West's States Pay More for Age Pensions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (UP)—Nearly three-fourths of the states paying the highest old-age benefits in the country are western states.

There are 13 states that, with varying degrees of help from the federal government, pay senior citizens more than $40 a month.

The list, compiled by the President's advisory council on social security, is topped by Colorado where persons over 65 collected $44.72 a month in 1947.

The next group—Wyoming, Arizona, Nevada and New York—paid more than $40 a month.

Dependent Payments
The 1947 shift in payments for aid to dependent children, in that class of aid, the federal government's contribution is less than for old-age assistance.

Traffic Fines Situation Serious On Volcanic Isle

MANILA, Sept. 6 (UP)—The situation remains serious on the volcanic island in the southern Philippines, where volcanic Mt. Hibok-Hibok erupted for the first time in 77 years.

Five men have been killed by an avalanche of ashes and lava, officials reported last night.

The five were buried in the village of Esperanza and Abu, nearly two miles from the foot of the belching volcano.

"DROP APPARENTLY DEAD"

The long and generally pleasant relationship between George Bernard Shaw and some of his American admirers is in danger. For the distinguished Irish playwright has come out in favor of liver injections, Henry A. Wallace and five o'clock shadow.

The first of these has got him in Dutch with the Vegetarian party, just when it's trying to get its first presidential candidate into the White House. The second has led the Democratic and Republican parties, who also have candidates in the field. And the third has not endeared him to the razor people who sent the bearded Celt a sample of their product and received, with its refusal, some scathing comments on the utter senselessness of shaving.

We should hate to see anything drastic happen. Thousands of Americans have enjoyed Mr. Shaw's books. Hundreds of thousands have been delighted by the movies made from them. The pleasure was mutual, since all this brought the author a lot of American dollars. And few men of his artistic distinction have ever owned up to a more unabashed fondness for folding money.

His three new endorsements are further examples of Mr. Shaw's famous nonconformity and perverseness. Those qualities even show up in his brief encounter with the liver injections. He wrote the vegetarians' candidate for vice president that he tried some injections 10 years ago to cure an attack of pernicious anemia. "Result—I dropped apparently dead twice," he reports, "and have not since had any injections."

Yet Mr. Shaw hedges enough in this vegetarian message to suggest that, at 92, he is beginning to get a little shaky and that there can be other ways of thinking and doing besides his own. He confesses that he is still a practicing vegetarian. But he doesn't claim exceptionally good health, nor credit his long life to his diet. His forebears were meat eaters, he says, and they lived a long time.

As a practicing socialist, perhaps Mr. Shaw could be as reasonable about Mr. Wallace as about vegetarianism and admit, after some reflection, that there is another side to the matter.

Mr. Wallace prescribes a diet of appeasement abroad and mild socialism at home. Yet Mr. Shaw can look at Czechoslovakia which partook of the first, and at his fellow Britons, who are munching on the second, and find that the diet does not promise exceptional health.

The country of Mr. Wallace's forebears eats the red meat of independence and capitalism. Yet Mr. Shaw must admit that it has lived a good long time and that the prospect for its continued existence are excellent. He should also consider the possibility that Mr. Wallace's remedy might work on America's life the way Mr. Shaw's liver injections worked on his.

Mr. Wallace has diagnosed our case as pernicious war-mongering complicated by Wall Street. But there is always the possibility of a treatment of appeasement and socialism, especially if Mr. Wallace's leftist assistants administer it, might cause America to "drop apparently dead." Left alone, it seems certain that, like Mr. Shaw, we will survive the his that Mr. Wallace says are killing us.

ABOUT DOMESTIC AFFAIRS

The other day we suggested several questions which might be asked our candidates who are seeking seats in congress. It was our thought that these questions might give us a better understanding of foreign affairs and how Idaho's aspirants fare for a prize in Washington stand on the principal issues abroad.

Now it might be a good idea to suggest a few questions having to do with domestic affairs. We could ask the boys for their views on the following issues:

- 1. Do you favor a return to selective rationing and price controls, as recommended by President Truman?
2. Do you favor the public housing provisions of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner act?
3. Do you favor termination or gradual reduction of the amount of parity payments now made to farmers by the federal government?
4. Do you favor President Truman's civil rights program, especially the proposal to eliminate all forms of segregation?
5. Do you favor statutory reestablishment of a fair employment practices committee?
6. Do you favor national-wide development of public power projects like TVA, with authority to build stream plans to supplement supplies of hydro-electricity?
7. Do your way of thinking, are all good questions, to which all of us should be giving serious thought. As we suggested in connection with our foreign affairs questions, these offer good topics for discussion by our readers in the Times-News public forum department.

