

Montana Tourist Area's 38th Car Accident Fatality

An automobile driven by a Montana man hurtled off the highway Friday night, plunged the driver to his death and raised the death toll for Twin Falls county to 13 and to 38 in Magic Valley for this year.

Three others were injured in the accident in which Harold L. Sullender, 25, Twin Springs, Montana, was killed. The accident occurred nine miles west of Buhl on U. S. highway 30 at 6:15 p. m. Friday.

The injured, all of whom were reported in fair condition Saturday night at the Twin Falls county general hospital, are LeRoy Switzer, Gwen Thomas and Francis Rae; all of Twin Springs.

Sullender's car went out of control after it struck the wheel of a boat trailer behind a pickup truck, according to Deputy Sheriff Kenneth V. Elkin who investigated.

The truck was operated by Bill Kenyon, Castleton, according to Elkin, who estimated the Montana must have been going at high speed. He said the Montana car landed on the top 100 feet beyond the point of impact with the trailer.

Chet McCain, Castleton, a passenger in the truck told Elkin he shouted a "look-out warning" to Kenyon when he saw the Montana car top a hill along the highway.

McCain said Kenyon swung the truck toward the borrow pit, but the Montana car struck the trailer and passed. The Montana people were going to a Nevada wedding Elkin said.

Two other Castleton men told Elkin they saw the Montana car plunge off the road and into a canyon. They were Earl Hudson and "Red" Elkin, who were following Kenyon on their return from a goose-hunting trip.

Sullender's body will be returned to Twin Springs, Mont., for burial.

U. S. Ends Its Italian Patrol, Tells Warning

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—On the eve of the withdrawal of the last American troops from Italy, President Truman warned tonight that if Italy's freedom is threatened directly or indirectly by the United States will consider "appropriate" measures.

Warning mounting communist-led strikes and disorders, the formal 100-word statement emphasized that the troops are being withdrawn in accordance with treaty obligations, the United States has no means for the long-term preservation of the peace and independence of Italy.

The statement coincided with reports which lacked official confirmation that the government is actively considering supplying modern arms to the limited forces permitted to Italy by the new peace treaty.

Mr. Truman's statement was published as a final contingent of 1,000 American troops prepared to board a homeward bound transport at Naples.

The treaty, which went into effect Dec. 18 following its ratification by the United States, Britain, France, the Soviet Union, and the United Nations, called for the withdrawal of all allied occupation forces within 90 days and the period expires tomorrow at midnight.

Five thousand U. S. troops remain, along with British and Yugoslav forces of the same size, to maintain the peace in Italy. Trieste, on the Italian-Yugoslav border.

U. S. treaties with four other axis satellite nations went into effect at the same time as the Italian pact. These require the withdrawal of Russian occupation troops from Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Russia, however, may continue to maintain forces of unspecified size in these countries to safeguard lines of communications and to insure the failure of the major powers to agree on an Austrian treaty keeps red army occupation troops in Austria.

The assembly reconvened for the second debate December 12, after shouting and name-calling and the communist president, Umberto Terrasini, suspended the session.

Stop-Gap Aid 'Compromise' Set by Group

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—A compromise "foreign aid act of 1947" emerged from a Senate-Senate conference today authorizing the $1,497,000,000 asked by the administration but allowing China to share as demanded by the house.

The administration had asked the $1,497,000,000 for stop-gap aid for France, Italy and Austria, pending consideration of the long-range Marshall plan for European recovery.

The Senate wants to keep the house cut the total to $1,000,000,000 and marked China for the share as demanded by the house.

The Senate and house bills then went to the joint conference committee which drafted the compromise after a long session.

It now goes back to Senate and house, which are expected to approve it after a long session.

Major changes made in ironing out Senate-house differences were outlined in this way by Senator Vandenberg, R. Mich., chairman of the Senate committee.

1. $1,497,000,000 "is the ceiling on aid to the four countries."

2. President Truman is directed to obtain at least 150,000,000 pounds of wheat, flour and other wheat products in this country as a stockpile for emergency use.

Santa Claus Goes to Town—and so Do the Kids!

Shortly after Santa Claus hit the city part in Twin Falls Saturday, he was submerged under an avalanche of young humanity. On rare occasions when he came to the surface, Times-News photographers were on hand to catch pictures of him. In desperation, one cameraman got Police Officer Jess Carlson and Radio Announcer Joe Clements to boost him up above the crowd and he snatched in the shot at top. Photo below was made by the other cameraman just as the crowd of youthful admirers began to close in on Santa. Estimated 4,200 Youngsters Turn Out To Greet Santa Claus Here Saturday

A royal welcome, "delirious," was extended to Santa Claus Saturday night by an estimated 4,200 youngsters when Santa winged his way from the north pole to Twin Falls for his first visit.

"Santa started forming at 10 a. m. and by noon the city park almost overflowed with kids waiting to see their first sight of the gentleman in the red suit."

Santa's plane arrived over Twin Falls at 7:30 p. m. as scheduled, the city while the crowd of youngsters waited for the completion of the ceremony.

The ceremony was directed by the city and then carried over the city longer than originally scheduled. When he alighted from the plane, piloted by Charles Crowe, his cheeks were even rosy from the cold, indicating that he had a cold.

The official report of the airplane was that the plane was "fully loaded" with gifts and that the plane was "fully loaded" with gifts.

Both Sides Refuse Water Compromise Offered by Bureau

When opposing factions in the controversy over American Falls reservoir water level of an informal compromise offered Saturday by the bureau of reclamation, each declared it would have nothing to do with it.

The compromise was made public in Boise by R. J. Newell, regional director of the bureau. It gives the 23 canal companies now leasing American Falls water an opportunity to purchase 315,000 of the 420,000 acre feet now under lease.

