Police Capture 3 Men on Charges of Cattle Stealing

RUPERT, June 2 (UP)—A trio of youthful rustlers who admitted a number of thefts of sheep and calves since last appeared Wednesday for arraignment before Minidoka County Probate Judge Jake Wall after being arrested Monday in a coordinated four-day search by police officers in three Magic Valley counties.

The youths were charged with stealing six sheep and two calves last Thursday from three Heyburn stockmen. They were listed as Larry Oster, 16, and Brian Pollard, 17, both Rupert, and Boyd Dudley, 23, Burley.

They were taken into custody by Minidoka County Sheriff Ron Hawkins at the home of Dudley, 1101 North Oakley street, Burley. According to Sheriff Hawkins, the trio allegedly have been operating successfully on the herds of Minidoka and Cassia county stockmen since last fall, when they were apprehended after selling some branded sheep at the Gooding Commission company fair.

Safe Is Unloving
The safe of the branded sheep, the sheriff related, proved the undoing of the trio, who previously were believed to have sold a number of unbranded sheep and calves in the Magic Valley area. Upon questioning, the sheriff said, the boys told a story of clever cattle rustling in which they employed a truck and a license plate that would bring a fine.

Under cover of darkness, the youths told the sheriff, they would drive their stock trailer truck along a highway until they came upon a nearby sheep or cattle ranch. Then, the youths said, they would take the truck off the highway to a nearby field and drive the sheep or cattle into the truck. The youths said they would go out and "cut" a few head from the herd.

Animals Slain
After leading the stolen animals, they said, they would drive to a secluded spot, change the license plates on their truck to correspond with the county they intended to

NBC Offers to Give on Radio Voice of America

WASHINGTON, June 2 (UP)—The National Broadcasting company today offered to step out of the "Voice of America" programs and leave its international radio stations to the government for $1 million.

Charles R. Denny, NBC vice president, made the offer to a Senate subcommittee today. He said the company had a government-financed propaganda program contained within its contract with the state and national programs.

He made the offer after explaining the what happened to bring congressional fire on the program. The program was in the hands of the state and national programs.

Denny, youthful former federal communications commission chairman, blamed the difficulty on "the view of responsibility" between the state and national programs.

He said the offer was made after the company had been told that the program was a "propaganda" program.

News Say Truce Is 'Failure'

TEL AVIV, June 2 (UP)—The Israeli army reported officially that Arab forces were hammering hard at Jewish positions in Jerusalem and scattered sectors throughout the country today in defiance of Israel's provisional order for a truce.

A war communique said that Arab armies viciously pressed their assaults in all the active battle zones. In addition, it reported, Egyptian troops opened a fresh assault near Gaza, midway between Beersheva and Gaza.

Late in the morning the general opinion in this Israeli capital was that the truce was a failure. The Jews were expected to claim freedom of action. They had ordered their forces to break off the fight as of 3 p. m., but only if the Arabs did likewise.

An Israeli communique from Baghdad reported that Iraqi forces surrounded Tel Aviv in a semicircle of seven to nine miles. There was no word here to indicate that the Iraqi forces were pressing an assault on the city.

There was a general feeling in Jewish circles that the Arab delay in making cease-fire conditions known was a deliberate misrepresentation of their acceptance and should be viewed as Arab rejection of the security council's appeal deadline.

It was understood Jewish leaders would demand that the security council take action.

State Enters Test Case on School Unity

PAIRFIELD, June 2 (UP)—The state of Idaho entered the Camas county suit brought to test the constitutionality of the school reorganization law today.

Attorney General Robert E. Smylie filed a petition asking that the federal aid to education in the case since a declaration judgment is filed.

At the same time Smylie filed a petition asking that the federal aid to education in the case since a declaration judgment is filed.

The action to test constitutionality was taken by Fred H. Almon, Leonard R. Anderson, Almon Eckert and J. H. Henley of Elmore county after their school district was made a part of a joint "B" district of Elmore and Camas counties.

The law which brought the action were the only qualified voters of the Elmore county district. The law was passed by the 1947 session of the legislature.

Nine other counties have completed partial reorganization of their school districts. Only four of the 14 counties have taken no action toward reorganization.

