Take Youngsters Outdoors in Summer and Winter, He Says

Editor, Times-News: Let's talk about something we can do something about. Take youngsters outdoors in summer and winter.

Until winter sports came to Idaho about 1937, most of us hibernated and got into mischief during the winter. But now there are ski areas that have led thousands toward better winter living. We have a small but beautiful ski area at Magic Mountain, southeast of Twin Falls and only 37 miles away.

World's greatest skier, toured the whole area on skis in March, 1940, and told us where the lift should go. Last week-end, he located a 45-meter jump for finished skiers and a 10-meter jump for beginners. Egert has repeated again and again, "We must have a beginners' jump for the kids."

The idea of building a ski school for 3,000 school children in Norway last winter. As each of the American Olympic ski teams has their own ski areas in Italy, Austria, France and Norway. He says we have an area worthy of development.

He drove up from Salt Lake City last Sunday morning and it must have been very late when he got home again. He and his brothers, Karve and Sveire, are building log cabins here to Alta, where they expect to live and work.

The ski club is taking the lead in developing this ski jump. There will be cooperation from the forest service. Other people living in Magic Valley from Rupert to Hagerman, including Blyco, Gooding, Jerome, Hazelton and others have used the area and are interested in its development.

The Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce expects to help. At the right time, individuals will be asked to help cut timber and build the take-off skidding.

"We ask that you be ready for a call from the Magic Mountain Ski Club."

County Sponsors Like Coverage of Filer GOP Rally

Editor, Times-News: The central committee, Young Republicans and Twin Falls County Republican Women's club wish to thank the Times-News for its advance publicity and coverage of our pre-primary rally at the Filer fairgrounds Thursday night.

"We had a great crowd of listeners, but many more people saw Mr. Rice's eye-catching pictures and read the excellent report of talks given by Congressman Sabornin and Senator Dworshak.

At the last primary election, only 12,000 of a potential 20,000 voters took the trouble to go to the polls. Are we to assume that 40 per cent of the voting public has no interest in government?"

We who are interested in good government appreciate any interest you may be able to afford among voters.

Power Farmers Ship First Grain

AMERICAN FALLS, July 24 (AP)—Seventeen carloads of grain have been shipped by Power county farmers, the first shipments this season from southeastern Idaho, grain men said.

Power county is the largest grain producing area in southeastern Idaho and is expected to harvest a record 325,000 bushels.

Frank Heaton, manager of the Power county grain growers' cooperative elevators, said the yield so far is averaging 30 to 35 bushels an acre, slightly lower than last year.

Oregon Harvests Big Grain Yield

HOHO, Ore., July 24 (AP)—Wheat was piled on the ground here today as eastern Oregon's bumper crop began overflowing storage space.

Storage was running short in several other eastern Oregon areas, and railroad agents predicted a "lightening" of the boxcar supply within about ten days.

By next week, when the harvest gets fully underway on heavier lands, many ranchers will be forced to begin ground dumping.

Astoria was the first wheat settlement in the Pacific northwest.

College Men Guests Of Rupert Chamber

RUPERT, July 24 (AP)—Dr. L. C. Cady, executive secretary of the University of Idaho research council, and Dr. Reber, chemical engineer at the university, were guests at the last regular meeting of the Rupert Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Cady and Dr. Reber are studying the possibilities of chemical processing of Idaho industrial wastes. They recently made a survey of industrial wastes in Latah county.

Russian Rats Stop Docking Of Red Craft

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 24 (AP)—A Russian freighter was alongside a pier here today, after an argument about rats delayed its docking for more than nine hours.

The argument — between U. S. public health inspectors and the ship's captain, Nickolay Pokholok — reached a climax when a customs officer shouted to a coast guard cutter: "Shoot to sink if she moves forward."

It all began when health inspectors boarded the ship, the 9,000-ton vessel, outside New York harbor yesterday, and found evidence of rats. They said the ship would have to be fumigated.

Insists No Rats

Pokholok insisted his ship didn't have rats.

With interpreters relaying the arguments, the two sides went into a long discussion in the captain's office. A little vodka and caviar didn't produce harmony.

Other health officials arrived to take part including Dr. Calvin B. Spencer, medical officer in charge of the New York port. They explained there was no stigma attached to the fumigation process, that it "happens practically every day."

Steek Other Port

Pokholok said if New York harbor would not receive his ship, he would set out to sea and try another American port. He was tentatively needed permission of the collector of the port to depart.

It was at this point that a customs officer shouted the "shoot to sink" order to a coast guard cutter.

After representatives of Amoy, Russian trading corporation, and the Soviet Vis consular came aboard and conferred with U. S. officials, the fumigation papers were signed, and the ship allowed to proceed.

The cargo consisted of 40 passengers, and a cargo of chrome ore, tobacco, asbestos and furs.

Punchboard Take Exceeds Estimate

BOISE, July 24 (AP)—The state punchboard licensing act is exceeding revenue expectations.

Thomas Kurdy, state tax commission secretary, said the tax collections for the year ending June 30 had been twice what had been expected for the entire biennium.

Revenue from the punchboard licenses totaled $46,578 for the year. The lawmakers estimated the bill would provide about $200,000 a biennium.