According to the Associated Press, the compromise also calls for assurance that substantially all of the irrigated acreage on the proposed Palisades reservoir not used for the development of new land will be contracted for by the present water users and that a saving of 250,000 acre feet of water annually will be made.

Newell said the proposal was made by the bureau after the "Committee of Nine," a water users' group, had rejected previous proposals and the bureau to turn back the water to the committee.

Under the proposal, 67,000 acre-feet of water would be sold to the American Falls water users for $1.50 per acre-foot. The water would be sold for 10 years, with the option to purchase for 20 years.

'No Quarter' Russian, U. S. Trade Tiff Seen

LONDON, Dec. 13 (AP)—A "no quarter" economic war between the United States and the Soviet Union for Europe appeared a certainty tonight as Britain and France looked to Secretary of State Marshall to take any lead in ending the deadlocked conference of foreign ministers.

Today's meeting of the ministers was postponed until Monday, on Britain's initiative, to allow tempers to cool after yesterday's violent street brawls.

Molotov, who yesterday lambasted the western countries in severe fashion, had luncheon with Secretary Marshall this noon at the home of Ambassador Lewis Douglas. An authoritative source said the luncheon was "fairly social" and kept deliberations on.

The majority of the French, British and American delegations were reported agreed that the London conference was "hopelessly" deadlocked.

A Soviet source said after Friday's meeting that it would be up to Marshall to end the meeting as the Soviets would not take that step.

While the American delegation saw no hope of reaching agreement, there were two schools of thought on ending the session.

One group felt Marshall should return to London to make an appeal in order to halt Molotov's use of the conference for propaganda purposes.

The other group, largely American, felt that the conference was "hopelessly" deadlocked and that the American delegation should return to the United States.

GOP Plan for Inflation Fight Told by Panel

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Senate Republicans today put forward a 10-point anti-inflation program geared to voluntary action in combating rising living costs, but promised if this does not work to consider authorizing government controls.

They pegged their program to voluntary limits on price increases, inventories and voluntary agreements to parcel out scarce commodities.

The Republicans called for an increase in production, a cut in government spending, and a cut in government borrowing.

Boost in Gas, Oil Price Due Soon in State

By The Associated Press
SPOKESMAN for the oil industry Saturday predicted a round of gasoline and other petroleum product price increases and the Tulsa World declared buyers would be paying more for wholesale refinery oil in Idaho and six other states.

Soco-Vacuum advanced motor gasoline, aviation gasoline, home heating oil, light diesel oil, and kerosene by nine-tenths of a cent a gallon. This was the first move toward increased prices as far as the Tulsa World declared buyers would be paying more for wholesale refinery oil in Idaho and six other states.

Lewis Returns To Lone Wolf Role in Labor

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23 (AP)—John L. Lewis returned to his familiar role of a "lone wolf" labor leader because, informed sources said, he wanted one hand in next year's presidential election.

The unpredictable 67-year-old leader of the United Mine Workers pulled his union out of the AFL late yesterday with a dramatic announcement that surprised most, and brought disapproving comment—but no sign of revolt—from some of his 600,000 members.

Secret Note. Lewis announced his decision in a 14-letter handwritten note to AFL Pres. William Green which said: "We disaffiliate."

E. C. Adams, editor of The Miners' Journal, showed it to reporters and then gave it to the manager of the union's building to deliver to Green's office.

Adams said the break was made because AFL leaders are "too afraid to fight" the Taft-Hartley law.

AFL sources said they suspect the move was hastened by the organization last week of the AFL's political league with authority to endorse presidential candidates next year if it so chooses.

Normally a Republican, he supported Wendell Willkie in 1940 and Thomas E. Dewey in 1944. In 1936, he backed President Roosevelt.

Both Factions In Row Spurn Compromise

The canal committee, was asked if his side of the controversy would accept the bureau's compromise, he emphatically replied "of course not."

Stark With Report
"I don't think any of the water should be sold to the canal companies," he declared. "Even though the Clinton report puts down on the acreage which we think should be reclaimed on the north side of the river, we are willing to stand on it. But any compromise which cuts down any further the number of acres of new land to be reclaimed, I will not favor."

When American Falls dam was built, he continued, residents in this area were led to believe there would be 100,000 acres of new land on the north side reclaimed with the surplus water. The Clinton report, he added, guarantees only approximately 30,000 acres.

We Miss Out
"That's as far as we will go. Under the bureau's new proposal, the north side tract will be able to irrigate only 12,000 acres."

"That's out of the question!" The attitude of the canal companies, he continued, is going to hold up construction of Pallasdes dam. If they get all the water they want out of American Falls, there'll be nothing left for Pallasdes, he added.

Pallasdes dam should be built, he emphasized, and then let the canal companies get their supplemental water from there.

Higher Cost
The canal companies have been against this proposal all along because, they claim, supplemental water from Pallasdes would cost more than the water from American Falls.

R. P. Parry, Twin Falls, attorney for the canal companies, Saturday said the compromise proposal was given to the companies last Thursday and they took it under advisement.

Water users, he pointed out, do not agree with the bureau of reclamation that any of American Falls water is to be used for new land.

Problems
Parry also pointed out that the question of supplemental water cannot be decided as the bureau suggests—as a whole. Each company has a different problem, he said, and each must solve its own problem individually.

According to the Associated Press, Newell also announced that the bureau had set up a program for an immediate investigation of the possibilities of pumping ground water on that part of the Minidoka North Side pumping division lying north of Rupert and Paul. If found feasible it would make possible irrigating the full 37,000 acres of land called for in the Clinton report.

Survey made of the Snake river and its tributaries.