Smylie indicated an early supreme court decision is expected on the constitutional question arising from the Camas county case.

Flood Damage in Northwest Is Estimated Near $80,000,000; 28 Killed; Crest Passes Portland

PORTLAND, Ore., June 2 (UP)—The Columbia river's destructive flood crest began dropping slowly at Portland today and the peak of the Pacific northwest's spring thaw crisis appeared to have passed after two weeks of record-breaking devastation.

Approximately 100,000 persons were left homeless or temporarily displaced, 28 persons were killed or drowned and an estimated $80,000,000 damage was inflicted on crops, property and riverfront industries in four states and British Columbia.

During a three-hour period, the Columbia dropped from 30.2 to 30.0 feet at Vancouver and the Willamette, carrying a backwater flow from the Columbia, lowered six-tenths of a foot during a 12-hour period.

The danger to the flood-stricken Portland area and Vancouver communities was not yet eliminated, however. Volunteer workers and troops, laboring under search lights fought through the night and morning to prevent a threatened break in a north Portland dike which would flood a farmland area 12 miles long and two miles wide.

The Columbia's mighty crest, however, moved from Portland to a place in the Pacific northwest river's mouth at Astoria, Ore., 112 miles distant.

Tolls Over Dikes

West German Plan Formed By 6 Nations Judges Order Liquor Evidence Destruction

Court orders directing Sheriff Broda R. Rayborn to destroy 790 bottles of unclaimed liquor evidence were signed Tuesday and Wednesday in probate and district courts.

An order for the destruction of 119 bottles confiscated at the Canyon lodge in February, 1947, was signed late Tuesday by District Judge James W. Porter.

Another order for the disposal of 671 bottles seized in a raid at the Turf club at the same time was signed Wednesday morning by Probate Judge S. T. Hamilton.

Containing similar wording, the two orders prepared by Prosecuting Attorney Everett M. Sweeley, state since there is "no reason for the further retention of the bottles" and the real owners are not known, the sheriff is to deliver all unopened bottles to the state liquor store in the city.

When the 790 bottles of evidence are disposed of, the court order to make a personal check against the original inventory.

It is expected, however, the actual disposition of the liquor will be effected until next week when Sheriff Rayborn returns from the peace officers' convention in Coeur d'Alene.

Sweeley said it would take two days to return the liquor when the sheriff returns to the court order.

Not Sure on Number
In response to a query Tuesday, Prosecutor Sweeley said he did not know if the figures listed on the order represented the number of bottles stored in the basement of the courthouse or included the bottles discovered during the raid.

"The liquor evidence is in the safekeeping of the sheriff," he said, "and the number of bottles on the order was supplied from his office."

Judges Order Destruction of Raids Liquor

The figures will make little difference against his record of the number of bottles will be against the original inventory which was compiled by state liquor law enforcement officials shortly after the liquor was confiscated.

Two Orders Required
Although the liquor is not being repleated in its storage place, the state court has issued orders were necessary because Hester, Galloway, liquor bartender, had obtained a private court judgment to the district court.

Silbaugh was found guilty of a charge of selling liquor by the drink at the club and fined $150. When the case was appealed to district court, Judge Porter found the private court ruling adequate and the appealing action was dismissed.

The fact it was carried to the higher court, however, was sufficient to demand two separate orders under the law, Silbaugh said.

In the private court trial, Dale Wildman, manager and Leona Martin, a waitress at the club, were found not guilty of violating existing liquor laws.

The state liquor allegedly belonging to patrons of the Twin Falls and Canyon Road was introduced into the case. The liquor, stored in the basement of the courthouse following the raids was there for three months. In the two months since it was publicized that owners of the liquor could claim their bottles upon payment of an affidavit, only six persons have secured their property in this manner, according to Silbaugh.

Dollar volume of building in Twin Falls declined 74 per cent in April as compared to March, according to figures released in the Pacific Northwest Building Bulletin.

Total construction costs given for building permits issued here in April was $147,730, compared to a March volume of $578,275. The April figure was also a four per cent decline from April, 1947, when permits totaled $154,120.