Idaho was the first state to pass such a tax law.

The three-cent a package tax on cigarettes has brought in $1,734,820 during the year, Kurdy said about 27,694,300 packages of cigarettes had been sold.

Enrollment High At Church Camp

BOISE, July 24 (AP)—State Reclamation Engineer Mark R. Kulp said today he has sent copies of the proposed tri-state Bear river compact to E. J. Baird, Bear river watermaster. The copies will be posted next week at Montpelier, Soda Springs, Paris, Grace and Preston.

Kulp said the proposal will not go before the state legislature for approval until every appropriation of the Bear river and its tributaries has had a chance to see it and have it explained.

He said local meetings will be scheduled to explain the proposed compact and to hear suggestions from water users.

Before the compact can go into effect, it must be approved by the Wyoming, Utah and Idaho legislatures and the national congress. The agreement would divide the waters of the Bear river among the three states.

U. S. Advises Cut in 1949's Wheat Yields

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—The agriculture department has recommended that U. S. farmers plant eight per cent less wheat in 1949 than they did this year.

It was the first time since 1943 that the department had recommended a reduction in wheat acreage.

Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan said the cut would prevent a possible surplus. He said this year's bumper crop and a decrease in foreign demand made the move necessary.

Other tentative goals included: Rye—2,000,000 acres, up 313,000 from last year, expected to yield 20,000,000 bushels.

Wheat cover crops. Substantial increase in production of all seeds except rye grass.

Winter vegetables—281,750 acres of 18 crops. Production would about equal that of this year. Increase of 8 per cent for carrots and 20 per cent for peppers. Reductions of 10 per cent for snap beans and celery, five per cent for cabbage

Group Told Area Faces Dust Bowl

POCATELLO, July 24 (AP)—Southern Idaho is threatened with a dust bowl, Roger L. Guernsey, state forester and fire warden, told concluding sessions of the conservation conference at Idaho State college yesterday.

Guernsey declared that sagebrush has been burned off areas in the Snake river valley forest protective district, posing a problem of conservation that has the state forestry department deeply concerned.

Fine for its Second owner too!

Recently, a large group of used car owners were asked what car they would buy if they were buying new cars today. Those who own used Pontiacs led them all in saying they would buy new cars of the same make they are now driving.

In other words—according to this survey—a used Pontiac is more satisfactory to own than any other make of used car.

Of course, that could mean only one thing: Pontiac's dependability and long life are outstanding, and Pontiac's fine performance lasts throughout the years. There could be no finer endorsement of a new car than this—and we trust you won't forget it when you order your own new car.

Remember, too, Pontiac is the lowest priced car in the world offering GM Hydra-Matic Drive—a tremendous advance in better motoring.

It's wise to choose a Pontiac—a car so fine that even its second owner is sure to like it.

20 Merchants Meet Officials For Tax Talk

stocks, he began reviewing his opinion on more specific information. He said he expected to have the opinion ready Monday.

The merchant delegation was led by Elvis Cain, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Merchants' Association. A large proportion of the delegation was made up of car dealers.

Cain appointed Lawrence Quinn, local attorney, to lead the questioning of county officials. All remarks at the conference were taken down by C. A. Lowe, district court reporter.

Quinn started the conference by asking the group desired to learn the board's position on inventory tax returns, adding there seemed to be some evidence that the board was leaning toward an equalization report was ready to be sent to the state tax commission.

Asked if there was no correction to be made on incorrect returns, the board said that corrections could be made on the subsequent assessment. When Quinn said he was wanted to know if the board and the assessor would take action, the assessor replied that some inventories have already been made and others are pending.

C. J. Boline, Chamber of Commerce secretary, pointed out he had given a list of possible suspects to the county commissioners. The list was made up by Quinn on the basis of apparent discrepancies in inventory tax returns submitted by merchants.

Kenneth Green, chairman of the commission, said the list is now a month and one-half old. Boline had said that some of the returns shown on it were in order. Green said that the list was made up of returns and no great variations were found.

Green also reported three merchants had been questioned by the commission and an option from one of them was already completed. Quinn pointed out that the board had not been delivered the commission's general text of it.

Before action could be taken, Green pointed out, sworn statements would have to be prepared to show the alleged falsification of returns. Otherwise, he said, the commission would be unable to take any action.

Quinn pointed out provisions of the law authorizing the assessor to interview persons suspected of tax evasion and arbitrarily increase the assessment if information warranted.

Childe pointed out inventories were signed under oath and constituted a sworn statement and that this phase was already completed. Quinn asked if he did not have a dual authority. If he were still suspicious, he would then proceed to get oath and make arbitrary assessments. Childe replied he does this before giving the assessment roll to the board of equalization or to the assessor.

A questioner asked why one car dealer had reported an inventory value larger than another car dealer. Cain wanted to know why the board had not investigated the apparent discrepancy. Hawkins said the board would get authorization from Bweeley.

Asked if the board of equalization had given any consideration to the matter, Hawkins replied it had no specific complaints then, only the list of names.

Dip Reported For Building Permits Here

Continuing a steady decline during the past four weeks, value of proposed construction here dropped to $1,256 last week, according to estimated costs shown on building permit applications filed with the city clerk. The figure for the past week was $18,000.

