Salle Disputes Attlemen Claim, Defends Rollback

INGTON, May 7 (AP)—Price Stabilizer Michael V. Disalle today dismissed cattlemen's complaints that his rollback for beef prices will cut beef production and bring ruin to the industry.

Disalle said that the number of beef cattle in the United States is declining and that the price of beef is falling. He said that the rollback is necessary to stabilize the market and to protect the interests of the consumer.

'Arthur's Korean War Ideas too Risky, Probers Are Advised by Marshall

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Marshall today advised Gen. Douglas MacArthur that his ideas are too big a gamble involving a risk of "fall-out" war with Russia, a split in the free world, and "losing our allies." But he indicated that the United States is prepared to launch air and naval operations in red China if the communists strike at American forces outside Korea.

Red Troops Forced Back by ROK Units

TOKYO, May 7 (AP)—South Korean infantrymen drove the ends of the battle line northward today. Other U. N. forces took up the slack in between while armored patrol units probed for withdrawing roads.

South Koreans pressed across the 38th parallel toward red-held Inha in the east. Other Republican troops moved the western anchor of the Korea fighting line farther northwest of Seoul.

A tank-infantry column rumbled through Chunchon on the east-central front Monday, and a mile beyond, without meeting opposition. Other armored units followed in a similar pattern.

Communist sniped on tank fronts in the Chunchon area. U. S. Army units reported they had taken out a Communist tank at Inha.

American jets left their rockets behind for a mass bomb attack on red troops, supply and transport centers north of the communist capital of Pyongyang. Three F-86 Shooting Stars made bomb raids in three waves on railway yards in the Chunchon area.

The Pyongyang radio claimed six U. N. planes were shot down and five American fighters were damaged. The command did not comment on red propaganda claims that the U. N. command also listed three airtight warships.

U. N. losses: 85,000 troops captured, 12,000 casualties, 1,200 houses destroyed or damaged. The ground forces were the heaviest hit northwest of Seoul.

A "War About Over" South Korean troops made a limited offensive against the U. N. command who had been told there would be no offensive because the war is at a stalemate. Intelligence officers attributed this statement to a Communist officer.

The Communist officer said that the officer had been taken prisoner or was being held in a cage. Other captured U. N. spokesmen offered no interpretation of the statement.

Previously the red officer could not be seen. He was seen with a group of men and a woman and therefore neither was seen in an all-out offensive.

Iceland Duty Is Begun by U. S. Troops

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Deployment of American security troops have landed in Iceland at that country's request, it was disclosed today.

The state department said the contingent will depart the island as part of arrangements under the North Atlantic treaty.

Defense officials said the contingent is a small one and under the command of Col. Gen. Edward J. McDev.

No Armed Force Iceland, an independent nation, just before the Arctic circle and the North Atlantic shipping lanes, has no armed forces of its own.

The state department made public the text of an agreement signed by the United States and Iceland Saturday. It provided that Iceland make available facilities for the U. S. forces.

Under the agreement, the Iceland government retained the right to limit the size of U. S. troops in the country.

Give up Airport The United States also returned to Icelandic control the big Keflavik airport, near Reykjavik. The island since operated by the United States since American troops landed during the war.

A communications group has been formed to maintain contacts for civil aviation.

United States troops landed in Iceland in July, 1941, in another period of increasing tension at the outbreak of the United States in World War II.

Access Road Is OK'd for Salmon Area Mine Plan

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Sen. D. W. Broderick, R. Ill., was informed today that the forest service and public agencies had agreed to authorize construction of access roads for hauling cobalt from the Salmon area.

Broderick said the general secretary of the Salmon area mine plan would be signed this week for stocking cobalt and other minerals.

Special Session Gets Many Issues
SALT LAKE CITY, May 7 (AP)—A special session of the Utah legislature takes up every issue anticipated to date, lawmakers would like to see more legislation, and from Patrick Healy, chairman of the state tax commission, is recommended holding the fuel tax at 6 cents per gallon free during a single trip permit fee. The legislature is slated to meet again on June 4, 1951, for a special session. June 4, 1951, for a special session has been announced.

Aged Dog Given Birthday Party

Dog, 18, Is Guest at Party on Anniversary; Friends Attend

It was another happy birthday anniversary Saturday afternoon for Mike when six young friends trooped in with dog candy, dog food and the like. Mike is a dog of spitz and poodle ancestry, and 18 years old which would make him 80 or 128 (depending on your formula) by human standards. His owner, Mrs. Herman I. Dodson, 345 Fourth avenue east, attributes his long life to his feeding.

