Subcommittee Returns Plan For Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—A United Nations subcommittee failed to agree tonight on proposed orders for a committee which will investigate Palestine this summer. The issue now goes back to the 36-member political committee of the special United Nations assembly.

Four alternate proposals on the point of requiring the committee of inquiry to study a proposal for the immediate independence of Palestine made up the largest obstacle to agreement. These will be voted on the full committee, which will receive the report Monday.

The issue of independence involves proposals that the committee should establish a permanent commission of the assembly in September to solve the problem of Palestine, including a proposal for establishing a permanent commission of the assembly in September to solve the problem of Palestine.

The Philippines proposed an inquiry into the situation in Palestine. The committee meeting today but did not insist on that proposal at the three-hour subcommittee meeting.

The United States and Russia were said to be standing on their feet in the committee today. The committee of inquiry will receive the report Monday.

Russia Approves U.S. Korea Plan; Deadlock Tracks

LONDON, May 10 (AP)—The Moscow radio said today that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had accepted American proposals on Korea and expressed hope that the two powers now could hurdle the obstacles which for a year have blocked steps for creation of a democratic provisional government in Korea.

The radio said Molotov sent a letter to Secretary of State Marshall accepting an American formula for determining what Korean representatives should be allowed to appear before the joint U. S.-Soviet commission on Korea, and stating:

"I hope that thus there no longer exists any reason for delaying the convening of the joint commission." Molotov has proposed that the commission open its session in Seoul on May 20.

No Charges Reported in Phone Meet

DENVER, May 10 (AP)—Company and union officials reported tonight no progress had been made in negotiations on the mountain states area telephone strike.

Striking telephone workers resumed their mass picketing today under a temporary truce.

A 15-hour meeting that lasted almost until midnight brought no progress, Conciliator Stephan D. Halligan said.

A court hearing on a permanent injunction sought by the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company and the state industrial commission against mass demonstrations by the Mountain States Federation of Telephone Workers was recessed until Monday by agreement.

The court approved picketing by an unlimited number of workers provided they remain five feet apart, walked in a single line and remained five to seven feet from the building.

Union officials called the ruling as "breaking a long-standing practice of Mayor Stapleton and police of handing out only two tickets to an entrance."

A special demonstration was staged yesterday for District Judge Joseph A. Walsh.

Committees were named to receive any complaints by the company or union. The case may be settled amicably when court recesses Monday.

Father Finds Son, 6, to Be Heroic Youth

CHICAGO, May 10 (AP) — There were no tears, no crying after 6-year-old Dale Richey learned for the first time yesterday that he had lost both of his legs as the result of a gasoline explosion six weeks ago.

Dale's father, Howard Richey, came to his son's hospital room and talked about soldiers who had lost their legs in the war and how they had learned to walk again. Then Richey, a 37-year-old oil well engineer, told his son that both his legs had been amputated just below the knees.

"Learn to Walk"

"You're going to be all right, son," Richey told him. But your legs are going to be shorter than they were before. They were so badly burned that the doctors had to take off the feet. You will have to learn to walk all over again.

"How will I be able to do that?" the boy asked as he kept turning the pages of a comic book.

The father changed the subject. "We will get some wooden legs for you. All the soldiers in the war who had their legs cut off had to learn how to walk all over again."

"I'd rather sit," he said.

Twin Falls Canal Company Is Co-Operative, He Points Out

Editor, Times-News: I read in the Times-News recently an editorial taking exception to an article the writer expressed fear of the growth of an octopus, due to the fact that co-operative water users are exempt from income tax, in whole, or in part.

It seems he has overlooked the fact that every shareholder in the Twin Falls Canal company, a co-operative, pays a tax on savings made by the co-operative running of water, as reflected in the increased profits of each shareholder. It would be reflected, adversely, in case the water was run by private enterprise, making a profit.

It was stated that business, carried on co-operatively, had increased from $100 million to $12 billion dollars. It did not say whether this increase was due to more members, or due to doing larger business per member. It was stated that the increase was due to more members, or due to doing larger business per member. It was stated that the increase was due to more members, or due to doing larger business per member.

Capitalists

Editor, Times-News: We do not, in the editorial attacks printed in your paper attacking co-operatives for not paying taxes.

You or your staff of capitalists generally push this over by shouting "communists" for a blind.

MR. AND MRS. J. H. BLESSING (Rt. 2, Jerome)

Rural Interests Not Considered, Writer Declares

Editor, Times-News: We took particular note of your editorial printed April 13 and the forum letter and answer on co-operatives.