Last summer a test farm was started north of Rupert using water pumped from the ground for irrigation.

Eligible on Saving
Newell pointed out that Congress in authorizing the Pallasdes dam project, to be constructed north of Idaho Falls, stipulated construction would not begin until the bureau of reclamation was given assurance that water savings amounting to 25,000 acre-feet be effected by present users.

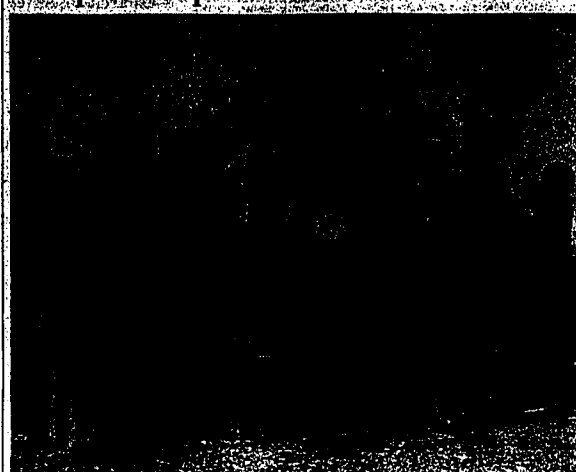

Newell also proposed that the Minidoka project be completed equitably for the loss of winter power that will result from a more intensive water saving program. He also suggested that the compensation be handled as part of the Pallasdes project.

Urges Settlement
In submitting his proposal to the "Committee of Nine," Newell urged an early settlement of the problem in order that construction of the Pallasdes reservoir can begin.

Newell said that in each compromise statement "while details of the various allocations of Pallasdes reservoir construction costs are not yet officially determined sufficient is known to permit our stating that the cost of the Pallasdes storage capacity to water users be recommended to Congress will be $7.75 an acre-foot."

Any agreement reached by the bureau and water users must have congressional authorization before it could be put into effect.

Rare Good Fortune Saves Man When Big Truck Falls on Him

L. E. Routh, 243 Blue Lakes boulevard south, would at least be in the hospital today except for rare good fortune and quick action on his part.

When a 6,700 pound coal truck began to fall sideways on him Friday, he fell to the floor of a service station and was saved from being crushed by a 20-inch high concrete wall.

The incident occurred when the empty coal truck owned by the Idahoas corporation, 116 Railroad avenue, fell from a hydraulic grease point as it was raising the truck prior to a repair job.

While details of the various allocations of Pallasdes reservoir construction costs are not yet officially determined sufficient is known to permit our stating that the cost of the Pallasdes storage capacity to water users be recommended to Congress will be $7.75 an acre-foot.

side window of the service station in order that a wrecking truck could apply chains to right the truck so that it could be removed.

Routh, a yard foreman, was watching the hoist as it was being operated by Oscar Black in the service station, 116 Shoshone street west, about 4:15 p. m. Friday.

With alarm he noted the truck began to slip. With instinctive precaution he threw himself back to the ground alongside the "wall" which separates the grease rack from the car wash department.

The truck thundered toward the garage Routh, shuddered and lay still. Unbelievably, and with Black's aid, Routh crawled out—and felt himself gingerly.

Aside from a torn coat and a "stiff shoulder" Routh said he felt alright. He looked at the spot he had lain a moment before and said "I guess my time isn't up yet."

The truck sheared a car in the wash rack, denting it slightly. After Routh crawled free, the washers resumed their job and the driver drove away his car.

Chamber Sets Selection for New Officers

Selection of 1935 chamber of commerce officers from the thirty elected board of directors will be made at the Dec. 19 chamber meeting, according to O. J. Bohne, secretary.

The new board of directors, selected by an election Dec. 8, includes John Platt, Edward W. Oran, Orville Chazey, Glenn W. Oran, Dr. Frank J. McAlister and W. M. Carney. They replace Glen Jenkins, Charles Allen, A. L. Crowley, O. D. Hais, R. J. Schwendman and A. R. Timmons.

Bohne reported at Friday's meeting that the committee setting new railroad depots for Twin Falls will contact Union Pacific officials this week in an attempt to set definite plans for the buildings.

The chamber has been accepted for membership in the National Farm Chemurgic council and will receive pamphlets on agricultural products in this area for Idaho Valley farmers, Bohne said.

Bohne pointed out that a committee will be appointed this week to plan the annual chamber general membership meeting in January. He said the committee will announce the time of the dinner banquet at a later date.

Irishman Loses "Tug-of-War" to Big Plow Horse

WATERLOO, Ore., Dec. 13 (AP)—A 1,200-pound plow horse and a 225-pound Irishman engaged in a tug-of-war today, and the horse, rather remarkably, won.

But a lot of the 2,000 spectators who came through a driving rain to the great battle of Waterloo were pretty set back. Science didn't figure it that way, they said. Science said the man should win.

"Baldy" the horse, stood at one end of a field, a 300-foot rope attached to his harness. At the other end of the rope, flat on the ground, his feet braced against a wooden block, was Chester Filtrater, a red-headed Irishman from the town of Lebanon.

The theory of the contest was that the Irishman was that the horse would be so light that he wouldn't have enough traction power to pull Filtrater to an upright position.

But the people who converged from throughout the countryside to Waterloo, Oregon, to watch the Irishman days found it didn't work out that way.

The gun went off. Filtrater braced himself. Baldy started moving.

Rules allowed the horse three minutes. In exactly 29 seconds Baldy pulled the rope taut, and up came the Irishman into the air and 10 feet along in the mud.

Warren Says Inflation Top U.S. Problem

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 13 (AP)—Gov. Earl Warren of California, candidate for the Wisconsin gubernatorial nomination, today called the high cost of living and inflation the nation's No. 1 domestic problem, but said he did not favor price controls unless necessary to stop "runaway inflation."

