Fran Aides Favor Power Project Plans

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (Special)—The Federal Reserve bank's economic adviser has come out against the federal power projects which the proposed Hells canyon dam in Idaho because of "defense needs." They also called "defense electric projects" already authorized "completed rapidly," indicating their support for large funds for Palmdale project in southern California which was started recently.

They gave their views in their annual report, which the President transmitted to congress this week. They declared:

"The electric-utilities, private and public, are planning to increase capacity by about 30,000,000 kilowatts in the next three years. Even with this program, power availability is likely to be inadequate to meet the demand in certain regions where large load increases will occur, such as the aluminum producing Pacific northwest and the areas where large new atomic energy plant requirements must be met."

"Looking further ahead, the increasing emphasis on the chemical, electrical and other industries using power-using industries indicates a continuing rapid growth of power requirements."

Regarding projects like Hells canyon, they said "power development by public agencies is particularly important part in meeting them, particularly where federal multi-state river development can provide large additions to power capacity along with other desirable results."

They added that new projects serving "defense and other essential requirements which would be undertaken" include "several in the Pacific northwest."

On his state-of-the-union message to congress last week Mr. Truman put in a strong plea for construction of federal power transmission lines, a program generally opposed by private electric companies.

Inquiry Planned On Loss of Ship

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 17 (AP)—The coast guard today planned a full-scale investigation into the loss of the freighter Pennsylvania in the Puget Sound last week.

Rear Adm. R. H. Leslie, commander of the 13th coast guard district, said preliminary investigation already had begun into a previous voyage—during which the vessel's freighter sustained cracked hull.

The ship, en route to Japan, returned to port and was repaired in Portland.

The State Steamship company freighter, commanded by Capt. George P. Flower, Portland, Ore., was abandoned during a storm last week from a 14-foot spits opened in her hull.

The coast guard cutters Klamath and Yacona continued a surface search today in an area where the crew of a P.M. miner sighted an overturned lifeboat Tuesday.

Coaches, Officials Asked to Clean up Pigskin Roughness

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Va., Jan. 17 (AP)—Coaches and officials have contributed to "undesirable conduct" in the game of football, the NCAA rules committee declared Wednesday. It called upon them to teach and enforce the spirit as well as the letter of the regulations.

The committee adopted at its three-day meeting a resolution stating "undesirable trends have developed in our game, affecting sportsmanship and the spirit of fair play, excessively rough play, a tendency to beat the ball and a lack of respect for the football rules of ethics."

It is the opinion of the members of the committee that the football coaches and officials have contributed to this undesirable trend, the coaches by their failure to enforce the spirit of the rules, and the officials by their failure to enforce the football rules rigidly. The committee therefore calls upon the coaches and officials to devote their attention more conscientiously and more diligently to the best interests of the game of football and the young men who play it, as well as the letter of the rules.

Cougars' New Coach Looks East for Aid

PULLMAN, Wash., Jan. 17 (AP)—The UO Athletic Kirsch said he is "looking East" in search for three assistant coaches for the Washington State college football team.

Kirsch, who signed a five-year contract as WSU's head coach, said he has a couple of prospects in this area but "for the most part I'm continuing my search in the mid-west."

The 41-year-old backfield coach who was named to succeed Forest Evaschewski at the Cougar helm is looking for a backfield coach, a line coach and a freshman coach.

Dr. William Miller, acting president of WSC, said some details in the agreement are still to be worked out. He said it will be up to Kirsch to reveal the terms.

Kirsch said he'll retain the single wing formation installed last year by Evaschewski.

"We have a great squad with plenty of talent," he said in a report. "And I feel right now, there isn't any game we can't win next season. But there are none we can't lose."

Four Opening Contests Usher in Annual Shoshone Outlaw Tourney

SHOSHONE, Jan. 17—Four games opened action Wednesday night in the sixth annual Shoshone outlaw basketball tournament with eight games on the schedule for today and tonight. The tourney is the first of the season in Magic Valley.

