Increase in the number of slot machines and slot machine operators in Twin Falls during the month of February made little difference in the amount of profit collected by city collectors for the month as compared with January.

Taylor Group Will Organize Drive in State

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—The third party group headed by Henry A. Wallace and Sen. Glen H. Taylor, D. Ida., will have an organization in Idaho.

That was the premise today of Taylor.

The senator added, in a statement, that no congressional candidate will be put in the field "unless the Coughlin-Goretti faction should be triumphant in the Democratic primary."

"If the congressional candidates of the Democratic party are at all 'realistic' Taylor said, they will have the whoresop of support of the third party."

Robert Coughlin is a former Democratic state chairman, Charles C. Goretti, former Democratic governor, served as United States senator for a year, but was beaten in the following primary. Taylor campaigned vigorously for Coughlin's opponent, George Donat.

Taylor, who has two more years of his present term in office, said he expects to support Wallace "both in and out of the senate."

Legion Turns Down Slap at Solon Taylor

"Trying to take a slap at Sen. Glen Taylor's withdrawal from the Democratic party by means of the fifth district American Legion council last Friday was overruled as being contrary to the non-political policy."

The resolution, presented by Donat, of the Idaho American Legion, was passed by the committee, was overruled by District Commander Henry H. B. Taylor, U. N. Terry, another Twin Falls Legionnaire, objected to its passage.

Donat argued on the floor of the meeting that the national committee of the Legion had met in anti-Wallace and anti-third party statements on two different occasions in San Diego, Calif., and Boston, Mass.

Terry countered that regardless of the situation, the matter was a political matter and the Legion, according to its constitution and by-laws, is a non-political organization.

Flays Taylor

Donat's resolution attacked Taylor, Idaho's senior senator, for "casting his lot with the communists and radicals who are the main supporters of the third party, a menace to the U. S."

At a banquet following the business meeting, Donat, department commander Charles H. Donat, urged legislators to back the Marshall plan and universal military training.

Cries Spreading Cries

Howe stated making the economy of the U. S. sound by reduction of federal spending and urged the reduction of taxes to a level "which private enterprise and the individual can function permanently."

To "achieve national security," the commander said, "you and I may have to change our minds about the Marshall plan."

Thurber will be assisted on the trip by Harry Evans.

Fairfield Scouts Take Skiing Trip

FAIRFIELD, Feb. 28.—Fairfield Scouts, led Saturday morning on their annual ski trip to the trip to Lake Thurber.

Robert Coughlin, U. N. Terry, another Twin Falls Legionnaire, objected to its passage.

15th Wedding Anniversary Couple Wed in 1888 Has 15th Anniversary Today

Although Mr. and Mrs. James E. Holloway, above, are observing their 15th wedding anniversary today, they were married in 1888 and have 16 great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Holloway first came to Idaho in 1897 and settled near Moscow. Later they lived on the Nez Perce Indian reservation where they farmed and traded with Indians.

They moved back to Kansas four years later and in 1913 moved to Twin Falls. Holloway declared he has watched Magic Valley progress from an arid agricultural desert to the fertile area it is today.

Mr. and Mrs. Holloway's 15th (or 60th) wedding anniversary is being celebrated at the home of their son, George Holloway, Twin Falls.

Czech Red Chief Declares War on 'Reaction'; Finns Need Stalin Pact Bid

HELSINKI, Finland, Feb. 28 (AP)—All indications today were that Finland will heed the summons of Marshall Stalin and enter reluctantly into negotiations for a defense pact with the Soviet Union.

Political circles here discussing the procedure for the negotiations proposed by Stalin in his note to President Paasikivi on Monday. Reliable sources said the president has asked the various parties in parliament to advise him of their attitude by Tuesday. No decision was expected before Tuesday or Wednesday.

By Tuesday the president may name the persons who will form the Finnish delegation in the negotiations expected to take place in Moscow.

There was speculation whether Prime Minister Maasilta, a Social or Foreign Minister Lemmikki, would head an all-governmental delegation, or whether the delegation would be composed of representatives of the various elements of parliament.

So far the Finns were in the dark as to what Stalin wants. Sources close to the government said yesterday that he had proposed a mutual defense pact similar to those with Russia's other western neighbors. This system of alliances now reaches across Europe, from the Baltic to the Mediterranean.

The main concern here, therefore, was whether Stalin's request was dictated exclusively by the wish to safeguard Soviet territory, especially in the case of war or threat of war.

So far, authoritative sources said, there have been no demands of any kind, such as that the Soviet army be allowed to occupy western Finland in the case of war or threat of war.

The negotiations are expected to show what Stalin actually wants. Russia Has Rougher Task Forcing Finland

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Russia is expected to have a much more difficult task forcing Finland into the eastern European communist bloc than it had with Czechoslovakia.

American officials predict that the resistance of the Finns will be much greater than that of the Czechs. They say it may, in fact, succeed in preserving for Finland some elements of liberty.

There is no longer much disguising the fact that authorities here were primarily shocked and distressed at the speed with which the Czechs gave in to communist demands.

Reports now reaching the state department tend somewhat to explain this. These are in line with press dispatches from Prague. They say that Pres. Eduard Benes had few powers of resistance left when the Communists Premier Klement Gottwald took power.

These authorities accounts on which the state department is basing its new Czech government must be largely based, summed up the situation of the Czech nation.

The Communists threatened and berated Benes with words. They pictured Czechoslovakia as a "slave nation."

physical weakness plus his knowledge that the situation was extremely dangerous caused him to give in. The Communists this came to power in a legal manner.

Finland Different

The case of Finland is considerably different. The Finns have been through two wars with the Russians in the last 10 years, and such experiences are strengthening as well as debilitating.

They came out of the war being they managed to turn against the Germans, as well as the Russians.

Senate Panel Sends ERP to Floor Debate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Senate foreign relations committee today formally recommended approval of a $4,500,000,000 European recovery program. At the same time it told the world that overseas cannot be a "permanent feature" of American foreign policy.

The committee said the recovery plan for 16 non-communist western European nations should be undertaken without "dangerous straining" of the economy of the United States.

But it added in a formal statement that the plan should be carried out in a "flexible" manner.

Capital City of Manchuria to Be Evacuated

NANKING, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Reliable sources reported today Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has decided to abandon the Manchurian capital of Changchun in a desperate effort to save Mukden from the Chinese communists.

These sources said the isolated garrison of Changchun, Kirin and Szechuan, all lying northeast of Manchuria's largest city, would be withdrawn—presumably by air.

Consulates Closed

Consular attaches of the United States and Britain left Changchun by plane last month and other Americans were flown to Peiping.

There was no official confirmation of the withdrawal report. Chiang, in the past, has strongly opposed proposals to surrender the three big Manchurian outposts, decried as a difficulty in continuing his defense.

Situation Worsens

But the situation at Mukden, keystone of the government's Manchurian defense, was growing steadily worse. Scarcely had pro-government dispatches acknowledged the fall of Yingkou, main government seaport for southern Manchuria, than other red forces were reported to have broken into Kailuon, on Mukden's northern defense perimeter.

Yingkou's capture dashed government hopes of using the port as a springboard for a counter-offensive in the spring.

Skiing Instructor Speaks in Hailey

HAILEY, Feb. 23.—Hailey Rotarians Thursday heard Otto Lang, head of the Sun Valley ski school, speak on his recent trip to Switzerland and for the Olympic games.

While money seemed to flow freely in Switzerland, where the wealthier class of people was vacationing, he said conditions in Austria, where he visited his parents whom he had not seen for many years, and France are bad.

Visitors at the luncheon were Benjamin Chandler, Coos Bay, Ore.; Fred Baker, Lake Tahoe, Calif.; Sidney Smith, Jerome, and Al Robinson, Shoshone.

One lot in Piler, and a few lots each in Berger and Hollister now stand on the delinquent rolls, Bulles said. All the other tax delinquent property in the county was either redeemed by the owners or sold.

With the exception of three parcels, all farm land in the county which had been carried on the delinquent rolls was recovered before the sale, Bulles said. The three parcels were sold.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—The not so modest Marshall plan has now burgeoned from an economic balm with a political and military administration's world program. It is a natural consequence.

British Foreign Minister Bevin has called for a "police-economic Union" of the western European states embracing the Marshall plan. He admits that impoverished England, recently described by Sir Stafford Cripps as "a beggar's bowl," needs to promote such a federation. It has neither the money nor the materials. Bevin, however, has agreed to provide the wherewithal, and with the consent of Congress.

"Because of Russia's recalcitrance, there is no 'one world,' as envisaged in the United Nations charter, in the making, and the Truman administration has agreed to underwrite it."

WALL—Greene provides the pattern which reveals how the United States has become the key unit in an Anglo-British, anti-Russian alliance of military power such as the world has never witnessed. And every step has been taken without authorization or confirmation by the United States senate, which is supposed to ratify all treaties of such solemn import.

But we have sold—or given—warships and war materials to Greece. American officers are reorganizing and equipping the Greek army. Only recently, an American officer led his troops in a charge against Russia-trained guerrillas. With Turkey as another American battle area.

Truman and Secretary Marshall realize it. But the American people do not.

SPRINKLES—Although the pact has not been written, it is a plan for a "reaffirmation of the Marshall plan" with London. It is an establishment of an offensive-defensive sphere.

Our money, our men, our materials, and in fact the forces of this joint military effort, are being provided by the United States. England is contributing to the extent of her ability, but John Bull surely lacks the power to do more.

Under the Marshall plan, we substitute for Britain in building a buffer against Russia. Although Mr. Truman states his reference to this purpose, Marshall does not. We shall rebuild their armies, navies and air forces as well as the economies of the 16 nations. To have a buffer zone so wide as to be unknown to the American public.

With England's withdrawal from Greece and Turkey, we now guarantee the maintenance of the Mediterranean lifeline to the east, as well as the land bridge from Turkey to Tokyo.

ARCHIE—This third defense-defense sector where we have linked arms—and guns—with Britain is in the Canadian Arctic. It is over the vast wastes of the Arctic, and then it is a matter of time, you may guess, which will attack us the next time.

We have sent numerous army, naval and air expeditionary forces to the Arctic. The Russians have done the same in their frozen dominions. But we have integrated our weapons, troops, uniforms and scientific facilities.

England, Holland and France have virtually withdrawn from the Arctic. The United States has either freed their colonies or given them an autonomous government. They cannot afford to maintain such extensive and expensive outposts.

Under agreement with these nations—although not with Russia—the Pacific ocean has become an American lake quite as much as Erie, Superior or Sturgeon.