It's a lot easier to have harmony in the home when someone is willing to play second fiddle.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL POT SHOTS

Washington—The question of the importance of federal farm subsidies (parity payments) as a condition of the war, in the opinion of a committee as lively a front-page story as the prospect of shooting war with Russia, as revealed by the flood of news items that have been appearing in this week's question-and-answer column.

They substantiate the recent report of President Truman by the astute Leslie Hille, the winning political reporter for the White House. Aduardo Quirino Hille informed his boss the two main issues on the politician's mind, regardless of the politician's own belief or suspicion, were high prices and the lack of food.

The committee public in the cities generally blames part of their price increase on three support payments from the federal treasury. It is the price of wheat, corn and soybeans during the period of strikes in key industries.

DEFENSE—Therefore, the writer is happy to publish one of the soundest and most responsible of these "handouts," as city folk refer to them, he has.

It comes from A. C. of Aca, O. After blowing a fuse on the following: "You say that the farmers' produce have outstripped all other fields in price advances. Incidentally, it is the wheat crop that has increased the most and the increased cost of food."
"Did you know, you say that the price of wheat has dropped to $2.25 a bushel. Our elevator has paid from $1.75 to a top of $2.12 per bushel. I have a bushel of wheat in the form of breakfast food, which formerly cost me 10 cents now costs 30 cents for 12 ounces."
"Did you know, you say that the price of wheat has dropped to $2.25 a bushel. In the form of potato chips, I pay the equivalent of 10 cents for a bushel, or the equivalent of more than $50 a bushel."

COST—"Not long ago," continues D. A. G., "I was forced to replace a maul on a small contract engine. In 1920 this would have cost me $12. At the present time it costs me $60. All repairs or parts are on about the same scale."
"I sold my wool for from 40 to 60 cents a pound this spring. My son bought a two-piece suit which cost $100. He paid me $40. Do you think I received too much for my wool?"
"Can't get me wrong. I am not in favor of the laborer's union. But so long as labor has unemployment insurance, social security, minimum wages etc., and these things all contribute to the welfare of the farmer is entitled to some consideration."

BENEFIT—L. B. of Holland, Mich. asks whether the government pay subsidies at the present time, adding that "the farmers claim they do not receive them."
"Did you know, you say that the price of wheat has dropped to $2.25 a bushel. In the form of potato chips, I pay the equivalent of 10 cents for a bushel, or the equivalent of more than $50 a bushel."

Few small farmers receive substantial soil conservation payments. First, they own such comparatively small tracts of land that they are not eligible for conservation practices that merit a federal grant. Many of them also prefer to dispose of their property in the commercial market. But in these sales they benefit from the fact that federal subsidies and loans keep up the price of their products.

SPARKS—W. J. D. of Wichita, Kans., and T. M. H. of Sparks, N. D., question my recent statement that the Chinese are "conquering" the world, and "draw their basic philosophy from the Kremlin."

Answer: I recognize that many communist leaders in China are sincere agrarians seeking more equitable disposition of land, taxes, wages and profits, etc. They are disciples of Sun Yat-sen and believe that Chiang Kai-shek is a corrupt, dictatorial politician seeking his own advancement rather than the benefit of his people.
But such authorities as Pearl Buck, William C. Bullitt and diplomatic experts whom I trust insist that the Chinese are not interested in a democratic government are military and political leaders trained and advised by Moscow. For the moment, Stalin prefers to let the communists do the dirty work in China, and that the rebellion against Kai-shek is a home-grown affair. That is smart politics on his part.

WARNING—In view of communist inroads in northern Korea, Japan and even in India, it seems to me an extrich-like delusion to believe that the Kremlin will have a devil's dinner with us. We must have respect to this continent of 400,000,000 people, whose misery and discontent make them so susceptible to the "Red" and "Black" propaganda.
Incidentally, there are diplomatic warnings that China will blow up about Oct. 10, the anniversary of the Chinese revolution. The military aid of Kai-shek's military aids taking the field against him.

DOUBLE-CROSSER—L. S. D. of Bergant Bluff, Ia., disagrees with the writer's recent statement that "Hitler and Hess knew in May of 1941 that Stalin was not delivering to Hitler the oil, wheat and ores he had promised under their August, 1939, agreement. Stalin simply proved to be the smarter double-crosser."

