WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—The United States rejected a proposal for a five-power peace pact today as "a propaganda trap."

The rejection was announced in a statement by the State Department which said the Kremlin has violated the terms of such an extent that the world has lost confidence in the Soviet's peace proposals.

The statement said that the United States has not expected since the outbreak of the war that U. S. officials described it ever then as "the same old chestnut" used with a new ribbon.

The proposal urged that the United States and Britain join Russia and Communist China in a disarmament program aimed at guaranteeing world peace.

President Truman said tonight that he has not expected since the outbreak of the war that U. S. officials described it ever then as "the same old chestnut" used with a new ribbon.

Marijuana Found in Area; Eradication Is Scheduled

Marijuana Growing in Valley

Organized efforts to stamp out the growth and spread of marijuana and the possible use of the drug in Magic Valley are being launched by the U. S. Bureau of Education, director of the state office of exceptional education.

Hansen has identified the plant growing in several sections of this area and is enlisting the efforts of law enforcement agencies, groups and individuals in a campaign to exterminate the drug-yielding plant wherever it grows.

The state office revealed surveys conducted in high schools in Magic Valley has shown scattered use of the drug through cigarettes or "tees" brought from the plant's leaves.

While the use of the drug among high school-age youngsters has been scattered in the Magic Valley in this region has been established, it described the use of the drug by some of the students.

This spring the state conducted surveys in high schools throughout Idaho. Students were given questionnaires to fill out without signing or divulging their identities in any way.

Hansen pointed out the use of narcotics among high school students has increased since the Chinese border in north Idaho through the panhandle and from border to border in eastern Idaho.

The drug is being used by some high school-age youths in Magic Valley, Hansen said, but he said communities are affected more than others, but the drug definitely is being used.

Proof that marijuana is growing in Magic Valley is established by the discovery of these plants. Eyron Thompson, filler, a former agricultural student at Piler high school, spotted these plants growing in the valley. His discovery was verified by Malvin R. Hansen, Boise, director of the state office of exceptional education. Hansen said the plant has been identified in several sections of this region. Thompson's discovery was not in the Piler area. # Ridgway Demands Red Guarantee on Troop Withdrawal

TOKYO, Aug. 7 (UP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway flatly refused today to resume Korean cease-fire talks until the communists give a stronger guarantee that armed troops will be kept out of the conference zone.

The supreme United Nations commander also told the Reds the talks would be broken altogether if there are any further violations of the Kaesong area's neutrality. Even if the communists give the requested guarantee, a U. N. spokesman said, the truce conference probably cannot be resumed before Thursday.

Gen. Ridgway said he had not replied to or commented on Ridgway's sharp rebuff to the red commanders' offer of a truce after it was first broadcast.

Counter-Charge
However, the Chinese counter-charged U. N. forces for violating Kaesong's neutrality. It said specifically:
1. About 20 American troops tried to parachute into the neutral zone three times during the period from 8:30 a.m. and 8:10 a.m. on July 12.

2. American and South Korean troops from July 10 through 24 penetrated to the vicinity of the neutral zone on 14 different occasions.
3. American planes out to bomb North Korea pass over Kaesong day and night, thereby causing tension in the atmosphere of the conference area.

Bombings Heard
4. The bombardment of the bridges of the zone by American troops was heard distinctly in Kaesong daily.
5. Despite these facts of violation by American troops, the Chinese broadcast said, "the communists did nothing but calling the attention of the United Nations to these incidents."

From these two different attitudes on the part of the United Nations, it may be clear that it is the fault of the American side that the realization of a truce and the early withdrawal of American troops from the area is being delayed.

Hearing Date Set for 'S' Bill

CHALLENGE, Aug. 7 (AP)—The U. S. House of Representatives today set a date for hearing the "S" bill, which would allow the state to regulate the use of marijuana.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Glenn H. Davis, would allow the state to regulate the use of marijuana, but it would not allow the state to regulate the use of marijuana.

Earlier Judge McDowell said he expected to hear from McDowell Monday as to when the hearing could be held. Today the judge said he might hear from the Piler case on the hearing.

The injuries to the attorney's son also delayed arguments on a decision to be made by the state supreme court on the hearing.

