A heavy censorship shielded 15 miles to the 38th parallel when censorship was clamped during Friday night.

General MacArthur's headquarters said that the banzai attacks northwest of Hongkong in central Korea were the only sizeable ones since back-tracking ice could muster.

Board Will Close Colleges on June 30 if No Funds Arranged

BOISE, March 17 (AP)—Teacher colleges at Lewiston and Albion will be closed June 30 unless there are possibilities that they be financed through various sources other than appropriated funds.

The statement came after a lengthy discussion on what to do with the two schools which were denied appropriations by the 1961 Idaho legislature.

John Remsburg, Rupert, president, issued the statement which said "It is understood that a group of Lewiston citizens is investigating other sources of finance to keep Northern Idaho College of Education open."

A Lewiston delegation, composed of Russell Randa, Edward Rettig and Harry Hughes, secretary of the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce, conferred with the board this morning but had no comment after their discussion.

John Nelson, regional reclamation director, said the proposals could be made public pending authorization by the secretary of the interior.

Attending the meeting were Gov. Len Jordan, officers of the Southwestern Idaho Water Conservation project, Inc., and representatives of water user groups.

Nelson said he had hoped to have before the meeting a signed notice of the position of Interior Secretary Oscar L. Chapman on the proposed Hell's canyon dam.

Nelson said the department had yet to draft proposed legislation covering the five demands of Idaho users. They have asked that upstream water rights be protected.

Hell's Canyon Is Discussed at Boise Meeting

BOISE, March 17 (AP)—Bureau of Reclamation proposals which answered Idaho demands for certain benefits from the Hell's canyon dam were discussed informally at a meeting Tuesday.

Attending the meeting were Gov. Len Jordan, officers of the Southwestern Idaho Water Conservation project, Inc., and representatives of water user groups.

WASHINGTON—Do you think the house will approve the senate action drafting 18-year-olds for 24 months of service? asks H. G. Oshannon, Oklahoma City.

Answer: Yes, I believe that the eventual draft and service law will be the same as that passed in the senate. Now that the house has passed the bill, it has assumed the responsibility for fixing the age and service limits, there will be less objection on the other side.

House members, who must face the voters every two years, frequently adopt radical decisions in the hope that the senate will assume primary responsibility.

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—The investigation into the reconstruction finance corporation has at last, more or less accidentally, begun to get down to pay dirt. The main catch is merely It speaks on what has gone on but-for-all-their-dramatic-influence industry.

For years rumors have persisted about the routine commission and the favors handed out to political pals through that agency. Along with them, Marquis Childs has tried in vain from time to time to get the facts straight. I have tried particularly on the sale of tankers and merchant vessels in two instances, one at the end of World War II. They were passed out, so the rumors went, over a price tag bargain that hit at prices far below their value.

Joseph E. Casey, a Washington lawyer and former representative from Massachusetts, has described a tanker deal in the course of which an investment in two companies of $100,000 was run up into a profit of $1,000,000. He says that this only scratches the surface.

The whole history of the commission on the part of six or seven years should be gone into with emphasis on at least two elements: how the deals were made in providing fat jobs for political friends.

The facts should not be hard to get for a committee with the power of subpoena and the right to witness testify under oath. I would imagine that the sums involved are much larger than any brought to light.

What is more, if Democrats and Republicans really mean to investigate the influence industry in Washington in its higher ramifications let them go to the civil aviation authority board. They will find a case ready-made for them in the American Overseas airlines merger with Pan American Airways.

In some respects the known facts of this case parallel certain cases discussed in the RFOC hearings. There, too, the experts, the examiners and finally a majority of the board itself recommended against the merger. Then the White House reversed all the experts and the board and approved the deal.

Ever since there have been rumors of who provided the influence and why. Again, investigators with the power of subpoena would have almost no trouble at all in running the facts to zero.