Down for Area

Building prices for the Pacific Northwest—Washington, Oregon, Idaho and part of British Columbia—fell seven per cent in April from the record high of March. Dollar volume in April was $24,807,938, compared to the March figure of $26,810,224. The figures are based on reports from 44 cities in the northwest.

Compared to April, 1947, dollar volume for the whole area was 60 per cent. The 44 cities issued 5,975 building permits in April, compared with 5,122 in March.

For the seven Idaho cities listed, total dollar volume in April was up 10 per cent over March, but down 10 per cent from March. Coeur d'Alene had the largest increase, 219 per cent, primarily because of the construction of a $180,000, electric building.

Stockpiling of Minerals and Metals Urged

SUN VALLEY, June 2 (AP)—The stockpiling of essential minerals and metals to meet possible emergency needs has been recommended to the Idaho Mining association.

Dr. Donald H. McLaughlin, president of the Homestake Mining company of South Dakota and chairman of the National Minerals Advisory council to congress, spoke to the mining convention yesterday.

"Create Stockpiles"

He recommended stockpiling of all essential minerals and metals to be held inviolate for emergency needs.

Other recommendations made by Dr. McLaughlin included restoration of subsidies of any sort on the minerals that are not known in deposits of sufficient grade and size to support competitive enterprises; exploration of domestic terrain for mineral deposits; development of reasonably competitive domestic sources of minerals as fully as demand requires; and recognition of the necessity of obtaining minerals and metals from outside the country.

Tells of Project Edward B. Douglas, manager of the Cline Mining company operating the Cobalt mine at Forney, spoke to the Idaho association on the development of the mine.

He said the mine is now in the research stage to determine if the mine can supply the cobalt needs of the nation.

About 250 persons attended the three-day meeting, which ended at noon today with an election of officers.

Mental Cruelty Charged by Wife

Charging mental cruelty, Mrs. Ozma M. Brower Tuesday filed divorce proceedings in district court against her husband, John T. Brower.

Mrs. Brower alleges in her petition her husband gets intoxicated "nearly every Saturday night" and then quarrels, curses and calls her vile names.

She asks the court for a clear title to some property, which she claims she purchased without her husband's assistance and which is valued at an estimated $4,000, and $100 for court costs and attorney fees. The couple was married in Feb. 1947, and there are no children.

Mrs. Brower has the legal counsel of J. H. Barnes.

The six boys and their sponsors are: Robert Ludwig Drexler, Elks lodge; Thomas Oliver Bucklin, Jr., Twin Falls post of the American Legion; Dave L. Gray, Junior Chamber of Commerce; Earl Christian Jensen, Jr., Rotary club; Herbert L. Briggs, Kiwanis club; and Kenneth Turner Faler, Lions club.

The boys are of the highest type character, leadership and educational background," Allen declared.

"All are vitally interested in becoming useful and outstanding future citizens. Each sponsor has taken a deep sense of pride and responsibility in selecting these boys, and we of the Twin Falls American Legion feel honored in recommending them."

Boys' State was originated by the American Legion in Illinois, in 1925. By 1942, the idea had been adopted by American Legion departments in 30 states.

Boys' State is a school in which self-imposed lessons and practices in objective citizenship are mastered. Through these activities, they gain an understanding of the functions, importance and principles of government by the people.

Demo Action To Challenge New System

BOISE, June 2 (UP)—Another step in the move by Idaho Democrats to challenge an amendment to the state constitution has been taken today.

The 1944 amendment changed the terms of office of state officers from two to four years and Democrats earlier reported a possible contesting of the amendment by plans to file a state of candidacy for state officers for the August 10 state primaries.

Both O. Moon, Pocatello, and Frank Keenan, Boise, realtor, obtained nominating petitions from Secretary of State J. D. (Cy) Price yesterday.

Held Post Before
Mrs. Moon said in Boise she would file a declaration of candidacy for state treasurer, a post she held in 1945-46. Keenan said he had no announcement to make "right now."

Mrs. Moon said her nomination would be in "disregard" of the constitutional amendment. Keenan said friends have been urging him to seek nomination for state office in a prospective test of the amendment.

One of the points upon which the amendment would be contested is the election of the auditor from the amendment, Keenan said.

Claims Error
Previously Price said the office of state auditor was omitted from the amendment but now says the question put before the voters. He said the omission was a clerical or typographical error.