VIEWS OF OTHERS

"SAFETY THROUGH COURTESY"
You wouldn't rely on another guy to tip your hat when you meet a lady. Neither can you build a reputation as a considerate driver on some one else's courtesy!

"That is the statement of George Vaughn, Idaho state director on the September 1st 'Safety through courtesy' campaign.
'Make courtesy characteristic your driving—then you will have the respect and your popularity grow,' declared Mr. Vaughn. 'Every motorist and every pedestrian should keep constantly in mind that courtesy is the only way to save lives. You never heard of anyone apologizing for being courteous, but you can be sure that many a driver is sorry for his recklessness.'
Courtesy tips for drivers:
(1) Use hand signals to inform other motorists of your intention.
(2) Know the lane you should be in, then stay in that lane. Don't take your eye half of the road out of you.
(3) Recognize a situation where others have the right-of-way, and yield to them.
(4) Give pedestrians a break. They can't walk or run.
(5) Give your horn a rest.
(6) Use your horn to warn, not to bully.
(7) Dim lights for the driver ahead at night.
(8) Remember that the other fellow may be in a hurry, too—so act like a T.R.B.M.

POT SHOTS

EARLY CHRISTMAS
Mrs. Don (Dorothy) the gal at the Chamber of Commerce office, was talking to I. T. (Irene) Greed who had been called around to vegetables and fruits.

They thought the idea that Soviet Russia has this country by the throat; that the nation is in deadly peril from a conspiracy into which many Americans have entered.

OUR BULLETIN BOARD
Adrian Allen, Jerome—Thanks for the contribution, but we try to clear of just any unjust or short and snappy headlines, accurate and other such items from his farm.

TELEPHONE JACKPOT
We think the following item is from the Portland Oregonian. Anybody contains in it a corn, 'Behind the Mask' by William Moyce. Across the clipping on which it appears is this notation: 'This article appeared at the Pacific Trailway station.'

That's all we know about the origin of the clipping because we found it while cleaning up the debris which accumulated during our vacation.
"Joe Thomson, Oregon journalist, back from vacation at Twin Falls, had heard a lot about head hunters. He arrives phone booth, deposits nickel and is waiting for answer. He says the phone booth attendant has a dollar in his pocket. 'My gawd!' he mutters, 'been here five minutes and already hit the jackpot!'"

"After finishing call, he asks clerk behind counter how come. Clerk says he suggested in conversation, Joe Thomson, 'Three years?' 'Yes, sir,' replies one. 'And 'been watching you for three years?' 'No, sir,' says the man. 'It's my wife. Nobody but her can do all that talking!'"

QUARANTINE SUGGESTED
Dear Pot Shots:
We have quarantine lanes against hoof and mouth disease—why can't this also apply to the (name deleted) party?
Mao

DANGEROUS BUSINESS
Dear Pot Shots:
"Two cents was chattering the other day before one of them let on a little jaw. Finally, one wiped the sweat off his forehead and said to his hand and said, 'Well, be seeing you.' The little woman is waiting."
"Did you know, you say that the price of wheat has dropped to $2.25 a bushel. In the form of potato chips, I pay the equivalent of 10 cents for a bushel, or the equivalent of more than $50 a bushel."

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS

DENVER—Driving through the west you get a powerful impression of peace and at play, in spite of the ordeal of the war, in and out of the post-war overworlding, you have the impression of a nation moving forward with vigor and confidence.

Then you read the headlines, you see the news on the radio, you see the news on the newspaper. They convey the idea that Soviet Russia has this country by the throat; that the nation is in deadly peril from a conspiracy into which many Americans have entered.

That idea is, in my opinion, false. To spread such an idea is to do a disservice to the country. It is to spread fear and doubt beyond any jurisdiction.

The moving spirits of the house un-American activities committee seem to have brought their behavior reflects on the country.

They behave as though Americans might actually be persecuted in large numbers that Russian communism has a superior to the American system.

I believe if Chairman J. Parnell Thomas and the other men who seem so frightened would get into the country, away from the intellectual atmosphere of Washington, they would recognize that they would see America in the full light of road building, of home building, of work of play.

Certainly, what has been unfolded so far does not justify this fright. Excuse me, but I have brought up a childish love of conspiracy here some mysterious and conspiratorial. Apparently this has satisfied some impulse that the ordinary person does not feel.

But if you have given information of any value to the Soviet Union or if they have succeeded in undermining the faith of any substantial number of Americans, then the papers that I have seen have not printed it. It has been on the level of suggestion, accusation, rumor and hearsay.

