China City Is Lost to Red Units

NANKING, Nov. 22 (UP)—The nationalists are reported from Peiping today to have lost Paoing, capital of Hopoh province in north China, one of five in which martial law was declared to help counter a communist threat.

Other reports from Peiping said the nationalist force of communists had advanced 30 miles east of Peiping, the key national base in north China.

The defense ministry reported that the nationalist seventh army group was fighting westward from the Nienchung area 23 miles east of Szechow. The official report was interpreted to mean that the army group was trapped and trying to fight its way out of a communist encirclement.

Tight Encirclement A Government communique acknowledged the plight of the seventh army group under Gen. Huang Fugao, admitted that it was badly cut up. Nienchung, the focus point of the fighting on the east flank of Szechow in the great battle that raged around the gateway to Nanking for more than a week.

The communique reported that Huang's forces captured Nienchung last night—the first official admission that the town were in nationalist hands. The communique also stated that the communists had suffered a severe defeat around Nienchung and were in disorderly retreat to the north and east.

Blocks Broken In the push westward toward Szechow, the communists said, the nationalists broke through two lines of communist road blocks.

Father north, Gen. Fu Tsu-yi declared martial law in five provinces including Peiping and Tientsin. The action, similar to that taken in the Yangtze valley last week, was calculated to ward off a threatened attack from the communists.

Stretch Added To 'Reach' of USAF Planes WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—The air force is trying to stretch the reach of both the present workhorses of its fleet, the B-29 Superfortresses, and the giant new B-50.

This was disclosed in two developments today: 1. Word that fleets of flying "bombs" are planned for six of the groups of strategic bombers operated by the air force. These converted B-29s are to be refueled by the Superfortresses en route to their target.

2. That a B-36 with new engines of more power and presuming to have fuel economy to provide more speed and range.

High Hopes Held The air force has high hopes for the aerial refueling system. Air Secretary Stinson said a congressional committee last spring that such a system would be able to bomb any target from bases in Alaska or Labrador.

Techniques and equipment developed in air force experiments for fuel evaporation, he said, would be used. A year ago, he said, the air force was believed to have evolved a system of Superfortresses could be filled with 15 minutes water fueling along the course to a distant target.

Plans Revealed It was learned that the current plans contemplate equipping six groups of B-29s for aerial refueling. In addition, the groups will be expanded not only by adding the tanker B-29s, but by putting more combat bombers in each group.

The air force announced that single combat B-29s will be completed about mid-December.

Plans are being made that the Fort Worth, Tex., plant of Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corporation was a production model of the huge bomber.

Rep. Carl Vinson of Georgia Favored for Forrestal's Job

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (UP)—There is a joint enthusiasm among some important members of the House of Representatives to get Rep. Carl Vinson out of Congress and into the job of secretary of the navy.

Vinson is a Georgia veteran of 10 consecutive years of service. He was elected Nov. 2 to No. 19. His most distinguished service there has been as chairman of the House naval affairs committee before congressional reorganization established a navy, army and air force.

Despite Vinson's kinship with the navy, it is understood the air force and the army would welcome him.

Anti-Reds Hold At Parley

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 22 (UP)—The CIO convention opened today with the anti-communist right wing in full control. The delegates showed their feelings by cheering at the first mention of defeating communism.

This came during the reading of a message from the Catholic archbishop of Portland, Rev. Edward D. Howard. The archbishop urged the CIO to "show us how to make communism a thing of the past."

Marshall Is In U.S. for Policy Talk

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (UP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall returned home today by plane and was met personally by President Truman to begin momentous foreign policy discussions.

It was raining as the secretary's big plane touched down at National airport at 10:05 a.m. EST after a flight from Paris where he attended the United Nations general assembly meeting.

President Truman, who drove out to the airport to meet Marshall, was the first to greet the general.

Marshall said it would be "inappropriate" to say anything about United Nations affairs at this time. Then he added:

"I am tremendously grateful to the fact that the President came out to see me, particularly on a day like this."

As for the United Nations meeting, Marshall said, however, that he thought a great deal of understanding has resulted from what already has happened at the Paris meeting.

The President and his secretary of state were ready to plunge immediately into discussions of the Berlin blockade, and the urgent problem of what to do about China.

