No Break Results in U.N. Vote

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—The United Nations assembly failed today to break the deadlock in the race between the Soviet Ukraine and India for the second seat to be vacated by Poland Dec. 31.

The first secret vote of the 51 nations today after seven inconclusive ballots yesterday, showed: Ukraine 31, India 23. A two-thirds majority of those present and voting—30 votes—was required for election.

No Major Shift
The eighth ballot was the first for the day—indicating no major shift in the voting line-up. The last ballot yesterday gave the Ukraine 31 and India 23.

The ninth ballot showed: Ukraine 32, India 24.
Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, Brazilian assembly president, then ruled that the assembly should drop the security council seat contest temporarily and move on to the election of six replacement members to the economic and social council.

India Stays In
However, at this point Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit, chief of the Indian delegation and ambassador to Moscow, took the floor to make a statement of refusal to withdraw India from the contest.

India was backed by the Soviet-Ukraine, one of the constituent republics of the Soviet union, and the United States. Britain was backing India in the hard-fought contest within the 51-nation assembly.

Two Countries Chosen
The deadlock developed after the assembly had chosen the first ballot yesterday out of the three nations needed to fill vacancies on the nation security council at the end of this year as a result of term expirations. The two countries elected were Canada and Australia.

Mr. Pandit said the Dec. 31 expiration of Australia's 3-year term would leave the Indian ocean area unrepresented on the security council. She insisted India was not trying to keep any group out of the council.

Leave Council Tilt
The vote today today broke dispute.

Four of the six prospective vacancies on the 18-nation economic and social council were filled by the first ballot which showed: Brazil 55, Britain 49, Russia 43, India 37.

Pilot Strike Binds Flights Overseas

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—Plans of American Overseas airlines on flight out of the Atlantic were grounded today pending resolution of wage negotiations during which the company and 12 pilots and copilots were in a "hot" dispute.

The company, owned largely by American airlines, said the strike called for next Monday after the AFL-CIO Pilots Association had brought its operations to a "complete standstill" by the strike.

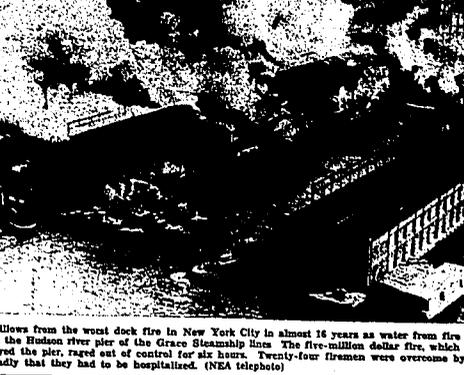

The union contended that the strike was called, not over the wage issue but because the company had failed to bargain in good faith.

Yankees Win Second Straight Tilt, 10 to 3

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—Blasting four Brooklyn pitchers for 15 hits in a murderous display of power, the New York Yankees overwhelmed the Dodgers crowd of 69,855.

A homer by Tommy Henrich, three triples which tied the world series record for three-batters by one club in a single game, and two doubles rattled off the bats of the high-riding Yankees.

Nine of the safeties, including six of the extra base savants, were smashed off the offerings of little Vic Lombardi.

The Yankees won the Dec. 31 expiration of Australia's 3-year term would leave the Indian ocean area unrepresented on the security council.

Demo's Party Is Unnatural, Taft Declares

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Republicans will full control of the government in 1948 because the people are tired of "regulation."

The 1948 senator, invading Wyoming today in a quest for votes in his possible bid for next year's GOP presidential nomination, carried along a scorching indictment of what he called the "totalitarian" aspect of the Truman administration.

Mr. Taft said there had been so much "regulation" of the lives of the people by "Washington bureaucrats" that local government had almost disappeared.

Truman Calls on Nation To Save 'At Least' 100 Million Bushels of Grain

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—President Truman, calling on the nation to save at least 100,000,000 bushels of grain by wasting less, said today "we must get prices down and help hungry people in other countries at the same time." He spoke to the first session of the citizens food committee which met at the White House to plan voluntary food conservation measures. At the same time, Mr. Truman sent identical letters to the chairman of the house and senate foreign relations and appropriations committees, emphasizing that "the congress will soon be called upon to consider the part which the United States should play" in the general economic program for recovery of Europe.

He did not amplify this or say whether this month's call is a special session.

