Decisions Are Given in Area Canal Dispute

Two decisions involving disagreements between the Twin Falls Canal company board of directors and three Magic Valley farmers on the transfer of water shares have been made by Mark R. Kulp, Boise, state reclamation engineer.

Kulp objected to the canal company's application for a request for the transfer of water shares from the Damman land to the Kulp farm, six miles south of Hansen. He said because neither of the farmers had been using their water, no one would be injured by the transfer.

Alfred Peters, Twin Falls Canal company manager, said the location of the Damman land allows for a transfer of shares to the Kulp farm, and the company had objected to the transfer of shares to the Damman farm, which would incur the expense of canal storage water.

In rendering the decision, Kulp said the canal company may appeal the issue in district court. Regarding this statement, Peters said the canal company has not appealed since the disagreement arose, and any action taken would be decided at the board's next session on Aug. 10.

The other decision made by Kulp was in agreement with the canal company's disapproval of a request by Earl Barnes, Hansen, for transfer of 50 shares of water rights, three miles upstream. Kulp denied the original request, allowing Barnes only 27 shares to be transferred.

County's Orders On Weed Control Get Quick Action

Quick response was noted to six orders to weed control issued Thursday and Friday by Harry Gaulit, director of the Twin Falls county weed control bureau. Gaulit said four persons to whom the notices were sent had made no response by Saturday.

The notices, authorized by county commissioners, informed owners or tenants of farmland of the expiration of time for control or eradication of noxious weeds as served by sheriff's officers.

Of the 10 to whom notices were sent, one had completed his work before the papers were served, one assured Gaulit his work would be completed by Saturday night, one was continuing his control work, another had started his work and two others had the weed control bureau for advice on what method to use.

If it becomes necessary for the county to step in and do the work, the farmer will have to pay the cost of the operation, Gaulit warned. This must be assessed in the form of taxes on the land, he added.

"Queen for Day" Gives Thanks To Residents of Magic Valley

Editor, Times-News:— Would you please tell all the wonderful people of Twin Falls, Walters of the Thunderbird, Kevin and A. P. Rogers at Sun Valley lodge that we can't begin to thank them for making our trip there so glorious and such a wonderful memory which will live forever.

Your newspaper gave us such grand writeups and took so many pictures. The Rogerson hotel and coffee shop treated grandma and me just like royal guests.

Thanks should go to the merchants who gave me such beautiful gifts, the Artistic Floral shop and Twin Falls Floral for the orchids, corsages and bouquets for me. I just can't begin to name them.

He Says to Forget Pastor and Sheriff, Write About Schools

Editor, Times-News:— Let us forget the Rev. James Brown and Sheriff Brodin Rasmussen long enough to discuss our school situation.

I am speaking of the Poplar Hill school district No. 16, located southwest of Filer.

On May 24, 1948, the board of trustees decided to try to hold a bond election for the purpose of raising funds to build an addition to the schoolhouse which would be adequate to house a heating system and lavatory facilities.

The clerk of the board was instructed to write the county board of education requesting advice and asking permission to hold an election to raise $10,000.

This letter was written and mailed May 24, 1948. To this date, July 18, 1948, we have not received any kind of reply. We know the letter was delivered, as it was not returned.

The old gag about "that was good enough for Aunt Fannie" is now ringing less laughs.

Why are we ignored when we put forth effort to try to improve our school?

The reorganization election scheduled for Aug. 15, 1948, calls for the country schools affected to continue operation. If this plan carries, who would be hurt by a $10,000 bonded indebtedness?

The whole district would help pay it and also receive the benefit and additional equipment.

To you people who condemn our country schools for being obsolete, may I ask why wouldn't they be obsolete when we try to help ourselves and are ignored completely?

At the present time we are heating the schoolhouse with two coal

She Says Umpire Overstepped His Official Capacity

Editor, Times-News:— Twin Falls has one citizen of whom it should be justly proud (?). What do you baseball fans in and around Twin Falls think of this kind of an umpire? When one of the players came up to bat, this umpire made fun of him with such remarks as "Ah-hih there comes the big shot himself" or "Here's the big boy up for the grand finale."

This is exactly what took place at Justice park the other night at the Junior Legion game between Twin Falls and Kimberly.

I think such a person should not be allowed to umpire any more ball game.

Leave the razzing to the fans, but let's not have umpires who can and will take care of their end of the job. They should at least give our young boys the breaks they deserve.

