

Council Acts To Erase City Fire Hazards

be done is to exercise as much foresight as possible, rather than to wait until the damage is done. Other members of the council expressed support of the campaign; and Buhl, city engineer, indicated that office buildings will be checked next. Recreation was also a major item of Monday night's agenda. Parks Commissioner O. H. Coleman's recommendations for members of the summer recreation staff were read as follows: Roy Young, assistant; William Jones, swimming pool manager and life guard; Marshall Pettigrove, Donald Verhees and Arthur Becher, life guards.

The commissioner described young Walle as "well qualified." He was in charge of recreation activities while in service and has recently returned from San Marcos, Tex., where he studied recreation leadership and qualified in life saving, water safety and physical education.

He also indicated that the swimming pool will open June 10.

Other agenda items at the session were Marion Hixey as park assistant at the golf course; and Edward Cain and Howard Wagner as firemen.

Frank Tidwell appeared to discuss the possibility of using city land north of the swimming pool for construction of a circular track and use in flying model airplanes and also for miniature car races. As the project he described indicated that it would entail a considerable investment, no action was taken pending location of a site that would be of relatively permanent nature.

The smoker was issued a retail beer license, and the St. Regis beer dealer was issued a card label license by the commissioners. Slot machine licenses, for one machine each, were granted to the Rogerson hotel and to the Spud.

A representative of the Radio cab company had appeared to request reserved parking spots closer to the heart of the city, the commissioners decided to move the Yellow cab stand off of Main avenue.

The city also was asked to remove street near the Main avenue intersection.

An ordinance establishing a test for the standard width of streets, with a few exceptions, was passed by the council.

Acceptance of monthly reports for May wound up the night's business. Police Judge J. O. Humphrey reported $897.50 in bonds, fines and costs collected.

Fire Chief Gibb reported seven alarms and six complaints for the month. Burial was in Elmwood cemetery.

Planning Inspector F. J. Healy made 128 check-ups, 20 condemnations and 26 sanitary inspections and investigated 47 complaints, his report showed. Fees totaled $37.

A. E. Dickey, electrical inspector, made 367 inspections, 23 condemnations and investigated 10 complaints, his report revealed. He collected $608.40.

Attendance of Fire Chief Gibb and the assistant chief, a fire fighting school in Salt Lake City June 18 through 21 was sanctioned by the commissioners.

Range School Officials Hold Night Parley

speakers appearing during the morning and field work in the afternoon.

First speaker on the Monday morning program was Potter, who discussed the importance of a range and conservation program and who quoted a number of statistics of this nation's farm production.

Potter stated that 80 per cent of the population lived on farms in 1880 but that in 1947 only 20 per cent of the population is farming. He said that in 1919 there were 2.3 acres of farmland per capita, with 2.5 acres in 1947, and made the prediction that in 1960 the figure would be 1.9 acres if there is no further loss of farmland and no uniform increase of population.

To give meaning to those figures, Potter compared them to figures elsewhere in the world. In 1947, 5.5 acres of farmland per capita in France, which he described as a weakling nation; 0.5 acres in western Europe, which he described as poverty stricken; and 0.5 acres in China, where he said there is mass starvation.

Potter stated that if this nation can maintain two or more acres of farmland per capita, a good standard of living can be maintained. He expressed the possibility that farmland might be depleted to the danger point of less than two acres, which would result in farming methods reverting from present day mechanical operation to "scratching in the soil" for a bare living.

Lloyd Campbell, in charge of planning these range parleys, said the state AOA office at Boise, explained the price support program for potatoes, and instructed the commissioners and secretaries how to measure the production of a field against the goal set for that field.

Field demonstrations began Monday afternoon, when use of a farm-level and other surveying procedures were explained. Later in the afternoon the group inspected various farm practices, including the reorganization of irrigation in the Jerome valley.

The demonstration was conducted by Campbell and Jack Martin, supervisor of the Minidoka-Cascade district.

Odd Items in Army Budget, Othman Finds

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—Among the things the army needs, to protect us from our enemies, are dogs, cats and even polka dots.

