Reds Reject U.S. Bid for Conclave On Japanese Pact

LONDON, July 23 (AP)—The Moscow radio announced today that Russia had rejected a United States proposal for an 11-nation conference on the Japanese peace treaty on Aug. 19. Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's reply to the American proposal for a preliminary meeting on the Japanese treaty was broadcast from Moscow. Molotov charged that the United States, in proposing the conference, had acted unilaterally, without consulting Russia, Great Britain or China.

The Soviet note demanded that the matter be taken up by the council of foreign ministers before any such conference was held.

The Russians suggested that the Soviet, Chinese and British ambassadors in Washington, together with a United States representative, decide on "the earliest possible moment acceptable to all the interested governments" to call the council of ministers into session to consider the question of the treaty.

Thus the Soviet reply, as broadcast by the Moscow radio, was reported by the Associated Press as follows:

On July 11 of this year the United States ambassador, Gen. Bedell Smith told V. M. Molotov, the USSR minister of foreign affairs, that the government of the United States proposed to call on Aug. 19 of this year a conference for the preparation of a peace treaty with Japan, comprising representatives of 11 powers, members of the far eastern coalition.

At the same time the U. S. government unilaterally began negotiations on this question with the governments of the remaining powers who are represented in the far eastern coalition.

Thus the government of the United States began (several words missing in transmission) for the conference for the preparation of the peace treaty with Japan, having taken a unilateral decision without consulting the other powers.

'Scorched Earth' Tactics Start As Dutch Forge Ahead in Java

BATAVIA, Java, July 23 (AP)—Scorched earth tactics were begun today by Indonesian republican forces ahead of a determined Dutch army drive to slice Java in two, a broadcast Indonesian army communique announced. At the same time official Dutch dispatches from Sumatra said irregular Indonesian soldiers of "the people's army" on the big neighboring island of Sumatra also were applying the tactics. These dispatches said the irregulars burned more than 100 homes before evacuating the town of Arnhem, a few miles south of Dutch-held Medan.

Arnhem now is in Dutch hands, the dispatches said.

An Indonesian communique acknowledged that Dutch troops in east central Java were only 12 miles from the key Indonesian stronghold of Malang, and were driving southward to a town only seven miles from the stronghold.

Threatened Capital

Other Dutch dispatches reported the republican capital of Jogjakarta was being shelled by a two-pronged drive. One Dutch column driving south from Semarang was only 10 miles from the coast town of Salatiga, 40 kilometers from the coast.

Judge Grants New Trial in Damages Suit

An order granting a new trial of the $600,000 damages suit of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Clarke against Police Chief Howard Gillies today was issued by District Judge J. W. Porter.

The order set aside a verdict given by a jury May 21 as well as the judgment which followed. Judge Porter also set aside the police chief's appeal for a new trial.

The jury awarded $250,000 compensatory damages and $350,000 punitive damages to the Clarks. Basis of the suit was a statement allegedly made by Gillies and broadcast by the radio.

In their motions asking a new trial, the Clarks and the broadcasting corporation contended irregularities in court and jury proceedings had prevented them from having a fair trial.

The jury had returned a verdict which was rejected by Judge Porter as incomplete, after which the jurors deliberated again before returning a second verdict.

Soviet U.N. Delegate Given Verbal Licking

LAKE SUCCESS, July 23 (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's top deputy in the United Nations was lambasted today in one of the strongest personal attacks ever made in the U. N. After Alexei N. Krasnikov had delivered a 30-minute speech castigating the western powers for their opposition to the admission of Soviet-supported Albania to the U. N., Britain's Valentine G. Lawford said in measured words:

"It is deplorable that we should be subjected day after day, week after week, month after month to this junk about provocations, lies, noises and repetitions. We are presumed to be intelligent officials and not a gathering of illiterates. We draw our conclusions from facts and not from slogans. I term the Soviet speech a regrettably offensive production."

Col. W. R. Hodgson of Australia took the floor immediately to declare:

"How glad I am that these meetings are now open to the press. Previously we have had to put up with calculated abuse and distortion of the facts. It is a relief to have the Soviet Union for a long time."