Utah Indians Grow Closer To Big Fund

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7—Utah Indians moved one step closer yesterday to being allowed to spend several million dollars they won from the government in a law suit. The senate passed a bill permitting such expenditures and the measure now awaits only house approval of senate amendments and presidential signing. The bill would release about one-third of the Utah $17,000,000 share of a $70,000,000 judgment. The remainder went to the Utahs in Colorado. The suit, largest ever won by an Indian tribe in the court of claims, pays the Utahs for land taken by the government many years ago. Each Utah on the Utahs and Oquirrh reservations will receive $1,000. Total per capita payments will be about $1,000,000. The measure sets up a $1,000,000 loan fund for tribe members. Balance of the money will be available for purchasing land, education and other purposes outlined in a rehabilitation program set up by the Indians.

A Little Patience... and It's Yours!

In all the world of manufactured products, there is nothing more difficult to wait for—once you have decided to own it—than a Cadillac car.
 If it is to be your first Cadillac, it is doubtless the fulfillment of a long-cherished dream—and it is hard to wait for one's heart's desire, once it is so close at hand.
 And if it is to be a replacement for your old one—well, experience has taught you how consistently and completely the good things come from Cadillac—and your curiosity is a force to reckon with!
 To make it worse, temptation is all about you. Down the street and around the corner are various makes of cars to be had almost as soon as your signature is on an order blank.
 But be patient and be firm—for there is a reason why other cars may be had so readily—while there is some delay in delivery of a Cadillac.
 It is because so many wonderful people, like yourself, want only Cadillac—and will accept no compromise.
 If we already have your order—turn a deaf ear to those who would have you compromise your preference for the sake of earlier delivery.
 And if you want a Cadillac, but have not yet placed your order, come in and do so. We will talk with you frankly about delivery, so you may know about what to anticipate.
 Remember—there is only one car which is recognized everywhere as the standard of the World—and that car is Cadillac.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

POT SHOTS

WASHINGTON—Although only a few mutual friends of President Truman and Sen. Harry Byrd realize it, the Virginia statesman's leadership in the formation of the "Tuckers" Democratic movement to drive Truman from Washington bears some resemblance to the 1860s when Henry Clay's "American Union" movement to drive James A. Farley and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Byrd once was extremely close friends and their careers have crossed many times, usually to the advantage of the man from Missouri. Byrd has long been an ardent supporter of the man from Missouri. Byrd Democrats may regret it, but that the President's removal from office by the House is a possibility.

ANOTHER TRUMAN BLUNDER

President Truman has placed himself in an extremely awkward position by feuding with the Senate over the filling of federal judgeship vacancies in that state.

Chicago and northern Illinois lawyers, polled as to their preferences, have voted in favor of the Douglas slate of candidates and against Mr. Truman's choices. Douglas said that the results of the poll would be respected, that it can be expected, therefore, that he will now seek the support of his senate colleagues in opposing the President's candidates.

It is almost certainly will be forthcoming, since ancient tradition dictates that senators stand together solidly in these matters. When Mr. Truman nominated two judges of his own choice and ignored the Douglas recommendations, he violated one of the most cherished tenets of senatorial conduct.

The United States code states that the President shall appoint federal judges "with the advice and consent of the senate." Through long years of advice has come to mean that the Senate will be consulted in advance where the appointments is to be made.

Not often have presidents failed to observe the courtesy of respecting a senator's counsel. But in this instance Mr. Truman has chosen to do so.

Although the President was angered by evidence of Douglas' party "irregularity." He frequently trumpets for government economy in a way that seems to reflect on the soundness of Mr. Truman's budget estimates.

He took part in the senate inquiry into the RFC, a probe that deeply embarrassed the administration. Recently he conducted an investigation into government ethics, and in a more aggressive cast on a constitutionality matter.

Douglas called for Secretary of State Acheson's resignation on the ground he was "favorable." And he has let it be known he favors General Eisenhower for the 1952 election on the ground he is Mr. Truman himself is not a candidate.

None of this behavior is calculated to endear him to the President, who puts great store by party loyalty and regularity. Douglas has pointed out in this case. If Douglas lists his colleagues' help, the President cannot win. He may never appoint these particular Douglas candidates, but neither will he ever be able to put over judges who are strictly of his own party.

Mr. Truman has tried to personalize independence. Barring the unforeseen, he will fall in this attempt. It is likely that he, rather than Douglas, will emerge from this feud with diminished stature and influence.

FRIENDSHIP

Friendship between Mr. Truman and Sen. Byrd dated from the time they met in 1934, only a year after Byrd moved from the gubernatorial office to the senate. An expert legislative hand because of his earlier experience, the senator taught many parliamentary tricks to the comparatively novice Byrd. It was often Byrd who introduced to each other in the rear of the chamber.

