

Little Chance Predicted for Power Plans

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Further development of western power resources, unless a substantial land reclamation project is involved, may have slow going in congress for a while.

Dr. Paul Raver, head of the Bonneville power administration, which markets the output from the Columbia river public power project, said in a recent speech that power in the northwest requires the completion of Hungry Horse (Mont.), McNary (Ore-Wash.) and Puget creek (Wash) dams by 1954.

Poll Reveals Doubt
A poll of several western congressmen revealed doubt whether the financing would be approved that fast.

There is a definite feeling in congress that land reclamation should be the prime objective of western river work.
For instance, Senator Wherry, R., Neb., chairman of the appropriations subcommittee on Columbia, said he felt congress definitely favored multiple-purpose dams. And, "the speed with which the northwest power projects could be completed, he said:

"It is just how fast you can go with the economy of the country."

Taylor Tells Views
Senator Taylor, D., Ida., said:

"The potential power reserves of Idaho and the Pacific northwest comprise our greatest natural resource. Every day we allow that unharmed water to rush down stream to the sea means dollars and cents out of our pockets. Such a development is an instrument to prevent hard times, not a make-work project."
He added, however, a belief that the only way we will get a complete list of rivers to be developed is through the medium of a Columbia valley authority."

GIs Set Records For Enrollments

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—The veterans administration reported today that a record number of former GIs began or resumed school and job training in October.

Most of the increase resulted from the reopening of the schools and colleges for the fall semester, the veterans administration said.
During October 67,000 veterans began or re-entered training under the GI bill of rights and the vocational rehabilitation act.

Despite the record enrollment, the 2,688,000 veterans in training on Oct. 31, was slightly below the record of 2,674,000 ex-servicemen and women who were studying or training on the job on last April 30.

Openings Listed For Five Famed Groups in Japan

Magie Valley men who like to travel may satisfy their ambition by enlisting in the army for service with one of the five famous divisions stationed in Japan and Korea.

First Lieut. George P. Claxton, officer in charge of the Twin Falls army recruiting station, suggested Monday.

The chance of enlisting for service in one of these divisions is offered by the army to all recruits, regardless of previous military experience. Lieutenant Claxton said, "It pointed out that men serving in these divisions will receive 20 percent above base pay for overseas service."

Divisions in which enlistments are being accepted for service in Japan and Korea are the 11th airborne and 6th, 7th, 24th, and 25th infantry divisions.

Recruits must enlist for a minimum of three years in order to choose one of these divisions, Lieutenant Claxton said.

Bids Invited for Coulee Equipment

COULEE DAM, Wash., Dec. 1 (AP)—The bureau of reclamation today invited bids for building three 153,000-horsepower turbines and their governors for generating units in the east powerhouse at Grand Coulee Dam.

Bids will be opened Dec. 30 at Denver. Banks, said the bureau hopes to have the new units in service during 1950. Bids will be sought later for the generators which will be driven by the turbines.

He said Coulee dam will have an installed rated horsepower of 2,197,600, greater than any plant in the world, when the turbines authorized for the east powerhouse are in service.

Army Declares Strength Lack Gets 'Serious'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Army strength is dwindling "seriously," army officials disclosed today, and congressional action may be necessary to raise the pay to stimulate recruiting on a large scale.

The army is getting only half the necessary recruits to fill requirements and is losing about 10,000 men a month. The picture is a little brighter in the navy and the air force. The air force is recruiting about 10,000 men a month despite stricter requirements and has the nucleus of a "going concern."

The navy reports it is recruiting and discharging about an equal number of men. The balance was struck recently when the navy reduced its physical standards.

The latest figures on the sizes of the three armed forces are: Navy 460,032; air force 327,000; army ground forces 600,000—a total of 1,387,032.

Proposed Action Given
Action that probably will be proposed to congress includes:
1. Raise the pay of the army from bottom to top.
2. Authorization to use more civilians to replace soldiers in non-combat jobs.
3. Establishment of universal military training.
4. Make the women's army corps a part of the regular army.

Aviation Cadets Eligible in New Trainer Program

War-time qualified aviation cadets, whose pilot training was curtailed by the end of the war, may be re-enrolled in the new air force cadet program, according to First Lieut. George P. Claxton, officer in charge of the Twin Falls army recruiting station.

The air force estimates that approximately 30,000 men who had qualified for pilot training during the war, were either waiting for assignment or undergoing instruction when the program was stopped in 1944 and 1945. Claxton said.

Cadet training is being stepped up in 1948 to accommodate a total of 2,000 cadets and the air force plans to make it possible to recruit cadets to aviation schools who volunteered during the war.

Lieutenant Claxton urged all former aviation cadets to call at the local recruiting station for detailed information.