INVESTMENT—This politico-military investment was made as soon as we began to see billions in the middle east, the Mediterranean, western Europe and the orient. Having made a cash investment to promote world stability and an anti-communist front like a banker who seeks to protect his gamble, we have had to call upon military and political forces.

Without thinking it all out to some point where it might make sense, the followers of Wallace and Taylor are taking it for granted that these third party pacifists offer the only solution for keeping us out of war, even though their plan is based on appeasing Russia.

SOMETHING TO WATCH

The drought in Arizona and southern California has given rise to a real problem. It is a little calmer for alarm. And while the concern over this prolonged dry spell has been confined largely to that immediate vicinity, the resultant agitation nevertheless has far-reaching implications in which all irrigated sections of the United States should be vitally interested.

Back in the early thirties, it will be recalled, the Colorado river was a real problem. First it would flood the lowlands in southern California, seriously menacing Imperial valley, and then during the summer months it would shrink to almost a trickle. Crops depending on the Colorado for irrigation would shrivel and die.

Hoover dam, largest structure of its kind in the world, was built to solve this problem. It was erected by the bureau of reclamation of the United States department of interior for the following purposes in the order of their importance: Flood control, irrigation, power and recreation.

This project was first being set up and all the states in the Colorado river drainage were asked to enter into an agreement that would be equitable for all. It will be recalled that Arizona refused to sign. She feared the Hoover dam project would jeopardize her water rights, that California, because of the latter's greater population and political influence might eventually get the lion's share of water stored in Lake Mead.

That fear may never be justified, but it never was cause for any more concern to Arizona, and then it is a matter of time, bringing every pressure to bear to get more of the water in Lake Mead. Arizona is fighting that pressure for all she's worth.

Should California's greater population and political influence succeed in circumventing the original agreement, the Hoover dam project was based, then Idaho and all other states depending on water drainages for irrigation had better be on their guard when the government insists upon setting such spheres of federal control as the proposed Columbia river authority.

With such a system, Idaho might have fears in common with Arizona. She might actually be placed at the mercy of such states as Washington and Oregon.

TOO MUCH AT STAKE

A common question at good many people are asking themselves nowadays is: How come Wallace and Taylor seem to be getting so much support in their third party movement?

There are a lot of different angles to be developed as to an answer to that question, but the most logical analysis probably would be that the American people hate war and a lot of them are falling for Wallace and Taylor's "fight for peace."

Without thinking it all out to some point where it might make sense, the followers of Wallace and Taylor are taking it for granted that these third party pacifists offer the only solution for keeping us out of war, even though their plan is based on appeasing Russia.

In other words, these followers are planning more hope on these third party prima donnas, than on the combined forces of American government and the Republican and Democratic parties.

We are not saying that no situation could ever arise to warrant such a break, but in this particular instance when the whole world is in turmoil, were frank to admit we were afraid to gamble on any such long shot. We have too much at stake to be taking any such chances.

There's one thing about communism—once it gets you in its grasp there's no escape. And judging from the amount of communistic activity already in evidence in this country, we should be smart enough to realize Russia at least must be looking upon us with covetous eyes.

Take little Czechoslovakia as a current example. She played the Wallace-Taylor game of appeasement and look where she is now. As Dewitt MacKenzie, Associated Press foreign affairs analyst, put it in the Times-News Friday:

"Anyone who still believes that appeasement will work on bolshevism either is muddled or mischievous. Czechoslovakia's fate certainly should be a lesson for appeasers."

SCORE ONE FOR JUSTICE

Five years ago John Longo, an outpoken foe of Boss Frank Hague's political machine in Jersey City, N. J., was found guilty of a voting registration fraud in a trial that smelted to high heaven. Even the state's attorney general said it was a fraud. Now, after a long fight in which former Gov. Charles Edison aided him, Mr. Longo has been exonerated.

VIEW OF OTHERS

AN INJUSTICE TO VETERANS
 In many respects the United States government has been very generous to its war veterans. But in the field of social security there is still work for congress to do in correcting present injustices to returned veterans.

One of these has been pointed out to us by a man who was in service for more than four years. He wrote that he had been earning an average monthly wage of $250 or more when he went into the army. No matter how much he earns or how long he works he can never, under present law, recover the average earning level for social security purposes that he would have had by simply staying at home and remaining in "correct" position. The social security system of administration has been well aware of this problem and has made recommendations on it in its last five annual reports. Several alternative methods of dealing with it have not been suggested.

It is not an easy problem to meet with fairness to all. Certainly the principle should be established in legislation that a veteran should not suffer any provable loss in social security benefits, present or future, because of his service that has not been met by unrelated benefits from the veterans administration. A fair assumption can be made that the wages of able-bodied young men would have been higher during the war years if he had stayed in covered employment instead of going into service. Whether the benefits for that probable rise in the market today is a question of policy to be decided. But at any rate congress should at this session see to it that veterans who are penalized in this way are not, in their social security benefits, because they served their country. That is one sacrifice we need not exact.—New York Times.

FADE-OUT
 The plans of the United Democratic party came out with fighting words when Senator Taylor left his party to run on a third party ticket with Henry Wallace. This was a move that was to fight on the Russian team let him get off our squad. "Taylor is through in Idaho," etc., etc.

But in the meantime Thursday night of the Democratic caucus the following list except for a few Democratic Americans vanished into a vacuum of no formal action was taken to read Taylor out of the party. In the meantime the national campaign committee of the Democratic party dropped Taylor from their ranks.

All of which is good news to Republican ears. Either you are on the Russian team or you are not.—Boise Statesman.

POT SHOTS

SUB FOR TAYLOR!
 Hubert Hendrix provided some news of his own kind when he was elected to the Idaho legislature at the regular lunch on the other day. He played a ringer for a political and military administration's world program. It is a natural consequence.

British Foreign Minister Bevin has called for a "police-economic Union" of the western European states embracing the Marshall plan. He admits that impoverished England, recently described by Sir Stafford Cripps as "a beggar's bowl," needs to promote such a federation. It has neither the money nor the materials. Bevin, however, has agreed to provide the wherewithal, and with the consent of Congress.

"Because of Russia's recalcitrance, there is no 'one world,' as envisaged in the United Nations charter, in the making, and the Truman administration has agreed to underwrite it."

WALL—Greene provides the pattern which reveals how the United States has become the key unit in an Anglo-British, anti-Russian alliance of military power such as the world has never witnessed. And every step has been taken without authorization or confirmation by the United States senate, which is supposed to ratify all treaties of such solemn import.

But we have sold—or given—warships and war materials to Greece. American officers are reorganizing and equipping the Greek army. Only recently, an American officer led his troops in a charge against Russia-trained guerrillas. With Turkey as another American battle area.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

In the role of society reporter for a day I recently took you to the gala racket in honor of our dirty little Ben Pross.

Ben Pross who adorns the roster of American Federation of Labor in New York as racketeer in charge of a whole lot of misadventures, the little dog-pole of his confining several thousand poor, dumb h. dogged nonentities of the great and Henry Wallace call the little people or the common man.

The American Federation of Labor is no better than the conditions of perdition and brigandage to which it knowingly and notoriously consents its prestige and patronage in return for a little tainted money.

It is as bad as these of a whole lot of misadventures, the little dog-pole of his confining several thousand poor, dumb h. dogged nonentities of the great and Henry Wallace call the little people or the common man.

Let me explain that last. When Pross walked 15,000 cases of scarce booze for the military racket matter in the southern soldier camps in the war, he put it up to Schenley that he had made the allotment of the hundred employees who had been unjobbed by the abandonment of a minor distillery, he would strike the rest of his plants and even black-list the rest of their line.

He had this power under the laws favoring union vermin of his type. Schenley agreed to hire back the people and made the allotment of the hundred employees who had been unjobbed by the abandonment of a minor distillery, he would strike the rest of his plants and even black-list the rest of their line.

And after that, the racketeer alcohol racket of the treasury did not work making a bullet-proof case, the late Italian hand of Edgar H. Rosbach, the U. S. attorney, intervened. So Benny Pross walked out of the federal court in Newark, a free bird.

Rosbach is the divine Agents of the federal court, well beloved by the union crooks of the Hague-nure deal-department of justice who for his reliable ability to kick a case around until even a decent jury would have a hard time convincing a blithering assassin of diabolical conduct, assuming that the good old D. J. and the Jersey federal judge would stand for the impalement of a decent jury in the first place. If you can assume that you must be Fey or out of this world.

The favorite judge of the union criminals in the federal court over there, I think I may have said before, Thomas F. Meany, a merry fellow at a chowder party with those $10,000 presidential pardons for racketeers. He is a judge of the type known as "a good guy in the language of the boys around the clubhouse."

He is the cherished ideal, politically socially and morally, of the big union underbosses of the Hague mob. I take it that you know something about the racketeer's social and ethical ideals of this gang.

Why should a hotel run by a New York hoodlum man with a record of pinches for assault, who last year lost a gun license that never should have been issued in the first place, become a "popular spot for the liquor moguls"? What kind of racketeer would want to be found in any place run by Herbie Pross?

And what is the idea of a trade paper ordering people where to spend their money? That sounded to me like a threat. If these operators don't patronize the hoodlums' hotel the hoodlums' racketeer brother back in New York will fix them good.

As I say, I was puzzled about this racketeer who kept saying but I am less puzzled now.

Equally Good for County or City Property
 The urge for title insurance was felt more quickly in the cities because the subdividing of property, the frequent changes of ownership, granting of various kinds of leases and encumbrances, all helped complicate titles and increase the length of the abstracts.

However, TITLE INSURANCE has been found to be equally valuable in the country. Generally, TITLE INSURANCE benefits both the buyer and seller of land. It speeds up real estate transfers. It enables the seller to satisfy the buyer quickly as to the validity of the title—and it gives the buyer the positive protection of an insured title.

Probably the only reasons why in some counties in Idaho, abstracts still are more common than TITLE INSURANCE, are that it requires more effort and expense to provide the facilities for issuing TITLE INSURANCE, and the willingness of many purchasers to accept an abstract if TITLE INSURANCE is not offered.

Today, however, Title Insurance may be obtained in most counties of Idaho, through an Associate Company without first furnishing an abstract and even in the more remote rural districts Title Insurance is steadily on the increase. In counties where we have no direct representation, Title Insurance may be had by arrangement with the home office.

Winter Hands Mid-West Bad Floods, Winds

CHICAGO, Feb. 28 (AP)—Winter gave the mid-west a damaging dose of floods, blizzards, rain and strong winds today.

Colder weather was expected to speed a cold belt over that section Sunday.

Steady rains which pelted the Midwest extended as far east as Pennsylvania and New York state. But temperatures in the eastern states were above normal.