Price also said earlier his office might refuse to accept any nomination testing the amendment.

Mrs. Moon said, "I believe the attempt at constitutional amendment was so defective that the supreme court, if it should be called upon to determine the matter, would never enunciate it."

"No Effect"
"In my opinion the attempted amendment is of no effect and I intend to proceed in disregard of it," she added.

She said she would take "appropriate steps" if Price should refuse to accept her nominating petitions and declaration of candidacy.

"When I file my papers I shall insist the secretary of state accept them and that the customary proceeding for bi-annual election of state officers be adhered to," Mrs. Moon stated.

Last Rites Held For Norman Voss

Funeral services for Norman Voss were held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Twin Falls mortuary chapel with the Rev. R. T. Pace, pastor of the Church of God, officiating.

Vocal music was offered by Church. Harris accompanied by his wife at the piano. Burial was made in the Twin Falls cemetery.

Tailcoaters were Kenneth Holm, William Hoehn, Herman Voss, George Voss, Jr., William Voss and Robert Campbell.

At Last a Point of Agreement

French Cafe Society Doesn't Reflect True State of Nation

PARIS, June 2 (UP)—It is a short walk from the Cafe de la Paix where Parisians sit in the gloom drinking vermouth to the gloomy halls of the ministry of finance and economic affairs, where the state of the nation is mirrored in more numbers.

In sidewalk cafes you get the impression that happy days are here again. On the whole the people aren't as smartly dressed as before the war. Many look pale and badly nourished. But much of their old gaiety is back, and after a 4 o'clock in the afternoon every table is taken.

At the ministry of finance every day is occupied by a worried functionary. Here ministers and directors judge post-war recovery in terms of national income, factory production, and living costs. They find the outlook hopeful but precarious.

America's gigantic European recovery program is the main reason for hope. Without it the bleak horizon here would have been cut to less than a quarter of a point a day. That would soon deprive the people of their will to work.

The threat of further inflation is the main reason for worry. Prices are holding steady now at about 15 times as high as they were in 1938, in fairly normal previous years. The government's problem is to hold the line and make what cutbacks it can.

The coming weeks before the French harvest will tell the story of whether the government can overcome further inflation on three danger fronts—agricultural prices, industrial prices, and wages.

Government costs already have risen 25 per cent under 1938, on the basis of 1938 price levels. The national income still is far below the government's goal for economic health. Last year the national income was $12,600,000,000. In 1938 it was $18,500,000,000. The government's goal is $18,500,000,000. Last year the government took 20 per cent of the national income in taxes; this year it expects to take 30 per cent.

Industrial production is up 13 per cent over 1938. But the economic ministry says the increase will have to reach 20 per cent to be satisfactory. The industry has advanced less than halfway toward its goal.

Recent guests EMERSON, June 2—Mr. and Mrs. R. Lewis and children, from the U.S.A., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bonfield.

Largest 'Eye' In World to Be Dedicated

MT. PALOMAR, Calif., June 2 (UP)—Also this mile-high mountain made the world's biggest eye will be dedicated tomorrow.

The eye—a 200-inch mirror telescope—will permit man to see twice as far out into space as he has ever gazed before. In all, it will give man an opportunity to study a volume of inner eight times that of present facilities.

The monster eye, built at a cost of more than $6,000,000 and over a period of 17 years, is expected to bring into focus millions of galaxies not visible to earth. Furthermore, it will permit a better study of those galaxies which can now be picked up in smaller telescopes.

May Hold Answers
Some of the world's most famous astronomers, arriving here for the dedication, believe that many unproven or unanswered theories of the universe ultimately will be solved with the 200-incher.

The telescope was not designed for a study of Mars. The moon or other such "close" planets. It was built to follow those heavenly bodies, such as galaxies, which are now believed to be spreading away from our galaxy at a rate of 25,000 to 30,000 miles a second.

Explore Venus
Such studies, it has been said, will determine definitely whether the universe is expanding. The scientists made that pre-war telescope have told them all they need to know about Mars and the moon.

The planet Venus, however, is another story. That planet is constantly shrouded by clouds, fog or atmosphere, and the new telescope may help the scientists to pierce the haze and determine what the face of Venus looks like.

