McArthur Ban Fails to Avert College Strike

TOYOYO, July 28 (AP)—Nearly 2,500 professors at Japanese colleges and universities went on strike today despite a warning from a cabinet minister they were flouting Gen. Douglas MacArthur's order forbidding government employees to strike.

The walkouts came a few hours after James S. Killen, chief of MacArthur's labor section, said he would resign because he disagreed with the occupier's new labor policy for Japan.

MacArthur Suggested Ban
The policy to which he referred came about when MacArthur last week strongly suggested to Premier Hiroshi Ashida that strikes by public employees be banned.

The first to walk out were 2,000 faculty members and employees of the first private university at Tokyo, Keio University. They planned to be away from their posts for 24 hours. Later, 300 teachers at four Ginnia prefecture colleges went on strike.

400 More Plan Act
Some 400 instructors at three Tochietsu prefecture colleges reportedly planned to take similar action.

Education Minister, Tani, announced that MacArthur's no-strike warning applied to teachers as well as government employees.

A committee of the Federation of Professors and Employees united at Kyushu university held MacArthur's letter to the premier constituted an order.

Reproductions of Historical Documents Shown at Library

A display of reproductions of the main historical documents featured on the "freedom train" is being exhibited at the Twin Falls public library, Jesse Taylor, librarian, announced Wednesday.

Reprints of the original papers were given to the library by M. E. Dolling, manager of the Twin Falls Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company office, who received the display from the company's main office in Denver.

Contained in the exhibit are facsimiles of Thomas Jefferson's rough draft of the Declaration of Independence, Lincoln's draft of the Gettysburg address, Francis Scott Key's original copy of the Star Spangled Banner, extracts from a letter by George Washington, and Paul Reverie's commission as official messenger.

The exhibit was prepared and sent by the telephone company to all leading cities in the intermountain west as a courtesy to people who missed the freedom train when it toured the west last spring.

The documents will remain on exhibition in the public library until September, when they will become permanent property of the Twin Falls public library, the librarian said.

13 Miners Die In Blast; Grim Probe Started

PRINCETON, Ind., July 28 (AP)—Grim inspectors probed the depths of King's coal mine today seeking to learn the cause of an explosion which killed 13 miners yesterday afternoon.

It was the second serious explosion in eight months at King's. The previous blast, last November, caused 12 deaths, but was followed by extensive fires which closed the mine for more than two months.

The mine had been closed again last week because of water seepage. It had been inspected Sunday by state mine inspectors and had been reopened only yesterday.

2 Critically Hurt
Two men were injured critically in yesterday's blast and a rescue worker also was in a hospital after being overcome by gas.

Condition of the rescue worker, George (Red) Cornelius, was not serious. Two other miners were given first aid for slight injuries.

The dead and injured were members of a single loading unit which was on the lowest level of Indiana's deepest shaft mine, 633 feet underground, and three miles east of the dipple.

Bodies Mutilated
Corner C. C. Cooper said all the bodies were badly mutilated and buried. All were brought out within three hours.

Workers from other parts of the mine and from nearby shafts moved quickly to the rescue. The U. S. bureau of mines officer at Vincennes sent a rescue crew.

There were 76 men in the mine at the time, but other crews were not endangered. The blast caused only a small fire which was soon put out. King's employs 525 men on three shafts.

Reached Dover, accompanied by the French trawler, Charles Jean reached the Dover shore at 12:21 a. m. today.

Reports Show Price of Food Still Going up

CHICAGO, July 28 (AP)—Reports from across the country indicated today that food prices still were climbing even as congressional committees prepared to look over President Truman's proposals for halting the spiral.

The Capital Dairy company here announced it will raise the price of milk a cent a quart Sunday to an all-time high of 22 cents. It also will add a one-half cent boost to the price of a half pint of cream and the price of a half pint of milk.

Other dairy firms indicated that they would follow suit. They said the increases were necessary because of higher prices paid producers under a new government marketing order.