How long are these dogs good for? demanded Rep. Albert J. Engel, Mich., in charge of doling out the $10,000,000 army budget for fiscal 1948.

About four years," replied J. O. Winner, the army's dog expert.

"Would they die, or what?" asked Rep. Engel.

Loss Efficiency

"They begin to lose their efficiency," said Brig. Gen. H. Feldman, the deputy quartermaster general.

The general said his Mr. Winner needed 55 new dogs at $150 each to keep the dog corps at a permanent strength of 300.

Rep. Engel was asked what the army wanted with 1,533,000 one-pound cans of soap. Gen. Feldman said it wasn't really soap, it was suds.

1 1/2 Pounds per Man

"That is almost a pound and a half per man," Rep. Engel insisted.

The general said it looked that way; he called in Lieut.-Col. V. A. Isby, in charge of saddle soap, who said the army used to wear shoes made of leather turned inside out. These needed no polishing.

From now on soldiers will wear shoes with the shiny side out and presumably will spend a good deal of time burnishing same.

Prefer Radio-Telephone

The signal corps also wants $10,000 worth of pigeons, just in case. Brig. Gen. W. O. Reader said he'd queried 500 signal officers to see what they thought of pigeons. Mostly they preferred the radio-telephone. They said the hell with pigeons.

"But there was a strong minority who found pigeons very useful," the general added. So he has ordered up some more pigeons to replace those sold as surplus property.

$420,000,000 Sports Goods Market Nears

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Americans are expected to spend about $420,000,000 for sporting goods this year—nearly twice as much as they did before the war.

Trade sources estimated the value of sports equipment would top $300,000,000 at the manufacturers' level this year, compared with $175,000,000 in 1939.

More interest shown

The increase is attributed to a tremendous upswing in interest in active sports, particularly among veterans, and to the fact that equipment is coming through in quantity for the first time since the war's end.

A year ago most sporting goods were scarce. Today, with few exceptions, sports enthusiasts should be able to buy all equipment they need.

Plenty Fishing Hole

There are plenty of golf and tennis balls, fishing rods are available in volume, and there are more bicycles. Baseball bats still are hard to find, women's golf clubs are scarce and outdoor motors are short of demand.

In most lines, production still is concentrated in the higher price brackets, industry sources said, but less expensive equipment gradually is becoming available.

Former Resident Of Garnett Dies

HAILEY, June 3—Albert Edward Wurst, Alhambra, Calif., died there of a heart attack May 28.

Wurst was born Nov. 10, 1889, at Garnett and lived there until 30 years ago, when he moved to Alhambra. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Thelma Wurst, 80, of Garnett; daughter, Constance, and a son, Edward, Alhambra; seven brothers, Henry, L. and George, Garnett; Virgil and Sherman, Sugar City, Utah; Wesley, Nampa; Merrill, Reno, Nev.; and Jack, Fontana, Calif.; and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Wurst, Alhambra, and Mrs. William Strode, Hailey.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wurst, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wurst and Herman Wurst attended the funeral service at Alhambra.

Ex-Paratrooper Drops on N. Y.; Hearing Is Set

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—The case of the parachuting camera man was set for a hearing June 18 when Logan D'Atolico, 36-year-old amateur photographer and former paratrooper who leaped from a chartered plane over the Times Square area Saturday, appeared in magistrate's court today.

D'Atolico is charged with violating section 42 of the penal code by committing an act that might endanger his person or the property of others.

He landed in the rear yard of a house on 44th street, a few hundred yards from Broadway.

D'Atolico said of his parachute jump that "the only commotion that was caused was by the woman in whose yard I landed. She bawled out for breaking her clothes line."

Local Delegates Will Attend Jaycee Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wurst, Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Kallay and Bob Ryman are leaving Sunday for Long Beach, Calif., to attend the national convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Warberg is president of the Twin Falls chapter and Ryman is secretary. Mrs. Kelly is the state president of the Jay-C-ettes.