The President and Marshall scheduled to sit down for a conference at the White House. But even before they met, the President got a report from one of his advisers.

W. Averell Harriman, the roving ambassador for the European recovery program, informed the President that the "most influential" of the United States abroad had increased standing has resulted from what already has happened at the Paris meeting.

U.S., Britain Blamed For Palestine Chaos

PARIS, Nov. 22 (AP)—Dr. Oscar Lange, Polish delegate to the United Nations blamed the United States and Britain for Palestine's chaos and war.

"Defense of an old and now crumbling empire on the one hand, the expansionist drive toward the establishment of a new empire on the other, are responsible for the present situation in Palestine," the Soviet bloc delegate told the 68-nation political committee.

Semen K. Tsarapkin of Russia said the Soviet union regarded the proposals made by Count Folke Bernadotte, the assassinated mediator, "as proposals prepared in the British foreign office."

He said giving Arab Palestine to Trans-Jordan would continue a Jewish-colonial territory under the domination of British and American oil interests.

Arab Assaults "Pillar" The committee also heard Haim Cattan of the Arab Higher Committee assert that Arabs in Palestine were "murdered and driven from their homes, their villages pillaged, and their churches desecrated."

He said this was done "by the very people who have claimed for the sympathy of the world."

Poland and Russia both called for the U. N. partition plan of a year ago to be put into force.

"Tsarapkin said Trans-Jordan was 'wounded' by a British puppet."

This was a reference to King Abdullah.

Resume Discussion Tsarapkin spoke as the committee resumed its discussion of the recommendations drafted by Count Bernadotte before he was assassinated in September.

The Bernadotte plan would divide the Arab Palestine into two states, one Jewish and one Arab. The U. N. partition plan assigned to the Jews the western part of the country, while the eastern part, including Jerusalem, was to be an international zone.

Senators Try For Means of 'Rights' Okay

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Senate Democratic leaders may postpone their vote on the National Labor Relations act until after the election.

Reporting this, a Democratic official said one plan under discussion is to have a committee study the whole question of reversing senate rules.

At the code now stands, a score of lawmakers can prevent the act from passing by talking indefinitely against a motion to take up such a bill.

Applies on Bills The closure—closing of debate—rule only only when a bill is actually before the senate. It doesn't apply against a motion.

For that reason, Senator Vandenberg, R., Mich., told reporters that existing closure rule isn't worth anything.

He said too that opponents can filibuster any motion to open the rules, as Senator McClellan, D., Ark., already had predicted southern Democrats would do.

He said the Democratic plan favors a rule change to make closure—which requires approval of two-thirds of the vote—apply at anytime.

Democrats Agree An administration Democrat, who didn't want to say anything about the plan, said Vandenberg's analysis of the effectiveness of the present closure rule.

Because of this situation, the Democrat said it may be necessary for the party to make a compromise with the southerners if it is to make any headway with President Truman's plan to end the ban on job discrimination, punishing lynching, abolishing state poll taxes and curbing race segregation.

Georgia Solon Supported for Defense Chief

Washington, himself, backed Roosevelt and the whole administration in winter in a vigorous appeal that congress authorize a greater defense force than the White House contemplated.

The fighting among top men of the two embattled services is bitter and angry. It attests real unification of the armed services and prevents a honest dollar's worth of defense for his tax money.

Everybody is getting into the ruckus. Marine One, Holland M. Smith has just ended in the Saturday Evening Post a three-part account of our operations in the western Pacific up to the capture of two Japs.

Smith accused the navy of petty discrimination against him because he is a man. He has been the army's eye with criticism of the 27th division. He accused some congressmen of being "stupid" in the Pacific of a stuffy committee of stupidity, arrogance and ignorance. Smith's first article is a delight on a sad situation. He is retired.

Everybody finally has succeeded in keeping the top admiral and air force officers on active service from the fighting and bring some in a technical unification is attributed to his method of compromise. He is a noted able, industrious man, but without the administrative instinct which would compel him to keep the two services together hard enough to establish his absolute command of his own department.

Smith is a man who has been in Vinson is judged to be a "kick-knocker" of no small ability.

Chance Good On Treaty for River's Water

BOISE, Nov. 22 (AP)—Mark R. Kulp, Idaho state reclamation engineer, said today that prospects there was a chance to work out a compact to the mutual benefit of Idaho and Wyoming on the Snake river.

