

Idaho Woman Passes 103rd Date of Birth

WESLER, Jan. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Martha Anderson, Wesler's oldest mother and citizen, is celebrating her 103rd birthday anniversary here today.

A resident of Wesler for the past 42 years, Mrs. Anderson received widespread recognition on her 100th birthday.

Despite her age, Mrs. Anderson is still active and alert. She does her own mending and can make quick work of a square meal. Although her eyesight is failing, she still maintains an interest in reading and has a remarkable memory.

Mrs. Anderson was born at Beloit, Wis., on Jan. 17, 1845 and moved with her parents to Chicago at the outbreak of the Civil war and it was there that she met her husband, who was a contractor and architect. They were the two who were watching the famous Chicago fire. Her husband, a contractor and architect, died three years after moving here.

Mrs. Anderson has two daughters, four grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Her oldest daughter is Mrs. Martha Wells, with whom she resides. Her other daughter is Mrs. Mary Bowman of Anderson ranch.

Interesting is the fact that one of her great grand children, Miss Susan Koppes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Buhl Mans Says British Lacking Work Incentive

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 17 (AP)—Roy Wood Buhl, Idaho, former president of the Liverpool district of the British mission, Letter Day Satisfies church, said today incentives to work are not as strong in England as they are in this country.

"If a man works hard and does a superior job in this country he is promoted," Wood said. "In England he would have a different from his fellow. Promotion there too frequently results from seniority or ancestry."

He said he believed that if the British would work as hard as persons do in this country, many of the nation's difficulties would be eliminated.

Wood conferred with church officials here before continuing on to Buhl, where he operates a farm. He was accompanied from England by his wife and their daughter, Louise.

Herman Koppes of Idaho City, is just slightly over 100 years younger, Mrs. Anderson attributes her long life to her ancestors. She had two great aunts who lived to be 111 and 112.

She feels old physically, but not mentally, a fact which she attributes to "keeping up with the world," Mrs. Koppes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

It's a safe place to keep your "Treasure Top". To get your Treasure Pouch, just send 25¢ in coin to Pepsi-Cola Treasure Pouch, P. O. Box 15, New York, N. Y.

"TREASURE TOPS"—what they are

"Treasure Tops" are Pepsi-Cola bottle tops with hidden designs under the cork lining. To find the design, simply remove the cork from inside the bottle top. At present, there are 48 different designs—symbols of branches of the U. S. Armed Forces—like those shown above. At intervals during the contest, new designs will be added. That makes these big Pepsi-Cola "Treasure Top" Sweepstakes and Contests even more fun. Look for them! Collect them!

HERE ARE THE OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

- On your entry blank or a sheet of paper, complete this statement in 25 words or less: "Pepsi-Cola hits the spot because..." Then write down your own name and address, the name of the head of your family, the name and address of the Pepsi-Cola dealer who helped you, and the total number of different designs on Pepsi-Cola "Treasure Top" you have collected. Then mail your entry, together with one Pepsi-Cola "Treasure Top" with cork removed to show hidden design, to: Pepsi-Cola "Treasure Top" Contest, P. O. Box 17, New York 8, N. Y.
- The number of different designs you have collected will not be a factor in the awarding of the prizes. However, when you win a monthly prize, you must be able to show your total collection of different designs reported in the winning entry. Also, if you do not collect and swap "Treasure Top" with your entry, Send in only one top with each entry.
- You may enter these contests as many times each month as you wish, but no entry postmarked after June 30, 1948 will be accepted. Each time you enter, whether you win a cash prize or not, we will mail you a Treasure Certificate good for 100 points toward the $37,000.00 Family Sweepstakes Prizes. If you win any one of the monthly prizes, you will receive 100 additional Treasure Certificate points.
- All entries received during each calendar month will be judged in that month's contest. Entries from each state (and from the District of Columbia) will be judged separately, and will compete for the monthly state prizes only with other entries from that state.
- Monthly cash prizes as listed on this page will be awarded on the basis of prizes, originality and interest of the statements submitted (see Rule 1). Each month's national prize will be awarded to the three best entries of the 49 state first-prize winners in each monthly contest. All entries will be judged on the impartial judging staff of the Reuben H. Donnelly Corporation, an independent, nationally-known contest judging organization. Decisions of the judges will be final.
- All entries must be prepared by the contestant. Fabricate or fancy entries will not count extra. All entries and statements become the property of the Pepsi-Cola Company and none will be returned. In case of tie, the prize will be awarded to each tied contestant, except for the sweepstakes prizes, procedure for which is listed under "Rule 10."
- Only contestants living within the 48 states or the District of Columbia will be eligible. Anyone who enters these contests except the buying of Pepsi-Cola, cannot win a Pepsi-Cola cash prize or other prize awarded by the Pepsi-Cola Company or their advertising agencies. Members of the families of these employees are also excluded.