Valley's Musician

ALBION, June 3 (AP)—The speech instructor at Albion College, of Albion, Mich., played a trumpet solo and a clarinet solo at a recent musical.

Loss Efficiency

"They begin to lose their efficiency," said Brig. Gen. H. Feldman, the deputy quartermaster general.

The general said his Mr. Winner needed 55 new dogs at $150 each to keep the dog corps at a permanent strength of 300.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

SHARE—America's greatest corporations—steel, oil, construction, utilities, motion picture firms—are abandoning their traditional business policies which were responsible for America's current economic problems that they and Uncle Sam were guilty, respectively, of "imperialism" and "bolshevik diplomacy."

Wherever conditions permit, they are permitting natives, local banks and other institutions to share in their foreign investments and projects through a public offering of bonds or other securities. The movement has become widespread in Mexico, Central and South America, and will be extended to other sections of the world as restoration and rehabilitation warrant.

The scheme has the fervent blessing of the state department, which figures that this sort of capitalistic cooperation abroad will make improved diplomatic relations and lesser difficulties.

In a sense, it marks a shift of the "good neighbor policy" from the sometimes remote field of politics and diplomacy into the realm of industry and finance.

ADVANTAGES—It is not the need of outside funds which has inspired corporate interests to invite the public to participate in these offerings. It is the shrewd belief that the resulting advantages will be rich and concrete.

It creates both good will and an active interest in the project and the country which has frequently prevailed against "foreign exploitation," recently as the Collidge and Hoover administrations. It was the custom for many U. S. firms to yell for the marines whenever a foreigner propped below the Rio Grande on a fateful day.

These incidents offended the proud Latins, and the memory of our relations with them for years. The memory of them irritates our present-day difficulties with the Americas.

PRIDE—Although the American firms prefer public rather than political participation in these securities, governments have bought in at times. Their ownership of bonds and stocks may prove a safeguard against a change of control through an election or a revolution.

Lastly, World War II precipitated a general demand for economic independence as well as political freedom among the peoples of the world. It engendered a fierce feeling of pride, especially throughout South America. The new movement represents a realistic attempt to appeal to this awakened spirit.

SAVINGS—Recent developments in the field of consumer credit and savings have stirred a shiver of concern in federal financial circles over the prospect of a fairly serious economic downturn.

Although the signs are faint as yet, and subject to conflicting interpretations, they give point to Truman's exhortation for "international harvest warnings," that the buying public may give up its appetite and balk under the pressure of rising prices.

Commerce reports reveal that the people saved $14,000,000 in 1946. They did it in the wartime savings bonds program. They also show that the total holdings of popular-priced, low-denomination war bonds and stamps in 1946 were $2,000,000,000.

Federal reserve and treasury officials interpret these figures to mean that many buyers—the mass of people—are redeeming their money because of lower prices, home pay and higher living costs, and that the more prosperous are still buying.

It may not be the popular support for the maintenance of the price level on the basis of present prices and prospective, high-level production.

CREDIT—The trend of consumer credit volume also arouses some alarm. It now amounts to ten billion dollars, an increase of 44 per cent over 1945, and twice the total that was outstanding in mid-1944.

The upward trend in credit is threatening, in view of the return of more civilian goods to the market and the higher price level. But it is symptomatic of the buying and earning public's caution and concern.

There just may not be the purchasing power for the automobiles, refrigerators, homes, radios, furniture and other articles that should begin to roll off the production line in volume line in the realization that the mass buyers do not have the mass cash.

Even in 1946, a federal reserve board survey disclosed that 10 per cent of American families had 90 per cent of the savings while 60 per cent had only one per cent.

GENEROSITY—President Truman's generosity in signing the bill changing the name of Boulder to Hoover dam has been poorly repaid by the Republicans who control the legislature in his home state of Missouri.

The bosses have banished to a minor and non-working committee a resolution providing for the acquisition of a portrait of Mr. Truman for the state capitol.