Can Anything Be Done About Waste, Huge Debt?, She Asks

Editor, Times-News:— When we see graft and dishonesty in high places, we want to do something constructive to stop it. But what can the average person do?

Many would write to the forum or cry out in disgust, but this does no good unless it may arouse thinking people out of false security into action.

Our national debt now is unthinkable huge. No nation in history has obligated itself to do so much. We know we cannot live to pay off this debt in our time so it is our children's inheritance we are spending now.

It does not seem fair for us to waste or squander what is our children's. Our efforts are being hindered in many ways. If our plans were more definite, it would help, but this lack of system together with no obligation at all from those whom we help, make our efforts seem like pouring money down a rathole.

How much did our efforts help? We gave our boys and our resources to make a world safe for democracy in World war I. Then we loaned vast amounts to rebuild war-torn countries.

This help was used to prepare for World war II. Now we are pouring even more money and resources into Europe. If this is used to build for World war III, we will suffer as never before.

We are fast becoming a have-not nation.

Youthful Star Gazer to View Glory of Crux

By J. HUGH PRUETT
Astonomer, Eastern Division, Oregon Higher Education System
An enthusiastic young astronomer of high school age writes that his father, a college professor, has given a leave of absence to help organize a biology department at the university in Caracas, Venezuela. "The whole family is going for a year and I am most anxious to know if I can see to stars of the famous Southern Cross from that location."

To Enjoy Splendor
Most certainly the boy is going to enjoy the splendors of this southern constellation, known also as Crux. It can even be seen from lower Florida and Texas, but there it just skims the southern horizon "momentarily" so is viewed at a great disadvantage. But from Caracas this celebrated celestial cross when highest will be 29 degrees above the southern skyline and will display its real glory. The farther south one goes, the nearer the Southern Cross appears. From southern Argentina it passes nearly overhead.

The traveler to countries south of ours cannot expect to find the Southern Cross in the early evening at all times of the year—unless he goes as far as Uruguay. Like our own familiar star groups, there are seasons when it traverses the sky in the daytime. Around the middle of May, however, it is highest—due south—at 5 p. m. At the equator it is always above the horizon for 12 hours daily, so will be somewhere in the visible sky at this evening hour from mid-February to mid-August.

Very Small
The Southern Cross, a figure small enough to fit easily inside the bowl of our well-known Big Dipper, is composed of four stars, three of them quite bright. When due south it stands almost upright. Alpha, at the foot, is the brightest and about a standard first-magnitude, white star. Beta and Delta, at the ends of the cross arm are also white and are of magnitudes 1.5 and 3.1. (The higher the number, the dimmer the star.) The relative faintness of Delta at the right of the cross arm is the only distraction from the glory of this celebrated asterism. Gamma, magnitude 1.6, is a splendid reddish-orange jewel, blazing from the top of the cross.

Added Charm
To add to the charm of the Southern Cross, the entire figure is enmeshed in a dense part of the Milky Way, that white pathway in the heavens paved with countless stars so distant that they cannot be seen individually.

Jaunts Set to Research Unit "Open House"

The Aberdeen branch experiment station, Aberdeen, is planning a four-day open house Monday through Thursday for visiting farmers of southern Idaho. County Agent Warren Dalgh said tours would begin at 10 a. m. each day.

It is an opportunity for farmers to become acquainted with methods of crop research, how the research is being conducted, and to discuss problems with the men who are actively engaged in research work, he said.

In order that all persons wishing to attend may participate, certain days have been assigned for visitors from the 24 southern Idaho counties.

Monday has been designated for persons from Fremont, Teton, Lemhi, Clark, Jefferson, Custer, Blaine, Camas and Madison counties.

Tuesday has been designated as the day for attendance by farmers from Twin Falls, Caribou, Bear Lake, Franklin, Oneida, Bannock and Butte counties.

Cassia, Jerome, Blaine, Lincoln and Gooding counties will send farmers Wednesday. Thursday has been set as the date for persons from Blaine, Bonneville, and Power counties to attend.

More than 200 acres in experimental plots are being cared for at the station. Hundreds of varieties of grain are under cultivation; dozens of varieties of alfalfa—including Ranger and Buffalo, two new varieties which are highly recommended—are being grown.

Fertilizer tests are being made on potatoes and alfalfa, variety tests on sugar beets are being conducted, and the soil conservation service has a grass nursery there, Dalgh said.

