Ten Killed By Dakota "Twister"

GRAFTON, N. D., July 4 (AP)—A destructive twister that roared out of Canada and into the Red River valley left 10 persons dead and at least 45 injured today. Eight of the injured were reported in critical condition.

The tornado first struck last night at Windygate, Minn., on the Canadian border where one man was killed. The twister then cut a narrow path into the United States across the northeast corner of North Dakota, hammered into the Red River valley and blew itself out in Minnesota.

Town Levelled
Observers said the greatest damage was done by high winds that flanked the tornado. At Warsaw, N. D., which was not hit by the black tornado funnel, high winds leveled every building except a Catholic church and one other structure, it was reported.

A heavy toll was presented at Grafton, Minn., as a crowd of approximately 400 persons attending a baseball game saw the approach of the storm. After racing to safety until the storm passed, players and spectators formed rescue squads and toured the ravaged areas, rushing the injured to the hospital at Warsaw, Minn.

6 Die in Farmhouse
At the end of its path it struck a farmhouse four and a half miles east of here killing six of the occupants. The house was wrecked and the other 14 occupants were injured, seven critically. Nineteen were members of a family of migratory workers of Mexican descent who had come from San Antonio, Tex., to work in the sugar beet fields.

Rescuers had to wash mud and debris from the dead and injured before they could be identified or buried.

Amputations from Grand Forks
N. D. and Warren, Minn., took the 30 injured to a hospital at Warren, where 15 were reported after treatment. Fourteen others were hospitalized at Grafton, N. D.

Dike Breaks Floods Over Village
GRAND FORK, N. D., July 4 (AP)—A five-foot sandbag barrier broke the greater part of this morning's flood water.

The barrier, which the 1,000 inhabitants, including women and children, had labored to build, gave way last night. Mayor J. J. Grammer reported all residents reached high ground safely. A boy who was a foot injury was the only casualty.

Grammer called it the worst flood in the town's history. The water reached a stage 40 to 50 inches higher than any previously recorded.

Front street, which comprises the business district and lies along the river bank, was covered with two to three feet of water. Only about a foot of the residential section escaped, Grammer reported.

Grammer said the situation was well under control today, as the water and Red Cross standing by to give aid.

Grand Tower, 75 miles south of St. Louis, has been virtually surrounded by water and the town has been supplied with food by boat.

When the steering mechanism snapped the car was thrown over embankment and landed on its top in a ditch 12 feet below.

It'll Be Cool Fourth at Sun Valley

Yes, skiing will be one of the diversions today at Sun Valley as guests at the famed resort visit snow-covered areas within 45 minutes of the lodge by Jeep. Some of the trails are packed with as much as 20 feet of packed snow. Walter Fraser, co-coach of the U. S. Olympic ski team is shown above entertaining a group of summer skiers at Boulder basin. ## Plans, Bids Called On Low-Cost Homes

The mayor's housing committee has called for plans and bids for low cost houses to be built here, thus putting into action plans made at a meeting held on June 25 by the committee to explain the "Yakima plan" to representatives of the building trades, contractors, financial institutions and others.

Chairman R. L. Summerfield has announced that all contractors, sub-contractors and building supply dealers are invited to submit bids or estimates and plans for construction of low-cost homes.

At the "Yakima plan" meeting a potential market for at least 300 new houses was reported, and it was felt that houses could be built for a price of $5,000 to $8,000 plus the cost of the building site.

More Bids Wanted
Summerfield said he wanted as many bids as possible submitted so that his committee could see what type of house is available in the price range determined before beginning construction of several model homes of different floor plans to appeal potential buyers with that in a steady flow of material.

"Building contractors or anyone connected with the building trades interested in the construction of small homes should call the Chamber of Commerce, telephone 979, and leave their names and address," he said, adding that they will be contacted and invited to submit plans and bids.

Plans Differ
The housing plan formulated here differs in some slight respects from the "Yakima plan" advocated by Mayor H. G. Lauterbach. Essence of the plan adopted here is to reduce building costs by channeling building materials, assuring the contractor of a steady flow of material and eliminating the cost procedure of taking workmen off and on a project as the supply of materials ebbs and flows.