The great plains and northern Rockies areas had lower than normal temperatures, but the south enjoyed weather in the 50's.

Winds, Floods Damage

Heaviest damage from the elements was wreaked by high winds and floods.

In Iowa, numerous streams overflowed and flooded more than 100 homes throughout the state. The heaviest 24-hour rainfall was reported at Charles City, Ia., which had 2.12 inches.

Train and mail service to Galena, Ill., was halted by overflowing water from the Galena river which forced merchants to remove their wares.

Winds up to 70 miles an hour centered in southwest Wisconsin and raged across the north central area.

3 Homes Destroyed

At Centerton, Ind., three homes were destroyed last night and a general store was destroyed. Strong winds collapsed a house in Evansville and disrupted some electric service.

Property damage from the winds was high on the fringes of St. Louis and in Illinois.

Heaviest snow fell in the Lake Superior region.

California, which is undergoing its worst drought, had some rains in the northern section. A brown-out has been decreed to save power, after water for hydroelectric plants sank below the danger level.

Jerome Creates 3 New Precincts

JEROME, Feb. 28—Three new precincts have been added to Jerome county because of the growth in population.

The county board of commissioners formed the new precincts when it was shown that two old precincts far exceeded the 600-person registration requirements.

The new precincts will be Bishop, Courthouse and Hunt. The Bishop unit was carved out of the old southeast precinct while the Courthouse unit was altered off the old northwest precinct. The Hunt area of the new homestead project made this precinct necessary.

Income Tax for 1947 May Be Less Painful Than You Think

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—The March 15 income tax deadline may be less painful for you than it seems.

The treasury expects to refund more than $40 on the average to over half of the 55,000,000 taxpayers.

It already has shelled out $27,000,000 in its 1946 early birds who sent in their final 1947 returns in a hurry, officials said today.

Toward the end of this month, refund checks were going out at a 1,600,000-a-week clip.

The treasury hopes to clean up the refund job, except for some complicated cases, by July 1, turning back $140,000,000 to over 30,000,000 persons who overpaid their taxes.

There is one seeming hitch. Lack of congressional authority to pay over the amount that the treasury thinks it will take to square accounts.

Congress so far has authorized $1,231,000,000 for tax refunds during the 12-month fiscal period ending next June 30.

President Truman has twice told congress it would take another $800,000,000 to cover tax refunds since corporations have some coming as well as individuals, and the total will be $2,040,000,000.

FM Radio May Be Adopted by Idaho Police

HAILEY, Feb. 28—Excellent results were reported Thursday when state, county and forest service officials experimented with new frequency modulation radio bands to be used in the Wood river valley.

A. P. Bunderson, superintendent of Idaho state police, together with A. French, radio maintenance man for the Boise and state police departments, and Ted Wege, radio engineer for the area, conducted the experiment.

A 100-mile test proved the new band could be used in the area. F. E. Moore and Glen Brando, of the Sawtooth national forest service, on top of Baldy mountain, contacted E. O. Utter, Hailey, Blankenship, Wayne Clark, Wayne Lundberg, Halliwell, J. E. Hammond and

Mail Delivery Is Starting at Hunt

Public Forum She Can't Believe That Real Americans Back Third Party

Editor, Times-News: We cannot believe that true American citizens of Idaho or the nation would encourage such men as Wallace and Taylor in their efforts to form a third party backed by communists and other American traitors of red leaning. To my mind, such men are traitors to their country and not interested in the welfare of their fellow citizens.

Moreover, the public has not forgotten that Wallace stood for crop destruction and Taylor, the singing cowboy, stands for confusion in his own party.

Wallace has been ever since President Truman's election from his cabinet and has worked with enemies of our country to bring about Truman's defeat and the defeat of the Marshall plan. It has been an easy matter for Taylor to join up with Wallace for Taylor, too, has been much criticized throughout the nation. These two men are often spoken of as "Wallies."

The whole movement seems to be of the kind that is only for confusion and he can work better when people are derided in their attitudes toward the war.

However, let our people remember that this government has stood firm and true for the principles of self government and we need no such men as Wallace and Taylor to tell us how to vote.

We want our country to remain an independent nation not ruled by a nation who seeks to bring in communism.

Therefore, we must all work to defeat this movement. All true patriots and all true Democrats must be the ally of following after these men.

KEY WEST, Fla., Feb. 22 (AP)—President Truman signed tonight a civil service retirement bill which provides for the payment of pensions of approximately two million government employees.

The measure, which covers about 125,000 persons already retired, was signed at the temporary "White House" in the commander's house at this submarine base.

Mr. Truman also signed a bill continuing for another three years the administration's control powers over a list of scarce materials vital to the national defense.

Bills Favoring Signaling The President acted a few hours after the two bills were flown here from Washington by a special naval courier plane.

The pension legislation becomes effective April 1.

Known as the Taft-Stevenson bill, the legislation contains these major provisions:

The 125,000 persons already retired receive an annual bonus of 25 percent or 30 annually, whichever is smaller.

More than 125,000 active employees will receive pension increases ranging from two to 35 percent above present rates.

Widows Included Widows of employees who die in service will receive pensions for the first time.

Employees at least 30 years old and retired after 30 years of service will receive larger pensions than those now provided, the increase depending on length of service.

Orphans of deceased federal employees will receive increased benefits.

The controls governing both exports and imports of scarce materials originally were put into effect during the war.

Included are quinine and anti-mony, a relatively scarce metal employed as a hardening agent in alloys of tin and lead.

Jerome Resident Hurt in Accident

JEROME, Feb. 22—Mrs. John Farnsworth, route 2, Jerome, was injured slightly when she was knocked off the ground by an automobile about 10:30 p. m. Friday, according to state police officers.

Mrs. Farnsworth, who was crossing the road from her mailbox, walked into the right rear fender of an automobile driven by Bernard Arnold, Jerome, about six miles west of Jerome, the officers said.

They reported that Arnold was driving slowly. He picked up Mrs. Farnsworth, drove her to a doctor who treated her for cuts about the head, state police reported.

Embassy Aide Given Rap for Wedding Red

MOBOW, Feb. 22 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith says Miss Annabelle Buser, one of his staff who resigned yesterday, was fined for not notifying him that she married a Russian baritone 13 months ago.

Under state department regulations, Smith said, Miss Buser, 31, should have notified the embassy of her marriage and immediately resigned.

Miss Buser, who is 32 and from Clinton, Pa., said she met her husband, Konstantin Lapshin, about 35, almost two years ago when she came to the Soviet union to work in the U. S. information service. Lapshin sings with the Moscow opera theater.

Work "Incompatible" She resigned yesterday saying she felt tired with the embassy and that she was "incompatible" with my present view.

In her letter of resignation Miss Buser said she had secured a full understanding of the Russians. She said the policy of the U. S. embassy in Moscow was to "sell" the Russians in the U. S. information service.

Miss Buser did some work on a Russian language magazine titled "America."

Father Raps Action In Clinton, Miss Buser's father, Ivan, said his daughter had left home against his wishes because she was "incompatible" with his views. He said he had not heard from her since she left in 1945.

Buser was bewildered and bitter when he learned that his University of Pittsburgh-educated daughter had decided to "start life anew in Russia."

A native of Austria, Buser came to America at the age of 18. He is now 52 and a naturalized citizen. He owns a 500-acre farm and coal mines. He has raised 12 children, of whom Annabelle is the eldest.

"She made a fool of herself," he said, shaking his head and sighing. "It was bad, bad move. I'm shocked. I don't see how there could be a better country than this. It has given Buser everything. There is nothing I can do."

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 22 (AP)—Lowrey real estate dealer Rudolph Mayer, brother of Film Magazine Louis B. Mayer, will enter a substantial bid for the old Kearns army camp townsite, it was reported today.

Lowrey said he understood Mayer planned to erect a large number of low-cost homes at Kearns. He was told Mayer felt he could build such structures at an average of $3 less a square foot than other structures are paying for similar structures in the area.

Lowrey added that he also believed a bid would be entered by a Boise building and loan corporation and a combine of Salt Lake county real estate dealers.

January Sees Labor Strike Activity Jump

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Strikes resumed in January—just as they were expected to.

The bureau of labor statistics said the number of strikes dropped in this country usually rises after the first of the year. It didn't explain why.

But it did say the increase this year was less than last year's.

About 175 new shutdowns began last month, as against 123 in December. In Jan. 1947, the number was 224.

There were 73,000 workers idled by labor-management disputes in January. This compared with 50,000 in December. The time lost totaled about 1,000,000 man-days—twice the December loss.

TEACHER STRIKE STALEMATED
MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 23 (AP)—The strike of Minneapolis union public school teachers was stalemated today.

The board yesterday turned down a city council offer of a $2,000,000 loan.

EXCHANGE STRIKE LOOMS
NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—A union official said today that a strike of about 5,000 employees of the New York stock exchange and the New York curb exchange "appears inevitable."

M. David Keefe, president of the AFL United Financial Employees, made the statement at a news conference following settlement of the union's dispute with the New York cotton exchange.

Representative Goff, R. Ida., suggested that farmers or lumbermen who want to testify before the committee attend a hearing in Spokane, Wash., March 21. They should notify Don J. Lowmeyer of the agriculture committee of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce in advance. The chamber is arranging for the hearing.

The committee will go to Spokane from Salt Lake City and remain overnight in Spokane. It will visit Coulee dam the following day.

Pullman Company Seeks Rate Boost

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP)—The Pullman company is seeking to increase Pullman charges on room and board accommodations throughout the country.

C. R. Harding, Pullman president, said today that an application to raise the rates has been filed with the interstate commerce commission.

The proposed increases cover seats in sleeping or parlor cars and room rates for sleeping, compartments and drawing rooms. Berths, roomettes, duplex roomettes and single rooms would not be affected.

He said the increase was necessitated by a 14 1/2 cent boost in the rate given all of its employees last fall.

Tain't Funny, McGee, Avers Solon of 'Weatherman' Jokes

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The weather bureau has had to deny officially that it writes the script for the radio show, Fibber McGee and Molly.

This was brought out today when testimony was released on the bureau's request for $23,743,000 next year.

Maybe you get a laugh out of Fibber and Molly. But not Representative Stefan, R. Neb. Said Stefan of their program of Jan. 20: "There is a character known as the 'weatherman'... he looked at McGee's newspaper and read the weather forecast. McGee said it seemed odd that a weatherman should get information of a weather forecast from a newspaper, and Molly's comment was substantially this: "Well, a newspaper costs only five cents, but that is more than congress will give the weather bureau for new equipment."

Remark: Stefan: "If that comment was intended as a joke, the humor seems to have been left out."

