Pioneer Doctor at Gooding Is Nearing 48 Years of Active Medical Practice

Nearing Anniversary

GOODING, April 14—On May 1, Dr. J. H. Cromwell, one of Gooding's earliest doctors, will have completed 48 years of continuous practice here except for the time when he served in the medical corps during World War I. May 1 also marks 48 years in the medical profession.

Dr. Cromwell is third in four generations of doctors in his family. Both his father and grandfather were practicing physicians and he has a son, Dr. J. O. Cromwell, who is head of the state hospital at Blackfoot.

In April, 1911, Dr. Cromwell came west to Bill to visit friends. He spent two weeks looking around and finally settled in the young city of Gooding as his future home.

During his years of practice the doctor estimates that he has delivered nearly 3,000 babies. At one time in the early 1920's he recalls having treated more than 40 cases of spotted fever. In the days before the "shots" for Rocky Mountain fever were perfected one case often meant a daily call for three to four weeks.

When the doctor came to Gooding there had been four other physicians but none stayed any length of time. The Hiss brothers had opened a hospital in what is now the Hiss building. A Dr. R. T. Carey was there at the time Dr. Cromwell arrived.

Mrs. Margaret Blaker was the first graduate nurse in the city and her time was given over to helping the doctors and doing special duty.

In the days before cars Dr. Cromwell used a saddle horse to make his rounds of patients at Clover Creek, Dry Creek, Hagerman valley, Shoshone and King Hill. On the longer trips he depended on the livery barn for a team and buggy. A call in those days often meant one day to get to the patient and one day to return.

In bad weather travel was further hampered when the mud in Main street was hub deep.

Dr. Cromwell was among the first residents of Gooding to drive a car. His first one was a second hand Metz, a four-cylinder air-cooled model.

He would drive a block or two and stop to let the motor cool off. Only two other cars were in the city at that time. Frank R. Gooding, founder of the city, owned a Pierce Arrow and Charles Young, railroad agent, owned a White Steamer.

In 1912 the Cromwells built the family home on Oregon and Seventh streets and moved into it in 1913. Then, in 1920, he and his present wife moved to their new office building on Main street, between 1922 to 1927 his son, Dr. J. O. Cromwell, was in the office with him.

In 1918, with Dr. H. E. Lamb, who is now located in Eugene, Ore., Dr. Cromwell helped found the Gooding county hospital. Dr. Cromwell decided the only thing to do was to open a hospital to facilitate volunteering for army medical corps care of the sick while he was away. They continued on down the street, making plans, and within a few days had started the ball rolling which soon brought in subscriptions amounting to nearly $20,000. Only once since then has the hospital been closed. That was after World War I when lack of turning staff, expense of operating and inadequate capacity forced the hospital to be closed for a year.

Dr. Cromwell has served on the city board and on the staff since that time and, at present, is chief of staff of the hospital.

He also has been a United Pacific railroad surgeon the past 25 years. He has served on the school board and has been county physician of the time since the county was organized. He has been county physician for several years.

Twenty-five years ago he helped organize the Gooding Rotary club and at the anniversary celebration recently he was awarded special tribute. He served as the first Rotary club president and in 1937 and 1938 he served as district governor of the fifth district for Rotary. He is a member of the Masonic, Eastern Star and IOOF lodges and attends the Methodist church.

Dr. Cromwell served on the draft board during World War I and then enlisted in the medical corps, serving as a captain for one year in France.

He is a member of the American medical association, the Idaho state medical association and the south central district medical association.

Dr. Cromwell was born at Tine, in Pike county, Ill., Dec. 25, 1876. He received common and high school training in Pike county and his medical training at the St. Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons. He taught school for four years in a county, serving as principal at one time.

His father, Dr. George O. Cromwell, practiced medicine in Pike county as did his father, Dr. Nathaniel Cromwell.

In 1903 he was graduated from medical college and went to Nepo, in Pike county where he practiced with his father for five years. From there he went to Knox county in north Illinois and practiced there for three years before coming to Idaho in 1911.

In 1904 the doctor married Emma Berry, Pleasant Hill, Ill., who died at Gooding in 1932.

In 1903 Dr. Cromwell married Gladys Hayden, teacher and educator who was an instructor of English at the Gooding college at the time of their marriage. Mrs. Cromwell has served as principal of the high school in Lincoln, Neb., taught in Montana and later at Gooding. She was a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan and University of Nebraska. She died Jan. 12.

Dr. Cromwell has three sons, Dr. J. O. Cromwell, superintendent of the state hospital at Blackfoot; J. F. Cromwell, practicing attorney in Boise, and Robert H. Cromwell, South San Francisco, who owns and operates a radio sales and service business.