Under the plan backed by the housing committee, a crew of craftsmen would complete their work on a particular project or house and then be assigned to similar work on another house, without loss of time and expense of doing what work available material allows. Work would be assigned to another project only to return to the first one and repeat the process.

No Rain

It's almost too good to be true, but the U. S. weather bureau Friday said no rain would fall in this area in the next five days, during which temperatures would be "slightly" above normal.

The forecast for the five-day period ending Wednesday evening, was received Friday via the Associated Press. It reads: "No rain. Temperatures slightly above normal."

"Folly," Says Truman of Failure of Any European Nation to Enter Aid Plan

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., July 4 (AP)—President Truman today described as "folly" the refusal of any European nation to take part in a cooperative plan for the continent's economic recovery. Without mentioning the Soviet union by name, Mr. Truman struck out at "organized mistrust" which he said leads the world's people "away from peace and unity."

He called for an end of "propaganda attacks upon other nations." The United States is "living up to its responsibilities for creating the economic conditions of peace," the President said in an Independence day address from the porch of Monticello, home of Thomas Jefferson. Then, in an obvious reference to the breakdown of the preliminary Paris conference on the European aid proposal of Secretary Marshall, he declared:

"Yet, certain nations today are withholding their support of reconstruction plans on the ground that this would mean interference by some nations in the internal affairs of others. This is as fallacious as the refusal of a man to enter a profitable business partnership on the ground that it would interfere in his private affairs."

"Surely after two world wars nations should have learned the folly of a nationalism so extreme as to block cooperative economic planning among nations for peaceful reconstruction."

List Four Regardings
The chief executive listed these four regarding the aid plan as "peace for all time."

1—Common adherence to the principle that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. "There must be genuine effort to translate that principle into reality."

2—Common respect for basic human rights. "No country has yet reached the absolute in protecting human rights in all countries, including our own, there is much to be accomplished."

3—Free and full exchange of knowledge, ideas and information among people and maximum freedom in international travel and communication.

4—Sound economic and financial policies which will support a world economy rather than separate national economies.

More Data Needed
After a preliminary AAF investigation, however, Paul C. Henshaw, army air forces spokesman, said: "We feel that it is up in the clouds and we can't do anything until we get more concrete information."

The mysterious discs, usually reported as shiny and traveling at great speed, first were reported 10 days ago over the Pacific northwest. Reports of the projectiles poured in from Oregon, Washington, California, Kentucky, New Mexico, Idaho, Utah, Colorado, South Carolina and eastern Canada. Yesterday persons in Texas and Ohio reported seeing the "flying saucers."

"Frisco Man Surprised"
Ole J. Snide, of San Francisco, said he was surprised that the witnesses didn't know they were seeing "saucer" shaped space ships from other planets.

In a letter to the San Francisco Chronicle, Snide warned the people of the earth to "act up no belligerence" or they would be wiped out in less than 24 hours.

He said the "masters" of the "saucer" ships "passengers from out of this world" planted the original human race here.

FLASHES of LIFE

SOOTHING
NEW YORK, July 4—A Bronx dentist has come up with something new to soothe nervous patients.

He has wired an electric switch of the push button variety into the control box of his drill. The patient holds the switch and by pulling the button can turn off the drill if the going gets too rough. The dentist can't turn the drill back on until the patient pushes the button.

MODERNIZE
ORANGE LAKE, N. Y., July 4—A four-passenger airplane, capable of carrying eight passengers and 300 gallons of fire-fighting chemicals, has been added to the equipment of this community's volunteer fire department.

The plane will be kept at an airport about a quarter of a mile from the fire-house. It is owned and flown by one of the volunteer firemen.

When they finish, Bikini will have few secrets left.

Five Theories Told to Explain 'Saucers' Flights in 11 States

By United Press

Five theories were advanced today to "explain" the mysterious "flying saucers" which persons in 11 states have reported seeing streaking through the sky. The ideas ranged from a San Francisco layman's flat assertion that they were "space ships" from other planets to a Chicago scientist's peevish comment that the witnesses were seeing "spots in front of their eyes." Three of the other explanations came from army air force officers who began a preliminary investigation and then dropped it because they weren't getting anywhere.

