Aren't the zoo question, take it from a guy who has lived in some larger minkets for the past few years? You can't maintain it—there's too much of an expense. WASHINGTON—That year we certainly looked like first division, but you absolutely can not run a ball-club according to the rules of the game if you will wind up like we did. Some of the governor's fellow Dixiegrats seem to have given the rabble rousers a different idea. Perhaps it was statements like that of Gov. Fielding Wright, Governor Thurmond's running mate, who told the Negroes of his Mississippi in a radio address that the United States expected equal equality with whites in restaurants and schools they had better leave the state.

Or it might have been some of the rump convention speeches that set the pack of rabble rousers bawling. It was the Dixiegrats' speeches like the one by former Gov. Frank M. "BLACK EYES" FOR IDAHO
During the last year or so Idaho has come in for more than its share of bad publicity. A year ago we had the auto license plate with its much-ridiculed skier which many out-of-staters ridiculed as "looking like a grasshopper." Instead of tearing a lesson from that mistake, Idaho followed up with a license plate which this year is proving even more absurd—the buttered potato! Thousands of Idahoans on vacations in other states have learned to their embarrassment that people outside regard the potato-adorned license plate as quite a joke. They actually laugh right in our faces!

Next Chapter: 'Return of Bat'

City officials are fearing the "Return of the Bat."

At the last two council meetings, a bat has flown into council chambers. The first time, the bat came from the room and left. The second time, it elected to stay. For its trouble it was chased, knocked out and lugged by Truman F. Greenhalgh and John Stephens.

After notifying the fun Councilman Greenhalgh had at the council session in threatening to release the bat. Stephens kept the bat to see how much excitement he could cause the next day. He hoped Stephens would be curious enough to open the box he put on their desks. They weren't.

Stymied, Stephens took the box back into the office where he counts parking meter revenue. While he had his back turned, the bat escaped through air-locks Stephens had opened in the door. Stephens is confident he will catch the bat at the next council meeting.

Judgment, Decree Awarded by Court

A judgment and decree in favor of A. L. Gurley, Jr. against John J. Weatherly and Don Unanue was awarded Wednesday in Judge James W. Foster's district court by default.

The court awarded Gurley $2,923.84 principal interest amounting to $259.97, $500 attorney fees and costs and disbursements of $18.

The court also ruled property consisting of lot 'C', block 102, of Twin Falls townsite; The Keyhole, 130 Shoshone street west; back yard; beer bar; health signs; beer cooler; draught beer box compressor; and all personal property is to be sold at public auction by the sheriff in order that Gurley might be paid.

The judgment came as a result of a complaint filed June 9, 1948, seeking judgment on a promissory note of $2,000, signed by Weatherly and Unanue which two payments were made.

Importance of Weed Control Is Emphasized

IDAHO FALLS, July 29 (AP)—The importance of weed elimination and the advantage of early planting and early irrigation of sugar beet fields were emphasized Wednesday at a district meeting of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company officials.

Discussions followed a day-long tour of the company's plots in the upper Snake river valley.

"In the United States, loss from weeds is estimated to be greater than loss from pest and disease combined," William Bergeson, Sugar City field man told the group. He pointed out that weeds decrease farm land value and crop yields, that they increase farm expense and decrease the market value of many crops.

Opening the discussion was L. J. Arnold, mechanical district superintendent from the Gnamston, Utah district.

Emphasizing the importance of weed control in order to conserve on field labor in spring and summer work, Arnold urged elimination of weeds on irrigation ditches and canals.

The value of pre-emergence irrigation was stressed by Elwood Michelson, Lehi, Utah.

Don Tolman, Salt Lake City, general agriculture superintendent, presided, and reports from the various districts were presented.

Dworshak Takes Issue With Straus On 80th Congress

SPOKANE, July 29 (AP)—Sen. Henry C. Dworshak, R. Ida., and Reclamation Commissioner Michael Straus don't see eye to eye on accomplishments of the 80th congress.

Dworshak said yesterday he believes the congress was generous to the Pacific northwest in the matter of flood control, irrigation and reclamation. He took exceptions to statements made by Straus at Boise last week.

"It is unfortunate that Straus has been fit of alleged congress because of its alleged failure to provide adequate funds for reclamation in fiscal year 1949," the senator said.

