Consolidation of Schools Will Be Aired Wednesday

By JIM QUIGLEY
Consolidation of the Filer-Hollister rural high school districts under the new education law will be discussed and, if possible, decided at an 8 p. m. meeting Wednesday at the Filer high school.

Purpose of the meeting is to present all aspects of the proposed merger. The matter will be presented to all interested parties, including trustees and parents, of the grade school districts now served by Filer rural high No. 1 and Hollister rural high No. 2.

Highlight of the meeting will be an explanation of the new county education law by J. Eddy Taylor, Filer, former assistant state superintendent of public instruction.

The new law eliminates rural high school districts as they have existed until recently. Under reorganization high schools will fall into one of several classes of upper grade instruction.

Can Be Class A
The proposed district, composed of Filer and Hollister rural schools, can become a Class A independent district as it would employ more than 100 teachers and cover an area with more than $2,000,000 assessed valuation.

Can Be Class B
If authorized, would teach grades one through 12, and could conduct a kindergarten. Several adjacent grade school districts will likely seek annexation, it is reported.

Spit Falls Trend
The spirit of the Idaho law is in keeping with the national trend toward centralization and consolidation. (Continued on Page 6, Column 1)

Early "Crackdown" Warned Over Liquor

Twin Falls clubs and organizations were warned Saturday by Police Chief Howard W. Gillette of an impending crackdown on drinking of liquor in public. He said organizations concerned had been given a "fair warning."

After pointing out that drinking of unlicensed clubs is prohibited by law in Idaho, he warned the local police will take "any necessary means" to enforce the city and state liquor law.

Under the law passed by the last legislature, only licensed establishments may sell liquor by the drink. Gillette pointed out that the local option election barred licenses in the city of Twin Falls.

Gillette's letter followed the publication of the state attorney-general's opinion that lock-type clubs cannot be operated in communities which voted dry in local option elections.

Gillette's letter, as follows: "Gentlemen: It has come to my attention that a number of clubs and other establishments in the city of Twin Falls are in violation of the provisions of the state liquor law which prohibit the sale of liquor to their members or their customers to bring liquor to the operation of the bars, clubs, and other establishments in the city of Twin Falls in violation of the provisions of the state liquor law."

The locally will be escorted up the harbor by the state army and an air escort will be provided by the army air force.

Members of the national congressional medal of honor winner whose name, rank and organization should be made known will be borne on a caisson from the pier to central park for the memorial service.

'Disaster' Area Set In Maine

BAR HARBOR, Me., Oct. 25 (AP)—The entire state of Maine was a disaster area tonight, so proclaimed by President Truman—as forest fire spread new destruction in the northeastern states.

New outbreaks in New England and in the opposite end of the state threatened the forests again during a calm night. The forest fire death toll mounted from 19 to 20 in the nation and in New England property loss now stands at $27,000,000.

Situation by states
The situation by states was this: Maine—Recurring fires spread new destruction in York and Washington counties—the opposite end of the Maine coast—and the state arson investigators probed fire reports. One man was held for questioning at Biddeford.

Fires still burned on Mt. Desert Island scene of the Danqueneque-Bar Harbor by sea. Shifts in wind threatened the threat to North-east harbor, but another island shifted to Salisbury cove, another island shifted to Salisbury cove, another island shifted to Salisbury cove.

Set Fire on Dore
Massachusetts—Fires were reported on a farm in the town of Dore. The fire for a time threatened a hospital, which had to be evacuated.

New Hampshire—A million dollar loss was reported in the city of Rochester. Two fresh fires sprang up today and one is still spreading.

New York—Fire fighters, bringing under control seven major wood fires, were called to two new blazes spotted in the southeastern New York state near the Kenaco reservoir. Fire broke out in the town of New Jersey and Pennsylvania officials reported a number of wood fires, but the worst were under control.

Maine Most Serious
The Maine situation was the most serious of the nation. The fire winds fanned into life fires which wiped out seven communities and part of the western coast colony at Bar Harbor.

In all, Maine estimated tonight a total of 6,000 homeless or displaced and 100,000 acres of its valuable timber land—burned or damaged.

The damage in Maine rose over the $25,000,000 mark, with 1,000 people destroyed. Many of those were of great economic status.

Bull Sale Hits Top Prices in History Here
Highest average prices and total amounts received in the history of the Idaho Cattlemen's association were paid Saturday at the Ninth annual sale of range bull calves conducted by the association at the Twin Falls Livestock Commission building. The sale totaled $67,275.

The 167 head of purebred Hereford bulls contained in the sale were sold at the rate of one every two minutes by Col. E. O. Walters, Filer, who presided for the sale.

Top money paid for a Hereford bull was by R. S. Frame, Twin Falls, who bought Squire M. Donald the first for $11,000 from E. P. Reese, Shoshone.

Second best price was $1,700 for Mark D. Donald, bought by Herbert Chandler, Baker, Ore., and bought by Daniels Brothers, Malad.

Advance Lady Bitch, consigned by Doc Carter, Preston, was bought by Paul V. Bancroft, Shoshone, for the top price of $400 in the heifer sale.

Average price paid for bulls at the sale was $419 while heifers averaged $319. The sale was held at the rate of one every two minutes by Col. E. O. Walters, Filer, who presided for the sale.

Following the sale that set price records in each event, 175 cattlemen visited the Oregon, California and Utah heads. R. T. Gray, next-of-kin of the animal husbandry department at Montana State College, Bozeman, presided for the sale.

Ever Hear of Naschitti, Idaho? It's Important to Unusual Program to Reseed Burned-Over Rangeland

By JOHN BROGANN
Naschitti is one of the smallest, most cosmopolitan, busiest, most temporary, most interesting and just about the coldest community in Idaho.

I never heard of the place either until one day last week when I visited there with J. A. Jack Kelly, a fire-fighter from the state fire department, who was on duty at the time.

It's leading citizen is Dr. Lyle E. Adams, Phoenix, Ariz., retired dentist. He has more ideas, bounce and vitality than I have seen in 65 years of community work. He is a chemist weekly between Naschitti, Riverton, Wyo., and just about anywhere else handy to his private plane, a Stinson Vought station wagon.

Naschitti's population and only industry is the manufacture of small pellet machines, each of which contains five million or more seeds of clover. Some after these roll out of the pellet machines, they are dropped in a hopper and are blown by fire-demanded machinery to re-seed the land.

Jack Kelly says everyone knows where Pel. Tuttle is located, but in case you're a stranger here, too, it's on the east side of the highway between Gooding and Zabfield.

The population of Naschitti consists of 25 Hopi, Navajo and Zuni Indians, General Manager, Don Jefferson, three airplane pilots and a few others. The town is a small town who ever else for water.

The name is appropriate, for it is in the vicinity of the city of Naschitti, in that portion of the desert, that the pellet manufacturing process takes place. The seeds are mixed with fertilizer and insect and rodenticide, and are then packed in a large pile of earth soaked up by a bulldozer while grading the 100-150-foot strips, Indian workers above and a grader machine where it is powdered and mixed with fertilizer and insect and rodenticide. The name, Naschitti, bestowed by the Indians brought from Arizona to work the International Seed Pellet company, means "The place where beavers die for water."