He said it looked to him as if someone—maybe someone in the weather bureau—was trying to put the heat on congress. Did anyone in the weather bureau have anything to do with the broadcast?

Said Dr. F. W. Rakechelder, head of the weather bureau: "Mr. Chairman, we are aware of the Fibber McGee broadcasts. I might say that they have been annoying to us right from the start... I can say quite facetiously that we had nothing to do with the program, that we do not care for the program... In short, congressionally speaking: 'Tain't funny, McGee."

Ferry Line May Cease Operation

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 23 (AP)—One hundred thousand commuters and many more part-time ferry users today faced the prospect of being left "on the beach" at midnight tomorrow.

Superior Judge John M. Wilson denied the state's request for a writ to prevent the Puget Sound Navigation company from halting service. Capt. Alex Peabody, company president, said the ferries would be laid up.

The judge said a public service corporation could "not abandon its operations without proper showing of just cause." He added that such a company could not be "compelled to operate at a great loss and the evidence showed the company cannot operate at all by reason of its financial difficulties."

'Secret' China Warplane Aid Pact Is Told

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—A secret but once expected agreement to arm China with 1,000 American warplanes is in full force again.

The administration in this case is known today in reply to congressional critics demanding military aid for Chiang Kai-shek's national army, which is locked in battle with communist forces.

At least 525 planes already have been transferred to China. Of the 135 listed last month as still due and ready for shipment, 37 are at Fortresses. In addition, the United States has trained 5,177 Chinese to man and service the planes.

Marshall Halted Program Secretary of State Marshall, then President Truman's special envoy to China, called a halt to the program in August, 1946, when his efforts to stop the Chinese civil war broke down.

The ban was relaxed gradually until Marshall lifted the final barrier to fulfillment of the air force program last Dec. 16, it was disclosed last year.

May Silence Criticism Whether the new information would silence Republican critics of the pending $70,000,000 economic aid program remained to be seen. A number of GOP lawmakers, including Chairman Bridges, R., of the Senate Appropriations Committee, have contended the money would be wasted unless Chiang were given weapons to beat down the communists.

It was Bridges who made public the air force agreement. The State Department had informed him of it last month, but the information was labeled secret until last night.

Local Man Buys State Farm Land

One of the four tracts of state-owned land sold in Idaho for agricultural use for $40,200 Friday was purchased by a Twin Falls man.

Pred C. Palmer, controller of the Associated Press, purchased a 240-acre tract in Twin Falls county for $17,100. The land can be irrigated by pumping water from Murtough lake.

Another 240-acre tract in the county which also can be irrigated from Murtough lake, was purchased by Russell Riggs, Murtough, for $18,000.

A 200-acre tract near Malad sold for $10,100 to L. E. Evans, Malad, and Victor Anderson, Shoshone, purchased a 230-acre tract in the same area for $6,100.

Simpson, a Union Pacific fireman, was on his way to Rupert when his automobile failed to negotiate a curve. According to Ed Eiden, a farmer living nearby who heard the crash, the vehicle turned over three or four times.

Eiden said he found Simpson lying on the ground, unconscious, and that his coupe was a total wreck. Simpson was taken to the Rupert hospital in the Goodman ambulance.

AFL Participating in Global Union Drive to Combat Reds

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—The AFL reported today it is taking part in a world-wide network to fight communism through labor unions.

The federation said in "Labor's Monthly Survey" that it was in contact with trade unions of about 40 nations joined to halt the spread of communism.

"As Soviet pressure moves toward a climax in Europe, the American Federation of Labor is more than ever aware of the grave issues involved," said the publication, usually devoted to economic problems of the AFL.

"A war is on, a 'cold war' waged by the Soviet union against our democratic way of life with its guarantees of individual rights and human freedom," it continued.

"As the Soviet imperialistic purpose has unfolded in these post-war years, workers in all parts of the world have been roused to its true meaning for them, although many were at first confused by Soviet propaganda and misuse of the word democracy."

"There have been strong groups in the trade union movements of different countries who recognize the real issues from the start. Today free unions, alarmed for their safety, are coming forward to join together for common ideals and purposes, and to protect their freedom against a common enemy."

The publication traced the network with Washington as its center, on a world map. It showed contacts in China, Japan, Hawaii, Alaska, South America, Belgium and Germany and other European nations including Greece and Turkey.

"Our ultimate danger here in America is as great as that of free workers anywhere else," it said.

By the Anderson company listed a figure in excess of $4,000 Hawkins announced.

Control Plans Talked to End Flood Threats

FULLAMAN, Feb. 22 (AP)—Plans for flood control along the Palouse river include immediate action to prevent future high water from reaching the trailer camp housing 140 Washington State college students (families).

The emergency action and a long range plan were worked out at a meeting last night. Representatives of the state, the county, the cities of Fullam and Colfax, the soil conservation service and Washington State college attended.

W. B. Eber, mayor of Fullam said today that equipment will be moved in as soon as possible to construct adequate flood defenses in the trailer camp area. The camp has been flooded three times since Jan. 1.

Details of financial responsibility on the long range program will be worked out after the soil conservation service, a federal agency, completes a survey of the Palouse watershed. Specific control measures will be decided when the results of the survey are known.

Stalin said he assumed Finland was interested in concluding such a pact. He said both Russia and Finland suffered greatly from German aggression and added "it is the two of us who will be responsible before our peoples if we permit a repetition of such aggression."

Wallace Tells His Program In Minnesota

WILLMAR, Minn., Feb. 28 (AP)—Henry Wallace, third party candidate for president, advocated a program of "progressive capitalism" in a talk here today.

He defined "progressive capitalism" as government-industry planning and said he would favor nationalization of basic industries which are not efficient. Together with wise use of taxation, he said, this would make it possible to avoid booms and busts.

The former vice president spoke before a gathering in the city's memorial auditorium. The rally was held despite a snowstorm which blocked many roads in the area.

Wallace described both the Democratic and Republican parties as "controlled by reactionary capitalists." His party, he said, is the party of peace.

Both choices, however, were known to have tentative plans to worry the arrangements committee since Vandenberg and Martin have been mentioned as presidential possibilities.

The Henry Wallace third party presidential candidacy has peaked up more interest in the Republican convention, the paper said.

Arab-Jewish Fight Is Booming Palestine's New War Industry

JERUSALEM, Feb. 28 (AP)—Arab-Jewish fighting has started a boom in fledgling war industries and put thousands of former jobless under arms, observers said tonight.

Both sides in the struggle are known to have extensive munitions making. Both also have claimed the unemployment problem has been solved temporarily by the raising of the defense force. Most firearms still are imported, however.

Among the war industry has grown up almost overnight. Every truck and bus in Palestine requires constant repairs on its engines. At the cost of $10,000 each, hundreds of vehicles per year are being converted into armored blockade runners.

Palestine's productivity, however, has been hampered by Jews and Arabs alike look to allies outside the holy land for war chests to finance full-scale hostilities.

Eliezer Kaplan, Russian-born treasurer of the Jewish agency, said approximately $125,000,000 is expected to be donated by American Jews for the support of the projected Jewish state. Defense needs will have first priority on the funds.

Jews elsewhere in the world also are relied on for financial aid. Palestine Jews themselves now are being solicited for $10,000,000.

Dr. Isaac Tannous, treasurer of the Arab League, said he has received substantial contributions would be met by neighboring Arab states.

Amid the civil war one example of impending full-scale hostilities is estimated that physical property damage has been averaging $500,000 monthly since the United Nations voted for partition Nov. 29. Over $4,000,000 worth of goods belonging to Jews is frozen on the docks of Arab Jaffa. In addition, $2,000,000 Tel Aviv Arab goods worth $2,000,000 have been sequestered.

Each returns will be split about 50-50 between the two communities. But that has not so-called the Jewish claim "our nation must be reborn or we die" and the Arab reply "we will fight to the last man for our country."

California Cattle Slated to Range In Magic Valley

Magic Valley may receive its share of the 100,000 range cattle which are moving out of drought-stricken sections of California, a Twin Falls cattleman said Saturday.

About 1,000 head of cattle will arrive at Mountain Home around April 1, the cattleman said. It also stands to reason that if the drought is forcing a migration of cattle out of California, some may be expected in southern Idaho, he added.

Announcement that the 100,000 cattle were moving out of California came from Louis P. Arburs of the California Farm Bureau Marketing association, according to the Associated Press.

Arburs said the cattle will be shipped to grazing areas in Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Oregon and Nevada.

Some are being purchased outright and some are to be fed on a percentage basis. Most of the cattle are from central California's San Joaquin valley, hard hit by lack of rainfall.

Arburs said while flocks of sheep also are to be shipped, either to northern ranges or to southern California's Imperial valley where alfalfa pasturage is available.

the senate Republican policy committee, has said $3,500,000,000 to 100 million. But he has set no alternative.

However, Senator Bill R. Minter, leader of a group of 20 senators who have been critical of parts of the program, has urged that it be cut back to $3,500,000,000.

The committee's formal report recommending passage of the legislation said it is an "inconceivable fact" that private enterprise alone can't do the job of rebuilding Europe.

"There is no doubt, however," the report said, "that as the recovery program progresses, private enterprise will be able to play an increasingly important role."

Woman Was Not 'Joking,' Medics Find

SAN MATEO, Calif., Feb. 28 (AP)—The doctor thought Mrs. Lillian Arthur was joking when she complained something must have been left inside of her after an operation two years ago.

But when they operated on the 30-year-old mother of six children yesterday, they found a surgical towel, 12 by 14 inches, in her abdominal cavity. The towel bore the monogram "Harrison Mott, M.D." Bremerton, Wash.

Exploratory Operation
The towel, neatly wrapped around Mrs. Arthur's intestines, was found by Dr. Henry Brown and Lawrence Martin who performed an exploratory operation to find out what was wrong with her.

Mrs. Arthur had complained of pains and swelling since a Caesarian operation two years ago when she gave birth to twins.

"I went back to the clinic and complained," she said, "and the doctor jokingly suggested the doctor must have left his hat or his scissors in me."

Suit Threatened
Mrs. Arthur's husband, Frank, threatened to sue the hospital for the mistake. He said his wife had dropped from 250 to 150 pounds since the birth, had submitted to "scores" of blood transfusions, had spent nearly $30,000 in doctor bills since the Caesarian was performed.

At Bremerton, Dr. Ray Schmitt, one of the physicians who attended Mrs. Arthur, said "doctor's don't talk about things like this."

"All sorts of things can happen in an operation of this sort," he explained. "All sponges placed in the abdominal cavity are counted. Towels are so big we usually don't count them."

