

Lewis Orders Miners Out; Lashes Krug

commented that "at least no more men will be during the mourning period." Krug will be safe for that time anyway.

Reveals Letters
Lewis made public a letter from R. L. Bayler, director of the bureau of mines, a branch of Krug's interior department, saying that in 1945 federal mine inspectors in 1946 only two mines were found "completely" with federal safety regulations.

Bayler wrote that the average mine was found to have 27 separate safety rule violations. Lewis said that by multiplying the 1,345 inspections and the 27 violation average, it could be seen there were 36,315 violations of safety rules in 1946.

Rules Repealed
Safety regulations were made more stringent on July 29, 1946, by a new federal mine safety code issued under terms of the government's agreement with the union for operation of the mines. The new code was under federal seizure and operation since May, 1946.

"Krug has not put in any one instance in the industry closed a mine that was unsafe, removed its manager, or made any attempt to have the law and his own code of standards complied with as recommended by his own inspectors," Lewis said.

"He has dishonored his word, brutalized the mine workers, and he should be cast out of the high office he holds."

KTFI, Police Chief Answer Suit Charges

8750, after which he disappeared. This episode, the answer contends, put officers on alert to protect the public.

The answer also asserts that Gille did not publish the statement, but made it believing it to be true and without malice or intent to injure the reputation of the Clark Broadcast Admitted

In its answer, the radio station holds that Chief Gille advised Harry A. Arnold, Jr., a newspaper for the station at that time, of the information contained in the broadcast and that it was prepared and announced "without the knowledge of any officer of the station." The station admits that the broadcast occurred but denies that it was done "to hurt the reputations of the plaintiffs."

Elaborating on grounds of the broadcast, the station contends that a requirement for licensing under the federal communications act of any officer of the station is news broadcast. Arnold was employed to prepare these broadcasts and to maintain the station's "good character and reputation" and of excellent ability and long experience.

Beckler asserting that the statement was "truthful" and was made by the co-defendants to the station, Attorney Earl E. Walker represents Mr. and Mrs. Clark.

What Has Russian Communism To Offer? He Wants to Know

Editor, Times-News:

What has Russian communism to offer? I ask the question in all sincerity, and my own answer is: "I don't know." I venture to add that, of all the thousands who read this letter, not one person does know. If, perchance, anyone does know, I think it would be a valuable contribution to have it reported in the Public Forum. I am not asking for some flippant answer, but one with at least a little authority back of it. We talk about the spread of communism in our country. How does it spread? What would it require to make you a communist? You would want some good reasons, would you not?

Most people are like you in that respect, and it happens, as I understand it, that there are quite a number of highly intelligent people, some in high positions, who have embraced communism. Now what was the talk the salesmen made when they sold communism to these men of character and ability?

And what was the rebuttal of these prospective candidates who resisted but finally were convinced? There are a lot of things in the present and in the past several years that I cannot recollect. Right now there is a great cry to outlaw communism. That's a bad sign. Surely you wanted democracy to dying, for we will only outlast party after party until only you and I are left—the only pure ones—and without a counter, I am granting the dictatorship to you!

It was reported before World War II how Stalin had put to death 20,000,000 of his own people and deliberately starved another 10,000,000. That was mild compared with what he is doing now. This country went to war with Spain for much less than what goes on in Russia. How could decent people ally themselves with such wickedness? Or are we no longer decent?

Mr. Smith, Here Are Quotes From Bible on Liquor

Editor, Times-News:

In answer to the letter by J. T. Smith, Buhl, in the Times-News March 23, here are some passages regarding liquor I found in the Bible:

1. Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that putteth to him, and maketh him drunken also, that thou mayest look on his nakedness. Habakkuk 2:15.
2. Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whoever is deceived thereby is not wise. Proverbs 31:1.
3. He not among winebibbers; among riotous eaters of flesh; for the drunkard and glutton shall come to poverty; and drowsiness shall clothe a man in rags. Proverbs 23:20-21. Continue to read the remaining part of this same chapter, especially verses 27 and 35.
4. Abstain from all appearance of evil. 1st Thessalonians 5:22.

We wouldn't think of leaving bottles of poison around in reach of our children, even though we taught them it was poison, it's about the same principle when we leave liquor around on every corner for them. All the education our children receive through the revenue from liquor will be received through blood money.

Liquor is the cause of crushed hearts, neglected children, tears, remorse and broken homes. Every vice follows in the wake of liquor. It is high time we, as a nation, did something about this evil and the awful traffic instead of encouraging it.