Rigid Federal Controls of Grain Hinted; GOP's Draft Own Plans; $3 Wheat Faces From Markets

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—White House advisers were reported today at work on blueprints for rigid federal controls over grain and other world-shortage foods, while Republicans drafted their own plan of battle against the use of his name, told a reporter of the developing controls plan.

(One Republican, Senator Flinders, V., said President Truman has outwitted the GOP by grabbing a prime 1948 political issue—the high cost of living—before Republicans awakened to its voter appeal. Flinders and Senator Ferguson, R., Mich., revealed in separate interviews that Republican lawmakers are drafting anti-inflation plans to match those of Truman to the special session of congress opening Nov. 17.

At a closed session of the 19-member foreign aid committee headed by Secretary of Commerce Harriman, it was learned meanwhile, a demand for food allocations at the producer and distributor levels was made by Chester Davis, president of the federal reserve bank of St. Louis, and wartime food administrator.

By regularizing the flow of wheat, corn and other foods into the hands of industry and exporters, the administration might hope to curtail the demand that has indirectly depressed prices—while simultaneously earmarking quantities for Europe.

In the wake of Mr. Truman's broadcast plea last night for aid to combat inflation, congress to combat inflation and provide an estimated $1,072,000,000 program of foreign aid this winter, came these developments:

A nine-member house committee headed by Charles McNary, declared "continued aid should be authorized." Seven of the nine members, including Chairman Short, Mo., are Republicans.

The Harriman committee working on the long-range Marshall plan, was reported to be arriving at the conclusion that it cannot make any appreciable contribution to the program.

Price Decline Here Follows Drops in East
Budden drops in eastern commodity markets had an immediate effect in Twin Falls. The Saturday Times-News daily check of selected Twin Falls markets revealed.

On Thursday at $2.54 has been quoted at $2.54 on the local market. On Saturday, eight cents under the previous Saturday's $2.48 quotation. During the same period Denver which futures on the Chicago board of trade had started at $3.01, climbed to $3.12, then dropped Friday and Saturday to $2.94.

And locally for the first time this year, the greater offering of beans from the International Seed Pellet company, was reported to be sold Saturday and Sunday at $1.10 a bushel. The price was $1.10 a bushel. The price was $1.10 a bushel.

As a result, most of the local dealers Saturday were "out of the market" adopting a "wait and see" attitude for the week-end. The price was $1.10 a bushel.

Dealers were almost unanimous in placing the cause on the President's decision to curtail the export of wheat and the drop of eastern wheat prices since that call. They stressed, however, that there was no cause for alarm in the wheat and barley market normally slow on the part of trade buyers.

Friday afternoon's and Saturday morning's movement was unusually large from producer to dealer in Bull Lake, a check revealed. As a result, the season's present of light sales by growers in the face of heavy trade demand was reported to be a record. The price was $1.10 a bushel.

Livestock firms checked daily by the local market, there appeared to be little or no change in the result of the special session call.

Gooding Plan For Hospital Fund Started

GOODING, Oct. 25 (AP)—Members of the Gooding Hospital Association here today unanimously approved raising of funds through public subscription for the enlargement and modernization of the Gooding hospital.

Dr. Kenneth Tyler, director of the state tuberculosis hospital; Burton W. Driggs, superintendent of the state hospital; and Dr. J. H. Blum, and Leland O. Burres, editor of the Gooding Leader, were speakers at the meeting.

Dr. Tyler pointed out that Gooding has the largest hospital in the state and that it is in need of a new hospital. He also pointed out that Gooding is the center of large milk and meat production facilities should be made for newcomers to the community.

Outlines Plans
Burres told of the proposed plan for building a wing on the present hospital. Cost of this new wing will be approximately $80,000 and equipment costs are estimated at $20,000. At the present time the hospital committee has approximately $27,500 on hand.

If the Gooding hospital plans are approved by the Idaho department of public health, the federal government will expend up to 33 per cent of the total cost. The total cost of the hospital is in the amount of $30,000 and will be required to raise the $100,000 needed.

John W. Glouster will direct the drive for contributions for the hospital fund.

Memorial, Rock Wall Plans Given Approval

Actual work preparatory to the construction of a stone wall at the south end of the rim-to-rim bridge is scheduled to get under way Monday, according to state officials.

A local delegation which is interested in the wall and in getting the bridge dedicated as a memorial to the late I. B. Perrine brought this information back from Boise over the week-end after a conference with Gov. C. A. Robins.

Not only did the governor indicate that workmen would start staking out the wall Monday, but he agreed to a plan to change the name of the span to the I. B. Perrine Memorial bridge.

Those making the trip to Boise were Mayor H. O. Lauterbach, Commissioner H. R. Grant and Probate Judge G. T. Hamilton.

Assurance Given
The governor assured us that the state highway department will go ahead with construction of the wall immediately, said Mayor Lauterbach, and he also assured us that the state would rename the bridge by formal proclamation in time for dedicatory services which are planned as soon as the wall is completed.

Rock wall will be 60 feet long and 10 feet high. It will be two feet wide at the bottom with a concrete base, and one foot wide at the top.

Plans Provided
Built into this wall at an appropriate place will be a special panel of the state highway department, said Mayor Lauterbach, and he also assured us that the state would rename the bridge by formal proclamation in time for dedicatory services which are planned as soon as the wall is completed.

Commodities Decline On Eastern Markets

Three dollar wheat, evaporated on the Chicago board of trade Saturday in the breeze of speculation over the government's anti-inflation program.

Prices of most other major commodities also slumped for the second successive day and the New York stock market finished its first trading week since mid-September.

After dropping the 10 cents permissible maximum Friday in reaction to a combination of factors, the market closed at 100.15, down 1.15 from 101.30 a bushel today for the first time in a week.

The Associated Press wholesale index of 35 basic commodities scored its second consecutive daily decline from a 30-day high of 200.27 recorded Thursday. The index, using 1926 prices as 100, dropped from 200.01 on Friday to 199.59 on Saturday. A year ago the index was 158.84 and at the height of the depression, on Feb. 4, 1933, it stood at 114.4.

Meeting Will Seek Merger For Schools

tion in education. The basic premise is the equalization of educational opportunity to all youth in America, in rural as well as urban communities.

Proponents of the legislation also suggest that the law will achieve more uniform tax rates, and make for a more effective use of public funds.

All voluntary
E. M. Rayborn, Filer, chairman of the general committee which is conducting the meeting, underscored the voluntary nature of the proposed merger. He emphasizes the lack of coercion.

He urges all interested parties as well as members of committees on educational matters in Twin Falls county to assemble to voice reaction. His request is to school district superintendents, Doris Stradley, Filer rural high school, as now set up in common school districts No. 11, Washington; No. 15, Poplar Hill; No. 43, Elmwood and Falls Livestock Commission company. His request is to school district superintendents, Doris Stradley, Filer rural high school, as now set up in common school districts No. 11, Washington; No. 15, Poplar Hill; No. 43, Elmwood and Falls Livestock Commission company.

A "rule of thumb" distinction between the rural and independent school districts is that the independent district embraces property with a minimum standard of valuation.