Burley Stages Vacation Days Carnival Night

BURLEY, June 2.—Hundreds of residents from Gaiety and Minidoka counties were in Burley Friday evening to attend the first annual Junior Chamber of Commerce "vacation days carnival."

Sherman Anderson, Joyce president, said Saturday that the event surpassed expectations in attendance and interest. One block of Broadway avenue was roped off for the carnival. Displays of summer merchandise were made by business houses. The streets were lined with farm machinery, furniture, plumbing equipment, household appliances and other merchandise demonstrated by the merchants.

One of the outstanding features was a fire drill time street dance, sponsored by the Burley Kiwanis club, in which everyone from teenagers to octogenarians joined. Various square dancers were called over the public address system. Orland E. Bakeman, Kiwanis president, and A. H. Garand were in charge of the event.

Another feature was a "crazy show" in which Attorney Dean Klopfer, dressed as a female dancer, appeared with Neuman Peterson and James Steinhilber, with Dr. Burton V. Holcomb assisting as the barker.

Along with the merchandise carnival, there were concessions such as barrel throw, fish pond, penny pitch and other games.

Members assisting: President Anderson with the affair were Ray Root, Elmer Scherhag, Loren Turner, Vernon Dawson, Clayton Phelan, George Halford, Glen Kinn, George Mahule, Perry Strathmore, Don Gray, James Steinhilber, Lex Kusau, James Roper, Kenneth Barry, Jay Clark and Alfred Thompson.

Mrs. Lee Doty, Burley, was awarded washing machine by the Jaycees.

This week we are celebrating our second anniversary in Twin Falls and thanks to our many friends and patrons it is a happy occasion for us. From small beginnings we have come a long way in two short years and we are looking forward to bigger things and greater service to you, our customers, in the future.

OUR POLICY
From the very start we pledged to bring our patrons quality foods, meats and produce at the lowest price possible though never sacrificing that quality merely for the sake of a low price. How well we have maintained that policy is attested to by the steady growth of our volume and by the increasing number of satisfied customers we are serving daily.

OUR FUTURE PLANS
In the future we plan to merit your continued friendship and support by the addition of new features as soon as feasible, by continuing to offer friendly, helpful service and to keep our prices down to the lowest point possible while offering only products of tested and proven quality. A visit to our store and a glimpse of the nationally advertised brands we feature will convince you we are living up to these aims.

A WIDER SELECTION OF FOODS
We have added many improvements and new services since we took over the management of the A & K Market. We nearly doubled the size of the store to provide room for a wider selection of foods and for added convenience for the shoppers. We inaugurated a delivery service which has proved exceedingly popular. We have added new equipment including a modern refrigerated display case for produce and dairy products to assure you fresh, crisp vegetables, fresh fruits and dairy-fresh milk and butter.

HELP US CELEBRATE
Come in this week and help us celebrate our anniversary, for to point up the event we are offering some outstanding specials that will make your visit both pleasant and profitable. There are too many values to list here but you'll find them now in every department of the store.

Old-Age Help For Additional Workers OK'd

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Old age insurance for 2,500,000 more workers was approved unanimously yesterday by the House ways and means committee.

The legislation falls far short of President Truman's request to Congress last week that 20,000,000 persons be added to the 30,000,000 now participating and that benefits be increased at least 50 per cent.

The new bill would make no general increase in benefits and requires no increase in payroll taxes, more one per cent on employer and worker alike. Mr. Truman asked for a tax hike next year.

A new definition of an "employee" previously approved by the House in separate legislation, was written into the bill. Its effect is to exclude from the insurance program certain outside salesmen usually working on commission and over whom an employer exercises little if any control.

Mr. Truman complained that Congress has taken steps to remove persons from the program rather than expand the coverage.

State Distributes New Road Maps

BOISE, June 2.—The distribution of Idaho highway maps is under way. D. M. Faires, state highway engineer, reports.

He said 150,000 maps, costing the state $5.50 per thousand, are being distributed. Rand-McNally, Chicago, printed the maps.

Faires said the Idaho road maps are issued only every two years because there is little change in the highway system in a one-year period except in road conditions.