Let them call Joseph J. O'Connell, Jr., former chairman of the CAB, who resigned in indignation when he and the members who had thoroughly studied the case were overruled. Let them subpoena one or two of the House aides who should know a fact or two about this transaction.

Now I don't think this is going to happen. For one thing such an investigation likely would run square past into Sen. Owen Brewster, Maine.

Twin Falls county's Red Cross fund has had a good start since the collection drive was reported Tuesday, March 6. The reported $7,416 has been collected to Friday night, March 9, and it is possible that the total will reach $10,000 by the end of the year.

ANOTHER SHORRY CHAPTER

Brooke, Smith, French and Dorrance, Inc., a well known national advertising agency, has written a letter to the Maine potato advisory committee which is a further contribution to the story of the government's so-called "planned economy."

The agency has dropped the promotion of Maine potatoes as an "unprofitable account" because of the disastrous effect of government price support.

Sturges Dorrance, chairman of the firm which has been advertising Maine potatoes for 15 years at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars, made this observation:

"With our Maine growers willing to dump potatoes at U. S. government support price, it has been difficult for our brokers and wholesalers to get supplies at anywhere near competitive prices. The ill will that has been generated in the trade is going to take time to overcome."

Maine farmers expect to dump about 13,000,000 bushels of the 1933 crop of 61,000,000 bushels. Dorrance is the one used to describe the procedure whereby the government buys surplus supply from the farmer at support prices of about $1.00 per hundred-weight and then resells it at one cent for use as fertilizer or stock feed.

The question is whether the age-old law of supply and demand, normal consumption, and the legitimate promotion of sales make for greater natural stability than does the government's attempt to control our economy artificially.

In any event, the government has made such a fiasco of its dealings in potatoes that the price support ends with the 1934 crop.

Although it should be apparent to any school boy that this country has been growing too many potatoes, the government support price has taken most of the gamble out of continued surplus production with a result that serves as another vivid example of all this "planned economy."

Through cloud and smoke came the light of this idea. If that's not my credit Pegler for integrity were threatened with a local, non-down paper, 10 to 1 they would settle for the Pegler who I already know or take time to read all the books of big issues of the day to get the point.

Underlying the many accomplishments of the legislative session just ended is the fact that it adhered closely to Governor Jordan's recommendation to live within our means.

While the legislature has not cut some of our neighboring states are keeping their books in the red, Idaho's new budget of expenditures authorized by the legislature will exceed estimated revenues by only $50,000. While continuing to live within its state administration, the governor feels confident the state will even make up this slight difference and thus completely balance the budget.

It should be borne in mind also that all this was brought about, not by a general increase in taxes, but by swinging the economy axe in places where expenses could be cut and money saved.

It proved beyond any doubt that all this talk about it being impossible to reduce the cost of government is a lot of hokum. With an economy-minded governor and a sympathetic legislature, it is possible to cut out a lot of deadwood that's costing the taxpayers millions of dollars. And that goes for our President and our congress as well.

If Idaho and Utah, for instance, can demonstrate that it is possible to live within substantial economies, it stands to reason other states and our national government, for that matter, could do likewise.

In any event, the people of Idaho should be thankful that their state is managing its affairs in a business-like manner, is out of debt, operating on a balanced budget and is keeping its tax structure within reasonable bounds.

Our governor and our legislators deserve a lot of credit for the part they have played in making Idaho even more substantial.

GRIVANCE—CAN YOU tell me why the British were so sore when an American admiral was named to command the North Atlantic fleet? I am sure they are not so stupid as to believe that they will be given more money, a year of basic education, and even if there should be a war, it would be a great background, and harden them up in a quiet way.

It is not really accurate to say that we are throwing boys of 18 into battle. It would be military folly, and also a political blunder in the broadest sense, and in the event of a war, it would be to rush untrained and undisciplined boys into battle.

As reading a mass of conflicting testimony, I think there are only two reasons for taking them so young: (1) They make better, harder and more obedient soldiers. (2) They are more likely to be trained young enough—21 or 22 or older—to begin their education or life work without threat of an interruption of the period of their reserve status.