The $21,266 figure represents $1,000 estimated costs of five new dwellings and $2,266 in additional alterations and repairs to existing structures.

Three applications were filed Friday by persons desiring to complete a basement house, build a new dwelling, and relocate a house.

Mrs. Howard L. Malone increased by $4,000 the $2,000 figure shown on her previous permit to build a basement house. The structure, on Addison avenue east, is to be a 32 by 34-foot frame one-family dwelling.

Damages Sought In Bliss Mishap

BOISE, July 24 (AP)—A $25,000 damage suit, involving a California and Idaho, was filed today in Idaho federal court.

Joseph Aker, Modesto, Calif., charges in the complaint that reckless and negligent driving of Calvin Blum, a driver, resulted in a collision near Bliss, Idaho. The plaintiff charges that the collision caused injuries which resulted in complete disability for a time and partial disability for the remainder of her life.

The accident allegedly occurred at the intersection of U. S. highway 20 and 39 last June 18. The plaintiff was riding as a guest in an automobile which she said was struck by Hayes' car.

Railroad Leader Denies Price Fix

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—A spokesman for American railroads has denied as "wholly false" recent testimony before a house committee that the railroads set up a committee during the war for the purpose of manipulating rates charged the government.

William T. Farley, president of the Association of American Railroads, made the denial in a letter to Chairman Bender, R. D., of a house subcommittee.

The testimony to which Farley referred was given before Bender's group which is investigating alleged multi-million dollar overcharges by the railroads on government business.

Farley told Bender that the estimated $200,000,000 in alleged overcharges while the government seeks to recover from the railroads is nearly three times the net working capital of all the railroads.

The AAR chief said that if the government collects it probably will bankrupt most of the railroads and bring an abrupt halt to the billion-dollar-a-year railroad improvement program.

Million Dollar Hike Is Noted In Valuations

valuation this year will approach $22,000,000. The 1947 total was $1,890,701 at the end of the year.

Hike for Sugar
Most noticeable increase this year was in bulk sugar. The increase in assessed valuation was $794,200, resulting from the construction of storage bins last year by the Almagamated Sugar company. The bins themselves increased the assessed valuation of the plant by $40,500, bringing its total to $416,700.

Change in assessment methods resulted in an increase of $158,545 in the assessed valuation of farm land and put an additional $248,700 acre on the assessment roll.

Weeds Easily Spotted From Air by Weed Control Chief

The three photos above are typical of the way farms in the Twin Falls area look to Harry Gault, county noxious weed control director, as he flies over them in search of patches of noxious weeds. In top photo is a large patch of Canada thistle on which no control work had been done when it was discovered in a grain plants to other farms. Plane Makes Weed Detection Easy for Chief of County's Eradication Bureau

By RONALD J. RICE
"Mr. Farmer, what do you propose to do about that patch of Canada thistles in the center of your farm?"

That is a question Harry Gault, director of the county noxious weed control bureau, might ask as he climbs out of his auto at the ranch of A. Farmer.

Mr. Farmer pushes his hat back and scratches his head, wondering how Gault could possibly know about that patch of weeds. Maybe someone told him, but who?

The solution of the superintendent's almost psychic powers of weed detection could easily be labeled as "magic" if it were not for the fact that the flight against insects and noxious weeds is going forward through the use of the airplane.

Many different sprays and dusts are being used to combat crop scourges, but the airplane has still another use in this work—observation.

The county officer is an "aerial weed detector" who uses many of the methods of observation worked out by the armed forces in recent years.

Crating at 1,000 or 2,000 feet, Gault, who pilots the plane himself, can search with ease the farm lands in Twin Falls county. Appearing like small violet ink-blot upon a pale green rug, thistle patches are easy to detect from the air. This speed of detection saves countless hours which would be spent in checking farm lands on the ground.

Gault uses a plane owned by the Magic Valley aircraft company for observation and weed control work. He may wish to see how the methods of detection on a number of farms in the area. In one hour's time he can check farms from the air and be back in his office for

Lake Monster

DETROIT, July 24 (AP)—More than a dozen passengers and several crewmen of the steamer City of Detroit 111 claimed they saw a 60-foot sea serpent yesterday in Georgian bay off Lake Huron.

They said the monster had a horned head and was green and purple in color. One woman fainted at the sight.

A sighting, He says where once there were 20,000 head of deer and elk there are now between 6,000 and 8,000 head and snags and grouse are disappearing fast.

Decrease of Wild Life Is Reported

HAILEY, July 24 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Orsward, residents of Jackson, Wyo., since 1898, have been vacationing on the east fork of Wood river the past two months.

Orsward, who worked in the Minnie Moore mine at Bellevue Hole country, states that the decrease of wild life in this area have been pressed into service to burn the plants before the seed can spread.

Meanwhile, droning through the area in a light plane is the aerial weed detector, who is searching the results of which can be tabulated in benefits for the people of the county and Magic Valley.

Correct Wrist Action Debatable, Pro Says

By ZEKE BROWNING
Twin Falls Golf Professional

In all probability, the most debated subject in golf in the last few years has been the correct position for the wrist at the top of the swing or the top of the backswing. Although there are many excellent golfers who will use the once-popular form during the swing, most top notchers today are using the straight wrist movement.

