Boy Killed In Mishap At Factory

Robert McMillan, 18, was suffocated by sugar about 11 a.m. Wednesday in an accident at the Armington Sugar company factory here. Several other workers risked their lives in attempts to save his life, and efforts of the fire department rescuator squad and a physician also proved futile. Firemen spent an hour and a half trying to resuscitate him.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McMillan, 231 Second avenue west, was working in one of the concrete storage bins built last year. He and several other workers were cleaning out the bins. He was found by falling sugar loosened by other workers.

Suspended on Ropes According to the supervisor, sugar factory superintendent, McMillan and three other workers were suspended by safety belts on ropes from the top of the bins. They were loosening cones of bulk sugar which form between the bins.

He was first buried about waist high by falling sugar, but clinging onto the ropes. Lefty Walters, Robert Brehm and Cecil Boyer were attempting to dig him out when more sugar piled up and covered his head. Taken From Bin The boy was then opened and McMillan was hauled down through it. However, his neck had been under from six inches to a foot of sugar for about 40 minutes. It is believed he was dead when removed from the bin. Total depth of the sugar was estimated to be eight feet, and Binham said it amounted to about 500 pounds.

Small Hamlet Gets Fortune Out of Estate

PERRYVILLE, Pa., Aug. 18 (AP)—This western Pennsylvania mine town whose chief claim to glory was its historical past had a bright future today and an inheritance of uncounted millions.

George Washington once owned more than 1,600 acres of its land and personally suggested the plan of the town—like the spokes of a wheel.

But when the hamlet tried to restore Washington's four mill several years ago, the citizens couldn't raise enough money. The old mill collapsed, leaving only ruins.

Lots of Money

Today Perryville—pride named for Commodore Oliver Perry—has lots of money. Just how much it won't know until the lawyers and executors get through consulting the estate of Mrs. Mary Fuller Frazier of Philadelphia.

The last surviving member of the Perryville's Fuller family, Mrs. Frazier, died Aug. 6 in a New York hospital at the age of 93. She left all but $200,000 of her vast estate to the town for "public improvements."

Legacy in Millions

Estimates of the legacy range from five to ten million dollars. Mrs. Frazier, the divorced wife of Hobson Miller Frazier, one-time manager of Philadelphia's Biltmore Stratford hotel, inherited nearly $8,000,000 in personal property and real estate from her uncle, Alfred M. Fuller, in 1918.

Additional millions came to her in 1934 on the death of a cousin, Alice Fuller.

Gasoline Tax Profit Passes Million Mark

DOISE, Aug. 18 (UP)—Idaho's 44 counties likely will get $1,500,000 from gasoline taxes collected this year, the highway bureau predicted today.

The state according to law, must distribute to counties on the basis of passenger car license fees at least $100,000 or 20 per cent of the gasoline tax collected each year, which ever is greater.

Last year the state's share amounted to $1,468,095.73. Howard Dumbarton, highway department accountant, said 1948 gasoline collection was up 15 to 20 per cent over last year.

Idaho has gasoline used in motor vehicles at the rate of 6 cents per gallon. However, one per cent of it is placed in the postwar highway fund and is not distributed to the counties.

The $1,000,000 statutory minimum is distributed in four quarterly installments to counties.

Treasurer's receipts totaled $67,945 in 1947. Three per cent of this went to the motor vehicle fund and the balance was distributed on 90 per cent to the counties and 10 per cent to the highway bureau.

Wool Industry Returns From Declining Era

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 18 (UP)—The wool industry, declining in the United States during the past decade, is on its way back. If indications manifest at the north Salt Lake annual ram sale are a trend for her two sons.

J. Melvin Jones, executive secretary of the National Woolgrowers' association, sponsoring group which put on the sale, said that an indication of the "rebirth of interest" in the wool industry was the high price paid for wool producing rams.

He pointed out that the price of wool producers was almost equal to that paid for the mutton-type ram. Some 75 wool producers were sold for a total of $108,000 here yesterday. This averaged out to $24 a head. Total sale price during the two-day event was set by Jones at $241,000 for 1,600 head, with a blouse, face, or mutton type, sold Monday and the white faced, wool producers sold yesterday.

Jones pointed out that the average price paid for wool producing rams this year was nearly double the average price paid last year. Last year's average was $23 a head, compared to the $44 paid this year.

Most bins in the temperate zones saw a new crop of feathers twice as year.

SPY INQUIRIES

As the sordid story of Soviet spying unfolded before congressional committees, the customary outcry of protest was heard. The committees were accused of sensationalism, partisan politics, smearings, unfairness.

Naturally, the first clamor came from those accused of selling out their country to Moscow. These had to talk fast to get ahead of the Communist party, fellow travelers and party liners—who, in turn, had their heels trod on by the professional liberals.

It would be easy to dismiss protests on the basis that a check list always squeals. But that wouldn't be the whole story. There have been indignat protests also from highly reputable anti-communists, including some whose eyes are wide open, who realize that there is a very dangerous fire under all this smolder.

We are in no position to judge any individual accused by Miss Bentley, Mr. Chambers, Mr. Budenz or other ex-communist witnesses. However, without putting the finger on any individual we have no slightest doubt that their stories, overall, are truthful and correct.

There was a Soviet spy ring in Canada. It would be silly to imagine that there was none in this country. Over all, the Bentley-Chambers-Budenz story rings true. William Remington admits giving to Miss Bentley—assuming he was a reporter, but with unforgivable indiscretion—super-secret information about our atomic project. Silvermaster testifies that Presidential Aide Lauchlin Currie helped him stay in key security clearance on navy intelligence and the civil service had decided he was probably an OGPU agent.

This does not necessarily brand either Remington or Currie as a communist or as a Soviet agent. It leaves the possibility that they were merely naïve. In either case it demands thorough inquiry, followed by precautions to see that such persons are not given future opportunities to sell us out, deliberately or by stupidity.

It is important that every facet of the situation be explored. But the congressional committee method has become discredited. It publicizes the most serious charges before they are confirmed or disproved.