Anton Hansen, teacher of both classes, was the main attraction. He gave a short talk during the dinner. The program included a piano solo by Evelyn Benson, reading by Peggy Fruit and a clarinet solo by Shirley French.

The banquet was furnished and served by Mrs. Devoil Goff, Mrs. Arnold Ostrom, Mrs. Charles Burwood and Mrs. Mrs. Stanley Arnold.

PREPARING TO TAKE OVER

It's encouraging to note that Idaho's new highway commission is getting off to an early start in its preparations to take over July 1.

The commission already has chosen Roxore Rich, Burley rancher, as chairman and Leonard Floan, Orofino lumberman, as vice chairman. The other member on the commission is Fisher Ellsworth, Idaho Falls.

At their first meeting for a preliminary discussion of plans, the three commissioners made it known they intend to familiarize themselves with highway administrators of other states having systems similar to Idaho's. They plan particularly to confer with the Oregon highway commission during the April session.

So far as can be learned, all of the three members on Idaho's new highway commission are thoroughly in sympathy with the effort to get the state's highway set-up out of politics.

How successfully the new commission works will be entirely up to these three men. There is a tremendously important assignment because efficient highway administration is one of Idaho's greatest problems.

The new system gets off to a good start, chances are well laid out, a vastly improved system of highways from here on out.

WE ARE AMAZED—AGAIN

We assume Governor Jordan will veto a part-mutual gambling bill that has been quietly slipped through the Idaho legislature, as Governor Gossett did several times. We are amazed that the thing could be done so easily.

In fact we are constantly amazed at the facile power any gambling lobby exercise on our legislators. Some thing like a professional hypnotist putting the "hypnotic" on them or a big time fixer distributing thousand dollar bills among eager recipients.

Actually we know nothing of this sort happens. The legislators are honorable men, with very few if any exceptions. Part-mutual gambling is a very profitable operation in Idaho as the records of rural tracks over in Oregon when it is legal will show. The lobby backing this bill could have very formidable support if it were not for the fact that it is a popular demand.

Not Idaho legislators in ignorance of the attitude of their constituents toward commercial gambling, especially after the votes of leading Idaho cities and counties, and the national attitude, are it is the close link between gambling, politics and crime.

Yet most any gambling bill seems to slide through our legislators as if on greased skates. Some day we find out how and why.—Nampa Free Press.

WELKER ON THE DRAFT

Herman Welker was one of five senators to vote against the 18-year-old draft, but he gives as his reason not opposition to the draft principle, but opposition to the age and dictatorial powers conferred to the President in the bill.

Welker, a capable lawyer, is probably right. At least this writer would want to see the wording of the bill and see how it would be interpreted. The bill appears also to contain permanent provision for compulsory military training after the age of 18 if there is a popular demand.

We hate to see the country committed to a long term draft, especially if it is in such a makeshift manner.

This column has disapproved a few Indiana Herman Welker has been in the news for some time. He took office two months ago, but we admire his courage in standing virtually alone on a question where he is convinced he is right, and probably is right.—Nampa Free Press.

Hank Caught Again by Guide Trick of Delegating His Task

By HENRY McLEMORE
 ATTENTION—I would have bet my last dram—and I would have won when I suggested a guide to Hank on the glory that was Greece.

It is his little quirk to make you make a guess about everything he shows you before he will tell you anything about it.

You have no dreaming idea what the answer is, but you make a stab. Your answer, always wrong, is taken seriously on one side of H. C. or the other, causes his grin to break into a laugh. When he is finished laughing he jumps up and down in excitement, points his finger at you, and in a voice loud enough to attract the attention of block-away passersby, cries, "You're wrong! You're wrong!"

This routine never changes. We guessed at the age of statues, the sculptor who executed them, the kind of marble used, and we guessed at who, in his temple honored, and what god or goddess was worshipped there, and the name of that mountain, and who destroyed this, and who replaced that.