She has kept him from getting fat and allows him to eat no sweets. That's why Mike could look and saunter as his birthday cake but couldn't have any. Mrs. Dodson says he never has been sick. The cake was a treat for the birthday party guests. Susan Bohler, Joseph McCollum, Jr., Garth Reid, Bruce Maxwell, Henry Reed and Randy Russell. Four others were invited but couldn't attend, including one youngster who always brings Mike some chicken. This was the fourth birthday party for Mike. He came here five years ago with the Dodsons from Missouri, and has been on long trips with them since that time. Active for his age, Mike likes ball games and jumping. Mrs. Dodson

Project Fund Cut Forecast By Dworshak

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Government projects not needed for defense face sharp appropriation cuts, Senator Dworshak, R. Id., said today. Dworshak told a reporter that House action in slashing $62,000,000 from President Truman's request for an interior department budget of $559,000,000 shows congressmen are giving top priority to national defense spending. The average congressman is approaching every bill with the attitude that it is not necessary to spend so much money when the country is engaged in a costly mobilization effort. Dworshak said. "All non-military projects should be prepared to accept the appropriation cut which will surely come if the tempo of the American people is to be acknowledged." Dworshak warned residents of the Pacific northwest that some "extremely costly" water projects in that area—including Elby dam, Albeni Falls, The Harbor, Palisades, Hell Canyon and American Falls power units—also may face the appropriations axe.

Elker Attacks British War Aid

WILLIAMS, Neb., May 7 (AP)—A Republican Sen. Herman Elker jumped on the British last year for their alleged sales of war surplus to the Chinese. Elker told a state convention of the American Veterans his speech was "not intended to be spread by spreading our money over the world. But when we spend our dollars now, what kind of allies are they going to furnish us with? The Korean war effort, then sell them through Hong Kong surplus and knock us out with the bill of American men?"

THE MORE SMOKERS TEST FOR MILDNESS... THE MORE CAMEL LEADS IN POPULARITY!...

Latest Published Figures Show Camel Has Increased its Lead as America's Favorite Cigarette—by Many More Billions!

There are several "quick trick" methods for testing mildness—a sniff of this cigarette, a puff of that. But after all is said and done, smoker after smoker has realized that there's only one true test: the sensible test of mildness is steady smoking. That's why millions of smokers have already made their own 30-Day Camel Mildness Tests! Today, more people get more pleasure from Camels than from any other cigarette!

Again Survey Shows Doctors' Choice. In the latest survey, conducted by an independent research organization, doctors in every State in the Union—were asked, "What cigarette do you smoke, Doctor?" Again—the brand named most was Camel! According to this repeated nationwide survey, more doctors smoke Camels than any other cigarette.

Former Richfield Resident Passes

RICHFIELD, May 7.—Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Clara Crane, about 83, a former resident of Richfield, who died at a hospital. She had been ill only a short time.

Mrs. Crane had been a resident of Richfield for 35 years, moving to Spokane four years ago. She was the wife of her husband, Ben Crane, and five daughters, Mrs. Max Schrader, Mrs. Edna London, Mrs. Ogie and Edna Crane, all Spokane; and Anna Crane, Portland.

Vet of Revolution Is Thriving Still

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va.—A Revolutionary war veteran who is thriving here. The veteran is the famous Tarleton red oak, believed to be between 400 and 500 years old. A new tree report is kept in finest possible condition. It stands on property of Virginia.

On June 4, 1781, a British cavalryman, Banastre Tarleton, set out with orders to capture Gov. Thomas Jefferson and the legislature. He might have succeeded had it not been for the fact that the British had pitched his tent under the inviting branches of the oak just long enough to allow the patriots to warn the general.

Skilled First Aid Corps Is Big Factor For Atomic Civil Defense, Blandy Says

NEW YORK (NEA)—The cities of America are beginning to face up to the possibility of atomic attack. It is a distinct possibility for many of them. Some have discovered that the most important single factor in civil defense against the atom bomb is trained health personnel.

Hospitals can be destroyed. To wipe out the doctors, nurses and first aid workers of an entire metropolitan area, however, would be impossible.

When widespread destruction has taken place, the secondary consideration to the destruction of human life—temporary quarters for the injured and the unharmed—would be impossible to quickly. But there is no quick substitute for people who know what to do in an emergency.