The accused, and some professional liberals, urge that the only alternative is criminal contempt and indictment and prosecution are justified nothing should be said or done. That is unthinkable to anybody familiar with legal quirks. The statute of limitations, rules against wire-tapped evidence, technicalities devised by criminal lawyers to keep their clients out of prison make it impossible to convict many of the guilty of the most nauseating crimes against humanity.

What, then, is the answer? Canada found one. When it found an espionage ring at work on the St. Lawrence, the Canadian government was appointed. It was not hampered by the apron strings of court procedure, and could go after the truth. But it worked in secret, so that no man or woman was branded until the commission was convinced of his or her guilt.

We suggest that this would be sound procedure for us to follow. Such a commission should be of supreme court caliber, or better. It should consist of men of unquestionable integrity and ability in whom the President, Congress and the people have full faith. It should be given unrestricted powers, and left alone to do its job.

WELCOME TO OUR SIDE

It seems strange that it should be news that the Irish are taking sides in a lively brawl. Until the past war it would have been assumed the boys would be in there before the first brickbat hit its mark. But strange or not, it is good news that Foreign Minister Bean MacBride has declared Eire's attachment to western Europe if another war should come along.

Without the Irish, a fight is a phony. As individuals, they did their big part in the whipping of Hitler. This time, if there has to be another, they can do their fighting under their own flag.

FUNNY, ISN'T IT?

Remember all those stories we used to hear about how Orientals do everything hideous foremost?

Well, a lot of them were true, including this newest one:

The Japanese government had to cut prices on fresh garden vegetables by 20 per cent because the black market was underselling the official price scale.

Funny, isn't it? As funny as the American merchants who are forbidden by law to pass on to customer the savings they make by economical operation.

The average man speaks about 12,000,000 words a year, says a scientist. There must be more bachelors than we thought.

It is estimated a cow motes its jaw 41,000 times a day—and without saying a word that hurts anybody.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Zwarg may not have blocked attempts to warn against communist trends but teachings in the New York Times did not go unnoted by Dr. John W. Studebaker, who resigned as U. S. commissioner of education on the grounds that he had given his work for political reasons.

In several surveys of school curricula, which were inspired by Elizabeth Bentley's explanation for her defection, it was found that the Russian spy, indicate that elementary, high schools and colleges had been teaching the same thing to younger generations, past and present, on the rights, the duties and responsibilities of American citizenship and our way of life.

Although a Vassar graduate, Miss Bentley attributed her waywardness to the fact that she had absorbed 20 years of education without ever having had a lesson in civics or American history.

She may be only rationalizing her reasons for doing so, but she did emphasize the fact that she felt for Marxist preachments because she had been given no measure of comparing them with democratic forms of government.

ACIDENT—It may be no accident that almost every time a check list always squeals, but that wouldn't be the whole story. There have been indignat protests also from highly reputable anti-communists, including some whose eyes are wide open, who realize that there is a very dangerous fire under all this smolder.

We are in no position to judge any individual accused by Miss Bentley, Mr. Chambers, Mr. Budenz or other ex-communist witnesses. However, without putting the finger on any individual we have no slightest doubt that their stories, overall, are truthful and correct.

There was a Soviet spy ring in Canada. It would be silly to imagine that there was none in this country. Over all, the Bentley-Chambers-Budenz story rings true. William Remington admits giving to Miss Bentley—assuming he was a reporter, but with unforgivable indiscretion—super-secret information about our atomic project. Silvermaster testifies that Presidential Aide Lauchlin Currie helped him stay in key security clearance on navy intelligence and the civil service had decided he was probably an OGPU agent.

This does not necessarily brand either Remington or Currie as a communist or as a Soviet agent. It leaves the possibility that they were merely naïve. In either case it demands thorough inquiry, followed by precautions to see that such persons are not given future opportunities to sell us out, deliberately or by stupidity.

It is important that every facet of the situation be explored. But the congressional committee method has become discredited. It publicizes the most serious charges before they are confirmed or disproved.

The accused, and some professional liberals, urge that the only alternative is criminal contempt and indictment and prosecution are justified nothing should be said or done. That is unthinkable to anybody familiar with legal quirks. The statute of limitations, rules against wire-tapped evidence, technicalities devised by criminal lawyers to keep their clients out of prison make it impossible to convict many of the guilty of the most nauseating crimes against humanity.

What, then, is the answer? Canada found one. When it found an espionage ring at work on the St. Lawrence, the Canadian government was appointed. It was not hampered by the apron strings of court procedure, and could go after the truth. But it worked in secret, so that no man or woman was branded until the commission was convinced of his or her guilt.

WELCOME TO OUR SIDE

It seems strange that it should be news that the Irish are taking sides in a lively brawl. Until the past war it would have been assumed the boys would be in there before the first brickbat hit its mark. But strange or not, it is good news that Foreign Minister Bean MacBride has declared Eire's attachment to western Europe if another war should come along.

Without the Irish, a fight is a phony. As individuals, they did their big part in the whipping of Hitler. This time, if there has to be another, they can do their fighting under their own flag.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—The tough language and the practical gangsterism of the Russians mark a change so dangerous that its suppression is thought upon as a matter of the possibility of war.

The court deliberately flouted its usual practice of that this law did not countenance racial attacks of such prisoners, as it certainly did not discriminate by other court is advantageous now. No matter what the "race" or "creed" of the parties involved, no plea of discrimination can prevail against that solemn judgment.

The Russian attitude and the official conduct of her generals, diplomats and spies have been considered more and more belittling ever since the Potsdam conference. We are now reduced to the status of a second class citizen, a Russian estimate. Her contempt is shown by the open defiance of our country and the frank threat to punish the United States because our congress has dared to investigate a protocol which precedes a breach of diplomatic relations and war. These relations were the Soviets would be better off and we would be worse off as diplomats.

They never spoke thus until they were ready to move into the phase of a protocol which precedes a breach of diplomatic relations and war. These relations were the Soviets would be better off and we would be worse off as diplomats.

They never spoke thus until they were ready to move into the phase of a protocol which precedes a breach of diplomatic relations and war. These relations were the Soviets would be better off and we would be worse off as diplomats.

MEANWHILE the development of political confusion and turbulence is proceeding through the agency of Henry Wallace's party. This, too, probably will produce street-fighting before election day. Such would be the result if the party observed them remotely when the communist minorities in European countries are being developed.