Demos View Possible Win By Senators

By H. HAROLD OLIVER
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Democrats who look for a Truman victory in 1948 figure they have a good chance of carrying the senate.

Some Republicans concede that, because of geographical considerations, their chances of retaining senate control are less favorable than keeping their majority in the house.

Here's the mathematical picture: Republicans captured 21 Democratic senate seats in 1946. The present membership is 51 Republicans, 46 Democrats, a majority of only 4.

23 up for Re-Election
Thirty-two senators will be up for re-election next year—18 Republicans and 14 Democrats. Ten of the Democratic incumbents come from the traditionally Democratic south. This limits the Republican opposition campaign, more or less, to the four other Democratic seats—Colorado (Johnson), Montana (Murphy), New Mexico (Hatch) and Rhode Island (Green).

In other words, while the GOP could show signs of a landslide, that might overrun into Dixie, its drive for senatorial upsets would be narrowed to three western and one eastern state. (Colorado's Johnson has said he will not run again, but he might be prevailed on to reconsider.)

Need Four Overturns
On the other hand, the Democrats need only four overturns of Republican seats to recapture senate control. And they haven't announced a bigger target to shoot at: Six Republican seats in the east, seven in the midwest, three in the far west, and one each in Kentucky and Oklahoma. "Senators Moore, Okla., McNamara, Me., and Hiram, N.J., they will not seek re-election."

The house situation is different. There, the Republicans now have 245 members as against 188 Democrats, one American labor and one American farmer. To capture control there, the Democrats would have to retain present strength and win 30 Republican districts.

Coxey's Army Leader Is Not Bothered Now

MASSILLON, O., Dec. 1 (AP)—Gen. George A. Coxey, ex-farmer, leader of "Coxey's Army" of another century, said today he wasn't worried because the dollar isn't worth 10 cents.

Money has no purchasing power, he said, but is good only for "debt cancellation."

The 82-year-old, one-time presidential candidate said he still believed in "money for cost" and had a plan that would "solve the European aid problem, prevent war, lower prices, lower prices and lower prices."

Lead Jobless "Army"
The former mayor of Massillon, who marched into national prominence in 1914 as the leader of an "army" of 20,000 unemployed that converged on Washington demanding jobs, said that collecting interest on money was all wrong. Interest of all sorts should be abolished, he said.

Coxey said his plan for aiding Europe was "amplified" this:

"The nations which want aid would deposit a 27-year non-interest bearing bond with the secretary of the treasury. Included in the bond would be the total amount of money they owe the United States already."

A five per cent exchange fund would be established to provide for the costs of the loan. The exchange fund would run into the millions. The printing presses would then be started, and enough money would be run off for the loan with the seals of both nations stamped on both sides and the money spendable in both countries at face value.

The debtor nation would then pay back two per cent of the total amount for the first four years and four per cent the remaining 23 years.

The word "devil" means "little god," while the word "witch" has its roots in the early English word "wit" to know.

Next Chief of Staff for Army Known As Quiet Operator, Doughboys' Friend

By HAL BOTLER
NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (AP)—The U. S. army's next chief of staff is what the men in the ranks call a "quiet operator."

Gen. Nelson Bradley also wears the flawless armor of a good man—an incorrigible honesty that will let no considerations stand between him and the goal of duty.

His appointment to succeed his wartime boss, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, in the army's key post, will be nowhere more popular than among the men who fought under him and dubbed him "the doughboy's general."

No commander was more thoughtful of the welfare of his troops than this lean, 6-foot, 54-year-old Missourian.

He showed this again when he accepted the tough job of settling up the new post-war veterans administration, to which 17,000,000 ex-servicemen turned for help.

"I don't think there's any job in the country I'd sooner not have," Bradley frankly told the Overseas Press club here once, "nor any job in the world I'd like to do better."

The general set up his all-Idaho veterans program—funerals, funerals and political fanfare. He made as good a record as an administrator as he had as a field commander overseas—and there was none better.

But he always considered it only as an emergency task, an interim assignment until he could return to his professional army duties.

When he becomes chief of staff on the retirement of Eisenhower next February, he will reach the high point of 30 years of military service.

The son of a school teacher and himself a former West Point mathematics instructor, Bradley is fitted by temperament and inclination for the task of welding a modernized American army. As commander at the infantry training center at Fort Benning, he personally trained thousands of the young doughboy leaders who were under him in Africa and Europe.

Bradley is modest, friendly and deeply kind. He has a quiet, unassuming intelligence and a forthright simplicity of character confounding to devious men who make the military world a battlefield he can be imposed upon or fooled.

He has a flexible mind wide open to new ideas and new weapons when they work. If the American army has to fight a third world war under Bradley, it won't die in battle in outdated tanks.

He is not a military man to succumb to the attention and dry rot that afflicts all military machines in peacetime. When the young officers get and fade away, he will be the one whose wise mentor goes along behind the colonels' wheels.