The straight wrist movement keeps the face of the club in position so that discussion of wrist action confuses many golfers, however, and the correct form is still a debatable one.

Some golfers attempting to use the straight wrist movement develop a movement of the arms that cuts down their clubhead speed. This makes them look as though they aren't hitting the ball with good hand action, causing them to lose distance.

Other golfers, trying to use the straight wrist movement develop flanking difficulties, because the hands fall to work properly.

For many years it has been held that wrist action gave a golfer more power. Many still adhere to this theory, but in my own opinion the sacrifice of accuracy is too great, and I am not sure that there is more power in the wrist action.

As you address the ball, the face of the club is in the correct hitting position. But in the wrist-drop form, as the club comes into the backswing, the wrist is tilted, the face of the club is tilted and turned or what we call opened.

Must Turn Wrist

"In order for the face to be flat with the ball at impact the golfer must turn his wrist and club head to a position where he thinks the face will be straight when it meets the ball. Doing this is purely a gamble."

The theory of the straight wrist is that if its position to the ball is never changed, it will have to meet with the ball at impact. It does not conserve any loss of power because of lack of snap in the wrist, but even if there is, there is more to be gained in the percentage of accuracy in the straight wrist method."

Magic Valley League Ends Second Round

Second-round games in the Magic Valley baseball league schedule will be completed Sunday afternoon, with three games on schedule. Jerome, taking the first place in the loop, will play at Clover. Eden will be at Filer, and Dixon will be host to the Twin Falls club.

The league all-star game will be played in Twin Falls next Sunday, and members of the all-star team will be announced early this week. Two doubleheaders will be played on Sunday, Aug. 6, opening day of the third round. The twin hills will be played so that teams can make up missed games without lengthening the season.

One doubleheader will send Twin Falls to Filer and Clover will play two games at Filer.

Present league standings follow:

Colts Begin Body Contact Workouts at Sun Valley

SUN VALLEY, July 24 (AP)—Cecil Ibbell's Baltimore Colts seriously divided into training Saturday as linemen started body contact workouts and backs practiced punts.

With a little more than two weeks remaining before the Colts' debut with the Los Angeles Dixie in Portland, Aug. 8, Ibbell had his linemen do pads for the first time and the backs ran through plays learned at a clinic talk Friday night.

The All-America conference club is still emphasizing its passing game, Ibbell said.

Chief among the ball throwers are Charley O'Rourke, Boston college; Y. A. Tittle, Louisiana State university; Dick Working, Washington and Lee, and Rex Olson, Brigham Young university.

Sunday will be just another day for the pro gridder with two practice games scheduled.

Two of Ibbell's rookie backs have been pruned by the former Purdue coach. They are Jake Leitch from Oregon and Aubrey Fowler from Arkansas, speed merchants from last year's crop of college boys.

Did you hear what Cromwell has done? The U. S. Olympic team has named him as their coach for the London Olympics. Shirley is a coach for the U. S. Olympic team and has won the world title in London. This is a switch for the Dean, or any coach, because admitting you've got a chance just isn't done in coaching circles. If you concede you might win it causes your allies before you can think of them; and a coach without a convenient alibi is a kind of a liability. Shirley is expected to be a big name in the world of sports. He's a real shot!

Congress' First Duty to People, Minwegan Says

"Those who complain about the call for the special session of congress should remember the first duty of congress is to the people," Bert Minwegan, Montpelier, said Friday as he stopped in Twin Falls. Minwegan is a candidate for the Democratic nomination from the second congressional district.

"It is imperative that the much needed social legislation which has been 'hung-up' in the 80th congress be enacted immediately for the welfare of the people," he continued.

"Since there is substantial agreement in the platforms of the parties, there is no good reason why the enactment of such legislation should not be forthcoming during the special session," Minwegan concluded.

Minwegan, a Montpelier teacher, is traveling through Maple Valley in preparation for the primary election Aug. 10.

Klan Gathers To Press for Rule in South

Gooding Army Chaplain to Be Honored As First to Be Awarded DSC in War II

STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga., July 24 (AP)—The Ku Klux Klan is on the march again. Any doubts were dispelled last night when thousands of the white-robed, hooded knights of the invisible empire assembled in a green field in the purple shadows of Stone Mountain to initiate about 700 new members.

And any doubts that the Klan has a national head with national aims also were dispelled.

"Grand Titan"

For long the Klan has maintained the various state groups were autonomous, but a red-robed "grand titan" introduced Dr. Samuel Green, grand dragon of the association of Georgia Klans, as "the official national head of the Klan in America."

This name "titan" gruffly told a reporter who asked his name, "It's none of your damn business. Go on."

Licenses plates from 14 states, excluding Georgia, were obtained, and chartered buses brought in Klansmen from Alabama, Tennessee, Florida and many towns in Georgia.

Estimated at 5,000, Green estimated the number of robed Klansmen present at 2,000 but several newsmen covering the event agreed the maximum could not be more than 2,000.

A walk around the outer circle, however, indicated that among the 7,000 curious spectators were many unrobed Klansmen and many Klan sympathizers.