The FBI reported to President Truman years ago that the wife of an ex-convict who had served a term for kidnapping had been carrying packages from spies to the New York waterfront to Russian agents in North Africa.

The President of the United States is merely trying to cover up his guilt and the awful guilt of his people who prepared this disaster by patronizing and helping the treason and ridiculing and punishing in every way those who tried to dig up the evidence.

The fact that the grand jury didn't indict does not mean that it found no guilt. The grand jury was cheated by the evidence.

HELLS CANYON AGAIN

The army engineers still want to build Hells Canyon dam in the famous gorge of the Snake river between Idaho and Oregon. D. W. Weaver, chief engineer for the corps, listed this tremendous project with others on the agency's agenda for the future.

It is not to be built until a power survey is made. It is proper that all possibilities for its early relief should be studied. But the scope of Hells Canyon makes it unpractical to study. The dam would extend for 10 miles into the foreseeable future. If congress did the construction would extend over a 100-mile long dam.

Local educators, however, blame this condition on the college. They say that a prerequisite to admission, which provides no incentive for high school students to know any more about their country than self-confessed spy Bentley did.

INVESTIGATOR—It is doubtful if congress now has any authority to make an investigation of the nation's educational situation, although it might have the right if a federal aid-to-education measure is enacted at the next session. But there is a growing feeling among educational authorities that the Ferguson and Parrish Thomas committees, that a broad, careful and fact-finding survey might be worth more than a spate of anti-educational legislation.

POLITICAL STUFFING

A homesteaded political post came out of the sticks to deliver a campaign address in a certain southern city. He was strictly of the old school of "sound and fury" and he was strictly of the old school of "sound and fury." Classical literary allusions were his particular gentleman's weakness and poetry and polished prose questions pushed from his tongue and mobile mouth like creek water in a spring freshet.

School Panel Gives Leases, Sets Salaries

RUPTERT, Aug. 18—Rupert Grange has been given a 10-year lease on the former Bowen school building and land, and the Howell Grange will be given a lease of the former Empire school building, according to an announcement by the Rupert school board.

Arrangements for accepting the leases were made by Claude Bowman, chairman of the board, at a meeting held Monday evening. Don Dose, superintendent, was instructed to contact the Howell Grange to complete the lease arrangements for the Empire school building.

Phone Workers Meet Tonight To Talk Over Plan
BOISE, Aug. 18 (AP)—T. Alan White, president of the Boise local of 2,000 members of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America (U. B. C.), said telephone operators and outside plant men in this area will meet tonight in Denver to discuss "measures" in connection with wage talks with the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company.

White said "There is a possibility of an eventual strike, but I wouldn't say at this time that a strike is probable."

There are about 1,100 operators employed by the company in Idaho, of whom about 1,000 are CWA members.

There are an estimated 357 outside plant men in the state with about 300 belonging to the CWA.

NOT REPRESENTED
Duncan R. Munn, Twin Falls, state director of the organization, said that the Twin Falls local of the union would not be represented personally at the meeting.

"Region headquarters of the telephone company and for our union are in Denver," he said, pointing out that while Twin Falls workers would be affected by the talk they would merely follow the lead taken by the Denver office.

Greek Guerrillas' General Escapes
ATHENS, Aug. 18 (AP)—Greek military reports said today that only four guerrillas still are held by guerrillas in the Grammos mountain area, and the Athens afternoon newspaper Ekta claimed that Rebel Leader Gerasimos Vardaris has fled into Albania.

"There was no confirmation of the report that Marinos was killed, but it has appeared for several days that rebel resistance in the Grammos mountain area was collapsing."

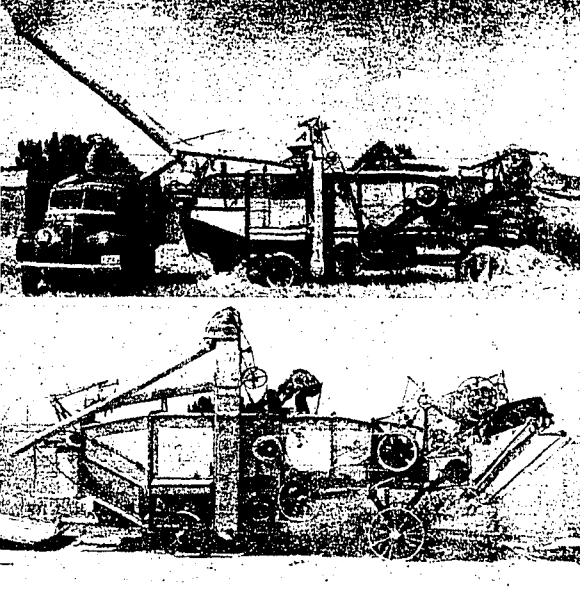

The Greek general staff reported that a fighter plane bearing the insignia of a red star within a green circle fired on Greek troops near the Bulgarian border. It was said that United Nations observers saw the incident. No further details were given.

Oldtimers Built to Last

Many persons have said things built before the war were made of sterner stuff. The two threshing machines pictured above were built before the war—before World War I—and they are still doing a good day's work. The machine in the top picture is owned by William Cox and son, Kimberly, on an acre, 27 acres of grain a day although it was constructed between 1910 and 1918. The rubber tires are a modification made by Cox and are not standard equipment. The machine below is owned by E. H. Dougherty, Twin Falls, and was manufactured in 1910 or 1911. It has been used as a bean huller for the past 23 years since Dougherty purchased it second hand. He stated parts were hard to get for the machine, with new wheels practically unobtainable. State's Legion Parley To End With Elections

COEUR D'ALENE, Aug. 18 (AP)—An election of officers and completion of unfinished business today will end the four-day Idaho American Legion convention.

Jack McQuade of Moscow, Idaho department vice commander, was favored to succeed Charles R. Howe of Donnelly as state commander.

Candidates for women's auxiliary officers were the only ones announced yesterday.

Mrs. Ruby Taylor and Mrs. Ellen Jordan, both Boise, were nominated for the presidency of the Idaho auxiliary.