Red Cross Honor Set in Churches
Churches in Twin Falls will join today with religious groups throughout the nation in the observance of Red Cross Sunday.

The religious observance precedes by one day the opening of the 1943 March fund campaign during which the local chapter of the American Red Cross is seeking to raise $22,000, twice the goal set for the 1942 drive.

Kent Tollock, chairman of the Twin Falls chapter, declared today that the Red Cross, through its aid to disaster victims and to sick and able-bodied servicemen and veterans, has become a symbol of mercy to the American people. The organization is linked with all religious faiths through a common cause—the relief of suffering humanity. It is fitting then, that churches have set aside this week-end to observe Red Cross Sunday.

Citizens of Twin Falls and Magic Valley were asked Saturday to ignore chain letters they might receive through the mail. Postmaster Mike Strunk made the request after a letter received by a Twin Falls citizen was brought to his office.

The letter followed: "This luck of London has been sent to you. It has been around the world four times. It was started by an army officer. The one who breaks it will have bad luck. Solon Cites 7 Demo-Caused Spiral Pushes

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Democratic administration is responsible for seven inflationary measures which have weakened America economically, Rep. William A. Dawson, R., Utah, said today.

Dawson, in a keynote address to the Salt Lake county Republican organizing convention, also proposed a six-point program of curbing America's monetary and fiscal ailments.

"There are two kinds of strength—military and economic," Dawson told delegates at the state's first organizing convention under its new election law.

Means Cited
"We are below strength in one because our armed forces are under the minimum. We are below strength in the other because of inflation."

"While the war and other causes explain part of the current inflation, the party in power is responsible for definite measures that have given prices a big push to their present height."

He listed as the Democratic inflation-makers actions increasing the amount of money in circulation; cheapening the value of the dollar; increasing government borrowing and spending; increasing taxes which increase prices; increasing federal bank obligations; failing to curb speculation, and purchasing of foodstuffs at the "wrong" time.

Dawson called for election of a Republican president and congress this year as the "first step" needed to rid the nation of policies and theorists who have dominated the national scene since 1933.

On the positive side he suggested a program to:

• Curb speculation; reduce taxes to reduce governmental costs; "control" natural resources; provide an adequate and low cost housing program; and promote public health and scientific research, and maintain an armed force sufficient to support the nation's foreign policy.

Gen. Meyers To Retort on Tale by Aide
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Major Gen. Bennett E. Meyers' defense lawyers will try in cross-examination next week to make the general's chief accuser change his "you-made-me-do-it" tale.

Meyers' trial for subornation of perjury was in recess for the week-end.

When it is resumed Monday, the prosecution will wind up the questioning of its star witness, Earl H. Lamare. Then the defense will attempt to break down Lamare's testimony that he told secret investigators a phony story to cover up Meyers' $150,000 wartime business profits.

Accused Stated
The 51-year-old retired general, who was the No. 2 purchasing officer of the air force during the war, is accused of inducing Lamare to lie under oath.

In his direct testimony yesterday, Lamare detailed to the federal court jury how the general allegedly tried to conceal his behind-the-scenes operation of Aviation Electric corporation, Vandavia, O.

Lamare, who identified himself as "dummy president" of the firm, told of frequent coaching by the general on cover-up stories. He said that when Meyers got wind of an impending investigation, he made two flying trips from Washington to Ohio to make sure Lamare told the right story, that he gambled away his high salary at "race tracks and bookmakers."

1947 Law for Prison Terms Is Explained

Convicted felons now must be sentenced under the indeterminate sentence law as passed by the 1947 session of the Idaho legislature. District Judge James W. Porter explained Saturday.

He broke down the sections of the law which have placed practically all the power of incarceration of prisoners in the hands of the state board of corrections. The judge said his aim in explaining the law was twofold: Clarification of the law, and to counteract a wrong impression.

Interest shown "It is satisfying that so many people ask questions about recent sentences which the court has imposed," Judge Porter said. "It indicates an interest in judicial proceedings."

Some of the questions indicate a belief that the court is becoming more severe, Judge Porter said. This is not the case, despite the fact that most recent sentences have been for an indeterminate period of "not more than 14 years."

Limited by Law Under the law, the judge is limited to imposing the maximum sentence, as fixed by statute. The actual determination of the length of sentence is left to the correction board. In ordinary cases, however, the judge may set the minimum for any period they desire after they have undertaken consideration of parole, the judge said.

In some cases, the judge said, a felon must serve at least 10 years of the 14-year period before he becomes eligible for parole. This is true in convictions for armed robbery, rape and other serious crimes. When a criminal has been sentenced to life imprisonment, the felon must serve at least 10 years before he becomes eligible for parole consideration, the judge added.

Different for Male In answer to the obvious question about William H. Hale of Idaho, Judge Porter said that Hale was sentenced under the old law. Hale had served less than nine years for a 1939 conviction of a Twin Falls policeman before he was paroled.

The state Idaho law is patterned after that adopted successfully in other states. It is just in the process of being established on a firm basis, Judge Porter said.

Thus, when a criminal comes up for sentencing on a charge requiring less than life imprisonment, the judge may do only one of three things, according to the law. He may suspend sentence. He may place the felon in the state penitentiary to serve a term and commute the term to a term of not more than 14 years. But if he does not suspend sentence, the judge must impose the indeterminate sentence.

Urges More Vitality "It is regrettable," he said, "that more persons are not able to find time to visit the court room. For there they would get an insight into many phases of community life."

In addition, they would obtain a better understanding of the American judicial system, one of the pangs upon which our democratic form of government is based," he concluded.

many as a separate nation, another satellite? In the western zones, Germans expect the communists will try to split the socialists who form their strongest opposition in key industrial centers. They anticipate that the communists also may try to paralyze the Ruhr as well as France and Italy with a series of strikes.

Italy has the biggest Communist party outside Russia. Communists have for months been excluded from the government. The socialists are split into two factions. Will the communists seize power in the misery of Italy before Marshall plan aid becomes effective?

Italians find some tender spots for comparison between their own position and Czechoslovakia. They also find significant differences, including the fact that Italy lies outside Russia's orbit.

France is in a similar position. Prices are rising. The communists are pushing for wage increases for the underemployed workers. The crucial period in the next two months before spring crops and Marshall aid can be expected.

What is the west doing to meet the challenge? Its own machinery is moving into use on many fronts. First of all is the Marshall plan, which has the open political aim of holding back communism in 16 European nations. So far it is only a hope, not a reality. Its avowed purpose is to help western Europe rebuild its own prosperity.

The British and U. S. zones of Germany are combined. Talks are underway seeking to merge them with the French zone. The Russians cry that the west is seeking to partition Germany.

More and more it appears that western Germany's vital heavy industry will be bound into the Marshall plan, although Germany is not among the Marshall plan nations. Britain, France and the United States are seeking to partition Germany.

Truman Sees Newest Radar On Sub Tour

KEY WEST, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP)—President Truman today got a look at a submarine-mounted radar—a secret, post-war device designed to warn the nation of threatened air attack.

The device was demonstrated for the President as he made a short tour of inspection of the USS Requin, one of the navy's most modern 1,700-ton submarines.

Meanwhile, Mr. Truman announced that he will hold a news conference here at 10 a. m., EST, Monday.

Set Precedent The President has been an enthusiastic devotee of sea since his first vacation trip to the submarine base here. Last year he set a precedent by making a 400-foot dive at sea off Key West aboard a German submarine.

Cmdr. George L. Street, captain of the Requin and a congressional medal of honor winner from Richmond, Va., was to have the picket duty at sea off Key West, aboard a German submarine.

Details Still Secret Details of the new radar device still are secret, Street said, however, that the purpose of the apparatus mounted on submarines would be to give the mainland an early warning of hostile planes approaching the coast. It could be put to similar use in fleet operations, he said.

The President last night signed the 400-foot rule congressional bill extending ceilings until March 31. He also put his signature on a resolution extending for one year the wartime authority of the maritime commission to charter, sell and operate merchant vessels.

Bids to Be Sought On Water Projects BOISE, Feb. 28 (AP)—The bureau of reclamation Saturday reported it expects to call for bids this month on two Idaho projects.

One is for the construction of a transmission line from Anderson ranch dam to Mountain Home. The second call expected is for the reconstruction of domestic water supply for Cascade and the construction of a standby pumping unit.

Bid calls postponed by the bureau were on earthwork and structures for the Sandhollow wastewater near Caldwell and the Willow creek wastewater near Middleton.

'Storm' Over, Unwed Males Breathe Easy

AURORA, Ill., Feb. 28 (AP)—Aurora bachelors had a leap year honeymoon today after a hectic day of petticoat rule by the city's prettiest girls.

It will be 1951 before the girls get another chance to take over the reins for the city government and the city's single men.

Most of the bachelors who were swept into jail in the feminine commando raid yesterday said four years was soon enough for a repeat performance.

The bachelors of this city of 30,000 were the chief target of the girls who were in command of the various city offices. And the city's traditional leap year day appeared a complete success for the girls.

They filled the city jail with howling single males—about 200—a few hours after they took charge. In the court of the police magistrate, Irene Young, 25 and comely, they pleaded guilty to being bachelors.

They were released only after they paid fines to buy alk stockings, candy, flowers and other pretties for the girls who nabbed them.

Attorney George R. Matzka, 33, was one of the defendants who won dismissal of his case. He pleaded guilty to being a bachelor because he "wanted to make many girls happy and not one miserable."

The girls celebrated ending with a party at the city hall. The girls hallooed the wedding as a "victory," Ollmire agreed. He said he had planned it that way all the time.

Filer Farmers to Seek 'Substitute' For Worker Camp

FILER, Feb. 28.—Although Filer area farmers have been informed that no labor camp will be maintained at the Filer fairgrounds this year, an attempt is being made to have an available supply of farm labor at Filer when the need for it arises.

Farmers have been informed that necessary labor this year will have to be drawn from Twin Falls and Blaine. Not wishing to divide the community, a committee was named Friday to investigate means of having a supply of labor at Filer.

Members of the committee, appointed by Milton Lierman, chairman of the Filer farm labor committee, are Clyde Huffman, David Thigmon and Orville Sackett.

The girls scoring the regular city official to a leap year banquet last night. The highlight was the marriage of Claude B. Ollmire, 37, and Betty Robinson, 21.

The girls hailed the wedding as a "victory," Ollmire agreed. He said he had planned it that way all the time.

Wife of Senator Writes Of European Condition

An interesting account of an American woman's impressions of post-war Europe is contained in the personal diary that was kept on a recent trip to Europe by Mrs. C. Wayland Brooks, the former Mrs. Betty Thomas.

