

Buddy's Fast Actions Save Life of Man

DETROIT, July 17 (AP)—Hundreds of passersby paused in Detroit's financial district today to gaze tensely skyward as the savage thrust of a moving steel beam touched off a story of heroism and suffering among the men who walk the sidewalks.

The swinging beam struck Frank Ryan, 32, father of two, crushing his leg as he worked at raising a downtown bank building 80 feet above the street on a small platform, three feet square.

As he was about to topple from his precarious perch, he was seized by his co-worker, Alfred Fink, who drew him back onto the platform. Applies Tourniquet

There, high above the apprehensive faces gathered below, Fink deftly applied a handkerchief tourniquet.

About 30 minutes later a fire department rescue squad lowered Ryan to the ground in a harness and he was taken to St. Mary's hospital, where his condition was reported serious. Doctors said they hoped to save his leg.

Fire officials credited Fink's cool actions with keeping the injured man from losing consciousness.

Other members of the wrecking crew said Ryan had signaled the crane operator below to pull away a steel beam he had cut from its remaining fixture on the wall with a blow torch.

Under the pull of the crane, the beam broke from its connection suddenly and swung back against Ryan, crushing him, they said.

Additional Meat At 'Moderately' Low Cost Seen

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—The American Meat Institute declared today—with reservations—that the nation faces the cheerful prospect of meat at "moderately" prices this fall.

J. R. Egert, the institute's associate director of marketing, said in a statement prepared for the joint congressional committee on the economic report that his organization expects a 15 per cent increase in meat supplies by autumn.

"It follows," Egert said, "that moderately lower prices may be looked for at that time unless there are more wage increases and other developments which would further increase the public demand for meat."

He added that current meat prices, generally high, are "the result of more people having more money and wanting more meat than ever before, at a time when supplies are seasonally low."

Egert's statement was submitted to the committee on the last day of a series of hearings to find out what can be done about stabilizing prices and the government's marketing program.

45 Children Die In Sinking Ship

GENOA, Italy, July 17 (AP)—An excursion boat sank 150 yards off shore last night and 45 children and two adults drowned.

Ten other children were missing. The children were vacationing on the Italian Riviera as the guests of a charitable organization.

The tragedy occurred at Albenga, 46 miles southwest of Genoa, when the boat struck a steel piling and sank almost immediately.

About 60 children between 10 and 12 years of age were aboard. There were five adult chaperones.

"Lightning Joe"

The army's new deputy chief of staff is Lieut.-Gen. J. Lawton Collins, who answers to the nickname of "Lightning Joe." Collins, who will assume his new duties Sept. 1, when he replaces Gen. Thomas T. Handy, was an outstanding corps commander in World War II. He has been mentioned as a possible successor to Gen. "Les" Eisenhower as chief of staff.

First wire cable suspension bridge in the United States was built in 1816 over the Schuylkill river.

$125,000 Damage Suit Is Filed in Railroad Mishap

PAUL, July 17 (AP)—A civil suit seeking $125,000 damages in the death of Edward W. Ashton, Paul, has been filed against the Union Pacific railroad in district court in Salt Lake City.

The suit was filed by Wayne L. Black, administrator of the Ashton estate, in behalf of the victim's wife, Marian, and two minor children.

Mr. Ashton was killed May 17 in the Nampa wreck yards. He was head brakeman of a westbound freight and was leaning from the engine cab in the course of his duties when his head struck the corner of another train. He was killed instantly.

At 12:50 p. m. firemen were called to the Jerome Cooperative creamery when an apparently faulty connection in an automatic sprinkler system had set off an alarm at the fire department. No fire was found.

At 1:40 p. m. the fire department went to the rear of the H. J. Puter residence, 1245 Fifth avenue east, where a trash and weed fire was scorching a nearby shed. Only slight damage resulted.

A spokesman for the McDonnell company said he was unable to furnish any information about the XP-85 because the plane is still classified as a secret.

The parasite plane, designated the XP-85, is a small, jet-propelled craft which the army said is expected to have a speed approaching the present world record, 653.8 miles per hour.

'Parasite Plane' Is in Production

ST. LOUIS, July 17 (AP)—A new type of fighter plane, designed to be launched from the bomb bay of the army's giant B-36 bomber and return to it, is being manufactured for the army air forces by McDonnell Aircraft corporation, at Lambert-St. Louis field, it was announced today.

THE PEOPLE ASKED FOR IT

The people of this vicinity have been given ample warning that hick driving and traffic law violations must be stopped. But they have shown little cooperation. In fact there is no indication that they were even interested in trying to do their part in promoting public safety.

So the law enforcement officials have been forced to resort to drastic action. On recommendation of the Twin Falls chapter of the safety council, a drive against traffic violations will be launched in Twin Falls and Twin Falls county Aug. 1.

That date was chosen to afford the motoring public one more chance to acquaint itself with the most important traffic laws before the round-up gets underway. Between now and that time, the Times-News will endeavor to familiarize all its readers with the regulations which must be observed. It is unfortunate that the people did not put an end to careless and reckless driving on their own volition, and that the law enforcement officials have been forced to take such stringent action. But it's a lesson this community must learn sooner or later, and the sooner the better if we are to reduce the ever-mounting number of auto accidents.

So beginning Aug. 1, those who persist in the more serious offenses such as running stop signs, speeding and reckless driving may expect to be brought into court immediately upon their arrest if apprehended during regular court hours.

Moreover, those wild-eyed juveniles who insist upon using the streets as a speedway, thinking the red-tape occasional by their age will keep them out of trouble, are due for a bad time. In the future and effective immediately, offending juveniles will be turned over directly to the probate court where they may expect heavy fines and the probability of losing their drivers' licenses altogether.

Strong medicine, this. But the people through their own negligence have asked for it. Our courts, law enforcement authorities and the safety council are to be commended for their decision to force a showdown.

COSTLY CARELESSNESS

A dry summer, heavy growth of cheat grass, a slash in federal appropriations necessitating a curtailment of lookouts and fire aides for the U. S. grazing service and the usual carelessness of campers have combined to burn up thousands of acres of valuable Magic Valley grazing land this summer.