A load of 30 hereford steers sold for $41 a hundredweight at the Chicago stockyards yesterday. The price was just 23 cents below the all-time Chicago price record set last January. The herd was marketed by the Swanton brothers.

Goos Lake, Clinton county, Ia., at Salt Lake City, meanwhile, market experts predicted that cuts in the price of beef, lamb and pork jumped three cents a pound yesterday.

'Henry Ford' Of Nightclubs Is Benevolent

PHILADELPHIA, July 28 (AP)—The 39-year-old grandson of an Italian immigrant has become Henry Ford of the night club business in America.

And Frank Palumbo will, his after-dark empire here in the city made of broadway love which is popularly supposed to stay up after sunset only on the days when an evening musical here is being played.

But Palumbo created a multi-million dollar yearly business on the basis that the masses have more money to spend at night clubs than they do.

Owns Six Clubs

"The whole secret of this business is to give the public a lot of entertainment they want," said Palumbo, who owns six night clubs and restaurants in Philadelphia.

Right now he thinks the people are shopping for night club entertainment every bit as sharply as they do for their dollar's value in food or clothing.

Lush Days Ended

Palumbo thinks the night club business, now off 100 per cent in many cities, never will enjoy again such a lucrative period as the war years.

"Night clubs have to get back to real merchandising. The fast dollar is gone."

Palumbo, a stocky, dark-haired cheerful bachelor, has made himself a reputation here by his pleasure in giving "friends" what he gives away $100,000 a year.

Pleasure Pattern

His pattern of philanthropy is based probably more on what gives him pleasure than on how his gifts will bring him more business.

He likes sports—he owns a chunk of the Williams, the lightweight boxing champion—and gives a number of cups and trophies each year to winners of sporting events. He also takes some 45,000 children a year to the zoo, circus or a major league ball game.

By giving the zoo a leopard, four alligators, some South American birds and two rhinos, he also endeavored himself in the animal-keeping hearts of the main line audience here. And it is a cruelty you just don't crum with a new bank roll.

Blood Transfusions, too

Palumbo has given blood transfusions, as well as dental and eye exams, to hit than a radio give-away program. As the whim seizes him, he will give away perfume, pens and pencil sets, cases of liquor, perfume, gold rings, bracelets, and television sets or other things.

"I get my chief pleasure out of life in seeing people enjoy themselves," he says. "My favorite beverage is a soft drink."

He pays out more than $1,000,000 a year to bring in the nation's top priced bands and entertainers. He says his average customer now pays only $1 a night.

Never a Minimum

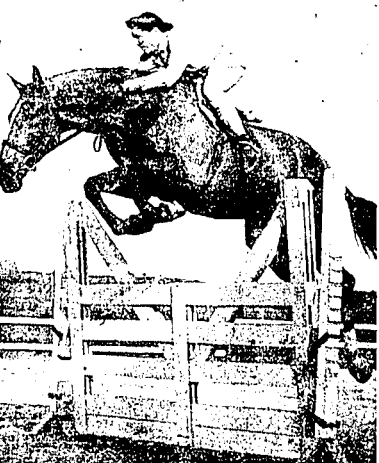

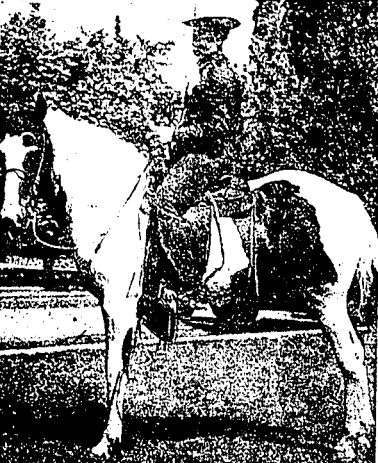

He never has had a minimum or cover charge. The restaurant founded by his grandfather in 1835 catered to more than 100,000 wedding parties.