The AAF's experts said:
1. The phenomena might be caused by natural weather conditions, such as heavy halos and clouds.

2. Perhaps they were meteorites composed of silica that broke up when they hit the earth's atmosphere for peace or perihelion.

3. Earlier, an AAF spokesman said "if some foreign power is sending flying discs over the United States, it is our responsibility to know about it and take proper action."

More Data Needed
After a preliminary AAF investigation, however, Paul C. Henshaw, army air forces spokesman, said: "We feel that it is up in the clouds and we can't do anything until we get more concrete information."

Pull Together Or Die, 'Ike' Warns Planet

VICKSBURG, Miss., July 4 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today that nations must work together for peace or perish.

The army chief of staff told a Fourth of July audience he must "guard ourselves" until all other nations are ready to substitute the council table for the battlefield.

Logical Goal
But he said the "logical" world cooperation—"even if distant"—remains a logical goal and an aim dictated by common decency.

He said that if men devoted all their substance to arms they would finally reach a point where bankruptcy or attack from without would mean collapse.

He said that if men devoted all their substance to arms they would finally reach a point where bankruptcy or attack from without would mean collapse.

Canal Firm Not Involved in Plan

N. V. Sharp, Piler, today asserted the Twin Falls Canal company had no part in the plan to build a world structure for peace, or humanity under the impact of total war.

He warned that the United States must help plan and build a world structure for peace, or humanity under the impact of total war.

He said that if men devoted all their substance to arms they would finally reach a point where bankruptcy or attack from without would mean collapse.

Chinese Officials Call Mobilization To Expand War

NANKING, July 4 (AP)—The Chinese state council, highest policy making body of Chongqing, today ordered a general mobilization of manpower and materials to enlarge the military campaign against the communists.

The generalissimo presided as the council passed a resolution condemning the communists as "rebels" and condemning them for rejecting government peace offers.

Pro-government reports claimed new nationalistic advances in Manchuria but conceded at the same time that a communist force was threatening to cut off nationalistic forces moving up the Beiping area recently recaptured from the communists.

Started in Strike
Pacific Trailways started to serve the Twin Falls area during the strike of Greyhound drivers in December after the war had ended.

The Trailways strike was called in support of the A.P.I. workers demand of 55 cents a mile for drivers and $1.80 an hour for shipmen. Drivers now earn 5 to 5.5 cents a mile and shipmen $1.35. About 85 men are involved.

Years hence scientists still will be studying data collected at the time of the tests. Meanwhile, unsolved mysteries remain for which new data is required.

Take the 20,000-ton battleship Arkansas. It survived the first atomic bomb at Bikini, the one which went off some 1,200 feet above the target fleet on July 16, 1945, sinking five ships. The Arkansas' superstructure and decks were wrecked, but it stayed afloat.

It went down, however, in the second test—the shallow under-water atomic bomb on July 26—along with two other capital ships and six lesser craft.

But whereas the other victims sank in a matter of minutes, hours or days, the Arkansas simply vanished. The ship exploded, hurling hundreds of thousands of tons of water 8,000 feet into the air, and no one ever saw the Arkansas again.

Only Two Minor Traffic Mishaps Reported in Area

Only two minor traffic accidents were reported in Twin Falls area Thursday and Friday, despite the heavy volume of holiday traffic.

Cecil B. Smith, route 2, Twin Falls, reported to city police this morning that his car had been side-swiped by a hill-and-valley driver shortly after midnight Friday.

The left rear fender of the Smith car was cracked. Smith, the other man, was in color, and would have white paint on it received when the accident occurred.

No one was injured when the car driven by Jesse D. Toombs, Pendleton, Ore., went out of control when its steering gear broke about three and one-half miles east of Hansen at 9 a. m. Thursday.

Navy and Host of Other Groups to Peel Bikini of Its Atom Secrets

WASHINGTON, July 4 (AP)—The navy is going back to Bikini this month to find out, among other things, what actually happened to the battleship Arkansas.