Knothole League Games Scheduled In Coming Week

Fifth and sixth games in the Knothole Gang league series will be played Tuesday and Wednesday with the following schedule set for the week:

Major league: Tuesday, Ideal Market vs. Eden, field No. 1; Electric vs. Lions, No. 2, and Glanis vs. Kimberly, No. 3. Wednesday, Electric vs. Eden, No. 1; Ideal Market vs. Kimberly, No. 2, and Lions vs. Glanis, No. 3.

County Agent Inspects Damaged Potato Plants

Potato Damage Was Caused by Lightning, Experts Conclude

By HARRY ARNELD
Farm experts, a veteran produce man, a farm owner and a farm operator are among those who are puzzled by "something wrong" with potato plants in a 20-acre field just north of Hansen. By a process of elimination, they have concluded the field was struck by lightning, although the vines appear withered rather than burned.

The damage was first noted by Hugh Sanderson, operator of the farm. Sanderson discovered the damage when he went into the field to cultivate it. The damaged plants are spotted in a circular area roughly 50 feet in diameter. The rest of the field is in fine condition.

When Sanderson saw something was wrong, he called in J. H. Henry, Kimberly, who has been associated with the potato industry for many years. Henry was at a loss to understand what caused the damage and asked County Agent Warren Dalgh to look at the field.

Dalgh brought along E. W. Whitman, station service crop specialist; Bill Priest, county club agent, and C. M. Fisher, Twin Falls, owner of the farm.

A close inspection of the plants affected revealed a condition which looked like a combination of 2,4-D damage and tomato blight. The vines, usually straight, were kinked unnaturally.

The stems, usually firm, had been hollowed out, apparently by a cellular breakdown. Although the stems had collapsed, the leaves appeared normal for the most part. The stem injuries started about two or three inches above the ground.

There was no sign of disease or insect injuries, and those possibilities were eliminated. Damage by 2,4-D spray had to be eliminated because none had been used on that field, and ordinarily 2,4-D does not injure potato plants. Only treatment of the land had been the spreading of fertilizer and about 800 pounds of sulfur per acre.

The rest of the crop showed good effects from the land treatment. The field had been planted with blue tag certified seed, and Henry called in one of the finest fields of potatoes he has seen.

Finally, Fisher and Whitman said the condition appeared to be typical lightning damage. Thunderstorms had passed over the area recently, and for lack of a better explanation, it is believed the damage was caused by lightning.

Poor Roads Hamper Pine Rust Control

BOISE, July 17 (AP)—Lack of roads is handicapping blister rust control in the white pine forest of north Idaho, Land Commissioner Edward Wooley said today.

Wooley and members of the state land board returned yesterday from an inspection tour of state lands in the Clearwater area.

Chemical Used
He said a chemical similar to the weed killer 2,4-D is being used with success on the blister rust vines but that it can only be applied where there are access roads. Under the old control method workers were hired to grub out the vines or host plants.

Wooley said that approximately 1,000,000 acres of white pine in the Clearwater area, 250,000 of it state owned, are infested with blister rust. He said he doubts if "we are holding our own" in controlling the disease.

Match Federal Funds
The state government has been putting up $400,000 a biennium to match federal control funds.

Wooley said that because of lack of roads some two to three billion board feet of "over mature" white timber is not accessible for harvest and that maximum forest production is not possible.

Polio Struck Blow by New Sulfa Solution

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Science Writer
NEW YORK, July 17.—A new sulfa drug is being used against infantile paralysis in the Texas epidemic.

Medical sources here said today that a complete evaluation of the drug is impossible at this time, but they disclosed that at least two cases of poliomyelitis have been checked before reaching the paralytic stage.

It must be emphasized however, that spontaneous recoveries often occur in polio.

Sister to Sulfa
The new compound is a sister of the widely used sulfa drug. It was developed by Dr. Murray Sanders, associate professor of bacteriology at Columbia university, in cooperation with Lederle Laboratories, Pearl River, N. Y.

Sanders first used the drug on mice injected with the so-called MM strain of polio. There has been some debate whether this MM strain is one that affects human beings. He obtained good results with the drug against the infected mice, and later tried it with some results on monkeys.

Tried On Humans
The trials on human patients started early this summer when polio began to spread in some parts of Texas, particularly the Brownsville area. At least 10 patients received the drug by injection.

Medical sources here said preliminary reports showed the patients could take the drug without bad effects—one the usual disadvantages of a new drug.

If the drug can prevent the crippling effects of polio, it would be a first to do so. Polio is known as a virus disease. Other diseases that are believed caused by a virus include the common cold.