6. HUGE NATIONAL SWEEPSTAKES PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED AS FOLLOWS:

- Each Treasure Certificate received by you or member of your family (see Rule 3) counts 100 Sweepstakes Points for your family. Save them! If for the purpose of this contest, a "family" shall be considered as only persons related by blood, marriage or adoption living in the same household under one family head.
- The 100 families, plus families tying with any of them, who have received the greatest number of Sweepstakes Points in the competition, qualify for the Sweepstakes Prizes awarded by the family and also to show the total number of "Treasure Top" designs reported in the family's entries (see Rule 1). Both the number of Treasure Certificates and the number of "Treasure Top" designs must appear on official contest records in the judging staff and these records will be considered final where any discrepancy occurs.
- The qualifying families will then be promptly notified and each family will be required to submit one statement of fifty words or less on the subject: "How the Sales of Pepsi-Cola Can Be Increased." They must get the help of their Pepsi-Cola dealer in preparing this statement and must submit that dealer's name and address. The Sweepstakes Prizes will then be awarded by the impartial judging staff, mentioned in Rule 5, on the basis of prizes, originality and sincerity of the statements thus submitted.

These contests are subject to all state and local laws and regulations.

Public Forum Working of Old Age Pension Law Rapped by Burley Woman

Editor, Times-News: I read the article in the Public Forum last Sunday by John L. Gould, director, relating how the last session of the legislature passed a law that forces old folks who are receiving old age pensions to pay their taxes. They should be treated both real and personal to the state to receive the state help that help them receive throughout their lives.

The same law must exist in the state of Washington because I have a friend living there who has just written me of what she has to do for the small amount of money she receives from the state.

She is 70 years old and has done hard work to support her family and other kind of manual labor to pay for a humble home.

Now it is paid for and she isn't able to work so hard any more. So the state takes a cut on her pension for the little it does to help her. Since the hard road of living has taught experience, she has many others cannot pay for her actual needs out of the dole she state gives. If she works to make extra money, the state deducts this sum from what it pays her.

I agree with Mr. Gould that it is a pity that people are unable to pay their taxes because they are in their helpless old age. It seems to me those in position to do something about it should take steps to see that these helpless old people are properly cared for by the state.

Of course many old people who did not need this help from the state have received it and thereby abused the old age law. I suppose that is why the present laws were passed. But I think investigation should be made of each case of application for aid, and each case should be viewed on its own merits.

I am almost 70 years old myself and hope that I may never have to call on the state for help, but we never know what misfortune may befall us. The daughter of Mrs. Henry J. Wall, Twin Falls. (Staff engraving)

Both national and state prizes will be awarded to the contestants who submit the best papers. Trial Ordered For I. F. Man In Old Killing

IDAHO FALLS, Jan. 17 (AP)—Donald T. Paxton, 36, must stand trial for the alleged killing of Mrs. Zola Margaret Norris, 24, at Sportsmen's park here two years ago.

Probate Judge C. W. McNeil, who today found Paxton over to district court without bond on the murder charge following a preliminary hearing.

Prosecutor John Ferber announced after the hearing that the trial will be held late this month or in February.

Little new evidence was offered in the preliminary hearing at which four witnesses were called to testify. They were Mrs. Verna Barzee Spree, former wife of Paxton; Sheriff Dean Willie, Deputy Sheriff J. W. McNeil, and the defendant.

Mrs. Spree provided the only new testimony when she expressed the belief that Paxton returned to their hotel room in Blackfoot "near daybreak" on Oct. 15, 1945, the day when the slaying took place in Idaho Falls. This is a discrepancy from Paxton's assertions that he returned to the room "about 1 or 1:30 a. m."

Paxton reiterated his innocence, explaining that he "confessed" the crime in Hayward, Calif., last Dec. 1 while he was dependent and under the influence of liquor. He has since repudiated this "confession."

He Says Prejudice too Great For Wheat Price Control Plan

Editor, Times-News: Don't expect the Senate plan of "wheat price control" to pass much favor for some time. There is too much prejudice to be overcome. It may pass in the next few years because of the unfavorable psychology we have in regard to the plan. I am sure it will follow to do this.

Besides I'm sure we'll never overcome prejudice in respect to certain class of business interests, those whose business is buying wheat for the same purpose and gambling in future possibilities of wheat prices.

It is because of this business class prejudice the plan will not make headway. Both producers and consumers would like to see the plan as soon as possible, but because of the speculation, the plan will have a hard time.

The plan must be put into operation by the sanction of law, if at all. It is reasonable to assume that a certain congressman or present congressman is going to openly advocate and express a favorable opinion in respect to the plan in face of adverse public opinion even though he like to do so. His election or reelection as a congressman will be jeopardized.

Therefore, it is up to producers what and consumers to get together and make a concerted effort necessary following to bring the would-be congressman and those who like the plan to the open and let it be known what they do about it if elected, or re-elected.

Completion of Sewer Nearing In South Park

(From Press One) about 2,000 feet of trunk line in the Highland Park addition.

Laying sewer lines is a four-part project. Differentiate said it consists of excavating to the proper depth, laying pipe, back-filling excavations and cleaning up.

The new trunk line will serve the area between the other two main trunk lines and the outlying areas of the city. Laterals from both these areas eventually will be hooked into this third trunk line.

The first two trunk lines to be built in Twin Falls cover the original townsite and the area north to Ferguson avenue, east to Locust street, west to Washington street and south to the canyon with a few "kick overs" to the creek.

The new trunk line runs north along Madison street from Elgin street to Heyburn avenue, then west about 400 feet along Heyburn avenue. It will swing westward along Fairway to the city limits. Then west to a point northwest of the county hospital and south to the canyon with a few "kick overs" to the creek.