Just who does pay all the taxes when you explore the beginning and end of our economies? The tax cost is added to all expenses of corporations, business, farming, etc. The consumer and producer of all wealth in reality pay the taxes. If everything were co-operative the people who receive the dividends from those co-ops would pay the income tax. All books would be open and we could see what each firm had in the way of income. Don't worry—those days are far, far away.

The farmers of Magic Valley really do feel that their interests are not considered. For example, take the vice laws which are being voted by municipalities. Farmers come to town with their produce, do their shopping and buy entertainment. In addition, their schools are closed in town, but they are allowed to vote on what kind of a city they would like to have.

She Objects to Phrase, Enjoys T-N Editorials

Editor, Times-News: Regardless of your opinion of Henry Wallace or his beliefs, you should have thought twice before printing the phrase "long hair and funny ideas" in your editorial of Friday, May 2. If my memory serves me right, most of the acidulous best in our civilization comes from men with long hair and funny ideas, whether they were elevated to high place or nailed to a cross.

"Peggy's Angle" in the same issue amuses me. I wonder why he gets so steamed up about labor organizations? All that he says could be said truthfully about every big organization in America whether it be labor, business, religious or professional. Two bad some smart columnist doesn't devote his time to an attack on all organizations.

We supposedly organize for strength, but for the most part American organizations of today, be they men's or women's, kill individual initiative and ability and furnish a background for selfish ambition and cheap politics. In the name of democracy, let's call for a new birth in all of them, not only in the labor unions.

I enjoy reading your editorials whether I agree or not.

MRS. MARY E. ROBERSON (Burley)

He Declares T-N Editorial Unfair To Area Farmers

Editor, Times-News: Your editorial of April 13, in which you attacked the co-operatives, seems very one-sided and unfair to the farmers of this region in particular.

Inasmuch as the farmers and their business activities are the life blood of Magic Valley, it seems that you, especially in an editorial, should show a little more consideration.

When you look at both sides, you will find that members of co-ops eventually pay the income tax which any private enterprise or business pays.

Railway Shipping Hitting New High

LOS ANGELES, May 10 (AP)—E. Roland Harriman, chairman of the board of the United States Pacific railroad, said today that the United States is now enjoying "the biggest peacetime freight traffic" in history.

MAN CONTESTS RIGHT TO GIVE HEARTY LAUGH

PAWTUCKET, R. I., May 10 (AP)—A man's right to a merry laugh, even though police contend there is nothing to be merry about—strikes a responsive chord with Attorney Eugene T. La Chapelle.

La Chapelle filed a motion in district court to reopen the case of Samuel Hyder, who was assessed $480 yesterday on a charge of "traveling."

"Guffawed Loudly"

Police Chief Leonard Mills said Hyder was called into court for guffawing loudly in the downtown section.

"I have warned Hyder repeatedly," the chief said, "against creating a disturbance by laughing loud when there's nothing to laugh about. So I ordered a patrolman to look him up."

La Chapelle said he knew of "no law in this city which prohibits a man from laughing on a public thoroughfare."

Decision Postponed

Judge William M. Cornell postponed decision until Monday on La Chapelle's request for reopening, based on Hyder's desire to change his plea to innocent.

The postponement was requested by Mills, who said he wanted time to confer with the Pawtucket city solicitor.

"It seems to me that in these trying times laughing should be encouraged rather than suppressed," La Chapelle told the court.

River Threat Facing North Idaho Village

BONNERS FERRY, May 10—An observer for the weather bureau said tonight that "a lot of bad weather" was pushing through under clouds guarding this town of 1,800 and the 40,000 acres of surrounding farm land as the rising Kootenai river reached a stage of 30.35 feet, less than two feet under the tops of some of the dikes.

W. O. Rosenbaum, who makes the official readings for the weather bureau, said that heavy seepage was occurring in four different districts and said trucks of the aviation engineers were hauling dirt to many places to fill in bad spots.

He said a dozen men had been working all day on one bad "spot" at the dike, attempting to stop the seepage with sandbagging.

The stage of 30.35 reached by the river tonight virtually equaled last year's crest of 30.4 which caused heavy seepage before the river subsided.

The Spokane weather bureau today issued its second warning that the river would be near the flood stage of 31 feet tomorrow.

Flood stage was described by Westernman Robert McComb at Bonners Ferry as the stage at which the pressure of the river might begin to cause serious trouble along the dike. The embankments vary from 32 to 34 feet.

