Highway Job Tops List of Work in '39

The major improvement made in the Twin Falls highway district during 1939 was reconstruction of U. S. highway 93 from Rosser north for 13.75 miles, according to the district's annual report. Because the district had a hard winter of 1938-9 and the resulting damage to existing roads, little new construction was done during the year. The bulk of the district's work was in the repair and maintenance of existing roads. The reconstruction of U. S. highway 93 was the top item on the list. The highway is 13.75 miles long and will be completed by the end of the year. The highway is a two-lane road and will be paved with bituminous concrete. He said Idaho now is collecting more than is used currently. Hindu Couple Reveals Secrets Of Beauty During Resort Visit

SUN VALLEY, Feb. 6.—Princess Krishna Nehru, sister of the prime minister of India and her husband, Raja Tejasingh, were here on a lecture tour correcting American misimpressions of various phases of life in India.

The couple's two sons are attending school in Detroit to get the feel of American boarding school life while their parents are touring. The boys were unhappy to have their schooling interrupted because although there are 12 years of school in India, students past 15 are considered a little backward. The elder boy is 15 now.

The princess, in rewriting her book on Gandhi's life, had to make it much more complete for American children. It originally was written for British children and she knew much more about the subject.

She has published three books in this country and has written a fourth. Among her books is one on India's secret secrets of 2000 years. Her husband said that those who followed the secrets will be more beautiful than those of the cult of Elizabeth Arden.

He confided that if a person will wash their face with a mixture of milk and water, then wash the hair in the perfumed water in the morning, every morning, the hair will never turn gray.

The princess explained the mark on her forehead is not a caste mark, not permanent and not tattooed. She said it is a beauty mark, originally intended to attract attention to the eyes, and worn to show happiness and vitality.

She said she believed early stories of it being worn only by certain castes rose from a misconception of a former custom which forbade widows from wearing make-up or any color but white. Because it is only make-up, widows could not wear it.

She explained veils were necessary only after invasions. "When the invader could not see a pretty face, there was no trouble."

Auction Nets $100 In Polio Campaign

Pete said the sale of the cake was successful, but when Mrs. J. W. Linder's sister-in-law, Mrs. J. W. Linder, bought up with him at the sale to give him the cake she had baked for his birthday, the crowd demanded $100 to see Pete save his cake in return for $100 for the polio drive.

A 7-year-old palomino mare sold for $50, an unborn registered colt colt brought $75 for the drive and 100 pounds of high grade alfalfa—sold for $30.

Other proceeds of big roosters, little hens, two rabbits and five dogs through the auction ring and sale of another cake accounted for the rest of the day's sale proceeds to the "March of Dimes."

After the sale, Pete reminded everyone that there are two more before the extension of the polio drive is over officially next Saturday. He'll be at the Twin Falls stretch Commission company sale Wednesday with assorted livestock and commodities and will appear again at the Blockbusters Commission company sale Saturday.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG POT SHOTS

WASHINGTON—Although President Truman and Secretary of War Henry Stimson have a tentative plan to decentralize the great steel production plant now in western Pennsylvania and northern Indiana, they are forcing this key economic and wartime industry to be divided into three sections.

The two factors behind the shift are (1) the possible congressional action making permanent the judicial apportionment of the steel industry, under which Pittsburgh's steel setup enjoyed an advantage over its rival, Pennsylvania, and (2) the fact that iron ore from Venezuela, and possibly Labrador, for the raw materials are drawn from the west coast.

Ballinger in Minnesota.

Centralization of the balmain-point market and the distribution of the steel to its markets since they will have to absorb freight charges from the point of manufacture to the place of delivery.

Being of better grade, Venezuelan ore can be shipped to the steel plants in the west coast at a lower cost than the poorer product from Minnesota.

DECENTRALIZATION. It is questionable, however, whether the current migration fits into the Truman-Stimson defense program. They have advocated centralization of the steel industry in the west coast and the Pittsburgh-luminae because of fear of the possible hydrogen bomb would wreck on concentrated industry.

The move to the east and west coast may make it possible to meet the Pacific coast demand for bombers. But the current scattering to New England, Pennsylvania, Utah and California does meet the adjustment to an unproved demand for decentralization of steel.

ECONOMY.—It is doubtful if the administration would dare to go through with its program for the elimination of the steel industry in the Illinois steel plants to move elsewhere.

The resulting disruption of these areas' economy and unemployment might prompt the steel industry in the Republican camp. It is not known that blueprint of migration is in the secret safe at the Pentagon.