The mere mention of "white supremacy" by Dr. Green brought cheers and hand-clapping from many besides those hidden beneath masks.

Strike Photographer

Except for one incident the ceremony passed peacefully. Associated Press Photo Editor Ralph Johnson and an unidentified photographer first climbed atop a bus to make pictures.

Johnson was ordered down and an express note taken from him.

The photographer was dragged from the bus and struck several times in the face until his nose bled.

The fracas was stopped by orders of a robed Klan official and Johnson's plate later was returned.

Dr. Green declared the chief aim of the Klan was to maintain "white supremacy," and that if President Truman insisted on his civil rights program and sought to enforce it with bayonets, "blood will again flow in the street."

GOODING, July 24—Outing high on the list of chaplains to be honored by the army chaplain corps is the late Rev. Ralph W. D. Brown, former Gooding minister, who was the first army chaplain to receive the distinguished service cross during World War II.

Major Clark, who later died in a Japanese prisoner-of-war camp, was personally decorated by Gen. Douglas MacArthur after a Japanese bombing raid on Clark field in the Philippines Dec. 8, 1941.

Armed with only a GI Bible, faith in God and the zeal of patriots, 18 army chaplains won the distinguished service cross and another 157 earned the silver star medal for gallantry in action during World War II.

The Rev. Mr. Brown served as pastor of the Gooding Methodist church from July 28, 1937, to July 1937, long enough to endear himself not only to his congregation but the entire community.

When called to active military duty, he resolved to become a chaplain in the army of his own free administration as captain of the residents of Gooding.

When he was appointed army chaplain of the 1st and Mrs. Brown and their children left Gooding for Laredo, Tex., where they were stationed with the army post for about three years. In the fall of 1939 he was granted a two-month furlough, which was spent with friends and relatives in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brown, 25, 1940, for Ft. St. Louis, Pampanga, P. I.

Mrs. Brown and their three children, Warren, Peggy and Richard, lived in the Philippines with Major Brown until August of 1940 when they returned to their home in Seattle. Major Brown remained in the Philippines and was stationed in Manila when Japanese bombers struck Clark field on Dec. 8, 1941.

Major Brown was the first army chaplain to receive the distinguished service cross in World War II. General Douglas MacArthur personally decorated the chaplain.

Major Brown retreated with the troops to Batuan, fled through the death march to Camp O'Donnell and survived two attempts by the Japanese to take him and other Americans to Japan. The first time the prison ship was torpedoed, the second time it was bombed.

Mrs. Brown received only one letter a year from her husband. The office message telling of his death Jan. 31, 1945, in a prison camp at Mojil in Japan, came to his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Brown, at Oregon City, Ore. Major Brown was chief chaplain of the 1st and Mrs. Brown when he was captured at the fall of Batuan.

HONORED

MAJOR RALPH BROWN
—former Gooding Methodist minister, who was the first army chaplain to receive the distinguished service cross during World War II. Major Brown later died in a Japanese prisoner-of-war camp. (Staff engraving)

He had attended the College of Puget Sound, and took graduate study at Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J.

Information from the army chaplain corps tells that 63 chaplains were killed in action during the last war, and 19 died in Japanese prison camps and in non-battle status. A total of 2,269 decorations were awarded during the war to 1,746 chaplains. Nineteen were distinguished service crosses, the first of which was awarded to Major Brown by General MacArthur.

About a year ago Mrs. Brown was presented with 10 awards made posthumously to her husband. The awards were made by Col. James M. Lewis, deputy post commander at Ft. Lewis, Wash. Attending the ceremonies with Mrs. Brown were her three children, the Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Brown, his parents; Mrs. E. M. V. Brown, his sister, and Capt. E. M. V. Brown, his brother.

Citations accompanying the medals tell the story of the chaplain's heroism. Citations as they were given with various medals appear below.

The awards included the distinguished service cross, for "extraordinary heroism in action at Clark field. While an intensive and sustained aerial bombardment and strafing attack were inflicting heavy casualties on personnel at this station, Chaplain Brown, under severe fire and without consideration for his own safety, drove in his personal automobile through the area being attacked, collecting the wounded, administering first aid and transporting casualties to the Ft. Stanton hospital. In spite of enemy attacks recurring at short intervals, this officer made no fewer than six such trips, each with a full load of casualties, in imminent danger from enemy bombardment and machine gunning. His action, beyond the reasonable demands of duty, saved many of the wounded from death or further mutilation."

Posthumously awarded was the Legion of Merit, for "exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services in the Philippine Islands, from Dec. 8, 1941, to March 12, 1942. As chaplain at Clark field, and subsequently with air corps units on Batuan, Chaplain Brown was untiring in serving personnel of the command. He repeatedly visited all elements of his command in spite of hostile fire, holding as many as 10 different religious services in a day. His sustained efforts in bringing spiritual and material comfort to the enlisted men of the command constituted an outstanding example of devotion to duty."

Bronze star: "From December, 1941, to April, 1942, as chaplain of air base units of Batuan, Philippine units as well as to many others, conducting and performing services, giving comfort to the sick and wounded and performing many special services for the personnel. Despite his own illness, his interest in the physical, mental and spiritual welfare of the men, won the admiration and respect of all who knew him."