Districts Given
Hollister rural high school includes common grade school districts No. 34, Rogerson; No. 39, Berger; No. 41, Amsterdam and independent No. 6, Hollister. Common school district No. 38, House Creek reportedly will seek annexation. Also under consideration is the absorption of parts of two other common districts No. 8, Union, and No. 10, Springs.

Cedar Draw has conducted a series of meetings to consider consolidation but the trustees temporarily have decided to withhold decision. It is reported.

Among points to be discussed is the boundary line which might run through the Clover district, and it is urged that interested persons from that district express opinions.

First District
The plan, if approved, will mark the formation of the first county controlled class A independent district under the law which was adopted by the last legislature. Spade-work for the Wednesday meeting has been done by a five-man special committee appointed by the trustees within the two rural high school districts.

In addition to the meeting the committee will turn over its findings and determinations to the county board of education which will conduct hearings and forward a report to the state committee.

If state approved, the Twin Falls county commissioners will be authorized to hold two elections: (1) for the electorate to consider consolidation, and if affirmed (2) to select five trustees. If and after consolidation goes through, the high school district will be divided by the county board of education into five trustee districts.

Vote System Set
Although trustees will be selected by the entire electorate, each district will have a trustee. This will be accomplished by making high school by vote, in each district the trustee, although his total vote will far down the list.

Students in the districts would attend Filer high, which has a present enrollment of 205, and is equipped to easily absorb the 41 pupils from Hollister. Moreover, Filer owns the school building, has a gymnasium and a farm shop building under the direction of an instructor.

Conversion Looms
On the other hand, Hollister rural high school is owned by independent district No. 6, and probably will be converted to a grade school, if present plans materialize.

Filer, alone, could become a Class A independent district as its valuation is more than $2,000,000. (Actually, it is $2,042,894). It chooses consolidation, however, as both schools draw from an agricultural area and enjoy a common outlook.

Hollister high embraces an area with $1,007,284 assessed valuation out of the entire Twin Falls county valuation of $2,732,894.

Under reorganization, Twin Falls, with an assessed valuation of $1,075,498, and Buhl, with an assessed valuation of $3,003,470 automatically become Class A independent districts. Filer did not, although it met the valuation standards, it did not teach pupils through the 12 grades of school.

In addition to Chairman Rayborn the other members of the general committee include Elmo Farrar, Hollister; Homer Bean, Anona; Clinton Dougherty, Filer, and Leonard Carice, Cedar Draw.

Grain Control Hinted; Plans Being Drafted

400,000,000 quarts delivered by 10 European countries.

Distillers Shut Down
At least 95 per cent of the distilling industry—whisky makers and industrial alcohol manufacturers alike—are shutting down tonight for 60 days to conserve grain, Chairman Charles Luckman of the citizens food committee announced.

Some 90 business, labor and government leaders, including a high proportion of serving men—were invited to an "off-the-record" meeting at the White House Monday by Pres. Asst. John R. Steelman. The plan was said to be to swap ideas on foreign aid.

Prices Stay High
The commerce department's national summary of business conditions reported that wholesale prices in October kept their high September levels, wheat hit a new high, and butter, corn and meats declined—presumably in response to Mr. Truman's voluntary "self-denial" campaign among consumers.

The President's speech was front-page news in all European countries save those in the Soviet sphere. It was printed in foreign offices and finance ministries.

Parent Is Liable In Child Neglect

POGATELLO, Oct. 25 (AP)—Probate Judge Willard Lund said today that Idaho law now provides for a fine, imprisonment or both for parents who neglect their children. The judge pointed out the law after dealing yesterday with a mother who was charged with neglecting her children.

Lund said the law, enacted in 1943, makes it a "misdemeanor for any person to cause the life or health of any child to be endangered by abuse, neglect, torture, torment or punishment, injury or otherwise."

Persons found guilty of violating the statute are subject to a six-months' jail sentence, a fine of $500, or both, the judge said.

Car and Trailer Hit Ditch After Traffic Tangles

BURLEY, Oct. 25.—Although a three-car traffic tangle near here resulted in extensive property damage, occupants escaped unhurt except for two children who sustained minor cuts and bruises, according to Deputy Sheriff Oea Roy, who investigated.

The accident early Friday afternoon occurred while three cars were traveling east on U. S. highway 30 east of the Raft river store.

A 1946 sedan driven by Marshall Eilers of Rupert attempted to pass a 1940 sedan driven by Bryan Morgan, Unionville, Mo., which was pulling a trailer. At the same time, Delbert White of Mendota, Mo., driving a 1937 two-door sedan, started to pass the Eilers machine. As the Eilers car dropped back into the lane of east-bound traffic the White machine sidestepped the Morgan auto, causing it to slide, hit a soft shoulder and overturn. The trailer and household goods it contained were destroyed, and the rear of the Morgan car was damaged.

Although the Eilers car was not damaged, the right side of the White vehicle was damaged.

The two children who received minor abrasions were riding in the Morgan sedan.

Demo Leader Hits Sanborn On 'Betrayal' other agency of this department, is seriously handicapped likewise, although stockmen contribute enough in fees to make this service self-supporting.

Sanborn supported the misnamed rent control act which (1) wrecked the "voluntary housing program"; (2) prematurely removed remaining controls on distribution of building materials, doubling the cost and halving the number of houses; (3) raised rents 15 per cent, except in Washington where the $15,000-a-year congressman lives when not engaged in building political fences.

"In the spirit of altruistic devotion to the big business lobbies which has characterized this congress," Sanborn concluded, "Representative Sanborn did nothing to curb run-away prices, establish a food control system for his own state of Idaho or the nation, create a national health program, improve education, broaden social security, check monopoly, encourage public reclamation or irrigation projects, bring about conservation and development of our land and timber resources, build houses, or protect our national resources from ruthless private exploitation."

The programs which bore the brunt of the Republican slashes were those which serve the people best. However, in the end, thisphony economy resulted in actual savings of only 2 per cent of President Sanborn's budget. Obviously, these public services constitute a very small part of the cost of government but are among the truly dominated Republican congress."

Four Given Fines On Traffic Counts

Four persons have appeared before Judge J. C. Pumphrey for traffic law infractions after being cited by city police.

Charles Christensen was fined $15 and $3 costs for running through a stop sign. Speeding netted fines from Yves Radford and Inabel Reed, each $10 and $3 costs, and John Ray paid $15 and $3.

Rangeland to Be Replanted With Pellets

conveyed into a mixing machine where seed is added and it is mixed into a mass with a minimum of moisture to avoid premature germination of the seed. After screening, this mass is fed into pellet machines where it is molded into small compact little spheres three-eighths or one-quarter of an inch in diameter.

After screening to remove imperfect pellets, they drop onto a conveyor belt to be picked up by endlessly rotating cups on another belt and lifted to the top of a pipe to be carried by gravity into storage bins carefully air-conditioned for dehydrating.

Invented Machines
All this machinery, except the hammermill or pulverizer and some other standard equipment, such as generators, was invented by Dr. Adams. He also designed a special rig for quick loading of the pellets into airplanes to be dropped in a process similar to crop dusting. The only difference between the doctor's ingenious set-up and a Rube Goldberg creation is that Dr. Adams' machinery works.