A carelessly-flipped cigarette butt has transformed thousands of acres of sheep grazing land into a blackened waste, despite repeated warnings of grazing and forest service posters, a constant effort of the Idaho Junior Chamber of Commerce in its "Keep Idaho Green" campaign, and just plain common sense.

Because of the curtailed appropriations of the grazing service, this year there is more need than before in urging cautionary measures in the brush and forest areas. The staff of fire lookouts of the grazing service has been pared considerably. In past years, lookouts spotted the little fires before they developed into large ones and saved thousands of acres of grazing land. The staff of fire aides, trained employees in fighting fires, has been cut and the availability of Mexican nationals for duty in fighting range fires also is limited.

In Fairfield, two Gooding men were fined $5 apiece for permitting their youngsters to set off firecrackers in the forest. That fire burned 80 acres of good brush. Careless campers started the fire in Rock creek area that swept 1,500 acres of timber and brush. On July 8, a fire east of Rupert burned 10,000 acres. That fire was started when someone tossed a cigarette from a passing car. Monday's fire north of Shoshone, also started from the highway, burned between 8,000 and 7,000 acres.

It's the same old story—carelessness and no regard for property.

FOOLPROOF TRIUMPH

Dictator Franco's henchmen have called the loped-up vote approving his law of succession "a triumph beyond precedent." There is no opposition party permitted in Spain. The voters were required to have certificates showing they had voted, and were threatened with trouble if they didn't. Franco's stooges counted the ballots, of course. Then they burned them. There was no way of checking the results.

Yes, it certainly was a triumph—like those landfalls that periodically re-elect Generalissimo Stalin to the top job in Russia.

GABBLEDOOKE

One reason the Soviet government wouldn't let a Russian woman leave her country to marry a Canadian husband, Deputy Foreign Minister Vyshinsky explained the other day, "Maybe so, maybe so, Mr. V. But did you ever hear of that old masculine marathon of American government, the senate filibuster?"

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

"SENTIMENT"—The most exciting and disturbing talk at this recent political powwow which Democratic bosses from a score of states have held with President Truman and other party bigwigs has been the anti-Truman movement—perhaps "sentiment" would be a more accurate word—about which James East, executive director of the National Citizens' Committee, seems to be nursing along the Pacific coast.

Mr. East, a 1944 man talked of nothing except the Roosevelt and Wallace maneuvers as they appear to endanger unanimous renominations of Mr. Truman next June. For it is generally agreed that it would damage the President's chances of reelection if he had to stage even a re-election action to obtain approval of his record by acclamation.

CALL—The latest Roosevelt move to upset the Truman "this record" call for a 20-21 meeting of the state central committee at Los Angeles to consider the "statement of policy" which a committee of California Democrats framed at his request. In its recommendation to foreign policy, the statement inclined toward the Wallace viewpoint that the President has been unnecessarily harsh toward Russia.

If the forthcoming meeting approves the original Truman policy, it will be submitted to the state convention in September, and if that body should accept it, this anti-Truman document would be just the weapon Mr. Wallace wants when it is submitted to the Democratic national convention next year. It might enable him to collect enough ballots on the nominating call to tarnish a Truman triumph.

DEFENSIVE—Although the Truman faction here and in California is fighting the Roosevelt-Wallace group quietly, skillfully and vigorously, it will not open up biggest gun until after the July 26-27 meeting at Los Angeles. The Truman faction hopes that Russia's sabotage of the Marshall plan and the Paris conference will bring the Marshall plan into line with the administration.

Conditions have changed considerably since the original "this record" call for a 20-21 meeting of the state central committee at Los Angeles. The Truman faction has enlarged the original Truman doctrine of aid to Europe to include the Soviet, thereby throwing both Stalin and Wallace on the defensive. The Kremlin has shown its least interest in the Marshall plan, forcing Russia to accept the Truman doctrine of aid to Europe to include the Soviet, thereby throwing both Stalin and Wallace on the defensive.

The Kremlin has shown its least interest in the Marshall plan, forcing Russia to accept the Truman doctrine of aid to Europe to include the Soviet, thereby throwing both Stalin and Wallace on the defensive. The Kremlin has shown its least interest in the Marshall plan, forcing Russia to accept the Truman doctrine of aid to Europe to include the Soviet, thereby throwing both Stalin and Wallace on the defensive.

So, in the light of these happenings, Trumanites hope young Mr. Roosevelt and his Wallace friends will see fit to rescind or modify their attacks on the President's foreign policy. If they do, it will mean Mr. Wallace will have few political legs to stand on save his own, and they are not too sturdy.

LINE—Meanwhile, the Truman-Hannegan-Sullivan-Pauley forces, together with their friends on Capitol Hill, are working quietly to undermine Son James in California.

They have been writing letters, telephoning and writing and bringing costly Democrats to Washington in an attempt to line up a majority against an anti-administration line at the Los Angeles this month, at the September state conference or at the 1948 convention.

TRACK—"Listen, Helen," he said, "don't join up with that crowd. They're on the wrong track. Our people were radical when they were hungry and discouraged. Now they have written in their windows for good eating. They don't like this bolshevik stuff. They like the way Truman has told Stalin to go jump in the Pacific ocean. You'd ask your pretty boy, my dear, if you like him with Roosevelt and Wallace."

The congressman merely said in vivid, theatrical language, figuring that would appeal to Miss Gahagan, who Olinus Ed Pauley, Executive Director, Gael Sullivan and President Truman himself are warring to the California politicians.

LIBERAL—President Truman's recall of the nomination of Ray C. Waide, a prominent California Republican, for the federal communications commission ties in with the situation in California. After nominating Mr. Wakefield for the post, his name was withdrawn in favor of Robert E. Jones, anti-Truman, Republican congressman from Ohio.

When Mr. Wakefield was first appointed, friends took him aside and told him to play along with James J. Fly, the commission chairman and an extremely liberal hangover from the Roosevelt regime. The newcomer promised to take the advice, but didn't. He fell under the spell of the energetic, intriguing and personable Mr. Fly.