No city in the world can support enough doctors and nurses to give ideal care to the victims of an atomic bombing. But any city can train enough laymen in first aid to keep many of the injured alive until fully trained personnel can reach them.

For this reason, I believe enormous numbers of citizens must be trained in first aid and organized so that they can work effectively.

Particular attention must be given to the training of citizens in sections outside a city's presumed target areas, for such people would be most likely to survive an atomic bombing and could be rushed to areas of need after the bombing.

Some member of every family should have first aid training.

The American Red Cross has been given the responsibility, in the interests of civil defense, for this mass training in first aid. All the 3,700 chapters of Red Cross throughout the country have been notified to prepare classes in which individuals can receive this training in self-defense and in giving aid to their families and neighbors. It is not necessary to be a civil defense worker to receive the training.

We should all keep ourselves in the best of health. Anyone who has been the victim of illness and who has undergone in combat areas will appreciate the importance of good health as a patriotic obligation, as well as a means of survival.

The healthy have a far better chance to live through such experiences. And, for the good of our country as a whole, it will be valuable in wartime if the least possible attention need be given to the sick and injured to be superimposed on care of the injured.

This is a good time for every community in America—whether a large city or not—to take a good look at its health resources.

In most sections of this country, communities will be pleasantly surprised to discover how much has been accomplished in the field of

Wheelchair Trek Slated by Veteran

LONG BEACH, Calif.—Herculez Horner, a crippled war veteran, says he will start rolling his wheelchair across the country as soon as he gets out of the hospital "just to show people we aren't helpless."

The 30-year-old veteran is in a government hospital here for a checkup. After serving in the infantry from 1918 to 1919 without getting a scratch, he was paralyzed from the waist down in a tractor accident.

Howard said he recently hitchhiked from his home town, Monterey, Calif., to Venice, near here, where he now lives.

"It's nothing new," he said. "I've done it three times."

"Now I'm going to roll across the country under my own power. If I'm successful, it'll prove to a lot of folks that paraplegics can't be counted out until they're dead."

Old Movies Still Held by Library

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Tele-View Inc. has just got a "kick out" of watching old-Umno movies on their sets might like to have the choice available to James Cagney.

Assistant curator in charge of motion pictures for George Eastman house, Clark can flip through an index of reels of films ranging from early "sound" days and back to 1895.

Reels of Charlie Chaplin, Rodolph Valentino and Theda Bara flickers are cataloged with such rare movies as "Paul", with Emil Jannings, the motion picture of William Form into a "highlighter."

The famous landmark atop the city hall supports the antenna of one of two radio transmitters which provide the nation's largest listening bands; the antenna's first dramatic role after graduation from Keystone comedies.

Parade Music Is Downfall for Tot

HOLBROOK, Mass.—To a youngster there is nothing quite as exciting as a parade.

Three boys and a girl, ranging in age from six to nine, had spent 16 hours in a wood near here while 200 men, including a national guard battalion, searched for them.

Constable Arthur J. Lambert parked his car on the edge of the wood, hooked a loudspeaker up with

Gifts Pour in For Egyptian Wedding Rite

CAIRO, May 7 (AP)—Precious gifts poured into Cairo's Abdin palace today following the civil marriage at which King Farouk and his 37-year-old Nourhan Sadek his queen wife yesterday.

As the Nile kingdom continued its jubilant rejoicing at the nuptials with a public banquet, King Farouk and his commoner bride prepared for a gala party at the palace tonight. A gala reception tomorrow night will wind up the festivities.

The chiefs of foreign diplomatic missions arrived at the palace at mid-morning, bringing gifts from their heads of state.

U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery delivered from President Truman a set of four matched Etchings glass vases. Truman had given one vase—a larger one to Iran's shah on the occasion of his marriage.

Krom King George VI came a massive silver inkstand, handed over by a British ambassador, Sir Ralph Stevenson.

The Russians were giving— "If anything"—a scarf.

Many of the gifts were of solid gold. Some were decorated with diamonds and other precious stones.

Gold presents

Cairo's diplomatic corps is presenting, as a group, a gold plate set with precious stones. The Egyptian cabinet is presenting a gold tray with small gold cups ornamented with diamonds.

King Abdullah of Irbasheim Jordan sent a 12-piece toilet set of gold and silver.