Nominees for other open offices were Mrs. Dorothy George, Kellogg, for vice president; Mrs. Altha Schwartz, Nampa, for secretary; and Mrs. Geraldine McDonald, Lewiston, for historian.

Speakers yesterday included Sen. Henry Dworksh, R. Ida.; Rep. Abe Goff, R. Ida.; and Maj. Gen. Harry J. Collins, commander of the second infantry division.

The two Idaho congressmen addressed the group briefly and informally. Gen. Collins thanked the Legion for its stand on national defense issues.

The Legionnaires yesterday afternoon staged a mile-long parade termed "the most colorful ever held in the city" by spectators.

The parade included American Legion and auxiliary units from all parts of Idaho to nearly an hour to pass one point.

The procession was led by an Indian color guard from the Legion post at Plummer.

An army band from Fort Lewis, Wash., was the largest band in the parade furnishing music.

The parade was headed by a band from the Kellogg Legion post wearing miners' hats including miners' hats and head lamps.

Election Announced

Election of a one-year-term trustee for the county board of education will be held Sept. 14, the board decided at a Monday meeting. Chairman A. Kunkel said.

Trustees will have to select a person from the Bull-Castlerford area at the expiration of the one-year term of Fred Flusker, Castlerford, Kunkel said.

Real Siamese Parley to End With Elections

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18 (AP)—When is a Siamese cat not a Siamese cat?

Your five seconds are up. The answer: When its parents are alley cats.

That, definitely an alley cat, gave birth to five kittens. The father—well, er, he was only seen scaling the back fence in a hurry. But Rags kittens were Siamese because they were attached to each other by their abdomen.

When one of the kittens died, Rags' owners, Mr. and Mrs. William Robergh, turned the others over to the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

Weather Aids State's Crops During Week

BOISE, Aug. 18 (AP)—Idaho weather conditions during the past week have been generally favorable for development of growing crops and the grain harvest.

The Idaho weekly cooperative crop and weather summary said temperatures were below normal and rainfall was heavier in the southwest and south central portions of the state.

Harvesting of fall grains was being completed in the earlier sections and getting started in the later districts.

Grains maturing
The summary said spring grains were maturing in the higher and later sections. Harvesting was well along or nearing completion in most of the irrigated areas.

Late potatoes were developing well although some dying was reported in several eastern sections of the state.

Dry peas were maturing in the north and the east and harvesting was well along in the south central district.

Sugar beets and dry beans continued to develop well. The second cutting of hay was nearly completed in the southwest and south central parts of the state.

Ranges Are Dry
Ranges continued dry. High ranges still furnished good feed. Irrigated pastures were in good condition. Range livestock did well and there was considerable market movement of grass fat cattle and lambs. Milk production declined seasonally.

Early peaches were being harvested and will be on the market next week in south central Idaho.

Dillard May Be World's Best Sprinter

PARIS, Aug. 18 (AP)—Although he himself is not quite convinced, evidence was piled up on Harrison Dillard Tuesday that he is a greater sprinter than hurdler.

It's hard for the quiet-spoken 25-year-old hero from Baldwin Wallace college to accept the situation. He still wants to be a hurdler.

Even after he ran 250 meters around a turn in 20.8 seconds Monday—second fastest ever recorded—he insisted he would continue to concentrate on the high hurdles.

Dillard has run the 120 yard high hurdles in 13.8 seconds, a mark now far from unusual as a world record. He hadn't lost a race of any kind in more than 60 starts until he tried the sprints and hurdles on the same day in the national AAU meet last month.

Dillard's second in both events at Milwaukee, then went on to final Olympic trials where he got so tangled up in the hurdles that he got so muddled as to make the team in his specialty.

He finished third in the 100 meters in the sprints and hurdles on the trip to London. There he surprised the world by winning the Olympic hurdles in his specialty.

Paris newspapers showing Dillard coming off the last hurdle in that London race. After Dillard bettered the European record with his 22 second 200 meters Monday, head Coach Dean Cromwell of the U. S. Olympic team discussed hurdling form with the star.

Red Drive in Asia Pushed; Analyst Says

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Moscow is intensifying its drive to dominate southeastern Asia—that vast and strategic theater including Burma, the Malay Peninsula, and the Dutch East Indies which we have come to know as Indonesia.

This identification comes as the Bolshevik offensive in Europe has been allowed to a crawl by the vigorous resistance of the West. Bolstered by the Marshall plan, thus we can look on it in part as a matter of cause and effect. However, I believe we must attach more significance than that to the developments. For the signs seem to read that the weight of the communist world revolution will be shifted to the far east.

In short, the indications are that Asia may become the major battle ground between communism and democracy. Your fate and mine may be decided there.

The reds gave us a hot tip of the importance of this oriental offensive recently when it became known that an Asiatic communist had been called at Bangkok, Siam, and that it would direct operations in the far east. This eastern communist movement supplements the European organization that is generally regarded as having been created to take the place of the communists, or general staff for world revolution, which Moscow announced was dissolved in 1945—a gesture of "safety" to the western powers.

As might be expected, Indonesia is coming in for a particularly heavy assault by the Bolsheviks. In the midst of this confusion the Moscovites have launched a heavy offensive. The overall campaign is directed by the communists in Bangkok but a Moscow-trained javanese leadership is organizing youth in revolutionary methods. The red influence is increasing and Java is the center of communism.

WILLITS, Calif., Aug. 18 (AP)—Joe Harrah would like to get his hands on the man who stole his two locomotives.

Harrah had two small railroad engines used for roadwork logging at nearby Fort Bragg. Someone cut the locomotive into chunks with an oxyacetylene torch and carried them away, presumably for resale as scrap.

Ruth's Cancer Invaded Three Spots in Body

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—The cancer that killed Babe Ruth had spread to at least three areas in his body, Memorial hospital announced today.

The announcement officially giving cancer as the cause of Ruth's death was made after an autopsy. Prior to the autopsy it was not definitely known where the cancer finally started its deadly growth.

