveled at the talk of supersonic speed. But, honestly, we never felt that aviation could be part of the fabric of daily life until the other day. Then along came some stories that changed the problem of keeping his factory going in spite of a pikelet line by flying in material via helicopter. And the Fuller Brush man will soon be making their rounds in small amphibian airplanes.

Folk, we believe the flying machine is here to stay.

DAWN OF THE MILLENNIUM

There is bitter controversy over control of the atomic bomb. Diplomats exchange hard words, and in the lower ranks of life there is always the fearful talk of war. Yet let the world take heart. For in one corner of our globe the sweet, white blossom of disarmament has flowered.

The New York state legislature has passed a law forbidding, to children under 16, the sale, loan, or gift of a water pistol.

A Wisconsin man won a $50,000 damage suit because a flying beer bottle cap hit him in the eye. "Mud in your eye" is still damage proof.

A Minnesota woman asked divorce because her husband cut her hair. Barberous treatment.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG POT SHOTS

UNYIELDING—The rigid and unyielding management of wartime rent controls by the dying office of the Federal Housing Administration has made it impossible for congress to wind up this emergency experiment without causing chaos in the minds of national housing. As a result of their canvass, the legislators find that they must postpone indefinitely any action on this vexing problem.

The senate banking and currency committee has had a tentative report on measures to permit a 10 per cent increase for landlords and to terminate all rent ceilings when the existing law expires on June 30. They had hoped to report a liquidating bill several weeks ago, but they are frankly fearful of the results. Now the subject has been placed at the bottom of the GOP's legislative agenda.

OPPRESSIVE—It is admitted that many property owners suffered heavy losses because controls were taken off in 1946. But the controls were comparatively low rental. Meanwhile, to preserve the value of their investment, they have had to make repairs and maintain service through a period of rising prices.

But the record also shows that a 10 per cent rate would permit an unqualified return on many substantial investments. Such an increase would benefit the just and the unjust.

But the record also shows that a 10 per cent rate would permit an unqualified return on many substantial investments. Such an increase would benefit the just and the unjust.

DIFFICULT—Paul Porter, who has recommended a $250,000,000 American loan to keep the Greeks' house from falling apart, has held chiefly responsible for the present situation. Porter, who was the former rent administrator, he acted as if he had a private and personal feud with the nation's landlords.

He has spent tremendous power from his regional representatives throughout the country. Administrator Porter would not let them correct abuses of their own making. He would not let them correct abuses of their own making.

Most likely solution appears to be to extend the law for another year after June 30, and to empower local boards to revise rates up or down on the basis of local conditions. This would supply, it will admittedly be an extremely difficult administrative task, but it seems to be the only fair and sensible way for putting America's house in order.

GINN—Ginn senate bosses have made the belated decision to try to get the related themselves out of responsible control of their membership when they passed the La Follette-Monroney reorganization act. This has given them the greatest concern that the so-called revolt of 16 "baby senators."

The L-P bill reduced the number of committees, and it has given them the greatest concern that the so-called revolt of 16 "baby senators."

UNAMENABLE—It so happens that the Republicans in the senate are unamenable to the demands of the GOP union now and then on certain questions.

SUPERIORITY—This the rebellion or intransigence of one or two on any of these seven-to-six committees transforms a Republican majority into Democratic.

It is thinking on these things which gives gray hairs to Messrs. Taft, Vandenberg and White, and makes it a wonder what they can expect a party program without kicking a few of these senators or revising the La Follette-Monroney act.

THE OLD AUTOMATIC
Looking around for lieutenant colonels who might be made colonels, the army has found one James A. Kilian. We have heard of him before.

Kilian ran the infamous Libbyville detention camp. His guards had a slogan of "Shoot a prisoner and be made a sergeant." This joyous attitude led to a series of brutal trials, in which Kilian testified to the effect of "I can't remember." He was accused of trying to influence witnesses. Another officer testified that "the theory of defense was for everyone to deny everything."

Eventually the court martial caught up with the colonel in the manner of catching up with a somewhat mischievous boy. Kilian was fined $500 and reprimanded for permitting cruel punishment of his GI prisoners.

So now the army has nominated him for promotion, and for a second time since the Lichfield case became public. The army explains that his seniority rules require an automatic nomination. The old automatic.

But the Kilian case is hardly Exhibit A. It is Exhibit B. It helps the congressional investigating committee to bring the army into reform of its promotional system. The name of Kilian has been heard enough.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

TIME IS GROWING SHORT
We note with regret the notice of the Idaho state legislature which has, to date, produced little or nothing in the way of constructive legislation.