THE GOLDEN WEST

The other day we remarked that the far west had grown up and was fully capable of speaking for itself. We remarked that in connection with the many matters now of national interest which directly affect our future—the future of the far west. No longer can the east set the time. Our sentiments are strengthened in a recent survey made by Business Week, which concludes that "the far west is the golden west."

The survey begins with the statement, now well known, that the Pacific coast boasts the largest wartime gain in population and income and view for top-ranking on per capita income and accumulated savings. Then it goes on to present these interesting facts:

"It's truly the first and richest of the new American markets. On every side the far west has grown faster than the nation since 1930, last prewar year. Its population increased more than 30 per cent. Its 7 per cent for the entire U. S. Its industry has expanded more (factory jobs) up 68 per cent. Its 48 per cent for the U. S. Its farms won a slight edge in the food production race (up 23 per cent from 1930 to 1945, compared with 22 per cent for the U. S. as a whole). Its employment in federal and local government has climbed higher (up two-thirds against one-third for the U. S.). Its property holders have increased their income more (90 per cent vs. 60 per cent for the U. S.). And its construction activity, power output and other sectors of its economy have shown startlingly large gains."

"In short, the far west has put on an all-around star performance. Total income went up 179 per cent; sales went up 111 per cent. Today the far west consumes 11 per cent of U. S. population, 13 per cent of income, and 14 per cent of retail sales as against shares of 9 per cent, 11 per cent and 12 per cent before the war."

These are nice things to know and to remember, especially since they did not originate with us but with a publication dedicated to getting the facts and presenting them to business and industry as a matter of general information. These are the facts that will attract new business and new industry to the Pacific coast region—the "golden west" for business and industry have a potential for going beyond the markets as located. They will be more than interested in our designation of being the "first and richest of the new American markets. And we should do our part in furthering the golden opportunity which faces the golden west.—Dwight Herald.

PRINCIPLE AND PRACTICE

Everybody seems to be in favor of government economy. But congress hasn't yet proposed a budget cut that wasn't greeted with howls of protest from one quarter or another. However, this is not to be wondered at.

Everybody is dead set against toothaches. But that fact doesn't make most folks rush a trip to the dentist any more.

MONEY SAVED

Ephraim, stockbroker in a small Vermont town, was greeted by a neighbor who controlled him on the loss of some of his merchandise during a fire. "Did you lose much?" asked the friend.

"Not too much," was the laconic reply. "I'd just marked most of my stock down 80 per cent."—Christian Science Monitor.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Three of the best authorities have compared the authentic handwriting of Henry Wallace with the handwriting of Pegler. The result was that Pegler's handwriting was exactly the same as Wallace's.

He may have figured that he was playing it safe because congress certainly wouldn't confirm Henry until the RCP was carefully removed from his reach, which is exactly what happened.

Mr. Sellers was asked to examine and compare these documents. He did it as a professional service and gave his opinion accordingly. Mr. Harris and Mr. Lacey were invited to consultation by Mr. Sellers. Mr. Harris came to the conclusion that Wallace wrote the Gurni letters.

Mr. Lacey's inspection was "somewhat cursory" but nevertheless he reached the opinion that the questioned documents were all written by Wallace. On reconsideration, all three gave permission to name them as my authorities in the case.

Now, from a leading authority on Yoga, the oriental philosophy or religion which appears to have held Wallace's interest for a time, I have another expert opinion that Nicholas Roerich, the Russian artist, who was Wallace's teacher, is not a Yoga scholar. Roerich, this authority says, is a "pseudo-occultist" and his writings are a "rehash of astrology, roerichism and theosophical occultism."

However that may be, Henry Wallace did use the people's money to send a steamship expedition to Mongolia and China in 1934, soon after he became secretary of agriculture, with Roerich in charge. Ostensibly this was an expedition to collect the seed of drought-resistant grasses.

But stories in English language papers published in China indicated that the expedition had mysterious purposes and that old Roerich, in Tien Tsin for rifles, revolvers and ammunition. He was turned down until the regimental command was overruled from Washington. Also, there was strife among the members of the group.