Dworshak said the reclamation bureau's 1949 appropriation is more than $100,000,000 larger than any previous annual appropriation.

The senator, who Tuesday attended the international joint commission hearing at Bonner Ferry, Ida., left here for Washington, D. C., and the next congressional session.

Specimens of Idaho's Birds Given Dusting

BOISE, July 25 (AP)—Some 500 birds, ranging from the Maryland bluebird to the huge trumpeter swan, are getting a thorough cleaning and mothproofing at their permanent homes on fourth floor of the Idaho capitol.

Mounted in 100 cases, the specimens represent the most complete collection of Idaho's winged wildlife. The birds, which are the property of the state's natural environment, the display has long been a center of interest to state house visitors.

The birds are being cleaned by the taxidermist who mounted them last autumn. O. V. Jenkins, a slim wiry man who has long been at the trade.

One Species Interesting

Jenkins is particularly interested in one species—Wilson's thrupke. He explained that the female thrupke considers her job completely finished after she lays the egg. From there on out she has nothing to do with her family. Her "husband" gets stuck with the job of sitting on the egg until it hatches. When the young break their shells, they start chirping for food and it's the male's job to go out and get it.

Jenkins, now working again for the fish and wildlife service, explained that not all the birds in the cases are natives of Idaho. He said some of them just happened to drop over for short visits during migration periods.

All Found in Idaho

However, he added, there isn't a bird in the collection that hasn't been picked up in Idaho.

Some of the mounted birds are said by experts not to exist in Idaho. But Jenkins found them and mounted them.

"This one is very rarely found anymore," he said, pointing to a trumpeter swan.

Then he pointed to two stuffed sandhill cranes and recollected "when there used to be thousands of them when I was a kid in this country."

But one bird, Clark's nutcracker, or "camp robber" is too plentiful in Idaho.

"They're really camp robbers, too. They'll steal a flapjack right out of your frying pan."

9 of Farben's Chiefs 'Guilty' Of Plundering

NUERNBERG, July 29 (AP)—A U. S. military tribunal today acquitted all 24 directors of the giant I. G. Farben chemical combine of plotting and waging aggressive war, but convicted nine of them of looting in countries overrun by Hitler's Nazis.

The sprawling German plant at Langensiefen, death trap for probably 300 or more Germans in yesterday's mammoth explosion, lay in smoldering ruins as the court decided the fate of the men who directed Farben, the symbol of Nazi Germany's industrial might.

Two More Counts—Findings on two more counts—involving crimes against humanity—will be dealt with tomorrow. The court found that the blame for plotting and waging war lay clearly, with the aid of the military of Hitler's third Reich.

The opinion, delivered after an 11-month trial, dealt with five counts against Farben's board of directors. The court said evidence failed to support the prosecutions on two of the counts, dealing with aggressive war.

Third Charge Proved—A third count, spoliation and plunder of occupied countries, was amply proved, the judgment said, against directors Hermann Schmitz, Georg von Schnitzler, Fritz Reier, Ernst Beurbin, Paul Hartlauer, Max Heiser, Friedrich Schott, Heinrich Oster and Hans Kuebler.

Planned "Flamers"—Here, the court found, Farben officials preceded the army and laid plans before the war to take over and operate various industries. Such planning and carrying out of such plans, the tribunal ruled, constituted the "war crimes."

Washington Solon Seeks Flood Help
WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—Senator Magnuson, D. Wash., asked the houses and senate appropriations committee today to make $300,000 available for grants to communities and public agencies for disaster relief.

That amount was approved by the senate in the emergency appropriation bill at the last session of congress, but was eliminated by a conference committee whose house members opposed it.

The money would have been appropriated to the bureau of community facilities of the federal works agency. It was tentatively agreed to make a similar appropriation of $15,000,000 of the amount was for relief of Pacific northwest communities unable to repair damage done by Columbia river floods.

U. N. Worried By New South Africa Moves

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
ADVERTISING MANAGER

The atmosphere in the U. N. trusteeship council was not particularly tranquil, unless you include the representatives of seven nations took the floor to criticize South Africa's administration of the former German colony of Southwest Africa. They wanted improvement of native conditions.

Several months ago South Africa refused to accept U. N. suggestions for trusteeship and changes in methods, and determined to continue under the short-lived League of Nations mandate for the 90 per cent black area.