McComb said the river rose 1.3 feet at Libby, Mont., in the 24-hour period ended this morning and added that this increase would be evident here tomorrow. However, he termed "hopeful" the fact that cooler air had moved into the Pacific northwest in recent days with tendency to slow melting of snow.

At 7 p. m. a window of a car parked in the 100 block of Main avenue west was broken by a firecracker thrown across the street by one of a group of boys, according to the report given police. The car is registered in the names of Robert and Charles Keven.

At 11:18 p. m., a householder residing near the high school complained to police about the noise from firecrackers being set off by juveniles in that vicinity.

GOP Officers Beat Move to Rap 'Jumpers'

INDIANAPOLIS, May 10—Republican state chairman from 17 central and western states today warmly debated but finally discarded a proposal which would have censured Republicans in congress who have "failed" to go along with the GOP party program.

The group, comprising state chairmen from 17 middle and western states, unanimously adopted a 600-word resolution commending the work of the 80th congress to date and asserting "true, deliberate and representative government is being restored in Washington."

Bill Snag
But they hit a snag in their closed session late in the afternoon when "three liberal" representatives reportedly proposed censure of the so-called "liberals" in congress for "deserting" the party program.

Chairman from Wisconsin, home of the once-powerful La Follette progressives, and from the rocky mountain state were said to have objected to the formal slap.

Long Discussion
A. T. Howard of Nebraska, who later was elected new chairman of the midwest state chairman's association to succeed Willis B. York of Iowa, told reporters the censure proposal was discussed at length but no action was taken.

Clark Springer, Indiana chairman, said names were mentioned only by inference on the theory that those gentlemen are responsible to their own electorates.

Three Accidents Listed by Police

One minor accident was investigated by Twin Falls police Saturday, and two others were reported to police by drivers involved.

Police investigated an accident in which a Checker cab driven by Isabel Reed collided with the left rear side of a car driven by Opal D. Deurich, 314 Third avenue east. The mishap occurred shortly before 4 p. m. at the intersection of Third avenue north and third street north. Both vehicles were coming in holiday reported, but no one was injured.

Delmar Porter, 1327 Addison avenue, called police at 5:35 p. m. that as he was driving a grocery store truck in the 100 block of Main avenue south, a car stopped in front of him and he was unable to pass the car. Slight damage resulted to the truck.

Loyle Smith, 812 Fourth avenue west, reported to police at 6:35 p. m. that as he was driving his car from an alley onto Second street east, he was struck by a car coming from the east. The car was driven by Wayne Romjue, 453 Fourth avenue east.

SOLDIER TRANSFERRED
BLISS, May 10—Pvt. Layton M. Gratzler, Bliss, has been transferred to the 10th army airbase at San Antonio, Tex., to the signal corps school at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., according to word received here.

HARRY BARRY ALN'T FLOOD AT NOBODY
That car of oak flooring that we told you was coming is being unloaded. It is one inch thick, No. 1, and No. 2 grades, and of the same high quality flooring that we have been getting. The price is less than No. 1 fir flooring, so if you have been waiting for hardwood to finish that house we have it now. We still have a fairly good stock of fir flooring, although it is rolling out. Ed Hall says he likes to load out fir flooring because it is tied in bundles and he can carry a larger load than loose lumber. Ed is sure an ambitious workman.

A nice shipment of check rail windows just came in. We now have the regular check rail windows, and also the dust proof or silent tight type of windows. And we have a nice stock of fir doors in most all sizes. A salesman came in Friday to sell us some screen doors. Charley took him out in the yard and showed him our stock of screen doors. The salesman then remarked, "you fellows have more screen doors than my company has."

We have had these screen doors for several years and find the price we sell them for is much less than if we had to buy the screen doors today.

We visited the saw mill on Friday that has supplied our rough lumber during the past several years. The boys have the mill going full blast. We are getting in rough lumber now every day, but the saw mill will soon be shipping to the western market where they have sold the larger portion of their output. Rough lumber is cooling us more this year than last year, but we have not yet increased the retail price at the yard.

We got in a car of 3 inch rough bridge plank that is practically all clear lumber. This is coast fir bridge plank. We have plenty of cedar 1 1/2 inch, cedar shingles, and 4 inch lap siding. Also have 4 inch and 6 inch rustic fir siding.

Glyde and Ronald are still busy building houses in the yard. Just finishing three of them, and another one will be started Monday. A shipment of woven wire came in. It contains 36" x 48" and 48" x 48" fencing. We have the material for a complete house at the

Texas City Sets Fast Recovery; 669 Dead, Lost

TEXAS CITY, Tex., May 10—Texas' tallest mayor is setting a feverish pace in rebuilding this town of tragedy where 669 persons are dead or missing from the April 16-if explosion.