From the point of origin of the new trunk line, there are 1,300 feet of 10-inch pipe, then 4,000 feet of 12-inch pipe, 1,300 feet of 18-inch pipe, 2,500 feet of 18-inch pipe, 1,000 feet of 21-inch pipe, 4,000 feet of 24-inch pipe and 4,000 feet of 30-inch pipe.

Leaning Tenement of Chicago

Caught in the high area of the housing shortage, residents of this tenement must really feel like they're out in a storm, considering the leaning building. It's on Chicago's Blue Island avenue, and its sag doesn't seem to bother either the tenants or the landlord.

Weed Control Bureau Chief Lists 4 Aides

In naming four field men to help the national weed control program H. S. Gault, Twin Falls director, Saturday urged farmers to make plans to prevent seeding and spreading of weeds.

Success of the program depends upon cooperation by farmers, landowners, Gault pointed out.

Four appointed: H. S. Gault, Twin Falls director; Walter Cummings at Twin Falls; and Alvin Allen at Kimberly. All are experienced at spraying and field work, Gault pointed out.

Gault said all land owners will be contacted by the field men, and he urged owners to discuss their 1948 program with the representative.

Agreement Urged

"Landlords and tenants should reach an agreement as to weed control responsibility," he said. "Complete understanding may prevent disaster to the land they both share."

During the present year the weed bureau will request closer compliance with the state law than was the case in 1947, Gault said. In some instances noxious weeds were allowed to seed and spread last year, he added.

Sprayers Available

"County-owned sprayers again will be available for the use of persons desiring them. Many faults in last year's operation of these sprayers have been eliminated," he said.

Cost will be about 82 cents per gallon of chemical applied to the weed area. This cost will be about $1.65 per acre of ground treated. A chorate and cultivation crew also will be available for farm use.

Farmers wishing to use their own sprayers may obtain chemical information from the field men or from the noxious weed bureau office, county building, Twin Falls, Gault said.

Rough Handling Blamed in Loss Of Potato Profit

IDAHO FALLS, Jan. 17 (AP) — Rough handling by cutting deep incisions into profits of Idaho potato growers, special researchers for the Idaho advertising commission and the University of Idaho reported today.

Walter C. Sparks, horticulturist, and E. H. Humphrey, agricultural engineer, are making the investigations to find out what happens to Idaho potatoes from the time they are harvested until they appear on the table.

The two said damage starts in the harvest from chains and bladed blades loading spuds into trucks at the time of harvest and again when they are taken out of cullers for marketing. Causes additional damage and careless handling during storing and packing operations adds to the lowering of quality, they added.

As a means of combating this destruction, the experts advised farmers to increase their vigilance and handle every potato possible prepared in every operation to insure a high quality potato. Improved storage conditions in many cases also would tend to save losses to the grower, they said.

Solons Favor 4 Billions Aid In First Year

(From Press One) appropriation under discussion on Capitol Hill compares with $2,000,000,000 aid by President Truman for the first 15 months operation of the program.

Draper Cut Urged

Senator Taft, R., O., who has urged a seven percent cut, told reporter he thinks Mr. Truman "left the way open" for such action by Congress in his annual budget that actual payments out of the treasury for the recovery would reach $4,000,000,000 in the year beginning July 1.

The practical effect of this White House request for $2,800,000,000 would be to earmark that much of treasury funds as soon as the appropriation bill became law. Mr. Truman said that this authority is needed to provide loans and make material purchases, even though some of the bills might not reach the treasury until after July 1, 1949.

Chairman Bldgers, R., N. H., said the senate appropriations committee is looking into the possibility of providing a smaller amount than the requested $2,800,000,000 in direct cash and supplementing this amount with contract authority.

With the administration's side of the case already presented in detail, the foreign relations committee will turn next week to witnesses who may be more critical of some phases of the proposed program.

Bernard M. Baruch, adviser to President, will testify Monday.

Structures who have talked recently with Baruch said he has not been enthusiastic about some of the details of the program.

The brief report from the island said there were no known casualties among the population of about 3,000, which includes 56 navy personnel and a half-dozen American families of unknown numbers. All were said to have reached high ground early.

Wallace Calls For Boosts in Wages "Now"

annual convention of the Progressives of America, called "Wallace '48," and when one delegate called for Negro Sir Paul Robeson "for vice-president," they roared. "We want Robeson," they roared.

Robeson sat next to Wallace on the platform in the crowded, confetti strewn ballroom of the Fenwick erbrocker hotel, the convention hall. He was named last April by a congressional committee as one of a group of "persons invariably found supporting the Communist party and its front organizations."

Cherished Five Minutes
Wallace, however, was the main attraction. Cried in a dark suit, with his gray hair neatly combed, he was delayed five minutes in starting his hour-long speech when delegates noisily stamped and paraded and hoisted signs.

One said: "Wallace or war!" Another roared: "They say Wallace is left, but this time they know he is right!"

Wallace bitterly assailed President Truman and both major parties, and blamed high prices on "business blackmail of the government."

He said in a prepared convention speech "the Democratic and Republican machines... try to outdo each other for the affection of Wall street," and that "intelligent people" therefore will turn to a third party and relief from "runaway inflation."