Backer of FDR, She Disapproves Of Hobbs' Knock

Editor, Times-News:

As I read Mr. Hobbs' letter of March 23, I wondered how many people live in the past. It's a time-waster and a useless habit.

The same amount of time used to make Mr. Roosevelt over the coals could have been used to figure out a way to prevent the war Mr. Hobbs is coming so plainly. I believe it is rather poor taste to throw stones at a fellow man who has passed on, leaving so many good deeds behind.

It would be interesting to see how much better Mr. Hobbs could have done on every count. He would do well to read the letter printed next to his, one written by J. T. Smith, Buhl, a broadminded gentleman who has the courage to speak out of his mind.

Why not strive to improve instead of disparaging?

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

By INEZ PUCKETT

"Happy the man, and happy he alone
Who can call today his own
Who secure within, can say,
Tomorrow do your worst I've Lived today!"

The farmer squinted through a pair of spectacles perched on his large nose. He was slowly counting out seeds of timothy, barley and red clover to find out how many there were in a pound. When he learned the he'd know how many pounds to sow per acre to get exactly the stand of grain he wanted.

There was no one to make these calculations for him for it was the year of 1780. Our country had no department of agriculture and no commercial seed houses. The farmer was George Washington, owner of 8,000 acres, half of them tillable, all of them needing fertilizer.

Mount Vernon was divided into five farms, and his owner was a man who went about his job like a modern agriculturalist. "All five of the places had their topsoil washed away long ago," Washington said. "The idea among my neighboring farmers is that it's cheaper to buy new acres than to manure old ones, but I think there's a better way. The answer is crop rotation."

The old boy tried to get the map of his land and divided it, with a crop rotation plan for each. He planted alfalfa first, and kept on planting it for 30 years. He tried rice, grain, winter wheat, and while he lived, he tried cotton, buckwheat and hemp.

He even imported Chinese geese, scattering their strange names in his diary. And always, as long as he lived and farmed, he planned ahead. The first year he found it exhausted the soil, tried buckwheat and plowed it under. Then he followed with another wheat crop, after which he sowed the land for three straight years to grain and clover. He planted corn, and got back his money on beef and mutton, milk and but-terfat. When he was seventy years old, of flood, good years or bad, he always grew wheat. He even added wheat spikes to his coat-of-arms. Most of his crop was exported to the West Indies. Stacks stamped "G. Washington" were not even inspected for quality and sold at a premium.

Magic Valley farmers might be interested to know that the Mt. Vernon farmer planted his wheat in drilled rows instead of broadcast- ing it, a new idea in his day. He even invented a combination plow and sower. "My favorite farm," said Washington, "is the one I call Muddy River. A year after year I have to drag up the mud swept into its bottom by erosion and pour it back on the land." Sometimes at dinner he would toast this farm, raising his glass and saying, "success to the mud!" The father of our country raised many titles, but the one he raised highest was the title of "farmer." He was a pioneer in tree planting and grafting, in fertilization and crop rotation.

Chance encounters (as we roamed about Magic Valley): ARNOLD BAKER of Gooding high school, all dressed up in his hand- some blue and white band costume, with "Gooding Senators" on the sleeve. "I've played a trumpet since I was in the fifth grade," said Arnold. "I'd like to be a music in- structor some day, or else an electrical engineer."

H. F. DEARDORF, whom we caught buying milk at a farm store. Mr. Deardorf was jovial. "I'm hav- ing a special dinner for my guests, Mr. J. T. Burgess, the Burley attor- ney, and Mrs. Burgess," he said. Mr. Deardorf said he goes under the classification of retired farmer. He's been around this old world, and thinks Idaho is tops. "The Twin Falls project is the best in the world" was his final enthusiastic comment.

TOM O'BRIEN from over Hazel- ton way. "You know anything about the writer Annie Pika Greenwood, who used to live in your commu- nity?" he asked. Mr. O'Brien said he sure did, and proceeded to tell many interesting incidents about the

U.N. Delegate Avers Russia Will Not Fight

WASHINGTON, March 29 (UP)—Anne O'Hare McCormick, New York newspaperwoman, declared today "Russia isn't ready to fight, has no will to fight and will back down be- fore any threat of a first-class scrap."

Mrs. McCormick, who is U. S. delegate to the United Nations con- sidering, scientific and cultural or- ganization, said she believes this country is "too much afraid of com- munist."

"It is troublesome as an instru- ment of Russian expansion," she said in a speech prepared for a meeting of the Women's Action Committee for Lasting Peace, "but as a doctrine and way of life it 'takes' only among the impoverished, the dispossessed and the frustrated."