Open games of the double elimination tourney were not closely contested with Carey defeating Richford 49-17, Shoshone-beating Hagerman 50-29, Gooding Elks downing Hatley 68-33 and Eden-Hazleton tripping Wendell Lions 46-26.

The second round started with Richford meeting Hagerman at 10 p. m. The action was fast and furious. Action tonight pairs Hatley and Wendell at 7 p. m., the losers of the first two afternoon games at 8 p. m., Carey and Shoshone at 9 p. m. and Gooding Elks and Eden-Hazleton at 10 p. m.

Shoshone jumped into an early lead and coasted in for its victory over Hagerman. The shooting squad was paced by Taylor with 11 points, while Barlog's miss was high for Wendell with seven.

Eden-Hazleton kept pulling away over Hagerman. In the final game of the evening, The winners held a 10-8 advantage at the half. Doc McCallin led Eden with 11 points and Benson was high for Wendell with seven.

Billings was the manager who rushed across the ring and tossed his punches at Miller after the latter stopped the fight and awarded Durando a technical knockout in the seventh round over Hagerman.

So, Ryan, who taken a shelling from Castellani for two rounds, belts out Castellani with as beautiful a right hand upper cut as you'll ever want to see, and loses all the play.

"We could—of—packed—them—in with a right hook," said Abe Director, Durando's manager. There was a cad note in his voice. But he checked up quickly.

Well take on Paddy Young again in March," said Breasler. "Ernie's suit will be all right and hell flatten Young the next time. After 'that' one, we're going after—either Rocky Graziano or Randy Turpin. Then maybe Ernie will get a crack at Ray Robinson's little 'er."

Ernie, who "needed 'eeven' 'tuther to sew up a cut on his left cheekbone, nodded solemnly. "I think I can beat anyone I can catch with my right," said Durando, a steady-dark-hair-ed-creator from Bayonne, N. J.

Willie Mays Gets Approval by Army BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 17 (AP)—The New York Giants' star outfielder, Willie Mays, was accepted for the armed forces Wednesday in a second step at the production center here.

Mays, a 20-year-old Negro, first was accepted last October when he failed an aptitude test. He was "administratively accepted," the third step, announced at Atlanta.

Wage Policy Is Made for Ball Players

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—The government's salary stabilization board came up Wednesday with a plan for setting wages for ball players. The board said it would allow across-the-board raises.

It provides that any single club would be allowed to raise its total amount paid in 1951, but only a single year from 1948 to 1950, plus 10 percent.

An alternate possibility gives a club the right to pay its players, but only if it can show that the total amount of salary paid in 1951, plus 10 percent, does not exceed either of the two plans.

Under a plan for review by major league clubs, the policy was announced after it had been cleared by the economic stabilization agency.

Stan Musial, National league batting champion last year, paid a visit two weeks ago to salary board officials in an effort to hasten action on his $100,000 contract.

The new policy presumably means that the Cardinal management can pay him more than wants, within the overall limitations.

Four Opening Contests Usher in Annual Shoshone Outlaw Tourney

SHOSHONE, Jan. 17—Four games opened action Wednesday night in the sixth annual Shoshone outlaw basketball tournament with eight games on the schedule for today and tonight.

Open games of the double elimination tourney were not closely contested with Carey defeating Richford 49-17, Shoshone-beating Hagerman 50-29, Gooding Elks downing Hatley 68-33 and Eden-Hazleton tripping Wendell Lions 46-26.

The second round started with Richford meeting Hagerman at 10 p. m. The action was fast and furious. Action tonight pairs Hatley and Wendell at 7 p. m., the losers of the first two afternoon games at 8 p. m., Carey and Shoshone at 9 p. m. and Gooding Elks and Eden-Hazleton at 10 p. m.

