House Debating Greek-Turk Aid Bill; Okay Seen

WASHINGTON, May 7 (UP)—The house settled down today for five more hours of general debate before putting the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid bill through a series of crucial votes on restrictive amendments.

House leaders hoped to begin consideration of amendments tomorrow with passage of the bill likely Friday. The senate already has approved it.

Supporters of the stop-communism program felt that chances for house passage were improved by Secretary of State George C. Marshall's statement yesterday that it was a matter of the "greatest urgency."

Nevertheless, proponents of the measure indicated they would make more than a token fight against some amendments. Among those which were not wholly unacceptable to those managing the fight for the bill were:

Senate Confirmation
By Rep. John W. O'Connell, R., O.—To require senate confirmation of the chiefs of the economic missions to Greece and Turkey. This provision is now in the bill passed by the senate.

By Rep. Jacob K. Javits, R., N. Y.—To require the president to initiate action before the United Nations for an investigation of charges that Turkey is under pressure from Soviet Russia. This provision is now in the bill passed by the senate.

New Greek Election
By Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas, D., Calif.—To provide for a new election in Greece a year after the bill's enactment so that the Greek people can make known their attitude toward the present monarchy. This provision is now in the bill passed by the senate.

U. N. Special Meet to Hear Arabic Group

LARK SUCCESS, N. Y., May 7 (AP)—The United Nations assembly was called today to extraordinary plenary session today to formally offer the Arab Higher committee a hearing before the 55-nation political committee with the same status as the Jewish agency.

The plenary meeting was set for 12 noon (MST) in a committee room here rather than in the assembly hall at Flushing Meadows where all previous plenary sessions have been held.

India Demands Heard
The decision was made on a demand from India that the Arab group be accorded the same treatment as the Jewish agency, which was invited to appear before the political committee by the assembly proper.

The Arab Higher committee earlier indicated it would stand on its decision to boycott the debate until it was handed the formal invitation by the assembly itself.

The political committee vote calling the plenary session was 28 to 5.

Position Told
The Arab position became known after the floor was cleared and the U. N. assembly's 55-nation political committee began consideration of an August 1 proposal that the U. N. establish a neutral inquiry commission without bias representation.

Warren R. Austin, United States, told the political committee that the decision was made on a demand from India that the Arab group be accorded the same treatment as the Jewish agency, which was invited to appear before the political committee by the assembly proper.

Three men, two of whom are suspected of being the last of a safe-cracking gang responsible for $200,000 in loot from 13 strongbox jobs, were arrested early Wednesday morning by Twin Falls city police at a trailer camp on Kimberly road.

The men, who had two automatic pistols in their trailer home, when officers closed in, are listed as Paul Louder, 24, and Joseph Louder, 25, brothers from Houston, Tex., and Clarence Massey, 34, who told officers he was a hiker picked up in Wyoming or Colorado.

Machinery that resulted in apprehension of the trio at 1:30 a. m. was put into motion by a telephone call from Police Chief Andrew Viorio of New Iberia, La., at 11:30 p. m. Tuesday, indicating information had been received that the wanted men might be in this area. He told Police Chief Howard Gillette that he held 14 felony warrants for their arrest on safe-cracking cases in the south.

Auto Clubs See Boom in State's Tourist Travel

BOISE, May 7 (UP)—Idaho automobile associations today predicted 1947 would be a big year for tourist travel in the Gem state.

Manager H. D. Lord of the Idaho Motor club said requests for maps and information thus far this year are double those of a year ago. R. C. Cole, manager of the Idaho office of the American Automobile association, said hotel and motor accommodations are being reserved and transportation less difficult.

Lord and Cole agreed that travel conditions would likely be better this year, with accommodation rates more reasonable, service better and transportation less difficult.

More than 2,000,000 autos were manufactured last year and twice that number are booked for delivery this year, they said.

Wednesday morning they signed extradition warrants, and Chief Viorio told Chief Gillette in a long-distance telephone call shortly before noon that he would leave Louisiana Thursday morning to take the men into custody.