Legion Flays Veto Powers Of U.N. Body

ation in which Russia, Britain and this country would wield more voting strength than at present.

The Legion suggested revamping the security council into a 15-member body—two each from the United States, Britain and Russia, one each from France and China and two selected by the remaining member-states.

"Big Five" Have Veto

At present, Russia, France, China and this country are permanent members of the 11-member council with each exercising veto power over any matter of "substance" before that body.

Under the Legion plan, any one of the big five still would be able to block admission of new U. N. members or the creation of special investigating commissions, unless some question of aggression were involved.

Big Follow "Arms"

The Legion said the world peace force—encompassing Russia, France, China and this country—should consist of one active international contingent of new U. N. members, ready to operate as reserves "wherever needed."

The international contingent, composed of volunteers from the smaller member-states only, would "constitute a professional army, highly paid and highly trained and disciplined."

Former Resident Of Eden Passes

Howard L. Teater, 81, former resident of Eden, died Monday at Los Angeles, Calif., following a prolonged illness.

Born May 18, 1886, at Corydon, Ia., Mr. Teater was a one-time member of the Masonic lodge at Eden.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. May Teater of Los Angeles, three children, William Teater of Laramie, Wyo., Margaret Teater and Charles Teater, both of Los Angeles; two brothers, P. A. Teater of Eden and C. E. Teater of Kimberly; and three sisters, Mrs. Inez Lovelace, Emmett; Mrs. George Bondurant, LaCrosse, Wis., and Mrs. Fred Haggard, Twin Falls.

Gravestone services will be conducted at 7:30 p. m. Saturday at the Sunset Memorial park by the Rev. George L. Clark, Presbyterian minister. The body will be received Saturday by the Reynolds funeral home.

Laughing Joe and Jolting Joe Help Each Other—And Yankees, Too, in Drive to American League Pennant

By HARRY TRAYSON
NKA Sports Editor
NEW YORK, July 23.—There are more good human interest stories in the Yankees than there were in connection with any club in memory.

Jimmy Johnson and Johnny Lindell, the ugly ducklings listed as trading material in the spring, barely hanging on to lay golden eggs.

George McQuinn's remarkable comeback.

And the account of a couple of guys named Joe among them.

DiMaggio and Page helped each other—and the Yankees, too.

two campaigns with the New Yorks before DiMaggio returned from the army, and much of it was wasted. Laughing Joe just never got around to cashing in on his tremendous pitching assets.

When Jolting Joe DiMaggio climbed back into a baseball uniform a year ago last spring, Laughing Joe had someone to tie to. Jolting Joe was his idol and Laughing Joe attached himself to the big fellow like a trailer. They roomed together, undressed and dressed side by side in clubhouses, rarely were apart of the field.

DiMaggio is the very antithesis of Page. The Yankee Clipper has a tremendous sense of obligation to his club and the fans, but he had been out three full years, had suffered from ulcers and worse of all, was carrying a terrific tooth.

DiMaggio got off a whooping, but unwieldy he was not treated as an in-joke in 30-odd exhibition games that started in the heat of Panama. The result was that he was awfully difficult in mid-summer, when he got to pushing for hits and begged down the field. He was lower than the Browns are at the moment.

It was at this point that Laughing Joe Page did as much for Jolting Joe as the latter has done for him this trip. It is extremely difficult to be down to the level in the presence of an effervescent chap like the left-hander from the Pennsylvania coal belt.

until the Clipper closed well, but for a comparatively poor season for him.

Some of DiMaggio's best friends suspected he was faking in the past spring. There was the operation for the removal of a spur on DiMaggio's heel, the skin grafting job that followed, the special shoe required by the ugly crescent-shaped wound on the butt of his foot.

DiMaggio had the courage to get into the lineup long before he should have. He suffered excruciating pain batting and running. There were times when he felt that he would have to give up.

It was Laughing Joe Page more than anyone else who kept him going until the heat headed.

Meanwhile, Jolting Joe was slowly drumming into Laughing Joe's head that a pitcher who wanted to be paid well had to give up.

Page went to the bullpen as DiMaggio started to hit again.

Complementing each other professionally as well as socially now, Page quickly became the finest relief pitcher in the business with a phenomenal strikeout record.