Wallace told newsmen, prior to the speech, he is "in the race to stay" and he would be nominated by a third party, possibly to be known as "the people's party," in April or later. But he said it was "too early to tell" how many states he may court.

His PCA backers are a small segment of his following, he said, and "only one-tenth of one per cent" of his support comes from communists.

"Big Business" Campaign
His speech, a pamphlet declaration on domestic issues, sharply criticized both major parties, President Truman, and "big business." He said "big business blackmail of the government," bipartisan "futile gestures," and "pie-in-the-sky" promises by Mr. Truman had led to high prices.

"In the heart of inflation," he said, "is profiteering." He declared neither major party is "allowed by the big business boys to back forthrightly" by the inflation program.

No Telling What'll Come Out

Vending machines used to confine themselves to things like chewing gum and cigarettes. But nowadays, if you stick a coin in one, there's no telling what you're liable to get. At the "World's Fair of Vending Machines" in Chicago, these three were among the coin-operated novelties. From left, Edna and Edwin Faye get a hot-dog from an automatic grill, which also dispenses hamburgers and toasted cheese sandwiches. Right above, Dolores Thomas gets a one-minute shower-for-a-nickel. Right below, it is a machine that hands out a one-use toothbrush, with enough powder, for late travelers. Cecilia Wise departs a dime.

Migratory Labor Housing Stressed As Need in 1948

BOISE, Jan. 17.—More housing for migratory workers is the answer to the peak seasonal labor needs in many areas, the Idaho state employment service said today in commenting upon concern of Idaho farmers as to the adequacy of labor for peak seasons in 1948.

"This problem is emphasized this year by the end of the emergency program for transportation of foreign and out-of-state workers," the agency said.

Such transportation this year will be the responsibility of the employing farmer or farm labor association. In the case of Mexican workers, this will make the rest to the farmer pretty high.

The employment service said many American workers sought Idaho farm work during last year's harvest season, but to continue on to other farm areas because housing was not available.

Communism's First Century Comes to End

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Iva Ehrenburg, one of Russia's most rabid anti-Americans, reminds us that communism this year enters its second century and that the European revolutions of 1918 began in the spring.

That was the prologue, says the bolshevik commentator, and "the denouement is approaching."

"I don't know whether spring will come early or late this year," he said.

Well, spring in that sense may already have come to Germany. Whether it is merely demonstrating for a part of a master communist scheme, the odds are never low to take advantage of any disturbance.

Workers Hungry
The German workers are hungry. It will soon be evident, however, whether they are merely demonstrating for food, or whether the strikes are a result of "protocol M" which the allies attribute to the Belgrade conference.

"There seems to be a little doubt that "protocol M" accurately represents the aims of the communist party to defeat the Marshall plan by strikes and sabotage. It could be revealed by nationalistic German communists who are pulling out of the Russian-controlled party to work for the rehabilitation of Germany. These Germans have been learning a lesson already driven home in Italy and France. As one of them put it:

Organ for Policy
"Communism is being used by the Russians as an organ of Soviet foreign policy and what they want is not the best interests of the workers nor the German communist party."

The Ruhr strikes are being staged by the workers against the advice of their own leaders who understand that nothing is to be gained by disrupting the productive capacity which is the sole German hope of salvation.

If the strikes end suddenly it will be clear that they are merely food demonstrations such as were staged last year. If they continue very long, you can be pretty sure that the communists are in control.

"One fact is beyond argument," says Ehrenburg, "Spring will conquer; communism will conquer."

"Ike" Renews Plea for Okay Of UMT Plan

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17 (UP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today renewed an appeal for U. S. participation in "training strikes in time" so that the "peace which we have gained may be without end."

The army chief of staff spoke at a luncheon at the Franklin Institute where he received the Poor Richard club's gold medal of achievement. It was the highlight of a day's activities noting the 24th anniversary of Benjamin Franklin's birth.

No Speech Notes
Speaking extemporaneously, Eisenhower said that the statesman hopes that the strike in time will save nine... In expending money he believes he is making a wise investment for peace.

"Why does the soldier ask for a little of training in time?" he said. "So that there will be evidence of our readiness to defend ourselves against any form of aggression."

"Cannot Live Alone"
Eisenhower also noted that the democracies of the world must work in a cooperative effort because "nations cannot live alone."

The general said he was pleased by the Poor Richard medal in behalf of his 3,000,000 men and women who fight to Europe and came back determined to do everything possible to preserve the peace so necessary to retain our concept of human freedom.

With that she turned and dashed at the would-be robber who ducked and fled. Mrs. Wooten told police.

THE IDAHO DEPARTMENT STORE

Those of us who have been with the Idaho Department Store for years—the manager, department heads and most of the employees—wish to express our sincere appreciation for all the friendships and patronage extended us by the people of Twin Falls and Magic Valley. We have enjoyed being identified with this pioneer mercantile institution which everyone in south central Idaho has come to know as "The I. D."

Naturally we have been proud of the Idaho Department Store's policies and of the high standards of merchandise which we have offered our patrons. We are gratified to know that these same policies are to be maintained; that the "I. D." will continue to carry those nationally known brands which it has featured for years.

We want everyone to understand that when the Idaho Department Store changed hands recently, it was purchased by the C. C. Anderson Company of Caldwell, a locally owned concern. This firm has no connection with the C. C. Anderson Stores Company which operates stores throughout the Northwest, including those in Twin Falls and Magic Valley. The C. C. Anderson Company of Caldwell severed its connection with the larger company of a similar name in 1937.