The state law makers have become so embroiled in a squabble about the liquor control and other machines that other legislative matters have taken a back seat.

The result, of course, will be that the last few days of the session will see scores of measures acted upon with scarcely time to announce their titles—not to mention the time to read the "small print" clause which may later show up and haunt the lawmakers.—Minidoka County News.

POT SHOTS

A NICE JOE
Dear Pot Shots: City Attorney Joe Blandford usually tops off the Monday night city council meetings with a million words or more at the Peter Pan.

Going by the shop the other night soon after the council meeting I spied the esteemed attorney on the business end of a broom, sweeping out the establishment. Could it be that Joe was caught a little short of funds after consuming an unbelievable amount of money on a Monday a.m.?

Nifty Waters
Nope, Joe was just being a nice Joe.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW
Several leading senators have introduced resolutions in congress calling for a constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18.

With ten-year-old children in congress, it is not surprising that changes are likely to sweep the country.

Political candidates will probably invent new machines to invent new machines.

When you put down the lever, plutum will squirt out.

Politicians will be hiring themselves by any means. That way they can get first crack at the new voters. And probably before long the same will be true of the election returns.

All of which is giving the hostess a lot of trouble. A lot of babies are starting to throw their diapers into the ring.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

President Truman's message to congress on Greece contains the first honest expression on the character of the Soviet government and the absolute hostility of communism and communists to the American government and its principles that has come from the White House in 14 years.

When he said this year, many communists have been indistinguishably slow on the uptake. However, the company of those who engaged in red-baiting when risk of abuse, at least, is not fastidious and will welcome the brother and give him his penny.

The question now is, however, as it has been for years, how to identify them. The department had identified itself by its own standards in the course of six years, and had first, in revealing his formula for the guidance of loyal American members of unions and others, he might be good enough to state also how these six got into his department to these people but the best relief came from the American people.

their campaign to discredit Dies' decision by both the President and his wife.

Mrs. Roosevelt, personally conducted herself in a manner to indicate sympathy with those under attack by inviting a bunch of them to the White House. At the chicken following the fourth inauguration, the guests included William Galligan, originally Magellan, a well-known figure whose notoriety and rise from the status of obscure and petty state in the police records of New York was due to his consistent preaching of the politics, or line, of the Stalinist machine in the United States. Many influential communists were turned up in many departments of the Roosevelt government, but in not one did there was a sports attended by some risk of abuse, at least, is not fastidious and will welcome the brother and give him his penny.

The department had identified itself by its own standards in the course of six years, and had first, in revealing his formula for the guidance of loyal American members of unions and others, he might be good enough to state also how these six got into his department to these people but the best relief came from the American people.

case then went to the supreme court and the majority ruled for Bridges, reversing Sides, the court of appeals and Sides, in a long and wily discussion of the meaning of the word "affiliation." In fine, however, a man could easily and cooperate with a violent anti-American group in its legitimate activities without becoming guilty of its illicit purposes.

Chief Justice Stone wrote a minority opinion for himself, Frankfurter and Roberts which demolished the evil public of the majority opinion. But that was only in the nature of a wall of regret for, by this decision, Bridges was welcomed to our midst and eventually to citizenship, in which status of course, he may, if he desires, openly demand the violent destruction of the government. As a citizen, he may advocate the illicit aims of the party, if he would.

A resolution is now pending by Congressman McDonough of California, which unmistakably denounces communism as an international conspiracy against our government and a communist as anyone who expounds communism as an enemy of the country to be dealt with accordingly.

The decision of the supreme court in the Harry Bridges deportation case seems to frustrate any hope of staving off communism on anyone. Bridges was given a long and fair hearing by Judge Charles F. Sears, a distinguished jurist, under an challenged act of congress, as the minority opinion of the supreme court said. Judge Sears recommended that he be deported on two grounds (a) that he was a member of the Communist party and (b) that he was affiliated with both the party and the Marine Workers' Industrial Union "which was a part of the Communist party."

By The Associated Press
High school basketball approaches the boiling point today as the south Idaho tournament opens at Pocatello to pick the class A and class B regional champions from among 10 survivors of district playoffs.

The tourney will end Saturday night with winners slated to clash at Twin Falls next week with north Idaho champions for the state championship.

The state champion Preston Indians will defend their title at the Pocatello class A meet, but the American Falls Braves, state class B champions, will be absent, after losing out in district playoffs earlier in the month.

In each class, losers will enter a consolation bracket and winners go into the semi-finals Friday. Champions in each class will be crowned Saturday night.