DiMaggio the consecutive game winner of old.

Laughing Joe Page got 'em out. Jolting Joe DiMaggio batted 'em in. And the Yankees broke away to run away and hide.

On the SPORT FRONT With YOSS (The Fuddy One)

Ye Olde Sport Scribever is confident that the Cowboys for the first time in their history are a real championship threat—something that they demonstrated by a road trip that showed more victories than defeat.

And here's the reason why—

1. Bob Konecni has plugged the hole at third base through which quite a few victories drained during the first half.
2. Hal Lowe no longer worried by having to cover a hole between shortstop and third base—back in his 1946 form. . . That is he's cracking 'em in the pinches.
3. George Loyler is hitting better than 300.
4. Hal Danielson's bat is paying dividends again.
5. Frank Prowse is showing signs of hurling the baseball of which he is capable.

Washington has slipped somewhat from his first half mound form, but Frank Logan is going better than ever.

Too, a "stopper" hurler may be sent here to spur the pennant drive.

Left field is capably taken care of by Syvend Jensen, who is getting into the Pioneer line's swing of things.

AND THAT'S THAT FOR NOW, except: Manager Earl Bayard's baseball school is scheduled to start Thursday.

M'CARTHY FACES REDS TONIGHT

Wranglers Back Home After Good Road Trip

By GEORGE F. REDMOND
Times-News Sports Editor
Manager Earl Bayard and his Cowboys rolled into town early this morning confident that their 10-day home stand, which they open tonight against the Ogden Reds at Jaycees park, would provide the victories necessary to send them winging toward the second half Pioneer league championship. This confidence was built on the fact that they had just completed one of their most successful road trips of the season during which they won their series at Boise and Idaho Falls, giving them five triumphs against four defeats—two of which were at the hands of their foes tonight.

Applications For Ram Hunt End Aug. 20

BOISE, July 23 (AP)—Applications for the big horn Rocky mountain ram hunt in the middle fork of the Salmon river drainage in Lemhi and parts of Idaho and Valley counties will be received until Aug. 20. The state fish and game department announced today.

Thirty-five permits will be issued for the special hunt which will be held Sept. 10 to 20.

Last year a similar number of permits were issued and 13 rams were killed.

Ted Biladeau, big game supervisor, said four or five checking stations will be established in the area.

The department also reminded permittees to mark Aug. 1 on their fishing calendars.

On that date:

Chamberlain lake in the remote area of Custer county is open to fishing—the last body of water to be opened this season.

The Portneuf river within the limits of Lave Hot Springs and Fishhook creek, a tributary of Redfish lake in Custer county, will close to fishing.

Newsom Hurls Third Victory In Yanks' Togs

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Bobo Newsom pitched his third straight victory in a Yankee uniform shutting out the Browns, 6-0, with three hits. It was the veteran right-hander's 20th major league victory.

Mize and Musial Match Homers But Cards Crush Giants, 10-5

ST. LOUIS, July 23 (AP)—Johnny Mize and Stan Musial matched two-run homers but Whitey Kurowski followed with another circuit clout as the Cardinals overcame three runs in the third inning and five in the fifth for a 10 to 5 rout of the Giants in opening a three-game series.

Archie Purcell smoothly along after hitting Mize in the fourth inning over the right field fence, a slight concussion but no fracture, is not expected to keep him from Wednesday's game.

We Won the Series

The fans will have the opportunity of welcoming a new Cowboy in the person of third-seeker Bob Konecni, who joined the Wranglers in Boise and played bang-up ball in the field during the trip, giving the local club the best infield balance that they have had all season.

The Cowboys last night lost their final game in Idaho Falls after two victories there as the result of some infield misplays, bases on balls and a good base-running—a fact that allowed the Reds to win, 10-5.

Although they got only seven hits off southpaw Willie Eads and right-hander Dick Winkler, this was only one more safety than the Wranglers got off Haworth, the Idaho Falls mound ace.