He kicked administration's friends around, sometimes needlessly. He hounded with radical writers, radio people and propagandists. He was weary, time and again, against his policies and behavior, but he did not believe that Mr. Truman would dare to fire such a liberal as he proclaimed himself to be around

There were many other reasons for his humiliation at the hands of the man in the White House, but this staff of fire lookouts of the grazing service has been pared considerably. In past years, lookouts spotted the little fires before they developed into large ones and saved thousands of acres of grazing land. The staff of fire aides, trained employees in fighting fires, has been cut and the availability of Mexican nationals for duty in fighting range fires also is limited.

VIEW OF OTHERS

SNAKE RIVER VALLEY—WONDERFUL

One sometimes wonders at the attraction that Snake River Valley has for those of us who reside here. We grumble at the weather, cost of irrigating water, dryness of the desert, spring winds, but nothing else about it that does not happen to suit our fancy at the moment. Yet, should we leave the area, it only briefly, memories of its beauty and memories of its advantages haunt us until our return.

We believe it is the variegation of its scenery, ranging as it does from the soft beauty of pine covered mountains to the jagged grandeur of rocky peaks, and from the green colors of the irrigated crops to the harsh hues of the dry sage-land—with all descending to that monumental gash in the lava that is the canyon of the swift and fearful Snake river.

We are at once in touch with our modern civilization and with primitive landscapes. And through our minds runs the thought that we have conquered and are still conquering a savage land and the only ceaseless vigilance of effort will prevent its return to the desert.

Floods of floods in the middle west also brings to us thankfulness that our turbulent streams are checked with the dams that store irrigation water. No floods better us here—to destroy crops or homes. Our controlled waters are a great asset to our future. Cyclones, hail or damaging rainfall are almost unknown. Truly, we live in a garden spot for farm crops and fruits. No man lacks of plenty if he has the will to labor.—Lincoln County Journal.

THEY HELL DRUGS, TOO

Druggists at a convention in Colorado Springs heard complaints that grocery stores now are selling patent medicine.

Druggists may not be aware of it, but their business is being threatened, too. We feel they should be warned. Believe it or not, hardware stores are selling screwdrivers, sporting goods stores are selling tennis rackets, tobacco shops are selling cigarettes and clothing stores are selling hats.

Extreme alarmists say book stores are even selling books, but that probably is a gross canon. Unless restaurants begin serving meals, the druggists need not become alarmed. They are not. Equally, however, we seem certain that the post office will not be able to enforce seriously on the postage stamp business.—Denver Post.

POT SHOTS

MURDER-CYCLE

Probate Judge S. T. Hamilton can go down in Twin Falls history as a Noah Webster. He created a new word!

It all came about at the meeting of the Twin Falls chapter of the Idaho Safety Council. The group was discussing the operation of motor cycles and motor scooters in the city when the judge came up with the bright idea that the device should be called "murder-cycles."

"That's what they are—murder-cycles," the judge said.

PLATTERS

This column is being interrupted to bring you a special bulletin just released from the Democratic National Committee. "Now it can be told department!"

"The mysterious disks flying through the air are silver platters released by the Democrats to serve the chickens Hoover is still storing for us. All Demos (indense name, store with utmost care) are going to have to watch out for friends in providing the chicken."

LONG WINDED

Dear Pot Shots:

I see the army sent a typewriter message from Tokyo to Washington, D. C. that ran 16,887 words and averaged 47 feet of teletype paper. Betcha the whole thing could have been said in two sentences.

ROBBERY

For the odd expression of the week the nod goes to the teller of a local bank.

The other day a gant strolled up to the cage, asked for an assortment of money wrappers and then casually added: "I'm going to rob a bank."

A sword swallower in Detroit went too far the other day. He tried to gulp down a two foot neon tube which he bent over to bow to his audience everything went black.

He got dislocated all around.

Year when that guy orders a glass of something and they have to plug it in.

But I guess one man's misery is another man's meat. And speaking of butchers, there's a great job. They make a fortune by just lifting their little fingers—onto the scale, of course.

Yes, people certainly make their livings in strange ways. I used to know a flapjole sifter. He was a very nice fellow but he had one eccentricity. Whenever he felt he'd he'd a bit at half mast.

And a glass blower has an easy life. He takes one bicarbonate and makes pink bottles.

Speaking of interesting professions my brother has a very rare one. In fact he's only got one competitor—the U. S. mint.

But there is one job I'd like to have. I really envy the beer taster.

He gets to taste what really can throw themselves into their work.

Then there's the stand-in at the studio. He's the guy who acts all the dirty deals. In a big fight scene I don't get bruised, they call for him. For a riding scene I don't get thrown on the ground, they call for him. But there's one thing I can't understand. In the love scene why does Dorothy Lamour call for him?

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—Beginning about the time of the expose last winter of Leo Durocher's relations with the underworld, the underworld of the world of the amusement field, which includes some of the most professional sportsmen in the world, has been exposed.

It seemed to me to be willing to go to the gutter to find a hero. He is a professional name-dropper, a grown up but still called Saturday night night in his first long pants, calling the tough-guys of the corner pool-room and the blue-jeweled heavy to come on the local stock company as he leaves the theater by the stage door after "East Lynne" or "Salome Jans."

He mentions famous names with a subtle boastfulness, like the cell who asked the hand of John L. Sullivan.

What else he is and whether his motives and interests are as naive as I hope, you may judge from another chapter of these exercises tomorrow.

FORMER PASTOR VISITS IDEN, July 17—The Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Hawley, Escada, Ore., spent the past week with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hawley at their summer home near Shady, The Rev. Mr. Hawley was pastor of the Presbyterian church here several years.

Afterward, however, he had been licensed to carry a pistol for use against unidentified enemies in his own country in time of peace. This license was revoked after the assault.

Mr. Sullivan's extraordinary sympathy for Sinatra in these circumstances naturally aroused my interest, for I believe the tolerance and youth racketeers were being invoked in a way that I could think of as only a shade less than blasphemous to create an artificial political character.

I had been pointing out and proving the interlocking relationship between many of the entertainers of the movies, the radio and the night clubs and gangsters who have established financial and political positions in fabulously rich realm of the community. Mr. Sullivan has long

Ed Sullivan, a columnist who follows this line of journalism for the New York Daily News, is a celebrity of this type. It may be my misfortune, but I have never seen him perform in any theatre although I have read hundreds of times, it seems to me, in his column, little free advertisements of his theatrical act and sidelong tributes to his inexhaustible list of entertaining wounded soldiers at Halloran Hospital on Staten Island and in other hospitals.