One of the screwball letters mentions a crystal ball behind living blue eyes above a cleft beard; I have never seen Roerich, who is called both a seer and a master and, sometimes, apparently, a soldier. But a photograph at the time that the mass-production picture-painting campaign was in progress, with 3,000 pictures, was chasing grass seed over China shows an old g y with squint eyes, a cleft beard, and a cleft, or two-legged beard of white.

Roerich was even more terribly funny because he knew he could die any moment and that Wallace would then take over his wild, bewildered interest in oriental treasures and mysterious masters of unrevealed wisdom. Later, when he certainly knew the truth, Roerich fired Jesse Jones from the department of commerce which included control of the RCP, "the greatest bank in the world," and nominated Henry for the job.

BOB HOPE

In a press conference just before we left California for our tour, east, Chester Warren came out in favor of more mobile psychiatric clinics. After intensive research I discovered a mobile psychiatric clinic is a truck carrying a psychiatrist, a nurse and a radiologist cap shaped like Sigmund Freud.

Roerich was even more terribly funny because he knew he could die any moment and that Wallace would then take over his wild, bewildered interest in oriental treasures and mysterious masters of unrevealed wisdom. Later, when he certainly knew the truth, Roerich fired Jesse Jones from the department of commerce which included control of the RCP, "the greatest bank in the world," and nominated Henry for the job.

But stories in English language papers published in China indicated that the expedition had mysterious purposes and that old Roerich, in Tien Tsin for rifles, revolvers and ammunition. He was turned down until the regimental command was overruled from Washington. Also, there was strife among the members of the group.

One of the screwball letters mentions a crystal ball behind living blue eyes above a cleft beard; I have never seen Roerich, who is called both a seer and a master and, sometimes, apparently, a soldier. But a photograph at the time that the mass-production picture-painting campaign was in progress, with 3,000 pictures, was chasing grass seed over China shows an old g y with squint eyes, a cleft beard, and a cleft, or two-legged beard of white.

SPORT FRONT

The Buhl Indians will be the team to beat in Big Seven gridiron competition next fall, says one of the Old Sport Scribner's favorite coaches, Rulon Budge of the Buhl Bobcats, in an interview.

"The Indians are well stacked with returning lettersmen and reserve power," continued the coach. "Mr. Budge didn't say much about his Bobcats, but there's a suspicion around the Magic Valley that the veteran mentor will spread out one of his masterpieces on the gridiron next fall and that if Coach Hank Powers and his Bruins don't watch out they'll be on the short end of the score when the two schools clash next fall for the first time in several seasons."

Budge doesn't ordinarily need much to work on to put out a championship contender and next fall he'll have eight regulars back from the eleven that tied for the Big Seven crown—and they'll be big. For instance he has both ends, one tackle, the center and an experienced center means a lot in grid football, both guards and two backs.

Rounding out a powerhouse from such material should be any job at all for old sport top.

Here's an item from a San Marcos Tex. paper:

"The Bobcat College Archery club, a group of outdoor sharpshooters, found to their dismay last Tuesday that the targets set up by the Texas U. archery team in Gregory gym were not to their liking or hitting, because when the straw had finally settled, the Bobcats came in with 1,033 points to 1,354 for their hosts. Kyle Walte, chief Bobcat bowman, took individual scoring honors for the 'Cats.' (Kyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walte, was a student at San Marcos State college. He just returned home for summer vacation.)

And that's that for now, except that BOI league pennant race should be hot and heavy."

Rollo Gibbons to Seek Second 1947 Title in City Tourney Here

The announcement last night by Fred Stone, course master at the Twin Falls municipal links, that the city championship tournament, in which the qualifying round would open Sunday, will be an open affair, giving president Rollo Gibbons, the champion, the opportunity of defending the crown he won a year ago but also to win a second major Idaho championship this season.

Gibbons, defeating Bud Sower, Caldwell, 1 up, won the Boise Valley tournament crown, at the Elk Country club, Nampa, Sunday. He also was the tournament medalist, shooting a three over par 74 Friday during a driving wind and rain storm.