L. C. Bulp, state engineer of Wyoming, last week his state would start a fight on against the Palisades project in Idaho unless a compact is negotiated before this reservoir is completed.

No Objection

"There is no particular objection by water users of Idaho to negotiating a compact," Kulp added. "Since any compact would have to be ratified by legislatures of both states, the rights of water users will be protected."

Kulp said a bill has been prepared for submission to the 1943 session of the legislature authorizing appointment of a committee to study the matter. He said this bill has been submitted to the governor, attorney general and to the legislature.

The matter is being handled in the Idaho Reclamation Association, Salt River involved.

The treaty is negotiated in the proposed Idaho-Wyoming compact is the Salt river, a tributary of the Snake river.

Kulp will attend a meeting in Preston Dec. 13-14 where a proposed three-state compact covering the Snake river and its tributaries will be considered. Involved are Idaho, Utah and Wyoming.

From to this meeting Kulp will meet with the Bear River Water Users association at Montpelier Nov. 26.

Wider Horizons For Children Is Study Unit Topic

Speaker for the last session of the Washington School PTA study group meeting was Mrs. Anna Whitte-Store, Floy Handy, Harry Power, Tim Tillery, H. O. Fortner and Jim Norflett.

She said our problem is to help children know that true happiness comes from within and a second problem is to help children achieve goals.

She reminded the audience that a child born more in the first six years than in all the remaining years of life.

Your child is learning every minute of the day.

All parents must try to build a Christian home, for spiritual inheritance is the greatest inheritance we have.

Our goal is to teach our children to be good and to do good.

To illustrate the highlights of Mrs. Whitte-Store's talk, poems were read by Mrs. Victor Gortman, Mrs. A. O. Lehman and Mrs. Annie Pullman.

Glenn Tarrant introduced the speaker and announced the program of songs by Mrs. Chadwick's second grade class.

Chance Good On Treaty for River's Water

BOISE, Nov. 22 (AP)—Mark R. Kulp, Idaho state reclamation engineer, said today that prospects there was a chance to work out a compact to the mutual benefit of Idaho and Wyoming on the Snake river.

Higher Costs Told in East Parking Plan

(Editor's note: How other cities have solved the parking problem is the subject of this article about the last portion of the report by the traffic engineers on the proposed parking plan. Future articles will discuss other phases of the report by the traffic engineers on the proposed parking plan.)

The Associated Consultants admit the question may well be raised as to whether it is entirely visionary for a city as small as Twin Falls to consider spending $200,000 or $300,000 for off-street parking facilities.

The question has been partially answered by the demonstration of its financial feasibility, their report states, and further assurance that such a scheme is completely practicable may be found in the experience of other cities. As examples, they cite:

"In Kansas City, Mo., a city of 22,000, action is nearly completed for the acquisition by the municipality of land at the edges of the business district to provide 100 parking spaces. The entire program in Kansas City is estimated to cost $200,000. The unit cost of land taken in the neighborhood of $600.00, taking something in excess of twice the cost of the Twin Falls plan."

"In Bluefield, W. Va., a city of 20,000, a four-level parking garage was completed in June of 1939 at a total cost of $232,000. This structure, financed through revenue bonds, has a capacity for 1,000 automobiles."

"Similar to Twin Falls

"These two cities, very similar in characteristics to Twin Falls in that they serve large agricultural trade areas, have provided approximately the same amount of parking space as proposed for Twin Falls at a cost of at least twice that of the Twin Falls program."

The traffic experts claim it is undesirable to allow the creation of off-street parking space to bring behind the elimination of angle parking. It tends to create the general parking problem of the city. It provides reasonable assurance that bonds of some sort will be passed by the city to finance off-street parking, when it is highly probable parking space may be acquired privately through the use of options.

As soon as options to buy have been obtained, the consultants are clearing the area, grading and surfacing, marking the stalls and installing the parking meters. Even in some instances where the entire section of land cannot be secured on options, they state, a usable portion of it may be obtained while the balance is covered by condemnation proceedings in court.

2 Clergymen, Units Tagged Red by Panel

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Two clergymen and two religious organizations were branded communist today by the House un-American Activities committee.