Officers under Bradley who don't pull their cars are quietly dropped down a deep dark well, and nobody even hears the splash.

He has a lifelong theory—perhaps instilled when he played baseball at West Point—that military success is largely a matter of teamwork. He has a reputation in wartime of having a "happy headquarters," close knit and fast-functioning because the men got along with each other.

"I think it is better to weed out a man of erratic brilliance and send him elsewhere," he told me once. "It's better to have a man who can't fit himself into your headquarters and make himself part of the team."

Lubitsch, Famous Director, Passes
HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 1 (AP)—Ernst Lubitsch, 53, veteran director-producer of American and European films, died yesterday of a heart attack.

His body was found by his personal servant, Otto Werner, on the bathroom floor in his palatial Bel Air home. A fire department physician said a physician failed to revive him.

The Berlin-born Lubitsch started in show business at the age of 16 as an actor in Max Reinhardt's theater. He came to Hollywood in 1923 to direct Mary Pickford in "Rosita."

His famous productions ranged from "Passion," starring Pola Negri, to "Clumsy Brown," starring Jimmy James.

He leaves a divorced wife, Vivian Gray, whom he married in 1933, and a 9-year-old daughter, Nicola Anne, New York City.

Men who fought under Gen. Omar N. Bradley labeled the quiet man "the doughboy's general" for no commander was more thoughtful of the welfare of his troops. He will succeed General Eisenhower as the army's new chief of staff on "Ike's" retirement next year.

Sagebrush Is Cleared Easy By New Plow

BOISE, Dec. 1 (AP)—Sagebrush can be removed from newly reclaimed land more easily with an Australian stump-jump plow, experiments by A. C. Hull Jr., forest ecologist, have proven in the Boise area.

Present plows used for sagebrush removal are rigid and when one disk hits a rock or stump the entire weight of the plow, plus forward momentum, is thrown on the one disk and breakage often results, bureau of reclamation officials said.

"The Australians, who had similar problems, overcame them by mounting disks in pairs on independent arms controlled by springs. The plow was developed to plow saplings and shrubs on land being brought under cultivation," Hull said in an article in Reclamation Era.

"Spring tension holds the disks in the ground when cutting, but when they encounter rocks or brush, the spring allows each pair of disks to ride over the rocks or brush piles, up to 12 inches high independent of other disks. The disks are alternately 20 to 23 inches in diameter, but are mounted on the hump arm with a pitch so that both disks touch the grounds at the same time," the report said.

Sliding action gives a dishing or slicing action which helps maintain a digging depth and kill brush without a corresponding spring tension. This angle combined with the pitch of the disks allows the disks to release themselves easily when striking rocks," Hull said.

Hull declared the stump-jump plow is a step forward in sagebrush removal but added it "probably is not the final answer to mechanical eradication of sagebrush."

Radar Puzzle Given Experts Over 'Angels'

By ALTON L. BLAKELEE
AP Science Reporter
NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (AP)—Radar experts are trying to solve the puzzle of "angels" in the sky.

Radar sends out pulses of radio waves which are reflected back as echoes by near-by or distant objects. The "angels" were discovered when radar beams were shot straight upwards. Weak but clearly recognizable echoes returned from somewhere apparently invisible, in the air. The something was nicknamed "shots" or "angels."

"Angels" Close
Studies by the army signal corps laboratory at Belmar, N. J., and Bell Telephone Laboratories at Holmdel, N. J., showed the "angels" were most numerous in the first half mile above the earth's surface, but may occur at heights up to two miles.

The "angels" are fleeting, lasting only one-half of 10 seconds, possibly because they move rapidly across the radar beam. Several hundred miles in an hour, but their distribution is random. They occur night and day, in summer and winter, but appear somewhat more common in summer.

No Conclusions
There have been guesses, but no conclusions, about what they are, said Dr. A. W. Straton, director of the electrical engineering research laboratory, University of Texas, in a discussion of some of the mysteries in radio propagation.

Among possibilities still being considered are that the echoes are caused by dust or smoke particles, or turbulence in the air.

The "angels" have been noticed only when radar waves of very short wavelength were used. At Stanford University, scientists found another kind of radio echo from the sky when they used longer wave lengths.

IDAHO FALLS, Dec. 1 (AP)—Ken Uchida, formerly of Idaho Falls, today had been elected chairman of the Japanese-American Citizens league.

Uchida, now of Ogden, was graduated from high school here, where he was athletic manager. He succeeds Shigetaki Uchida, Salt Lake City, as league chairman.

The league went on record as favoring a revision of naturalization laws. Under the present law, it was said, naturalization is denied parents of thousands of Japanese-Americans, though their sons and daughters born in this country enjoy citizenship.