The Jerome veteran was expected to encounter plenty of trouble in the such golfers as Jimmy Sinclair and Eddie Harper, the latter a former state champion, always a big threat. Stone said that the golfers would have from Sunday to June 15 to qualify. The first round must be completed by the night of June 23, the second by the night of June 29, the third by the night of July 6 and the championship matches from July 6 to 13.

Dr. Bob Sutcliffe and Charlie Pullman defeated Emil Bordenwick and Don Hubbert, 3 and 2, as they finished the last nine holes in the final match of the championship flight of the annual best-ball tournament last night. No exceptional shooting was done by any of the golfers, Stone reported.

COWBOY-PILOT DOUBLE BILL TONIGHT

Hartung Hits Home Run but He Loses Tilt

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds knocked the New York Giants out of second possession of the National league lead and handed previously unbeaten Clint Hartung his first setback of the season Monday by crushing the New Yorks, 5-3.

The defeat dropped the Giants into a tie for first place with the idle Chicago Cubs.

Hartung, a converted outfielder who boasted a 4-0 record prior to the game, was slugged for 12 hits including eighth inning homers by Eddie Lukon and Eddie Miller. Besides getting his 11th four-bagger of the year, Miller drove in four runs.

After the Reds had taken a 2-0 lead in the first four innings, Hartung put the Giants back into the game by bouncing his first home run of the season off the left field score board.

Waddies Gain as Reds Beat Pioneer Leaders

By GEORGE F. REDMOND

The Cowboys were rained out of the opportunity to make it three in a row against the Boise Pilots last night but nevertheless they cut the lead in the Pioneer league and hoped to slant the margin still farther when they take on Manager Walt Love, the circuit's leading slugger, and his crew from the state's capital city in a double bill tonight.

The game will get under way at 7 p.m. Manager Earl Bolyard announced that Dick Waddingshaw, the former Salt Lake City high school hurler who with just a bit of luck would have eight victories instead of four in his initial season in organized baseball, would be the hurler in the first game and that probably Frank Prowse, the veteran of the local staff, would most likely get the assignment in the second.

While the rain beat down, President Maury Doerr made several announcements. They included: Manager Bolyard and Capt. Jack Radtke were anxious to get a look at George Sanford, the Paul high school graduate who has been so favorably recommended. Therefore, the youngster had been invited to work out with the Cowboys at their daily 11 a.m. session during their home stay.

Also that Frank Gonzales, third-sacker, had been released and would join the Edmonton, Can., "farm" of the New York Yankees.

That Thursday would be Frontier Riding club night at Jaycee park and Friday there would be a Kimberly night; also that the Lions club members and their wives would attend Thursday night.

18-Year-Old Hurler Handcuffs Bees as Reds Triumph, 1 to 0

SALT LAKE CITY, June 3 (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Joe Waters of the Ogden Reds treated a sparse crowd in Derks field last night to the Pioneer four-hitter in shattering the league-leading Salt Lake City Bees. The down here on the youngster's artistic performance.

Bob Plack, fidgity right-hander for the Bees, was nearly as good if not so polished, but the Reds stuck together two of their four hits in the fourth frame for the solo run.

With one away, catcher Dick Buck beat out a punt to the box and second, Hal Eggert fanned but Bob Quinn drew one of Plack's seven free tickets.

Rightfielder Fred Rickert powder-dusted a single into centerfield to send Buck scrambling across.

The league leaders never really threatened, leaving only four runners stranded and only three of those got as far as second base.

The swift-working Waters didn't strike out a batter but he walked only one in scoring his fifth triumph against one defeat.

Piscators of State Prepare For Opening

BOISE, June 3 (AP)—Idaho anglers were getting on their toes today preparing for the opening Wednesday of the general trout season. And they have been advised by the state fish and game commission that most streams will be fairly clear and fishing conditions well above average for opening days.