The doctor's one means of relaxation has been fishing. His one great desire is to be able to continue his active practice for at least two more years, enabling him to realize his ambition of 50 years practice in the service of humanity.

It's Time for People to Raise Their Voices, This Man Says

Editor, Times-News: I couldn't help but make our selves heard in Washington. We have seen all the headlines and news items about the "Public Forum" which should be enlightening. Many of us have been aware of the total leadership of our leaders but now even the most conservative should be wiser.

Of all the occupied countries of the world, Japan alone stood as a model of perfection and was

Shelley Woman Marvels Over Work of People in Twin Falls

Editor, Times-News: I couldn't help but marvel at the article I read in one of the daily newspapers where Twin Falls has been given all the credit for the betterment program. This time a cleanup drive. Also, I note that the cleanup drive will include traffic hazards, grade crossings and fire hazards.

When the citizens of Twin Falls start out to do something nothing gets in their way. They are doing that thing. I wish the same could be said about all the cities in our state.

Widow Says She Won't Pay Fees In Garbage Law

Editor, Times-News: I am a widow and have run my little home for 20 years. I am in the paper the city is talking about the garbage law. I won't do it. I'll haul it off myself.

I am sure the law is not in it, but it came up the alley and I won't pay $100 for two tons. I'll haul it off myself.

She's Wondering Why Folks Upset Over MacArthur

Editor, Times-News: I am sure with someone would tell me why everyone in the U. S. and all over the world, for that matter, got so upset over MacArthur. I have seen many telegrams, telephone calls and letters to Washington, D. C., and I am sure that the folks are upset because an old man got fired from his job.

One of young boys have been killed and a lot more are going to be killed in Korea. And even in a war you seem to know why they are being killed and not interested in the fact that you write one little letter.

All I can say is it's too bad people aren't as smart as you are.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapters Thank People for Help

Editor, Times-News: Members of the three chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Zeta Phi Eta, took a great deal of pride in presenting the balance of the proceeds from the Idaho Valley Memorial Hospital fund Thursday.

The 48 members worked hard for two years to make the $400 which they had pledged. However, we did not accomplish this alone but owe a vote of thanks to the community in general for assistance.

Last year citizens helped by attending a community concert sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi. Similarly, the chapter is again grateful to the community for its help.

To several business firms we wish to extend our special thanks for generous contributions, namely, Diamond Hardware company, Budd's dairy shop, Drive-Way market, Idaho Power company, Twin Falls police department, Times-News, Grava-Restaurant company. We are proud of our accomplishment, but more proud that you made our goal possible.

Idaho Fortunate For Sterilization Law, Iowan Says

Editor, Times-News: Idaho is fortunate in having a sterilization law. This law protects the public from the insane, feeble-minded or epileptic persons who can be protected at state expense.

The operation, whether on a man or a woman, does not take away organs of the body or prevent marriage. No change results in bodily appearance. The operation is reversible. A woman's attractiveness is not altered—nor do men lose their masculinity.

Because many people do not know of the operation, it has not been used in Idaho as widely as it might be. It can help to protect the community from the insane, feeble-minded or epileptic persons who can be protected at state expense.

It can allow many of these patients to live outside of institutions, and many of them can be self-supporting. And most important of all, it can protect unfortunate children from the genetic influence of their unfortunate heredity.

Won't you publish this letter to tell your readers of this important instrument of preventive medicine?

Shipments of Potatoes up, Report Notes

IDAHO FALLS, April 14—Idaho potato shipments are well ahead of a year ago, a final report from the Idaho state marketing news office showed.

The report said that 1944 more acres of potatoes had been shipped out of east Idaho this season than the 1943 season. The Twin Falls-Burley district also showed an increase over last season's totals, but a drop in other districts left the total increase over the state at 23.04 carloads.

Although the marketing news office has closed, the season is not over. Official indicated they believe between 7,000 and 7,200 carloads throughout the state are yet to be shipped.

A recapitulation of the season from figures compiled in the marketing office shows that the highest price paid the grower for U. S. No. 1 was $1.10 and the lowest 85 cent. With exception of the 1943 season, the average price paid the grower was less than 50 cents a bushel.

Price Increases

The bureau of agricultural economics estimates this year's crop at 46,000,000 bushels while the final survey of last season's potato output shows 34,000,000 bushels. An increase of more than 12,000,000 bushels.

Only 37,477 bushels of potatoes were shipped last season, while 26,658 carloads have already been shipped this year in 14 districts.

The marketing news office comment that "the marketing season was indicated greatly by the huge crop which promised to be a record breaker."