Arizona Lettuce Areas Patrolled In Strike Flare

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 1 (AP)—National guardsmen, called out yesterday by a proclamation by Gov. Sidney H. Osborn establishing martial law in Maricopa county, began patrolling lettuce sheds in Phoenix and vicinity today.

Mobilization of approximately 1,000 members of the guard units assigned to Maricopa county started last night soon after Osborn issued martial law proclamation calling such units and personnel into active duty as may be necessary to enforce and preserve law and order in the county.

In his proclamation the governor said he had been informed by Maricopa County Sheriff Carl Boles that the situation was out of his control and that the guard was needed.

Members of the Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Workers union (CIO) struck 12 days ago at the height of the lettuce picking and packing season for a 17 1/2 cents an hour increase in pay and various other benefits.

The Central Arizona Vegetable growers association, representing the shed operators and non-union growers, has agreed to a 10 per cent increase in pay.

Good Farming Methods Said 'Grain-Saving'

SPOKANE, Dec. 1 (AP)—Saving grain on northwest farms to help feed Europe's hungry may be largely a matter of good farming.

The Idaho extension service has compiled a list of grain-saving suggestions specifically designed for Idaho but generally applicable throughout the northwest. A farmer studying the recommendations may conclude that saving grain in many cases is synonymous with saving money.

Practices that save feed have always been important factors in successful farm management, says V. D. Kennedy, assistant extension economist.

The other extension specialists who pooled their knowledge to prepare the suggestions also stress grain conservation techniques which would benefit northwest farmers and livestock without the use of starvation hovering over a large part of the world.

Kennedy suggests these ways to save grain and money in livestock and poultry production:

Use more low-cost forage, such as pasture, hay and silage, and less grain in rations.

Cull poor producers out of herds and flocks.

Get rid of insects, parasites and disease so that feed is used for production of milk, meat and eggs, not roundworms or lice.

The good feeding equipment which will prevent waste.

Keep herds and flocks warm by providing good shelter, and see that they burn up extra feed for comfort.

Provide plenty of water and salt at all times.

Cost of Living Top Story for Nation in 1947

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (AP)—The high cost of living was the biggest news story of 1947 in the United States in the opinion of United Press editors who announced today their annual list of the 10 outstanding news events of the year.

The U. P. pointed out that 1947 was a year marked by "continuing news stories" as contrasted to other years when big unexpected breaks dominated the country's front pages.

Many Subdivisions
Under the high cost of living, for instance, the removal of many war-time price controls, the efforts of Republicans in congress to reduce taxes, the housing shortage and the attempts of manufacturers to meet the heavy demands for consumer goods.

The No. 2 story on the U. P. list also was a "continuing" one—the United States versus Russia, inside and outside the United Nations. It was listed as "the cold war."

List Given
The U. P. list from the viewpoint of American newspaper display:

1. The high cost of living.
2. The cold war.
3. Passage of the Taft-Hartley law and subsequent litigation.
4. The Hughes-Meyers investigation.
5. Texas City, Tex., disaster.
6. Princess Elizabeth's romance.
7. Partition of India.
8. Series of airplane disasters.
9. Arab-Jewish controversy over Palestine.
10. The world series.

Judging Slated at Livestock Exhibit

CHICAGO, Dec. 1 (AP)—Top specimens of cattle, sheep, hogs and horses, the finest stock on American farms, went on the exhibition stands today as judges at the International Livestock show began eliminations to select grand champions in the various breeds.

Today was the first day of judging the entries of adult exhibitors, but judges were busy last week selecting junior champions submitted for the most part by boys and girls of the 4-H clubs across the nation.

Many of the junior winners moved their animals into the top judging circles, however, and some of them claimed the competition for junior honors, entering their prize animals.

Othman Finds Remodeling Is Not Easy Job

(From Past Col.)
They buy these materials where they can, mostly in the dark gray market, at prices to make me shudder. Two plumbers also earn $25 a day each and so does an electrician. They seem to be giving our enterprise their all when they actually come to work. For the last four days they've been on a hunting trip; we continue to be without a kitchen sink.

Our carpenter cheerfully puts out walls and puts 'em back in other places to Mrs. O's specifications for $16 a day. He's only been absent from work once; seems he was butchering a pig at his place down the pike and accidentally stabbed himself.

He has a helper, who works by the hour for $1.75, but we haven't seen much of him because lately the weather's been nice. He has another job on sunny days, shucking corn for a neighbor down Vienna, Va.

According to her figures on the back of an old envelope she may even get the job done for less than $5,000, unless she has troubles with the plumbing supplies. But bathroom is another story, which, with your permission, I propose shortly to tell you. Very peculiar, the bathroom situation.

Dust on a light bulb can cut its efficiency by as much as 20 per cent.