Part of the harm it does, in my opinion, is to undermine belief in the basic American freedoms. When a man can be accused of disloyal action on the statement of a single individual, apparently no substantial proof, and on charges proclaimed sensationally in the world, then we are jeopardizing the freedom of contract on which the American system rests.

It is not meant by this to doubt that Soviet Russia has an espionage network in this country. But the way to uncover that network is not by sensational hearings that produce sensational headlines and charges and countercharges.

There is an agency authorized by law to protect the country from treason and sabotage. That agency is the federal bureau of investigation under J. Edgar Hoover. Until these lurid so-called hearings begin, the only real "investigation" is being made by the federal bureau. The FBI has been on the job.

A Russian espionage network in Canada was uncovered that had drawn some Canadian citizens into the net just as some American citizens may have been perverted by communism on the agency of communication. Canada demonstrated another way to combat the threat to national security represented by the communists say in Ottawa.

A royal commission was appointed. The responsible and respected citizens of the country, it is a long, painstaking inquiry in secret. The commission published a long, careful report and where evidence justified it, individuals were prosecuted. The names of those not guilty were not disclosed.

If the FBI needs greater powers, then it should be given greater powers and a fellow who works on the street to make sure that people are thoroughly and with documentation rather than with movie cameras and headlines.

I believe a healthy thing would be to get Chairman Thomas and his fellows out into the country. They are always busy, but they could not long cling to the illusion that seems to motivate their fear. Let the Americans all to fall for communism.

Mrs. Copenbarger Claimed by Death

BOB HOPE

Now you can look down on the world through a 42 window. There is an airline here in Hollywood that does nothing but transport people 100 miles to the Del Mar.

The smooth thing down gives the pilots something to do. It reminds about as they walk back. There wouldn't say there are a lot of gamblers aboard, but it's the only plane I've ever seen where the stewardess wears a green eyeshade.

In case the plane is late for the first race, they have a consolation award—always gives the passengers the feeling that they are at the track. You put your money into a slot that empties into the clouds.

Of course, the pilot on the plane is a bookie. I know. He was tracing the course on a scratch sheet. And he kept referring to the plane as "Flynn Busie Out of Lockheed by Glenn Martin."

And when this plane takes off, the hostess doesn't give out chewing gum to make the passengers feel better. She just looks at the list of names you picked, pats you on the back and says, "I bet on tom." And there's always a "out" on the plane. "Out!" that's a guy who picks your losers for you.

The "out" man is to work on the plane one day and get everybody gone. Instead of going to Del Mar, he's tucked him into bringing the plane down in an orange grove in Cucamonga.

Free Enterprise Menaces Institute, Leader Declares

NEW YORK, Sept. 8—The president of the American Institute of Accountants fears the American system of free enterprise is being menaced by the way corporations file how they make money.

He is George D. Bailey of a Detroit accounting firm, and he says the problem of the meaning and measurement of profits in the September issue of the Institute's business review. Even demand for government control could follow failure to solve the problem, he says.

It is not satisfactory either to the corporation or to the public, the corporation are trying to get better ways of telling about their business so that there will be a better understanding of corporate workings and a better understanding of corporate profits.

The public still finds the information inadequate and unconvincing—insufficient for its purpose. "This is not good; and if the condition is allowed to continue, it could constitute a serious threat to our American system of free enterprise."

Local Girl, G. McCoy Recite Wedding Vows

At a tearful service performed at 3:30 p. m. Sunday, Aug. 22, Irene Hochhalter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hochhalter, became the bride of Gene McCoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McCoy, Gooding.

Baskets of silver and white gift articles and flowers formed the background decorations. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a white satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, shirring on the bodice, and a full skirt. Her fingers were adorned with a large garnet blossom.

Her maid of honor, Mrs. Joan Humphreys, was carrying a bouquet of aster lilies with matching ribbon. Wildia Mae Matthews, wearing an aqua blue net and lace gown, was bridesmaid and carried a bouquet of asters tied with matching ribbon.

Maria Morgan, gowned in pink tulle and wearing a corsage of roses and gardenias, lighted the candles. Mervyn Humphreys served the bridegroom as best man, and Walter Rudolph, cousin of the bride, was officiant.