The autopsy showed, however, that the original cancer was in the naso-pharynx. The official announcement from the hospital said: "Babe Ruth died of cancer. The tumor began in the naso-pharynx, a part of the ear passages back of the nose, in a locality near the under surface of the skull which is inaccessible to surgery when invaded by cancer. From this point, the tumor had first grown out to press certain nerves which emerge from the brain, one of which partly supplies the motor function of the throat and larynx."

The statement confirmed earlier belief that the cancer started in the naso-pharynx. Such types of cancer are of common variety but are tough to control because of their tendency toward an early spread beyond the site of origin. Such spreading of the cancer is known as metastasis.

Before Ruth entered Memorial hospital on June 24, he had been treated with the new drug, rotoprin, a cousin of the folic acid which is a member of the B-complex family. The drug failed to stop Ruth's cancer.

Having become a patient at Memorial, Ruth had an aspiration biopsy. This is a procedure whereby a piece of tissue is removed by needle from a suspected area and the specimen then studied under the microscope.

Ruth was as "happy as a boy" at all times. Even when he was in pain, he managed to smile, his doctors said.

Memorial doctors never told Ruth he had cancer. He never asked and they never brought it up. However, he knew he was in a hospital that specializes in the treatment of cancer. He knew he was getting X-ray and radium treatments. So, probably the Bambino knew he was battling cancer—and death.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 18 (AP)—It is a bit crowded but Mrs. Anna Brandon, 63, of Ingram has set up housekeeping in the hallway of her home. A victim of her own generosity, Mrs. Brandon rented the first floor of the house in the better second floor tenants were going to move and that left Mrs. Brandon with nothing but the hall. She moved her bed to the attic.

But in the narrow hallway she set up her davenport, refrigerator, dresser and kitchen cupboard. She cooks her meals on a one-burner hotplate and eats off the top of a storage cabinet. She finally had her stove set up in the cellar because: "I missed my homemade bread."

Undulant Fever Increases Over 20-Year Period

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18 (AP)—Undulant fever now is 60 times as prevalent as it was 20 years ago when it first became a reportable disease. Dr. James H. Steele of Atlanta, chief veterinarian of the U. S. public health service, reported yesterday.

This disease now is one of the "big three" which affect both animal and man, Dr. Steele said in a paper prepared for delivery to the American Veterinary Medical association. The other two he named as sleeping sickness and rabies.

There were fewer than 100 cases of undulant fever reported in 1928. Last year more than 6,000 human cases were reported, he said.

Undulant fever, sometimes called brucellosis, Malta fever or milk fever, is caused by a microbe which is picked up by cows and other animals. It can be passed to humans in raw milk but the great percentage of human infections come from direct contact with animals, Dr. Steele said.

Dr. I. A. Merchant of Iowa State college said the veterinary profession could eradicate the disease.

Decree Stops 'Interference' In Water Use

HATLEY, Aug. 18.—Judge Doran Sutherland issued a temporary injunction Monday in district court restraining Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lawson from interfering with the delivery of water to land owned by Kenneth Beecher and William H. Uhrig, Jr.

Beecher and Uhrig are suing Lawson, Mans Coffin, district water-master, and Mark R. Kilp, state reclamation engineer. The plaintiffs claim Lawson interfered with their water delivery and damaged acres of grain and 120 acres of pasture to the extent of $1,000.

They are asking $1,000 payment for damages and an injunction issued against the defendants. The case will be tried at a later date. The plaintiffs also are asking $2,000 pending the outcome of the suit.

The plaintiffs told Judge Sutherland the case and the facts of the case west of Gannett and the Lawson land are both supplied with water from the same ditch, Uhrig and Beecher have used water from the unnamed ditch at the amount of 300 minutes in the year June 1, 1934. They have asked that a decree be issued to them for the use of water from that ditch.

Claims Explained According to the two men, they have always used two-thirds of the water in the canal, the fourth owners of the Lawson ranch only using one-third of the water up until the 1920s when the water was shut off. After that date Uhrig and Beecher have used all the water in the ditch, as Lawson's rights are only 1801 rights. This year the plaintiffs charge that Lawson has continued to use the water after his rights ended July 11.

Uhrig and Beecher are represented by Robert McPherson, Attorney Keenan, Robertson and Daly, Twin Falls, James, Shaw and James, Coalinga, are representing Lawson.

Remarkable Homing Instinct of Russian Pigeons

Henry impressed by hot tea, clothes as he lands in India

BY HENRY McLEMORE
NEW DELHI, India.—Ever since I got to India I have been walking around with my mouth open. Nothing I had ever read about it prepared me for the strange sights that greeted a visitor's eye on every side all the time.

We came in from the airport late at night and if you enjoy the sight of a man and wife jumping out of their skins simultaneously, you should have seen man and me when we drove up in front of the Imperial Hotel. When we stepped from the cab we were greeted by the doorman, a gigantic bearded Sikh wearing a cap and turban and a sword that was a good four feet long. Two Sikhs, equally fierce in appearance and equipped with numerous weapons, grabbed our luggage and took us to our rooms.

Accustomed to American bellhops, it was a startling sight to see these Sikhs turning down bedcovers, checking towels in the bathroom, turning on the overhead fans and blowing and fanning and smiling themselves out with goodnight to the shirt and the men-suit.

At 6 in the morning there was a pounding on our door and we were unwillingly served "chota hari," which is tea and nothing else. It was served by our beater who, we have come to learn, is our body servant. Night and day he squats outside our door, ready to do anything under the sun we ask him to do. He is barefooted, wears a turban and a tan uniform with a foot-wide belt around his waist.

There is a heater in front of every bedroom door, and when you walk down the corridor every one of them pops to the feet and salutes and salutes. With my army training, it is all that I can do to keep from saluting back. Several times I have

Third Party Platform Deludes Henry's Misguided Followers

PHILADELPHIA (NEA)—Anyone required to run up in one sentence, the Henry Wallace Progressive party convention could only throw up his hands in despair and say "the damnest thing that ever happened there hasn't been anything like it in American politics since 1936, when the Tompkins and Coughlinites met in Cleveland to express their fervent hopes for the future."