In 1940, when the Roosevelt administration undertook a program for the current rebuilding, the economy-minded Byrd began to worry over huge expenditures, the rapid expansion of the government, and the possibility of losing the support of the sprawling activities. He discussed his concern with the man sitting next to him.

ATTACKS—Finally, Senator Byrd introduced a resolution creating a senate committee to make preliminary checks and reports on the progress of the preparation program. It was offered to the appropriate committee, and promptly pigeon-holed.

It was understood that Franklin D. Roosevelt held a grudge against the Republican. It was not until later that he discovered the real and alphabetical agencies were getting behind his combat. Byrd was determined to stop it. He was determined D. Roosevelt did not enjoy frequent Byrd attacks on a wasteful spending.

PERFORMANCE—By coincidence or not, Senator Truman introduced the same sort of a resolution only a few months after Byrd left the senate to return to committee. Although there were a few minor changes in verbiage, the Missouri's demand was to make the "Tuckers" Democratic movement, known as "Tucker's Whirligig Committee." Franklin D. Roosevelt agreed to its creation.

Truman's performance as chairman that was his relatively obscure member consideration as a vice presidential candidate in 1940. He was elected to the Senate by the voters of the Missouri. Under the leadership of Gov. Len Hennagan, Missouri, then Democratic national chairman, would not have been able to foil a first-term senator like Truman. He was elected to the Senate by the voters of the Missouri. Under the leadership of Gov. ### NO FISH STORY

Dear Pol: Special "Valley" has me to. Byrd was a place up just to see if this first trout coincides with the "cricket" warning. Any one else care to go out on a limb in predicting the date of the first trout?

TWO OFFERS SO FAR

Just in case some of you folks are still waiting for free apartments to pick, we'll report there have been two offers so far from folks who don't want to wait for the government to do it for them. One offer came from a man who had a chance to go to work in the government. The other offer came from a man who had a chance to go to work in the government. The other offer came from a man who had a chance to go to work in the government.

IS THIS DEFINITE?

Yes, here I go. Up the river, Idaho valley, you're ready to feel like a long drive, leaving from falls to falls. So you thought there were elements of humor in that term, huh? You must be younger than I thought, "cause it ain't funny, Mc-..."

Will miss our chat and back chat. If anything just too, too utterly funny occurs to me, up the river, I'll pass it on.

Long live to your column and may you have a nation-wide syndicate contact of these.

Margie the Mick writes to the Editor.

FAVORABLE

Senator Byrd did not know that it was the late Sidney Hillman who made possible the Truman administration. Under the leadership of Gov. Len Hennagan, Missouri, then Democratic national chairman, would not have been able to foil a first-term senator like Truman. He was elected to the Senate by the voters of the Missouri.

PRINCIPLES

The outline Truman-Byrd friendship, as well as the former close association of Governor Byrd and the President is couched on by the Southern Democrats as a source of strength. If they persist in their attempt to block continued Missouri membership in the national administration, it is "as Farley's work in making T. D. R.'s presidential figure seemed to tally to the former national chairman's success when he had made the same relationship as evidence that the controversy is one of principles rather than personalities.

Byrd, although Mr. Truman has commented caustically and publicly about the two defectives in a personal way, they have not replied in kind—at least publicly. But when the President's administration underlying policies have pierced the official skin more effectively than even "Joe McCarthy's" fulminations, Byrd has not held the President's name "Tuckers" there are too many Byrd-d's in the senate, and referred to governor Byrd as "another Brutus."

IEWS OF STANDERS

IDAHO STANES FIRM

In the fierce battles with fair dealers in the northwest and bureaucrats from Washington, D. C., over the plan for a Pacific Columbia valley administration, the battle which no seems to be turning in favor of the federal government—the state of Idaho has stood up. The state of Idaho has stood up. The state of Idaho has stood up. Among all the western states it stands with Oregon as the only two states in which public ownership of electric utilities has been maintained.

At the moment, Idaho has a fight of its own against all the forces of the interior department backed by the federal government. Under the leadership of Gov. Len Jordan, the state government and to all appearances most of the people of Idaho are opposite the construction of the Snake river dam on the Snake river on a site where the river is the boundary between Idaho and Oregon.