Mrs. Brooks was in Europe during the time that her husband, U. S. senator from Illinois, was a member of the senate committee on appropriations, investigating the condition of several western European countries.

Senator and Mrs. Brooks arrived in France on Oct. 15, 1947, on the S. S. America. She tells of her trip to Europe by the German train, with Senator and Mrs. H. Styles Bridges through Normandy where they viewed shell-cracked houses, many cemeteries for war dead and made a side trip to Omaha beach, where they also viewed the sand, still littered with the skeletons of battle equipment.

While in France they visited Belgium, where the scene of a famous World War I battle in which Senator Brooks participated as a marine corpsman.

Mrs. Brooks says, "We finally found the little farmyard where he used to duck in at night when he would hear shells coming. The same family lives in the house, having been run out by the Germans during one generation. We introduced ourselves and looked inside—nothing but filth and squatters. The women were rubbers stuffed with rags and the two little boys had on made-up faces of black chalk and one little felt slippers."

Bellevue wood, scene of one of the fiercest battles in military history, has been preserved in its original condition. Senator Brooks was able to capture the rocks where his captured German machine gun met and the grove where he, with nine men, was awarded the distinguished service cross by General Pershing.

Mrs. Brooks' comment on the war situation in France is of interest. She says that "the farmers admittedly have a lot of wheat, but it is so hard to get to market that they are selling it for francs as the francs are worth so little. It seemed utter nonsense that they could use their own wheat before sending it to us for help, but government officials told us that it would be used to build up the economy. It is the product to be sold as the French people are changed during the war to be lawless."

Driving through Germany, Mrs. Brooks remarked that "Here, also, there are more women than men, and that they have taken over the forest for fuel. The forest here amazed me. The ground is as clean and there are more trees than ever, and twigs and leaves are used by someone for fuel."

"During through downtown Frankfurt is like being in a haunted city. In some of the buildings we found a few people, but the rest were empty. We were told these little markers were put up by resistors and the German soldiers in the ruins. In Berlin we saw many trains of cars that had been burned and tracks rusted and distorted."

In the Russian section of the city we found a few people, but the rest were empty. We were told these little markers were put up by resistors and the German soldiers in the ruins. In Berlin we saw many trains of cars that had been burned and tracks rusted and distorted."

In November they were in Rome for three days. Mrs. Brooks was impressed with the Italian cathedral and particularly with St. Peter's cathedral, which she says "is in great contrast to the little Presbyterians church here that I used to attend."

Nov. 1 was her birthday anniversary and was made more memorable with an audience with the pope in his summer palace. She described him as "sitting behind a modern desk with a typewriter on a side table. He has a charming smile and personality and much common sense, but looks very frail and white. He speaks English with an accent and a tiny little stutter."

England was their last stop before returning home and while there they visited Westminster Abbey and Whitton Church and speak on the hill to Rome.

Mrs. Brooks has been interested in farming all her life and was full of questions about the nationalization of the land in England. She learned that it was the worst possible thing for discussion, and was criticized for asking too many questions.

She reports that "the food situation in Europe is a disaster. It is worse than anywhere we had been. The return home of the senatorial million-horse horridness, which added to the sensation of relief that Mrs. Brooks felt upon her arrival in America."

She reports that "the food situation in Europe is a disaster. It is worse than anywhere we had been. The return home of the senatorial million-horse horridness, which added to the sensation of relief that Mrs. Brooks felt upon her arrival in America."

It is estimated that Russia has more than 200 million people.

The table was decorated in honor of the birthday of George Washington in the traditional colors of red, white and blue. Carnations were used in flower arrangements repeating the color scheme.

The after-dinner program was opened with tap dance and scratch numbers by Marie Stoddard's pupils, Betty Lee Shear, and Wanda Clements, Kimbrough, and Montgomery sang cowboy songs accompanied by Mrs. Paul Jones, guitarist.

The faculty staff presented a surprise game for the entertainment of the guests.

Mrs. Gail Longmeyer was chairman of entertainment; Mrs. W. D. Beliveau, decorations, and Mrs. Margaret, kitchen and cleanup.

The evening closed with an expression of gratitude by the teachers.

Wagner refused $1,000 a week to go in vaudeville with Cobb and Vernon Lake. "I'm no actor," he said. He was in the front for a men's furnishing store.

John Gruber, then the office scorer in Pittsburgh, was offered $10 for a picture of Wagner that could be put in cigarette packages. Gruber wrote Wagner, received this reply: "Dear John: I don't want any picture cigarettes. I don't want you to loan $10, so I'm enclosing a check for that sum." Gruber framed the check.

Season With 10-10 Record

ALBION, Feb. 25.—Coach Gene Cooper's Southern Idaho College of Education Panthers defeated Westminster for a second time tonight to gain a 10-10 record for the season. This is considered an exceptional record because the local college team averaged only about five feet-in height and had to give an advantage to every opponent.

The score of tonight's game was 48-46. Albion had a 24-21 lead at the half.

Joe Is Lenient
LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Joe Louis

made his debut last night as a side-show feature at the health and holiday exhibition against a young man who didn't heed his reputation as world heavyweight boxing cham-

Phil Van Niekirk, a novice South African heavyweight, introduced himself to Louis in a one-round exhibition by extending a straight left to the head.

Joe seemed a little surprised and never got around to answering. Phil continued to swing as if he were trying for keeps. The full house, fully aware of Louis' reputation, went out somewhat disappointed that the champ didn't put Van Niekirk on the floor.

Eddie Phillips, former British heavyweight champion, met Louis in one round, but had to ask for mercy. He left the ring with a bloody nose. Phillips, now retired, met Ollie Tanberg of Sweden in a

WestPressing Park Highway Improvements

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Western congressmen are pressing the house appropriations committee for more funds to improve forest highways.

The budget bureau has recommended $5,000,000 for that purpose during the fiscal year starting next July 1. It is the same amount appropriated for the work this year. A number of westerners think that is not nearly enough. Two who went before the appropriations committee this week to say so were Representatives Fernandez, D. N. M., and Barrett, R. Wyo.

Waste Noted
Fernandez, in a prepared statement, asserted that forest highways in their present condition, constitute great "eyes" in state highway systems where the state roads happen to cross the federal preserves.

Barrett was even more emphatic. He said, also, in a statement, that nearly the entire amount recommended by the budget bureau could be used to rebuild and improve forest roads leading to the south entrance of Yellowstone national park in Wyoming alone.

Barrett noted that the 1944 highway act authorized the expenditure of $25,000,000 a year for three years on forest highways. Yet, he said, only $6,000,000 has actually been appropriated since the end of the war.

Plans Complete
"The forest service has its surveys and plans well enough along so that it could advantageously expend $10,000,000 (the remaining part of the three-year authorization) in the coming fiscal year, and the public road administration has stated that such an appropriation would not affect other road construction projects," he stated.

Both Fernandez and Barrett emphasized that national forests form a large part of the area in many western states, and for that reason the improvement of forest highways is highly important.

Road Aid Amount Pledge Is Sought

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Congress was asked today to pledge $1,000,000,000 for state highway construction in 1950 and 1951.

Federal Works Administrator Philip B. Fleming said such assurance is necessary now to permit state legislatures to plan their share of the costs.

In a statement prepared for a subcommittee on roads, Fleming said also that funds already authorized will be spent or "obligated" before the next congress could take action.

He said a proposed $500,000,000 authorization for road building in fiscal 1949 may well be exhausted in view of the delay in pushing the construction program authorized in 1947.

Seed Firm Bought By Farmer Union

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 24 (AP)—Purchase of the Kelly-Western Seed company by the Farmers Union was announced by James O. Patton, president of the National Farmers Union.

Patton said Paul V. Kelly, partner in the seed company, would be general manager of all Farmers Union business services in Utah and southern Idaho.

The union has established a full line of cooperatively operated insurance for farmers in Utah, Patton added.

Bids Are Sought On Elmore Road

BOISE, Feb. 27 (AP)—Bids will be opened March 12 on five highway projects the state department of public works said today.

All of the projects are in southwestern Idaho.

One calls for constructing of a road, drainage structures and bituminous surface treatment on 12.75 miles of state highway 22 between Mountain Home and Tolaite in Elmore county.

32 Idaho Women to Take Nurse's Exams

BOISE, Feb. 24 (AP)—About 32 Idaho women will take registered nurse examinations at three cities next Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Estella S. Mullner, state director of occupational licenses, said the exams would be held at Boise, Lewiston and Pocatello. Sixteen are expected to take the exam at Boise, 12 at Lewiston and four at Pocatello.

Clogging up Highway

Timber in railroad will use more wooden sleepers this year because of the acute timber shortage there. Here's a carload on the way to market in Coeur d'Alene. Each pair of sleepers about one dollar, logs about a year.

'Thrift' Pays Off On Dam Building For Water Firm

BOISE, Feb. 24 (AP)—Thrill paid off today for the Sumner Water and Irrigation company, Idaho, and the company was paid $200,000 had saved in constructing a reservoir below estimated cost.

The company qualified last year for $375 for a survey of the reservoir under the state reclamation department's small reservoir project, or 4 1/2 per cent of the $2,000 estimated construction cost.

But the company built the dam for only $60,000.

The reclamation department said the company was paid only $200,000 for $2,000,000 grant for the survey, or 4 1/2 per cent of the cash outlay. But the board of examiners yesterday said the company should not be paid until for third and awarded in the 1940.

Man Discovers He Was Robbed

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23 (AP)—Henry Love, 33, walked out of municipal court today—free, but a disappointed man.

Brought up on a charge of possessing narcotics, after police said they found several capsules in his pocket, Love heard a deputy district attorney ask dismissal of the charges. He explained that a police chemist had found the "pills" filled with nothing but cotton.

"Well," said Love, "what's the law? And I've been paying 25 cent apiece for those things."

Phone Firm's Profits Down By 2 Millions

DENVER, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company today reported a net income of $1,098,451 in 1947, down more than $2,000,000 from 1946.

The income amounted to $2.29 per $100 share of common stock. The company's net income in 1946 was $4,022,887, or $7.60 per share.

Sticks Blamed
Pres. P. P. Ogden blamed a strike, increased wage levels and other expenses for the decrease.

Operating revenues increased 87 per cent from $4,401,764 in 1946 to $8,292,132. Operating expenses went up 19.8 per cent from $4,277,437 in 1946 to $5,125,865 last year.

Largest Building Program
The company's $22,648,000 construction program was the largest in its history. Its payroll of 17,250 employees also exceeded any year. The number of telephones increased 31,122 to 331,677.

Mountain States operates in Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, New Mexico, Montana, Idaho, Arizona and El Paso county, Tex.