A year after the atomic bomb tests in Bikini lagoon, the navy also hopes to learn:

1. Just what the bomb's nuclear radiation did to fish and other marine life of the atoll, and whether the effects have been handed on to second generations.

13 Die in Auto Crashes as 4th Holiday Begins

By The Associated Press
Thirteen persons had been killed in highway mishaps in eight states today, hours before the expected record mass holiday travel had reached its peak.

As an estimated 50,000,000 automobiles streamed onto the highways, railroad, bus and airplane reported they had prepared for a record holiday travel.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Council reported that the jam on highways was breaking in "the worst" since the 1937 season.

Five auto deaths
The highway deaths were reported in the following states: California, one; Illinois, one; Indiana, one; Michigan, one; and Wisconsin, one.

The other questions to be asked at Bikini will be answered by scientists with Geiger counters, core drills, sampling devices, photo film for gauging radioactivity of fish, and an impressive array of equipment in four floating laboratories.

When they finish, Bikini will have few secrets left.

Population in City Shifting Over Holiday

Twin Falls is going through a temporary shift in population this week according to reports from hotel and motor courts.

The whole area seems to be revving around the popular idea that the grass is greener on the other side of the fence, one hotel employee opined. The residents of Twin Falls are moving out of town and out of the state for their vacations and are promptly replaced by tourists who think Idaho is the ideal vacation spot.

There has been a decided increase in tourist travel in this area, according to reports from the hotels in Twin Falls. The Independence day travel has not brought a marked increase in the number of visitors. One motor court reported Idaho visitors are placing more long reservations than ever before. Listing a decided increase in travel this summer, they say it is still mounting.

In the hotels, reports indicate that 1947 is climbing back to pre-war standards for tourist travel. Representatives say that while it is hard to present an accurate report, this year has brought a definite upswing in out-of-state registrations.

Reports reveal that most of the visitors appear about one day or night here before going on to visit other points in Idaho and other bordering states.

planet since before the fall of the Roman empire, when the Great Master left earth for the "flying saucers," as reported by a fanatic ideologist, "has explained."

"He is now back and what is going to be depends upon mankind..."

Alcrist, engineers at the University of California conceded that the "flying saucers" were traveling at 1,200 miles per hour, as reported by a fanatic ideologist, "has explained."

Speed "Impractical"

One professor, H. A. Johnson, said air travel at more than 800 miles per hour was impractical now because of temperatures generated by air friction.

At 1,200 miles per hour, air friction would generate a temperature of 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit, which is about the limit of safety for metals now in use," he said. He said V-2 rockets travel 3,600 miles per hour, but were in the air only a short time.

Predator Control Talk Set Monday

BOISE, July 4 (AP)—All Idaho federal agents and predators will meet in Boise Monday to outline their campaign for the next fiscal year.

T. B. Murray, director of the state fish and game department, said the meeting was being conducted a week before the summer commission meeting, also in Boise, so that approval of the game department's participation may be given at the first possible moment.

Representatives of the game department, U. S. fish and wildlife service, state predatory animal board and stockmen's associations will take part. A cooperative program utilizing all available funds and resources of the several agencies will be undertaken.

Reduction in coyotes, the most destructive animal preying on game animals and livestock, has been noted in the last several years, officials said.

Chairman Knutson, R. Minn., of the House ways and means committee, author of the tax bill, said "it looks like we have the fight won."

Barriers Maintained

Some of them present to their citizens carefully selected or distorted versions of the facts about their countries. They teach and broadcast distrust and scorn of their neighbors."

Skull Believed to Be Mystery Clue

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont., July 4 (AP)—Outrigger in the area said today they believe a skull found recently by telephone linemen working between West Yellowstone and nearby district ranches was part of skeleton of Wallace Brown, who disappeared in 1921.

George Pickup, owner of the Madison hotel here, said Brown owned a lodge four miles north of West Yellowstone, left on horseback for Montana, left by way of Henry's lake, and disappeared. His bones returned the following day but a prolonged search failed to reveal a clue as to Brown's whereabouts.