As started off—cold on the subject, I asked Jack Keith, while we were wheeling around curves and dodging trucks on the road between Twin Falls and Jerome, to tell me something of the background of the program and its significance.

He explained that of the three million gross acres, or two and one-quarter million acres of rangeland in grazing district No. 5, an average of some 100,000 acres is burned by range fires each year. In some instances, this burned-over land recedes itself, but in other areas not a blade of grass will grow naturally. Besides being lost as range land, it is denuded as wind erosion begins to take hold.

In an effort to reseed this land, regular grain drills pulled by the tractor have been used. On favorable terrain, it is sometimes possible to seed 30 acres a day in this manner. Between the lava rock and jagged country make it either impossible or impractical to plant seed in this area. The new type of pellet-making machinery than in planting.

"That is why the bureau of land management (which knows more as the grazing service) of the U. S. department of the interior was willing to give Dr. Adams' proposition a trial when he offered to revegetate the 34,000 acres in the Thornrock and Battlement butte areas for $1.75 per acre.

Proper Timing
Making his program even more attractive is the fact that by laying down the bombardment of seed pellets at the rate of 2,000 acres a day, the revegetation can be accomplished during the brief period in the late fall when seeds are planted and have the best chance of survival. Forage crops planted at this time should be strong enough by next summer to withstand the drought heat in store for them.

The Adams' proposition, Dr. Adams loaned one of his two pellet manufacturing plants on trucks, hopped in his plane and Naschitt was born.

The reason the equipment is used as close as possible to the scene of action is that the hauling of the pellets needed, or even of flying the seeding planes from nearby airports would be prohibitive. That is why Naschitt is centrally located three or six miles from the Battlements butte range. Since May of 1946, when he first began commercial operations, Dr. Adams has set up five small little centers and has built in temporary airstrips.

Besides the venture here, he has another similar plant operating at Gallup, N. M., and he is in the process of setting up another project at Riverport, Wyo.

While traveling toward Naschitt, we stopped off at Flynn's cafe in Gooding for lunch, and, shortly after leaving Gooding, we encountered three men setting up white flags marking off strips of desert on which the reseeded was to take place.

They turned out to be Mark Lawrence, range manager of Leonard Bond, who is in charge of the Gooding-Lincoln county soil conservation district and is winding up the project, and Roy Bernard, wickatinner (bulldozer operator) with the grazing service.

Flagging area
The grader explained to me that they were flagging the area so the guides standing with flags at either end of the runs to be made with planes could keep on a straight course in moving sideways across the desert while showing the planes where to lay down the pellets without missing or overlapping strips.

One of them asked if we'd brought our suitcases along, and I later found out what he meant, for occasional light flurries of snow were hitting

Push the Valve Down, Wheels Go 'Round and 'Round, and It Comes Out Here

Wesley Leno, Hopi Indian from Belmore, Ariz., points at left to where mixture of seed and excluder enters pellet-making machine. Neeched wheels from four directions turn out pellets. These later emerge through pipe at right into dehydrated bin ready for planting by airplane. Dr. Lytle S. Adams, founder of the process, displays a handful of the pellets to Mrs. Duane E. Miller, wife of one of the pilots, and Mrs. Donald Jeffcoat, wife of the firm's general manager. Photo as bottom shows general view of plant. the high unprotected ground where the plant is located, even though it was a fairly warm day in Gooding and Twin Falls.

As we went farther on we turned off into the desert following a small road-shaped sign marked "Naschitt" and we bumped along an odd looking spectacle of tents, machinery, cars and airplanes began to take shape in the distance, and I asked Jack Keith what it was.

"That's it," he remarked, and I said, "Oh."

Out to Lunch
When we arrived, Dr. Adams was not around, and someone remarked that he'd probably flown into Gooding for lunch.

Soon after, a blue plane appeared, circled the field and landed, and Dr. Adams emerged.

He lived up to all expectations as a colorful personality. Helped by the wind, his shock of white hair stood practically upright, and he wore a fiver leather jacket as his chief protection against the cold.

Tells of Idea
As we sat in a car and talked, I learned that he had gotten the idea for the pellets while walking around in the Arizona and New Mexico deserts where he observed that certain plants frequently grew from rabbit droppings after the seeds had passed through the animals. He reasoned that seeds so planted have a better chance of survival than those left in the open to be swept away by wind or picked up by birds or left to die on the rocky surface. By being pre-planted in soil, they are ready for germination when moisture conditions are favorable.

The seed pellet machine was not his first invention, as he mentioned that he was the inventor of an air-lift pickup system which delivers and stores mail from a locked box on the air. He also devised the glider pick-up method used extensively in the last war to pick up gliders in Burma and other areas.

Dr. Adams was a close friend of the late Will Rogers, and his eyes clouded as he told of spending the boy's evening with the beloved cow-boy humorist before the airplane night from which he did not return.

That evening, Dr. Adams said, they sat on the floor of the ranch home in California and looked at his spurs and other riding gear. Dr. Adams then flew to Schenectady, N. Y., and it was while there he heard of Will Rogers' death.

The farm fire loss is estimated $85,000,000 annually.

As soon as the doctor has all the bugs whipped out of the revegetation program, he figures on perfecting equipment to sow row crops, such as tomatoes and tobacco plants by the same method. He contends that it's possible to do such precision work that seeds can be spaced from one inch to three feet apart.

He's also looking forward to the day when he can use large planes to drop seed on 2,500 acres at a single run, as compared to the 24-acre coverage now possible with a single load.

At present, two of the four planes being used on the Magic Valley reseed project belong to the seed pellet company, while two are operating under sub-contract with the March Aviation company of Phoenix.

Whenever there was a lapse in the conversation, Dr. Adams would return to the underlying need for revegetation. Besides the important function of providing feed for livestock, it is one of the nation's chief hopes to stem the constant forest of erosion, which, in the words of Dr. Adams, "are carrying all our good topsoil down into the drainage basins."

Confidentially, though, he seems to be getting a big kick out of tackling something that's just a little too big to lick.

Hearings Set On Minidoka School Plans

by the education sub-committee chairman, Burt Van Evert, an administrator of the school with a minimum of a master's degree and experience in elementary and secondary levels.

Assistant Urged

Also recommended was an assistant superintendent to be in charge of elementary and junior high schools. This position also would require a master's degree as well as a secondary school principal who would also serve as one of the heads of departments in the secondary school set-up.

Reports also recommended titles for heads of industrial arts, commercial, college entrance, vocational agriculture and home economics departments and heads of guidance program, visual education, physical education, music, art, health and transportation, who would also instruct in some capacity as the program may necessitate.

Principals Suggested

Principals were recommended for Paul Heyburn, Acquia, and Rupert, and Minidoka. These may be "teaching principals" but in the case of Paul, Heyburn, Acquia and Rupert, this practice was not recommended as desirable.

One member recommended that the board of education hire teachers who are specialists in their particular positions and that all teachers hired have not less than a two-year certificate. As quickly as possible a two-year certificate should be raised to a BS or BA degree.

Recommended curriculum includes elementary units at Rupert, Paul, Acquia, Heyburn, Pioneer and Minidoka. Kindergarten also are included in the recommendation.