The Wallace party convention beat all that, with camp-meeting revival singing by Brooklyn hillbillies; with Wallace's fantastic press conference in which the working reporters kept their mouths shut and the bleeding heart crusaders took over and beat their breasts over the place; with the barter-party calling of vice-presidential candidate Glen Taylor and family; with finally the miracle of selling $20,000 worth of tickets for admission to Wallace's Saturday night acceptance speech, then passing the hat to collect $50,000 more.

Perhaps the most characteristic performance of the whole convention was a five-minute speech by one Frank Danowski, president of the Plymouth local of United Auto Workers, and secretary of the Polish-Americans for Wallace.

Danowski called America a complete failure, a fine minute of one-minute culture blended in one large hour. "There are strikers and strikers in the home," he said, "and the Hungry, the Spicks, the Guineas and the Gluks are looking down on by the rest of the family."

But, said Danowski, he was proud to be one of the men who would announce names who had built American's railroads, run its mills and his farms, built its heroes on Notre Dame football teams.

Danowski might also have mentioned other minority groups with unpleasant nicknames. They were all represented at Philadelphia. People newspapers used to avoid mentioning them by name, for fear of offending them; but now, in Henry Wallace's party, they have taken on political consciousness and they dare stand up and express themselves. Here were some of their words:

"I have seen hospital doors closed against my dying son," said Shirley Graham, Negro writer and mother. "Wallace is the only one of the three candidates who was ever a successful businessman," said Miles Pennycuik, Newark, Conn., secretary of the New Council for American Business.

"I am a mother, a housewife, and a very angry woman," said Miss Katherine Van Oyen of New Jersey, complaining of high prices. "We are tired of Klansmen who ride in the night. As for protecting southern womanhood, we will protect ourselves," said Polly Dobbs, white and from Alabama.

These are the things that the leaders of the two old parties should hear and do something about. As for what the leaders of the new party are going to do about them, there is some room for doubt. They bragged that their new party convention had no more extreme radical ward-hired politicians on the floor, no G. K.

All such talk is the same old political baloney. There never was a political convention in which the program was so stage-managed, the candidates so hand-picked, the platform so dictated by special interests. In summary, the poor, unrepresentative Americans who usually take something of a beating in climbing up the ladder, may have been given a bill of goods by the leading elements of the new party and it may be that they are merely being used to promote what the American capitalists are most interested in—the Russian foreign policy line.

Proof of this shows up in the Progressive party platform. The first section of this platform deals with American progress, abolition of the Marshall plan, a complete surrender to the foreign policy objectives of Soviet Russia. The few old-time liberals like Rex Tugwell, Scott Buchanan of St. John's Frederick L. Buchanan of Williams and others who tried to write a more balanced foreign policy plank were beaten down in the platform committee of 74 by superior numbers of extreme left-wingers.

As for the domestic policy plank dealing with "freedom" and "abundance," they merely promise everything to everybody and never mind the cost. It is just another political document not worth the paper it is written on. It is a delusion and a snare in which the poor misguided followers of Henry Wallace are being taken for a ride by promises which can never be fulfilled this side of paradise.

Harry Ready To Try Pulse Of Whole U.S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (UP)—Harry Truman today takes to the road next week on a political mission.

Our Harry doesn't want to be dog-chaser. He just wants to keep on being plain old Harry Truman, master barber and feeler of the public pulse in election years.

He is a grayish, balding man who wears a snappy suit and a snappy hairline mustache. He calls his hair "the barber's pull." He has no axe to grind, he says, and foots all the bills for printing and traveling habits to other barbers. In short, it's his hobby.

Prediction Correct

He started back in 1928 and correctly predicted Herbert Hoover would lick Al Smith, in 1932 he was correct in the Roosevelt-Hoover contest, in 1936 when Al Landon ran against FDR, Harry allowed that Landon would get the nod in Maine, and as Maine went so would go Vermont, London, you'll recall, carried those two out of the 48 States. In 1940 Barber Truman's straw ballots said Roosevelt would defeat Wendell Willkie. He was right in 1944, too—Hoover over Tom Dewey.

Harry Rich began by asking customers to drop a ballot in a box on their way out of his Washington shop. The word got around, and this day he expects reports on similar ballots from 400 other barbers around the country.

Demand Greater

Demand for barber poll ballots is 100,000 greater than in 1944. If Harry doesn't miss his guess, and he seldom does, the total will be 700,000. The ballot is a simple little thing with the names Truman, Dewey and Wallace printed in bold type and a space at the bottom for writing votes. Harry collects about 1,500 ballots in his Washington shop alone. The others come in by small-collect.

Cost High

This year, he figures, his hobby will cost him $100, maybe more. Plus all the work he and his wife, Irl, and several girls do.

Harry is packing his bags for a little personal soliciting to shoot up his total. He plans to visit barbers in eight New England states. When he gets back in a couple of three weeks he'll be ready to fill the curbin on his first pre-election prediction.

Can't Lose This Time

"I can't lose this time, either," says Harry. "The way I look at it, every guy gets a haircut once in a while. It doesn't cost him anything to drop a ballot in the box of his barber shop. The man influences the voting of their women folk. And those who are—you get a good education. How can that guess wrong after I count the ballots?"

Harry thinks he's smart to concentrate on doubtful states. He sends his ballots to those areas in larger bundles than to other places.

His only gripe is that about 10 per cent of his customers refuse to give a reason—to cast a straw vote. He could just make 25 to 30 per cent, he says, maybe he could save the government a lot of election expense.

VISITS FATHER IN ACQUA ACQUA

ACQUA, Aug. 18.—Mrs. Harry Ship and son, Stephen, Eugene, Ore. are here visiting her father, Bert Stevenson, and other relatives.

RETURNS FROM OLAHIE

HEYBURN, Aug. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Connor and children returned recently from a visit with his parents in Olathe, Colo.

Shirley's Tinge, one of the world's greatest forest fires, extends about 4,000 miles in length and from 1,000 to 2,000 miles in width.

She's Walking for First Time

This picture records the biggest thrill in the life of 8-year-old Patricia Janelle, of Christopher, Ill. She's walking for the first time. Born with spastic knees, she was a hopeless cripple until five months ago, when operations were performed at Chicago's Illinois Research hospital. Her happiness is mirrored in her face as she walks toward her father, August. Nurse Shirley Stevenson and her mother encourage her.

