Egypt's Demand Draws Attention To U. N. Puzzles

LAKE SUCCESS, May 31 (AP)—Egypt's leaders demand that withdrawal of British troops and a permanent Egyptian union with the Sudan will be submitted "shortly" to the United Nations, an Egyptian source said today.
The imminent submission of this heated issue to the security council drew attention to a half dozen international problems relating to world peace and security with which the United Nations is presently seeking to solve:
1. The future of Palestine.
2. Settlement of Balkan frontier troubles.
3. Control of atomic weapons.
4. World disarmament.
5. Establishment of a global police force.
6. Selection of a governor for internationalized Trieste.
With the exception of Palestine, all these problems are more or less the direct concern of the security council.

Bureau Warns of Droughts' Return

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—The agriculture department warned today that destructive droughts and dust storms will return to the great plains sooner or later.
They may start next month, or they may not come for 50 years. But it is probable, the department said, that they will hit within five years.
When they do come, they are likely to be more severe and more destructive, the department said, than those of the 30s which brought ruin to thousands of farmers and destruction to thousands of acres of rich soil.
This forecast of returning dust storms was made in a bulletin issued by the department's soil conservation service.

Parks Preparing For Record Visit

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—The 27 national parks, forewarned by a high attendance in the last seven months are preparing for a tidal wave of visitors this summer, the national park service said today.

He advised prospective park visitors, because of anticipated demands for accommodations, to make reservations as soon as possible.
He also reminded travelers that: 1. The park roads are not what they might be this year.
2. The number of attendants may be inadequate.

Signup Urged For Class on Care of Sick

Twin Falls women who wish to take advantage of the Red Cross new, streamlined course in care of the sick were urged Saturday by Helen Bailey, executive secretary, to sign up immediately for a two-class session to start June 16. Enrollment is open for 100 women.

"The skill and knowledge gained in this class will help any one to recognize symptoms of illness and report them to the doctor," Mrs. Bailey pointed out. "Each class member will practice the skills the instructor demonstrates. At least one person in every home should learn these simple nursing skills," she continued.

Classes will be taught by local nurses, directed by Nora Marro, Red Cross master instructor from Washington, D. C. The course, described as "highly practical," will be concentrated in six lessons, rather than being conducted over a period of several weeks, as in the past. Women registering have the preference of morning, afternoon and evening classes, to be held at the Twin Falls junior high school.

Registrations, 100 of which are required, may be made by phone or in person at the Red Cross headquarters in the Twin Falls public library building.

Among subjects to be covered by the course are: How to follow the doctor's orders, how to give nursing care to the sick in the home, how to make the patient comfortable in bed, how to give food and medicine and how to give simple treatments ordered by the physician.

Confusion, Uncertainty Mark Foreign Policy, Solon Avers

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Representative Herter, R. Mass., asserted today that the American foreign policy is characterized by "uncertainty and confusion."

"Speaking at commencement exercises for the graduating class of the school of advanced international studies, Herter said:

"It is no easy task for any responsible individual to state publicly that our assumption of the responsibility which goes with power is conditioned by uncertainty and confusion, yet in my opinion that is true."

"I believe this to be true primarily because, as a nation we have been unable to grasp the implications of our newly found position and consequently have not as a nation seen fit to implement these implications."

"One might have reason to believe that the domestic and foreign policies of this nation would be kept together and would be directed as to allow us to put out our maximum effort in combating communist influence. Clear-cut policies to achieve an end at this point became the primary responsibility of power. Uncertainty and confusion undermine that power."

Herter said that "antagonism aroused in congress by a letter from Under Secretary of State Clayton opposing import fees on foreign wool was an example of failure to integrate domestic with foreign policy."

"He wrote a letter which was read on the floor of the house, making his views very clear, and the result of the letter, instead of strengthening the hand of those who opposed this wool legislation, actually weakened it," Herter said.

"The members of the congress bitterly resented the idea of having an individual determine domestic policy."

Senators Tell 'Master Plan' For Defenses

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Seven Republican senators today revealed an eight-point master plan for military and industrial preparedness, but on the key issue of peacetime military training for all they were mum.
Their "national readiness plan" embraced mobilization of troops and industry, strengthening armed forces reserves and keeping up to date with latest developments in "push-button" warfare.
Silent on UMT
But on the point which some military leaders regard as critically important to preparedness—compulsory military training—there was silence.
President Truman, meanwhile, prepared to make public this week his advisory commission's recommendations on universal military training. A presidential message to congress on the subject was expected.