Once he related in a mood of justified hope, that he went on a black and brooding morning he and a number of professional showmen from Broadway swallowed their pride and took off nervously in plans for a hospital a few hundred miles down the Atlantic coast because they simply couldn't let those wounded kids down.

Soldiers who had flown the hump and the Atlantic and had bombed Germany read this and remarked that they had not been proportionately called for adventures hardly less dangerous.

On a recent date, Mr. Sullivan's column consisted of an open letter to his secretary. This was an unusual device. Usually his secretary writes to him and in this way is able to congratulate him on remarkable feats of exclusive journalism and prophetic and thank him for kindnesses to others which she might not have the ideologic to mention, although modesty is not his worst fault.

In this letter to his secretary, Mr. Sullivan said: "The mail you brought was pretty dull but there was this letter from Frank Sinatra: 'Thanks so much for your help. All of it, all the time. It's great to know you have friends when a few guys start throwing rocks. With all good wishes, Frank.'"

"The rocks were heaved not because they didn't like his singing," Mr. Sullivan wrote his secretary for all of us to read. "They flung them because Frank Sinatra was understood enough to give up his spare time to persuade kids to be nice to minority groups. Now just what is wrong with that?"

I am not obtuse so I assume that this refers to some news concerning Sinatra published within the last year which deviated from the laudatory and purposely rapturous trash which had been standard Sinatra publicity and turned him into a political, radio and gambling house journalist.

Refugees Find Former Lives Hard to Drop

BREMERTON, Germany, July 17 (AP)—An increasing number of displaced persons in Germany are finding their former lives in this American army port.

It is here they bid farewell to Europe, where for years they have known little but strife and hunger, and sail for the new world as more and more countries open their doors to them.

They arrive smiling, yet doubting. They cannot comprehend that there are places in the world where there is enough to eat. They walk up the gangplank, carrying carefully hoarded pieces of bread and cheese.

Take to Mess

They even take these small bits of food with them to the ship's mess at mealtime. In case the ship doesn't have enough for all.

Only after several days of ample meals does it dawn on them that there is going to be enough to eat. About that time they shake off one other worry.

For a day or two some ask whether it all could be a trick, whether the ship will swing around north instead of going to the western hemisphere.

Finally Dawns

But when the vessel passes through the English channel and sets a southwesterly course, the passengers get out their accordions, sing, dance and throw cards aside.

The passengers are selected by representatives of the countries to which they are going and make the trip under the auspices of the inter-governmental committee for refugees, now being succeeded by the international relief organization.

Burley Motorist Forced Off Road

RUPERT, July 17.—Mrs. M. Chase, Burley, escaped serious injury when she overturned a pickup truck into a ditch to avoid being struck by an oncoming car. The truck was owned by Frank Coffey, Burley.

Mrs. Chase was traveling north-east on highway 20 and met a car driven by an unknown driver headed southwest. Sheriff Ron Hawkes said the car, which forced Mrs. Chase off the road, was being driven recklessly.

Burley Hospital Gets Blue Cross

BURLEY, July 17.—The Cottage Hospital in Burley has signed up for the Blue Cross hospital plan. Gerald L. Peterson, representative of the hospital insurance plan, has announced.

The Blue Cross is an insurance type of non-profit hospital service plan. Hospitalization costs are paid by the Blue Cross association for any of its members.

Rupert to Build City Dog Pound

RUPERT, July 17.—The Rupert city council this week authorized the building of a small concrete structure for use as a city dog pound. The request for the pound came from the city police department.

A total of $1,781.25 was paid to the state and a like amount to the county for quarterly payment on slot machine license receipts.

Bad Checks Get Kin of Britain's King in Trouble

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—The $185,000 worth of worthless checks given by Lady Iris Mountbatten O'Mara, 77, were covered by her attorney today, and all charges against the cousin of King George VI are expected to be dropped.

Her counsel, Thomas G. Garney, paid the money to Louis M. Denit, lawyer for a dress shop at which the Mountbatten passed gave the checks.

Mrs. Winifred Adams, owner of the shop, had said she would drop all "plaints against Lady Iris upon payment of the money."

Richard Roberts, assistant United States attorney, said that if the complaint is dropped formally a warrant against Lady Iris will be dismissed.

The state in New York City grant court will be dismissed.

Lady Iris, reddish-blond, great-granddaughter of Queen Victoria, told New York police she did not know it was an offense to issue a check without sufficient funds in the bank to cover it. That in England the bank would communicate with the person writing the check and direct that it be covered.

Exams Slated for Gooding TB Jobs

BOISE, July 17 (AP)—The state merit system council today announced open competitive examinations for department of public health positions including hospital workers to staff the state tuberculosis hospital at Gooding.

Supervisor Thomas H. Charney said applications must be filed by Aug. 5 for examinations for medical directors, nurses, sanitarians, engineers, bacteriologists, chemists and hospital workers. There are vacancies now in all those classifications, Charney said.

Application forms and information are available at any Idaho employment service office, district or county health unit.

Blaze Fought in National Forest

GASBORO, July 17 (AP)—Bole national forest fire fighters today were battling a new blaze on Dollar creek, 14 miles northeast of here on the south fork of the Salmon river drainage, that flared up yesterday afternoon.

Blaze jumpers were dispatched to the fire, but they called for help last night. Some 80 men have been dispatched to the scene from the Golf for fire, which has been controlled and is in the mop-up stage. The Dollar creek fire had burned more than 50 acres last night, the forest service reported.

LODGE, July 17 (AP)—Lieut. Philip Mountbatten will be named the Duke of Edinburgh on the eve of his wedding to Princess Elizabeth, the Daily Express reported today.

Engineers for S. P. Railroad Slate Walkout

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17 (AP)—Locomotive engineers announced today they will strike the sprawling Southern Pacific railroad at 6 p. m. (PST) Monday unless the company agrees immediately to grant 15 demands in full.

The strike, if it takes place, would halt Southern Pacific operations over a large part of the west, from Portland, Ore., to Los Angeles, Calif., and east to Ogden, Utah, to Tucuman, N. M., and El Paso, Tex. In addition, it would involve the carrier's California subsidiaries, the North-western Pacific and the San Diego and Arizona Eastern.