1948 Cars Are No Match for Road in Ozarks, Scribe Says

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—What this country needs is an automobile that will grow old usefully.

Look at these sleek, flat-bottomed cars coming out now and you'll see what I mean.

The cars of tomorrow, eh? Well, how will they look the day after tomorrow? How will they look—ac—15, 20 or 25 years from today?

If I think I know the answers to these questions, for I have just completed a three-week vacation in my native Ozarks. Now that I have my shoes back on, I can carry this message to the carmakers of America:

Gentlemen, the Ozarks are not pleased.

My authority for this statement is Bert Bush of Cheryvale, Kans. You will understand why he is an authority when I tell you what he did for a living.

He sold hand washing machines. Hand washing machines? "Sure," said Bush, "you know the kind you wash back any—both by hand, too. I had the whole state of Arkansas for my territory. At one time I had 50 salaried working for me. A mighty big business, too."

"These new cars," scoffed Bush, "are strictly highway jobs. What can they do on an Ozark road?"

That's a good question, but a hard one to answer. A lot of other sections of the country that are off the beaten path must be asking the same question, too.

For the old-fashioned car was a girl who didn't mind showing her knees, or more so. She could wade water almost up to her middle, and she thought nothing of straddling stumps and rocks.

But these cars of today with their high-falootin' airs! They're wads they'd hang up on the sides of many a country road. They're so low they'd scrape bottom on a rock no bigger than a milk crock.

Okay. Their speedometers hint they can do 100 or better. But how will they do in gumbo mud? Can you jack up the back, slip on a fly wheel, and saw wood? How are they at running down beetlers over plowed ground? Can you carry a sack of chicken feed on each of the front fenders? Frankly, carmakers of America, the folks down in the Ozarks think the answer to these questions is no. And that's why they're worried, mighty, mighty worried.

Utilities Firm Predicts Cut In Revenues

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Kinross W. Robinson, president of the Washington Water Power company, predicted Tuesday his firm would have a lower net income this year than last despite higher revenues.

Citing mounting operating costs as the reason for the slump, Robinson told the Securities and Exchange Commission the company's 1948-1950 net income will give a better picture of its earning potential than its 1948 figures.

Held Hearing

The commission is holding a hearing on dissolution of American Power and Light company, of which Washington Water Power is a subsidiary.

Robinson's testimony was offered as an explanation of why his company would have less money available this year for common stock under the dissolution. He also explained Washington Water Power's present financial program.

The utilities executive earlier told the commission $720,150 in surplus power would be purchased from the Montana Power company, by Washington Water Power and other companies during 1948 to combat the shortage in the Spokane area.

Can Handle More Power

Asked if additional purchases from Montana Power would have reduced the price per kilowatt hour, Robinson said he believed it impossible to handle more power from this source because of lack of transmission facilities and an agreement between Washington Water Power and Bonneville Power administration.

Under that agreement, Washington Water Power must buy energy from Bonneville during slack periods before turning to other sources. Bonneville, in turn, supplies the Washington company with power during periods of high demand.

Car Builders Predict Rise In Unit Price

DETROIT, Aug. 18 (AP)—Still more new car price increases are coming in the next few weeks. Even the manufacturers who already have made two increases in recent weeks—Ford and Chrysler—are giving no assurance the latest price tags will hold for the remainder of the year. An auto industry analysis expects a second hike by General Motors before all its new models are introduced.

The trade experts point out that GM production costs will take another jump next month when some 275,000 workers receive wage advances under the "sliding scale" agreement that was designed to reduce worker earnings to the cost of living. There is some speculation concerning Kaiser-Frazer corporation's pricing plans for the new models it will bring out next month, but none about the new Nash models due for public introduction in October. Nash long ago indicated higher price tags would go on the 1949 models that was even before Chrysler and Ford made their first price hikes.

Every time any car maker announces price advances predictions pop up in various industry sources that hundreds of thousands would-be new car buyers have been "priced out of the market."

Prices Rise Steadily
Prices have been going up steadily and the same predictions have been heard with each price rise but so far the industry doesn't seem to have lost any of its market. It has been said in some quarters that the car industry's profits shown in earnings statements for the first six months of 1948 do not justify more price advances at this time. It is true, however, that the car makers are putting a large part of their earnings back into their operations.

New Models Cost
The biggest part of the reason, given to pay for the new model re-tooling, the cost of which has soared faster than have new car prices. Additional money into the maintenance of costly engineering designs.

Trade circles hear an unconfirmed report that one car model under production is undecided whether to bring it out around the year's end or indefinitely postpone the switch-over. It reportedly is considering the fact that without changing a line of its present styling it can sell all the cars it will be able to make for 18 months. Moreover, a model change will involve a heavy production loss.

Fred B. Grewal, city and county chemist here and chief chemist at the San Bernardino army air depot during the war, confirmed Marshall's find.

The atomic energy commission has already been notified, he said. With the prospect of a $100,000 bonus which the government offers for discoverers reaching its specifications, Marshall is happy but not excited.

Yes, weather continuing for more than three weeks spoiled much of the hay crop in this area which farmers tried to field cure, but it failed to hamper those with hay finishers.

The hay finisher is nothing more mysterious than an electrically driven fan which drives large quantities of air through hay on the hay mow floor, enabling it to be cured regardless of the weather.

Ducks built along the hay mow floor carry the air through the hay, not only drying it when it would be impossible to dry it on the field, but preserving food values that would be lost even under good field conditions. The U. S. department of agriculture estimates that more protein is lost annually through improper curing of hay than is required to feed 1,000,000 head of stock.

It is estimated that electric hay drying devices additional values of as much as $5 to $10 a ton over field curing because of retaining greater feeding qualities at a cost of about $1 a ton for power service.

Now farmers are finding also that the hay finisher fan can do many more jobs for them, such as drying grain in sheaves, bags and bins. Some have found it to be cheaper to dry extra corn on the hay finisher ducts than to build cribs.

Another type of fan is being used to ventilate barns for cow comfort has been found to be an important item in milk production. And that radio you see in the dairy barn isn't there for the farmer—it's there for cow contentment.