Surplus Fund Called Ample On Palisades

BOISE, Oct. 1 (AP)—R. J. Newell, Boise, regional bureau of reclamation director, said today the bureau did not require construction funds for the Palisades dam for fiscal year 1948 "because it appeared the anticipated carryover would be adequate to finance the initial stages of actual construction."

Newell made his statement in answer to a criticism from the Snake river water users, who met recently in Idaho Falls.

Newell said that at the time the bureau requested funds for the last fiscal year, it had enough carryover to cover any initial construction contracts should congress authorize actual work on the huge project.

The regional director said $1,300,000 in carryover was available at the end of the fiscal year, ending last June. In addition, an appropriation of $200,000 was secured for the current fiscal year, bringing a total of $2,500,000 available for the project on July 1, 1947.

Rail Workers Demand Daily Price Control Return

CHICAGO, Oct. 1 (AP)—A formal demand for a 30 cent wage increase for more than 350,000 members of five operating railroad brotherhoods has been made by the unions on the nation's carriers.

The notices for the hike in wages, with a minimum boost of $3 a day set in motion the machinery of the national railway labor union under which disputes in the industry are handled.

Rejection Expected
Industry officials predicted the refusal of railroads to accept the demand and would result in arrangements for negotiations on a national-wide basis.

GOP Leaders Reject Price Control Return

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—Two leading house Republicans turned thumbs down today on suggestions that price controls be restored to halt the upsurge of living costs.

"The only cure is production," Chairman Wolcott, Mich., of the banking committee said in an interview. Majority Leader Halleck, Ind., agreed. "Our system of free economy," he said, "will work its way out of the present situation as it always has."

Most persistent demand for renewed price controls has come from the CIO. The rival AFL has indicated a belief that a return to such restrictions would not be feasible under present conditions.

Wolcott said "voluntary buyer resistance" might help until supply and demand reach a balance.

"We are bound to have a crash if prices continue to go up," he said. "Prices are out of proportion now. But there will be no resumption of government price controls. Price control is a deterrent to production."

"No General Demand"
Halleck declared he has found no general demand for return of rationing and ceilings on food all though he conceded that many people are distressed by the price rise. Part of the present high cost of living, he said, can be traced directly to the foreign program because applying such program are cutting into stocks which are being used in short supply in this country.

Demo's Party Is Unnatural, Taft Declares

Associates have blamed Taft's inability to speak as he does in the senate, in a hurried formal manner that leaves little room for applause, in part for the lack of spontaneity of some of his western audiences.

Despite their efforts to "pace" his speeches more slowly, some of those associates said they have had little luck in changing his style.

But Taft showed no disposition to mix it with the Democrats.

He told his Boise audience he thinks that southern Democrats—many of whom supported the Taft-Hartley labor act of which he was sponsor—"believe in many of the same things to which the Republicans subscribe."

"Unwilling to Listen"

But he charged that President Truman and other Democratic party leaders are unwilling to listen to the views of the southerners because they fear the "radical left wing" of their support might roll off into a third party.

"The Democratic party is such an unnatural organization that it refuses to deal with the left wing, it can remain in power," Taft declared.

Earlier in the day, at a press conference, Taft took occasion to deny that there is any political working agreement between him and former Gov. Harold E. Stanssen, Minn., thus far the only announced candidate for the 1948 GOP presidential nomination.

New Idaho Power Facilities Near Hagerman

Shown in picture at top is the Idaho Power company's new Upper Salmon power plant which was dedicated at ceremonies last Friday. The plant has an installed capacity of 16,250 kilowatts. In picture below plant will generate 6,000 kilowatts of power at same time with new plant, under construction, at right. The new plant will generate 6,000 kilowatts of power at same time with the 7,200 kilowatt capacity of the old plant built in 1914. Three other plants are under construction or being planned near Hagerman, the major units in Idaho Power's $28,000,000 expansion program which will add 183,000 kilowatts of power in the area. ### Army Neutral in Hemline Battle

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The army is maintaining discreet neutrality in the battle of the hemlines, so far as WACS and burros are concerned.

A spokesman for the quartermaster corps said today that the present official attitude on skirt lengths is "to let women in the army decide for themselves."

Meantime the quartermaster corps made public the results of a measurement study of 2,253 women in military service. The study was designed to provide them with better fitting clothing.