Bronze star and oak leaf cluster: "Rendering meritorious service from Jan. 9 to 12, 1945, while a prisoner of war aboard a Japanese ship en route from the Philippines to Japan when the ship was attacked by planes with consequent death and injury to his fellow men. He ministered final rights to the dying and first aid for the wounded. After three days amidst the carnage wrought by the attack, he took a leading part in clearing the wreckage and bodies of the dead, and with characteristic assurance, maintained hope among the survivors."

Purple heart medal: Awarded for wounds received on board the prison ships as well as to many others, conducting and performing services, giving comfort to the sick and wounded and performing many special services for the personnel. Despite his own illness, his interest in the physical, mental and spiritual welfare of the men, won the admiration and respect of all who knew him."

Also awarded were a presidential citation with two clusters, the American defense medal, the victory medal, the Asiatic-Pacific theater medal and the Philippines liberation medal.

Mrs. Brown now lives at 4233 Washington Ave., Seattle 3, Wash.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

By INEZ PUCKETT

"Idaho would be the biggest state in the Union if I ruled out flat," John Gunther in "Inside U. S. A."

Speaking of roads, Bing Crosby once said, "I don't see how Lewis and Clark made it through Idaho!" Crosby should have tried some of our north side gravel trails.

It's a wise idea to carry a bottle of liniment in the glove compartment so you can stop beside the road and doctor that bruise from unexpected chuckle.

"All the way over here the wheels on my car felt like they were square," wailed a California visitor.

His point is that a rear spring splinter in his windshield is a hindrance.

A hunk of gravel did that! We led him to our gas buggy parked in the lane.

It's a wise idea to carry a mass of splinters, the pain job is gouged and pitted.

"Don't snifle on OUR shoulder," said coldly. "You're just peering through, but we live here and the flying basalt and corduroy cow trails all the year round."

Would you go to a woman doctor? There are now 7,500 of these gals in the U. S.

Elizabeth Blackwell was our first M.D. She got her degree from Hobart College in 1849.

13 other medical schools had turned her down. As a woman physician Elizabeth had a large practice in New York state and helped found an infirmary for women and children, one of three hospitals in America staffed entirely by women.

The back tire gave a loud whoosh and flattened to earth. It was right beside the driver and since the on-hand shop of Urban Fork south of Jerome, Mr. F. came out to lend a hand with our funny pneumatic.

Jack, chairs, divans, and refrigerators were sitting sedately all around the north side of his shop.

"She furnishes milk for my three kids," grinned Mr. Fort. "Bobby, Lewis and Tommy—those are my kids."

When the tire was fixed we followed the shop. Urban followed along and good-naturedly answered questions. People were asking more down-to-earth questions these days he said; there was a demand for refrigerators and stores.

"There's a shortage of chests and chairs at present," he told us. He admitted that people sometimes came with funny requests, "old coffee mills and sleigh bells and such."

Fort has dwelt around Jerome many years and mostly ran service stations. He likes the used furniture business though, thinks it brings him in contact with a lot of different kinds of folk.

We had just finished a recording of Isaac Stern's superb fiddling, "The Flight of the Bumblebee." Of course acrobatic fiddling is impossible for a bumblebee to do, stated our learned friend. This is due to the shape of the bee's body and the adverse ratio of wax to wing area.

Isn't it wonderful that the bumblebee and the composer didn't know all this! The bumblebee goes right on flying, and gifted violinists like Stern go right on fiddling the rushing, droning, little musical description of that flight.

Lillian Flynn had a chiroprapist shop patronized by New York's musical great. One day the late Grace Moore came for a work-over. "Can't take you," said Lillian. "Caruso is coming for foot treatment."

To hear Caruso had been a dream.

Figures Released On County Taxes In Jerome Area

JEROME, July 24.—The Jerome county 1948 tax rolls will show an approximate $382,300 increase over 1947, it was disclosed recently by Charles P. Smith, county assessor.

Among the items showing an unusual increase were farm land valuations, up to $2,265,919 from $3,209,455, or an increase of $1,143,536; farm improvements, up to $380,209 from $1,000,000, an increase of $619,791, and merchandise inventories, up to $551,319 from $451,251, an increase of $100,068.

The chow rods sedately on the front seat with the black almost-Peruvian slumped fearfully between her feet. Half-way to town Cokey began to weep and holler as he stuck his head out of the habbox and saw we were going places.

Once at the new abode both felices aulked and complained. The little suitcase didn't suit them, the upstairs rooms were too airy and gay. They sniffed disdainfully around the graced yard trees, got lost in the wheat field.

This morning came an electrician and hooked up the stove. He looked at the neat "plaid" by which such things are connected in California kitchens, grunted and said, "Can't use that thing up here." He said the water this side of the river was sure hard, but he didn't mind because he always drank beer anyhow.

When he left the plumbing began to moan, and water seeped merely out of the foundations of the neat little house. A dark young man across the wheat field came grinning under a red tarp.

"Okay now," he raved, in 10 minutes the moaning and swabbing began again.