Mr. H. MacMullen, manager of the Idaho Department Store; Mr. A. S. Bockwitz, assistant manager, and Mr. W. I. McFarland, head of the Men's and Boys' departments, have long owned an interest in the business and will continue as stockholders under the new ownership.

You have our assurance that you will continue to receive the same welcome, the same honest dealings, and that your patronage will be appreciated just as it has been in all the years past. It's still "The I. D." in every sense of that familiar term.

Solon Agrees With Indians On Working

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—At a Capitol Hill hearing, a white man's way of travel clear across the country to attend the white man's way of life.

Adam wasn't roused straight and tall like the red men in the history books. He was short, a little guy, a little bald and a little fat. Instead, he was rather a pathetic figure as he shed his worn coat and tipped into the senate committee room.

People Saved Penalties
 He begged the committee's pardon for taking his valuable time. He said, please, that he wanted to make it clear that he hadn't spent five days and nights sitting up on a bus to come to Washington to tip anybody on capitol hill. His people had saved their pennies to send him here.

All he wanted to do, he said with a somewhat sheepish grin, was to send up a few smoke signals to the president of the Mission Indians—some 25 tribes in southern California—who had a few words he wanted to say.

Tribe Very Poor
 Adam said a few words off the cuff before he began reading a prepared statement. He said that the Mission tribes added up to 2500 Indians in southern California. They were very poor, he said. Sometimes they ate second day bread. Sometimes very little else.

Then he adjusted his glasses and began to read in a faltering voice. The two bills were fine as far as they went, what the Indian wants, above all else, he said, is his freedom. The American way of life. Aren't Indians Americans?

Slaves Not Asked
 Chairman Watkins said the committee sure would like to talk to all the Indians and see how well felt about this freedom business. Sen. William E. Borah of Oregon spoke up and said, "Nonsense." Did congress send out a subordinate to talk to all of the Indians about the emancipation? Of course not.

Watkins said that he wanted to be fair and square about it, but that a lot of Indians he knew didn't want to work. Eaton said that was a normal sort of thing—neither did he.

... And Thereby Hang a Dozen Tails

Think the cat isn't trying to get in the act. He just wants to sample that saucer of milk, despite the chorus of yelps from the two pups in the box and the 12 newly-washed more drying on the line. Furor Doesn't Faze Truman Aim for White House Balcony

By HAL BOYLE
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—What good is a house with no porch? The White House has no porch. Well, in good times a lot of people throughout the country would admit a home without one.

Pres. Harry S. Truman doesn't have an unreasonable lease, but like a lot of tenants he sees no reason why the landlord should not keep his place abreast of the times.

So he is going ahead with plans for building a $150,000 balcony on the south side of the White House. And he has indicated the objections of opponents, whether inspired by political or architectural considerations, won't stop him.

Disregarding the political side of the question—and it is an election year—there is no doubt that Truman has always been frozen in the White House—just as they are for most other tenants throughout the country at the moment—and the occupants have usually had their say about the changes.

The matter of changing and repairing the executive mansion has never come down to a direct vote of the multi-million hand of owners. The attitude of most Presidents won't stop him.

"The American people see it, all right, but they don't have to live in it. My wife does—and if she says we're going to fix up the place we're going."

So there has probably never been a year since it was built that the White House hasn't been modified in some way.

In defending his balcony program to the other side, Truman cited Mrs. Millard Fillmore. Fillmore, like Truman, became chief executive after the death of the elected President.

"Old Rough and Ready" Taylor, who in 1840 washed down some wild berries with ice water against the advice of his physician and died of typhoid fever.

Society at SICE Holds Initiation

The executive mansion was a mess. A contemporary described it at the time that Mrs. Fillmore, a stern-faced lady with lace cap and rings, took over.

The Fillmores found the White House in a miserable condition, dirty and dark with no corner that seemed like a home. The great room over the blue room was covered with straw carpet made filthy by tobacco chewers.

Determined Mrs. Fillmore—just like President Truman—started cleaning up the house, put in its first bathtub (scandalously exciting then and regarded by some as immoral) and installed a cookstove to supplement the fireplace, where state dinners for 36 people hitherto had been cooked.

The changes have come on steadily ever since, including the show place home of democracy to fit the advancing times and the needs of its tenants for more space. It has spread with the expanding republic and widening government functions. If it came to sprawl—well, so does America.

In 1870-71 one of the arguments used by those seeking to move the national capital was that the White House had cost $1,515,078 from the time of Washington in 1800.

The proposal to install a balcony at the south end—has stirred the same furor as many earlier changes.

Some friends of the President feel, however, he would have saved considerable controversy if he had called it a "back porch" instead of a "balcony." Where Truman springs from—the farming midwest—nobody would quarrel with a man who wanted to build a back porch.

Borrowed in against the moquette, it's a wonderful place to set in a rocker and see how the livestock's doing.

Olive oil generally was burned in the Roman lamps used about the time of Christ.

Bulgar Chief's Threat Called Spine Chilling

By DEWITT McKENZIE
 AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
 Communism has been exhibiting ruthless direction ever since the Bolshevik revolution of 1917, but there have been few more chilling demonstrations than that given by Bulgaria's communist premier, Georgi Dimitroff, in cracking the whip over his national assembly.