He is a kind of poor man's Sherman Billingsley. His formula: You can make more money from a lot of small income people out for a good time than you can from a small number of rich people with money to burn—but you have to plow a lot of it back. Because the people he appeals to like a cheerful giver. There are no rings on Palumbo's eyes from worry.

Cooperatives Discussed on Radio Forum

Cooperatives was the subject of the Magic Valley forum over station KLIK Tuesday evening.

John Peddhusen, president of the State Cooperative council, director of the Bran Growers' association and rancher in Twin Falls and Blaine counties, spoke on behalf of the cooperatives.

Taking the affirmative with him was Harry Nelson, a representative of the Farmer's Cooperative Insurance exchange and director of the Cooperative Oil company.

Reasons Stated

They declared that the reason the cooperative movement has grown in the last 10 or 15 years is because it gives patrons something that private business does not ordinarily give, mainly service and competition.

Arguing the negative side were the Rev. A. S. Christensen, pastor of the American Lutheran church, and Arthur Kleinkopf, director of curriculum in Twin Falls city schools.

The Rev. Mr. Christensen discussed the tax phase of cooperatives, stewing on corporation and income taxes.

15,000 Co-ops

Kleinkopf pointed out that there are 15,000 farm and consumer co-operatives in the United States with 7,500,000 members doing a gross business of nearly $1,000,000,000.

Next week a remote control broadcast from Legion hall will be the forum. It was announced at the broadcast.

The broadcast will be a part of a first voters' banquet, sponsored by the League of Women Voters. Topics will be "Which Way Democracy?" and will deal with the three parties, Republican, Democratic and Progressive. There will be six speakers and a public forum will be held.

State CAP Plans Radio Station Net

BOISE, July 28 (AP)—Senior members of the civil air patrol are working on plans to build several radio stations in the state powerful enough to communicate with all "master" stations in the nation.

CAP Liaison Officer Leverett Davis reported today.

Davis said the air force had announced it would hand over the search and rescue program to the CAP. Up to now, he said, various independent programs of that nature have been in operation.

Low Margin

BOISE, July 28 (AP)—Even with higher food prices, retail grocers are operating on a smaller profit margin than when prices were lower.

Frank B. Wilson of Boise, secretary-manager of the Idaho Food Dealers association, said.

Food Dealers association, said, have been asked to encourage consumer buying of items only in plentiful supply and to discourage the sale of luxury items.

Wilson said the grocers were concerned as the consumer about high prices.

The Idaho Food Dealers association will hold its annual convention at Sun Valley Sept. 12-14.

Draftees May Start Service On Furloughs

PORT KNOX, Ky., July 28 (AP)—The nation's new crop of soldiers may start their army careers on furlough, a high-ranking army officer has announced.

Lieut.-Gen. Willard Paul, director of personnel, said the army might find it necessary to furlough a number of its new draftees as soon as they are inducted because facilities for housing and training them are not available.

General Paul spoke at the opening of a three-day conference of high-ranking officers, here to adapt to the entire army policies tried out in the experimental universal military training unit.

The chief of staff, Gen. Omar Bradley, said in reference to the issues of non-segregation of races in the army, that "the army is not ready to make any social reforms."

Bradley told the group "the army will put men of different races in different companies. It will change that policy when the nation as a whole changes it."

Bradley said the army had three goals in handling of the new selective service soldier:

1. It wants to make soldiers as human beings and individuals so they can be used to the best advantage in life for a period.
2. It wants them to be treated as human beings and individuals so they will return to civilian life as good citizens, not enemies of the army.
3. It wants the soldier to be physically and mentally prepared for his army experience.

Canada Urges Joint Effort in Flood Control

BONNERS FERRY, July 28 (AP)—An official of the Canadian water resources board urged the international joint commission yesterday to support joint U.S.-Canada action on Kootenai and Columbia river flood control.