If it was Hercules' aim to show

I've had these stand-ins all over the world, and without fail they fall into two classes:

1. They know so little that they fling yourself expiating points of interest to them.

2. They have some outstanding peculiarity that all but drives you nuts before the eighteenth tour is over.

A few I recall are Jimmy in Bude-who was delighted when we pointed out St. Sophia to him, George in Danawaco who looked with scorn on the old city and wanted to show us nothing but the new buildings that were equipped with electric, another Jimmy in Piler who carried a bunch of grapefruit the size of a bird's house in his hand and chewed on it without letup, making it impossible to get near enough to him to hear what he was saying, and the Sikh who drove us from New Delhi to Agra and refused to look at the Taj Mahal, it being his contention that the Taj was a junk heap and that we should ignore up one afternoon in glory, he was nearly laughed down nearly every time we got to the name Nike, he could hardly get his picture taken. I think I'll get a camera built in front by the U. S. A., you don't (Copyrighted by McLeMORE)

Wain Gives North Idaho Team State 'B' Cage Crown

POCATELLO, March 17 (AP)—Geneese went physically into the fourth quarter to upset Heyburn 32-15 and charge off with the championship in Idaho's class B high school basketball tournament. It was an electrifying ball game. It was tied up at the end of the first two periods. It didn't end like pre-game dopsters said it was supposed to be. Heyburn fans were disappointed to see their eyes roll.

An estimated 3,000 fans watched the game and from the first two squads, playing sharp ball, beat it down the stretch matching shot for shot until it was 18-14 at the half.

The third period found a personal duel developing between Jim Bennett of Geneese and Bus Connor of Heyburn. Bennett got the best of the affair.

The fourth quarter showed a mad all-out battle between the two sides of both squads and that's when Geneese turned up the rams, when Geneese couldn't get any more points (faded through the hoop for Geneese in that quarter on nine points and two free throws).

Connor and Keith Uscala—who handled those previous Heyburn victories of the team—were in for a fine job of once more trying to stave off defeat, but Geneese took it to Heyburn and the latter Heyburn scoring with 16 points.

Heyburn entered the finale with a 37-19 lead over Middleton. The latter team, Geneese was having a difficult time of it, but a surge by Grace 8-4 in the semi-final.

With one minute and 48 seconds left, Heyburn scored 12 points in the final quarter, 33-44. Things began to get worse. With three seconds remaining, Middleton Dave Stone hit a rebound shot, making it 33-56 for Heyburn. An unidentified referee threw the ball into the air, rebounded, but a fraction of a second after the final horn sounded.

Wain was the star.

Heyburn with 16 points, Stone, Wain, and Uscala were the leading scorers of the outstanding players in the tourney, led Middleton with 16 points.

In consolation contests Friday afternoon, Ririe dumped Rathdrum 21-10 and Abertson eliminated Grace 47-17.

Area Colleges Take Steps on Athletic Code

DENVER, March 17 (AP)—Heads of colleges and universities in the district seven of the National Collegiate Athletic association voted Friday to work out a code of performance for the district seven of the National Collegiate Athletic association.

The district comprises schools in Colorado and Rocky Mountain states.

Presidents of 11 of the 14 institutions in the district met here today. Those unable to attend the two day meeting were President Carl McClellan of the University of Colorado, and Carl W. McIntosh of Idaho State University.

McIntosh said he believes that the code of performance is a necessary statement:

"We affirm our belief that there is a legitimate and proper place for athletics in the established pattern of higher education. We further affirm our belief that the athlete should stand in the same position as any other student in the college or university. We believe that no student should be discriminated against on the basis of his athletic ability or performance. We believe that no student should be discriminated against on the basis of his athletic ability or performance. We believe that no student should be discriminated against on the basis of his athletic ability or performance."