It's a story which can't be repeated too often, for it epitomizes Soviet "democracy" perfectly. Dimitroff, who is one of the chief leaders of Bolshevism and is Moscow's right hand man in the Balkans, became infuriated when nine deputies dared to criticize his budget. He threatened them with hanging unless they jumped into line—and the budget was adopted.

That's the freedom which communism offers you and me in exchange for our own bill of rights. We are advised to install a dictator in the national capital, with virtual power of life and death over the populace. That, too, is the "freedom" which communism is trying to impose on the countries of western Europe in defiance of the Marshall plan.

This brings us up to a fresh development in Moscow's plan to wreck the Marshall project. The anti-communist press in western Europe has been shouting that it is a scheme by the newly formed Bolshevik government to force Germany's great industrial Ruhr.

British and American headquarters in Germany are studying details of this reported scheme, and there seems little disposition by either to doubt its authenticity, despite the fact that the Russian licensed press in Berlin says the report is nonsense.

ATTEND CONVENTION
 ALBION, Jan. 17—B. Chatham, president of the Albion Livestock association, and Vard Chatham, secretary, attended the annual meeting of the livestock association in Boise this week.

It took just one week for 10 Million excited Americans to say, "This time it's Hudson!"

It took just one week for 10,000,000 people jammed showrooms to see the amazing, beautiful new Hudson—a new kind of motor car—only five feet from ground to top, but with more inside head room and roomier seats than in any other mass-produced car built today!

Hudson is the only American-built car you step down into when entering, not up on—yet it maintains road clearance.

Hudson's new, all steel Monohull body-and-frame is the only motor-car construction that completely encloses you, even outside the rear wheels, with a rugged, box-steel foundation frame.

You ride within this frame—cradled between axles—not on top of the frame as in other cars. And as you ride, Hudson's combination of unique construction and comfort features gives you a sensation of true safety and serene, smooth going unlike anything you've known before!

Meet the new Hudson—get all the facts about Hudson's all-new Super-Six engine, the power-packed Super-Eight engine, and Hudson's "Drive-Master" transmission that provides automatic gear shifting in forward speeds. Drop in at the nearest Hudson showroom. Find out why millions of Americans are exclaiming, "This time it's Hudson!"

Martin Gains Support Help For GOP Bid

By LYLE C. WILSON
UP Political Analyst

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—Doubtful that the Republican nomination for 1948 will be won by the party's leading candidate, Joseph P. Kamp, Jr., speaker of the house of representatives, Martin is from Massachusetts and is serving his 12th term in the house. He is a well-known, homespun Yankee who grows his speeches and does not crown them. Martin is 42 years old. He was elected as New England in North Attleboro, Mass. Martin is publisher of the "Morning Chronicle" but he has been up to his ears in local, state or national politics for 35 years.

No "Boom" on
It would be hard to say that there is a Martin-for-President boom going right now. But a gathering of powerful politicians and some gentlemen with large chunks of money are looking at the man with a gleam in their eyes. They are thinking of what may happen at the Republican national convention next June in Philadelphia.

They want to be prepared for contingencies.
Above all else these particular Republican big shots—and a lot of lesser party men—are becoming increasingly convinced on the candidacy of Gen. Robert A. Taft, R. O. A review of polls has done grave damage to Taft's chances.

"Least Likely" to Win
Time after time they come up with figures purporting to show that potential Republican nominees, President Truman and the man likely to be elected, Taft. The figures may be screwy, but there they are.

Politicians have the fighting instinct of a white rabbit. They bolt when frightened and fight now a lot of them are frightened of Taft as a candidate.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York has prestige and a national following among Republicans. But most of his supporters don't love him and his new dealers in the FDP or embattled Democrats adored the late Al Smith.

Long on Prestige
On the contrary, Dewey is longer on prestige, administrative ability and general reputation than he is on affection from his party colleagues.

Of course either Dewey or Taft might come into Philadelphia with a long lead and take the nomination after a few brief ballots. But neither is able to win quickly the party will be looking for a likely Eisenhower candidate, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would be a big ticket at this stage of convention proceedings. So would Martin.

Seeks Survey for Work on Highway
GLENN'S FERRY, Jan. 17—A line survey has been requested by the Yellowstone-Sun Valley Highway association to enable counties to do preliminary and primary work on the road.

The request for the survey was made at a meeting of the association in Mountain Home Thursday. Plans are under way to improve the road from Mountain Home to Tollgate. Engineering of the Payabo-Carey section is expected to be completed in the near future so companies can work on obtaining a right of way.

Contracts also have been let for grading and stock piling the Horse Junction strip but drilling may not be done this summer.

The Mountain Home meeting was the largest to date. It was attended by Gov. C. A. Robins and other state officials.

In addition, county commissioners from Clark, Blaine, Blaine, Custer, Elmore and Camas counties were present. Some state senators and representatives attended the meeting. The next meeting will be held in Fairfield route time in February.

Among the 160 persons present at the meeting were representatives from Dubois, Howe, Arco, Carey, Ellensburg, Hildreth, Kellogg, Fairfield, Mountain Home and Challis.