Warren gave his views at a news conference between sessions of the conference of western governors. He told reporters:

1. That he did not believe "we should close our minds to any device that will stop inflation," and that he favored "everything short of controls to accomplish this job."

2. That the Marshall plan or any other plan for the aid of Europe involved two important factors—taking care of immediate hunger and rehabilitation of war-wrecked foreign economies.

3. That the United States must stay sufficiently strong in a military sense "to keep our commitments and to do whatever it takes to protect our position in world and national defense."

4. That universal military training is "absolutely essential" to maintain this country's national military strength.

Favors Non-Partisanship

5. That he personally liked political non-partisanship on the local level and to some degree in the governmental administration. He said, however, that he did not believe non-partisanship should be extended to the national administration or congress "quite to the contrary."

6. That reclamation and associated problems were still on the farthest high priority list, and that he wanted to appear personally before congress to urge completion of the present reclamation program, but to institute some additional projects.

Bad News Greeted Man After Saving Pair From Death

SANPOINTE, Dec. 13 (AP)—Officers who awaited the arrival of an overcast motorist to notify him of the death of his mother, learned today he had been engaged in a last-minute rescue of two fishermen whose boat had capsized in Idaho's deep and vast Lake Pend Oreille.

Sheriff Robert Klerick said the motorist, Ray H. Carlson of Spokane, stopped to investigate an overturned canoe boat in the lake. As he got out he heard cries for help and learned that the two fishermen, Glen Chumley, 31, Dover, Idaho, and Donald Newton, 30, Sandpoint, were in the icy water, clinging to the far side of the craft.

He ran to a nearby home and borrowed a boat. When he reached the men he found them so exhausted and cold he was unable to get them into the craft and had to tow them to shore. Officers and a doctor used an inhalator on the man for an hour and a half to help restore them.

Sheriff Klerick reported afterward that he had been trying to reach Carlson, a Spokane painter, for some time to advise him that his mother in Spokane had died. He found him when called to the scene of the boat mishap.

Yale Spud Buying Boost Found Dud

TWIN FALLS, Dec. 13 (AP)—An expected Christmas buying spurt did not materialize in Idaho's potato market this week and industry observers foresee a continued slack in demand until after the first of the year.

Reports indicated today that other potato producing sections experienced only a slight improvement in demand during the week.

Many of the potato warehouses are closed in east Idaho because of the slow market conditions.

East Idaho has shipped a total of 7,000 cars of spuds so far this year as compared with 9,369 cars for the corresponding time last year. The Idaho totals show 14,501 cars shipped compared with 17,539 up to this time in 1946.

No Decision for Mexican Workers

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 13 (AP)—There has been no decision as yet as to whether Mexican nationals will be allowed in the United States next year to work as agricultural labor, Carlos Grimm, Mexican consul, said here today.

Grimm said he had been informed that while recommendations have been made by both the United States and Mexican governments that such labor be admitted, no agreement has been signed as yet. He said that if and when the agreement is signed, the exact number of Mexican nationals admitted to the United States will depend on Mexico's labor needs and the demand for them in the United States.

Knutson Sets New Move on Pay Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Chairman Knutson, R. Minn., of the house ways and means committee said today he will introduce on the last day of the special session a bill to cut income taxes by perhaps $1,000,000,000 a year.

This will place the measure in position for early action when congress meets again in January.

For the first time since the two-year war with the Democrats over tax reduction began early this year, Republicans may call for increased personal exemptions as well as percentage slashes in various brackets.

This tentative agreement was reached during a closed door meeting of Republican members of the committee late yesterday. Knutson said they have yet to put a final draft on paper.

Cuts Reported
The proposed cuts were reported to be as follows:

1. Increased personal exemptions from the present $500 to $600, thus cutting 6,000,000 low income earners off the tax rolls as well as giving the other 42,000,000 taxpayers a reduction. Estimated cost to treasury, $1,200,000,000.

2. General application of the community tax principle under which husbands and wives in some states (including Idaho), are permitted to divide their incomes for tax purposes. Cost in revenue, $400,000,000.

3. Percentage cuts—30 per cent on taxable incomes up to $1,000; 20 per cent on taxable incomes in the $1,000-$4,000 bracket; 10 per cent on taxable incomes over $4,000. Revenue loss, $2,000,000,000.

The bill also would cut gift and estate taxes by around $150,000,000.

Voters Can Disapprove School Unity Plans, Writer Declares

Editor, Times-News:—According to senate bill 90, section 4, the county committee is to prepare and submit a plan for school district reorganization prior to Jan. 1, 1948. We are not forced to accept it, but we may be forced to accept it. A plan goes to the state committee and then an election is called. You can vote "no" if you wish, but if a majority of all the area's vote is in favor of consolidation, the little schools are gone. They have lost control and much damage may be done to city and town schools. No change can be made for five years except to join larger districts.

Girl Insists Most High School Students Favor Youth Center

Editor, Times-News:—I read recently where some persons had been told that most of the high school students favor the youth center. I am not going out and getting a youth center instead of "yes" about it. That makes me so mad I could scream. "Why don't we work for it?" We have been working for it. We've got kids in the high school signing a petition for a youth center. We want to prove to our mayor and business men that all of the kids want one, but we can't get it ourselves. How I wish we could! Just what are we supposed to do? Let bricks and pound boards and get it all done ourselves? We need

There was nationwide speculation over who would fill General Eisenhower's brogans as Army Chief of Staff when "Doc" went collegiate and accepted the Presidency of Columbia University. Eisenhower was strictly a top man in a top job. But now that General Omar Bradley has been selected, "Doc" can turn in his uniform with an easy mind. Much of the success of our Army in Northwestern Europe was due to Bradley's careful planning. The Veterans Administration could have been a political football, but Bradley kept it clear of politics and got it running smoother than a Swiss watch. His choice as Chief of Staff is as right as two and two making four. A smart New York store is offering a 14 karat gold suspender for men... at about $400.00. Suspender, at $400.00... that's a double hold up. But there's nothing to hold up your contribution to the treasury of this community, let's get on the friendship ship train sponsored by the Junior Chamber for this purpose. Leave your contributions of Potatoes, Beans, Canned Food, Walnuts, etc., at the Show Rooms of the Union Motor Co., the Salvation Army and the American Red Cross. Let's make it a Merry Christmas.