He indicated that the car in which they were traveling was not stolen, but belonged to one of the brothers. The arrest served to temporarily trouble Joseph Louder with his former wife and their two-year-old daughter whom he had never seen.

They arrived in Twin Falls by bus from Portland, Ore., Wednesday morning and were permitted to see Louder at the city jail.

U. S. in Role of 'Protector' For Japanese

TOKYO, May 7 (UP)—Authoritative but unofficial Japanese quarters said today that General MacArthur told Emperor Hirohito the United States would guarantee to defend Japanese islands.

Both official American and Japanese sources declined to comment. The story spread through the Japanese press after the emperor's speech.

MacArthur proposed recently that an early peace be signed, and the lack of occupation be turned over to the United Nations. Reliable sources said this had caused the emperor's concern.

They said he advised MacArthur there was considerable Japanese concern because it was believed the United Nations is not able to present a guarantee of Japan's protection.

He has stressed the importance of Pacific bases, which can provide any guarantee.

Informants said MacArthur replied that the United States would make that guarantee.

It is known that MacArthur told visitors recently the United States was responsible for the defense of Japan if the United Nations was unable to act.

Phone Chiefs End National Demands; Settle in 3 Areas

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Strike settlements including 22,000 telephone workers in Illinois, Wisconsin and the District of Columbia were reached quickly today after union leaders abandoned efforts at nationwide bargaining.

And in the capital, federal conciliators reported that negotiations to end the walkout of long distance telephone workers in 42 states had reached the "fore-lash splitting" stage.

Conciliation Commission
Peter J. Manno and William N. Margolis, who gave that description, had reported last night that the parties were "only an eyelash apart."

Federal Conciliator William C. Murray announced in Chicago an agreement that "should effect an immediate end" of the strike of 11,000 employees of the Illinois Bell Telephone company. Terms, however, were not immediately made public.

The executive committee of the Illinois Telephone Traffic Union, one of three Illinois unions to reach an agreement with the company, said it would not accept a contract which would require the union to accept a contract providing weekly wage increases of $2 to $4. It amounted to a 10 percent raise in the lines of a traffic union which still is striking.

Terms Reached
The bargaining committee for the Telephone Guild of Wisconsin came to terms with the Wisconsin Telephone company, but details of the agreement were not disclosed pending its submission to the state arbitrator for ratification.

The committee negotiated for 7,000 workers. Three communications unions in Wisconsin continue on strike, but the company said the guild had agreed to pass plant lines of a traffic union which still is striking.

The Arab Higher committee earlier indicated it would stand on its decision to boycott the debate until it was handed the formal invitation by the assembly itself.

The political committee vote calling the plenary session was 28 to 5.

The Arab position became known after the floor was cleared and the U. N. assembly's 55-nation political committee began consideration of an August 1 proposal that the U. N. establish a neutral inquiry commission without bias representation.

Gloomy Reich Seen on Date Of Surrender

Reconstruction is negligible and few towns are eyes clearing the rubble, beyond opening the streets with bulldozers and stacking the debris up where buildings once stood.

Industry is at a low ebb, making time until the reparations question for economists but means little to the average German, who does not care whether the revenue is paid to the occupying powers for his ration stamps or made into a living credit.

Thoughtful Germans are hopeful for their country, but only on a long-term basis. They feel that Russia and the western powers must find a way to get along together or Germany will remain a barren and barren wasteland.

Conservative politicians see communism as a greater danger than after World War I. They observe the firm entrenchment in the Soviet zone of a strong organization and discipline, which appeals to Germans as the proper answer in a crisis. As despair and depression spread over the country, even the conservatives lean toward socialism.

Will Schults used to wait when he was not marching. Now he finds life not geared for either. He hopes for one world but would settle for one nation, operated as a going concern.

Recovering from Operation

Mrs. R. C. Van Amsden, former resident of Twin Falls, is recovering from a major operation at a Portland, Ore., hospital, according to word received here.