Troubled State of the World, as 1948 Starts

U.S.S.R. Inflation gives despite government efforts to check it. Inflation is coming more and more into the picture. Political leaders renege on promises after World War II. Communists third party candidate.

EUROPE Many of the nations which were once united in the fight against Hitler are now divided. The European Council is trying to bring about a new unity.

CHINA Nationalism and Communism continue their long, fierce struggle with the Communists making some headway in the north and showing signs of becoming more active in the hot line in the southern section.

ASIA 1947 was the world's most troubled year since World War II. The year was marked by the "Cold War" battles.

INDIA New divisions of Politics and Hinduism face their first year with the result of the boiling point, the result of the religious warfare occasioned by religious being attacked as they made their way from the dominion to the other. The issue is still unsettled in early April.

FRANCE AND ITALY Having beaten the Communists in the first year of strength, they are now looking for a second year. They fear even greater disaster than in 1947, unless economic conditions can be improved.

GERMANY Arranged by agreement between the U.S.S.R. and the U.S. to establish separate Red and Black zones in Germany. The U.S.S.R. is all-out cold war.

PAKISTAN Hindu and Muslim religious fighting continues to explode into a full scale Holy War. Britain seems to get in Pakistan's pockets in early April.

AFRICA The Marshall plan—will it help Europe regain its feet, or will it find itself absorbed in the vital question—will 1948 see the world plunge into war?

The most important trouble maker, and the most important localized trouble, but there are other troubles which are world-wide. Next significant is probably atomic energy. Will it be successfully harnessed for peaceful purposes, or will its use be confined to destruction? And absent all these troubles, the world will still be in a state of tension.

$29,000,000 Carried Over in U. S. Budget for Use in State
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—At least $29,000,000 is carried in the President's budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 for use in Idaho, and more may be hidden in lump sum requests not identified as to objective.

Largest single amount is the $3,000,000 requested by the reclamation bureau for continuing construction on the Anderson ranch dam, a part of the Boise project. It is the largest amount in the $29,000,000 for work in Idaho, not including unpaid balances of previous appropriations such as $12,120,000 for the proposed Palisades dam and $8,000,000 for drainage on the Boise project.

Army engineers have asked $350,000 for the Heise-Roberts flood control project on the upper Snake river and Senator Dworkin, R., Ida., said it is his understanding that $100,000 has been requested for advance planning for the four navigation dams to be built on the Snake river below Lewiston.

The Indian bureau has asked $168,000, plus $27,125 from tribal funds. The park service would use $3,112 on the Craters of the Moon national monument. Bonneville power administration asks $510,000.

These total $11,940,120. In addition, the budget of the agriculture department contemplates its usual expenditures in Idaho, including about $1,500,000 for conservation and $3,244,000 for forestry. Furthermore, the state has obligated this far only $1,637,000 of the $11,912,000 allocated under the post-war federal highway program.

The $10,000 asked by the Bonneville power administration is intended to provide a connection between the federal power system and the several PEA cooperatives in the panhandle.

No funds were asked this year for the proposed southern Idaho power line, designed to aid development of extensive phosphate deposits in the panhandle.

Hurt in Mishap
HEYBURN, Jan. 17—Wanda Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Warner, was injured when she was struck Tuesday by an automobile while she was on her way to school. U. S. Has No Monopoly on Bomb Secret

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 17 (AP)—A growing number of scientists and experts engaged in the United Nations effort to develop international atomic control, believe that no atomic secret, as such, ever existed.

Members of this group also believe that within five years other nations besides America will have secrets of atomic bombs at their command.

As for production of a single atomic bomb, these men believe nations outside the United States may duplicate the feat of the Manhattan project in less than five years.

The views of these experts and scientists, representing several of the nations engaged in the U. N. atomic regulations, appear to be parallel to those of President Truman's air policy commission which reported this week that within five years by Jan. 1, 1953—there will be enough A-bombs in existence beyond our borders to make possible an atomic attack on the United States.

The official prediction with its White House label appeared here to dispel for good and all the unofficial assertions that the United States' atomic bomb monopoly might be maintained for at least a decade and possibly longer.

Hadline News
If American officials already have decided upon their prediction of when others will have the bomb, it was pointed out, future months may bring the hadline ever nearer.

One frontier atomic negotiator, that atomic control negotiations are based on the conviction that there is no such animal as an "atomic secret."

Many of the experts believe that the job of working out an international atomic agreement might be eased slightly if there were less public misinformation about "the atomic secret."

Sentence Is His Sentence

For passing a school bus discharging children in Lakewood, N. J., motorist Howard E. Phillips of Brooklyn, N. Y., was arrested by Patrolman William Fitzgerald, right. The judge imposed an unusual sentence—Phillips had to write "I must not pass a school bus in Lakewood, N. J." 100 times on a school blackboard. Here, under the watchful eye of Fitzgerald, Phillips gets to work.

Corn Lack, Consumer Demand Forcing U. S. Meat Shortage

By United Press
The prospect of another meat shortage developed today as corn belt farmers reported that they are raising fewer hogs and cattle despite record high prices.

Farmers are becoming wary, a United Press survey showed. Many recall how the bottom dropped from beneath farm prices after World War I, and they fear the same thing could happen again.