The conflict between Russia and the western democracies is of history—or at least that's the way it seems to the present generation. It has to be the case, however, that it would be equally tragic if the world allowed waiting to blind it to the true nature of this struggle.

There still are folks in the United States who think that because Russia was our ally in the world war the present clash must be based on misunderstanding. Therefore, they think the difficulty can be cleared up by secondary and concessions toward the Soviet union.

Not That Easy

It would be grand if the problem could be solved so easily! The trouble with such an argument is that it's based on "what is" and not on facts. What are the facts which should govern our attitude in this historic clash?

Well, in the first place we must recognize that the Soviet union was our ally purely by force of circumstances over which it had no control. Russia signed the non-aggression pact with Hitler willingly, knowing that this would precipitate the World war, and at the same time the two countries partitioned Poland between them.

GOP Plan for Inflation Fight Told by Panel

Panel are inadequate to meet specific problems, we will consider the possibility of authority to meet such particular problems.

To Provide Funds
The Republicans also will attempt, the statement said, to pass an appropriation bill at the emergency session to provide funds where necessary to carry out their intended program.

The statement set forth these 10 points on which it said committees are now working:

1. Encourage an increase of production as rapidly as feasible.
2. Eliminate non-essential government expenses, and reduce debt and taxes.
3. Restrict exports, particularly to countries which have not suffered the devastation of war.

Discourage Bank Credit

4. Discourage further increase of bank credit for non-productive uses. The statement said that "the administration has failed to use effectively" the power which it has had to restrain bank credit.

5. Discourage undue increase of consumer credit.

6. Support a voluntary program to eliminate waste in the use of grain and food.

7. Support a general program to encourage all those in a position to do so to save more.

8. Authorize the President to limit imports to temporary and voluntary agreements with industries to limit inventories and authorize priorities, so as to remove bottlenecks in the production of vital commodities.

Extend Rent Control

9. Extend rent control for another year, "making such adjustments as are required to give full treatment to tenants and owners alike."

10. Give authority to the extent necessary to prevent "monopoly and excessive speculation on commodity exchanges."

Because the senate group reached its agreement on anti-inflation policy, the house banking committee recommended passage of its own bill. This also is based on the belief that the cost of living can be curbed largely through voluntary action, instead of the compulsory control powers which President Truman asked.

Removal of Dead Begins After Six Survivors Saved

WHEATFIELD, Mass., Dec. 13 (AP)—With the rescue of six survivors of the crash of a big U. S. military plane in Labrador yesterday, the air transport command today continued the task of removing out bodies of 23 other army men killed in the disaster.

Four of the six survivors, some of whom were injured, were flown to the air base at Goose Bay, N. Y., where they arrived at 11:30 p. m. last night. They were identified by the AEC as Capt. J. M. Hickley, Abilene, Tex.; Sgt. Joseph Stefanowicz, Warren, O.; Corp. Gene L. Z. and Corp. John Shaver, Haverhill, N. Y.

The other two—Lieut. Col. Harry Bullis, Portland, Mich., and Tech. Sgt. William J. Bujak, Philadelphia—remained in a Goose Bay, Labrador, hospital.

Bullis was quoted by investigators as saying the plane "seemed to come almost to a stop in mid-air" before plunging.

That indicated, military authorities said, that a power failure sent the air transport command plane plunging to earth at a speed of nearly 100 miles an hour Tuesday night, about eight miles from the Goose Bay base.

C-47 Crash Cause May Be Mystery

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 13 (AP)—An Air Force investigator studying the twisted, burned remains of the plane privately expressed the opinion the cause of the crash of a C-47, killing 30 men near here Thursday night, would never be known.

There were few clues as the investigation continued today. Bits of the plane, a parachute and flesh were scattered over a quarter mile path through a wooded section two miles from the municipal airport.

The military version of the 21-passenger C-47's fall—was on route from El Paso, Tex., to its home base, Aberdeen, Md.

It's Easy to See Why They're Cold Weather Cattle

This photo of the shaggy Scotland Highlander cattle that sold Saturday at the Hollenbeck Sales Yard shows why they thrive on cold weather. The heavy coats protect them from sub-zero temperatures where they thrive and grow fat under conditions that kill other breeds of cattle. (Staff photo—enlarging)

7 Scotland Highlander Cattle Puzzle Buyers at Auction Sale

There was much shuffling of feet, craning of necks and queries of "What's that?" when seven shaggy Scotland Highlander cattle trotted into the auction sales ring at the Hollenbeck sales yard Saturday afternoon.

Rarely seen in these parts, the strange looking cattle were brought here by Roy Plesinger, route 1, Twin Falls, and L. B. Piery, Buhl, from high in northern Montana near the Canadian border. Admirably adapted for that climate, the rugged beasts can survive and even grow fat where other types of cattle will starve to death.

According to Plesinger, they stand around in sub-zero temperatures and take life easy, living on the bark of trees or digging down through deep snow for food.