Junior High Asked

Paul, Heyburn, Acquia and Rupert should have junior high units.

Senior High School Recommendations

Senior high school recommendations include a centrally located building for the entire district, vocational agriculture, home economics, industrial arts, commercial and college entrance departments; physical education facilities that would be used for both community and school activities, music, auditorium, visual education, health and physical education.

Also included in the senior high school recommendations were school transportation available for on-the-job training, observation, complete guidance and counseling department, the available for community-school type program, a program of extra-curricular activities that would be available to all students, and the establishment of a 14-grade system, a program that will carry over into the next year.

Cost No Higher

In the report presented by Finance Chairman Clyde Gentry it was brought out that the county unit school district plan would cost no more than the present scheme although Rupert, Minidoka, Pioneer, Lincoln, Hopewell and Big Bend would pay slightly more while Acquia, Heyburn, Emerson, Washington, Heyburn common and Walcott would pay less. Paul would pay the same as under the present system.

More Specialized

Instructional expense would be about the same as at present but more specialized services could be made available to all students in the county.

A business manager was recommended for the system which would be effected through centralized buying and distribution.

Also stated by the finance committee was another recommendation which said maintenance of school plants could be improved with no greater expenditure if a competent supervisor of buildings and grounds is obtained.

Building Urged

A third report submitted by Vernard Comstock, Acquia, as chairman of the building subcommittee, recommended both a pro-

Twin Falls Contractor Duffly Reed said work on the actual construction of the wall probably would begin the latter part of this week and if the services of a good stonemason could be obtained the wall will be finished within 10 days.

Former Twin Falls congressman Addison T. Smith, in a letter to the Commissioner Grant as chairman of the Perrine Memorial committee, stated that a memorial of the bridge be made by Governor Robins and also included a suggested program for the occasion.

Women Need to Erect Another Rock Guard Wall, She Avows

Editor, Times-News: Several years ago a group of women, who combined their clubs to form an organization known as the Rural Federation of Women's clubs of Twin Falls county, by the name of a beautiful spot was to build a rock wall on the canyon edge at the end of Washington street. This with the cooperation of the Idaho Power company and several civic minded men of the county, made a beautiful spot of what was formerly a dump ground. Not long after the completion of "Federation Lookouts" a car with two young people traveling at a high rate of speed missed the turn in the road and crashed head-on into this wall. The young man was unhurt and the young woman escaped with a broken leg. The rock wall saved the lives of two fine young people of Magic Valley.

Working of U. N. Council to Fail, Writer Declares

Editor, Times-News: For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, "He laugheth at the wisdom of his own craftings (I Cor. 3:19). I have seen this demonstrated many times in the working of the U. N. council.

Good little atomists say there will be no lasting peace on this old earth. We will have no lasting peace until we get the "new world" where-in righteousness will reign. And what is more, how can we expect lasting peace, when we really good thing to be brought about by any unrighteous setup such as the U. N.?

It has been going from bad to worse ever since it started. Too many of the members of the U. N. are of the same stripe as Eleanor Roosevelt, one of our own representatives.

I think there are very few, if any, sober-minded people who had a spark of faith, completely setup right from the start. Whatsoever a nation soweth, that shall it also reap.

Railroad Sets Freight Delay Report Probe

W. J. Hyman, special representative of the general manager of the Union Pacific railroad, plans a trip to this area in the near future to look into the report that a three to five-day delay is occurring in the loading freight from cars here, the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce learned during Friday's luncheon meeting.

This information came in the form of a letter from Representative Hyman. He wrote, in part: "I am absolutely at a loss to understand the alleged delay of three to five days on merchandise in cars at Twin Falls, and, if my investigation develops that such is the case, I will most certainly correct this. I am arranging something as that freight arriving in the evening should be loaded that evening and that trucks available at 6 o'clock in the morning to immediately start delivering the freight. I did this because a large number of receivers do not care to receive shipments in the afternoon and it was my thought that prompt delivery in the morning would work satisfactory for all concerned."

Appearing at the meeting was J. C. Hays, Salt Lake City, livestock agent for the Union Pacific in the intermountain states, who discussed the number of improving freight and livestock shipments out of Twin Falls and other Magic Valley communities, which he termed as important livestock sources. He also indicated that an effort would be made to speed up freight and livestock shipments.

J. S. Perry, feature advertising manager of the Salt Lake Tribune, invited the chamber to participate in the special progress edition to be issued Jan. 18, 1948, and directed concerted using the edition to advertise its industrial site and brochure.

Hagerman Lady Tells of Pottery

GOODING, Oct. 25—Mrs. Aldrich Bowler, Hagerman valley, presented a program on the art of making pottery at the regular Goro's club meeting. She discussed the fundamentals of making pottery and the ceramics of various designs, explaining the process of making modern pottery and displayed numerous pieces. She also demonstrated the use of the potter's wheel and hand modeling.

Mrs. and Mrs. Bowler have established a ceramics and pottery business on the banks of the Snake river below Billie. The shop and studio is in one wing of their newly-constructed home.

Mrs. Otto Schildt, club president, presided over the meeting. The group voted to purchase a modern delivery table, selected and recommended by Mrs. Schildt. The project was begun last year and $375 of the purchase price was made under direction of Mrs. James Alastra, club president last year. The total purchase price of the table is $475. Those serving on the committee of selection of the gift to the hospital were Mrs. Alastra, Mrs. W. A. Carter and Mrs. Harold Bright.

BIG GOLF INCREASE Memberships Reach 287 in Season's Play

Course Master Fred Stone will ring down the curtain today on what was by far the greatest season of golf in the history of the Twin Falls municipal course.

The veteran course master revealed that a total of 287 memberships were purchased during the season with 72 of these being family affairs.

"Never before had we passed the 250 mark at the course," Stone declared.

Stone said that the number of memberships do not give a true picture of the amount of golf played during last summer because many of the local golfers play on a fee basis.

"The fee players also showed a big increase over any other season," Stone said.

Because of the great increase—several hundred per cent among the members—plans already are afoot to build a new clubhouse during the winter and to change the course around somewhat.

UCLA Defeated In Grid Thriller

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25 (AP)—Electricity failed grid fans with one exception: the UCLA team that set the stage for the winning touchdown.

The Bears began passing deprecably. But it didn't work. Left end Eric Tolman intercepted a blocked pass on California's 14. Four plays later, sub left half Jack Kirby went over on the one-yard line.

The first half was one of the most thrilling seen here in years. California received the opening kickoff and drove a touchdown in the first 50 seconds on their first scrimmage play.

The Trojans capitalized on a California fumble to tie the count. California's left half, Billy Main, dropped a quick kick on his own 18. The Trojans recovered and a few plays later fullback Bert Lillywhite scored on California's 34.

Southern California drove 34 yards on three passes to set up a 10-yard touchdown run by left half Gordon Gray.

In the second period the Bears smashed 88 yards for a touchdown. The Trojans next rolled 65 yards on two passes by quarterback Jim Faldut to California's one-yard marker.

BUU Winner PROVO, Utah, Oct. 25 (AP)—Brigham Young university's victory-hungry Cougars twice came from behind to pass interception, a fumble and a punt for a 20-7 victory.