The report disclosed, among other things, that WACS and burros born in New England or the middle Atlantic states were generally shorter than women from other regions. Women from the Pacific coast averaged the tallest.

Five-Cent Airmail One Year Old Today

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Five-cent airmail is a year old today and the post office department celebrates by starting the first regularly scheduled helicopter air mail delivery in the nation.

It will link the Los Angeles municipal airport, the downtown post office and nine nearby cities. Postmaster General Hanesman said other big cities are expected to get similar service later. There have been tests in New York and Chicago.

Shortages Didn't Bother This Couple—Built House of Blocks

By HAL BOYLE

BURLEIGH, Ia., Oct. 1.—(AP)—C. Eicholson, 54, doesn't let the housing shortage get him down—he went to work and single-handedly built a brand new home of 40 blocks long and 30 blocks wide.

Neighbors call it the "kindlelow," because it is a bungalow made from kindling.

Eicholson constructed his dwelling from eight-by-eight square blocks sold by a local lumber yard as firewood. He and his wife were living at their daughter's home two years ago when he conceived the idea of building a place of his own.

The materials were scarce and high-priced. Then Eicholson learned that the lumber yard had thousands of good white pine blocks. They had been purchased originally by the huge Iowa Ordnance plant here during the war for use in shipping fuses and other ordnance parts. Eicholson decided to build a "block house" when the lumber yard offered him what he wanted at $4 to $5 a ton.

He began in Aug., 1945 working in his spare time.

Two years and 26,000 wooden blocks later—he used 22 tons altogether—he had a complete three-room house, a garage, brooder and a henhouse for the family's flock of 100 chickens.

The "kindlelow" is a home many a young bride, weary of cramped wartime housing, would love to move into.

"I designed the place as I went along," said Eicholson. "The only help I had was from my wife. There wasn't any waste. Any blocks that couldn't be used for building made good firewood."

Among novel features of the "kindlelow," which measures 22 by 30 feet, is a cement roof. Eicholson, a cement mason, rebelled against buying conventional roofing material because of its expense.

The cement roof is standing up well," he said, "and we don't have to worry about the block walls warping out of shape either. The wood is well seasoned. The house'll last as long as we have any need of it."

The Eicholson lived in the garage while the "kindlelow" was rising, and Mrs. Eicholson brooded it with 25 kinds of fowls.

"We moved in and had our first meal last Mother's day," said Mrs. Eicholson. "I call it our 'dine house' because every time we got a house we invested in another section of kindling."

The blocks were cemented and nailed together. Stained and varnished they made a beautiful parquet floor. Eicholson doesn't think his "kindlelow" will ever really be finished. He still has a pile of several hundred blocks and wants now to add a front and back porch and other outside buildings.

"I never built a house before," he smiled, "but I've done considerable work. I've done a lot of things I've never done before."

He estimated that altogether he had spent between $2,000 and $3,000 on the house and its buildings.

"People would think it would run that much," he said, "but kindling costs money, too, nowadays. And you have to buy all kinds of other things."

The Eicholson lives alone in the "kindlelow" with "chirrup," their Spitz dog and two or three cats that stay around.

"Our seven children are all married and gone," said Mrs. Eicholson. She likes to show her home to visitors who come many miles to see it. And she is proud of a remark made by one elderly lady about Eicholson's handiwork.

"It just goes to show what you can do if you really want to."

Early Hunting of Elk Admitted to Be Big Mistake

BOISE, Oct. 1.—Theodore H. Wegener, Boise, president of the Idaho Wildlife Federation, said today the fish and game department acted in good faith in setting the five-day open season on elk in southeastern Idaho.

But Wegener admitted it was unfortunate this hunt was held. The game department has been roundly criticized for setting the hunt so early. It has been charged that scores of elk spoiled before they could be brought out of the hills.

"It was a mistake," said Wegener, "to hold a hunt over such a large area when facilities for taking care of the game killed were inadequate. All good sportsmen and proper planning to take care of the game should not be taken for granted. Wegener said sportsmen in the past complained about regulated areas but from this year's experience it is obvious that the areas the regulated sportsmen area when facilities for taking care of the only sensible way."

Coal Shortage Seen for U. S. During Winter

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—Government officials say little hope today for averting a coal shortage this winter.

They estimated that coal production is running several million tons a month behind exports, and domestic consumption, principally because of the coal car shortage.