Victor Meek, board director, told the commission that construction of dams on both rivers is planned in order to control 2,100,000 acres of flood plain.

The project would make it possible to send water down either river, he said.

Sites Are Proposed

One such dam would be built near the Kootenai river just above the Columbia's source; the second would be built near Fairmont on the Kootenai and Columbia river.

He said the structures would supplement two others proposed at the hearing by Guy Constable, president of the Creton, B. C. board of trade.

Two Dams Favored

Constable said Canada favors construction of two dams on the U. S. British Columbia site at Moyie falls, east of Bonners Ferry, to store irrigation water for Idaho and southeastern British Columbia, and the other near Libby, Mont., to create a reservoir extending into British Columbia.

After hearing the proposals, the committee adjourned the hearing without recommendations.

BOISE, July 28 (AP)—The rate increase asked by the Mountain States Telephone company will be considered at public utilities commission hearing beginning Monday.

The requested increase amounts to approximately 30 per cent on almost all company services, the commission said.

If granted, the increase would be effective in 36 Idaho counties south of the Salmon river.

Red Aim Said Main Problem In 'Cold War'

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The working committee of the United Nations commission for conventional armaments (those apart from atomic weapons) finally has decided that armaments can't be reduced and controlled until the big powers agree on a U. N. police force, atomic energy is leased and peace treaties are made.

These are the main points in a report by the committee, which is the brain of the effort to enforce world peace, as being the main problem in the "cold war," the committee's explanation strikes us as being a bit of a diplomatic shadow boxing because the blunt fact is that the United Nations can't function as a peace controlling agency until the cold war between Russia and the democracies has been settled.

Issue Clarified

Presumably this problem of enforcing peace will come up in the U. N. again—and then again and again. But it never can be solved until the issue of world revolution for the spread of communism has been dealt with. A British viewpoint of the fundamental difference between Russia and the west is summed up by the weekly publication "Time and Tide," and I quote it because it represents the consensus of many objective observers.

"The issue is whether Russia means to carry on or abandon her plans for the destruction of the democracies. If she will abandon them, there is no issue between Russia and the west which cannot be peacefully solved. The argument as to whether Russia wants war is beside the point.

Doesn't Want War

"In all probability she does not want it now. From Russia's point of view, a shooting war is not to be undertaken until the process of internal erosion in the democracies has reached the point where only the very slightest push from without would be necessary to topple over the whole structure."

That's the story. This battle of Berlin, and the innumerable other cold battles all hinge on the western's efforts to communicate the world. We shall get an element of the German imbroglio, and the hundred and one other difficulties encircling the globe, if and when the Russians decide that they have carried their aggression about as far as they can for the present.

Air Age Program Staged by SICE for Instructing Groups

SOUTHERN IDAHO COLLEGE OF EDUCATION, Albion, July 28.—A special air age program was conducted last week at the Southern Idaho College of Education in cooperation with the civil aeronautics administration and the Idaho state department of aeronautics.

Lecturers and speakers for the course were Roscoe Bancroft, assistant regional administrator, CAA, Seattle, Wash.; Chet Moulton, state director of aeronautics, and George Hunt, promoter of air education in Idaho colleges, this summer.

Class study included lectures and distribution of source material to prospective air age teachers. A tour was conducted at the Burley airport and through all of its installations, by the Boney and Holmes flight service, Burley.

A tour was also conducted through the Empire Air Base installations at the Burley airport.

Because of limited facilities, the class was limited to 30 students.

4 Escape Injury As Car Strikes Horse Near Buhl

BUHL, July 28.—Four persons escaped serious injury at 1:30 a. m. Monday when the automobile in which they were riding struck and killed a horse two miles east of Buhl near Cedar crossing.

The 1948 model sedan driven by Glen McClain, 21, Buhl, struck the horse when McClain was blinded by the lights of an oncoming vehicle.

"I saw the horse shortly before my machine struck him. I gave me opportunity to apply my brakes," the driver said.