Point Revealed
The GOP program could provide for:
1. Coordinated civilian organization for quick mobilization of home defense and strategic defense in case of war.
2. Continuing assessment of the nation's emergency manpower needs.
3. Incentives for encouragement of training in industrial skills for defense production.
4. Effective plans for swift industrial mobilization.
5. Retention of selective service records and a current manpower survey.
6. Increasing the number of volunteers entering the armed services to maintain an adequate army, navy and air force.
7. Strengthening the organized reserves and national guard.
8. Maintaining the highest level of research development and intelligence service.

Geographically, Canada is the biggest country in the Americas.

'Iron Curtain' Closing Over Magyar Land

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
After Foreign Affairs Analyst

During an unforeseen eleven hour reprieve, Hungary shortly will have joined the list of sovietized countries behind the "iron curtain" as the result of what non-communists in Budapest describe as a red communist rule for what was trying to be a democracy.

This wasn't Hungary's first close contact with communism. In 1919 it had experienced the terrors of the bolshevik revolution under leadership of the notorious Bela Kun when there were wholesale executions before the reds finally were downed.

Eight months after the start of the occupation after the late war the communists undertook to secure the establishment of a soviet regime. However, in a general election the democratic smallholders (that is, landholders) party won a handsome majority, and a coalition government was established.

Pereno Nagy, leader of the party known as the "middle way," took office of office (which brings us up to the present) fought for moderate conservatism. In this he was met with heavy opposition by the communist minority.

Now comes the climax. Premier Nagy recently went to Switzerland "on vacation." Friday the Budapest government announced that he had resigned in Switzerland, and a high Hungarian informant said he had been "pushed from office" in a communist coup.

Board Starts To "Activate" Pageant Plan

Timetable for the Magic Valley Yesterdays celebration and pageant this week swings toward the stage of putting into actual operation the groundwork laid during preceding weeks.

Two members of the executive board in charge of the three-day event scheduled for July 17, 18 and 19 have up to this point been in the background. They are Lyle Williams, chairman on pageant personnel, and Chas. Larsen, who heads the committee on costumes and scenery. They now come to the foreground to start selection and consummation of the cast and preparing for the properties involved.

At last week's meeting of the executive board, of which F. L. Lawrence is chairman, the pageant, "Saga of the Snake," written by Mrs. Fannie G. Brunt, was read and approved by the group. Mrs. Brunt attended the session, explaining her vision here to gather information and "atmosphere" for the undertaking.

Gooding Woman, 69, Flies for First Time on Trip to Boise

By LETHA TRESTER

GOODING, May 31—There undoubtedly were many times in the early days of her life when Mrs. Charlotte Bryan wished she could sprout wings and fly about on the many tasks that demanded her time—tasks involved in raising 10 children alone after the death of her husband, Mrs. Bryan, now 69, took the air on wings when she took her first plane flight recently.

She flew by United Air Lines to Boise to attend the Boise high school graduation exercises of her granddaughter, Patsy Bryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed M. Bryan. The ticket for the flight had been a Mother's day gift from one of her sons and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Bryan.

Farmed Near Gooding
Mrs. Bryan came to Gooding with her husband in 1912 from Tyrone, Pa. They farmed an 80-acre ranch until the time of his death in 1924. Then with the help of two other sons she continued to farm for three years. The next two years her sons supervised the farming on the late Sen. Frank Gooding's ranch and Mrs. Bryan was the ranch cook. When the other children were married Mrs. Bryan took employment at the state school for the deaf and blind, where she served for 20 years.

During those 20 years she saw her children, one by one, complete their education, marry and establish homes of their own. She managed to purchase an 80-acre farm, which she sold during the past year. Mrs. Bryan resigned from the state school three years ago because of her health. She spends her time with her children, "helping where I'm needed most," she says.

In her spare time she knits. Dur-

NEW YORK, May 31.—Rumors that the Red Sox would soon be passing their ace pitcher, Jimmie Foxx, to the Yankees, are being quickly dispelled by the Yankees' manager, Joe Judge.

When Jimmie Foxx was traded to the Yankees, it was a surprise to many. He was a star arm at third base for the Phillies in 1944.

The first thing you know pitchers will be purposely waiting him to get at the lead-off man.

When the elders of the Magic Valley—that is, most of them—learn that there is considerably more joy in life turning youngsters into the good life than rolling up a bank account, Ye Oldie Sports Scrivener believes this area will take a high place in the athletic world.