Annexation Discussed

That was during the comparatively liberal administration of famous old Jan Smuts. Since then a group of anti-British and anti-nationalists have taken over the South African government. The Southwest African question has passed beyond the field of trusteeship, mandates and civil rights for the natives. It is now something happens, a question of what form outright annexation will take.

Reports indicate that nationalist Premier Malan is moving rapidly to increase his nationalist sentiment where he now has only a small majority by such annexation. The Germans of Southwest Africa are in sympathy with the Malan program, are reported ready to send an all-nationalist delegation to parliament.

End Native Participation

Southwest Africa's non-white voters, of course, have nothing to say about it. One of the prime Malan objectives is to end native participation in South African legislative proceedings, too.

The nationalists are talking softly now about their long-standing desire to cut the commonwealth's ties with Britain. But the squeeze is beginning.

Small but growing world pressure for improvement of the native status finally brought the United Nations question to the United Nations. More complicated now than ever, it is expected to prove one of the most embarrassing questions on the general assembly agenda at Paris in September.

Television's Costs Exceeding Income

LOS ANGELES, July 29 (AP)—Television stations probably won't even break even financially for two or three more years, Sidney N. Strotz, vice president in charge of television for the National Broadcasting company, said today.

The industry is suffering "growing pains," said Strotz on his return from a tour of his firm's television stations in the Midwest and East.

"People who say they're making money in television are kidding themselves," he said. "I don't believe there is a television station in the country making money, or breaking even for two or three years."

Strotz predicted that the number of television sets owned probably will double every six months for some time to come.

Henry, Flying Over Alps and Other Regions, Get Confused

BY HENRY McLEMORE
SOMEWHERE. Somewhere That's a mighty poor dateline for a newspaperman of 30 years' experience to use.

I was warned on the wherewithal school of journalism, and nothing would please me more than to be able to tell you readers, right off, where I am.

But I can't.

All I know for sure is that I am in a Pan American airplane. The pilot named Paul Jones, bound for Istanbul from London, and I am trying to write this column on a typewriter that rests on my lap, but doesn't rest.

Maybe it would be smart to make a sort of diary out of this trip. Okay, let's try.

Down below is blue water, with white caps ruffling its face.

That must be the channel. The channel that has caused more sea-sickness than any other body of water in the world.

I look at my map. If I can read a map at all, the Clipper will hit France right smack at Dunkirk.

The captain comes back a big blond boy from Tucson, named Emerson.

"Dunkirk," he says. "I hope will make the Alps just about down."

There is a stop at Brussels. Gas, oil, motor check for the plane. Beer, beef, and Belgian smiles from the Belgians.

Continuing the diary: A call comes for all Pan American passengers to fall in line and follow the agent. My wife, falls in line. There are about 45 of us, marching along toward the customs gate. The man in front of Jean turns to his left. Jean, beautifully regimented, turns left. She finds herself in a Brussels night room.

Then the take-off.

Just as a thousand closes in the

By LETHA TESTER
GOODING, July 29—Mrs. Nettie Metcalf, a resident of Gooding since 1925, will celebrate her 100th birthday anniversary Tuesday, an achievement seldom attained by others.

Friends of Mrs. Metcalf have sent her the "Hollywood Club" program in Hollywood telling of the event. They hope it will reach the program in time for its initial gift of an orchid to any one celebrating their hundredth birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Metcalf at present is living at the Jessie Wood home for elderly people in Boise. When her daughter, Mrs. H. J. Leyton, Gooding, with whom she has made her home since 1925, submitted to a major operation in April, it became necessary for Mrs. Metcalf to enter the home. Mrs. Leyton will be in her operation she has not been able to care for her mother.

Mrs. Metcalf is the oldest of the group who are at the home, and takes pride in that distinction. Faced with the necessity to make her change in living she accepted the matter calmly and is happily situated.

Friends of the family call on her frequently to keep the mother-daughter ties secure while the daughter is going back her home.

Mrs. Metcalf was born in Jamestown, N. Y., Aug. 3, 1848, and lived there until about 10 years old. She grew up in early day experiences with Indians. She was married at Stanton, Minn., during a white in Philadelphia, Pa., and in 1867 they moved to Iowa. They were true pioneers whose nearest neighbors were five miles away in a sod house and did most of their traveling by ox team.