Illegal Water Use Charged Against Three

KIMBERLY, July 4—Plea of not guilty was entered by three men arraigned Thursday before Justice of the Peace Dennis Smith on charges preferred by J. E. Boward, county engineer, that they had diverted water from the Snake river for irrigation purposes.

All three were charged with illegally diverting irrigation water; two were additionally charged with polluting irrigation water, and one faces a third charge of shooting at Boward with a rifle with intent to commit bodily harm.

Facing the three charges is Byron Mason who was released from Twin Falls county jail Thursday evening after a $1,000 bond was posted.

Hearings on the water pollution charge is set for July 7, and on the water diversion charge for July 10. Facing two charges is C. A. Peterson. Hearing on the water diversion charge is set for July 9. He is also charged with polluting water by allowing hogs to wallow in canal water used for domestic purposes by persons downstream.

Fred Higgenbotham is the sole member of the trio charged only with illegally diverting irrigation water. His hearing is set for July 9.

Full details of the alleged shooting incident were unavailable but it was understood that Boward was sitting on a ditch bank at the time the shots were assertedly fired.

We, the Women

By RUTH MILLET
NEA Staff Writer
It looks as though the child-care experts have made a mistake of modern parents.

They have told us one of the best ways to bring up a child is to let him do as he pleases. They have told us to let him do as he pleases. They have told us to let him do as he pleases.

One by one they keep coming back, saying "That method we sold you doesn't work at all. Here—better try this one."

One of the first times they backtracked was the theory that rocking and cuddling and loving a baby wasn't good for it—after we'd hurt Grandma's feelings by forbidding her to rock Junior.

Then after giving us rigid infant feeding schedules, they reversed themselves again, this time with the "self-demand schedule," no more than feeding him as much as he wants when he wants it.

Now that we've let Junior get completely out of hand because we didn't dare spank him (another dictate) one of the country's leading pediatricians complains: "The modern teaching that physical punishment is shameful has deflected parents into forms of control such as chronic scolding, excessive reasoning and over-explanation, which bring about worse distortion of the child's personality."

After that, that's a cinch the experts will soon renege again—under some new scientific-sounding name—"punitive punishment of the posterior" maybe.

Social Situations

The Situation: A woman guest is spending a week-end in a house where there are no servants.

Wrong Way: She releases with a book or magazine while her hostess does the cooking, dish-washing, etc.

Right Way: She offers to do such jobs as setting the table, helping with the dishes, and taking care of the children, if there are any.

SMELTERTVILLE, July 4 (AP)—A 16-year-old girl whose parents were killed in an automobile accident intends to raise four younger children herself.

Trene Gable, oldest of the five orphaned daughters of J. B. Gable, Mrs. Henry Gable, killed near Superior, Mont., June 30, said today, "It's my life. It's the life I want. I want to keep our home and bring up these children."

Relatives have suggested taking the other children, ranging in age from two to 14 years, but Trene said "I'm willing to do anything necessary so our family can stay together."

B. W. Shafer of Smelterville said residents of the area have raised $2,000 to help relieve her goal.

When Trene finishes high school, she intends to take a business course and become a bookkeeper, hiring a woman to take care of the children while she works.

The attractive girl says she hopes to marry some time, but "if my husband didn't want me to raise the children—well, couldn't marry. If I had to choose, I'd raise the children."

ORPHAN GIRL, 16, To Raise Family Of 4 Youngsters
SMELTERTVILLE, July 4 (AP)—A 16-year-old girl whose parents were killed in an automobile accident intends to raise four younger children herself.

Trene Gable, oldest of the five orphaned daughters of J. B. Gable, Mrs. Henry Gable, killed near Superior, Mont., June 30, said today, "It's my life. It's the life I want. I want to keep our home and bring up these children."

Relatives have suggested taking the other children, ranging in age from two to 14 years, but Trene said "I'm willing to do anything necessary so our family can stay together."

B. W. Shafer of Smelterville said residents of the area have raised $2,000 to help relieve her goal.

When Trene finishes high school, she intends to take a business course and become a bookkeeper, hiring a woman to take care of the children while she works.

The attractive girl says she hopes to marry some time, but "if my husband didn't want me to raise the children—well, couldn't marry. If I had to choose, I'd raise the children."