Shoshone jumped into an early lead and coasted in for its victory over Hagerman. The shooting squad was paced by Taylor with 11 points, while Barlog's miss was high for Wendell with seven.

Eden-Hazleton kept pulling away over Hagerman. In the final game of the evening, The winners held a 10-8 advantage at the half. Doc McCallin led Eden with 11 points and Benson was high for Wendell with seven.

Billings was the manager who rushed across the ring and tossed his punches at Miller after the latter stopped the fight and awarded Durando a technical knockout in the seventh round over Hagerman.

Senator Sees Truman Win With Barkley

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—Sen. Dennis Chavez said today he would talk with President Truman that he thought a Truman-Barkley ticket can lift anybody "put up by the Republicans."

The New-Mexico Democrat in made his disclosure with Mr. Truman did not take national politics and primarily concerned budget muck.

Chavez said the President had not told him what he plans to do this year, but that if he runs the senator hopes he will run with his 1934 partner, Vice President Alben W. Barkley.

Some highly-placed Democrats, who formerly had doubts, are convinced that Mr. Truman intends to "run" for reelection.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D. Minn., said after a White House visit that he thought it would be "a good idea" for Mr. Truman to run.

Engineer's Last Run Is Made Over Route in Valley Tuesday

Buhl, Jan. 11.—C. C. (Clint) Ostrander, whose first run for the Union Pacific was from Minidoka to Buhl 4 1/2 years ago, made his final run over the same road Tuesday night. In between, he has been engineering on every kind of train, including steamers.

Ostrander, who made up his mind that it was time to have a little rest and a little fun, says railroad work would be his choice if he were starting over. "It is one of the most interesting jobs there is," he declares.

During the last winter three years ago, Ostrander and his crew were stranded in a drift between Twin Falls and Minidoka for 24 hours with no food on hand. "We weren't particularly worried," Ostrander recalls. "We knew they'd give through to us before too long."

Ostrander admitted that he was glad not to have been on the crew of the City of San Francisco this week.

Recalling some of the fatal accidents that have occurred at crossings when he has piloted the "Buhl Steamliner," Ostrander says a driver can considerably more cautious since passing the law prohibiting a speed over 15 miles per hour approaching crossings. "All of the accidents could be prevented if motorists obey that law," because they would have no trouble in stopping at that signal," Ostrander says.

Asked about their plans for the future, Mr. and Mrs. Ostrander said they planned to "bunk around" for about three months, then find a job like he, to settle down. They will probably be somewhere in the Riverside, Calif., area, they thought. After all his traveling, Mrs. Ostrander says both love to travel, and plan to do a lot of it.

Their son in Albuquerque, N. M., has guaranteed to find a hobby his father will enjoy. "I will be a come restles," Mrs. Ostrander says.

Continued U. S. Deficits Ruin Demand for Long-Term Bonds

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—No one wants to buy the treasury's United States government bonds. The long-term ones, that is. There is so much demand for them.

This astonishing situation was remarked casually in yesterday's report of the President's council of economic advisers—by Councilor John D. Clark.

Clark contributed to the report a brief paper on the unexpected and unpredictable results of government efforts to control the national economy by rules and regulations from Washington. His paper included this statement:

"The treasury now finds no market for long-term (bonds) and its heavy financing has to be in the form of short-term securities eligible for bank portfolios."

Clark did not expand on the reason federal long-term bonds find no buyers. But the National City Bank, New York, came up with the answer a month ago.

Government bonds have been in the market since 1913. A Republican Congress ruled capitol hill. The tariff, fiscal 1931, was achieved under a Democratic Congress.

Those years of treasury deficits scarcely interrupted by sound finance, have caught up with government bonds. If the deficits continue long enough, the well-loved American dollar also will not be market for the folding stuff.

The dollar already has lost about half its value in a dozen years or so. It has been shrinking about five per cent a year and that is the answer, or most of it, to the reluctance of the people to exchange their money for United States long-term bonds.