It also listed the magazine "The Protestant" as one which "actively spreads communist propaganda." And it said, without elaboration, that the reds have made inroads into some units of the YMCA, YWCA, the Epworth League and other church organizations.

Revealed in Pamphlet

The statements were made in a committee pamphlet warning that communists would move at once to stamp out religion if they came into power here. It was entitled "100 things you should know about communism and religion."

"In all their plans and actions," the pamphlet said, "the communists mark down religion as enemy No. 1." The Methodist Federation for Social Action, with headquarters in New York, was one of the two organizations on the committee's list. While it is not an official church unit, the federation said, "it is trying to hijack the prestige of the Methodist church to promote the line of the Communist party."

Institute Tagged

It also put the communist tag on the People's Institute of Applied Religion, Birmingham, Ala., which it said has been declared subversive by the Justice department. Describing the institute as "one of the most vicious" of communist groups, the pamphlet said, "it preaches communist ideas, pretending they are Christian ideas."

The committee named the Rev. Claude C. Williams, director of the institute and a Presbyterian, as an "open type" of communist. It gave the same description to the Rev. Eliot White, a retired Episcopal minister who, it said, has served as a delegate to a communist convention.

Unitarian Publication Used

The booklet also said that communists once "sneaked" their propaganda into the "Christian Register," official Unitarian publication.

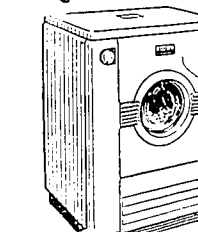

The pamphlet is one of a series of five planned by the committee. It listed "100 things you should know about communism in the U. S. A." last June. Others dealing with communism and education, labor and government will be issued before the end of the year.

After Seven Years, Gooding's CAA Station Has New Building

GOODING, Nov. 22—After operating for almost seven years in a life-size square building, the Gooding civil aeronautics administration radio station has moved into a new building.

The first station was established in July, 1941, at the northwest corner of the Gooding airport. Facilities have been modernized and moved to new and larger quarters. A more advantageous site for observational purposes.

During the last two years visual range of high frequency has been added, the range also being five miles west of the east-west runway. Very high frequencies transmit on 116.1 and 117.1 megacycles have been added within the past two years. Radio homing device intermediate frequency has been increased from 50 watts to 100 watts.

A regularly assigned maintenance man is now kept at Gooding because of expansion and new facilities. The new building has been located close to the hangar making it more convenient for pilots. The building is 16 by 34 feet with complete operating and pilot briefing room as large as the old quarters plus an added unit for maintenance quarters and liaison officers.

The very high frequency antenna for transmitting and receiving are used on the power frequencies which are static free.

Activities at the Gooding airport have advanced in all degrees to compensate for the expansion including the runway program under federal auspices. New facilities include a complete new warm-up apron and widened runways within the vicinity of the hangar, plus a paved road from the hangar to state highway 23 to the north of the airport.

Defiant receiving antennas covering the various frequencies for distance watches have been modernized.

Bobby Breen Lost On Hunting Trip

HAYWARD, Wis., Nov. 22 (AP)—Ground and air rescue parties threaded through the forest northeast of here today, searching for Bobby Breen, 21, former child singer, who was missing after he was seen last night flying a plane from Wausau, Wis., in a single-engine Stinson plane flown by Kenneth Thompson, to be here for a few days of deer hunting.

The plane carried enough gas-

Buyer Market Shadow Falls Over Industry

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—The shadow of the buyer's market is falling today on some industries where the seller has been most strongly entrenched.

Supply has caught up with demand—or is predicted to—by the buyers to be breathing down the necks of those who have the products to sell:

Automobiles, houses, oil products, mail, mail transportation, paper products, and even some steel and copper products.

Not "Recession"

Return to a buyer's market is not to be confused with a recession, nor is it "selling America short." On the contrary, most industrialists think it is the healthiest condition for business.

At Henry Ford, H. president of the Ford Motor company, says: "I wish we were in a buyer's market today. We're living in a food paradise."

Of his own industry the motor man says: "Cars may be plentiful in a year and a half. Then again it might be in six months. Anyway, a customer can usually get a high-price car today without waiting."

And a high official in the Dodge firm says that there already is a buyer's market in all trucks over one ton.