Idaho Falls Wins State A Title As Lewiston Beats Burley 54-47

MOSCOW, March 17—Idaho Falls plucked the state class A high school basketball championship plunk tonight by rolling over Preston 48-40.

Tiger forward Les Roh sparked the victory with 21 points, and also capped the tourney's scoring honors. His total in the three games played was 65. A crowd of 2,600 people turned out in the big University of Idaho Memorial gymnasium to watch the Idaho Falls victory and the consolation final in which Lewiston dumped Burley 54-47.

Tonight's game was almost an anti-climax for the Tigers who last night downed the defending champions of Nampa. But Preston always was within striking distance as the going was hot and heavy in the final half when two Idaho Falls men outdid out, Jim Howard and Wally Meukow.

Roh's 21 points in the first quarter gave Idaho Falls a 16-9 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The biggest job for the Tigers was to stop Preston's six-foot, 5-inch center Bob Fulton, tallest man of the tourney. He was held to eight points.

Steadily gaining in every period, the Tigers led 22-21 at the half and 40-37 at the end of the third quarter. They called out the final minute of the game when the 48-40 point had been reached.

The Turkey Bobcats, after far behind, tied the game twice—once in the second quarter and again in the fourth—but never could get the extra point to forge ahead.

Lewiston's scoring was fairly well distributed among its first stringers, with Bud Nelson leading the pack for 16 points.

Ferry held back 15 for the Bobcats.

Lewiston led 10-4 at the end of the first quarter and had a 24-22 edge at the half. Darwin Grimm, Dick Dodd and Ron Webb sparred a rally that sent the score tied at 27-27 at the end of the third period.

Burley forward Don Smith led the Bobcats' scoring spree that made the score again in the fourth period.

Burley missed 11 of its 24 free throw attempts, while Lewiston made 12 of its 17 chances.

Idaho Falls and Preston scored slim wins Friday to enter the championship final, while Lewiston was defeating Sandpoint 41-24 and Burley was eliminating Kellogg 58-41 in the consolation game.

The Idaho Falls victory was the biggest upset of the tournament and the second loss in two years for Nampa, defending champions.

A determined second half rally paved the way for the Tiger Nampa's center, Jay Dean, and his younger brother, Mickey, controlled the game to that point and continued their domination late into the third quarter.

BYU Trips Day 62-43 to Captains NIT's Hoop T

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—Brighton Young men, getting an All-America performance from Roland Minson, shattered Dayton's Cinderella tonight to win the National Invitation basketball ship.

The six-foot Minson, a mid-get in this day of hardwood giants, thrilled a packed Madison Square Garden crowd of 18,375 with a fantastic exhibition of rebounding, stealing and shooting. He couldn't be contained.

The energetic youngster with the crew haircut shot Dayton, hitting with either and both hands and from all parts of the floor to reach up 20 points.

With a 20-point lead, 61-41, and two and a half minutes to play Coach Stanley Watts pulled out his regular team—Minson with 16—armed a dazzling roar from the crowd, but they had to wait.

Minson's six-foot-five teammate, Mel Hutchins, nullified Dayton's point scoring threat, long Don Metzger, limiting the six-foot-seven pivot to seven points including only one field goal. Metzger was the tournament's leading scorer with a total of 17 points for his first three games.

AS YOUR MINISTER SEES IT

"What's the Use?"

By HERMAN C. RICE
(Pastor, First Baptist Church)

Are you alarmed over the mounting pessimism, cynicism and a sense of frustration which seem to affect so many people? If you are alarmed, here is hope. If you are discouraged, may heaven help you. Unless we find a way to rise above these depressing attitudes and find the causes for this mounting plague affecting the people.

Rev. Rice

And right there we come up against what seems to be a stone wall. What can we do about 117,700 souls who are tempted to throw up their hands and ask, "what's the use?" But that is really a good question. If it were a question rather than the final gasp of a soul forlorn, dejected and defeated, I am not wishing as one who has all the answers. If anyone has an easy answer that would solve the world problems and bring peace he ought to step forward with it. There is no easy way to change the declining morals of the people nor can we, by passing a few more laws, stop the corruption of basketball players or men highly placed in political affairs.