While awaiting the sale here, they created quite a stir of excitement among onlookers, plus the minor sensation when they entered the sales ring.

All yearlings and averaging about 700 pounds each, they sold to Bill Wiseman of the Stock Growers' Commission company for 20 cents per pound at the sale.

Boy Accidentally Shot During Hunt

CALDWELL, Dec. 13 (AP)—Joseph A. Colegrove, 15, Menominee, Mich., was killed today when he was shot in the face while hunting rabbits with his brother-in-law, Tracy Hammond, Caldwell.

Hammond said he saw a movement in the brush and fired, the charge from the shotgun striking the victim in the face. The Rev. R. G. Hammond, pastor of the First Free Gospel church of Caldwell and father of Hammond, was accompanying the hunting party.

Colegrove had come to Caldwell recently to visit his sister.

The boy's death is the 14th hunting fatality in the state this year. Three others hunters have died of heart attacks or have drowned while retrieving ducks.

Northwestern Telegraphers Favor Strike

SEATTLE, Dec. 13 (AP)—E. M. Blackfield, acting president of local 46 of the Commercial Telegraphers' union, said today telegraphers in Seattle and the Pacific Northwest were voting 4 to 1 in favor of a strike against the Western Union Telegraph company.

Blackfield said results of the voting, which began the first of the week, will be announced Monday.

The voting committee of 100 members in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, is on a proposed national walkout over Western Union's refusal to grant the union demand for a 15-cent hourly wage increase.

MAJORITY IN FAVOR
WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—A majority of the AFL local unions among Western Union Telegraph company employees have voted for a pre-Christmas strike against the big utility, union spokesmen said today.

They said that some unions voted 30 to 1 for a walkout that would be the first nationwide strike in 40 years against the telegraph company. Western Union's first meeting will be held tomorrow. They plan to make an official tabulation of the strike vote among the 50,000 employees on Monday and set a strike date.

The federal mediation service is in touch with the parties, a spokesman said. Further meetings probably will be called in an effort to head off the walkout, he said.

Thousands of Children Out To See Santa

hand at the airport where the little folk got in some early requests for presents before the delays hit him at the city park.
After photographs had been made of the procession, the procession started cityward. As Chief Ollie approached the east, Five Points, he turned up the "red" light of his patrol car in the lead and others joined in to add to the wall. At the Five Points, the entourage picked up other city and county cars, plus a city fire engine. With all these lights, the procession moved along Main avenue while bands popped from windows and doors and children and grown-ups lined the curb to see what was happening and to wave at Santa. He acknowledged as much of the acclaim as possible. After passing the business district, the escort moved down Shoshone street to the city park where Santa Claus and his reindeer were waiting. He had a few brief moments of comparative ease when Announcer Joe Clements interviewed him for Radio station KVMY as he sprang out of a big chair while Boy Scouts held back the pushing mob of youngsters. But soon they began to breathe and Santa disappeared under a mass of young humanity, from which he emerged only at intervals in a four-wheeled sled in a high sea.

A brigade of Boy Scouts and members of the Merchants' Bureau were on hand to keep order and pass out special treats Santa had brought for the occasion. Colorful candy canes and other surprises were in Santa's gift bag.
The container for Santa's letters was overflowing at the end of the event. Station KVMY, through the local north pole in Twin Falls, short wave radio hook-up will present Santa next week when he will read and answer many of the letters.

Trio Hurt, Pair Pay Fines in Two Burley Accidents

BURLEY, Dec. 13.—Two persons here have been receiving treatment for a broken nose, head cuts and bruises after being injured in one of the burley accidents.
Ernest Barnes, Rupert, was reported seriously injured by hospital attendants and William Platt, Jr., also Rupert, and Jack Barclay, Paul, were treated for cuts and bruises and released.

Barnes was cited to appear before Probate Judge Henry W. Tucker and was fined $100 plus a court costs Saturday morning after pleading guilty to charges of drunken driving. His driver's license also was revoked by the judge.
Barnes was injured when the pickup truck, driven by Platt, ran into the rear of a trailer being pulled by a car operated by Lyle Morton, Burley, at 10 p. m. Friday one mile northeast of Burley on the Highway bridge across the Snake River.

Twin Falls' 43rd Christmas Much Different From Its First

Gaily festooned streets this Christmas season in Twin Falls contrast sharply with the bleak first Christmas observed by a hardy band of pioneers here. The accompanying article captures some memories of Mrs. H. O. Milner on that first Christmas when Shoshone street, shown above, was but a streak of mud. (Staff photo—enlarging)

Twin Falls' First Christmas Back in 1904 Wasn't 'White'