But most of the farmers instead reported that their main reason for cutting down on the fattening of livestock is the sky-high price of corn. Most animals are fattened on corn and the crop failure caused by last year's spring floods put a serious crimp in livestock feeding.

The department of agriculture reported that the number of cattle being fed for market Jan. 1 was the smallest since 1940. The department estimated the number on feed the first of the year at 3,774,000 head, a 12 per cent reduction from last year's 4,307,000.

Last year's meat production hit an all-time high, but it did not compensate, The American Meat Institute, which represents the meat packers, predicted that this year's supply would fail to keep pace with consumer demand.

The institute estimated last year's per capita meat consumption at 156 pounds, and predicted that this year each consumer would have to get along on 120 pounds less.

H. M. Conway, market analyst for the National Livestock Producers association, estimated that the total cattle population this year is 3,000,000 less than it was a year ago.

All these estimates mean that the housewife will find less meat at the butcher's counter, and she may have to pay even higher prices for it. There will be more meat than there used to be, but not enough to satisfy the present heavy demand.

Conway said the shortage had been developing for several years. He said that livestock producers have been marketing their animals at a rate exceeding production to keep pace with the consumer demands of an inflationary period.

The trend, he said, has cut the number of grass fed cattle on the western ranges.

Beekeeper Group Urges "Attention" For Bee Culture

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 17 (AP)—The national federation of beekeepers' associations urged increased attention to bee culture today as a means of increasing production of seed crops.

The group, in a resolution approved at concluding sessions of the annual convention, imposed an industry-wide assessment to provide funds for nationwide publicity seeking to increase the production and use of honey.

The wild bees are practically extinct, and even such common crops as pasture and carrots need bees to perform pollination," said James I. Hamblerton of Washington, chief of the agriculture department's division of bee culture.

"Four yields of seed crops frequently are due to leave pollination to chance." The federation reelected Woodrow Miller of Colton, Calif., as president, and chose three other officers: Carl E. Killon, Paris, Ill., vice president; Glenn O. Jones, Atlantic, Iowa, secretary-treasurer.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

By INEZ FUCKETT

I've had my dreams, I've sung my songs
So why should I sit and complain,
Because my life is not the same?
I've had my friends, I've had my love,
But I'll not grieve and wonder why
They've drifted off, have wandered by.
I've had my triumphs, had my day
Have lived to know the good and bad,
But memories don't make me sad.
For I thank God for what I've had,
My dreams, my loves, my friends, my day.

"The three mucksters of newspaper." That's what we call Lloyd Tupling, Al Lockett and Walter Johnson, the three young vets who now own and publish Idaho's illustrated newspaper, the Stateside. They probably the youngest publishers in the northwest. Before the war Lloyd was state manager for United Press, Al was on the Capital News and also taught journalism in Boise high school, Walter was news editor with the Statesman. Long before the service nabbed them, the three held endless "bull" sessions in which they discussed the exciting possibilities of publishing their own paper.

Talk wasn't the only thing they did together. In 1946, they were owners of the old Idaho Pioneer! The fact that it had only 22 paid subscriptions didn't bother them at all. They changed to tabloid size, renamed the sheet Stateside, and got out the first issue.

The boys smile now, when they recall some of the problems of those days; the engraver who would get tight and tight on making all cuts triangular in shape, the old folder which wouldn't fold straight. They didn't know much about circulation either, and put an ad in the paper for salesmen. "We got some odd birds," they said. "Once we had two salesmen in jail at the same time—one for writing a bad check, one for stealing a car."

When a man named L. B. Honstead joined their sales force however, things looked up. Before the first year was ended Stateside's circulation had leaped to 4,000. Today it's well over 6,000 and still going strong.

The boys believe in an informal setup, think an efficient magazine in the backshop is worth more than a "pretty desk" in the front office. Their shop equipment is now complete, including their duplex press. You can happen on all types of Stateside fans in their office and everybody feels at home. Once they had a golf fiend practicing shots, a magician doing tricks, and an old prospector playing the harp, all performing at the same time. None of this interrupted the swift concentrated effort of getting out the sheet.

The present copy of Stateside has 16 pages of articles and cuts. Engraving is done by the Times-News, so it's no wonder the pictures are fine. Al, Walter and Lloyd think the Times-News engraving ranks with the best put out by any metropolitan daily.

The boys are naturally proud of their staff, especially of their col-when we first met him, years ago and that's how he remains.

There are no hieroglyphics on his mummy case because this kid was young, and did something to upset his old man. So papa Takirtut disowned him by having him buried unmarked. That was in 300 B. C. and in the centuries between, the colors on the mummy cloths faded and the skin over poor Takit's well-shaped face bones has become a bit parched. His foot cloths are decayed.

For many years we have wondered what inarnation he did to make his pa so mad. "Way back there before the time of Christ, but though we have often asked him, young Takirtut keeps mum. We suspect some also-eyed Egyptian girl was mixed up in it. (One always is, you know.)

As for Piu over in the other mummy case, he's a middle-aged artisan who lived in the same period, evidently just worked and slaved, and minded his business. Maybe he was one of the nameless herdsmen who helped build those great pyramids at the corners by a stopped mitered joint pegged in three directions. That box was made in 300 B.C. when Piu was put in it. Except for jillions of wormy looking holes, it's as good as new.

It's a fine thing to visit Takirtut!