Over in Paul—that's what they tell old YOSS—that's a little bid by the name of Sanford who's so good that he is about the top third-sacker in that part of the Magic Valley. And he just graduated from high school this spring.

There's that lad Brown at Shoshone. Although only a junior in high school, he was the regular second baseman for the Shoshone team in the SCI league. "We couldn't get him out," a rival league manager told the ancient word puffer.

Ferry Bybee at the Wolves who averaged about 15 strikeouts a game while hurling the Wolves to the district class B title, is another that should go far.

Bobby Long, the Bruin southpaw, is the finest pitching prospect that the pudgey one has seen in many years. Why he's so fast that there isn't a kid catcher hereabouts who can really hold him. And on top of his speed, he has a natural slider and a good curve. Then there is Long's teammate, Stanger, the tall northpaw, who has a fine delivery and has come along fast in the last year.

And don't go wrong on Clint Humphries, the slender Jerome high school hurler. All he needs is a little more weight. He throws the ball off his hip and that's the delivery that brought old Pete Alexander fame, if not fortune.

In golf, a potential champion is rising in Junior Hakey. He already has annexed the state interscholastic crown. His predecessor in that title, Jimmy Rydell, also is a fine prospect.

YOSS has seen many athletes come and go in the Magic Valley who with a little encouragement might have made the big time.

The coaches can't do it all. They need the support of the elders. The coaches do a lot for often not even thanked.

For instance, if it hadn't been for Hank Powers, the Bruin mentor, Lyle Peterson wouldn't now be at Notre Dame, where, YOSS be lieves, he'll probably blossom out as a member of the Fighting Irish squad. And that will mean he'll never be looking for a coaching job—if coaching becomes his life work.

Oh, yes, the athletes are in the Magic Valley, just as they are in California, the midwest, south and east. They've got to be developed and only the encouragement of the elders will do that.

One of the finest things that could be organized in the Magic Valley would be something like Spokane's Round Table—dedicated to the furtherance of athletes and leading them to that clean happiness that money cannot buy.

Paralyzed Vet Editing Paper For 'Buddies'

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—A paralyzed war veteran who lost the use of both arms and both legs in an army accident four years ago today is waging a quiet battle for fellow sufferers—editing a monthly paper devoted to their interests.

John M. Price, 36, of Stroudsburg, Pa., the "quadriplegic" veteran, founded The Paraplegic News a year ago and wrote every article contained in some of the early issues.

Electric Typewriter Used

Sitting in a wheelchair in the Bronx veterans hospital, Price taps out his copy on a special electric typewriter. He barely is able to move his arms, but only a flicking touch of a finger on the keys of his machine is sufficient. The electrical impulse takes the place of wasted muscle.

Price uses the eight-page publication to push programs designed to benefit the estimated 2300 paraplegic former soldiers and sailors in the United States.

Alert, vigorous and alert and vigorous in speech, Price makes no effort to gloss over difficulties facing paraplegics, persons suffering paralysis of the lower part of the body.

A reading of his paper and talks with several of the 70 paralyzed veterans at the Bronx hospital make it plain that the problems facing these men are much the same as those bedeviling other former servicemen—satisfactory jobs and homes.

Rudolph V. Loder paid a $15 fine and $3 costs for speeding; and Charles E. Cooke was fined $5 and ordered to pay $3 costs for driving through a stop light.

Those paying the over-time parking fines were: A. R. Sharp, R. W. Carpenter, Ed Turner, Mrs. E. W. McRobert, G. F. Knigge, Vern Morgan, B. Bradley, Dale Wildman, A. R. Gilton, H. H. Handy, Don Edwards, Jerry Bland, R. J. Holmes and Jim Perkins.

Speaker at Conclave

Dr. Kenneth A. Tyler, Gooding, medical director, Idaho tuberculosis hospital, will be one of the featured speakers at the eighth annual meeting of the Idaho Public Health association in Boise Monday and Tuesday, an Associated Press dispatch said Saturday.

Slot Law Passed, Water Discussed At Glenns Ferry

GLENN'S FERRY, May 31—A city ordinance licensing slot machines for $500 annually was passed by the Glenns Ferry village board this week.

Rules were suspended for the passage of the bill and it will go into effect as soon as it is printed in the official village newspaper.