King Abdul Aziz of Saudi Arabia and other precious stones, along with two gold chandeliers.

The wedding of Farouk and Nourhan was announced to the joyful public yesterday by the booming of 501 salute guns. Farouk is a 51-year-old, and Nourhan is a 37-year-old monarch.

Hitchhiking Hank Wishes He'd Been Wiser in Derby Selection

BY HENRY MELEMORE
SOMEWHERE BETWEEN LOUISVILLE AND NEW YORK—Kipling was as right as a pup when he said: "He travels fastest who travels alone."

Farmak and Nourhan were on their way home from the Kentucky derby in something of a man's company. He had thought to do so by himself, and not in the company of his wife. If only he had been wiser in his selection of a road, think of it!

It was a long drive from Louisville to New York. Hank was a bit of a pessimist. He had thought to do so by himself, and not in the company of his wife. If only he had been wiser in his selection of a road, think of it!

Many guest artists and at least 400 artists including Utah's renowned tuba concert.

Farm Operators Given Deferment

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin added "farm operators" to a list of jobs subject to military deferment.

Farm operators were defined as those "who perform without supervision a wide variety of skilled tasks in commercial agricultural production."

The other new critical occupations are airplane mechanics, commercial, metal spinner and ship-fitter.

Red Drive to Gain Film Control Fails

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—An intensive communist drive to wrest control of the American motion picture industry has been called off, according to Sen. Edwin Martin, R-Pa.

Martin said the committee failed to gain control of Hollywood, for a number of years, has a strong record of support from the Writers guild and achieved great influence among actors and Hollywood labor unions, but the danger has been removed.

BALLOON FOUND

RICHFIELD, May 7—Pete Casarovic, local chairman, reports that a weather balloon near his present sheep camp in Ladwin park 12 miles southeast of Richfield.

The balloon was sent up by the U. S. weather bureau on Dec. 9, 1949.

Rainfall Drenches Guard's Panicle

LEWISTOWN, May 7 (AP)—Friends of the Lewiston national guard unit have a dreary task to bid farewell to the man who has spent a 21-month tour of duty.

Mustered into federal service May 1, 1949, the son of a Lewiston family, the 148th field artillery will report to Camp Carson, Colo., along with hundreds of other soldiers from Moscow and Cedar of Aisne.

In brief ceremonies, the unit's adjutant, Capt. Fred W. Smith, presented a Junior Chamber of Commerce appreciation plaque. The plaque was presented by Leah Jensen, the daughter of the late Gen. John Walsh, Idaho adjutant general, made a farewell inspection of the troops Saturday.

What's Behind Wool Spiral?

Price tags on these suits are up, but the reason why is shrouded in mystery. It could be because of a natural economic law, or an unusual business procedure...

Wool manufacturers could turn out a woman's suit for $25 in rayon that would cost $75 in wool. And women liked it.

Wool manufacturers see the handwriting on the sheep. Even the strongest forces are considering switching from wool to blends and all-synthetic. The air force might be leading rayon unions, even for winter wear.

Wool men say that just the old law of supply and demand, cut and dried, the supply of wool is short, the demand fabulous and the result is high prices.

But talk to men in other textile branches and they'll give you a different story. They believe that the price rise has been carefully engineered by the wool industry itself. The reason? Manufacturers have been switching to synthetic fibers in rayon, and the wool industry had to raise prices to keep making money.

Opinions Varied on Reasons For Booming of Wool Prices

NEW YORK (Herald)—The next time you go out to buy a pair of wool trousers, you may be back with rayon.

Within the textile industry today, there is a controversy raging over why wool supplies are short and expensive. The answer depends on which expert you talk to.

Wool men say that just the old law of supply and demand, cut and dried, the supply of wool is short, the demand fabulous and the result is high prices.

Production of Oil Still High Despite Fight

By FRED J. ZUST
CAIRO, Egypt, May 7 (AP)—The middle east is booming along with record oil production—despite a widespread uncertainty over the nationalization issue and fear of a possible war with Russia.

This reporter has just completed a tour of the chief oil areas, including Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, Baghdad and Basrah in Iraq, Abadan in Iran and the sheikhdoms of Kuwait and Bahrain.

These general impressions were obtained from western oilmen working in this area:

1. There is a general hope that the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil company will be able to work out an operating agreement with Iran, which recently nationalized the huge industry. Americans and British alike agree that Iran oil must be saved for the west and denied to Russia.