BYU's defense was superb. It held the Cougars to 100 yards on 30 plays. The Trojans next rolled 65 yards on two passes by quarterback Jim Faldut to California's one-yard marker.

PIN-DOWN GIRL: Aim Hook-Ball Directly at No. 3 Pin for Strike

SPORTS EDITOR'S NOTE:
This is the seventh of a series written for the NEA and Times-News.

Women's World Champion
Of the first delivery of the frame, bowlers aim a working ball into the one-three pocket for a full hit.

Here is what happens when you get a full pocket hit. The ball contacts the Strike is that simple when you get a full pocket hit. Aside from behind-the-line factors which make for a grooved delivery, the condition of the alley may affect your aim, especially if you roll a hook. If the alley is high, the ball will tend to hook to the right of the one-three pocket.

On a sluggish alley the hook ball may grab and swerve to the left of the one-three pocket. If the alley is fast and you are rolling a hook ball, move to the right, increasing the angle of delivery.

BEATEN BRUINS TURN TO WEST GAME

Powers Lauds Indian Eleven After Defeat

Coach Hank Powers' Twin Falls Bruins, feeling that they were simply beaten by the Indians at Pocatello and it "just wasn't in the books for them to win," turned their attention to the game here with West High of Salt Lake City next Friday night and to completing what could really be an opening round, one of the most satisfactory seasons in the history of the school. Pocatello has no powerful suggestion, much to the surprise of Powers, that the Indians are the best team in the history of the Big Six eleven that is stronger than the one Boise put on the field last season.

However, the respected state-wide Bruin mentor said "even at that, we have won three touchdowns and the score should have been much closer. It was a fluke."

Bull's Whining Phases
Powers was especially pleased with the showing of several of the boys he will have back next season—particularly those of Duane Bell, one of his tackles. This brightened the outlook for next season.

Wendell Displays Power; Shoshone and Pilots Win

Shoshone and Glenns Ferry were left today to fight it out for the North Side 11-man conference championship after the defeat of the Hailey Wolverines by Wendell, 35-0. Shoshone won from Hagerman, 12-6, while Glenns Ferry from the Nampa reserves in a non-conference game, 13-6.

WENDELL, Oct. 25—Playing at last up to the promise that Coach Keith Judd's gridders gave at the start of the season, Wendell knocked the Hailey Wolverines out of a tie for the leadership of the North Side 11-man conference here yesterday afternoon. The score was 35-0.

The game was a scoreless affair until three minutes before the half ended. Taking a Hailey punt on the 40-yard line after being stopped on the five, Wendell smashed back to the eight, from which Kearney went off tackle for a touchdown. Hamilton went around end for the extra point.

Wendell counted three times in the third period, Kearney went over from the 10-yard line for the first, and T. Gates slipped off tackle for the extra point. Kearney scored again a moment later, going over from the nine-yard line after a pass. Gates to Kearney, had set up the extra point. Chaplin converted with an end run. The third touchdown was made by Gates when he intercepted a pass on the Hailey 20-yard line and ran the ball over. Chaplin smashed through tackle for the extra point.

Shoshone Hurls Back Pirate Scoring Threats to Win, 12-6

HAGERMAN, Oct. 25—Although beaten, Coach Jack Martin's team of Hagerman opponents scored twice on their rivals in the Magic Valley League today as they battled Coach North Wilson's Shoshone Redskins to a standstill here yesterday afternoon. The score was 12-6.

Employing power plays, the Pirates smashed to a touchdown in the first period. Boyer, quarterback, made a moment later, going over from the eight-yard line. Boyer's kick for the extra point was good. Hagerman's first score came early in the second period, but in the third the Redskins, still unbeaten by a B team, smashed to the three-yard line, from which McCarty, left half, went over for a touchdown on the fourth down. A short time later, Boyer fumbled on his five-yard line and Shoshone recovered. An end run with Williams carrying the ball produced the winning touchdown.

In the final period, Hagerman smashed within Shoshone territory three times, once to the nine-yard line and another time to the three-yard line.

State Mine Deaths Surpass 1945, 1946

BOISE, Oct. 25 (AP)—Mining fatalities in Idaho this year already have equaled the combined 1945 and 1946 totals, according to George McDowell, state mining inspector, said today.

Fourteen Idaho miners have been killed since the start of the year. McDowell said most of the fatalities were among experienced miners.

Eleven of the fatal accidents have occurred in Shoshone county, heart of the state's largest mining area. One fatality each occurred in Lemhi, Blaine and Caribou counties.

Of the 14 fatalities this year, 10 were the result of accidents occurring in 1946, McDowell said. Last year there were six fatalities in the state and in 1945 the toll was eight.

Cabinet Shaky In France for Critical Week

PARIS, Oct. 25 (AP)—The threat of nationwide strikes and a cabinet downfall faced France today as she prepared to enter the critical week ahead.

Socialist Paul Ramadier, whose days as premier may be numbered, has described the country's climate and "electric" and has warned that the republic is in "danger" from the communists on the left and Gen. Charles de Gaulle on the right.

Here is what is immediately ahead:

Sunday—Completion of municipal elections with run-off voting in 700 towns and villages.

Monday—Railroad union leaders meet to take "grave decisions" if they do not get an 11 per cent wage increase.

Tuesday—The opening of an extraordinary session of the national assembly when Ramadier will pose confidence vote on his reshuffled cabinet.

Thursday—Assembly vote on the confidence issue.

Some time during the week—a declaration by Gen. de Gaulle in which he may explain how he intends to capitalize on his election success. His aides have indicated he may take the course of mobilizing support in the assembly—his followers there all wear the label of other parties, having been elected before his new party was organized—to force new national elections.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

By ENNE FUGRETT

Oh, cake and friends we should choose with care,
Not always the finest, but the best to eat!
Is sometimes the finest one in the end!

"Put your goldfish in a bathtub half filled with water," the article said. "And you'll discover the poor things will just swim round and round in a small circle the size of the bowl, in which they have kept."

You goldfish lovers might try this, for a minute and perhaps die of a swim in a small circle. They just stayed in the middle of the tub. Flabbergasted, probably.

Samuel Pepps was a frisky little citizen of London during the 17th century. He was curious about everything, and he had a yen for the ladies. He kept a secret diary of his goings-on, and in time it was as famous in literature. Here are a few entries from that diary, which Samuel never dreamed of publishing. His eyes would read:

June 15, 1663—

Myself is 35 pounds worse off than I was last month... chiefly risen from my laying out in clothes for myself and wife; for her 12 pounds, for my self 5.

June 23, 1663—This morning came hours of my new coat was gold buttons, and a silk suit which cost me much money. I pray to God to make me able to pay for it all.

August 30, 1663—Saw a wedding in the church; and strange to see what delight my married people have to see these poor fools decorated to our condition. Buy them until night, please myself mightily to see what a deal of business goes off a man's hands when he stays by it.

September 10, 1663—Hence, and it being wash day, dined on cold meat. I find my wife hath something in her gizzard, that only waits an opportunity to bring her out, but will not for the sake of my content.