No Effect on TNO

The tieup would not affect the Texas and New Orleans, another S. P. subsidiary, that runs from El Paso to New Orleans. Engineers of another division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, however, would face a tremendous economic loss if shipments of perishable foods and other goods were held up.

Longest U. S. Line

Southern Pacific, the longest railroad in the United States, runs 180 passenger trains and 1,000 freight trains daily over its 16,000 miles of track.

Harrison C. Hobart, assistant grand chief of the brotherhood, said that negotiations between the union and the company, which had their

Federal Slash Of Exports to Ease Markets

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—The government issued today on some of its food procurement program for shortage areas abroad to lessen pressure on domestic prices.

It withdrew temporarily from the wheat market and announced that meat exports during the July-September quarter will be reduced about 80 percent from the previous quarter.

Scene Egg Support

It announced also that it will stop buying egg July 23 for the purpose of supporting producer prices.

Agriculture department officials said these actions should not be interpreted, however, as indicating a change of policy of sharing this country's supplies with shortage areas to prevent hunger.

They said the decision to stop, for the time being, the purchase of wheat was prompted by the fact that grain prices have advanced rather sharply during the last few days.

Try Increase Stoppage

They indicated a belief that if the government stood on the sidelines for a few days, the grain price advance might be halted.

They did not dispute their belief that the price in wheat prices was caused by earlier indications of a possibly short corn crop and speculative activity in the grain markets inspired by that possibility.

Forecast Due Tuesday

They hope that an official forecast on corn to be released by the agriculture department next Tuesday will show considerable improvement in corn prospects and a downturn in prices of both corn and wheat.

In that event, the government would reenter the wheat market. But whether prices go up or down, the government said plans to export as much grain from this year's crop as it sent abroad from last year's. Secretary of Agriculture Anderson at a news conference Monday made this plan.

3 Utahns Search For Bunco Artist To Recover Loot

SALT LAKE CITY, July 17 (AP)—The Salt Lake City police have reported that three Cache county residents have asked them to help recover money lost in a bunco game. They were indicted of that amount by a man who promised them four new automobiles.

Mrs. Elva Scholey, Logan; Keith Jensen, Logan and Lamont Larsen, Brigham, were fleeced of the money by a man who promised them three automobiles and a new car.

Mrs. Jensen told police that she lost a man calling himself Jerry Carter, while on a bus trip to the coast. He said that he had connections by which he could supply any number of new cars.

Later, the man returned to Logan and made arrangements to meet the victims in Salt Lake City at a car dealer's firm. They gave him a total of $4,535, but he failed to show up at the time and place.

Mrs. Scholey said he had stolen $700 from her home in Logan.

Recreation Group To Form July 25

BOYD, July 17 (AP)—The Rupert city recreation committee will hold its organizational meeting July 25. Mayor Henry Bressall has announced. A chairman will be selected at that time and a discussion will be held on methods of studying recreational needs of the community's youngsters.

It was estimated that the three-mile levy authorized by the last state legislature and adopted in the proposed city budget, would yield about $2,000 a year for the recreation fund.

Crippled Actress Back on Screen

HOLLYWOOD, July 17 (AP)—Susan Peters, crippled by a burning accident more than two years ago, today resumed her acting career from which she had withdrawn.

Mrs. Peters was deluged with flowers and telegrams and visits from other stars when she started work at Columbia yesterday in "Sign of the Cross," in which she plays an invalid.

"Ghost City," Neglected Hill To Be Summer Ski Paradise

By DOROTHY JUSTUS POVEY
HAILEY, July 17 — The jagged peaks of Boulder mountain look down at the anti-like activity of a handful of humans far below. At last civilization has discovered what the grizzled old pioneer has always known—that his feet are buried in deep snow the year around, and now something is being done about it.

Before the advent of Sun Valley, Boulder was content to watch the snow from his sides feed the creek, his namesake that empties into Wood river to irrigate the lands in the valley. Then, too much mining activity for many years had brought glory to his name. A small town had sprung up at what was known as the Golden Glow mine and a large mill had been erected.

But eventually only a "ghost town" remained, with its untold stories of hard work and hard drink, hopes and despair, carried away on the cold wintry blasts that howled through the gaping windows of the deserted cabins. And Boulder Basin was again left to the deep silence it had known through the ages.

When Dohler, Rudd and Baldy came to be known as the "Golden Glow" boys, they were in notch early throughout the world. It must have hurt the pride of their haughty old neighbor to know that he was in snow up to his knees long after these three had put on their summer attire. But Andy Hennig has changed all that. Expert skier, instructor at Sun Valley, and an ardent summer ski enthusiast, Hennig always has contended that there should be good skiing the year around in the Sawtooths back of the resort. When W. Averell Harriman, secretary of commerce and Union Pacific's president, flew out from the east during the Idaho potato and onion shippers and the Advertisers' conventions recently held at Sun Valley, Hennig went to him and told him he had found the place. Harriman and W. P. Rogers, general manager of Sun Valley, went with him to see for themselves, walking over two miles to reach their destination. They were satisfied that Hennig was right and Harriman, who is responsible for Sun Valley's being, gave the "go ahead" signal to develop Boulder basin as a summer ski grounds.

Next Step in "Slots" Test Due July 23

WEISER, July 17 (AP)—Delbert Weisner, co-owner of the Washington hotel, said today July 23 his initiative brief in court brought in district court here challenging the constitutionality of the Weisner slot machine taxing ordinance.

The date was set following a hearing conducted here yesterday by District Judge D. A. Sutphen of Gooding.

Barton refused to pay a percentage slot machine tax and questioned if the city had a constitutional right to levy the tax under its regulatory powers. The action was brought against the secretary of the Idaho Municipal League, said that group is "vitally interested" in the case as it is expected to affect similar ordinances in other Idaho communities.

Peace Seems Dependent on Greek Action

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Feature Columnist

"Peace in our little Balkan" depends very strongly on the success or failure of the little Greek national army.