Passengers in the car were Clair Fife, 21, Jerome, and two girls, Wynne Sheppard, 17, Spring View, Nebr., and Clois King, 17, Castleford.

Miss King received cuts on her head and McClain's hand was cut. The other two escaped with bruises. The automobile was not damaged seriously, McClain said. The body was sprung, the top was damaged and the hood crumpled, but the grill and fenders are intact. State police investigated the accident.

$58,800,000 School Fund Is Allocated

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—The agriculture department has allocated $58,800,000 to the states and territories for the 1948-49 school program.

Appointments by states and territories for the 1948-49 program include:

Idaho, $21,947; Montana, $170,312; Nevada, $20,717; Oregon, $410,000; Utah, $122,212; Washington, $679,624.

Congress appropriated $75,000,000 for the program, $5,000,000 more than for the previous year.

Money not allocated to the states and territories will be used to pay administrative expenses and for the purchase and distribution of agricultural funds to schools participating in the program.

Funds allocated to the states are used to reimburse participating schools for a part of their local purchases of food for school lunches. The lunch program seeks to improve the dietary and nutritional standards of school children.

Standards of school lunches, non-hour meals and to provide an enlarged market for farm products.

Complaint Filed to Recover Property, Special Damages

Bill Muntz filed a complaint in probate court Monday against Ted Pence and John Pence, in which Muntz seeks the recovery of the value of a saddle worth $100, $25.55 special damages, $330 exemplary damages and costs of the suit.

The complaint states that Muntz purchased a Herford brand saddle No. 831 from Fred Fox, Twin Falls, for the sum of $140 in 1943. The saddle is valued at present at $100.

It states further that during the spring and summer of 1946 while Muntz was being employed by Jim Pence, the saddle was loaned to Ted Pence. In the fall of 1947 Muntz was employed by John Pence, and as the saddle was needed in his work, it was returned to him.

When Muntz left the employment of John Pence, Pence claimed the saddle, Muntz refused to give it to him. Action was brought against Muntz by Pence and a six-man jury brought in a verdict in favor of Pence, but Muntz recovered $45.68 owed him in wages.

Muntz is being represented in the action by J. H. Barnes.

Wheat Treaty To Be Given Careful Study

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Chairman Vandenberg, R. Mich., has promised that the senate foreign relations committee will "review the entire situation" involving the proposed international wheat treaty which President Truman insisted the senate should ratify.

Vandenberg called a meeting of his committee for Thursday, noting that the treaty was the only foreign policy matter submitted in the President's message which requires senate action.

Mr. Truman described the proposed 33-nation agreement as "designed to insure stability in the world wheat market in the years ahead when wheat will be more plentiful." He said it would guarantee American farmers an export market of 185,000,000 bushels of wheat at a fair price during each of the next five years.

In a statement commenting on the treaty, Mr. Truman said:

Allies Leave Room to Make Broad Sweep

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
AP Feature Staff Analyst

The western allies, although well aware they may be inviting Molotov to throw some new stones back at them as he did in the exchange of views with Redell Smith last May, apparently have decided to leave broad room for maneuver as they take new steps to settle the German crisis.

Reports from London that the new representations will be made orally to the Russian foreign minister, rather than to Stalin of a formal note, will revive a controversy over procedure which has been going on in diplomatic circles. Some experts believe Molotov is the leader of the Kremlin's most aggressive faction, one of the "hardy" up-boys of the communist world revolution; that another political group favors moving more slowly and that Stalin stands between the two. These diplomats held, therefore, there is greater likelihood of dealing with Stalin than with Molotov, especially in view of evidence Molotov has sometimes deliberately misinformed his chief in order to perpetuate his own policy.

Some consideration during the London discussions, however, seems to be a desire to insure that a new Russian rejection would not be final as to intensify the crisis created by her reply to the recent trip of the allies.