"We are too much afraid of Rus- sian. Russia is the biggest and most underdeveloped of empires. Victory has weakened it as it has weakened every victor except the United States."

Mrs. McCormick said that "with this in mind 'my guess is that the President made a major blunder of the Greece crisis to warn the Soviet leader that they were running into danger of war.'" town, but it's noted for wool, dairy stock, wheat and potatoes. The area includes a large colony of those colorful folk of old Spain, the Basques. Don't breathe this to out- siders, but some of the best hunting and fishing in Idaho can be found within an hour's drive.

They say the male citizens of Rhos- shone have a special greeting for each other. We consider it one of the quaintest ever heard. Upon meeting, they cry, "Howdy! How's your music and guitar?"

A famous hostess says she uses only two words to make her guests happy. When they arrive she ex- claims, "At last!" and when they depart, she says, "Fareyou?" (Glad- ene Recamer said that.)

Would you believe it? The town of Rhosshone was originally called Napier! Why they changed it, no- body knows, or will tell. The town began with the building of the main Union Pacific railroad line in 1862, and has had as exciting a history as any place in Magic Valley. Until now the surrounding section was devoted to stock raising, but agri- culture came with the Carey act and now, Don, what Mr. MacQuivey called "fine guides, and real river men."

Idaho Sheepmen Oppose Land Sale

BOISE, March 29 (UP)—John H. Beckner, Twin Falls, president of the Idaho Wool Growers asso- ciation, said today that Idaho sheepmen are opposed to private ownership of remaining public grazing lands in the Gem state.

It has been proposed that the public domain be sold to livestock men.

Beckner said that the wool growers at their convention last January went on record as opposing private ownership of public lands. He said that in Idaho, the average sheepman owns more land for each sheep than operators in other western states and that the public lands remaining are strictly mar- ginal.

We are hoping there will be no interruption in your telephone service

With good-will and understanding on both sides, a telephone stoppage can be averted

YOU may have read in the last few days of the possibility of an interruption in your telephone service. This would be such a serious thing for the country, for telephone employees, and the Company, that we are doing our best to avert it through negotiations with the unions.

Our Policy on Wages and Working Conditions

It is the policy of The Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company to pay good wages and provide good working conditions... We believe that wages paid by this Company should compare favorably with those paid by other concerns in the community for work requiring similar skill and training. To make sure that this policy is carried out, we are continuously comparing our wages with other wages.

Telephone employees know their wages are good. But they wouldn't be human if they did not want them to be even better. Fact is, telephone wages have been getting better right along. In the last six years the average hourly wage rate has increased sixty-nine per cent.

Here are Some Typical Rates of Present Pay in Twin Falls

A five-day work week is the basic work period. Scheduled employees are paid overtime for time worked over eight hours a day, premium time for Sunday and holiday work, and higher than basic rates for evening and night duty.

SWITCHBOARD OPERATORS — The basic rate for beginners is $26 per week and for operators with eighteen months experience $30; regular in- creases bring this to a top of $36 a week. (Overtime, etc., increases these fig- ures).

CENTRAL OFFICE REPAIRMEN — Beginners without experience start at a basic rate of $28 a week. Regular increases bring this to a top of $63.50 a week.

LINEMEN—Beginners without experience start at a basic rate of $31 a week. Regular increases bring this rate to a top of $61 a week. (Overtime, etc. in- crease these figures).

COMBINATION MEN — Beginners without experience start at $28 for the basic work week and are raised regu- larly to a top of $61.75. (Overtime, etc. increases these figures).

We believe most people would agree that these are good wages. There are in addition, many other advantages to working for the Telephone Company, including pensions with the full cost paid by the Company; disability, sick- ness and death benefits; steady work and good working conditions; holidays with pay; and vacations with pay of one, two or three weeks depending on length of service.

Union Demands Total $27,000,000 a Year

The demands of the unions on wages and other matters would increase the present pay roll 70%. It would make our payroll more than all the money we collect for telephone service. It is five times the total earnings of the company that were available for interest and dividends in 1946.

The job of telephone management is to be fair to everyone, telephone users, employees and investors.

We want to be fair about wages and do what is best for both employees and telephone users. For it is the telephone user, after all, who pays us the money that we pay out in wages.

We want to pay good wages and provide good working conditions for em- ployees.

We want to keep the public pleased with its telephone rates and service.

We want to keep the investors satis- fied about the money they have invested in the business, so they will keep on investing.