2. The nationalization issue in Iraq-Iran's next-door neighbor—is regarded as potentially serious but not immediately so, with Iraq's present government being run by strongman Nuri Pasha Said, veteran pro-British prime minister.

3. In other main producing areas—Saudi Arabia and Kuwait—there is little likelihood of interest in nationalization now because of the patriarchal society. But in Saudi Arabia, complications may arise if and when King Ibn Saud dies, with possible internal feuding over the right to succession to the title.

Close Watch
Men in the oil fields centered in the waste desert areas around the humped Persian gulf are keeping a close watch on Iranian developments.

They point out that the Abadan fields supplied the allies with a great volume of petroleum products, including aviation gasoline, during World War II.

They add that the major oil distributors cannot choose to ignore Iran oil in order to shift exportation because that would mean Iraq would be Russia's main oil source.

But they add that the Anglo-Iranian Oil company, with 16 tankers and more than 30 barges, has the largest tanker fleet in the world. The oilmen say these tankers are vital to exploit Iran's oil.

An electronic fuel gauge for the U. S. air forces measures gasoline in pounds rather than in gallons.

Too Much Home Demonstration

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—A cut in funds for agricultural research (three considerable doubt today on a proposed increase in the onion experimental work at the Brawley, Calif., experiment station.

Reporting on the agriculture department appropriation bill for the 12 months beginning July 1, the house appropriations committee reduced funds for plant, soil and agricultural engineering research $345,480 under the appropriation for the current year and $285,000 under the department's budget estimate.

The committee said nothing in its report to indicate approval of increases proposed for work of Brawley.

The bureau of plant industry, soils and agricultural engineering had proposed a $9,000 increase at Brawley for onion research. No increase was requested for onion research at the Parma, Ida., experiment station.

Just because she gently snored through all of the final session of home demonstration week didn't mean that Sue Loughmiller, 4, didn't know what was going on. Came the climax of the closing speech and Sue made with an especially loud and long snore, and pent-up giggles were all the harder to suppress. Sue is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heber Loughmiller, Hollister. She didn't have the best of sleeping accommodations. Just a vacant chair and her mommy's lap for a pillow (Staff photo, left).

Washington Wins Collegiate Rodeo
LEWISTON, May 7 (AP)—Washington State college, paced by Art Pulverston, took the team trophy in the Lewiston intercollegiate rodeo, followed by Wyoming. The rodeo ended Saturday.

Pulverston won the all-around championship with first in calf roping and wild cow milking. His prize was a quarter horse colt.

Project Farmers Lauded for Work
BOZEMAN, May 7 (AP)—Farmers of the Deschutes project in central Oregon, who raised prize-winning clover seed on the newly-irrigated area, were praised today in the bureau of reclamation's official publication, "The Reclamation Era."

The magazine paid tribute to the farmers for winning prizes in three major fairs with their Indian clover seed. The Deschutes farmers took first at the Oregon state fair, the international livestock exposition at Chicago and the royal winter fair at Toronto.

MacArthur Testimony Poses 7 Points Requiring Answers

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur left these recommendations and conclusions on far east strategy for the administration to answer:

1. A bloody stalemate now exists in the Korean war with "staggering casualties." The only answer to such a stalemate is a more aggressive air war against red China. A naval blockade of the China coast and use of "Chinese nationalist" troops now based on Formosa.

2. Red China already has committed fully her military power to the Korean conflict. The additional military measures he advises would assure defeat of China quickly and a spicier end to the war.

3. Extension of the Korean war by smashing at red China would increase the risk of Russia entering in her treaty partner's side. The Kremlin's plans for world war of peace, MacArthur felt, are based on a grand strategy which will not be altered by our actions in Korea.

4. The real enemy to the free world is communism everywhere. Communism imperialism must be met by strength wherever it appears. If the United States displays "weakness" in the far east, communism will be encouraged to take over all of southeast Asia. Western Europe and America will then be "doomed to destruction."

5. The keystone to America's Pacific defenses is the farthing chain of island bastions, including Formosa.

to lose them is to roll the nation's defense back to the west coast.

6. If the United States followed a policy of inaction far eastern policy, our allies—in their own interest—probably would follow the American lead. If not, the United States should pursue the policy alone.

7. This is not necessarily on our side. Only buildup of U.S. military strength during the interlude of peace will be offset by a proportionate growth in Russian military power.