J. C. Trahan, six-foot-four-inch, 214-pound war veteran, is a full-time mayor now. His insurance and real estate business deals with his partner, Carl Ruat, as he works around the clock to carry out a promise that "the rebuilding will not stop short of a greater Texas City."

The soft-spoken, 36-year-old executive has charted a three-year plan for getting this community back on its feet. He says the two companies most heavily damaged in the disaster—Monsanto Chemical and Texas City Terminal railway—not only will rebuild but will expand.

Trahan has placed the city's explosion-fire property damage estimate at more than $55,000,000. Relief funds being received by special committees here and at the office of Gov. Beauford H. Jester in Austin, now total approximately $480,000.

Jerome Puts Off Scout Camporee

JEROME, May 10—Bad weather forced cancellation of the Jerome Boy Scout district camporee scheduled for this week-end and one-quarter miles east of the city. Camping Chairman Jay O. Tibby announced the camporee would be held next week-end. He explained the camporee was postponed because the bad weather would cut down attendance for the event and that many of the traditional camporee events, such as sitting around the campfire and novelty races, would not be enjoyed in the cold weather.

yes, it's Plymouth for Value

When you figure the facts, you realize how far Plymouth leads the low-priced field in the number of high-priced car features. The score—20 to 8 to 8— isn't even close!

But Plymouth's greater value doesn't stop here. Plymouth has exclusive features that even many high-priced cars don't have.

Take, for example, Safety-Rim Wheels which give unequalled protection in case of tire failure.

Or, for another example, light-touch Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes with 32% more braking efficiency.

Add all of Plymouth's basic engineering advances to Plymouth's beauty and smooth, unflinched ride and there's only one answer—if it's value you want, it's Plymouth you want!

U. S. Dwelling Debt Reaches All-Time High

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—Outstanding loans on American homes soared to an all-time high of $24,541,000,000 by the end of last year, or 15 per cent greater than the previous peak recorded in 1939.

This was revealed today by the Federal Home Loan Bank Review, monthly publication of the federal home loan bank system. It reported that $2,500,000,000 was lent on homes during 1946 alone. This was double the volume for 1945 and two-thirds above the previous high for one year—the boom year 1928.

The $24,541,000,000 figure represents the total mortgage debt owned by American home owners. The net increase in mortgage debt last year amounted to $4,600,000,000.

The rapid rise in lending totals and the outstanding balance of debt was attributed to "continued pressure for scarce homes, resulting often in forced purchase, the revival of large-scale home building after wartime restrictions (and) inflated prices for old and newly built homes, plus GI loans at full value of properties as permitted by law."

The publication said that although there were signs of a decline in sales of existing properties, "many of the factors contributing to the rise in the total (mortgage) debt are expected to continue in 1947."

When a Feller Needs a Friend

Although the upper part of his left rear leg was broken when he was hit by a car, this dog, owned by Paul Brown, route 1, Filer, will soon be back on all fours again as the result of veterinary science. A relatively new type of splint that attaches directly to the bone was applied at the Twin Falls Veterinary hospital, and within two or three weeks he'll be back on the farm as good as new. Sketch below shows how this modification of the Slader splint operates. (Staff photo and engravings)

Lucky Dog Gets Broken Leg Set By New Gadget

He's a lucky dog—even if he does have a broken leg.

Now resting easily, thank you, at the Twin Falls Veterinary hospital is a young black and white shepherd owned by Paul Brown, route 1, Filer. Last week, the dog got mixed up with a passing car and came out of the ordeal with a broken left femur, or what would correspond to your thigh bone.

Although veterinary science has long since solved the problem of setting animals' broken bones, this particular case presented special difficulties, as the fracture was so high that an ordinary cast would not hold.

So Drs. D. A. and I. M. Jackson utilized what is known as the Kirschner-Ehmer splint, a modification of the Slader splint developed by a veterinarian shortly before the war. This type of splint also has been used effectively in setting human fractures.

This type of splint consists of an outside mechanism composed of a light metal alloy and weighing only three ounces. Attached to it are stainless steel pins that by use of fluoroscope or X-ray are set into the bone to hold the broken ends together while healing takes place. Within a few days, the "patient" is able to be up and around and the splint can be removed after two or three weeks.

It has been used effectively on cats, colts, calves and other animals, as well as dogs, according to the Drs. Jackson and was also of great benefit to medical science in treatment of war casualties.