Meanwhile, the steel industry is beginning to spread out because of economic rather than political reasons. It is not known if the steel industry has been able to recognize industrial phenomena of the west coast.

It can be a boon to steel-hungry manufacturers in every section of the country, giving them cheaper raw materials. It will provide new jobs and employment and revenue to numerous communities.

Ironically, the present nationwide expansion and decentralization of the steel industry is a direct result of a 1940 demand that the government be given authority to finance and build new steel plants to overcome the Venezuelan ore shortage. It is not known if the request in his 1940 message on the state of the union.

SUMMARY.—Here is a brief summary of recent developments in the key industry which have led President Truman to announce his plan to decentralize the steel industry on the safe containing the decentralization blueprint.

U. S. Steel has made tentative plans to build a $100-million plant in the west coast. It would understand that construction is dependent on congressional action on the balmain-point problem.

If the steel industry is to be decentralized, it will need a plan near the New England, New York, New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania markets that is present in the west coast. It would also benefit from imports of Venezuelan ore.

High-grade limestone in a deserted city, however, yet be processed inexpensively enough to make a profitable business. It is not known if it is always the possibility that construction of the St. Lawrence waterway will enable Pittsburgh to obtain high-grade ore from Labrador by sea.

LARGEST.—Bethlehem Steel has announced plans for building a $100-million addition to its Springfield plant on the eastern shore of Maryland. Bethlehem's Springfield plant has the nation's largest single steel factory at this site. It will employ 10,000 men.

Both Bethlehem and U. S. Steel own vast iron ore deposits in Venezuela. It is not known if the steel industry will be able to transport its raw materials from the interior to the coast as they do. It is not known if the steel industry will be able to transport its raw materials from the interior to the coast as they do. It is not known if the steel industry will be able to transport its raw materials from the interior to the coast as they do.

I'm sure you'll be able to get it by Friday night and after only two days without any emphasis in this it has become obvious that the only businesses being hurt by the closure are the fire that closed the five places in question were open since they were closed. It would be the owners of the five places in question could prove to the city council that they aren't needed.

In that case, I'd bet (I) the folks in the city council could be talked into revoking a few beer licenses.

IRRESPONSIBLE PLAN INTOLERABLE

The last time the nation suffered a major telephone strike its crippling effects were reduced to a minimum by the quick action of visionary workers who mended the lines and afforded essential minimum service.

Now another telephone strike confronts the nation. Joseph Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America (CIO), says he does not want to avoid it.

But this time the union thinks it has found a plan that will make the stoppage more effective. Beirne has asked Philip Murray, CIO head, to request the 6,000,000 members of the CIO to use their telephones "all they can" during a strike.

The idea is simple: Heavy usage would burden the automatic dial telephone system and cause it to break down in many spots. Once out of order, it would stay that way, because maintenance and repair workers would be among the strikers.

Murray has not said in so many words that he approves Beirne's plan. He has merely promised the communications union "every possible assistance and support" in its dispute with the companies.

If he reflects soberly on the full meaning of this idea, Murray will flatly reject it. It would mean an intolerable interruption of vital services.

Doubt union officials grow weary of being reminded of the fields like communications and transportation affect the public health and safety. They probably believe this point is over-emphasized as an excuse for not dealing fairly with the workers involved.

But they must know in their hearts that the nation cannot now or ever allow a 100 per cent strike in telephone service, rail transport, or similar fields. Too many activities indispensable to the health and welfare are dependent on these services.

Suppose, as a good union man, you decide to comply with Beirne's request. You make 10 or more unnecessary calls a day. Then you get a breakdown because of a breakdown in telephone service. You are taken to the hospital. How would you feel?

Beirne's proposal is thoroughly irresponsible. If he himself does not have the good sense to reject it, he should do so emphatically that the CIO will have no part in any plan that could seriously endanger essential services.

NO CAUTION OR ARGUMENT

Dear Post: We'd just finished reading the T-N when we picked up our favorite weekly news magazine. Because we read the T-N first, we happened to have a beautiful copy of the magazine. The last of the Trans-Atlantic "Turkey" by the way, anyhow, the dinner table at the other end of the line is not so tastefully with turkey hash as the central theme. Here's the wording from page 4 of the magazine:

"Raging Island" ... rafter places. This is the T-N. The place is a beautiful one. It is a beautiful one. It is a beautiful one.

MORE THAN GUARANTEE NEEDED

From the woman's angle few things ought to sound as attractive as a guarantee to them if of equal rights set forth in the federal constitution.

Yet more than 30 national women's groups don't want that kind of a guarantee without a big number of other labor leaders are on the same side of the fence.