Let us not forget that it takes all three—customers, workers, and inves- tors—to keep a business going.

The body was accompanied to Twin Falls from Los Angeles, where she died, by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Durr, Los Angeles, uncle and aunt of Mrs. Miller.

Ten Arbitrators Named in Strike

AMTLE, La., March 29 (AP)—Judge H. Davis appointed a legislative committee of 10 members today to arbitrate a five-day dairy farmers' strike which has threatened to tie up the milk supply of New Orleans. His move brought no immediate reaction from either side.
The arbitration proposal was received after a cessation of shootings and blockading of roads by armed men. Thousands of gallons of milk had been dumped en route to New Orleans, and one non-union farmer was slightly wounded.
The strike was called last Monday by Amtle local No. 16, Dairy Employees Chauffeurs and Maintenance Employees (AFLE), in protest against a reduction in the price paid for milk by New Orleans distributors from $5.75 to $5.25 per hundred-weight.

Two Boys, Taken From Bus, Held For Shoplifting

Less than four hours after the Twin Falls police department received and investigated several reports of shoplifting, two Pocatello youths were taken off a bus at Durbin with all the reportedly stolen articles in their possession as well as another item of value not reported as stolen, but the duct of which they allegedly confessed.
They were brought back to Twin Falls late Saturday night by Police Chief Howard Gillette, who said they would be arraigned Monday morning at 10 a. m. on charges of grand larceny.
The youths gave their names as Joseph L. Jones and Edward D. Hansen, and their address as Pocatello. Gillette said both are about 15 years old.
About 5 p. m. Saturday, the police department began receiving a series of complaints from the Durbin camp, reporting the loss of merchandise earlier Saturday. Among the losses were a $50 portable radio, Warner Music company; a $60 portable radio, Cress and Bruley furniture; an $80 camera, reported taken from the Sports show window; and a red ski, Bertha E. Campbell Apparel store.
Given a description of the parties believed responsible for the losses, the police department began an immediate investigation and learned that two suspects fitting the description had just arrived in Pocatello from Twin Falls. The police department was alerted to Pocatello, flashing the description and circumstances to Burley police by radio. The local police department asked that the suspects be taken off the bus when it arrived in Durbin.
This was done, although the local police were able to finish the first part of their investigation in the minutes before the bus was due in Durbin. When the youths were taken off the bus there, they were in possession of all the articles taken there, as well as a $150 value which had been taken in Pocatello about three weeks ago.
Gillette remarked that without the excellent cooperation of the Burley police department, the youths could not have been brought back here as quickly as they were.

German Miners Stage Walkout

ESSEN, March 29 (AP)—A walkout of 4,000 Dortmund coal miners injected a new note of seriousness today in Ruhr food shortage demonstrations marked so far by considerable sympathy on the part of British citizens.
Officials watched closely whether the Ruhr's other 250,000 miners might fall into step with the Dortmund men who were cheered by their wives as they left the pits while 2,000 hunger marchers paraded the downtown streets and sent deputations to British and German municipal authorities.
The Dortmund walkout was the first instance in three days of Ruhr strikes and demonstrations that miners left the jobs so essential to German and European economy.

Navy Will Cruise In Europe Waters

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—The navy announced today it will send two new battleships and two new heavy cruisers to northern European waters in June on the first training cruise for U. S. Naval Academy midshipmen since the beginning of World War II.
Adm. Richard L. Conolly, commander of U. S. naval forces in the eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean, identified the battleships as the New Jersey and Wisconsin, the carriers as the Essex class Kearsgard and Hancock. They will be accompanied by the destroyers Cone, Stirling, O'Hare and Meredith, and the landing ship (dock) Fort Meade.

Ministers Set Deadlines for Treaty Points

MOSCOW, March 29 (AP)—Produced by Secretary Marshall, the foreign ministers agreed tonight to set dates to reach main bargaining decisions on the future of Germany.
Simultaneously the British sought four-power agreement on return of all war prisoners to Germany by Dec. 31, 1948.
Authoritative sources disclosed that in a diplomatic sidestroke during the ministers' conference, Sir Maurice Peterson, the British ambassador, was conducting negotiations with the Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister A. V. Vishinsky on revision of the British-Russian alliance.
The negotiations were a follow-up to the meeting between British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Prime Minister Stalin at the beginning of the week.
Informants said that if a basis is reached for revising the present 1945 treaty against Germany, it would be put before Bevin and Bevin in another meeting before Bevin leaves Moscow.
In the shortest session of the conference to date, lasting only one hour, the ministers agreed to try to settle the heart of the German problem by discussing these main points in two two-hour sessions starting next Monday.
1. Germany as an economic unit, including reparations, and the review of the level of industry, including industrial demilitarization.
2. The form and scope of a provisional German government.