Soloist for the ceremony was Muriel Peggason, who sang "Beautiful Promises." For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hochhalter wore an aqua blue suit fashioned with a bustle back. The bride's mother wore a rose beige afternoon dress and both wore corsages of baby orchids and sweet-peas.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor with Mrs. McCoy as hostess. The guest book, Jeanne Hochhalter, sister of the bride, and Max Seifried served as bridesmaids. The bride and groom were accompanied by the bride's father, Mrs. McCoy, and the groom's father, Mrs. McCoy, and the groom's father, Mrs. McCoy.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor with Mrs. McCoy as hostess. The guest book, Jeanne Hochhalter, sister of the bride, and Max Seifried served as bridesmaids. The bride and groom were accompanied by the bride's father, Mrs. McCoy, and the groom's father, Mrs. McCoy.

Idaho's Aged Hills Contain Searce Cobalt

By JOHN FAHEY
SALMON, Sept. 6 (AP)—The weathered mountains of east central Idaho may contain enough native cobalt to break the African monopoly on this rare mineral in the United States.

A small crew of men is working toward commercial extraction of cobalt from the craggy hills near the Blackfoot district. Twice mined for precious metal and abandoned, now sold at county auction as grazing land, these decades ago.

Dr. John S. Vhay, of the U. S. Geological survey, found that the hills contain only a trace deposit of cobalt in this area, 100 miles from the nearest railroad.

Many times cobalt is used for magnets, alloys and pigments for lasting enamels like those on refrigerators. It is a silvery-white metallic element usually found in association in the ore state with such metals as iron, nickel, copper, silver and others.

The United States, traditionally the biggest cobalt market in the world, found military uses for the mineral during World War II, and last January Dr. Vhay and a research team across the nation. He tramped through every region in the United States where the government believed traces in Pennsylvania and Missouri being recovered by elaborate processes, but Idaho has the only sizable deposit discovered.

Wants' Wanted
Miners have known there is cobalt in Idaho for more than half a century. When the Brown River and Uncle Sam Mining companies were looking for gold and copper in the Blackfoot hills, they dumped cobalt in mountain streams because smelting companies, unable to extract cobalt profitably, patented the miners for the cobalt content of their ore.

Some years ago, Howard Sims, a former living near Salmon, bought much of the Blackfoot district at county auction of tax delinquent lands. He subsequently leased it to the Uncle Sam Mining company, which later sold the holdings to the Calera Mining company, a subsidiary of the Howe Sound company, which is behind present efforts to dig cobalt on a paying basis.

Plan New Mill
The Calera company plans to erect a concentrating mill and a town for its mill and mine workers at the site of their operation about 20 miles southwest of Salmon. They will truck the concentrate over mountain roads to the railroad at Mackay and ship it by rail to refinery, the site of which has not been determined. Property for the mining town has already been purchased by the company.

Capacity of the mill has not been finally determined, but mining officials in this area believe it will turn out upward of 2,000,000 pounds annually, about half the wartime yearly domestic consumption. Nearly all our wartime cobalt came from the Belgian Congo, today the world's major producer.

New Process Adopted
To separate cobalt from chalcopryite, the copper-sulfide in which the deposits occur most plentifully, the Calera company has adapted an electrolytic process pioneered by the Bureau of Mines.

The company also expects to regain a small amount of copper and gold from its cobalt-bearing ore.

Just exactly what it has in the Blackfoot district, the Howe Sound company has not revealed specifically. But Dr. Vhay, who inspected the area on foot shortly after the Bureau of Mines explored it with bulldozers and diamond drills, says: "It is believed a large tonnage of copper-cobalt ore exists in the district which should permit mining to be continued over a long period."

Rodeo Arena Set
By Blaine Riders
HAILEY, Sept. 6—Construction is under way on permanent rodeo facilities at the Halley ball park, according to Mrs. Elmer B. Gannett, secretary of the Wood River Rodeo club.

Most of the work on the rodeo grounds is being done by members of the riding club. Estimated cost of the work, in addition to labor by members, is $400 to $1,000.

Club members are trying to prepare the grounds for a show late in the season. If the show is held, the invitations will be sent to neighborhood clubs to join in the competition.

Attend Funeral
ALBION, Sept. 6—Relatives who attended funeral here for the late William McKinley, including Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Parsh, Burley; Mr. and Mrs. Seth Loveland, Rupert; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Mahoney, Salmon; Mr. and Mrs. C. Freeman Mahoney, May; Bert Mahoney and Pat Williams, Oro; and Mrs. Bert Mahoney, Coeur d'Alene; and Mrs. Lottie Batch and Eugene Britt, Oakley; and Mrs. Henry Powell, Twin Falls; Mrs. Clara Broadhead, Rupert; and Mr. and Mrs. Will Powell, Burley. Nineteen grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren also attended.

SON BORN
OAKLEY, Sept. 6—A son was born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Fairchild at the Oakley hospital.