They all wish to be sure that no equal rights clause shall in any way endanger the rights, benefits and exemptions now enjoyed by women under existing state and federal laws.

What this means is that while they believe the principle of equal rights should be proclaimed, it should be recognized that women actually have a right to equal rights and safeguards. The feeling is that as women's physical nature and characteristics are enough to justify special status.

Some of the women today are a wide variety of laws governing wages, hours and conditions of work for women. These include protections for those needing maternity care. In addition, women enjoy alimony rights, dower rights and similar legal advantages partly in recognition of their problems as mothers.

Labor and many women's groups know many of these statutes were won only after bitter struggle. They hesitate, therefore, to accumulate by law an extra provision that might furnish a legal basis for the ultimate destruction of these safeguards.

The senate has now approved 63 to 19 a constitutional amendment guaranteeing equal rights to women. It is stated that the guarantee shall not be construed to impair any present rights women have.

The equal rights proponents, sensing victory in a few years of fruitless trying, want the house to kill the extra provision and pass what is a flat guarantee. Offhand their chances don't look too bright, for the weight of labor and the same 30 women's groups will fall upon the lawmakers when they begin debating the proposal.

It seems safest to spell out assurances to women that they will not lose their hard-won protection both at work and in the larger social setting. Many of the women who term "equal rights" sound a little empty, but I think something would be gained by its mere assertion in the constitution. Many good principles are modified in practice. That doesn't lessen their value as "principles."

Jerome's Hoopmen Tackle Filer in Top Tuesday Tilt

The Jerome Tigers travel to Filer to take on an improving Wilton basketball team and Kimberly entertains undefeated Heyburn in the nature game of Tuesday night's schedule in Magic Valley. No other Big Seven conference games are slated.

Other Tuesday contests will find Acqua at Eden, Paul at Hazelton, Bellevue at Richfield, Shoshone at Carey, Gooding State at Fairfield, Hagerman at Gooding, Albion at Hansen, Declo at Murtaugh and Dietrich at Malta.

Coach Clarence Dellinger's Jerome Tigers will be favored to knock off Filer, but a wildcard victory would surprise the Gooding fans. Jerome will be whipped by Carey, according to Gooding and Filer came back to nip the Senators.

Jerome makes good showing against Rupert last week, holding the Pirates to their lowest score this season. Filer was whipped by Carey. Gooding is a slight favorite to edge the Hagerman Pirates in a game at Gooding. But coach A. Vincen Carter's Senators will have a task to defeat the scrappy Filer. Hagerman, Coach Clarence Dellinger's team was downed by only two points when the two squads met earlier and will be out for a win.

Kimberly is the next team to try to stop the winning streak of Coach Ted Hank's Heyburn squad. Coach Fred McCarty has his Bulldogs geared for an upset and the Panthers may face a task before the contest is over.

Two conference games are slated for Wednesday in Jerome with Idaho State boxer, Jim Filer, who fights in the 135-pound class, will be favored to win the fight. Filer is a member of the Roosevelt hotel team in the Men's minor league.

The top single game of the week was posted by N. O. Johnson of the Shoshone Panthers team in the Minor League. He had a score of 23.

Charles Morris led bowlers last week with a high score of 224. Morris had games of 226, 197 and 204. He has a high score of 224. He is a member of the Roosevelt hotel team in the Men's minor league.

Mighty Babe Rated Baseball's Greatest Player

RYE, N. Y., Feb. 6 (AP)—It isn't quite true that Babe Ruth never made a bad play on the baseball field. It is true, one, and it was a beauty.

This is on the distinguished authority of Edward R. Ross, the old stalwart who has coached the most famous of the major league teams through all his grand career with the Boston Red Sox and the New York Yankees.

"It might have made others that I didn't see," mused Barrow. "But I can recall only the time that I felt like killing him."

That was the storied game, incidentally, in which Grover Cleveland Alexander, who was then in the base full of Yankees in the seventh and eighth innings of the 1920 World Series. Catcher Bob O'Farrell nailed him easily, and the St. Louis Cardinals won the series, 4 games to 2.

"What caused him to try to steal just at that time I don't know to this day. I didn't ask him after the game because I didn't dare go near him. I was afraid he'd hit me with the Babe," sighed the man who perhaps knew him best.

The Magic Mountain winter sports area is developing into a resort that every winter in Magic Valley can be proud of.

We got a chance Sunday to look over the area for the first time this year and what we saw opened our eyes. Claude Jones, Bill Lash and company have made great strides in making Magic Mountain one of Idaho's top skiing areas.