A walk to Stan Silverthorn's infield out, while error on Lowe's toss on Markers's grounder and a double steal gave the Reds a run in the third inning. A walk to Lapham, Lowe's fumble of Hill's grounder and the two runners went to second and third, a walk to Oldenburg, Priester's infield out and Stoneman's single produced two more unearned runs in the second frame. In the third they added two more to their tally, Evans' sacrifice hit, a walk to Lapham and Hill's single.

Jessen's triple to the right field fence and Lowe's fly to Markers in left produced the first Cowboy run in the fourth inning.

Three more Russsets runs trotted across the plate in the sixth inning. Oldenburg doubled to left field and Haworth sacrificed. Priester bunted and Oldenburg was caught between third and home but Danielson hit him in the back, allowing the manager to scamper back to third. In the seventh, Lowe and Markers beat out a grounder to Lowe, filling the bases. Silverthorn forced Oldenburg at home. However, Markers walked, Priester home and when Evans singled Stanton and Silverthorn scored.

The Cowboys came back with three runs in the seventh. Lowe and Danielson walked, Winkler singled over second, Loyler doubled to the right center fence and Radtke singled to right. Then

Life Guard

BOISE, July 23 (AP)—Application forms for the first special hunt conducted by the fish and game department will be mailed to license vendors throughout the state within the next 10 days.

The hunt for antelope will be held Sept. 27 to 29 in the Lost River area of Lemhi, Custer, Jefferson, Clark and Butte counties.

The district will be divided into seven sections and a certain number of permits will be issued for each section. A total of 550 permits will be issued.

A drawing for the permits will be held by the game department on Sept. 6.

More than six million pounds of salmon are caught in California each year.

Smog' Helps Muffle Noise, Expert Avers

SALT LAKE CITY, July 23 (AP)—Smog, the stuff which contaminates the atmosphere of some cities, has at least one redeeming feature—it helps to muffle noise, Prof. Vern O. Knudsen, acoustics expert, today told the University of Utah's sound symposium.

It doesn't do much to the low rumbles but it is highly effective in absorbing the shrieks and whistles near the upper limit of hearing ability.

Tested in Room

To test the sound deadening properties of smog, Knudsen, physicist at the University of California at Los Angeles, filled a room with smoke made of ammonium chloride, one of several chemicals used to produce smoke screens. It was thick enough to reduce visibility to about 20 feet.

Extremely high pitched noise of moderate intensity, such as might be made by high speed machinery, was toned down appreciably when it passed through the smoke blanket, Knudsen said.

Little Effect on Sirens

It had only a small muffling effect on notes like those of police or fire sirens of moderate pitch. Smog is a term originally coined to describe a combination of smoke and fog but now is used indiscriminately in referring to contamination produced by any cloudlike formation of dust or chemical particles.

Farmer Hurt in Acequia Accident

RUPERT, July 22.—Bert Stevenson, Acequia, is in the Rupert general hospital with injuries received earlier this week when he was dragged by a team of horses for some distance on his farm near Acequia.

Stevenson was driving a team hitched to a cultivator and was attempting to dislodge a large fly from one of the horses when the team became frightened and started to run. Stevenson was thrown in front of the machine and dragged some distance before the horses were halted.

Analyst Avers Dutch Actions Defeat Selves

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
There's an old saying that "You can't beat the Dutch." It goes back to their reputation for stubbornness, hard work, and high level of education and intelligence, and makes the present situation in the East Indies rather incredible.

A few months ago the Netherlands government was being hailed for its progressive outlook in negotiating an agreement with the natives giving them a maximum of independence through still preserving a connection with the queen's domain.

Patience Tried
Difficulties arose over the working of the agreement. The political-immature natives have taxed the patience of the Dutch by increasing demands, by refusing to lay down their arms or release their hostages until everything has been signed, sealed and delivered.

The Netherlands is an over-populated farm where some 10,000,000 people depend heavily for their existence on sales abroad of the products of the Indies. Netherlands revenue from the colonies is normally something like 20 times that from the homeland itself.

Views Clash
Suddenly bereft of this, it is hard to see how Holland could make ends meet. Efforts to protect it lie at the bottom of their inability to reach a working agreement with the Indonesians. To the Dutch, such protection is a "must." To the natives, especially the extremists, those same interests represent penance.

An older friend, Curley McPhail, confirmed the story too.