Or look at houses. Herman C. Walther, Chicago, a past president of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, says: "The familiar statement, 'I can't find a place to live,' is fast disappearing. The peak of activity was passed in April."

And the government reports that 23,000 fewer new homes were started this October than last. The lumber industry reports current orders well below the September and August levels.

Oil Demand Caught

Petroleum supplies have finally caught up with the huge demand, and in Texas they are talking about closing 17 oil fields.

Some margin coal mines have been closed, although the low-cost mines are going along full tilt with the peak winter season ahead.

Railroad passenger business is 10 per cent lower than a year ago. The New York Central has taken off some of its passenger trains between New York and Chicago. National trainings are three per cent lower so far this year than last, and are currently five per cent below this time in 1946.

Miller Desirous Of Same Panels Dworshak Holds

BOISE, Nov. 22 (AP)—Senator-elect Bert H. Miller said he would like to have the same committee assignments held by Sen. Henry C. Dworshak in the 80th congress.

Dworshak, incumbent Republican defeated by Miller in the general election, was a member of the appropriations and interior and insular affairs committees.

Miller said "they are very good committees, but, of course, I don't know what assignment I will receive. Such assignments are regulated by seniority."

He said he will vote for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley act, unless the administration or the proper committee plans to amend the law.

Miller said he has not yet decided when he will resign from the state supreme court. He has served four years of a six-year term on the court.

Robins Views No Reduction In State Tax

MOSCOW, Nov. 22 (AP)—The need for more attention to the problem of crippled children and social security measures was emphasized by Gov. C. A. Robins as he said he does not expect any reduction in state taxes.

"I think that when people put as much money into liquor, slot machines and other forms of gambling as do the people of Idaho, they can afford to 'overlook' aid to crippled children and social security legislation, the governor said."

Speaks at Banquet

He spoke at a banquet meeting of the north Idaho Chamber of Commerce.

He said a demand for expenditures on state-supported projects probably will require a larger budget for the next biennium. This, in turn, decreases the possibility of any lower taxes, he added.

Mayor Jack O. Adams, Coeur d'Alene, presented proposals for a two per cent sales tax and increased automobile license fees to the meeting.

Proposals Adopted

He said both proposals have been adopted by the Idaho Municipal League for presentation to the 1949 legislature.

Adams said another proposal of the league called for distribution of 15 per cent of the state gasoline tax to municipalities.

He said cities and towns "now get nothing from license fees or gas tax although most of the automobile driving is done within city limits."

"Cities and towns face an almost impossible revenue situation," Adams said. He suggested any sales tax revenue be divided between the state and municipalities.

Arraigning of Utah Highway Official Is Set

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 22 (AP)—Arraigning of Ray H. Leavitt, 33, former chairman of the Utah state road commission, on a grand jury indictment charging first degree burglary has been set for next Saturday, third district court Judge Roy Van Cott, Jr., said today.

Leavitt was questioned by the Salt Lake county grand jury Sept. 11. The true bill, returned Saturday, charged Leavitt gave false testimony when he denied he received money from Val Hicks, former salesman for the Rock Asphalt company of Utah.

Hicks, who pleaded guilty early this year to a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, now is serving a sentence in the Utah state prison.

Leavitt resigned last week as chairman of the commission to accept a position as sales representative for Yancery company, a Salt Lake City contracting firm.

It was the fifth indictment returned by the grand jury since it began an investigation into state liquor affairs and other matters last March.

Bowling Fans Await Choices For Post-Season Contests

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—Two of the fancier bowls—Rose and Cotton—choose their Jan. 1 lineup today, but fans must wait another week to learn the rival attractions in Dixie's Sugar and Orange fixtures.

Northwestern needs only the Big Nine's formal tap to start making plans for the Pasadena junket.

The Pacific Coast conference, meanwhile, is polling members on whether California or Oregon should furnish the "Wildcats" opposition in the rose pageant.

An announcement from both ends was promised today.

Players are qualified for the assignment by finishing Illinois, Saturday, 20-7, and finishing second in the conference in Michigan, which is ineligible to do a repeat job at Pasadena.

Tough Decision

The west coast division was tougher, California and Oregon closed in a tie for the conference championship.