This has sent winter stockpiles tumbling when they should be building, these officials said, and the 20 per cent cut in allotment of cars to carry export coal during October will only slow down the decline.

Efficiency Drop

They hoped for some relief after winter weather slope or curtails trucking and construction and permits diversion of sand and gravel cars to the coal fields. But a spokesman for the Association of American Railroad said the diversion of such cars would only offset a normal 10 per cent drop in railroad efficiency during the winter.

In late summer and fall, coal users normally stock up for cold weather. Although coal production usually rises in winter, it has never met space-heating demands by itself.

Near-Record Output

Even so, government experts predict a near-record production for the year of around 600,000,000 tons. The highest was recorded in 1944 with 620,000,000 tons.

In addition to great domestic demands for coal, foreign shipments to Europe have gone up from 1,615,000 tons in 1929 to around 24,500,000 tons for the first eight months of this year.

Sugar Company's Production Upped

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 1 (AP)—Douglas E. Sealey, vice president and general manager of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company, predicted today that the company would boost its production by 30 per cent this year.

He said increased production is expected to result from additional acreage, greater tonnage and higher content of sugar in the beets. He explained that it was difficult to determine as yet just how much higher the beet's sugar content will run this year. However, he said, there are marked indications that it will be higher than last year.

The sugar company official reported that harvesting operations have been started in all states where the company has plants, Washington, Montana, South Dakota, Idaho and Utah.

Predator Control Is Parley Topic

POOATELLO, Oct. 1 (AP)—Extensive parley between officials of the predatory animal and rodent control division of the U. S. fish and wildlife service, representatives of 13 western states agreed during a three-day conference which opened yesterday.

Speakers emphasized methods of controlling all predators and rodents without killing harmless wild life, reviewing plans now being used as a basis for future work.

Thirty regional division officials also are attending the conference which closes tomorrow. D. D. Green, chief, said several states have initiated cooperative programs to control coyote population with federal, state and county agencies and livestock associations participating.

Series Program Ups Television Set Sales

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—Television of the world series has resulted in a demand for television sets described by receiver manufacturers as "the most unprecedented sale of merchandise since the old days of radio."

Decision to televise the series was made off until the end of last week. Although dealers and distributors had only the week-end to advertise, they said they were swamped with orders, most of which they were unable to fill.

Hunters Oil Guns; Big-Game Season Nears Its Climax

By United Press

Idaho's hunters oiled their guns today and got ready for a big time in the mountains as the state's big game season neared its peak.

The general deer and elk season opened in the Selway-Lochans area in north-central Idaho Tuesday and hunters were on the ground for the special hunt in the Selway game preserve.

The general deer season in southern Idaho opens Friday as does a special deer hunt in the Minko national forest.

A general open season on elk ended in southern Idaho Tuesday and more than 500 animals were checked out of the area.

Antelope hunters returned Tuesday night from a three-day season on the Lost river plain. Reports received from one checking station, representing one of the seven divisions in which hunting was permitted indicated antelope had been killed. Eighty permits were issued for the division. Hunters coming back from other units said the ratio of success was similarly high.

Some ninety million bunches of bananas are grown in Brazil annually.

M'Arthur Shown As GOP Member

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—It will not be necessary for Gen. Douglas MacArthur to proclaim his politics in the unlikely event that he becomes a big factor in next year's presidential sweepstakes. The general is a Republican.

On Sept. 18, 1943, Rep. A. L. Miller, R. Neb., sent to MacArthur at his Australian headquarters a letter proposing that the general permit the people to draft him for President. Miller said MacArthur would carry every state.

Washington read the Miller-MacArthur correspondence in glee before, there has been some publication of the letters. His friends entered him in the Wisconsin republican presidential primary in 1944 and MacArthur ran third with a bag of three delegates. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, N. Y., got 17, Harold E. Stassen, four, and the late Wendell Willkie, none.

Syphilis Afflicts 20 Million People

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1 (AP)—At least 20,000,000 persons over the world are suffering from syphilis, according to a worldwide review of venereal disease problems prepared by the secretariat of the world health organization.

The main author of the report, Dr. Thorstein Gulbe of Norway, describes this figure as "conservative."

The report's minimum estimates were based on the occurrence of venereal disease in two of the countries least affected by the problem—Denmark and Finland—in relation to the world's population of 2,000,000,000.