Car Miss Stolen

A thief with an eye for the metallic strips all the metal whitewash tire rims from his car while it was parked at the Cowboy baseball park Sunday night, Albert Schroeder, 12, Filer, reported to Twin Falls city police Tuesday night.

Hubby Jailed, Bar Wrecked In Family Tiff

KENOGHA, Wis., May 7 (AP) — John Zieck, 38, a truck driver, sat in a jail cell today with plenty of time to ponder the weighty problem of family discipline.

The chain of events which led to his plight began over the week-end. It was like this:

Threatens Wife
He and his wife dropped into a neighborhood tavern for a few beers. Finally Zieck said it was time to go home. Mrs. Zieck refused. After more argument and more beers, the truck driver issued a ultimatum:

"Either you come home, or I drive in here with a truck after you."

Mrs. Zieck ordered another beer. Her husband left.

A few minutes later there was a crash as Zieck came charging through the front of the tavern at the wheel of a 40-ton snow plow truck. Nine patrons fled in terror, but not Mrs. Zieck. She called for another beer, against a backdrop of crashing glass and falling bricks.

Building Collapses
Her determined husband backed away and came in again. That did it. The building fell in and Mrs. Zieck went home. But the truck driver didn't. He went to jail; and today faced all kinds of charges, besides losing his job.

He was charged with burglary for breaking into the garage to get the city truck; with driving a truck without the owner's consent; and with malicious destruction of property. Damages to the tavern amounted to $2,000 and to the truck $300.

BOB HOP

BOB HOPE

One of the most exciting scientific achievements of modern times will be the completion of the giant Mt. Palomar telescope.

Astronomers predict that with it they may be able to determine if there really is life on Mars.

If so, 10 minutes later, Mad

Man Muntz will be on his way in a huge rocket ship, preparing to make offers.

If life is discovered on that planet, it raises interesting conjectures. Will the Martians look like human beings? Or will they look like Professor Colonna?

Bob Hope

The inhabitants of our earth certainly have plenty of defects such as the Martians have. I hope the Martians are an improvement on us.

Maybe they have three heads. Of course, this would be bad for women. Every time a girl passes store windows the three of them would fight it out, trying to hog the reflection. And, just as a thought, they might have four arms—two long ones and two short ones. This wouldn't be bad for a fellow. He could play a rummy with himself.

They might be very intelligent. Not to let his two right hands know what his two left hands were doing.

I MAY HAVE READ TOO MANY CHAP

When a Martian gets in bed and tucks the blanket, he short, all he has to do is turn a knob on his knee and those pudgy toes that are sticking out will pull back in.

Seriously though, I've heard that the people on Mars are really advanced in education, medical research, and scientific development and there's only one thing that keeps them from contacting us here on earth.

They're too late, too.

"Sacred Cow," Truman Plane, To Be Traded

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—President Truman is getting ready to turn the Sacred Cow out to pasture in favor of a new luxury plane that will speed him through the skies 100 miles an hour faster than the one he inherited from the late President Roosevelt.

Delivery of the new craft, a four-engine DC-4 with a cruising speed well over 300 miles an hour, is expected in July. Mr. Truman's first trip in it probably will be to Alaska and the American northwest in August.

Trips Planned

As plans stand now, the President will travel thousands of miles by rail and air this summer. One of the more important trips will be his June visit to Canada.

Mr. Truman's tentative travel schedule begins next Sunday, Mother's day, when he plans to fly to Grandview, Mo., to visit with his 94-year-old mother, Mrs. Martha E. Truman.

GI Remun

Definite set for June are trips to Kansas City for a reunion of the President's old World War I division, the 25th, which also fought in World War II; a three-day visit to Ottawa as the guest of the Canadian government, and a quick trip to Princeton university for an honorary degree.

Present plans call for no trips in July, the month when congress will be pouncing down the legislative house. After congress adjourns Mr. Truman will hit out for Alaska.

Col. E. O. Walter Will Cry Auction

Col. E. O. Walter, fier auctioneer, will cry the Idaho 4-H and FFA Jersey fair sale which begins at 1 p. m. Friday at the Nampa rodeo grounds.