Southern Methodist clinched the best spot in the Dallas-Baylor, 13-0. Today the Mustang players vote on their opponent from a list of three submitted by the bowl committee.

Oklahoma, North Carolina, Chicago and Clinton are repeated, high in favor with the southwesterners, but the availability of the teams is a question mark.

Surings Attached

Sponsors of the Inactive Sugar Bowl at New Orleans and the Orange bowl at Miami, who have delayed their announcements until after the conference, have some strings attached to the list.

The Sugar and Orange groups have agreed not to docket with southwestern conference teams until the Saturday after Thanksgiving.

Philadelphia team still in the bowl picture, besides Chicago, are Tulane and Miami, both with contracts on the books. Besides, this final heavy week could change things considerably for the present leading contenders.

Contests Listed

Oklahoma, the Big Seven champion, plays a formidable Oklahoma A. and M. at Stillwater. Georgia takes on its intrastate rival, Georgia Tech, in Atlanta. Tulane must hurdle Louisiana State, Miami must conquer the University of South Florida, North Carolina faces Virginia.

Oklahoma came out of Saturday's firing with greatly increased stature as a result of its smashing 49-0 victory over Kansas for the Big Seven Championship.

College of Idaho Gridmen Capture Conference Title

PORTLAND, Nov. 22 (AP)—The College of Idaho defeated Lewis and Clark, 13-0, Saturday to capture its first Northwest conference football title in 21 years.

Fourth quarter touchdowns in the second and third quarters opened the scoring gates for the Idahoans. Tom Clark, quarterback, threw the touchdowns.

Idaho was elevated to the league title by virtue of its win and Pacific university's victory over Willamette 19-0 at Port Townsend Saturday night. College of Idaho, Lewis and Clark and Willamette were tied for first place until the Saturday night game.

The Coyotes marched down the field for 46 yards and the first score, a touchdown, when Clark and Ward lugged the oval on eight plays with Humannak going over. Bill Gardner's kick was wide.

In the third it was Humannak again with Gardner splitting the Texas for the extra point.

TEXAS GRABS HONORS

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—Tulsa, a Shifty halfback from Still River (Texas) State college, broke for six touchdowns Saturday to grab the national football scoring leadership with 144 points.

'Washed up' Boxers Attempt Comebacks While Eyeing Aging Joe Louis' Crown

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—What the fight game needs, they say, is new faces, and that conclusion is rather obvious. But of fighters never new faces, as the sport just isn't designed to enhance beauty. Muscled men with six-figure salaries aren't recommended.

Anyway, we do note that the owners of several rings have been around for quite awhile and in the news again, practicing their trade. Billy Conn, Tom Maudsley, Les Savoldi, Heenrichsen, etc.

Conn has an exhibition booked with Joe Louis, and is engaging in lineup bouts with the prize fighter he can make a good enough showing against the champion to encourage himself he's doing a pretty good chance if given a third chance at the title.

Maudsley is fighting here and there, probably with no plot in mind other than to make a few bucks. He met Louis once and in between the time he entered the ring and the time he left you couldn't have missed a three-minute war. We can't conceive of him wanting to face the champion again, even at 30 years.

Savoldi has been active off and on, and right now is a warm prospect to meet Louis next June, unless Louis recovers from his anemia and recalls what he said after his last fight with Jersey Joe Walcott, and retired.

Savoldi has sailed for a bout in England, and before departing announced confidently he would be Louis' opponent next June.

This is refreshing optimism, considering the fact that the few days ago, listed in the Sports Mirror

Two Combinations Draw Pro Attention

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—Two running and passing combinations that work together like beer and pretzels are bidding for attention in the rival pro football circuits.

The National league presents Tommygun Thompson and Steve Van Buren of the Philadelphia Eagles. The All-America conference counters with automatic Otto Graham and Marion Motley of the Cleveland Browns.

Thompson and Van Buren have moved the football on the ground and through the air 2,212 yards, just over a mile and a quarter, in nine games. That's an average of 246 yards a game.

Graham and Motley have picked up 2,085 yards in 10 contests. Via the same route, an average of 208.

Both combinations had good days yesterday. Van Buren and Motley powered the Browns to a 34-21 decision over the New York Yanks at Yankee stadium. Thompson and Van Buren led the Eagles to a 42-21 triumph over Washington at Philadelphia.