The allies are reported ready to propose a new four-power conference, for which Russia has provided allied rights in Berlin are recognized and the blockade lifted. They are expected to leave the door wide open for Russian suggestions as to the diplomatic level in which the negotiations should be conducted and the issues to be discussed.

Should Molotov object to the conditions, the diplomatic reason, the door would still be open for an appeal to Stalin on issues which may have been somewhat clarified by the discussions at a lower level.

All of this confirms recent indications of renewed allied inclination to a policy of reacting a German settlement on the diplomatic level with, to be sure, supporting power moves in the background.

Five-Time Winner

Consistent Winner to Try His Luck in National Competition

By GEORGE LIKENESS

Ray Bush might be considered Twin Falls' leading "gas bag" pilot. With his gas-powered model airplane, he again took first honors in the state-wide Pocatello Flying club's model airplane contest last Sunday at Pocatello. With four previous wins, he has several trophies earned by his direction. These victories behind him, Bush plans to take his gas-powered model to Olathe, Kans., next week to compete in the national model flying contest. There are no qualifying requirements, he said, but he can enter the contest with considerable more insurance with the three-month-old craft that has never been defeated.

His model specializes in stunts and can do a few tricks that would make even high-salaried stunt pilots blink. The plane is controlled by two wires terminating in a gear he holds in his hand, and a flip of the wrist will send the light plane somersaulting high above his head.

Bush pointed out that he wasn't the only local winner at Pocatello. Charles Palmer, a fellow "gas bag," also took a first in the flying circle division with his Waco.

The "gas bags" hold their practice flights behind Jayce park and the planes can often be seen circling above the center field fence of the ballpark. Once a plane is broken in, however, there are no more practice flights because the maximum efficiency has been reached and each additional flight provides a chance for a crash.

The cost of constructing a plane such as Bush's model is about $40, so considerable care is taken to see that an accidental bump doesn't fracture a wing or the tail. Bush has constructed a special carrier for his car so he can always have the plane with him but at the same time secured in place, safe from the indignity of being used for a seat.

Top Cattlemen of 3 States to Meet

MCCALL, July 27 (UP)—Executive committees of the Idaho, Washington and Oregon Cattlemen's associations will meet here Saturday to discuss industry problems.

Leon Weeks, Idaho association secretary, said branding laws, disease control and other problems will be considered.

They are expected to leave the door wide open for Russian suggestions as to the diplomatic level in which the negotiations should be conducted and the issues to be discussed.

Should Molotov object to the conditions, the diplomatic reason, the door would still be open for an appeal to Stalin on issues which may have been somewhat clarified by the discussions at a lower level.

All of this confirms recent indications of renewed allied inclination to a policy of reacting a German settlement on the diplomatic level with, to be sure, supporting power moves in the background.

LOCAL PLANT WINS HIGHEST FIRE RATING

CHICAGO, July 28—The Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., a non-profit organization, reported to the Idaho Masonry Products company of Twin Falls, Idaho, today that they have recently completed extensive tests of the strength, purity, texture, uniformity and fire resistant qualities of the Pumice Building Blocks manufactured by their company.

It was stated that all their existing rigid tests and requirements were met in every detail. They are among the best of their kind in the lowest possible fire insurance rates.

It was further stated that no other block produced anywhere has ever been given a better rating than the one granted to the Idaho Masonry Products company.

MODERNIZED PLANT
A visit to the Idaho Masonry plant will disclose that extensive plant improvements have been made during the past year or so, and that every effort has been made to produce a Pumice Building Block that would meet and pass any and all fire underwriters tests.

No expense was spared to build a better, more efficient, fire block. They company having purchased a new pumice bed from which they have been able to obtain better quality ingredients. They have installed the first and only local machinery to make "modular size" building blocks, a scientific method of exact measurements that eliminates so much extra labor and waste of on-the-job building.

The receipt of this Fire Underwriters approval stamp secures the Idaho Masonry Products Company the acceptance of their blocks in all fire zones and for all building purposes where fire and strength test are particularly rigid. Adv.