COMMENTS OF AN EX-COP and Deputy Sheriff

Did you know... a car entering a State highway shall yield the right-of-way to all vehicles approaching on such State highway whether there is a STOP sign or not? The double line in the center of a highway means no driving to the left of your vehicle whether passing or not. Drive Carefully—Be right and travel well to the right on any highway. Belgian Avers Ladies Swoon Over Fencers

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 28.—Get out that old dueling sword, men. I'll make you better husbands and lovers.

That's what Jean Heremans says, anyway. He was national fencing champ of Belgium for five years in a row.

And what Sinaatra does to the bobby-soxers over here, Heremans did to those Belgian beauties.

He wooed 'em, according to his hunting report. Had to beat 'em off with his saber. And all, he says, because he was a whiz with a rapier.

Handsome Gent

Could be. But this Heremans is a handsome, hand-kissing gent. He's six feet tall, has curly blond hair, and he wouldn't be surprised if the babes in his home town never even noticed his absence.

All the same, he says it helped. That's how he wooed his wife. And he thinks American men would be a lot chaper in the romance department if they went in for a little fencing on the side.

"It takes you more graceful for one thing," Heremans pointed out. "More graceful. And all, he says, how you say it... more manly."

New Zing Given

"Husbands who've been pipe-and-slipper-and-evening-gown men all their lives, it seems yet a whole new ring out of life once they get their mitts on a rapier.

"I'm in into rapiering right off. Breadwinners feel like going home and kissing their wives' hands. It might not turn the old man into a cannibal overnight.

"But it makes him think he is," Heremans chuckled. "And that is almost as good, is it not?"

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

By INEZ FUCKETT

I would be true, for there are those who trust me; I would be pure, for there are those who care; I would be strong, for there is much to suffer; I would be brave, for there is much to dare.

It was a huge covered van on the Jerome to Twin Falls highway. On the duty back was a woman, a woman who had written that. Probably his pale was along to join and laugh. Bobbie may have been hovering in the background, grinning his teeth in rage. We could see "Margie"—probably a baby-faced blond with wavy curls. Maybe Bobbie refused to bear the taunt scribbled on the van, and sailed into his lady beds at many places where the original Oregon Trail wound into the valley. Men seem to get all the breaks in this world, but according to the medical bipartis, they deteriorate in body faster than women and are less resistant to disease. Women have less emotional balance—which is why they are apt to fly off the handle and hurt something sooner when roused—but their physical makeup is more efficient. Men are smarter in arithmetical and mechanical problems, but when it comes to romance, language, social and esthetic taste, the girls have it all over the men.

Rilla was once a domestic in the home of John Barrymore. Now she ranges in the hills and valleys, raising plump white chickens. Rilla has a motherly regard for these birds. When one of her chickens behaves as if over her knee and paddles its rear. The first time we saw it, she said, "My dear, it's open to amusement." "My dear," said Rilla, nodding her head. "These little roosters and hens, they plenty smart. They learn maybe this discipline business."

Rilla says the great Barrymore was a "rational" man. He has one of his crock coats. It's really quite narrow across the shoulders and not large at all. "He only look great big on the stage," she says. "He was about medium rare in size, but not a great nose he got! Did not voice!" It's wonderful to visit Rilla just to hear her rave about the Great John.

Now we've heard everything! Big downtown department stores DAIRY TALES

One of those days we hope to call on Ralph Holmes over at Hagman and get some exciting pioneer stories. Walter Ray, of the Twin Falls, seems to know considerable about that area, past and present. Walter writes: "We lived on the River Ranch where Thousand Springs air park is now. My granddaddy Montgomery used to freight up over the Old Oregon Trail. He dropped his freight at upper Salmon Falls where the Vador ranch now stands. It was then ferried across the river and picked up by another freight outfit who continued on to Oregon with it."

Walter says the River Ranch where he lived then known as the Mormon flat, and was one of their favorite campgrounds. "They often had encounters with the Indians here," he writes. "There used to be four big poplars at the lower end of the place, with a wire stretched around to form a square enclosure. Four men were buried inside. They had been killed in a pitched battle with the Indians."

Walter says he and his folks were always finding arrowheads around there. Many of them in perfect condition. He says you can still see the wagon wheel tracks through the

In California are advertising "Antony-Paul" men! These are shorts decorated with bright colored spots in a swarming pattern over front and rear. The shorts say, "This is real fancy in an Antony-Pauler!" (And they say women go in for scruffy notions!)

The pictures were superb, and hung about the walls of the Huntington hotel in Pasadena. We stopped on the way to lunch in the patio and exclaimed over them. Each painting has captured a mood of the desert or the sea. A shy, quiet man lingered about as we went from scene to scene.

"Which would you prefer if you could choose?" we asked him. The quiet man smiled. "That's like asking a mother which of her children she loves best," he said. And then we knew him—the man who had created all those beautiful brush and paint, and one of California's most distinguished artists.

"And, you never can tell," he thought as he talked modestly of his work. "This just proves once more that the most important people are also the most simple and unaffected." We then fell a-thinking about methods in our respective fields.

"Do you dream paintings at night?" we asked, and we told him how we often write whole columns of text for word, when asleep. "Yes, I dream pictures," he said. "But I can never sketch them reality."

"He told us how he once phrased sentences in a notebook and then sketched paintings around them. We do the same with subjects for writing," we told him. He said it made him goose-flesh to have any artist get really intense over one of his paintings. It ought to make the intense one get goose-flesh too, because this man's artistry is a rich and wonderful thing.

Bone Hunter Reports on Jeep Trip Billion Years Into Time

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—A New York bone hunter reported today on a Jeep journey that led a billion years back in time. The hunter of the report dealt with two creatures that lived, respectively, 180,000,000 and 45,000,000 years ago. The elder was a smallish, meat-eating fore-runner of the giant dinosaurs which dominated life on earth for millions of years before man.

The younger was one of the world's first plant eaters. It was no larger than a small dog. It had 20 tiny hoofs, five to a foot.

Coeophysis, a 50-pound dinosaur, and meniscotherium, the creature with the hoofs, were near neighbors in space. Both lived in what is now western New Mexico. But, according to George Gaylord Simpson, they were 115,000,000 years apart in time.

Simpson and several colleagues of New York's American Museum of Natural History found many fossil remains of these long extinct animals on a Jeep-borne hunting expedition in New Mexico last summer.

A preliminary report by Simpson was published today by the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Where massive San Pedro mountain now rises from the New Mexican badlands, the experts found evidence of ancient seas, streams and forests, and one of the earliest dinosaurs and "real sea serpents."

They also found bones of an "invading host of mammals," destined to take over from the dinosaurs. Some were smaller than mice. None was larger than a sheep.

But the hunters wanted especially to find coeophysis and meniscotherium, concerning which modern man's knowledge was slender.

Coeophysis turned up on ghost ranch near Abiquiu, N. M., in what the report says "probably the most important single discovery ever made in the American triassic period."

The triassic period started about 250 million years ago and lasted 100,000,000 years ago and lasted some 25,000,000 years. A had a foot or two thick was "thinned out" of bones of the little dinosaur, filled one on top of the other.

WHY THE RED CROSS NEEDS YOUR HELP IN 1948

Report on 1947: Miracles of mercy which never could be done without your dollars . . .

1 REMEMBER THE FLOODS? In 50 different floods, the Red Cross saved countless lives by helping to evacuate affected families, by sheltering, feeding, clothing, providing medical care and rehabilitation for thousands of stricken people.

2 REMEMBER THE FIRES? The Red Cross aided 161 times at fires in forests, hotels, restaurants, homes. It spent $1,250,000 in one fire alone to ease the suffering, restore health through hospital and medical care, provide shelter, revive hope for the homeless families.

3 REMEMBER THE HURRICANES? Fifty-five wind storms required many millions of Red Cross dollars, all outright gifts to afflicted families for the repair of homes, furnishings, clothing, when the means of livelihood for individuals made desolate by disaster.

4 VETERANS HAD PROBLEMS. The birth of a baby, death in the family, help needed to pay bills—2,029,007 cases for veterans and their dependents were handled by the Red Cross last year. For counsel, information, financial aid, the Red Cross saved $24,441,863.

5 VETERANS NEEDED CARE. In Veterans Administration offices, the Red Cross served 1,058,832 cases involving claims, dependents, personal problems. Over 12,000 Red Cross hospital volunteers cheered veterans with entertainment, companionship, instruction.

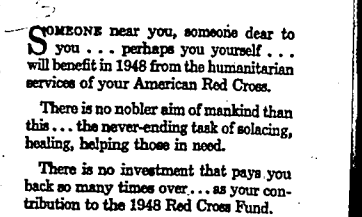

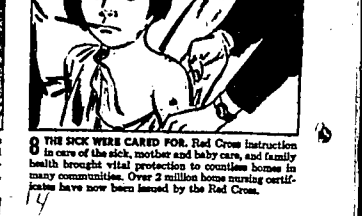

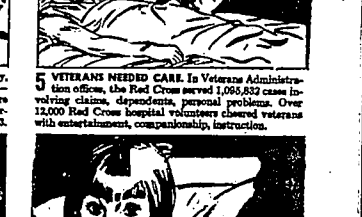

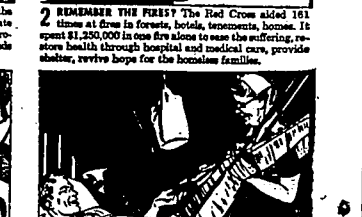

6 HOSPITALS NEEDED HELP. 12,000 Nurse's Aid—all volunteers—lightened nurses' work in civilian hospitals, clinics, public health agencies and Red Cross blood donor centers. Red Cross Motor Service, too, made 668,000 calls, carrying convalescents, disaster workers.

7 THE NEEDY WERE CLOTHED. Red Cross volunteers produced 2,480,000 garments, 84,000 lapetins, and quantities of surgical dressings. The articles were gratefully used in disaster areas, in community institutions, in civilian, military and naval hospitals.

8 THE SICK WERE CARED FOR. Red Cross instruction in care of the sick, mother and baby care, and family health brought vital protection to countless homes in many communities. Over 2 million home nursing certificates have now been issued by the Red Cross.

9 FIRST AID SAVED LIVES. Over 11 million Americans have trained in Red Cross emergency care, reducing immeasurably the terrible toll of accidents on our highways. Red Cross instruction in swimming and life saving, too, prevented innumerable drownings.

10 BLOOD SAVED LIVES. Your Red Cross brought the miracle of blood to many of those in need. Now, a new Red Cross program is on the way—eventually to make blood and its derivatives available to all without cost for the product.