Pennsylvania Village Faces Tax Free Era

PERRYPOLE, Pa., Aug. 18 (AP)—The western Pennsylvania mining hamlet, where George Washington once built a flour mill, today tried to adjust itself to the idea of having millions of dollars.

The town inherited the money from Mrs. Harry Fuller Frazier, a wealthy Philadelphia woman.

Exactly how much money was not known, but estimates ranged from five to 10 million dollars.

Died In New York

Mrs. Frazier died in a New York hospital Aug. 6. Her will, filed for probate in Philadelphia, disclosed she had left her $10 million of her estate to this village named for Commodore Perry.

Residents of the little town of 1,300, mostly miners, retired farmers and businessmen, took the news of the windfall in stride.

One enthusiastic response came from Mechanic William Little, who exclaimed:

Mrs. Frazier was buried last Tuesday in the 50-year-old Fuller family mausoleum at the top of the hill in Washington cemetery. It was the first time she'd been home in 30 years.

She Trust Fund

Her will set a $100,000 trust fund to provide a 24-hour watchman and maintain upkeep for the family mausoleum.

The rest of the estate was left for public improvement. She explained in her will that Perryopolis was the place where "I was born and lived, where my father and mother lived, and where my grandmother and grandfather lived."

Mrs. Frazier inherited $1,300,102 in personal property and a large share of $7,000,000 in real estate from her uncle Alfred M. Fuller, who died in 1918.

Inherits Million

She inherited an additional million dollars from a cousin, Alice Fuller, who died in 1934.

Michael Karolik, grocer, theater operator and fire department chief in this unincorporated town, said the money will be used to have street lights installed, the streets paved, public schools repaired, library built and the Perryopolis township high school equipped with a stadium. The town now boasts only one lamp post in the middle of the public square.

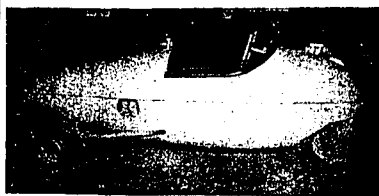

Banker Howard Adams said: "You might say we'll have a kind of taxpayer's paradise."

Mrs. Frazier was the divorced wife of Johnson Miller Frazier, one-time manager of Philadelphia's Bellevue-Stratford hotel.

Gas Tank Within a Gas Tank

Duane Hodge found a new use for expanded droppable gas tanks. He merely put another gas tank, smaller, and a motor vehicle, and wheels and steering apparatus on the outside. Presto change, this small "man from mars" driving vehicle. (Staff photo-engraving)

This Local Man Finds Method To Beat High Used Car Price

By GEORGE LIKENESS

If Junior starts asking for his own vehicle at an early age, don't feel you have to run out and buy him a new Holt-Royce. There's a much better solution, as demonstrated by Duane Hodge.

Hodge, who spends his working hours at the Orpheum theater, has his own car. He's a car buff, and he has his son a motor vehicle which is neither expensive by present day terms nor likely to become involved in any speeding accidents.

The auto is about the size of those cars that can be seen in a carnival's "hodge 'em" equipment. The body is composed of a droppable gas tank Hodge picked up at a war surplus store. With a little cutting here and there for partitions and a grooving for the driver's seat, it looks like a racer.

Hodge put a small motor in the rear first, attaching it by a chain to the right rear wheel. This has proved impractical, however, and he's now replacing it with a larger motor, capable of carrying a heavier load.

The car will never pick up more than 15 miles an hour speed, but the miles it gets to a gallon are a big consolation—the annual motor races around something like 50.

The car will turn easily, having only one front wheel, but there is little danger of it capsizing. Hodge has been working on it almost a year.

"But I'm on vacation now," he said. "And I figure if I'm going to get it finished before the kid out-grows it, I'd better get it finished while I've got a little time."

He's moved it to the Chaney garage. He had been building it at home, but this offered two serious drawbacks, not enough equipment and the danger of being descended upon by a horde of neighbor children, eager to watch the work.

He hopes to have it finished when he returns to work next week, so this new shiny auto, yellow with red trimmings, will probably be zooming—well, moving—down Main street next week.

World war II radar technique is used to "broadcast" ultra-short-wave electrical impulses to the rodents with miniature crystal rectifiers developed by the armed forces, according to Dr. Joseph A. Gengerelli, associate professor of psychology.

Receive Warning

The rats scamper about the coffee-shaped metal pen across which radar signals play. As they try to solve a maze-running problem or a find-the-food test, they are directed by electrical impulses which flash warning when they take a wrong turn.

Meanwhile other rats carry on unaided by radio. Investigators will note what difference, if any, occurs in their behavior.

Will Give Clues

Experiments with various intensities and locations of the shocks will give clues to learning speed, memory, irritability and other traits. Eventually this knowledge may lead to better understanding of human behavior, Gengerelli said.

Experiments have indicated that the rats suffer no ill effects from the radio, which they wear only during "working hours." The equipment consists of a crystal rectifier less than an inch long to convert alternating to direct current, a silver wire electrode, a silver foil and a tiny "pole" antenna.

Big Bean

That long, thin thing William H. Timman is holding against the yardstick is a bean—3 1/2 inches long, to be exact. Timman, an Ardmore, Md., salesman, says it just grew that way. Must contain vitamins.

Milady's Coat Assumes More Useful Mien

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—By adding subtracting and zipping a zipper, Sam Stein has turned a fur coat into three wraps which can be worn ten months of the year.

Stein, a Chicago furrier, sees his design as an answer to the husband whose budget winces when the wife wants a new coat each season.

The coat, termed "the three season fur ensemble," consists first of a fur coat. When the weather turns warmer, of comes the skirt—leaving a versatile jacket.

For the in-between season, Stein adds a colored wool skirt trimmed with fur. This zips onto the jacket and creates the third ensemble. Stein said "I'm working on the knowledge that a fur coat never wears out. It is discarded or modeled because the woman is tired of wearing it year after year. This way she won't get tired as soon."

And when she does, she can order still another wool skirt in any color of her choice.

The furrier sees his idea as a boon to week-end travelers. Now a woman can carry not only three changes of dresses, but also the same number of coats, with very few extra bulges in her suitcase.