Realistically we must face these conditions. They are nothing new. Variations of such things have gone on for who knows how long. But during the long course of human history there have been those who pointed to the better way. They did not run from the problems, but faced as they and their house were concerned they would "serve the Lord" by which they meant that they would play the game by the rules and "do the right thing." God helping them. We cannot do less and have any peace of mind and the moral power to help make a citizen better world.

All of this comes down to the individual. We are a part of the great whole which is human society, but we have our individual place in it. As such we learn to walk and talk and think and act. We feed on material "substance" to "nourish our bodies and as individuals, we can make our approach to the source of moral and spiritual power. God is the source from which we get the ability to stand up against the ill of humanity and maintain a peace of mind. Jesus said, "In the world ye shall have tribulation, but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world." In a word, we are likely to be faced with the problems which produce pessimism, frustration and cynicism as long as we live. We cannot hope to change the world until we are changed. A more meaningful game was never gotten than when it was said, "ye shall receive power when the Holy Spirit is come upon you; and you shall be witnesses . . . to the end of the earth."

To all of this some may want to "hurt the cycle's hand" and if you must you will, but we should remember that some have lived and died in the "power of God." Those who try to follow this way will stumble, and as they cry they will pray, and as they pray they will find a way to rise above these depressing attitudes and find the causes for this mounting plague affecting the people.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Clients of hospitals usually are known as patients. The new Magic Valley Memorial hospital in TWIN FALLS when completed, will cater to patients, of course, but it will also serve customers in the normal sense of the word.

Generally speaking, the customers won't be patients and vice versa. There's no rule against this, naturally, but it probably won't work out that way.

The hospital's deviation from generally accepted practices will be in the form of a snack bar and gift shop in a hospital.

As far as the snack bar is concerned, it is as good as out of place as a ham sandwich at a banquet but they definitely have a place.

Originally, it was planned to have a gift shop in a place. The hospital was to be a backdrop for husbands (and others) who upon arrival at the hospital, discover they have forgotten to pick up some toilet article requested by a patient.

The addition of a snack bar was only a gift shop the new building. It is the addition of the hospital.

McGivray has noticed that many times friends and relatives, especially ill or injured patients sometimes wait long hours without food before they can get out of place.

McGivray said, "I frequently, McGivray said, he can get purchase food from the hospital."

Large metropolitan hospitals in recent years snack bars have been built to serve just such a purpose. The thought came to the superintendent that if the new hospital was to have a gift shop a snack bar would be out of place.

The bar will cater to friends and relatives of patients and will serve coffee, soft drinks, sandwiches and ice cream.

Since Sept. 1, 1930, McGivray has shown more than 1500 organizations through the new hospital. Almost every one of the 2,000 persons in each group, he said, asks about the snack bar. They all seem to like the idea, he added, although, at first, it strikes them as being novel and out of place for a hospital.

Southern Idaho College of Education at ALBION, known until recently as Albion state normal, has been fighting for its existence almost since her very earliest days.

Col. J. E. Miller, later first mayor of Burley, gave the school its start. When he couldn't convince legislators who asked lack of land as an excuse, Colonel Miller gave five acres of land to the state for the school.

Through his efforts the second legislature in 1892 established two normal schools, one in the north and one in the south. Albion was chosen as the southern site, provided the citizens there could build a building and maintain it until 1905. A board of trustees was appointed but no appropriation made for maintenance.

The people of Albion, together with a few other Cassia county residents, donated $20,000 and their labor to complete a two-story, three-room rock building which opened its doors to 25 students in the fall of 1892.

To those who waged the fight to establish, build and keep Albion, this looked like the final blow—but Albion was again saved when the bill was declared unconstitutional. So Albion people breathed easier and the college continued to grow.