Kidnaper of Benito Makes Good Escape

FRANKFURT, Germany, July 28 (AP)—A German official, decorated kidnaper of Mussolini, escaped from a German prison camp today, German officials said.

Police throughout the American zone were alerted today for him.

The giant former SS officer was being held at Darmstadt prison camp by German officials for his role in a demeritization court. He was freed last September by an American war crimes court when it was charged with sending German troops into combat dressed in American uniforms.

Skorzny, a lieutenant colonel in Hitler's elite guard, had made "escape" his middle name. In 1941 on Hitler's orders, he engineered and personally carried out a daring parachute rescue of Mussolini who had been captured by the British government of Marshal Badoglio.

When the war was over he was captured by the British and tried to escape three times from Dachau internment camp while awaiting trial in war crimes court. He was freed in 1948 when he was charged with war crimes during the battle of the Bulge. During that battle Skorzny's men formed a band behind the American lines were reported to have had orders to kidnap Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Skorzny had denied that story.

Henry Admires British Pluck, But Thinks We Aided in War

By HENRY McLEMORE
LONDON, England.—Notes written on an empty stomach:

When I had fully realized the food situation in England before I came over, I would have worn a suit made of T-bone steaks with pork chop buttons, a bread and butter cap, a nice white sugar shirt, and shoes made of candy with laces of laces. Of course, I would now be confined to my hotel room because already I would have eaten my wardrobe.

McLemore

The English people look healthy enough, and the government says they are healthier than ever before in history, but the ones I have talked to say the reason they look that way is that they are eating starchy food they get, and that they tire so quickly that either work or play calls for a great effort. Leave to the English, though, to keep up appearances. The streets are alive with the bright and shining clothes, and the restaurants glow with chafing dishes cooking nothing and waiters bustling about serving the same.

There is a low rumble in London that isn't all due to buses. A lot of it comes from people who don't like the labor government. Take the comment of the cab driver who got us out in front of the "Pal" gallery. The building is topped by a statue of Britannia holding a sword in her right hand.

"Notice in that hand the old girl is holding the spear," the cabbie said, "she's got it in the wrong one for this government."

A "defector" guide at the tower had a crack or two to make. Look at the tower, he said, it's the tower that live in the grounds of the tower he explained that there is an old belief that if six ravens were always there, the White tower will collapse, as will the British empire.

He pointed to the ravens hoping about on the grass and waved toward the White tower.

"You see," he said, "the tower is still standing."

He then told of how the ravens get an allowance of one shilling a week for the meat they require.

"You see," he said, "they are the real benefactors, not us."

Englishmen, who have taken to Duke of Windsor. He is never mentioned in the papers, and no one talks about him.

It looks as if the Olympic games are going to play to many empty seats. The English, who have taken a terrific beating at sports for many years, appear unwilling to part with their points to see their under-nourished athletes out-run, out-bored, or, too, thousands and thousands of trucks have been returned to competing countries.

But England isn't all grim. The countryside still is just as lovely as any in the world, the flowers are bright to even the humblest cottages, the policemen remain the most polite and obliging public servants in the world, and no babies with earth have such pink cheeks as those you are being wheeled through the parks in their prams.

I do wish, however, that the English would get over the idea that they won the war all by themselves, and that the U. S. did contribute a mite or two.

U. N. Council Denies Move By Syrians

LAKE SUCCESS, July 28 (AP)—The security council refused today to approve a Syrian move to toss the Palestine problem before the international court of justice.

The vote on Syria's proposal was six to one with four abstaining. A majority of seven votes, including all of the big five, was required to pass it.

Approval Proposal
Britain, China, Syria, Belgium, Argentina and Colombia voted for the Arab proposal. The Soviet Ukraine stood alone against it. And the United States, France, Canada and Russia abstained.