With two small children and an unborn baby and not yet 30, she prepared herself for teaching. She lived in a school house and taught a country school. Later she taught at Newell, Ia., for several years. In 1881 she was married to Mr. Metcalf, who died in 1908. They lived at Storm Lake, Ia., where she lived through the Spirit Lake Indian massacre.

In her youth Mrs. Metcalf was noted as the "big looking girl" in Hamilton county, Minn. And her eye in good grooming still is one of her characteristics today. Beauty culture and personal grooming are a daily "must."

She attended the Universal church at Storm Lake, and was a member of the Eastern Star there. She has a number of living children: H. J. Leyton, Gooding, and S. A. Harper, Hannibal, Mo.; six grandchildren, two of whom are well known in this community: Mrs. Don Best, Yakima, Wash., and Howell Leyton, Jr., Jerome. There are nine great-grandchildren, and she has one brother, 76, who lives at Lake City, Kans.

Although Mrs. Metcalf cannot be with her mother on her birthday, all gift packages will be sent for the occasion, as well as many best wishes from the community.

Utah Imposes Ban On All Air Shows

SALT LAKE CITY, July 29 (AP)—A complete ban on all air shows in Utah was imposed today by the state aeronautics commission as an aftermath of Sunday's Salt Lake county show where two men were killed.

State Aeronautics Director Joe Bergin said the ban would remain in effect until ways and means of adequately protecting lives and property can be worked out.

Bergin advised airport operators throughout the state that recent Utah shows have hindered instead of helped aviation, so they are being stopped until a complete study has been made.

The commission's order was endorsed by the aeronautical safety committee of the Utah Safety council, which at a long meeting late yesterday also urged all Utah plane owners to install warning devices.

State Chamber Names 2 New Men to Board

BOISE, July 29 (AP)—Two new members have been elected to the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce board of directors, Harry Elcock, president, said today.

The two new members are Otto Leuchel of Lewiston and J. E. Berg of Wallace. They succeed C. L. Bjelland and Leo J. Hoban, both deceased.

Leuchel is general manager of Potlatch Forest, Inc., and Berg is manager of the Federal Mining company.

Local Idaho Chambers of Commerce are being urged by the state chamber to make an analysis of the public school program.

Earl W. Murphy, secretary of the State Chamber of Commerce, said the local organizations are being asked to make the study through consultation with educational leaders to determine how much of a problem there is in each community to justify federal aid.

After each local chamber makes its study it will prepare a written statement of the results and send it to the State Chamber of Commerce, Murphy said.

Safeway Trims It Before Weighing

...SO YOU SAVE MONEY

We'll Give You 2 Rib Roasts
(THEY WON'T COST YOU A PENNY!)

If ever you get a Safeway Rib Roast not trimmed this money-saving way

HEAVY CHINE BONE REMOVED

By Safeway (and replaced with a layer of fat. Eight in weight, to seal in meat juices) before we weigh your rib roast on the market scales. It gives you a roast that cooks and carves better

Wherever you buy meat you are entitled to money-savings that result from proper trimming of each cut before it is weighed.

Insist that your butcher trim this way. If he refuses, why not buy at a market where this kind of trimming is done?

YOU SEE ABOVE how Safeway removes excess bone and waste from rib roasts before weighing. We prepare other cuts in similar fashion—each according to its special requirements. This waste-free cutting is part of Safeway's Guaranteed Meats plan. We regularly trim our meats this way.

When you compare meat prices, remember that Safeway's prices always are on the TRIMMED cut, free of excess bone, waste and fat, ready for cooking.

If ever you're not satisfied that the meat you buy at Safeway is trimmed the money-saving way we say, just show it to the manager of the Safeway store where you bought it. If your Safeway rib roast (for example) is NOT trimmed as shown above—you get TWO rib roasts without a penny's extra cost (and without quibbles or argument!).

Safeway buys nothing less than the top government grades of beef (all beef sold at Safeway is U.S. Government graded)... nothing less than the top grades of lamb, pork and veal.

Come prove for yourself—there's more good-eating, at less cost in Guaranteed Meats from Safeway!