The bonds do not pay enough. In fact, they pay less than half of the annual shrinkage of the dollars they represent. They are not, therefore, looking for profit, or even to break even, will look elsewhere.

Added Bites Due In Defense Work

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 11 (AP)—Defense effort will be felt more keenly in the second quarter of 1932, in the opinion of Defense Production Administrator Manly Fleischmann.

He told a business audience of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce that the pinch will result from increased requirements of the military and aviation programs for brass, mill copper, steel and aluminum.

"We are now near the high point of the mobilization effort, the most difficult and important phase," Fleischmann said. "The second and third quarters of 1932 may be the tightest energy periods for steel material, and no widespread relief from material shortages may be expected during 1932."

Procedure of Marine Corps Signup Noted

Answering numerous inquiries concerning appointment of college students or graduates as officers in the Marine Corps, Sgt. William F. King, local recruiter, says appointments are initially made in the Marine corps reserve. Those persons best qualified are selected for regular appointment as a lieutenant, within quota limitations. The recruiter said programs for original appointments are designed to obtain officers who are not recruited as to the duties they are to perform. Initial emphasis is placed upon qualifying each officer as an infantry platoon leader. This does not mean an officer is limited to infantry duty, the sergeant explained. Depending upon corps needs and individual capabilities, an applicant may be assigned duty in artillery, aviation, tanks, supply, ordnance, communications or other fields. Applicants must be college graduates or candidates for a bachelor's degree at a recognized college or university. They must be U. S. citizens and mentally, morally and physically qualified in all ways. Applicants for a regular commission from civil life must be less than 25 years of age on July 1 of the year appointed. Reserve commissions may be two years older. A platoon leader class is open to college freshmen, sophomores and juniors able to attend two six-week summer training periods before receiving their degrees, except that juniors may make their second summer training after graduation. College graduates are eligible for a commission as a second lieutenant upon successful completion of a 10-week training course after graduation. Sergeant King suggested interested college students contact marine corps procurement officers at their colleges or university, or call or write to his office here, 249 Main avenue east, for further information.

Wide Variety of Events Listed In County Agent's '51 Report

Activities in a wide variety of endeavor are listed in the county agent's section of the annual report of the three extension service agents in this county.

The activities range from such major events as the annual breed fair under the crop improvement program, feed lot tours and pool shipments under livestock improvement, advances in conservation and various trials and brush removal, demonstrations to such lesser, published activities as assistance to city officials on park problems and making a sheep pasture survey.

In his section on soil improvement, County Agent C. W. Dalish writes: "This project is fundamentally and actually the most important in the farming program in Twin Falls county. High priced crops and high production costs make good commercial yields, especially, most farms are on a commercial business basis as compared to subsistence farming and high-productive soils are basic.

"Therefore, our farmers are interested in all phases of the soil improvement project. Including: lime relations, commercial fertilizers—well—proper irrigation, organic matter, soil testing, and insect-free phase that will make for more financial return. The principal abuse is using the same fields too long for beans.

"We have more requests for information on soil problems than any other project. In view of the fact that our soil responds rapidly to the application of organic matter, it can be assumed that practically all of the extension program with crops and livestock is an important part of our soil improvement project."

His report lists a fertilizer meeting attended by 247 persons last winter, a two-day irrigation meeting held in July, tours in areas irrigated by wells, and testing of approximately 50 soil samples.

Listed as one of the major events in the crop-improvement program is the annual breed fair sponsored in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee. The report also lists several other projects on beans.

The report describes other crop improvement work on sugar beets, alfalfa and legumes about which Dalish writes that alfalfa is considered the complete crop in this county, one which is used at the head end of the rotation program.

"We consider its welfare fundamental in a balanced cropping system, the county agent stated.

'52 Buick to Be Displayed On Saturday

Buick's 1952 models will go on display Saturday at Evening Auto Show, 202 Second avenue north, with a new four-barrel "airpower" carburetor on Roadmaster, setting the top of the list of engineering improvements.