Prices Lower

"Prices generally were 40 cents to 60 lower than last year, growers continued to hold out for higher prices. Only during the peak of the harvest in mid October, when storage facilities became available, were shippers able to buy freely, and at the time potatoes were in very poor demand."

"Figures compiled April 3 of this year show that shipping county is still the heavy shipper of Idaho potatoes with 16,218 carloads shipped. This year's crop, only 14,000 carloads, was second with 6,557 carloads shipped, and Twin Falls county was third with 4,662 carloads shipped."

RFC Change to Guaranteeing Loans Supported by Director

By DARWIN F. FLAOKI (Washington Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 14—(Special)—Director Walter D. Coe, RFC, today said he favors changing the agency into one that simply "guarantees" loans.

The change would help to restore confidence in RFC.

Coiffred added: "In general, I agree with the idea of changing RFC to an agency that guarantees business loans and operates through banks, like the federal housing administration."

Asked if his views on this subject coincided with those expressed by Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R. Utah, a member of the senate subcommittee investigating RFC scandals, Coe said: "I am sure they do."

Such an arrangement, he said, would permit RFC to close up its 22 district offices and operate from Washington. This should result in cutting personnel by "about half."

The only catch in the picture, Coe said, is that the American Bankers' Association and "other powerful groups" have killed in congress a bill to reorganize RFC. Plans to turn RFC into a "guarantee" agency, however, are still in its infancy.

Because of the great aid given to small businesses on loans secured through the RFC, Coe said he does not want to see the "principles" of federal loans to business abolished entirely.

He puts it this way: "If you were out in the middle of the ocean and would prefer to ride in a lifeboat but didn't know how to swim, you would not stick a knife into a rubber floor."

In other words, rather than abolish the agency entirely, Coe said he would keep it as is. He says RFC has built up a reputation for "safety" or "40 or 60 cents" it made since its foundation in 1922.

He says loans totaling $10,000,000 have been made—over this period of time—with only $1,000,000 of bad loans and $900,000,000 net profit to the U. S.

He says the RFC has helped thousands of small businesses and guaranteed home loans give them a safe income. He asserts that this differs from the pre-depression days when banks "lived off the interest from business loans."

In several appearances before committees this year, Coe said he has made a uniformly good showing and the end of several he had denied credit mourning because he was a Republican and wouldn't leave his party.

Carey's CAP Eyes Plan to Buy Airstrip

CAREY, April 14.—Capt. Moulton, state director of aeronautics, met with CAP members at Carey Thursday evening to discuss matters connected with problems and plans of the organization.

The Carey airport was discussed and recommendations were made by Moulton for the betterment of the strip. He said a plan for making the strip better for general aviation and recommendations should be made by the Carey unit for presentation to the Boise county commissioners. Advantages of abandoning the present strip and purchasing a new field was considered.

The present field, while located in an accessible location within the city limits, has cross winds from the Little Wood river, which are hazardous unless pilots are familiar with the condition.

It was decided to contact owners of land located east of Main street to learn if purchase of other property is possible.

Three films depicting the future possibilities of aviation were shown. Willbur Halalay, Boise, accompanied Moulton to Carey.

Co-Ed Invades Baseball Team With Success

PORTLAND, Ore., April 14 (AP)—The girl who invaded the male baseball world struck out Friday, Four times.

"But what the heck, it's worth it to have an infielder who looks like that," said a grinning teammate of 19-year-old Margaret Dobson Friday after the last time.

At that, the Vapour college co-ed didn't hunt her team any. Vapour downed Clark junior college 10-2 and Margaret performed amply.

Also, she did manage to hit the ball once. She laid down a bunt, but some cat picked it up and threw her out.

Coach Arbs Ager wasn't discouraging. Just give her more time, was his advice. Watching the pitcher, posed as she danced about in her position.

There she committed one error, but handled five other chances. She was called three put-outs, including one hard line-drive, and handled two ground balls flawlessly with smooth pick-ups and snappy throws.

Baseball's a new game for the pretty infielder, but she has a solid background in softball. She started with the Lind Field girls' team five years ago and won the leading hitter with a .616 average.

Last year's world amateur softball tournament in St. Anthony, Margaret's sparkling tournament play earned her a spot on the All-America women's softball team for the second straight year.

Covey made his charges on the regular position in softball, but Coach Ager decided second base would be better in baseball because of the longer throw from third. So she played second.

The ex-softballer was Vapour's sparkplug in the field, with spirited catches and bunts. The trim co-ed Vapour last fall, and wants to get a physical education degree.

Durigan also announced that the women's golf association, a media play tournament will be played May 2.