BY JOHN BROSNAN

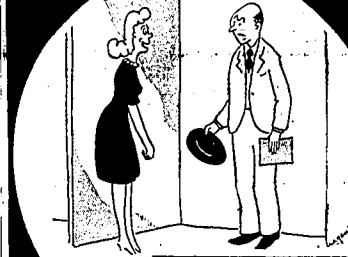

The first Christmas in Twin Falls was not a white Christmas. Neither was it an especially joyous one. But for the pioneers without whom there would have been no Twin Falls it was a memorable occasion. Even today, it is a shining memory in a ledger of hardship, dirt, mud and uncertainty.
Among those who gathered in the new school house that also served as a community center on Saturday night in 1904 to observe Christmas was a young mother who was one of the first two women to settle in Twin Falls. She is Mrs. H. O. Milner. This year, as sprightly as ever, she is busy with her Christmas shopping, but, as she walks along the garlanded and heavily-peopled streets of downtown Twin Falls, her thoughts turn back to the contrast of that first Christmas. Her thoughts sweep from Christmas, 1904, to the little fragments of life that went to make up that occasion, of the deep and bitter cold, colder than snow, through which some 200 people trudged to and from the gathering. Even so, God took care of them on that first winter. It was an open winter and mild. That was lucky for the people living almost in the open and in temporary homes.
Older memories: How the children glowed and beamed when they got their meager presents. The greatest treat of all was the orange given each child, for oranges were hard to get. The gifts were from Salt Lake City and delivered by stage coach from Shoshone. The railroad hadn't been built.
How many people lived here then? Well, there must have been about 200, because that was the number who came to the school house. No one missed that occasion, because it was all there was. The little wooden school house was just about where the American Legion hall is located today.
Yes, there was a Christmas tree. It was a big asparagus. The men of the town cut it and the children applied on additional branches until it stood ceiling high. The nearest regular Christmas trees were in the south hills, and the distance was too great to get one from there, because all available wagons and teams were constantly busy hauling supplies from Shoshone over the Blue Lakes grade.
The womenfolk and children decorated the tree... strings of popcorn and tinsel, candles, odd

Taxpayers to Get '47 Form In Next Week

Personal income tax return blanks for the calendar year 1947 are to be mailed to all taxpayers Monday, according to an announcement by the bureau of internal revenue.

Although receipt of the tax return forms may put the taxpayer on some of the Christmas spirit, they cannot be used until Jan. 1.

All Forms 1041 are being mailed for individual returns, farm schedule returns, taxpayers having capital gains and losses, partnerships, trusts and corporations.

Withholding and employment tax forms for persons employing eight or more workers will not be mailed until Jan. 2.

What way taxpayers won't get them mixed with Christmas cards and packages. Mailed after Jan. 1 they will be among "bills" resulting from Christmas.

Shortage of Help

If the taxpayer expects the usual trouble in obtaining the assistance of a deputy tax collector he should start early. There is a shortage of qualified assistants and a decided increase in the number of taxpayers.

Those who made enough money to pay the income tax in installments have until Jan. 15 to either pay the fourth installment or file a statement of income or file a complete tax return.

If the fourth installment is paid, the taxpayer has until March 15 to file a completed return. If a completed return is filed it is not necessary to pay the fourth installment. It must be combined in the completed return.

Jan. 15 Deadline

If the taxpayer makes as much as three-fourths of his annual income from farming operations it is not necessary for him to file an estimated return until Jan. 15.

He must, however, include with the return the full amount of tax shown on the return at the time of filing, but has until March 15 to file a completed return and pay any additional tax shown.

The farmer can file a completed return by Jan. 15 and wait until March 15 to make payment on the return.

Withholding Forms

Between Jan. 1 and 31 employers must give each employee the original and duplicate of form W-2 showing total wages paid and amount of tax withheld during 1947.

They must also file form W-3, reconciliation of quarterly returns on income tax withheld on wages, together with triplicate copies of all withholding statements for 1947.

Employers must file quarterly return of income tax withheld on wages covering the three months ending Dec. 31, together with reconciliation.

Tax Provisions

Employers' tax returns must be filed and the tax paid under the federal income contributions act. This tax is one per cent paid by the employer and one per cent by the employee on wages paid during the months of October, November and December.

These last four requirements must be completed during January.

Employers with no tax withheld on wages and who have made payments of interest, rent, royalties and other items must file information returns by Feb. 15. Forms 1099 and 1000 are to be used for this purpose.

Use Same Form

The same form should be used to report any dividends greater than $100 and should be mailed to the commissioner of internal revenue, in care of the processing division, O. O. Station, Kansas City 5, Mo.

By March 15 estimated tax returns for 1946 must be filed and at least one quarter of the tax paid at the time of filing. This is also the final date for filing and paying the tax on individual income tax returns, corporation and fiduciary returns.

Mail to Boise

After the taxpayer has finished the last form, totalled the amount and made the payment it should be mailed to the treasury department, bureau of internal revenue, in Boise.

When the letter is mailed the taxpayer can relax—unless he has made an improper return by not listing his entire income or by putting down too many exemptions.

Distillers Urged to Keep Grain Curbs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—The cabinet food committee today recommended that the whiskey distilling industry ration itself to 2,500,000 bushels of grain a month and forgo the use of wheat when the distillery holiday ends Dec. 31.

In a letter to distillers, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, chairman of the cabinet body, proposed that the new plan be carried out "during the next six months and so long thereafter as the need for grain conservation continues."

The proposed grain consumption compares with a usage of 5,000,000 bushels in October, immediately prior to the nationwide shutdown, and an average of 5,000,000 bushels monthly in the 12 months which ended last June 30.

The whiskey making holiday is a 60-day period agreed to in connection with the campaign to conserve grain to make more available for food abroad.

Stop-Gap Aid 'Compromise' Set by Group

mines on March 1 next that this is not necessary. This modified some what a "warrior" provision inserted by the house.

'Anti-Red' Provision Killed

2. So-called "anti-Red" provisions inserted by the house were eliminated. One barred relief organizations embracing communism and the other would have cut off aid to any nation "dominated by a communist government."

By the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. Instead a broad-term provision allows the President to cut off aid without mentioning Russia or communism by name.

A house provision allowing shipment of "incentive goods" was modified and retained.

3. Potatoes, tobacco and other products which become surplus in this country could be moved under the relief program if the President approved.

Set Up Fund

3. Nations receiving aid would be required to set up a fund of local currencies to the amount of the aid. This fund would be used to aid in economic recovery under supervision of the United States.

4. A house provision for a special senate-house committee to watch administration of the aid program was eliminated as were a number of Senate provisions that would have required special labeling and identification of all goods. Instead conferees approved provisions that will allow "representatives of the press and radio" of the United States government officials or members of congress to "observe and report" on the program.