Through the money and efforts of the citizens of Albion, who bonded themselves when the need came, the buildings were completed at Albion, and today the college and village are one in spirit.

But now it looks as though the fight is over. With no funds to continue it appears as though the death knell for the school has been sounded at Albion.

The school has not been abolished. All it lacks is funds to operate. Albion residents won't believe the school is dead. They don't want to believe it for to them, the school is their life and their livelihood. Many of the residents of Albion depend upon revenue from the school, directly or indirectly from the pupils, for their support.

It is claimed by residents that no less than five businesses will cease to exist if the school goes out of existence. These businesses are, not taking the lack of funds into consideration, the first appropriation for the school would last, but within a year the school had grown until five faculty members were needed. The first appropriation of $17,500 was obtained over the governor's veto and the money was used to add to the stone building which was called Swanger hall.

John E. Smith, OAKLEY, fought for the first appropriation for Albion. It was battle after battle for the normal school. In 1896 salaries of teachers had to be reduced because of lack of funds, but in 1903, through the work of Frank Elliott, early Cassia county educator, and Sen. George A. Day, Oakley, a bond was passed for $120,000 in bonds to complete Swanger hall, install water and light plants and make the campus beautiful.

In 1905 the citizens of Albion donated another five acres to enlarge the campus and $20,000 was appropriated to build the second dormitory. The first dormitory was constructed with $10,000 in bonds issued in 1901.

On Jan. 3, 1905, the training school was instituted which gave normal students of Idaho actual practice in teaching children as they prepared for the teaching profession. And Albion continued to grow in spite of opposition.

In 1914, both normal schools survived an economy move to do away with them. After the county area was moved to Burley from Albion, another movement started to move the normal school there, too. The sixteenth legislature passed a bill calling for the removal of the normal school to Burley September, 1922.

All year around, his large west window is brilliant with geraniums and, in winter-time, she manages to have her many polyanthes blooming at the proper time. All ages, from small children to elder people, stop to admire Grandma Spaur's flowers.

On Jan. 12, Mrs. Spaur celebrated her 82nd birthday anniversary. But the greatest thrill on her anniversary came when her granddaughter, Mrs. Reed Tuttle, Salt Lake City, presented her with a grandaigander. Her children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and flowers are her treasures.

Last year Mrs. Spaur was selected a member of "Royal Order of the Green Thumb," a radio station club which pays special honors to people who share their flower-raising skill with others. But Mrs. Spaur feels that having a "green thumb" is just giving love care to flowers rather than a special gift, and her flowers, she says, give her a "lift." She'd be surprised how many other people get a "lift" from them, too.

PLANS MADE
FILER, March 17—Plans for the monthly jamboe sponsored by the Victory-Central PTA on March 30 at the high school gymnasium will be discussed at a meeting of the PTA executive board Monday. Mrs. Moffitt Kimbrey, will be the caller. The next regular PTA meeting will be held March 26 at the high school.

Recent surveys made by G. O. Eldredge, Little Wood river water-master, indicate that GARNEY may be in for another dousing this spring.

Additional snow in the area in the last two weeks has increased the flood danger considerably. Eldredge said, if the weather turns warm suddenly and is accompanied by rain, the threat of flood will be great.

There is a covering of ice and snow two and one-half feet deep in the upper area above the Wood river dam, the watermaster said, if conditions come just right Carey will see some high water again.

This, of course, is nothing new to residents of the community. The Little Wood river, for years, has given Carey residents a bad time in the spring. Considerable work has been done on flood control projects but the danger is not yet passed.

Crossed fingers will be the sign of greeting in Carey until the spring run-off is out of the way.

Few people in BURLLEY give more pleasure to a greater number of people than Mrs. Anna Spaur, herself, is not conscious of the bounty and plenty she shares with others, because she goes about her work each day

NOTICE FARMER

OF MAGIC VALLEY

Besides the obvious personal benefit, the official disguise, the statement is unfounded. It demonstrates an utter lack of understanding. The tests made throughout Idaho by the Idaho Soil Commission in 1933, as well as innumerable conditions by farmers themselves, refutes that contention.