The Philadelphia victory virtually insured the Eagles of the eastern division title in the National league. They have a game and a half left over Washington with three to play and a Pittsburgh Sunday, Boston and Detroit.

Cleveland, who won division leader in the All-America conference, faces its toughest road. The Browns have to meet Los Angeles in Los Angeles, then coming day and then the Bears in San Francisco Sunday.

Nothing much was done yesterday about the western division race in the National league except to make sure a Chicago team will win it.

Los Angeles, the last club that had a chance to share in the crown, had it by losing to the Chicago Cardinals 22-0.

The Chicago Bears had it easy in Boston, downing the hapless Yanks, 51-17.

Scattered Games On Grid Schedule

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22 (AP)—Scattered intercollegiate games head this week's sparse football schedule in the far west.

Probably top billing belongs to the Michigan State-Santa Clara encounter at San Francisco, Saturday. It will be the second clash this season to the Pacific coast of the powerful Michigan State squad.

The Spartans have been somewhat rough on west coast rivals. They gave the Washington State Cougars a 40-0 trouncing at East La. after upsetting previously unbeaten Washington State on a grid field at Tacoma. The fact that Penn State dropped a 7-0 surprise decision to Nebraska on the heels of a 35-0 victory over Washington State's role as an underdog against the Spartans is a question mark.

Big Six Title

By The Associated Press

Idaho high school football will make the last gasp before fading into the winter when Bode plays Nampa Thanksgiving day.

The game will mean nothing to the Braves from Bode, in the way of a title, but a win for Nampa would give the Bulldogs a 10-0 record in the Big Six championship.

Third Last Year

Nampa and Postville tied for the championship last year. The majority of the Idaho grid squares have already made their equipment away for the season, but this week-end saw three conference winners while Bode stepped out of the Big Six to run for the Big Seven title, 18 to 7.

Tests Measure Average Speeds Of Bowling Ball

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP)—Bowling ball speeds were measured today by a new device which indicates the average speed of a bowling ball in five trials.

Five bowlers, considered the best of Schenectady's league, tested their deliveries yesterday with a General Electric measuring device which is a time interval meter.

The highest speed in five official trials was turned in by Krawcheck. He averaged 32.5 mph. His fastest official trial was 33.2 mph, but he hit 37.5 mph in an unofficial warm-up.

By contrast, George Sabatini, a leading local "control" bowler, averaged only 25.5 mph in five trials.

One-Man Show

ALBANY, Ore., Nov. 22 (AP)—Ever beat of a halfback who could hit your punt and run to a touchdown?

Jimmy Jenks did it for Albany high school here in a state quarter-final football game.

Jenks punted from his own 22-yard line and a charging George Pasa line blocked the ball. He bounded back in Jenks' hands. He eluded the linemen and ran 75 yards to score.

It was all to no avail. Albany recovered from this blow and won 13-7.

Scribe Enjoys All-Around Grid Player

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—This is the age of football specialization. It's an age when there's a man to do this and a man to do that. The Chicago Bears had it easy in Boston, downing the hapless Yanks, 51-17.

You might say he specializes in doing a little of everything, which is right. Jenks is the place where football started.

If there are any oddsmen, when you remember Jenks' back when a football player wasn't considered good unless he was good in all phases of football, they will enjoy watching Pottion.

Pottion is a six-footer who weighs 195 pounds and came to the Redskins via little Canada. He doesn't make the headlines as much as some of the specialists, yet in the average fan's mind he's the star.

Help back up the line. Move into a defensive halfback position if the opposition gets passing.

Do all the team's punting. Do all the free-kick extra points. Do a field goal if they attack back within field goal range.

Retraction Demanded On Gambling Charges

RENO, Nov. 22 (AP)—Nevadans Monday were awaiting an answer to a demand for retraction by "Sports Week," a national sports newspaper, of charges that the University of Nevada football team threw the Santa Clara game for Reno gamblers.

Demand for a retraction of the article published last week were made by the law firm of Thatcher, Woodburn and Forman, retained by the university board of athletic control and Coach Joe Sheekoffski.

In a letter to publisher Marty Berg the board declared the charges were "inframous, untrue and damaging to Nevada athletes, to football players and to the athletic department."