Virus a Parasite
A virus is a germ but differs from bacteria in that it is a parasite. It cannot live or reproduce alone. In the case of polio, it appears to get its nourishment from the nerve cells.

One medical expert explained that some viruses that cause disease in animals, such as the mumps, will not cause the same disease in man. That's why they emphasized that the tests with the drug in the Texas epidemic should be given further trials.

Such trials may be conducted under the sponsorship of the national foundation for infantile paralysis.

Candidacy of Judge Miller Gets Defense

Mr. Masters, Boise, former secretary of state, Saturday defended the candidacy of Supreme Court Justice Bert H. Miller for the U. S. senate.

"Because a man is elected to the chief justiceship of the supreme court should not deprive him of exercising his rights of citizenship," Masters declared. "In other words, in my opinion, Justice Miller has a perfect right to run for the senate and will hold his position on the bench."

Prevent 'Packing'
"Purpose of establishing the non-partisan judiciary in Idaho was to keep the Republican majority at that time from 'packing' the Idaho supreme court," Masters asserted.

"This talk about taking the supreme court out of politics is mostly bunk," Masters continued. "Every voter in Idaho knows that more or less politics have been played by members of the supreme court since enactment of this statute."

Not 'Simon Pure'
"The jurists are making a pretense of being Simon-pure," Masters declared, "but they are just as much in politics as the rest of us."

Going to Camp
Masters' statement was given the Times-News by telephone from Shoshone, where he stopped en route to the legislator assembly at Easley hot springs.

He said his statement was brought about by the attack on Justice Miller's candidacy by Earl B. Smith, president of the Idaho State Bar association, in a speech at the group's Sun Valley convention Friday.

WHAT "Stepping Down" MEANS TO YOU

How the New Hudson, America's most streamlined car with the low silhouette, brings you roominess and comfort never before obtainable in an automobile.

You've seen them flashing by in all their sparkling color—those trim, gorgeous New Hudsons with the low, streamlined silhouette.

But have you really examined one of these amazing cars? They are the big news in the automobile world today!

Hudson, always known for great forward steps in the development of the automobile, and for efficient use of motor power, is again way out ahead with a motor car that hits a new high in efficient use of space—that makes a greater percentage of its total space actually available for your use and comfort.

When you take a close look, you'll find that Hudson, through the use of a new, exclusive "step-down" zone, reclaims so much usually wasted space that this sensationally efficient car gives you more useful interior room than you've ever before experienced in an automobile.

This new kind of motor car has a sturdy foundation straddling the front and rear passenger compartment, which permits the floor to be recessed down within the base frame so that you step down when entering. This makes space between frame members, which is usually wasted, available for use inside the car.

Seats can thus be lowered to accommodate with the new, lower top, and by stepping down by wheel housings and protruding fenders. This is accomplished by placing rear seats ahead of the rear wheels, in a zone unrestricted by wheel housings. As a result, rear seats are 15 inches wider in this car than in any other mass-produced car built today!

And how about seating room? Hudson's new design reclaims space formerly taken up by wheel housings and protruding fenders. This is accomplished by placing rear seats ahead of the rear wheels, in a zone unrestricted by wheel housings. As a result, rear seats are 15 inches wider in this car than in any other mass-produced car built today!

This development of Hudson's exclusive, all steel Monobuilt body-and-frame* with its "step-down" zone required years of engineering work, the perfection of new production techniques and millions of dollars in highly specialized new plant investment. This may be why Hudson, and Hudson alone, offers this important advance today!

"Stepping Down" is so important to motor-car beauty, riding qualities and safety—as well as roominess and comfort—that the nearest Hudson dealer has a booklet—entirely without obligation—fully explaining this design principle. Hudson Motor Car Company, Detroit 14.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

By INEZ PUCKETT

Summer is a time of laughter—Wing-merriment among the trees. Hilarity of river water. Deep-lured mirth of bubbled-bees. The silent sea of shade-cooled flowers. Rain's gladness tinkling into woods. The whispered joyousness of the rustled saucy of birds. There is laughter in summer every day. For winter seems so far away.

Edie Stuart Heger

Hitler's personal car, a Mercedes-Benz convertible with a built-in pilot case and bulletproof glass, has been bought for $23,000 by a fellow in Wisconsin. It's been trying to get an American car for 18 months, he says. It took me only 30 days to get Hitler's. It came to the U. S. via Sweden.