The next went was a pump man. He hammered under the floor too, with his boys and did things left. We began heating water to do a mountain of dishes. The mad up we expect to know all the plumbers and pumpmen in Magic Valley. Yep, moving it hell-on-parth.

It's no disgrace to be poor but it might as well be.

The earliest historian probably was Herodotus.

Road Builders Offer Bids on State Projects

BOISE, July 24 (AP)—The state highway department today awarded one bid for highway construction work and rejected another. The bids for three highway projects were opened yesterday.

A bid by the Carl E. Nelson construction company of Logan, Utah, was accepted for construction work between Pocatello and Blackfoot. The highway department said bids made by Roy L. Baer and company of Spokane and Sather and sons of Spokane were rejected.

The department said no decision has been reached on a third project calling for construction work on the Worley-West road in Kootenai county.

The projects and low bidders are: Constructing a roundabout, drainage structures and a crushed rock surface on 2.93 miles of the Worley-West road from the state line eastward in Kootenai county—Curts Cravel company, Spokane, $75,452.50; Curts Cravel company, Spokane, $70,657.80; Max J. Kuntz, Spokane, $69,621.0; Engineer's estimate, $69,078.

Constructing the roadbed, drainage structures and bituminous surface treatment on 0.522 miles of the Trent road and on 4.224 miles of the Spirit Lake highway in Kootenai county—Roy L. Baer and company, Spokane, $148,125.00; Sather and sons, Spokane, $161,319.00. Engineer's estimate $137,629.25.

Restaurants with a plant and bituminous surface 15.287 miles of U. S. 191 between Pocatello and Blackfoot—Carl E. Nelson, Logan, Utah, $20,303.85; Tom McCallin, Boise $236,559.94; Western Construction company, Pocatello, $260,139.00. Engineer's estimate, $226,037.06.

Another "Tree" Planted

Another "keep Idaho green" tree is planted along the highway near Sun Valley. The signs are distributed by Idaho Jaycees as part of their "keep Idaho green" campaign. Ed Brady, assistant manager at Sun Valley, is shown above doing the shovel work. Helping him is Pat Connor, Los Angeles model. Nick's not really working, but any picture taken around Sun Valley has to show at least one girl. Holding the corners of the tree are H. L. Wallington, president of the Ketchum Chamber of Commerce, and Frank Sabala, vice president of the Ketchum C. C. (Photo by Jack Rottler-staff engraving)

What's Cooking?

HURLEY, July 24—Members of the Hurley fire department have been asking this week "what's cooking?" instead of "where's the fire?"

Buhl City Board Asks Groups to Aid Sewer Plan

BUHL, July 24—Members of the Buhl city council have asked representatives of the Pictorette company and the Sego Milk Products company to share expenses of construction of the city sewer with a proposed new sewer line.

Estimated expense of the work is $60,000. The two companies were asked to pay one-fourth of the cost. The Pictorette representative, Walt Hlein, said that he did not feel his company could provide more than $8,000, although R. D. Bovey, representing Sego, said his firm would equal any amount given by Pictorette up to $10,000.

In other business before the council, the group went on record as favoring the granting of a property lease to the Buhl Rifle and Pistol club, and discussed installation of a shortwave police radio and improvements at the airport project.

The next meeting of the council has been called for 8 p. m. Wednesday.

Farm Problems

The governor opened a roundtable discussion of farm problems in the Pawling Grange hall with 70 agricultural editors from various sections of the country. He gave his views and sought theirs on important farm problems.

"The most serious problem is the shortage of meat, poultry and dairy products."

"It is a matter of the deepest concern to me and all other Americans that we should face a shortage in these essential foods."

In addition to Dewey, the experts heard Sen. George D. Aiken, acting chairman of the Senate agriculture committee, and Albert Mitchell of New Mexico.

Dewey's discussion of domestic problems provided a further study of international affairs with GOP advisers. Sen. Arthur Vandenberg and John Foster Dulles, U. S. delegate to the United Nations, are expected to a conference tonight.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—Traders who had expected a big grain market to display firmness with the closing of July contracts were disappointed today. All grain showed weakness and prices were lower. Wheat, corn and soybeans were down. Soybeans were down 1 cent to 1.15 cents, corn was down 1 cent to 1.15 cents, and wheat was down 1 cent to 1.15 cents.

Livestock

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—Cattle and hogs were lower today. Cattle were down 1 cent to 1.15 cents, and hogs were down 1 cent to 1.15 cents.

Great Political Game Hardest Of Any 'Sport,' Boyle Opines

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, July 24 (AP)—Water polo used to be regarded as the most strenuous of sports. Anyone who sat through the Republican and Democratic conventions in Philadelphia, however, would have to admit that it is a game of politics. There is a sport which is really a game of politics, muscles and—on occasion—brains. It is the game of American politics. You can't play it unless you know how to swim in the water of opinion. You can't play it unless you know how to swim in the water of opinion. You can't play it unless you know how to swim in the water of opinion.

BRODA R. RAYBORN

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

August 10th Primary

To the Voters of Twin Falls County:

I want to make my position very clear:

I spent five years in the U. S. Army. I learned to take orders and whether I thought them right or wrong I carried them out. I consider the law of this state the same. It is not my business to criticize or regulate them but to enforce them.