Those who are involved are too numerous to be described here. But one thing is certain: not only the federal power projects, wherever constructed, but the federal power projects, wherever constructed, but the federal power projects, wherever constructed, but the federal power projects, wherever constructed.

Since the day, 18 years ago, when the late Gen. George Norris attacked the Tennessee valley authority project, the federal government has been the policy of the national administration to support private ownership of the electric power industry. The federal government has been the policy of the national administration to support private ownership of the electric power industry. The federal government has been the policy of the national administration to support private ownership of the electric power industry.

Harold Koops in his last days as secretary of the Interior Department not only gave preference to public power and cooperatives over private utility, but to give active assistance to the setting up of public and cooperative agencies to buy power from federal projects.

Thus, like the policy followed in the Wagner act, in which the policy followed in the Wagner act, in which the policy followed in the Wagner act, in which the policy followed in the Wagner act.

Private power company, no matter how fairly and efficiently it is run, is service to the public at a terrific disadvantage. It can usually buy power only from the "public" with the risk of being cut out all the way to privatized lines and other devices to prevent this because of its uncertainty and the probability that the policy which it follows is so arbitrary that it will result in a monopoly for the government.

It is true that the Idaho Power Company, which is a public utility, is a public utility. It is true that the Idaho Power Company, which is a public utility, is a public utility. It is true that the Idaho Power Company, which is a public utility, is a public utility.

This is where the controversy stands at this moment. The decision rests with congress—Chicago Daily News.

DON'T LET 'EM DREDGE!

It's easy to understand why the Southern Idaho Fish and Game commission has so vigorously on record with its opposition to an application for a placer mining lease on the Salmon river between Robinson Bar and Claylor.

After all, the Stanley basin country is one of the finest recreational areas in all Idaho, particularly for the people living in the southern part of the state.

Those who have witnessed what a placer mining operation is, to a river know only too well that it has no place in the particular area mentioned.

Why the selfish interests of a few should be given any consideration that would destroy recreational pleasures for thousands, is a question that has no logical answer.

Fishing for salmon has become one of the most popular sports in southern Idaho, and the Salmon river and its tributaries are the principal streams attracting all this activity. It is like the steelhead and trout runs in Oregon and Michigan, respectively.

That area in which the mining interests seek to set up dredging operations is right in the very heart of a recreational paradise. It is a question that has no logical answer.

Idaho who enjoys the natural glory which abounds in Stanley basin, should fight, this particular move with every weapon at his command.

As the Southern Idaho Fish and Game commission has pointed out, the monetary gain to the state from the lease would not compensate for the destruction of the property which now has a permanent value.

Placer mining operations, for the association contends would pollute the river for miles beyond Stanley and that immediate dredging would never again be fit-for-spawning, feeding and resting grounds for salmon.

An astronomer says we'll have sunshine for 86,000,000 years. Well, the weather man certainly has been saying up a lot.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—The rising roar over the impotence of that might parallel the miscalculated system of public relations that others are being through the racketeers temporarily retain old admiration.

This advantage goes to the disadvantage of the public with a public which never was taught to collect bargaining as though this had been established as the method of doing business. It is a serious loss and without the slightest degree of the inherent inequities of it.

It is a serious loss and without the slightest degree of the inherent inequities of it.

Henry Wallace once made a speech at Madison Square Garden, in an effort to persuade the public that the state should have a separate peace with Germany. In which he stated that the state should have a separate peace with Germany. In which he stated that the state should have a separate peace with Germany.

The famous Pasadena case in which the people of that American community were abused by the city and its agents in the New York City supplements for cleaning up a situation which they found to be a mess of a mess. It is a serious loss and without the slightest degree of the inherent inequities of it.

Some classes were held in cabin homes, but soon little cabin schools were built for the special purpose and teachers were hired to teach only truths which the parents held to be self-evident.

Then the schools developed into off-the-street clubs and with the adoption of truancy laws the parents lost custody of the kids to the boards of education, complete with the boards of education, complete with the boards of education.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Once a child finds his feet he likes to use them and he does so over time. He explores his world, getting into every nook and corner and feeling the bumps and drawers, examining their contents on the floor, taking the books from the shelves, pulling out the cabinet, the locks from the box.

Mothers are busy people and often they are weary. It is impossible for them to keep up to a runabout child. He will exhaust them in a collection of odds and ends which he guards. What to do?

Try to limit his field of exploration. Use the best corner of the room for him, where he can see his mother and she him, and give him a collection of odds and ends which he guards. What to do?