When the Hitler car—buggy first, arrived in Idaho, could figure how to start it. Sermon to the fifth being an overdrive for use at speeds around 50 to 125 miles per hour.

There's a 60-gallon gas tank which they say gets eight miles per gallon, and a supercharger "big as a typewriter" which increases automatically when the accelerator is shoved down all the way. (This seems to be for quick starts.)

All the glass on the car is more than an inch thick and there's a leather-covered overhead valve plate which can be cranked up behind the back seat. The owner says he's already had a lot of offers for this Hitler six-chariot but he'd like to use it to raise money for charity before he tries to get his own dough back on it.

Bonnie Knappa drove over to Cedar Draw with some strawberries for her friend, Mrs. Koupin. The latter was away in California, so Bonnie came in and visited with us. She's a buxom, genial, lady, and she and her husband are one of the grand old Lincoln place near Twin Falls.

We talked about crops, weather and minor reasons for our kids. When she left, Mrs. K. gave us three boxes of lovely berries. We had them for supper with brown sugar cream.

The air is full of gab about political candidates, etc. Did you know a woman was once a presidential candidate in the U. S. Her name was Delta Lockwood; she was a high-class lawyer and plenty smart. Twice she cast her ballot in the ring at a presidential prospect—once in 1884, against 1888. She was undone by the pluralities of old Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison.

It was the Equal Rights party that backed her, and she chalked up an impressive number of votes each time. Who knows? The U. S. may one day have a smart individual in petticoats as President, but not until women begin thinking more about taxes, peace and war, and less about pink teas, "new look" gladders, and what Mrs. Waffelfanny said to Mrs. Stepanchitch over the bridge table last Thursday.

LITTLE WILLES

Now we sterilize the water!

There's a peculiar bond 'twixt owners of Siamese cats. This catbreed of feline is rare in Idaho, so when their owners happen to meet there is much chattering and rejoicing.

First master of a Siamese we met up here was Dr. Wallace Bond. Going to the doc for eye treatments was a pleasure because we could always swap our cats.

The next Siamese fan we ran into was C. C. Anderson's in Buhl. He has a Siamese cat named Regal Hook. When he found we owned a Siamese, the winking-up of our pork chops abruptly halted while we talked of diet, habits, etc.

And now comes a letter from one Marjorie Truitt of Moulton. Word has got to her that we have a male Siamese, and how about her pet and dove-eyed little nurse Ruth McClucky went to hustle it. We discussed the matter with Cokey this morning while he sat gazing at us with those crooked azure eyes. "How about it fella," we asked him, "you interested in a possible lady friend?" He got down on the floor, yelled in Siamese, and made a quick, tricky leap straight in the air!

We dropped up to Dr. Johnston's office to borrow a book. While his pet and dove-eyed little nurse Ruth McClucky went to hustle it, we examined the diplomas on the walls. We're sucker for all framed documents hanging on walls.

This one belonged to Dr. J. Only folks who have great and struggled years for a similar type of degree can appreciate what it means to own a diploma like that. Across the parchment was printed: JAMES FRANKLIN JOHNSON. "What a sucker I am to give an American kid!" we thought. "It's got our rivers and akies, the Declaration of Independence, Daniel Boone, practice and Lincoln—everything American in it!"

Do you get tongue-tied in a crowd? As a hostess are you always scrambling for subjects to keep guests gabbling? Irvin Cobb used to say that for mixed company, a whale was the best and easiest thing to talk about.

"You can say anything you want to about a whale," he stated, "because nobody knows any more about one than you do. Facts needn't bother you at all; if someone mentions the whale's blubber, you can chime in and state it can be noticed for miles when the poor critter gets upset about something; you can even tell about hearing a whale sob aloud," says Cobb. "And nobody will dare contradict you."

Every newspaper helps turn the editor gray by appearing in a word-then, with some dilly of a typos—plucked error. It's fantastic how omitting one little letter in a word—or transposing another—can change a sentence. Take a look-at the following little gems gathered here and there:

"After work, Mr. Allison spends several hours in the garden among his collection of rare pants."

"The city dadas propose buying new benches for the park. The old ones are rickety and need paint!"

"It would help keep the cemetery in order if everyone would clip his own grave."

"A full charge of the buckshot struck Mr. James in the rear of the henhouse."

"Mrs. Harkness now lives at 113 West Wilcox." (We think it's kinder not to mention the papers that ran these.)

Big oil deposits often are found under domes of ash.