The prime factors which cause a contention over so-called "raw rock phosphate" being marketed and undersigned is specially adapted to long term use and maintenance of soil fertility; and that it is a free natural calcium phosphate, ground to a fine exceeding previous milling efforts. Try this ground natural calcium phosphate on your own land to judge its merits for yourself.

Higher Court Gets Dispute On Minor Suit

A dispute between Probate Judge E. T. Hamilton and Attorney J. M. Barnes based on Judge Hamilton's refusal to enter a default judgment without requiring evidence to support a complaint was taken under advisement Friday by District Judge Hugh A. Baker. Barnes seeks a writ of mandamus from district court ordering Judge Hamilton to enter a default judgment.

Results From Suit
The action is an outgrowth of a civil suit brought to probate court by Marvin Slarry against Marvin Moran. Slarry filed a complaint seeking judgment for $231.43 allegedly due for groceries and merchandise.

After Morgan failed to answer the complaint within the time specified in the summons, Barnes, representing Slarry, applied to Judge Hamilton for a default judgment for the amount specified in the complaint. The attorney claims the court has no alternative but to enter a default judgment for the amount asked as provided by Idaho statute in this type case.

However, Judge Hamilton opined the attorney's pleadings do not show a contract necessary under the statute and that the court should not grant a judgment without requiring proof to support the complaint.

Class Planned

KIMBERLY, March 17—In connection with the civil defense program the Red Cross is offering a home nursing class for residents of Kimberly.

The class will be taught by Mrs. W. M. Harmaning. The first class will be held at 2 p.m. March 26 in the Legion hall. Classes will be held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday for two weeks.

Mezzo-Soprano to Be Featured For Concert Here on Tuesday

Mezzo-soprano Mona Paulee, concert opera and radio personality, will be the last performer of the season on the Community Concert series when she appears at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Twin Falls high school auditorium.

The dark haired singer, who began her singing career in Nashville, rose to prominence in 1941 when she won the Metropolitan Opera audition of the year. Since then she has sung roles in "Aida," "Mignon," "Hugobert," "The Merry Widow" and other operas with the company.

Miss Paulee was born in Edmonston, Canada, of French-Russian ancestry and came to Portland, Ore., when 4 years old. Her father was a theater manager and, clothing at every singing opportunity, she became a soloist in a movie house circuit.

Finally Miss Paulee graduated to light opera and oratorios and then to solo engagements with the renowned Pasadena Bach society and the Federal symphony. In 1939 she was engaged by the San Francisco opera company where she sang major roles and understudied the principals.

After her success with the Metropolitan Opera, the soprano turned to radio and has appeared as guest soloist on such programs as "Harvest of Stars," "Music America Loves Best," "The Voice of Firestone," and the Chicago "Crest of the Air."

While still devoting part of her time each season to operatic appearances, Miss Paulee now concentrates more on recital and radio work. Her solo appearances range from appearances with noted symphonies to renditions of popular songs to the accompaniment of Tommy Dorsey's orchestra.

Denmark has been using a vaccine known as BCG against tuberculosis since the early 1920s.

State Senator Talks at Meet On Economies

In discussing economy measures attempted by the present legislature, Irwin told members that "everybody wants economy but it starts taking something away from them and then they aren't so sure."

"The present administration is making an honest attempt to practice economy and it remains to be seen whether the public really wants economy," he concluded.

A report on the last board meeting given by Don O. Wood and Frank Palmer talked on the weed situation. The low weed law was reviewed by Jack Thibault, president, and the group agreed to continue work on revisions of the Idaho weed law.

The pending cooperative agreement between the state and county, which is to be presented to the state for approval and returned to the county for ratification, was explained by Ray T. Jacobs.