Recording evidence of an "upward trend" in venereal diseases everywhere, mainly as a result of war conditions, the report recom-

U. S. Playing Russian Game, Writer Hints

Whether it is a formal policy or not, representatives of the United States government and diplomatic corps have started making regular replies to Russia's propaganda and calling. This is a strange question whether, in doing so, they are not inadvertently playing the Russian game.

One of the chief weapons of totalitarian regimes always has been the cloak of distance and diplomatic attention is directed to the trivial and away from the material. The communist always accuses his enemy of what he is doing himself, in the hope that the noise of consequent recriminations will drown out the real blows he is striking for revolution.

Justification Because the Russian press is strictly controlled, so that expressions are accepted as being approved by the government, the United States feels justified in asking for an accounting when a Russian writer composed Truman with Hitler.

Forgotten is the horsehair that went up in this country some years before the war. The Japanese complaint over a picture of Hirohito, and Molotov is given a perfect answer in which the Japanese agenda that his government is not responsible for everything an individual may say or write, and to claim that the situation is just the same as in America. His reply is just the same as the one he would have received from the U. S. in similar circumstances. One can almost see the supercilious grin which he answered.

At the same time the state department is reported preparing to put the clamps on all visiting writers for communist organs abroad. Under the program being considered, they are to receive about the same treatment as do American correspondents in Russia. This is the way the United States authorities have put the toe on Russian and other foreign officials more than once in behalf of freedom of movement and expression for some Americans who were only very kindly disguised as reporters.

If the United States has a system worth selling the world—as we believe and are making strenuous attempts to prove—it will not be seriously damaged by a few lying writers.

Pilot Found Innocent In Fatal Accident

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 1 (AP)—A court-martial has cleared Eddie Clyde B. McKinney, Peoria, Ill., of blame for the fatal crash at Oakland airport last January of a Navy air transport service plane he was piloting.

McKinney was killed and 20 passengers injured when the plane, an amphibious ship, crashed while attempting a gross controlled approach landing during poor visibility.

McKinney, 28-year-old navy regular, was accused of neglect of duty and "culpable inefficiency."

The VA and Insurance

A man in letters against GI insurance faces this clerk in a VA regional office. At least half of all veterans holding NSLI policies report they've run into VA trouble over it; but the VA contends most of the troubles start with insurance payments they can't identify. (REDA photo)

Insurance Weakest Spot in Bradley's VA as Vets Drop Policies by Millions

(This is the second of a series of articles on General Bradley's administration of the VA.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (REDA)—To state Gen. Omar N. Bradley's administration of national service life insurance appears to be the weakest spot in his handling of the U. S. government's veteran program.

It is generally agreed by insurance experts and veteran organizations that government insurance policies being kept in force by veterans is steadily declining. This is in the face of big drives by VA to encourage veterans to reinstate their policies.

Since the start, approximately 10,200,000 NSLI policies have been approved—a vet can buy more than one policy of small denominations. But the number of policies in force today has dwindled to "about" 5,600,000, which includes 1,000,000 policies held by men in service. VA says "about" because it is admitted that there aren't accurate statistics available. And less than five per cent of the total temporary term insurance policies originally approved have been converted into the various optional forms of life insurance.

Bradley is deeply disturbed about the apparent state of VA insurance today. One of the big reasons the veterans themselves have supported Bradley has been their realization that his concern for their welfare goes beyond recommendations in West Point textbooks. The men in his command learned that in Europe.

One of the main reasons veterans have apparently become disgusted with their government insurance and have left their policies drop is the difficulty they have had with VA over NSLI.

A careful check with the insurance experts of the large veterans organizations and with VA officials reveals that more than half of all veterans holding GI policies, at one time or other, have had some kind of trouble with VA over their insurances.

An American Legion expert contends that no veteran who thinks he has his policy paid up to date can be absolutely sure his account has been accurately kept by VA. This situation, the Legion expert claims, is due in part to Bradley's failure to anticipate correctly the increased work load which would result when men leaving the service stopped having premiums deducted from services pay, and began to make voluntary payment as discharged veterans.

This Legion expert also contends that the 13 branch offices to which Bradley has decentralized NSLI aren't complete enough. He says the branch offices haven't proved they are capable of handling the job of collecting payments, that there should be further decentralization to regional offices.