The new carburetor, along with a "check" metering tube, has increased the compression ratio from 7.2 to 7.5 to 1 boost "the horsepower" output of the Roadmaster engine to 170 and improves gasolene mileage and performance, company engineers claim.

Two in Single Unit Two dual carburetors are built into the Roadmaster's four-barrel arrangement. A primary carburetor jets at all times with secondary jets on the secondary jets, only an idle system and a main metering system, available when maximum acceleration and speed are desired.

Also offered on the Roadmaster is optional equipment, its power steering, which cuts driver's effort to turn the wheel, even while stopped, to nine pounds; Mercruiser pressure for manual steering is 50 pounds, according to Buick engineers.

Aberdeen Road Shock Power steering, while taking the manual labor out of steering, permits the driver to retain the feel of the road because it does not begin to function until four or five pounds of pressure are applied. The shock also absorbs road shock, Buick officials say.

All cars in the Super and Special series are powered with engines which develop 128 horsepower with dynamic transmission. With synchromesh transmissions the horsepower ratings is 124 in the Super and 110 in the Special. All engines, except those in Special models with synchromesh transmission, have hydraulic valve lifters for quieter, more efficient performance.

Standard Equipment Dynaflex is standard equipment on the Roadmaster series and optional on the Super and Special.

In all there are 18 body styles, eight models offered in the Special series and four each in the Super and Roadmaster. Outside the appearance of the new models has been changed by restyling the bumper guard, new rear fender ornaments, a higher rear deck lid and new moldings along the sides.

For no other car possesses its combination of Economy; air-borne Ride; low-center-of-gravity Safety; sheer dollar Value and it's Beautiful!

It's Low and Wide... It's Big Inside... It's Beautiful. Today, Willys brings you this revolutionary car, a brilliant blend of Aero and auto engineering, ready to thrill you with a new experience in motoring.

AERO-FRAME CONSTRUCTION, following principles of Aero design, welds the body and chassis members into one extremely rigid unit. Streamlined from plane-wing hood to rear air-fins, the Aero Willys, powered by a new Hurricane-6 Engine, gives mileage up to 35 miles a gallon with overdrive.

PREMIUM GAS NOT REQUIRED because of F-Head engine design. This new engine, with 7.6 compression, produces 360 horsepower per cubic inch displacement, surpassing the engines in America's costliest cars. The Aero Willys is a performing sensation.

HELIOPTRAM VISIBILITY, with panoramic vision all around, results from wide glass areas. All 4 fenders are visible from the driver's seat.

SMOOTH, QUIET AIR-BORNE RIDE. Road shocks, noise and vibration are smoothed by new springing and rubber "pillows" at strategic points. Center-fill gas tank at rear - pull-out dash drawer - 24 cu. ft. luggage space - these are but a few of the features you will notice when you see the surprise car-of-the-year - and it's Beautiful!

Ice Viruses Using Polio Identified

Three types of ice viruses were found to be the cause of infantile paralysis, according to the latest report of the National Institute of Health. The study was made by Dr. W. H. Weller and his associates at the University of Michigan. The viruses were found in ice cubes made from water taken from a well in the city of Lansing, Mich. The viruses were found to be of the same type as those which cause infantile paralysis in children. The study was made by using a special method of growing the viruses in a special medium. Local Man Says Trip on Stormy Seas is 'Plenty'

From Frankfort, Germany, where he has started three years of duty with the air force at St. Zofien, Nennich has written it will take three years before he'll be willing to travel by boat again. Nennich-Mannion left on board December and was caught in the same terrible storm in the Atlantic ocean which eventually sank the flying Enterprise. Nennich-Mannion wrote the storm was so terrible that passengers were not allowed on the decks for three days. He said the crewing was so rough that KP's had to be detailed to man the coffee pots, and that M. E. Nennich, has been assigned to the same port carrier command, and under a different designation, as the one in which he served during World War II in the same general area.