When Marshal Jukos said the U. S. that the Balkan situation might "burst into an explosion any day," he probably was thinking mostly of a localized, not a general war. Our diplomats are still working on the theory that even Russia, regardless of what chances she might take in five or 10 years, will call off the forces of international communism before she will let them drag her into a conflict now.

Hopes for U. N. Action

The U. S. state department was reported, considering the Greek crisis calmly, hoping for effective United Nations action.

But the implications for the future are clear. Great Britain, even more than the U. S., seems inclined to keep as far as possible from any actual shooting in Greece. But she has several thousand troops there.

The American program to bolster Greece against being dragged into the Soviet sphere is getting under way and $35,000,000 worth of American arms are being shipped as the first token. Our intention to hold the line there is based on necessity, not merely desire.

Policy Not Set

U. S. diplomatic planning, as far as I can learn, has not progressed to the point of a policy which will be followed in case the guerrillas entrench themselves in Greek territory and try to set up an independent state for inclusion in a communist-Balkan federation.

Would the small though locally significant British force in Greece, first, to be followed by more American-armed Greeks and then by American troops themselves? If they did, and the communist bloc then poured in reinforcements on the other side, the result is obvious.

Sanborn Suggests Solon U. N. Study

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—A congressional study to determine how the United Nations can be made effective was proposed today by Representative Sanborn, R., Ida.

He said in an interview he was suggesting that a joint committee be named from the house and senate to work during the coming summer recess.

"I believe," he said, "that it is time to take steps to analyze the weakness of the United Nations and strengthen it so it can handle situations as they arise in the world."

The answer, he said, may mean a reorganization without Russia, and he added: "This is extreme action, but I believe it's necessary to save the world from a third world war."

He thinks a majority of the people of the United States are convinced that America's days of isolation are over.

Bevin Terms Aid "Right, Proper"

HASTINGS, Eng., July 17 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declared today it was "right and proper" for Europe to make a claim upon American productive genius to aid in the reconstruction of the continent's economy.

"America made a great contribution to the war, but it is right and proper that we have a claim upon them to assist now with their great production policy," the foreign secretary told Britain's transportation and general workers union.

Bevin said Secretary of State George C. Marshall, in offering aid to Europe, had said in effect: "See what you can do for yourselves and we will supplement what you do."

"I think it is right they should supplement it," he added.

Students of Lincoln Awaiting Opening of Papers Collection

WASHINGTON, July 17 (NEA)—After July 26 we will probably know a lot more about Abraham Lincoln than we do today.

On that date the library of congress will reveal the contents of the famous Robert Todd Lincoln collection of the papers of Abraham Lincoln.

When Lincoln's son donated the collection to the library, he stipulated that it was to be "placed in a secure vault or compartment and carefully preserved from official or public inspection or private view until after the expiration of 31 years from the date of my death." He died July 26, 1876.

The library of congress has observed this mandate of secrecy with as much zeal as the guarding of the atomic bomb. Before he died Lincoln's son amended his mandate slightly, however. He gave the library permission to index the collection before it was to be officially revealed.

Since the collection has been in the library's custody not more than four or five individuals have laid eyes on the contents—those who have worked on the indexing job.

The estimated 15,000 documents of various sorts have been kept in special vaults in the basement. Special permission is needed even to get in the outer vault. And only a few persons have the combination to the special inner vault where the collection has been kept.

The men doing the indexing job took oaths of secrecy and "are forbidden to make any use of their knowledge, even to the extent of taking private notes from memory for future use in scholarly work."

Even David O. Means, the library's director of reference and one of the nation's outstanding Lincoln authorities, has prohibited himself from seeing the collection. He has to answer daily questions on Lincoln and felt if he saw the collection beforehand, his answers would be colored by what it contained.

Scholarly Dr. C. Percy Powell, of the library's division of manuscripts, another authority on Lincoln, has been completing the indexing job, started by the late Dr. John C. Fitzpatrick.

In spite of the library's assurances that the collection only "may be presumed to clarify certain obscure, but probably minute, details in the life of this uniquely American genius," Lincoln experts from all over the nation are planning to be on hand when the collection is opened. Most of the experts will have made their detailed studies from microfilm reproductions which the library estimates will cost them between $350 and $500.

For the general public, there will be an exhibit in two forms. One will be the documents readily determined to be of first importance, the other a display of examples more characteristic of the entire collection.

Persons who can establish a bona fide need will be permitted to inspect the originals.

Salesman Talks 2 Youths Out of Taking His Car

POCAHELLO, July 17 (AP)—Orson Merrill, representative of a beauty salon was the victim of an attempted robbery by two youths—he had picked up on the highway between Salt Lake City and Ogden, according to word received here this morning.

Merrill had stopped the car near the Ogden cut-off to let the youths out, when they pulled a gun on him, demanding his money and his car, or they would "kill him."

Merrill managed to talk them out of their plan by splitting his money $15, with them and allowing them to get away. The youths promised to send their gun home and mail Merrill the postal receipt as proof of their honesty.

Merrill is stopping in Pocahello prior to completing his tour of his territory.

Iowa Hospitality Impedes Revival Of Mormon Trip

OMAHA, July 17 (AP)—After being set behind schedule by Iowa hospitality, the "covered wagons" of the Sons of Utah Pioneers pressed westward on time again today.

In picturesque historical costume, the Mormons made their overnight camp near the site where their ancestors wintered 100 years ago. After an early breakfast they set out across Nebraska.

They were faced with delays of a far different sort than those which harassed their forebears. The covered wagons made their trail through the mud caused by rain and necessitated slow driving. The travelers also found the kindness of Iowa hospitality a deterrent.

"These people in Iowa are just too kind to us," said Wendell J. Ashton, president of the Sons of Utah Pioneers, as they pulled in here behind schedule last night. "We go into a town and they won't let us get out."

Sheriff's Posse at Rupert Plans Outing

RUPERT, July 17—Members of the Minidoka county sheriff's posse will take their families for a Sunday outing at Lake Owyhee.

Posse members plan to haul their horses in trailers as far as possible and ride the rest of the distance to the lake.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

"The kidneys are the master glands of the body. They help most people live about 80 years."