Forrestal Warns That Budget Cuts Jeopardize Navy

ST. LOUIS, March 29 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal declared tonight that if navy funds are cut below budgeted figures the navy's program and our naval strength would be seriously endangered.
Addressing the first annual conference of the Reserve Officers of the Naval Service (RONS), Forrestal said:
"The first naval estimates that we collected from the various bureaus of the navy totaled $8,800,000. The naval estimates that were sent to the bureau of the budget were scaled down to $5,600,000. That figure was cut by the budget bureau to $3,500,000. If it should be reduced below that minimum estimate our program and our naval strength would be seriously endangered."
Forrestal said, in his prepared address, that he was "sympathetic" with the efforts of congress to reduce national spending, but added: "In this precarious period of transition from destructive global war to a firmly established peace it is dangerous to strip ourselves of military power too fast and too soon."

Record Flight Around Planet Being Planned

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—Pen Manufacturer Milton Reynolds plans to attempt a record 65-hour, 20,000-mile round-the-world flight beginning here at 12:01 a. m. (EST) Saturday, April 4, a representative said today.
The spokesman, Franklin Lamb, said Reynolds' aim would be virtually to halve the 1928 global record set by Howard Hughes of 91 hours, 14 minutes.
Reynolds, a pilot and flight engineer will handle the plane, with Reynolds occasionally helping at the controls.
At a news conference Lamb said the record try would be made in a remodeled two-engine, high-wing Douglas A-20 monoplane purchased from Los Angeles from government surplus equipment.
Lamb said that because of a Russian rejection of the plan to fly the "short route" over Soviet territory as "hostile," the plane would have to cover 60,000 miles more than Hughes' trip.
B stops are planned at Paris, Calcutta, Shanghai, Tokyo and Anchorage, Alaska.

Methodist Class Presents Pageant

Sponsors of the pageant state the lessons to be portrayed are not new but are described as appealing to the vision and to the heart. The church extends an invitation to all to attend the pageant. No admission will be charged.

The official time was clocked by William Zint of the National Aeronautics association. The plane piloted by E. W. Larned of La Grange, Ill., left Long Beach at 11:24 a. m. (EST), and arrived here at 6:11:27 p. m. (EST).
Previous claimants to the record had been clocked officially at more than seven hours.

48 Trend Seen in Chicago Vote

CHICAGO, March 29 (AP)—Chicago will select a new mayor Tuesday in an election which the Republican high command regards as an important tactical skirmish leading to the next year's presidential battle.
The contest in Mayor Edward J. Kelly's Democratic stronghold will have national interest because:
1. It will be the first major test of the party strength in the nation since the 1946 congressional vote.
2. The outcome could determine which way the state's 28 electoral votes would go in the 1948 presidential race.

Truman, Stalin Conclave Urged

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—A personal conference between Marshall Stalin and President Truman to iron out differences between communist Russia and democratic powers was urged today by Representative Mundt, R. D. of the house foreign affairs committee.
The navy earlier ordered two battleships and two aircraft carriers to northern Europe this summer on a training cruise which will stop short of any Russian waters.
Mr. Truman has shown no inclination recently to travel to another big-power meeting, telling news conference questioners that he does not see that any good could come out of further parleys by the chiefs of state at this time.

Truman, Stalin Conclave Urged

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—A personal conference between Marshall Stalin and President Truman to iron out differences between communist Russia and democratic powers was urged today by Representative Mundt, R. D. of the house foreign affairs committee.
The navy earlier ordered two battleships and two aircraft carriers to northern Europe this summer on a training cruise which will stop short of any Russian waters.
Mr. Truman has shown no inclination recently to travel to another big-power meeting, telling news conference questioners that he does not see that any good could come out of further parleys by the chiefs of state at this time.

48 Trend Seen in Chicago Vote

CHICAGO, March 29 (AP)—Chicago will select a new mayor Tuesday in an election which the Republican high command regards as an important tactical skirmish leading to the next year's presidential battle.
The contest in Mayor Edward J. Kelly's Democratic stronghold will have national interest because:
1. It will be the first major test of the party strength in the nation since the 1946 congressional vote.
2. The outcome could determine which way the state's 28 electoral votes would go in the 1948 presidential race.