There are records of thousands of veterans who in the past year have had to get photostatic copies of canceled premium checks mailed out to VA, which the VA had no record of receiving, prove that this bookkeeping confusion, a VA official admits, always keeps a couple of hundred cases under investigation involving widows or dependents of dead veterans who claim the veteran had paid all his premiums promptly, but where the VA shows no record of such payments.

In this connection, however, it must be pointed out that no veterans organization has on record a case of a widow or dependent losing an insurance benefit when there was any reasonable question of whether a policy was paid up.

VA spokesmen claim that rulings on this point are always made in favor of the widow or dependent when a reasonable doubt exists. Approximately 1,000,000 premium payments have accumulated at the VA which haven't been credited to individual accounts. Part of this, according to insurance experts, is VA's faulty bookkeeping. But VA put most of the blame for this situation in the veterans themselves. Money orders come in, VA officials say, signed "Mary Smith," with a note attached merely saying, "apply this to my son's insurance."

On the other hand, many veterans claim, the whole business of premium paying after they got out of service was never made clear enough to the men. It's the job of VA to look the men they are doing business with, they say, and to handle it accordingly.

In an attempt to halt the steady decline of his insurance business, Bradley has made many permanent improvements in NSLI and has helped talk congress into making other. He has made it easier for veterans to get lump sums and payments to get lapsed policies reinstated. Payments to beneficiaries can now be made in a lump sum and a veteran has a free choice in naming a beneficiary.

It was a stock saying among GIs that the only way to beat their government insurance was to die. Bradley helped to change that by asking congress to let the men convert their policies to an endowment form which would pay a benefit to a veteran in his old age.

Bradley's decentralization of NSLI goes a step further than the decentralization practiced by private life insurance firms by putting the "back file" in the branch offices. But it was a special committee of private insurance experts who recommended the decentralization of NSLI. VA officials claim that the present apparently confused state of the insurance program is only temporary, caused by the necessity to decentralize. Bradley is confident the future will bear out the correctness of his decision on this point.

Truman Says Press in U. S. Freest, Best

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 1 (AP)—Truman said today in a message to the Pennsylvania newspaper publishers association in connection with National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1-4.

"It is fitting that there should be a National Newspaper Week when the newspapers of the United States may take stock of their services to their readers," the President said, adding:

"I like the slogan you have chosen this year—your newspaper serves freedom by serving you." There can be no greater contribution to the welfare of our nation and the world than service in the state of freedom.

"We are too much inclined to take our freedom as a matter of course. We need to remind ourselves, and we need now to do all that we can to extend the blessings of freedom throughout the world. The newspapers have played a splendid part in this great cause, and I know they can be counted upon in the future."

The President was joined by Gov. Aldrich, chairman of the Chase National Bank, New York, proposed that the government establish a "United States corporation for European reconstruction" to insure that American aid be used productively, to check inflationary pressures in western Europe and encourage regional trade restrictions.

Nothing urgent need to relieve food and fuel shortages in western Europe this winter, he told the bankers that "to the extent that we are generous in our relief appropriations, a favorable atmosphere will be created for the long-range association of Secretary Marshall's program."

Business Rule for Europe Aid Asked

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 1 (AP)—A businesslike direction of aid extended to western Europe under the Marshall plan was urged by Wendell W. Aldrich as a means of assuring prompt economic reconstruction of that area.

Upon such an accomplishment, he told the 7th annual convention of the American Bankers association here, "our security as a nation depends in large measure."

Army to Hold Storage Units In California

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—The army disclosed today that it expects to continue to use its California supply depots for at least three to five years to handle food and other "quick moving" items.

An army department public relations officer told a reporter the general staff has decided against the establishment of a central supply depot for the Pacific coast area because of conservation and freight costs.

Four are established Central depots to handle purchase and shipment of engineering, ordnance, quartermaster, signal, medical and other supplies for other Pacific areas are operated at Atlanta, San Antonio, Columbus, O., and Schenectady, N. Y.

The army originally planned to establish such a supply center for the Pacific coast and Rocky mountain areas at its Ogden, Utah, depot. The army spokesman said a freight rate study disclosed that it would cost $100,000 to $400,000 a month extra to buy food, largely in California, ship it to Ogden for temporary storage, and then transport it back to California to supply current army needs.

Seems "Willy Waste" The spokesman said that this seemed "illy and a waste of money," and a search was made on the Pacific coast for an advantageous location.

As it stands now, the army will keep its central stock records for the Pacific area at Ogden, which also will be a general supply center for "slow moving" items. The other depots in the west will continue to perform their present functions.