The sale is sponsored by the Idaho state Jersey cattle club to make high quality dairy cattle available to members of 4-H clubs and the Future Farmers of America, as a foundation for future Jersey herds in Idaho.

Among the 12 consignors listed so far is Harry W. McCauley, Buhl. He has consigned a heifer for which registration papers have been applied for.

Mallory Fischer, Twin Falls, is a member of the six-man sales committee.

Several Twin Falls county youths have indicated their intentions to attend the sale, according to Bill Priest, county club agent.

Travellers Note High Gas Prices

WEDNESDAY, May 7.—We couldn't help but notice that Idaho has the highest gasoline prices and the worst roads in any of the more than dozen states we've traveled. John Quarry said after spending the winter visiting in the south and east.

Mr. and Mrs. Quarry visited many historical and scenic spots on their trip.

Appointment for Lutheran Talker Cancels Program

Dr. Walter A. Maier, scheduled to appear in Twin Falls next Sunday, has been appointed to assist in conducting an education survey in western Europe and will not be able to appear here, according to the Rev. Louis Witte, Buhl.

Original plans provided for Dr. Maier to broadcast the international Lutheran hour from Twin Falls Sunday and to appear at a Lutheran hour rally in the afternoon. His appointment to the government committee has made it necessary for the local Lutheran group to revise plans, the Rev. Mr. Witte said.

Tentative arrangements now under consideration provide for an appearance in Twin Falls for Dr. Maier sometime this fall.

The Rev. Mr. Witte, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Buhl, said the Lutheran hour broadcasts would continue to be heard at 10:30 a. m. each Sunday over KVMV. The broadcasts will feature guest speakers engaged by the Lutheran Laymen's league, he said.

N. V. Sharp, Filer, association president, said water users from all parts of the state will enter into the round table discussion as part of the May 17 program.

G. H. Seely, associate agronomist, noxious weed investigations, of the University of Idaho, will discuss on May 16 the control of noxious weeds which Sharp said "is recognized as one of the most serious problems confronting water users and farmers of southern Idaho for a number of years."

Poor Grades No Hindrance To Odd Pupil

NATICK, Mass., May 7 (AP)—On the basis of last school record, which included deficiencies in reading, spelling, arithmetic, geography and social studies, she would seem to be the student most likely to remain in the sixth grade. But her chances of promotion seem good, nevertheless.

"She" is Lady — forlorn but amiable dog that attends classes daily at the Nathan Rice school and reports cards from Helen Murphy, teacher and principal.

Master Does Better

The reason Lady may get out of the sixth grade despite her 10 troubles is that her young master, William Genova, 11, is doing considerably better at his studies.

Lady's 22 week report cards thus far, however, show a straight "A" in conduct and effort. She has been tardy three times and absent only six.

But her record unfortunately is marred by 18 dismissals from class. The evictions arose from her participation in the music classes.

Marks Improve

Lady's marks in music have improved and the classes in singing have become more harmonious since she has learned not to raise her voice.

Lady's intense interest in education, evinced by daily sneaking into class at the beginning of the school year, despite regular shavings cut, finally led to her enrollment. The only things that divert the attention of Lady — described by her master as "part Bohemian, Pinner and a little Shepherd" — are fellow students' offerings of candy, cookies and bubble gum.

Most Norwegians live on or near the coast.

Potato Research Program Gets Aid

BOISE, May 7 (AP)—The Idaho agricultural extension noted Tuesday to participate "in an amount to be determined later" in a suggested potato and onion research program outlined by Dr. L. E. Verner, horticulturist at the University of Idaho.

The decision by commission followed a comprehensive report by Verner on proposed research by the university staff in mechanization and the reduction of losses in storage. Verner also suggested research into a cost analysis of production and marketing. The commission did not commit itself at this time to participation in that particular phase of the program. Chairman Dave Stubbsfield announced. Stubbsfield is also state commissioner of agriculture.

All members of the commission were present; Secretary Lee Heller of Boise reported. Others included Joe Marshall, Twin Falls, and Roy Marquess, Paul.