Dr. Philip C. Jessup, United States deputy, and Jakob A. Malik, Soviet deputy foreign minister, led the opposition to the Syrian proposal.

Might Complicate Task
Jessup told the council that the U. S. feared reference to the court would complicate the task of the United Nations mediator in Palestine.

He said the general assembly already had decided the case of Palestine; there was no need to refer it to the court. He accused the Syrians of trying to scuttle the U. N. Palestine partition decision.

Faris El Khouri, Syrian delegate, opened the debate this morning with a plea that the Arabs would abide by any decision of the international court of Palestine. He said the Arabs wanted justice in the Palestine case.

Did Congress Get Command From Dewey?

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Just what advice did Thomas E. Dewey give to congress? There were conflicting versions today.

Senator Robertson, R., Wyo., came out of a meeting of the GOP senate policy committee and told reporters Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, had advised congressional leaders to "stay around a week or so and then go home."

Taft Carries Message

Robertson said Senator Taft of Ohio had carried the Dewey message to the policy committee.

Robertson sought comment from Gov. Dewey at Pawling, N. Y. At first Dewey's press secretary, James C. Hickey, said the governor had no comment. Later Hickey said:

Should Stay

"The governor feels that the committee should stay in Washington and give careful consideration to whatever was proposed in the President's message."

Maximizing Taft was asked about conversations between Dewey and congressional leaders.

"There has been more or less consultation with Dewey but not in detail," Taft said. He added Herbert Hoover, Jr., Dewey campaign manager, had conferred with congressional leaders.

Taft was not about recommendations by Gov. Dewey.

No Suggestions

"He made no recommendations at all but was essentially the senator replied."

He refused to say how far Dewey had suggested congress stay here a week or so and then adjourn.

"He was consulted and that's all I have to say," Taft replied. "I'm not going to quote him on it."

Treasure Hunt

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28 (AP)—Mrs. Anita Blanche Sanden, 40, said she decided to quit supporting her husband, Robert, when she found he had hidden $50,000 in cash in their basement.

"I discovered the cache during extreme cruelty," Mrs. Sanden said she worked for years because her husband said he was too sick to ply his trade of carpenter.

The other day, she said, she found a tin can lodged under the floor. A further search yielded more tin cans for a total of $50,000.

Mrs. Sanden said her search of the basement would continue.

Old Warship Standing up Under Blasts

PEARL HARBOR, July 28 (AP)—The battered hull of the old battleship Nevada is standing up well under the pounding of new secret explosives, naval air officers said today.

The battleship, hit by a Kamikaze suicide plane in war and used as a target for atomic bombs in peace, is undergoing new ordinance tests 25 miles southwest of Pearl Harbor. If the explosives being tested fail to sink her, ships' guns will do so.

Thus far, the Nevada has no hit, is not taking water, and all fires started by explosions have been extinguished, said Capt. J. P. Monroe, operations officer of the navy's Pacific air command.

In the second day of tests, "she looks as well as she did when she left Pearl Harbor Sunday," Monroe reported. He flew over the battered target ship this morning, and said:

Demonstration of Range Reseeding Slated on Aug. 19

LAKEVIEW Ore., July 28—The Lakeview Rotary club has undertaken an unusual project, that of reseeding rangeland, private, state and Federal—to clear off scruboak and plant hardy perennial grasses.

An all-day demonstration will be staged Aug. 19 by the Rotary club at the Elder Brothers ranch at Valley Falls, 20 miles south of Lakeview. Different methods of reseeding and seeding will be explained. Stockmen, soil and crop experts, and public officials throughout Oregon have been invited. Invitations also are being extended to all interested men in the west.

The club's project was originally aimed at the wholesale reseeding of the sage covered desert lands in Lake county, but the project has attracted the attention of stockmen outside the county, and extensive work throughout the state is now under way.

T. R. Conn, Lakeview attorney, and Harry K. Sawyer, state representative, are co-chairmen of the Rotary range committee.