World Treaty on Radio Operations Will Be Signed

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 1 (AP)—One of the most universal meetings ever held—an international telecommunications conference—will close as delegates from 76 nations prepared to sign a new treaty to regulate world radio operations.

Charles R. Denny, chairman of the federal communications commission and head of the United States delegation, said the treaty would be signed at 2 p. m. Thursday.

Denny, who was elected chairman of the conference, said the success of the meeting hinges on the orderly use and the maximum growth of communications throughout the world.

Some 600 communications experts and government officials from 76 of the nations of the world sat through three separate conferences, which were begun last May 16.

The conferences were called to rewrite a 225-page book of technical regulations approved at Madrid in 1922 and revised at Cairo in 1928. Earlier meetings were delayed by the war.

Confusing Curls

Don't let the golden curls confuse you, it's a boy, little Mario De Garfo, 3-year-old Chicagoan. He just like any other little boy. He gets lost. His mother asked police to find him, and they searched the store where he was last seen, nothing there but a couple of little girls, "was the first reward. Then one of the 'girls' was seen to be wearing pants—it was Mario, under a full head of curls." (NEA photo)

Greater Speed For Irrigation Plans Desired

COULTEE DAM, Wash., Oct. 1 (AP)—The chairman of the house committee on interior department appropriations called today for faster development of irrigation projects for the Columbia basin because of appropriation cutbacks.

Rep. Ben F. Jensen, R. Ia., said "I am sure I speak for the majority of the committee when I say that not enough emphasis is being placed upon irrigation development and the veterans' use of the land. We want this work to get underway as fast as possible."

"Touting the Columbia basin project with Rep. Irvin D. Penion R. Pa., and Rep. George E. Schwabe, R. Okla., chairman Jensen added that "it is a question of how much money we have to spend, and we want to spend it where it will do the most good and get fastest possible development."

H. A. Parker, supervising engineer of the project, replied when asked by Jensen why development was limited that the original program had been slowed down by appropriations cuts.

Joseph Brown, head of the Carpenters' union at Coulee dam, said a cutback affecting force account personnel had shut off the wages of 1,000 families. One-third of them, Brown said, already had left the area.

Loss of trees, especially poplars, in Holland during the war brought a shortage of 80,000 pairs of wooden shoes.

Boost in Prices Cancels Out $4. CARE Parcels

Although curtailments of certain packages from the Cooperative for Remittances to Europe has been necessitated by steadily rising prices, $10 CARE packages may still be requested and application blanks for them are available at the Twin Falls American Red Cross office, according to Executive Secretary Helen Bailey.

According to word from Paul Comly French, executive director of CARE in New York City, $4 flour and $4 hard packages have been discontinued because of price increases. Orders for $4 packages postmarked later than Sept. 15 will be returned.

"It is with great reluctance that I make this announcement," French said, "when flour and fats are urgently needed in Europe."

Both of these items, however, are included in CARE's standard food package. Meat, sugar, milk, egg powder, chocolate and coffee also are included in this 22-pound package, designed to help feed a family of four for a month.

Solons Visit Pope

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 1 (AP)—Pope Pius XI told eight members of the American house of representatives interested in foreign trade committee, whom he received in audience yesterday, that the just course recognized his power was "limited by the basic human liberties of those who are governed."

The pope spoke to the group—headed by Leonard W. Hall, R. N. Y.—in English.

Wing Is Planned On Student Union

MOGEOOW, Oct. 1 (AP)—A new wing on the old student union building rather than a brand new structure is planned for the University of Idaho campus this year, according to Leonard W. Hall, chairman of a student union committee, said today.

The new wing will cost $500,000, he said, in contrast to the proposed new $1,000,000 structure which would mortgage income from students fees for 25 years.

Tentative plans for the wing call for a three-story unit to double present union floor space and provide expanded facilities for activities.

Twins Twin Mothers

TOLSA, Okla., Oct. 1 (AP)—Twin sisters gave birth only a few hours apart in the same hospital room to twins—a boy and a girl in each case.

The mothers, the former Wineta and Valeta Jordan, 24, were attended by the same doctor. Wineta is now Mrs. D. D. Nichols and her sister is Mrs. A. O. Karr.

Attendees at Ellwood memorial young-in-hospital paid the four infants were strong and plucky and