Joseph W. Bouton of a Boise engineering firm reported favorably on the plan to bring water from Bancroft Springs 10 miles east of Glenns Ferry for municipal use. He and Leroy Hull, chairman of the water committee, are investigating the cost of the proposed project. The erection of water storage tanks near the townsite also is being considered.

"The results of these investigations and estimates will be presented to Glenns Ferry residents soon for consideration before the board of trustees takes any definite action," C. L. Moore, chairman, said.

PTA to Ask for Hot Lunch Funds

Local units of the Parent-Teacher association today were asked to wire Idaho's congressional delegates that a law is needed to match federal funds with local money for the hot lunch program.

Mrs. Dorine Goertzen, district president, announced.

She said the federal appropriation for the hot lunch program had been cut to $40,000,000 of which Idaho would receive only $7,000. Jane DeBusse, Boise, state school lunch chairman, said the state needs about $300,000 to finance the program.

Mrs. Goertzen stressed the law was needed to reach the federal government match local money and not tax money.

NAMED SUPERINTENDENT

HAILEY, May 31—Harry Warr, former Bellevue teacher, has been named superintendent of schools at New Meadows the coming year. He has been elected to Scarab honorary scholastic fraternity at the College of Idaho, which he attended the past year.

"Air Sowing" Called Savior Of Arid Land

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Dr. Lytle S. Adams says the arid lands of the west could be made green without irrigation through air sowing of seed pelleted with fertilizer, insecticide and other chemicals.

He says reforestation by plane, as well as air plowing of grasses, is feasible. He estimates that use of pellets lowers the amount of seed required by 90 per cent and in row crops saves the grower $14 or $15 an acre by reducing or eliminating thinning.

See Technique Spread

Adams forecasts that the new technique may some day be used to reestablish agriculture in hunger-stricken Europe and Asia. Already, he says, Australia, New Zealand, Chile and Argentina are negotiating to apply the new method to their deserts.

Adams, a retired Seattle dentist, developed both the seed and the planting method. He persuaded the interior department to give him a trial in the seeding of more than 80,000 acres of arid Indian lands in Arizona. In Texas, he has air-planted more than 10,000 acres for private owners.

He said the federal appropriation for the hot lunch program had been cut to $40,000,000 of which Idaho would receive only $7,000. Jane DeBusse, Boise, state school lunch chairman, said the state needs about $300,000 to finance the program.

Rock Tossed by Youth, 15, Kills Steelhead Trout

LEWISTON, May 31 (AP)—Frightened by the ugly mouth of a steelhead trout that swam toward him as he was wading in the Clearwater river on the outskirts of Lewiston, John Olson, 15, hurriedly grasped a small boulder and let fly.

The aim was perfect and John took a 15-pound, 24-inch long steelhead trout home to his parents.

"I had six chances to sell it as I walked across the bridge," John teased. "I wonder if the game warden is going to be mad 'cause I didn't have a pole. I thought sure he (the fish) was going to bite."

"Obviously self defense," Harry Palmer, game warden, ruled.

Putzier Awarded Power Firm Pin

HAILEY, May 31—Harry K. Putzier, district manager of the Idaho Power company, recently was awarded a 20-year service pin by the firm.

Putzier grew up on a farm near Twin Falls, graduating from high school there. After working in a furniture store there and attending electrical school, he went to work for the Idaho Power company at Wendell, April 25, 1927. He attended rural service school at Corvallis, Ore., for a time and was assigned to Bully as rural serviceman. He later became serviceman at Bully and Kimberly and in 1936 became district manager at Shoshone. When the Idaho Power company purchased the West Coast Power company at Halley, he transferred here as district manager.

Land Bureau 'Mismanaged' Idahoan Says

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Sen. Harry Dworshak, R., Ida., said today that "scandalous mismanagement" in the department of interior has "cut the ground from under those of us who are seeking to place before congress a sound, reasonable program of reclamation development."

Dworshak said that recent congressional hearings on the department's 1946 appropriation showed "widespread inefficiency and extravagance."

"Fuel" Provided

He added that the extravagance "justifiably is providing fuel for those members of congress who are opposed to increasing interior department funds."

The Idaho senator attached the blame to former Interior Secretary Harold I. Ickes.

Personnel Increased

Dworshak said the number of personnel employed in the department increased from 298 in 1939 to 596 in 1946.

"The new deal administration clamored during the war that it needed a labor draft to secure manpower for war industries," said the senator, "while at the same time the interior department was placing two employees on its rolls to do the work."

done by only one prior to the war and protecting them from the draft with a freeze order."