Giant Fish Screen Constructed

The fish and game department hopes no more fingerling fish will be lost down the base line canal south of Bellevue because of this elaborate fish screen placed in operation last week. The screen, built as an experiment in answer to requests of sportsmen, will stop fish from going down the canal and eventually being lost in the flow of water. The screen, constructed by the Oregon fish and game department, was built at an approximate cost of $6,000. It is photo-erected in the canal through the cooperation of irrigators using water from the stream. (Staff photo—enlarged)

Attorney Says Wrestling Is TV Controlled

LOS ANGELES, April 14 (AP)—Attorney Jules J. Covey has charged that an illegal wrestling syndicate is operating in California and attempting to monopolize what he called a $250,000 television bounty.

Covey, a former member and chairman of the athletic board, lodged his charges before the commissioners and a hearing date was set for May 15 here.

Covey made his charges on behalf of a client, Morris Cohen, long time wrestling promoter in Pasadena.

Covey said Cohen had been denied use of top name wrestling talent by John J. Doyle, booking agent for many managers.

Kenneth L. Lynch, attorney for Doyle and former attorney of the California state athletic commission, said his client had not been advised that he had been cited on any charges and asked for a bill of particulars before going into what Covey said would be a "full scale hearing" into the wrestling situation.

It was while arguing over a continuance that Covey complained that "there is an illegal and unlawful conspiracy between bookers, agents and wrestling promoters—a conspiracy against Cohen and other promoters."

"The stakes are high," Covey said. "These people are out to monopolize $250,000 from television interests. All we ask is fair play, equal rights."

Vandal Officials Sift 110 Names For Coach's Post

MOSCOW, April 14 (AP)—University of Idaho Athletic Manager Olin M. Sift said school officials are still busy sifting out over 110 candidates for Idaho's head football coaching job.

Mix gave no indication of when the successor to Dixie Howell, who resigned nearly three weeks ago, will be named. He said, however, that the committee in charge has narrowed the field down to 10 or 12.

Jim Russell Hurled Cowboys to 12-2 Win at Bakersfield

BAKERSFIELD, April 14—Spurred by the firing of Jim Russell, the Twin Falls Cowboys won a night to start the Pioneer League's last exhibition game trip on the west coast.

Russell, the $20,000 Yankee bonus pitcher when he was the first Cowboy hurler to go the route this year. He fanned 10 opposing batters and displayed mid-season form on the mound.

Bakersfield touched Russell for a single run in the first inning and one more in the third. Russell was never in trouble.

Russell led the game himself in the second inning when he socked a double off the scoreboard in deep centerfield, scoring three runs. Vern Campbell, Nils Johansson and Cecil Hamilton were on the base paths at the time.

In the third frame, Manager Don "Deep" Trower started the Cowboys on another sparp when he waited off and Woody Held hit a short double off the scoreboard in deep centerfield, scoring three runs. Vern Campbell, Nils Johansson and Cecil Hamilton were on the base paths at the time.

Three more runs came in the fourth inning as the Cowboys continued their display of power at the plate. Jack Buckwartz and Trower singled to open the inning. Held followed by another single to score Buckwartz and Campbell singled to right, scoring Trower.

It was in this inning that Milne pulled a muscle in his side that he had to leave the game. He will be sidelined for about a week. Milne hurt himself while bailing in the top of the fifth. He drove a walk.

VANDALS SPLIT GAMES

MOSCOW, April 14 (AP)—The University of Idaho capitalized on eight Eastern Washington college errors to down EWU 9-0 in the first game of a baseball doubleheader Friday. But, Eastern bounced back to take the second game 6-4.

DEBATES
IDAHO STATE COLLEGE, Pocatello, April 14—Beverly Crowley, Twin Falls, is one of eight debaters at 120 who took part in the University of Montana invitational debate tournament at Missoula, Mont., Friday and Saturday.

It's time we got TOUGH
IS YOUR community on the sucker list of solicitations rackets? Every time one of these phony do-good organizations starts ringing doorbells, you can figure $100 a day take for it... dollars that ought to be spent on real community needs.

It's time somebody made your town too tough for these racketeers. That somebody could be your chamber of commerce. It isn't a branch of the FBI, but it can have a solicitation and credentials service, as many chambers do. So if you want to clamp down on the bunko boys, take your kick to your chamber. A membership is the only license you'll need.

Maybe you've felt there was nothing in such membership for you. Here's evidence to the contrary. By getting your town off the sucker list you'll be doing a service for your neighbors—and yourself, too.

Basically, your chamber functions as a team. You see the need for solicitation control. Another member has a parking problem. He helps you and you help him. He, you and the community all benefit.

It's not always easy to solve every problem but it is easy to get help. All you need to do is be on the team. Ask your chamber of commerce executives for your kick-off's license.