Landon Foresees GOP 'Tke' Sweep

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Former Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas predicted today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will be overwhelmingly nominated for President at the Republican convention if the international situation becomes any more critical.

Bloody Burst of Killing Climaxes Feud in Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 13 (AP)—One of the bloodiest bursts of killing since the St. Valentine's day massacre of nearly 19 years ago, climaxed a neighborhood feud today.

In a series of shootings extending over more than six hours last night and early today in Chicago and suburban Brookfield, four men were slain—one by police, two surviving gangland-style, and one by a police officer.

The multiple slayings were attributed to a grudge of Thomas Daley, 42, an ex-convict, against John Kueale, 40, a second hand furniture dealer. Daley was killed later by police in a "shoot place" in a robbery case in which Daley was acquitted.

Daley and two companions killed Kueale, Emil Schmechel, 18, and James Cullis, 30, also known as Jimmy Alex, Police Capt. Andrew Altkin, deputy chief of detectives said. Daley was killed later by police in a "shoot place" in a robbery case in which Daley was acquitted.

Landon emphasized that he had no "inside" information about the general's future plans.

More Curbs for Unions Proposed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—Amendment of the Taft-Hartley act to make unions subject to the anti-trust laws was proposed today by Chairman Hartley, R., N. J., of the house labor committee.

Hartley told newsmen his proposal is aimed primarily at James O. Patterson, head of the American Federation of Musicians, whom the committee severely criticized in a report yesterday.

But it would not apply only to the AFM, Hartley said. "Labor unions should be equally liable with business for prosecution under the anti-trust laws," Hartley said.

Man Dearing Second Spot Is Rare Item

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—The second vice presidential spot in the nation today is a rare item. The Democratic vice presidential pick, James Forrestal, took himself out of the list of potential vice presidential candidates. He said he never could be considered for political office and added: "I couldn't be drafted."

There wasn't much chance, anyway, that the Democratic national convention next July would have picked Forrestal. His admirers were resident in New York state and the admirable job he has done during the war and since in the navy and national defense departments. But Forrestal is a Wall Street banker, former president of Pullman and company, banking is an honorable business but it is not political.

"Party in Big Business" The Democrats are going to campaign against the Republicans next year with cheap shots at the GOP. The party of big business and reaction. If Forrestal were nominated vice president the Republicans could pretty easily make those charges boomerang so they really hurt.

What Mr. Truman needs on his ticket is a spell grinding, politically glamorous No. 2 who will carry and hang his hat somewhere in the northeastern part of the country. Feeling that he is too close to the party, if anyone has such an individual under cover he should call District 17th, Washington, D. C., and reveal the name. That is the telephone number of the Democratic national committee.

Democrats Mentioned Among Democrats mentioned here as vice presidential possibilities are Gov. Mon. O. Walgren, Wash. James W. Fairley, N. Y. Sen. Harley M. Kilgore, W. Va. Sen. Millard E. Tydings, Md. Rep. John W. McCormack, Mass. Sen. Sheridan Downey, Calif. Sen. Claude Pepper, Fla. Sen. Alan W. Barkley, Ky. Gov. W. Preston Lane, Ind.

Of the lot, Tydings is judged by some persons as the likeliest unless the party wants to make a real pitch for the left wing vote. In that event Pepper would have some support although he would be bitterly opposed by all but the new deal elements of the party. Kilgore would appeal the left wing, too. Nomination of a mid-westerner seems unlikely because Mr. Truman is from that part of the country.

Fairley, McCormack and some others occasionally mentioned to run with Mr. Truman are Catholics. Men have been ruled out before on that count. If Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York City were not a Catholic or had been born in the United States he certainly would be a factor in any vice presidential speculation. He looks like the coming Democrat in New York state.

Ottoman Ends Self Unnerved By Tirade of Debate on Aid

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—The slow beginning of this week's debate on the aid to the Ottoman Empire in a few more days will be a relief to many who have been waiting for the debate to begin. The debate is expected to begin in a few days and will be a relief to many who have been waiting for the debate to begin. The debate is expected to begin in a few days and will be a relief to many who have been waiting for the debate to begin.

What Mr. Hallock said was the Ottoman's truth as sure as the truth ever has been told from the well of this house. "I congratulate him," President Roosevelt said. "I am sure that the Ottoman's truth as sure as the truth ever has been told from the well of this house. "I congratulate him," President Roosevelt said. "I am sure that the Ottoman's truth as sure as the truth ever has been told from the well of this house. "I congratulate him," President Roosevelt said.

President Roosevelt and Truman hadn't made so many blunders around the world, the curly-haired Hallock cried into the microphone. We wouldn't need to be sprinkling our millions abroad. And so on, with gestures and a laugh. Then the tall, gray Rep. John W. McCormack, Mass., the Democratic chief who could lead for a moment in the movies, strode solemnly to the microphone. Hallock's words, he said, were a rebuke of all the Republican political speeches of the year. Why, he asked the fellow lawmakers, try to act like statesmen for a change?

He was supposed to be thinking about something more important than the next election," he shouted. "Haw-haw-haw!" roared the Republicans. Their home-laugh reverberated from every temporary-permanent steel truffer in the chamber; bounced from every bald head and set as a spur to Rep. Clare Hoffman, R. Mich. He tried to interrupt the gentleman from Massachusetts. "You keep out of this," McCormack snapped. Then he said that President Truman had developed into one of the world's greatest statesmen. As for Hallock's speech, he'd been a congressman for 20 years and never heard a worse one. He said it was a Republican bore and a waste of Democratic cheers and applause. While Messrs. McCormack and Hallock glared at each other, much of the chamber was in a state of confusion.

Before the war, Belgium was 80 to 85 per cent self-sufficient in foodstuffs.