April 16, 1663—Went to hear Mrs. Turner's daughter play on the harpsichord, but Lord! it was enough to make a man sick to hear her; yet I was forced to praise her highly. Later to Paternoster Row to buy my wife a petticoat which she desires highly, a very rich one, the best I see there. On the way home to Blackfriars, and here kissed the maid of the house. O how I wish she is a pretty girl, but very modest.

April 10, 1666—To the court to see the king play tennis. And how his playing was bragged without any cause, was loathsome sight. Such open flattery is beauty. This morning I began a practice which will save me money and time; that is, to trimme myself with a razor, which pleases me mightily.

Just got hold of a copy of the Idaho Business Woman, which is edited by Ella F. Green. It's a real little sheet. Its theme is "We Face Tomorrow," and it's evidently published in Ellensburg. In her editorials Ella says, "It's your state paper, and of course it will be just what you need to make it 'Survive great respect for the women who do things, the courageous business and professional women who stand on their own two legs and battle their way in."

Failure of Power 'Stops' King Hill

KING HILL, Oct. 25 (AP)—Life in King Hill practically stopped this week when electricity was off for nearly 24 hours as result of a big wind-storm.

Most of King Hill's water supply is taken from wells equipped with pressure pumps which are operated by electricity. In addition to having no current for operation of electrical appliances, most of the town was without water.

Among other items, school was dismissed for one day because of the power failure and resulting inconveniences.

Air Reserves Get Training Unit in State

A training program for air force reservists in Idaho has been inaugurated with headquarters at Pocatello, according to word received from Capt. W. S. Hill, Jr., instructor, 15th bombardment squadron.

The new unit at Pocatello is being called the 15th bombardment squadron (very heavy) for organizational purposes. It is a branch of the air reserve training detachment at Hill field, Ogden, Utah, according to Captain Hill. All Idaho air force reservists are eligible to join the unit. The squadron is authorized a full-strength table of organization, including officer and enlisted personnel and rated and non-rated members.

Planes Expected

As soon as a minimum number of planes have taken physical examinations, airplanes will be based at the Pocatello army airbase for use of the squadron, Captain Hill said. The planes, expected to be at Pocatello by Dec. 1, will be trainer types known as AT-11's and AT-5's.

Instrument, night and cross country flying have been authorized for the squadron and all personnel will be given the opportunity to train in their specialties, Captain Hill declared. He said Colonel Winn, commanding officer of the reserve detachment at Hill field, had offered full cooperation for the unit.

No Pay Yet

For the present, reservists would not draw pay for their services in the squadron, the officer said, but he pointed out that legislation is pending which would put the reserve unit on the same basis as the national guard.

He said persons wanting more information regarding the squadron could write to P. R. MacKenzie, Box 112, Pocatello, or W. S. Hill, Jr., box 227, Pocatello.

Donations for the store portion of the fair are being sought with anything from a bean to a bale of hay or a side of beef being accepted.

Idaho teachers have contributed $463,306 to the fund and the school districts and the state have contributed $442,260 he said. "The records do not include any reports from this year as the first payments did not become due until Sept. 30."

Four separate funds are maintained by the group and contributions of teachers are maintained separately from those contributed by other agencies, he explained.

Hughes' Invites Investigators To View Wood Plane's Tests

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25 (AP)—Howard Hughes today invited a congressional committee, investigating his airplane contracts to attend launching and test tests for his $14,000,000 plywood flying boat between Nov. 9 and 10.

The eight-engine monster, designed as an army cargo and transport plane, was one of the principal targets of an investigation opened by the senate war investigating committee last summer and scheduled to resume Nov. 17.

Hughes did not reveal who would pilot the initial tests, but he reportedly will be at the controls himself when the 425,000 pound aerial juggernaut first takes to the air.

The plane is now in a specially-built graving dock at Terminal Island, Cal., where for more than a year workmen have been putting on finishing touches.

"The launching and official tests of the Hughes flying boat will be held at Los Angeles from Nov. 9-10. I cordially invite you to be present and witness these tests," Hughes said in telegrams to the 10 members of the committee.

Latin America Seeks Tourist Cash Off U. S.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 25 (AP)—United States and Latin American business men are eyeing a partnership to keep the flow of tourist dollars, diverted from Europe during the war, moving into Central and South America by promoting a "great circle tour" of the southern continent.

Impetus for the drive comes from the Inter-Continental Hotel company, which is joining forces with Latin American capital to build hotels in 11 cities on the route of the "circle tour." Inter-Continental is a subsidiary of Pan American World Airways.

Byron Calhoun, vice-president of Inter-Continental, said money for construction of the hotels would be furnished by local capital in each city and the U. S. export-import bank on a 50-50 basis. Each hotel will be leased to Inter-Continental, he said, until the export-import bank has been paid in each case. Inter-Continental will furnish the operating capital.

"We expect the investment in construction of the hotels in the 11 cities to total $15,000,000," Calhoun said.

Fostered by FDR He revealed that the project is one which originally was fostered by the late President Roosevelt as part of his program to improve relations between the American countries.

"The export-import bank is for it," he said, "because the plan will attract legitimately American dollars to come to countries which need them and, therefore, will help by that amount the necessity for loans."

He said hotels will be built in Mexico City, Guatemala City, Bogota, Caracas, Quito, Lima, Santiago, Buenos Aires, Montevideo, Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro. Work already has started in some cities, and job legislation for local capital still are in progress in others, he said.

Boy Scout Group At Jerome Meets To Hear Reports JEROME, Oct. 25.—The district Boy Scout committee will meet Monday at the Baptist church here to hear reports and to plan for the round-up rally, according to Parker Fillmore, district chairman. The session will open at 8 p. m. Robert Peterson, organization chairman, will report on creation of new units and a district camp will be held to indicate the location of all established and proposed units. Scouters will be called upon to locate their troop members on the map.

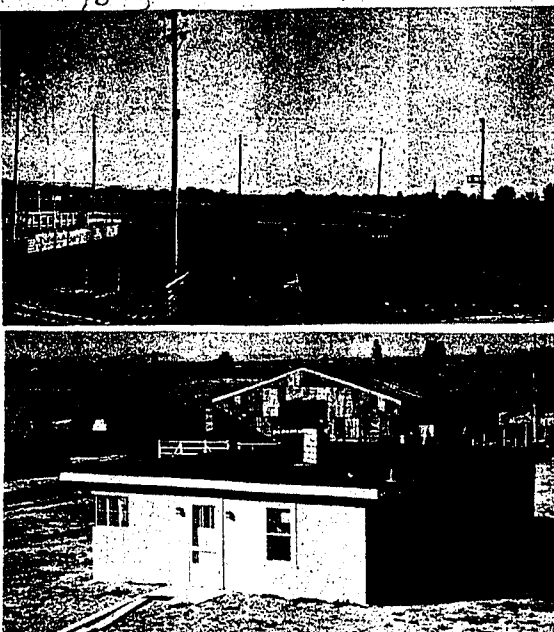

Round-up rally plans will be outlined and the date for the district program will be set. District members will be assigned the task of operating the rally, according to Chairman Fillmore. Attending the meeting will be Executive Herbert H. West of the Snake river area council, and Robert W. DeBurr, north side field executive.

Representatives of all sponsoring institutions and troops committees are urged to attend.