Several hundred people braved the mud and snow on the Rock creek canyon road Sunday for a chance to find out what it was like to ski on a well-kept and well-lit ski area.

It has a two-lift, up-hill battle for Jones to develop the area. Two years ago, there was an organized ski area here with a ski lift, but it was a forest service project.

Another ski area is a trip to Magic Mountain on Sunday would be time well spent. Unless the weather turns out to be just what the road should be in top shape and at the end of the drive you will find a fine area for a real Alpine atmosphere.

State Reports Discussed by Carey Groups

CAREY, Feb. 6.—Burford Kirkland, state representative, was a special guest speaker on the program presented by the Carey Chamber of Commerce on Thursday evening. The meeting was held at the LDB chapel with Alton Patterson, president, in chair.

Other features included a report from Noel Pratt, chairman of the fish and wildlife committee, and a talk by Dick Hanson, president of the Ketchum Chamber of Commerce.

Highway, State Reports
In his message to the group, Kirkland spoke on the proposed reorganization of the state government, including pertinent literature to give statistical reports. The purpose of the proposed reorganization, according to the report, is to bring about an estimated saving of $3,000,000 bi-annually in government expenditures.

Kirkland read a list of offices which it is proposed be dropped from the state payroll and the estimated amount to be saved in each. He also spoke on highways of Idaho, proposed tax changes and recommended new legislation in administrative policy.

Literature prepared by the Idaho highway study committee was presented for study.

Wildlife Memberships
Pratt, in his report, stated state membership dues in the fish and wildlife association are paid up by the Carey club or district members. In 1935 are paid up in the fourth district association. He explained a new system of payment of dues and the value of keeping dues paid.

Pratt explained the Outer Razing program which is being planned at Ketchum for Feb. 23 and 24. The plan is to bring in from 10 area towns to sponsor a team for the event, with a run-off of the best entries for final prize money.

He invited the Carey group to sponsor a team at the meet. A motion made and approved to back a team, the team to be selected by drawing preceding the races. Mrs. Stanley Elvorth was appointed to prepare a banner for the Carey entry.

Veterans' Ag Class Chiefs Hold Parleys

RICHTHOLD, Feb. 6.—A special meeting of the Richfield advisory board of the veterans vocational agriculture program was held at Richfield Thursday afternoon. Out-of-town officials here were Warren Taylor, Boise, state supervisor of veterans vocational agriculture, and Henry Schoede, Livermore, area supervisor.

Richfield advisory board members present were Ray Briggs, chairman, Theo Bush, Richard Vassant, Louis Crowther and Woodrow Ahl, local supervisor. F. P. McClaughry represented class one of the two Richfield veterans agriculture classes. Thomas Vaughn, instructor for class two acted as secretary at the meeting.

Two applications were approved, those of Stanley Wernent and Vernon Sorenson.

The visiting officials also attended regular Thursday evening sessions of the two Richfield veterans agriculture schools at the Richfield school building.

Class two was formed in January with Wernent and Sorenson making a class of 18. Other veterans in the class are Fred Johnson, Donald Riley, Morris Swainston, Bob McDermott, Curtis Parke, Ray Briggs, Louis Vaughn, Elmer Fox, Homer Hickey, Odel Castelfield, Robert Conner, Iral Larson, Leroy Magaffin, Ulfason, Mason and James McCure, Dietrich.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

Victory parade of the suffrage forces, with their bright yellow emblems and their star-spangled banners, honored their leader Carrie Chapman Catt in New York, 1919. The women celebrated their newly-won right to vote after the 19th amendment was passed. The woman suffrage movement began shortly after the Civil war, and once came near to success in 1875, but it wasn't until August, 1920, that the 19th amendment was proclaimed in effect. It had been a bitter, 60-year struggle to overcome as Mrs. Catt put it, the "prejudice and resentments" against making women political equal. Today, women voters—as well as women legislators and even cabinet members—are taken very much for granted.

Carey Residents Treated to Rare 'Sun Dog' Sight

CAREY, Feb. 6.—Local residents were given a look at a rare sky phenomena Wednesday morning when two "sun dogs" were apparent in the eastern sky.

On either side of the sun, they appeared as though they had been snipped out of a rainbow. They hung against a clear blue sky, making their appearance about 8:30 a.m. The colors were distinct, the mist usually seen with the phenomena not present.

Superstition holds the appearance of an unusually high and thin veil of ice-crystal clouds, the sun's rays piercing the veil are broken into the various colors of the spectrum, much the same as occurs in a normal rainbow. They can either precede or follow a storm frontal passage, depending on its type.