SOMEONE dear you, someone dear to you . . . perhaps you yourself . . . will benefit in 1948 from the humanitarian services of your American Red Cross.

There is no nobler aim of mankind than this . . . the never-ending task of solacing, healing, helping those in need.

There is no investment that pays you back so many times over . . . as your contribution to the 1948 Red Cross Fund.

Again this year, be proud . . . and grateful . . . to give what you can.

Too Early to Telf Russian Aim on Finns

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Now Russia is moving to consolidate her hold on Finland, last country within the communist sphere to retain a semblance of autonomy. It is too early to tell for sure whether Moscow intends to create an immediate government crisis in Finland so that it can be taken over as was Prague. The present move could be confined to inclusion of Finland in the Russian security treaty system.

But it looks like a matter of time for Finland. Russia has reversed the wraps. She is out to consolidate her sphere and to cut its contacts with the rest of the world. She, and the world with her, are moving down a road which has never led to anything except war. All nature fights against any effort to separate one part of a body from another.

Charles Chagres Mink
I have just been knocked off my chair by receipt of a letter from one of the best informed sources in the United States on international affairs. I have had many arguments with her because she believed the humanist aims of communism would eventually overcome its belligerent pervasiveness. She believed that American capitalism was not entering the fight with clean hands.

But she was wrong.
"I feel I have to tell you: that I am convinced. To the extent that I can influence the world, I will make moves. We should start an 'unprovoked' war, use the atom bomb, and then, when the world is in the next three years. This is Munich all over, not because it is the same country (Czechoslovakia) but because the implications are the same, the symptoms of our enemy's foreign policy the same."

What breaks my heart is that everyone appears to punch drunk the world. It is a matter of time before the state department goes right ahead with its belief in the containment policy. How much the containment can do for the final showdown.

The idea that the United States could ever deliberately drop the first bomb is so incredible as to require time for digestion. Certainly we cannot afford to wait for a new Pearl Harbor. Neither can we afford to permit Russia to continue mauling half a world. Let us Abraham Lincoln put it, we never solve anything. You fight it, and then when it is over the problems which caused it still remain to be solved.

To meet the threats of the day, western Europe and China must be welded into an economically sound and militarily superior union against communism. If Russia needs a great military machine and military treaties with countries which she already controls, how much more do we need them with countries which are bound together only in spirit.

Four Sturgeon Caught in Two Days

Burley Tetter, center, and his two companions, Wilson Stern, left, and Alvin Jolyn, made somewhat of a record in Glens Ferry during the week. They caught four big sturgeons in two days. On the first day they caught three, one of which was seven feet long. On the following day they caught one more which measured seven feet. Each of the larger ones weighed more than 100 pounds each. (Staff engraving)

Glenns Ferry Fishermen Land 4 Large Sturgeon in Two Days

GLENN'S FERRY, Feb. 28.—Burley Tetter not only sold automobiles, but takes time out to snag a few sturgeons from the Snake river which flows almost right past his door. Together with his two companions, Wilson Stern and Alvin Jolyn, he set two lines in the Monday and Tuesday found that three sturgeon had taken the bait. Two on one line were medium sized, while the one on the other was a seven-footer and weighed 100 pounds. On Wednesday, the three caught another which measured seven feet and weighed 100 pounds.

Tetter said such were used for bait. However, the three were not set again after the second day's catch, since the families had sufficient bait for the time being.

It is unusual to catch four sturgeons in two days, since they do not usually respond so readily to the bait. Years ago fishermen recall catches of sturgeon in this vicinity which weighed 800 pounds each, but since the Snake went of here are believed to be responsible for the smaller size caught now. The few sturgeons do not seem to be able to get up the ladder to this area.

A number of fishermen have been the back of catching the monsters throughout the year, but sometimes a line will be set for a week or more before the bait attracts any sturgeon to bite.

While the Americans dawdled in Pilsen, 50 miles away.

This was in the closing days of the war. Prague patriots were fighting the Nazis in the streets. Defectors slipped through the lines to Pilsen to seek American help. I was there and saw American officers and men volunteer to go.

The answer was "no." The Russians had asked that the third army halt at Pilsen and wait for the Soviet troops to link up with them. An order came down from higher headquarters: "breaking the American column."

It was useless to try to explain to the platoon commander. They knew only that the Americans could have come to the defense of Prague and that the Russians did.

But the present American handoff of Czechoslovakia think a any totalitarianism can subdue the people Hitler couldn't break. I'd like to repeat here portions of a dispatch I filed from Pilsen on May 7, 1945.

It describes the first homecoming parade of Czech soldiers who had fought for years with the British army and now again were under their own red, white and blue flag.

There were only a few of them—company of tired and dusty men who hadn't seen their native land since before Dunkerque, where they fought with valor. Czechoslovakia's second largest city gave them a conqueror's welcome.

They were a symbol of free Czechoslovakia—the little country of greatness, proud, democratic and progressive.

They came into Pilsen behind General Patton's American troops.

Fall Vote for Labor Officer Is Ruled Out

BOISE, Feb. 28.—Secretary of State J. D. (Cy) Price has ruled it is impossible to place an initiative for the activation of the department of labor on the ballot next November.

Price, in a letter to Homer C. Martin, Pocatello, chairman of the Idaho Railway Labor Legislative association, declared the office already is provided for under article 11 of the constitution.

Duties Would Overlap
"Without the duties of the commissioner redefined it would result in an overlapping set of duties affecting a great number of state agencies and perhaps some federal agencies," Price said. "The moment an initiative undertakes to repeal a duty it would cease to be an initiative and would undoubtedly become a referendum."

"This would conflict with the law as a referendum must be law within 150 days following the close of the session creating the law under consideration."

Price said the only way to activate the bureau of immigration, labor and statistics would be by legislative action.

Price said in 1921-22 O. H. Barber was listed as the commissioner of department of immigration, labor and statistics in the secretary of state's yearbook. This was the last time the office was listed.

The secretary of state said in 1923 the office was abolished in favor of the legislative bureau to make an appropriation for maintenance during the administration of Gov. C. Moore.

Price said "it is apparent that the duties of this office... have from time to time been distributed to the boards, bureaus and commissions until its functions have dwindled and been relegated into insignificance."

was maddening. A cry burst from every throat as the first vehicle entered the parade area, and as each car limped past the volume grew greater.

"I wasn't at all alone like the yells of an American crowd. This sound had compounded in its sadness and exhilaration and pride and joy. It sang in the ears like a strong wind pushing across mountains.

It was a cry of triumph and grief, of joy and sorrow, of hope and despair. It was a cry that had been waiting for years to be heard.

Harry Barry Ain't Mad at Nobody

BOISE, Feb. 28.—The Harry Wilsons of Boise, my wife and I are in the midst of an enjoyable trip down here in the southern states and Mexico.

I called up the boys at the yard the first part of the week. Charlie told me that the gang seemed to be in the best of spirits. Charlie tells me that whenever the sun comes out the rain and snow stops and the contractors pour in. This itself indicates that Magic Valley is well on its way toward another active construction season and the Harry Barry Lumber Company is preparing itself to meet the situation with the materials needed.

Ed Hall tells me that those houses we are building at the yard are selling Clyde Briggs to really step on it—the demand is greater than the supply. Just as a suggestion, drop over to the yard and take a look at the quality of the construction of these houses. I think you're really in for a treat.

Spring is trying hard to get on its way so don't forget that we handle Scherer paints. When it comes to doing the place up and as we are not doing all along this trip, the harmonious use of paint colors really does the job.

Before I left there were quite a number of you fellows asking about steel posts. The gang at the yard tells me that we've got plenty of them now and that the price is right regardless of the sudden jump in steel prices recently.

While Charlie and Ed were on the phone I heard Al Bunt shouting, "Don't forget to tell Harry that our lumbermen stock is better shape than ever." No kidding, that Armstrong Fiberglass insulation is something to be proud of and I don't blame Al for yelling about it.

They also told me that the 2 inch diameter lumber has been in demand in a little faster. Go over and get some of the bunch to show it to you. Well, so long for this time. My wife and the others insist on my getting started on our way to the next stopover.

Mines Report Reveals 1947 'Unsteadiness'

BOISE, Feb. 28 (AP)—Last year was one of great promise and equally great disappointment in Idaho's mining industry.

The report for 1947 of George McDowell, state mining inspector, pointed to increased gold production, construction of new mills and possible future development of the silver belt in the Coeur d'Alenes, combined with rising metal prices.

Debit Side Given

McDowell said on the debit side of the books, was the continuing labor shortage; decreasing productivity of labor; a general production decline of lead, silver, zinc and copper; the sale of the premium price plan. This, he said, was linked with a widespread uncertainty as to the future course of government policy.

There is still a shortage of labor in the mining industry of Idaho, McDowell said. An additional 1,000 men could be used in the state's mines, mills, and smelters.

He said most of the larger operations are advertising for men with a guarantee of steady work the year around.

The state's zinc output topped all other mineral production. A total of 187,011 pounds of zinc were mined in 1947. Lead was second with 151,501,110 pounds produced.

The state mined 3,200,000 pounds of copper while silver production was $240,170 ounces. Idaho mines yielded 5,510 ounces of gold during the year.

Dog Records His Gallant Act No. 2

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 28 (AP)—A small chow dog which last November led mountain rescuers to his lost mistress, today was credited with saving his owners from death by fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike La Toth said they were awakened by Thompson scratching on their bedroom door. They opened it and found flames spreading through their apartment.

They escaped unhurt.

La Toth said that last November he and Mrs. La Toth became separated on Mount Hood when a sudden snowstorm came up. After hours of fruitless searching, he and others followed the dog to where Mrs. La Toth had halted, exhausted.

Huge Luxurious Private Plane Lands at Burley in Emergency

BURLEY, Feb. 28 (AP)—Dwarfing small aircraft at the Burley municipal airport here Thursday was a large Grumman-Stearman amphibian-type plane, piloted by Charles Bing, Lynchburg, Va.

Bing brought the plane to the Burley airport to avoid work from his employer, J. J. Ryan, Oakridge, Va., and New York City, who is vacationing at Sun Valley with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morse. The party left the Lynchburg, Va., airport for Sun Valley by train. Bing took the ship to Ogdén, Utah. The trip to Burley from Ogdén took 40 minutes and uncertain weather conditions near Sun Valley caused the pilot to land here.

The plane, weighing 12,750 pounds, has two motors of 600 horsepower each. It is a new type of craft.

Wyming last week because of bad weather. Ryan continued on to Sun Valley by train and Bing flew the ship to Ogdén, Utah, because of bad weather again, the ship was landed at Burley instead of proceeding to Sun Valley. (Sherrerd photo-staff engraving)