At the end of kidney tubes and after about 2000 miles of travel, waste matter enters the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of sleep and energy, swelling on nights, weakness, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or constant urination with burning and stinging sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Greedy

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 17 (AP)—There wasn't any law to cover the case, but Police Sgt. Bernard Sims said today a little personal persuasion had ended the neighborhood ruckus over a woman who put a wooden sawhorse along the curb every time she drove away in her car so she'd be certain to have a parking place when she came back. She promised not to do it any more.

Gooding Realtor Dies in Salt Lake

SALT LAKE CITY, July 17 (AP)—Jesse Kirk Mahanip, 61, Gooding, real estate dealer and formerly a rancher at Buhl, Ida., died in a hospital here Wednesday of a heart ailment.

A native of Missouri, he moved to Buhl in 1927 and to Gooding in 1933. He married Edith McMurdie in Mountain Home, Ida.

Survivors include the widow, two daughters, Darwin and Gloria Mahanip, Salt Lake City, and a sister, Mrs. Hiram Olsen, Buhl. Funeral services and burial will be in Buhl.

Youth Confesses, But Can't Recall, Sticking up Bank

CRIPPLE CRICK, Colo., July 17 (AP)—Handsome William Boehlin, 25, father of five young children, early today confessed the noon-hour $3,000 robbery of the First National bank in the town.

Boehlin didn't remember shooting and stabbing vice president Paul H. House during the robbery. He said he remembered entering the bank, and next he remembered washing blood from his hands at the rear of the bank.

He said he returned to his Victor, Colo., home where he opened a suitcase he was carrying to find it stuffed with currency and containing an army pistol.

"I don't know why the hell I did it," he reiterated. "I owed $5,000 and was crazy with worry over my wife and five kids."

Boehlin said he carried the suitcase containing the money and gun to an abandoned mine shaft and dropped it down.

CABINS PURCHASED

Comedians Go Back on Tour To Get Funds

HOLLYWOOD, July 17 (AP)—Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, the ex-burlesque comedians who plunked down $350,000 cash to fight juvenile delinquency while the other reformers talked a good campaign, are back "on the road"—this time to pay their own grocery bills.

For the past year most of their cash has gone into the sprawling Lou Costello, Jr. Youth Foundation. New a Little Short.

But now the boys are a little short. The kids in east Los Angeles have a life swimming pool and all kinds of playground equipment.

And Abbott and Costello have to go back to work.

"They can't write all that $350,000 off their income tax," a pal explained. "After a while even rich people reach a saturation point. So now they're set to be funny at the Ritz in New York for two weeks—at $20,000 per."

The Youth foundation is named for Lou's son, who drowned in the family swimming pool before his first birthday. And it's really something.

4,000 Kids Each Day
"Four thousand kids a day come in here," Director P. R. Russell explained. "So we have to limit our membership to the ones between 6 and 19. And maybe you think my feet don't hurt after playing with an army of peppy kids all day?"

"Things are running fine, except for the few times when he relieved some boys of a .45 caliber gun, wooden clubs, and an assortment of rubber hoses."

"They're not angels," Russell explained. "We purposely built the foundation smack in the center of the city's worst section. But we're working to cut down on the gang wars and the vandalism."

Indonesian Chief
Flies to Discuss Threats of War
BATAVIA, Java, July 17 (AP)—Acting Foreign Minister Tammil of the Indonesian republic flew to the republican capital of Jogjakarta today in an effort to resolve new differences between his government and Netherlands authorities which threatened to precipitate war in Indonesia.

He left Batavia in a Dutch plane he had requested from Hubertus J. Van Mook, acting governor general, in a conference in line with negotiations for a joint national government for the United States of Indonesia.

Tammil indicated he would ask Republican Premier Amir Sjarifoeddin to clarify the policy connotations of a radio speech which the Dutch interpreted as meaning that Sjarifoeddin had rejected their compromise plan for the government.

The minister intended to return here and meet again with Van Mook.

Four Pre-School Clinics Set for Minidoka County
RUPERT, July 17—Four pre-school clinics will be given in Minidoka county July 30 and 31, Mrs. Pearl Taylor, county public health nurse, announced.

The Parent-Teacher association is sponsoring the clinics. Rupert doctors and nurses, in cooperation with the local health department, will handle the medical exams.

Rupert grade school students' physical exams will be given at 8 a. m. July 30 at the high school and at 1 p. m. that day the clinic will be held for Minidoka and Arco students at the Arco high school.

Paul and Pioneer students will be examined at 8 a. m. July 31, at the Paul high school and Heyburn students will be examined at 1 p. m. July 31 at Heyburn high school.

IOOF at Burley
Installs Officers
BURLEY, July 17—New officers for the Burley IOOF lodge were installed Tuesday evening with Russell Hells, district deputy grand master, as the installing officer.

Lloyd Cox was installed as noble grand. Other new officers are Ted Arbogast, vice grand; A. H. Tolman, warden; Lester O. Brady, conductor; Richard R. Lamb, chaplain; James Jones, right scene supporter; Earl Reynolds, left scene supporter; George H. Scholer, right supporter to noble grand; John Gochmour, left supporter to noble grand; Hugh Allen, inside guardian, and Robert Helig, outside guardian.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Dropped in at the Abernathy's just the other evening—and there was Sam, out in the kitchen with an apron on, helping his mom wash the supper dishes. (And then I learned later he'd helped cook the supper, too.)

Of course, Sam could have settled into his favorite chair, enjoyed his evening glass of beer, and left all the messy kitchenwork to Daddy. But he kind of likes her company—and she in turn certainly appreciates his help.

After sharing the housework and the bedtime chores is sort of a bond between them... with sharing that friendly glass of beer together, when the work is done. It's one of those little all-important things in marriage.

From where I sit, the time that a man and wife can spend with each other in this busy world today is all too precious. And the more things they can do together, the better.

They're Learning Water Safety and Having Fun Doing It

These scenes, photographed as the Red Cross annual swimming campaign opened at Harmon park pool this week, show some of the 500 persons who are learning how to take care of themselves in the water. Stepping into a cold shower at the end of a class can be quite a breath-taking experience in itself, Teddy Meyer, age 5, found out, as shown in photo at top. Teddy is at the front of the long line of young folk awaiting this final dunking. At bottom, Bill Jones, water safety instructor and pool manager, is demonstrating proper floating technique to a class; and at side, Doris Marie Young, also a Red Cross water safety instructor, is showing Joyce Peterson, 11, how to do the "dead man's float." Students comprise all age groups and classes range from those for beginners to senior lifeguards. (Staff photos—engravings)

Bean Industry's Problems to Be Discussed Here

MOSCOW, July 17 (AP)—Bean diseases, insects and cultural practices will be studied at the annual conference of the bean industry's representatives in Twin Falls, Aug. 14-15, K. H. Klager, University of Idaho agronomist, said today.