SLUGGERS WIN NEER LEAGUE ALL-STAR GAME 10-3

"Red" Jessen Homers For South in Eighth

GREAT FALLS, Mont., July 29 (AP)—The Northern team started rolling in the fifth inning and went on to rout the South squad 10 to 3 in the 1948 Pioneer baseball league all-star game Wednesday night.

The 1920 fans were on hand—the largest crowd to witness a baseball game in Great Falls—as the Northern team posted one of the most lopsided games in the history of the all-star series.

The game moved smoothly and without a score through the fourth frame.

Three in Fifth The lads from the north tallied three in the fifth, three more in the sixth, and the result was an 8-0 lead in the eighth. The victory gave them a 5-2 edge in the series.

The fight ball came bucked in the fifth when little Teddy Savare scored for the Salt Lake team.

The southerners were able to score two in the sixth and another in the seventh.

Five Southern Errors Six Southern errors coupled with a high Northern attack on the base for the winners.

And meanwhile the South was unable to collect runs from the offerings of North moundmen. They were bunched in one frame—the sixth.

Charge Against Bill McGowan Substantiated

CHICAGO, July 29 (AP)—President William Harridge of the American League announced Wednesday that the charges against umpire Bill McGowan arising out of a turbulent night game at Washington Friday, July 19, have been substantiated.

McGowan was suspended July 29 after officials of the Washington Senators had protested that McGowan had cursed and thrown a baseball at a player.

Harridge said that McGowan was suspended without salary for 10 days and would be eligible to return to action Friday, July 30. McGowan's suspension cost him approximately $500, the American League officials said.

Harridge said "after a thorough investigation, I find that the charges filed against William McGowan for his conduct and use of profane language on the ball field at Washington have been substantiated."

"Reproachable" He said it was "reproachable" that an umpire should be involved in such an incident. McGowan is the league representative on the ball field clothed with absolute authority and he is expected to size and appreciate his responsibility to baseball.

The head of the American League said he would have if the situation had been reversed and similar charges had been filed by an umpire against a player."

Plans Mapped To Help Boys Held by U. S.

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—A group of Washington citizens and officials mapped plans today to widen friendships and future opportunities for "students" at the national training school for boys.

The school currently has 250 youths ranging in age from 14 to 16. They are there for various periods of detention because they have violated federal laws. Every state in the union and most of the territories and possessions are represented.

Friends Termed Need But a great many people, including government officials, think these boys need something else—a friend.

While many persons and organizations in the Washington area have offered friendship and help to these boys over the years, the effort has been sporadic and on an individual basis.

Yesterday afternoon, these groups and individuals were brought together in the office of Attorney General Tom C. Clark.

The reason, sponsored by Maurice Hays, executive secretary of the national B'Nai B'rith, uncovered this typical report.

In only about 50 per cent of the cases is there an eager response to the invitation for a dinner in a private home or in the baseball game at a football trip.

But in nearly all cases, the youngster appreciates having somebody to talk to and someone to encourage him not a policeman. And an interest in his hobby always gets a response.

Many come from broken homes—practically all have experienced some form of "rejection," hence a deep yearning for acceptance by someone who believes they can do better. If given the opportunity.

The group tentatively organized yesterday will work with a minimum of fanfare to interest substantial citizens in giving some of their time to being friends with the boys at national, to use their influence in helping to help them when the boys are ready to leave the school, to be somebody who will "be there" to turn to when the going gets tough.

Crime Student Gets Practical 'Test' in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, July 29 (AP)—Millicent McConnell, criminology and sociology student at the University of Wisconsin, today had some practical crime experience to go with her text book education.

Miss McConnell and two friends from St. Croix Falls, Wis., Constance Wiedersheim and Mrs. Constance Ellingworth, stopped in Salt Lake Saturday night while touring.

They found the jacket and two suitcases in a rental car of the capital grounds late Sunday.

Then they began a house-to-house canvass of the capital hill residential area, trying to find someone who might know where the rest of their stuff was.

They gained reward When they returned to the capital grounds, a 16-year-old boy told them where he had seen the third suitcase. He led them to it—and the girls gave him a $5 reward.

But Miss McConnell recognized the youth as a boy she'd seen at one of the houses she'd visited—although he gave a different name and address. In accepting the reward, she told police of her theory.