Boy Takes Cold Bath at Richfield

RICHFIELD, Jan. 17.—Charles Myers, took an unexpected plunge in the icy waters of Little Wood river Saturday afternoon while rabbit hunting. Running across the ice to get a better shot at a jackrabbit, the ice broke and he fell into the water. His gun jammed below the ice and partially held him up. He was helped out of the water by his companions, Lloyd Akins and Patrick Akins, and hurried off on horseback to the Akins home more than a mile distant. Lloyd and Paul poked and prodded the ice for more than ten minutes before locating the rifle, a prized possession of Myers for only a week. The boys said they had been walking on the ice much of the time because the river was ice covered everywhere except at the rapid two miles west of Richfield. The accident occurred below the Peio Canuarus sleep camp.

Mrs. Akins said that she is one of the world's most beautiful women and twice placed on the "ten best-dressed-women" list.

Irrigated Acreage Drops for Idaho, Increases for Nation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (Special)—Idaho's irrigated acreage dropped 109,234 acres in the 1930-31 decade at the same time that the country as a whole made the greatest gain in history, completed census reports showed today. However, the state's 2,169,232 irrigated acres in 1930 represented a 2.2 per cent increase over the 2,121,000 acres in the 1920-21 decade. The larger 1930 acreage of 2,169,232 acres represented only 41.02 per cent of the total irrigated area in the United States and Wyoming were the only other states showing irrigation decreases. All other western states added to their totals, led by Texas with a 200 per cent jump from 1,045,224 to 3,148,115 in the 1920-31 period. Overall gain for the 17 western states together with Arkansas, Louisiana and Florida, was 3,112,407 acres in the decade for a 1940 total of 22,248,508. Investment from 1920-1930 was $1,027,000,000. Average 1940 cost per acre for water delivery in the 17 western states was $3 against $6 in Florida, $7 in Arkansas and $9 in Louisiana.

Soil District for Gooding Praised

GOODING, Jan. 17—L. E. Spence, extension superintendent, has complimented the supervisors of the Gooding soil conservation district on the way they operated in the soil conservation district last year. Spence said conservation districts are farmer operated and directed and should not be agency districts. He said he was "pleased" with the Gooding supervisors for the way they put forth in the operation of the district.

At a recent meeting of the supervisors, Spence and the job they did were discussed in relation to range and pasture management. A prospective tour was discussed. This tour probably will be held some time in June or July. The supervisors elected officers for the coming year. Don Fredrickson, Gooding, was re-elected chairman; Sam Sims, Gooding, vice chairman; Doran Butler, Bliss, treasurer; and Robert E. Higgins, county agent, secretary. The supervisors voted in favor of proposals to strengthen the Idaho association of soil conservation districts. The Gooding district voted to help underwrite the first edition of a state conservation newspaper.

Hagerman Pushes Polio Fund Drive

HAGERMAN, Jan. 17—The March of Dimes drive for funds is continuing in Hagerman. On Friday night, a basket-ball game between the Hagerman Mustangs and the Gooding Elks netted $26.00 for the polio drive. The Hagerman civic club furnished five cakes, the sale of which netted $170. Mrs. Grace Ross was in charge of the cake sale. Next Saturday night a dance will be held at the midway pavilion with all proceeds going to the drive. Mrs. Ralph Miller and Mrs. Marlon Purinton are co-chairmen of the drive here. Tickets for the dance may be obtained from either of these women.

On Sunday at the Hagerman churches, a plea was made in behalf of the March of Dimes. At the LDS church, Emerson Pagnone of the Blaine stake presidency stressed the need for more funds to help those afflicted with polio. In the Methodist church, the Rev. Harry Starbuck said polio has been on the increase in the last four years and pleaded for increased funds with which to fight the disease.