I have never made any claims of being a reformer, but it is my belief that laws should be honored and respected; that no one regardless of his station in life, is entitled to be above the law.

There seems to be those in this County who feel that they would like to have Twin Falls become a part of Nevada. But I believe we have a good county here. There are growing and that are better off to use scarce building materials for much needed homes, rather than for building gambling joints.

Truman Says A-Bomb Test Shows Power

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—President Truman said today that the latest A-bomb test in the Pacific show "beyond any question" that this country's position in atomic weapons "has been substantially improved."

Reaffirming that atomic development and research activities will be kept secret until international control is established, Mr. Truman again blamed "Russia's" "unconscionable" attitude for failure to find a common basis for international control.

"When the nations of the world are prepared to join with us in the international control of atomic energy, this requirement of secrecy will disappear," he said.

"But our need for security in an insecure world compels us, at the present time, to maintain a high order of secrecy in our atomic energy undertakings."

Mr. Truman noted the statement made by the atomic energy commission made its first formal report on "operation sandstone"—the explosion of three new-type atomic bombs.

The commission said records of the continuing series being analyzed, but that some of the results are already clear.

The test proved not only the effectiveness of the new designs of weapons but confirmed a great deal of the theoretical and experimental work performed since the war, the commission said.

Mr. Truman, declaring that "we possess powerful atomic weapons," said he has sought since the first A-bomb was dropped on Japan during the war to eliminate atomic weapons as instruments of war through international control.

Abstract Progress "However," he said, "the uncompromising refusal of the Soviet Union to participate in a verifiable control system has thus far obstructed progress."

In two years, the world has found no ready answers to the problem of war and peace. Atomic energy, therefore, remains a fearful instrument of destruction and a wonderful invitation to progress through peace.

Leaders Installed By Gooding Unit

GOODING, July 24—Officers of the Gooding Old Fellows lodge were installed recently at a regular meeting of the lodge.

Buhl Residents Wage War Against Earwig

Residents of Buhl Using Spray Guns to Fight Earwig Invasion

By GEORGE LIKNESS BUHL, July 24 (AP)—Buhl has been invaded by the earwig, a predatory insect that gets its name from its long abdomen that it uses as a spear.

However, following this tale may be, the earwig is carrying war against the people by helping them to a healthy diet of celery, lettuce, corn, flowers, fruit and other vegetation.

The earwig attacked the area, and unless checked the first year it appears, will be found in great numbers in the following year. It hides in the daytime, usually in dark, damp places such as a shady flowerbed, but is active at night.

The invasion of Buhl has however been checked for another reason. It is believed the insect also eats clothes, and it is thought of coming right into the fabric from or family closet without an invitation. In fact, one housewife, hitting in the wash from the clothes-line, found several of the insects clinging to the clothes.

Recently a spraying unit attempted to check the insect's activities, traveling down every alley and spraying every bit of vegetation within reach, but this left many areas unprotected.

Homeowners have found the best protection is to spray liberally with a 50 per cent wettable DDT dust. "This is stronger than recommended by the bureau of entomology but everyone said the insects earned almost to thrive on anything else."

Even this will not be effective, however, if everyone does not take preventive measures. As long as your children have earwigs on their hands, they'll be on your property again in almost no time.

The insect is about 1/2 inch long, has a general body color of a dark, reddish-brown, and is readily distinguished by a pair of prominent forceps on the rear end of the body. Usually found only in coastal regions, the earwig was first spotted in north Idaho in 1946, and then worked its way south into the southern part of the state.

This is the first year the pest has been introduced in Buhl, and other Magic Valley communities have reported a few lately. They can be checked and it is much easier if done the first year.

Writ of Mandate Issued for Case A writ of mandate was issued Friday in district court ordering Probate Judge S. T. Hamilton either to call in another probate judge or transfer an estate matter to another probate court.

State Leaders Plan Talks on Draft of Men

BOISE, July 24 (AP)—Brig.-Gen. John E. Walsh, state adjutant general, today planned to talk over with Gov. C. A. Robins details for Mhj.-Gen. Lewis B. Hershey has registered Idaho's young men for the new peacetime draft.

Walsh returned yesterday from a conference with selective service officials in Washington, D. C. Favor Lottery He said last night that much of the detail for the new selective service would have to be supplied by executive order. Some congressmen he added, wanted to hold a lottery to determine the order in which drafts will be called.

However, selective service director Mhj.-Gen. Lewis B. Hershey was favored taking the 25-year-old first. President Truman has ordered draft registration to start Aug. 28. The 25-year-olds will register first. Walsh has estimated that 25,000 Idaho men will be affected by the registration.

In Washington, Walsh also met with other state adjutant generals to get information of the army's new organization plans. Striking Force He said the new force would create an 18-division "D" day striking force, including 12 regular army divisions and six national guard divisions. These forces would be backed up by necessary supporting units.

SET LOW, LEGALLY

Many Trust services this installment performs are subject to fees, set at moderate limits, by law. Any "special" services we render, is provided at an equally modest charge. We stress this because many, who appreciate the benefits which Trust service, alone, affords, wrongfully think that such service must be expensive.