Outdoor play is best for both mother and child. Watch him while he is baking, and the like.

One mother made a job of teaching her little son to play with his property. The first time he was to play outdoors she went along and laid a piece of rope along a margin line on the ground. He must not cross it. She took a chair nearby and if he stepped over it she would pick him up and carry him to the house. A few lessons and he accepted the limitation. Something like that makes him along when marketing is another task for the mother.

RUSSELL FANS 17 ELECTRICS TO TIE PIONEER LOOP RECORD

Cowboys Shellack Great Falls 15-0 To Sweep Series

Lefty Jim Russell was the master all the way here Monday night as he fanned 17 Great Falls batters to tie the Pioneer league record while hurling a three-hit 15-0 win over the Electrics. It was Russell's 16th victory of the season and marked his total strikeout record for the season to 206.

With his fast ball blazing and his curve hopping, Russell fanned nine of the first 10 men to face him. Two whiffs in the ninth frame allowed the $20,000 Yankee south player to reach the record and put him in position for a crack at the league's total record of 278 hits over the season, former Salt Lake City ace.

Another league record was tied at Twin Falls catcher Bob Knorr recorded 19 putouts.

Russell, a 19-year-old from Downey, Calif., also is believed to have a league record in fanning nine straight batters.

While Russell was stopping the pitcher with his pitching magic, the Cowboys smashed three Great Falls hurlers for 12 hits, including a grand slam homerun by Warren A. Moore and a two-run homer by Manager Don "Mace" Trower.

The victory gave Twin Falls a sweep of three-game series and moved Twin Falls out a game and a half ahead of the third place Electrics as the Cowboys went into second place Sunday with a 5-4 victory.

Twin Falls started its scoring marathon in the first with three runs on two hits and three Great Falls errors. Two more crossed in the second when Russell walked and Trower hit his homerun. Two doubles, one by Russell, followed by a two-bagger by Campbell scored one more in the fourth and another pair was added in the fifth to two hits and one error.

Russets Dump Salt Lake in Doubleheader

IDAHO FALLS, Aug. 7 (P)—Idaho Falls ran up and obliterated league-leading Salt Lake City in a light doubleheader Monday night, winning the first game 7-2 and the second 5-4.

Two of the finest pitching records in the 1934 league were completely ignored by the fired-up Russets, as they jumped Bert Barkelew (6-2) for five hits in the opener, and then whopped Bob Greenwood (18-4) for 10 hits in the second.

Idaho Falls' Sal Baly Lame #10 pitched a 7-2 victory over Salt Lake in the first game of the doubleheader Monday night. Baly Lame pitched 7 1/2 innings, allowing 10 hits and 7 runs, 2 earned, on 11 batters. He struck out 10 and walked 3.

Bob Greenwood #11 pitched a 5-4 victory over Idaho Falls in the second game of the doubleheader Monday night. Greenwood pitched 7 1/2 innings, allowing 10 hits and 5 runs, 4 earned, on 11 batters. He struck out 10 and walked 3.

Chandler Raps Club Owners at Hearing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (P)—A. B. Chandler, baseball's deposed high commissioner, told congress Monday the club owners could well do without some major league club owners "who don't know their first base is..."

Chandler did not call any names. He offered four other proposals for improving baseball and strengthening the authority of the office he lost last year when only nine of the 16 major league club owners backed him for a second term.

The first of these recommendations was abolition of the rule requiring 12 of the 16 votes to elect a commissioner. Others were:

To reform the commissioner's authority to set aside any rule adopted by the owners.

To give the commissioner the right to fire as well as hire the secretary-treasurer of organized baseball.

To allow the commissioner, rather than the league president, to name and axian umpires.

Rookies McDougald, Morgan P Yanks to 4-0 Win Over Senators

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (P)—Rookies Tom Morgan and Gil McDougald teamed in the league-leading New York Yankees to a 4-0 victory over the Washington Senators Monday night. The triumph stretched the Yank's lead to a full game over the Cleveland Indians. Morgan blanked the Senators on five hits to post his eighth victory of the year against one defeat.

Former Yankee Don Johnson batted Morgan on great terms until the fourth inning. With one out in the fourth Johnson walked. Vag Dierks, Johnny Evers fouled out but McDougald followed with a homerun, his ninth of the year.