The season opens two weeks later than normal which can account somewhat for clearer water. The fish and game department recommends use of bait for the opening day. The bag limit is 10 pounds and one fish but not more than 20 fish a day or in possession.

South central Idaho fishermen should find Magic reservoir, a long-time favorite, good. Wood river and tributaries are said to be clearer than usual. The famed fly stream—Silver creek—does not open until July 1.

For southwest Idahoans the small creeks on the Boise and Payette rivers should be pretty good. A long-time favorite, good. Wood river and tributaries are said to be clearer than usual. The famed fly stream—Silver creek—does not open until July 1.

NO BASIS FOR REPORTS

CHICAGO, June 3 (AP)—Will Harridge, American league president, said he knew of no basis for any rumor that some American league clubs were now dissatisfied with their present cities and contemplated moving to the west coast. Harridge said all league clubs had a "big" season last year and apparently are headed towards another boom season.

Lewiston Defeats Boise for State Prep Baseball Crown

LEWISTON, June 3 (AP)—The Lewiston Bengals won the Idaho high school baseball championship last night by defeating the Boise Braves, 2 to 1, behind captain Mack Pollio's five-hit pitching. The Bengals could collect only two hits off Boise's Bill May but took advantage of his wildness and a third inning ball to win their third tournament game and the championship trophy.

Lewiston scored the game's first run in the first inning when Pee Wee White drew a base on balls, moved to second on a wild pitch, to third on a passed ball and romped home on Bob White's infield out.

Bruce McIntosh scored what proved to be the winning run in the third inning after reaching first on a fielder's choice, stealing second and advancing to third when the Boise catcher threw wild trying to nip him going down. Then May balked as McIntosh took a big lead off third and the Bengal first baseman was waved home.

Bob Craig scored the lone Boise run in the fourth after drawing one of the two bases on balls Pollio issued. He took second on a wild pitch, stole third and scored when Lewiston catcher Lasker made a bad throw trying to catch him off base.

Board Adopts Idaho American Legion Paper Is Big Change in Teacher Code

MOSCOW, June 2 (AP)—The state board of education, meeting here today, adopted a sweeping new code of ethics for teachers. The code, which is the first of its kind in the nation, will provide that all elementary teachers must have four years of college training to obtain certification. At the same time the board approved institution of administrators' certification for all principals and superintendents, except for small schools. Idaho does not now require administrators' certification, but the practice has been general in other states. State Superintendent of Schools, J. B. Jones, said in announcing adoption of the code.

Pilot Uses Deep Canyon's Bridge To Land Plane

REDDING, Calif., June 3 (AP)—The huge Pit river bridge, spanning a canyon 400 feet deep, was used as a landing strip when weather closed in on John E. Post, Tacoma, flying a small private plane.

Edgar Acree, Redding flight instructor, told of the incident today.

Post was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Geraldine Crum Spencer, also of Tacoma. When bad weather blew in over the mountains, 16 miles north of here, Post circled the bridge several times. Motorists observed his plight, halted traffic and cleared the bridge of all cars, as Post came in for a landing.

Acree then flew the craft off the highway near the bridge, landing it at Redding, from where Post and his sister took off again today, reportedly for Santa Rosa, Calif.

The Pit river bridge has been called the highest double-deck structure in the world. The lower deck is used by railroads.

Plane Production Only 820 in 1946

HOLLYWOOD, June 3 (AP)—West coast plane production dropped from a wartime high of 30,000 planes a year to 820 in 1946, John G. Lee, chairman of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce aviation committee, today told members of the Aviation Writers' association ninth annual convention.

Aircraft manufacturers have had to pull in their horns, continued Lee in an address. "They will continue to do so until the United States establishes an air power policy, with at least a five year program permitting aviation's scientists and builders to engage with confidence in research and production."

FFA Boys Enter Meet at Moscow

JEROME, June 3—The Jerome high school Future Farmers of America judging team will go to Moscow June 10 for the state judging contest. Team members are Lewis Oneda, Walter Castro, Raymond Clark and Clayton Turner.