Lawmen Might Sue

"Two of the gambling racket operators named in the article were also consulting lawyers with an eye to suing the publication."

The next step apparently lay with the sports publication. Even if a retraction was forthcoming it appeared likely that either university athletic officials or the gambling cops, or perhaps both, might start action.

Suit for Label

If "Sports Week" decided to back what it said, the university, counsel declared, a suit for libel would be filed. A combination of attorneys including H. S. Schuler, Paul McCarran, former senator and ex-governor, Stanley Grunwald, all of Nevada, is expected to be called upon for any legal action.

Nevada went into the Nov. 7 game at Sacramento, Calif., as heavy favorite but lost to Santa Clara 14-0.

Analyst Avers Ruhr Decision Bothers Allies

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Ultimate control of the rich German Ruhr—industrial keystone of continental Europe—is providing one of the toughest issues to be settled by American, British and France.

Twice now the Ruhr, with its wealth of iron and coal, has been the arena of an aggressive Reich engaged in world war. The allies have sworn that never again shall Germany be able to utilize the treasure of the Ruhr in this manner.

Hampers Recovery
However, the Ruhr is so important to the rest of western Europe that its strength must be restored. Its smokestacks must again be able to write across the Rhine the proud claim that here lies one of the greatest steel producing areas of the world. Europe can't recover economically while the Ruhr is impotent, and this means that the Marshall plan also is dependent on it.

Not so long ago that problem seemed fairly simple. Just keep the Ruhr under tight military control while the war damage is repaired and manufacturing is got under way.

Not So Easy
Well, it isn't as easy as that. Germans must work the coal mines and the blast furnaces—and you can't get full production from idled workers. They must have incentive, and so America and Britain have decided that our incentive would be eventual operation of the industry by the Germans themselves—with proper military controls, of course.

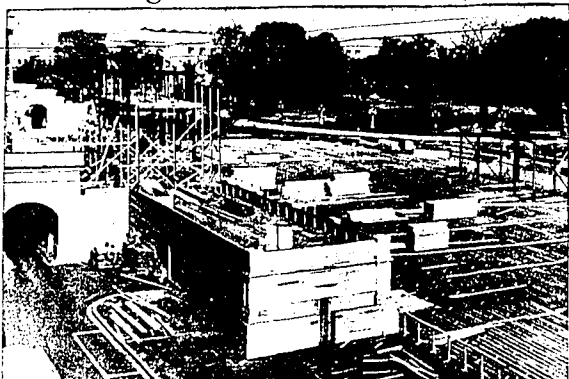

But France, thrice overrun by German armies in seven decades, is insisting on international operation of the Ruhr. She is afraid to let Germany control an asset which is a potential war threat.

France's Gen. Charles de Gaulle says the decision to turn the Ruhr mines and mills back into German hands is "the gravest decision made so far during the 20th century."

Expedient Questioned
There is no difference of opinion among the three western allies over the need of absolute security against further German aggression. The split comes over this matter of putting the Ruhr resources back under German ownership as an expedient to inspire greater efforts toward recovery.

One can understand France's present fears. However, past events have shown that a weak western Europe would provide prime grounds for communist aggression. French security depends heavily on a healthy Ruhr.

Koreans Assured U. S. Will Remain

SEOUL, Nov. 22.—Kim Dong sung, Korean republic spokesman, said today his government had been assured the United States had not changed its policy regarding the withdrawal of American troops.

"The recent movements of American troops have definitely caused an uneasy feeling in the minds of the people because their national security has not been brought up to a reliable level," said Kim.

The statement explained the troop movements as a regrouping of American forces incident to the transfer of government responsibility to the new republic of Korea.

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Nov. 22 (AP)—The seamen's strike aboard the Cunard White Star liner Queen Elizabeth ended today, but the company agreed not to let the world's largest liner sail until the longshoremen's strike ends in New York.

At a meeting of the kitchen staff, stewards and engine room crew members, whose walkout Saturday prevented the ship's scheduled sailing, the following union announcement was read:

"The ship will only sail on this occasion to New York when the strike of longshoremen of that port is over."

"There will be no victimization. Members of the crew of the Queen Elizabeth who left the ship agree to return to duty at noon today."