The Yanks loaded the bases with one out in the sixth. McDougald then fired out to strike in Bobby Brown with the third run. Morgan followed with a line drive that rookie shortstop Pete Runnels snared with a one-handed running catch. The Yanks scored their final run in the seventh on a triple by Gene Woodling and a single by Bobby Brown.

Big Eddie Robinson smashed two homeruns, a double and a single to power the Chicago White Sox to a 10-1 win over the Detroit Tigers. Right-hander Joe Dobson pitched the Tigers with five hits for his seventh win.

The White Sox hopped on Joeer Hal White, Gene Bearden and Hank Berry for 13 hits, including three singles by Orestes Almazo. Dobson, 36-year-old veteran, won his first game since the all-star game July 10. He was the only White Sox hurler who hadn't won since then. The only run off him was Joe Glaberg's eighth homer in the sixth inning.

Dobson who has lost three games faced only one better over the limit in the first seven innings, three doubleplays cleaning runners off the bases. It was starter White's third loss against one win.

Marijuana Is Noted; Drive Set for Valley

(From Page One)
 He added, "One cigarette often can give the addict effect of a pint of whisky. Once a person starts using marijuana, which in itself is not so habit forming as other drugs, it makes the user want something more powerful."
 "The use of marijuana will lead to the use of heroin and then the user soon becomes an habitual drug addict. To receive a cure, the user will require many months of hospitalization and rehabilitation."
 Hansen explained marijuana grows rapidly and freely in southern Idaho. He said heroin is slipping into the Pacific northwest by being smuggled from Mexico into Seattle on ships.
 "A pound of heroin purchased in Seattle for $1000 can be multiplied to $200,000 by the time it is broken down and diluted in capsule form for drug addicts," Hansen said.
 Hansen is obtaining marijuana plants to be put on display in the sheriff's offices throughout the state for law enforcement officers to learn to recognize and for residents to inspect so they can identify the plant.
 He also is securing the aid of canal company employees to watch for the plant as they inspect ditch banks. The plant grows readily near water.
 The state inspector also is attempting to obtain the aid of schools through agricultural teachers.
 Hansen believes the spread of the drug can be checked through the education of residents in learning to identify the plant. He also believes that intelligent instruction and frank lectures to high school students will help stop the use of the drug among "hill-billy" youngsters.
 The plant can be identified easily, Hansen pointed out. It often grows five to six feet high. It has a narrow, square main stem with many knobs growing four to five inches apart.
 Stems with leaves sprout from these knobs with two stems usually growing from each knob. Stems have 7 to 11 leaves. The leaves are long and narrow with a serrated edge. The leaf is a tomato dark green on top and an apple green on the bottom. The surface of the leaves and stems is rough.
 Hansen said the plant has been grown here and cultivated by individuals for sale. But in most cases, the plant grows wild. It spreads readily and grows rapidly.
 He said common bird seed often contains marijuana seed. The seed can be purchased from some seed houses. The marijuana plant is grown commercially in some areas of the country for the hemp yielded by its stems.
 The police police for marijuana in Idaho is $25 to $25 for a tobacco can full of the dried leaves or a cigarette. The "reefer" usually comes in double-wrapped cigarette paper, closely bound and bent at the ends so the drug cannot break through the paper. Brown waxes cigarette paper is the favorite of the drug peddlers or addicts.
 The state inspector emphasized his position is to educate residents

Identified Easily

This closeup photo of a marijuana leaf shows why the plant is easy to identify. Marijuana, a variety of hemp plant, grows readily in such localities as along ditch banks. (Staff engraving)

Large Supply Of Food May Cut Cost Rise

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP) — Plentiful supplies probably will keep food prices from going much higher this year, the bureau of agricultural economics reported today.
 "It is said future increases probably would be limited largely to revised price ceilings under the new defense production act," the bureau said.
 The new law relaxes limitations on margins for processing and marketing food and other products. As a result, the bureau said, some widening of farm-to-retail price spreads may occur.
 The bureau reported retail food prices increased about 12 per cent during the last 12 months. For the whole of 1931 they probably will average at least 10 per cent higher than in 1930, the agency estimated.
 In its regular report on the nation's food situation, the bureau said beef cattle prices may at times drop below ceilings during the heavy marketing season this fall. Nevertheless, a strong consumer demand for meat "may prevent any substantial decline in prices."
 The bureau has backed down from previous forecasts that meat supplies would be larger this year than last. Today's report said the consumer average this year probably will not differ much from the 144-pound rate last year. Earlier this year, it had predicted a supply of at least 147 pounds per person.