Harry Harry Ala's Mad at Nobody I've been reading Pat Shotts comment on Mr. Will's experience getting lost and sleeping with bears. Reminds me that Harry Wilson by Barron, Roy Pail and I had a good hunting trip into the Selway recently. We had experience with bears—about the way one bear snatched a piece of meat in the night. Roy got "lost in the fog," but he was in camp in time for supper.

Riding Club Reviews Past, Plans for Future

Within the past two years, the Frontier Riding club, Inc. has accomplished these developments north of Twin Falls. At top appears a view of the arena for staging horse shows, rodeos, pageants or other community events; while at bottom appears the caretaker's home and other facilities for housing and caring for stock. Besides reviewing these achievements at Monday night's dinner meeting, the club will hear of plans for future development, including enlargement of grandstand facilities at the arena. Frontier Riding Club to Hear Progress Review Monday Night

A review of progress made during the past two years will be presented during Monday evening's dinner meeting of the Frontier Riding Club, Inc. at the IOOF hall in Twin Falls. Besides hearing of past achievements, the group also will turn to the next future project—a fall round-up dance to be staged Dec. 10 at the Radio Rodeo in Twin Falls.

After obtaining possession of the 80-acre tract north of Twin Falls two years ago, improvements through cooperative effort of the club and the Twin Falls county sheriff's mounted posse amounted to $115,471 in cash. These developments include a modern five-room house, a 16-bay stable, a granary, machine shed, saddle room, field without charge, the Twin Falls Flour Mill donated wheat seed for the nurse crop, the Intermountain Seed company donated alfalfa seed

'Beardless Youth' Days Have Ended For U. S. Troops

DEERLIAN, Oct. 25 (AP)—The days of the "beardless boys" in America's occupied Germany are over. An army survey shows that the typical American who actually does the occupation job here is an unmarried private first class between 21 and 23 years old. He joined the army about 18 months ago and has spent a year on this side of the Atlantic. He got through two years of high school and his IQ is about equal to that of his average fellow-citizen back home.

In mid-1946 the typical occupation soldier had not yet reached a "regular" volunteer army, figures show the majority—57 per cent—over 21. Today's OI is here on a three-year enlistment, but still is "under-clothed" about taking the cash again. The average officer from whom OI Joe takes his orders is considerably older and has been in uniform since before Pearl Harbor. The typical "brass," according to the survey, is this description: He's a 30-year-old first lieutenant, married, and has some college education (one out of three graduated). He's had from six to seven years of army service and has been overseas on this tour for about one year.

More Army Vets Awarded Medals

Additional recipients of World War II victory and American defense medals are announced by First Lieut. George P. Claxton, officer in charge of the Twin Falls army and air force recruiting station. Those receiving the American defense and victory medal were Charles E. Quigley, Buhl; Frederick Casper, Piler, and Maurice J. Bays, Jr., Twin Falls; while Louis G. Weener of Twin Falls has received the victory medal.

and J. R. Simplot provided the phosphate. Plans for next year encompass addition of a 1,000-seat reserved section, increasing capacity to 6,000 persons. The arena and other facilities will be available for any occasion when large outdoor events are presented by the community.

The club also contemplates construction of additional box stalls and facilities for next year's horse show. Other projects include a club house and store for use as a picnic grounds as soon as practicable. Present board members, besides President Detweiler, are W. W. Lowery, vice president; Mrs. Dick Lancaster, secretary; Arnold Cross, treasurer; and R. E. Barry, Hans Thorne and Mrs. Sue Groves. An effort is being made to encourage youth membership, and a number of present members now range from 10 to 15 years of age.

Pair of Area Men Signed for Army

Two more Magic Valley men have enlisted in the regular army for three years each, according to First Lieut. George P. Claxton, officer in charge of the Twin Falls army and air force recruiting station. They are William E. Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hughes, Piler, and Thomas M. Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Price of Twin Falls. Both have joined the air force.

During World War II, Price served with the U. S. navy in the Pacific theater as a fireman, first class. A burning paper match provides one candlepower.

2 New Additions Get Approval in Payette's Resort

BOISE, Oct. 25 (AP)—Two new additions for the resort area around Payette lakes were approved by the state land board at its meeting here yesterday. Edward Woolley, state land commissioner, said the new additions would include 78 lots. He stressed there are enough applicants wishing to rent cottage sites on the lake to fill the 78 lots, none of which adjoin the lakeshore. The two new additions will be known as Cedar Knoll acres and Pinecrest addition. The board approved the application of J. Wilson to sell oil and gas wells in Clark county and tabled a request of Jay Clark and E. J. Clark, Memphis, for dredging operations on the south fork of the Payette river. Tabled until court action could be taken to decide the status of several pending applications for dredging operations on the south fork of the Clearwater river.

Minidoka Posse Launches Development Plan

SKETCH OF RUPERT POSSE GROUND RACE TRACK. This engineer's sketch shows location and arrangement of the race track and other contemplated developments near Rupert upon which construction was started last week by the Minidoka county sheriff's posse. When completed, the project will include, besides the race track, a rodeo arena, bridge paths and facilities for youth recreation. (Staff engraving)

Development of Area Started By Minidoka Sheriff's Posse

RUPERT, Oct. 25—First phase of a $10,000 self-sustaining combination race track, rodeo arena, bridge paths and youth recreation center has been started by the Minidoka county sheriff's posse on a 31-acre tract near U. S. highway east of Rupert. With Carl Nelson as builder, work started this week on the race track to be constructed at a cost of about $2,000, according to Floyd Iden, president of the board of directors, and Sheriff R. M. Hawkes. Surveying and staking of track, to provide a nucleus for the other developments, has already been completed. The half-mile race track will encircle the rodeo arena near the center, as well as a contemplated baseball diamond at one end. Completion of the rodeo grounds, complete with chutes, grandstands and other facilities, is scheduled for next summer. Since its organization in May of 1946, the 42-member posse has appeared in numerous drills and other events throughout the intermountain area. In raising initial funds for this most recent project, the posse is enlisting support of various local civic and service organizations, but after the grounds have been developed, income from shows and other events is expected to make the operation self-sustaining. Directors, besides President Iden and Sheriff Hawkes, are Blaine Nielson, vice president; Theo Johnson and Dick Pedersen, Von Lord is drill master, and Dean Scofield is secretary-treasurer.

It was announced by D. E. Crouch to Retire From Position in Wildlife Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—W. E. Crouch, chief of the division of game management for the federal fish and wildlife service, who started his government career with the old biological survey in Boise, will retire Nov. 1. Albert M. Day, director of the service, said Crouch, chief of the nation's federal game wardens, was retiring because of ill health. Crouch received his permanent appointment with the biological survey in June, 1917, when he became biological assistant on a cooperative project with the Idaho extension service. Later he became leader of rodent control with headquarters in Boise and in June, 1922, was transferred to Washington. He became senior biologist in 1929. He and Mrs. Crouch, the former Lulu May Fowler, Pocatello, will move to Boise on his retirement. He said he "wants to catch up on his scotch gunning and trout fishing."

Mackay told how to organize to give direct relief. The Rev. Marcus Bloodworth, Mendota, had charge of recreation which consisted of folk games and songs. The Richfield Woman's Society of Christian Service served the sacrificial dinner.