Commercial growers, Idaho farmers, the university and the U. S. department of agriculture are cooperating to iron out problems relative to bean production, Klager said.

One day of the convention will be given to formal discussion, the other two for inspection of bean plots throughout the Magic Valley.

Representatives are expected from Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Arizona, Montana, California, Washington, Oregon and Idaho, as well as visiting scientists from the federal agriculture department.

Heyburn Student Gets Scholarship

HEYBURN, July 17—Lewis Moldenhauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Moldenhauer, Heyburn, has been awarded a $100 college scholarship by the Sears, Roebuck and company.

This award is given each year to an outstanding farm boy who plans to make agriculture his vocation.

The award is given for leadership, citizenship, scholarship and agricultural record.

He plans to attend the University of Idaho. He was graduated from Heyburn high school this spring.

Idahoan's Son Is Killed in Accident

PENSACOLA, Fla., July 17 (AP)—Marine Sgt. Darlyn George Hendrickson, whose father is a resident of Teton, Idaho, was killed yesterday when struck by a crashing plane.

Hendrickson, a flight student observing landing operations, was struck by the navy fighter ship attempting to make a field carrier landing. The pilot also was killed.

Surviving Hendrickson is his widow, who lives in Pensacola, and his father, G. W. Hendrickson.

State Farm Chief Asks Wool Sales 'Without Injuries'

BOISE, July 17 (AP)—Huge stockpiles of wool created for war purposes should be liquidated without injury to the producers, Dave Stubblefield, state commissioner of agriculture, today telegraphed Rep. Joe Goff, R. Ida.

Stubblefield's statement was in answer to a query from Goff, who said the charge had been made in Washington that wool is selling at a high level in spite of the lack of a support program. He asked for wool sale prices in Idaho.

"There have been no wool sales in Idaho," Stubblefield answered. "Idaho wool, one half and coarser, have been selling from three to eight cents below the support price. A few sales of fine wool have been made in California, Montana and Texas at or above the support price because of the shortage of these grades."

Stubblefield said he believed the support program should be extended so producers would not suffer if stockpiles are liquidated.

Burley Student Gets Medical Scholarship

BURLEY, July 17—Eugene Karl, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Karl, has been awarded a $400 scholarship for tuition in his senior year at the University of Oregon medical school. This is the second consecutive year that Karl has received this award.

He is a graduate of Burley high school and received his pre-medical training at the University of Washington. Last summer he worked as a laboratory technician at the Twin Falls county general hospital.

Senate Moves to Let Basques Stay

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Four Basque sheepherders may remain in this country upon payment of certain fees, under terms of bills passed by the senate yesterday. All had been in this country illegally.

Measures concerning three of them, Julian Uriarte, Bob Thomas Abadia, Lava Hot Springs, and Danlain Gandiaga, Tuscarora, Nev., went to the house. The bill for Antonio Belauspiel, whose present address was not reported to the senate, went to the White House.

Taylor Ready To Introduce Bill for CVA

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Senator Taylor D. Ida., said today he was ready for introduction in the senate legislation to create a Columbia valley authority.

Taylor said the bill follows generally a similar measure introduced a year ago by Sen. Hugh Mitchell, D., Wash., but includes some changes suggested by a discussion of Mitchell's bill.

Joined by four senators joining him in sponsoring the measure are Senators Hill and Sparkman, Alabama Democrats; Langer, R., N. D., and Murray, D., Mont. Murray has introduced a Missouri valley authority bill.

The proposed Columbia valley authority would cover the entire drainage area of the Columbia river basin, including the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and part of western Montana. Small tributaries also lie in Nevada. The river basin extends north into Canada.

Essential to Nation
In a statement issued at a press conference, Taylor said that a Columbia river authority "is an essential part of the defense plan of this nation which can no longer be neglected."

The governing body of the proposed agency would consist of three directors, two of whom must have been residents of the valley for five years. An advisory board of 24 also would be created. It would include persons each representing agriculture, commerce, labor and wild development; one representative of the governor of each state in the

Park Combed for 'Lost' Californian

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo., July 17 (AP)—Park rangers today continued their extensive search for John P. Adams of Burlingame, Calif., missing since Tuesday in northern Yellowstone park's thickly timbered wilderness. Park Superintendent Edmund B. Rogers said the 67-year-old ex-army major was last seen heading upstream from scenic Tower falls, after jokingly asking rangers if they would hunt for him if he became lost.

Five rangers and more than 30 forest crewmen participated in the search yesterday. One group found part of Adams' fishing equipment three miles upstream from Roosevelt lodge, where his wife is staying.

'Middle Income' Of U.S. Families Shows Increase

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—The "middle income" for the nation's 46,500,000 families rose from $2,029 in 1945 to $2,300 last year, the federal reserve board estimated today.

"Middle income" means that half the families received more, half less. The board's survey defined a family as a related group living under the same roof and pooling incomes to meet major expenses.

The board said 60 per cent or 27,500,000 of these families had a joint income of $2,000 or more in 1946 compared with 53 per cent or 24,500,000 the year before. Fewer than 6,000,000 families had income at that level in the mid-1930s—but dollars would buy more then. The board noted that even the income rises from 1945 to 1946 were offset by "substantial increases in prices of consumed goods." Incomes of white collar families improved more on an annual basis

Retired Bishop to Lead Methodists

DES MOINES, Ia., July 17 (AP)—Bishop Francis J. McConnell, retired, will succeed the late Bishop Bruce P. Baxter in the administration of the 870 churches in the Portland, Ore., area, it was announced today.

The announcement was made here by Bishop Wilbur E. Hammaker, Denver, president of the college of bishops of the western jurisdiction of the Methodist church, who is extending the annual national meeting of the church's board of lay activities.
