

Health Unit Crew Resigns in Feud; 'Protest' Meet Set

In the county-state feud over public health matters swung into high gear Wednesday with the mass resignation of south central district health unit personnel and announcement of a public protest meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday at the Washington school.

Statement was issued by Mrs. John E. Hayes, president of the National Congress of Nurses and Teachers, and L. W. Hawkins, chairman of Twin Falls county commissioners, early morning clarified the board's action in withdrawing from the health unit.

Health unit workers who were resigning issued a statement early Wednesday afternoon to this county's citizens explaining their stand.

Signing the health workers' statement were Kay Knight, Elizabeth J. Smith, Esther Choules and Rose Olsen, public health nurses; Mary Ann Smith, supervising nurse; Margaret Pickard, senior bacteriological; and C. A. Harvey, senior sanitarian. Their statement follows:

"Regret Action

"Since 1938 it has been our privilege to serve the people of this county in the capacity of public health nurses. We have known that we find it necessary to resign. This has been taken after consulting all of our professional facts regarding the trouble between the county commissioners, the health unit and the state department of public health.

"We sincerely feel that the governor's (investigating) committee was open minded and fair in its findings. We trust the commissioners, as well as the people should accept these findings.

"We welcomed Probe

"Personal and petty grievances should have no place in our public health service. We believed our department. We believed in the public health work we were doing. We believed that the trouble was a result of a misunderstanding that could be settled by the health unit.

Truman Notes U. S. Sadness At King Death

President Truman extended his deepest sympathy today to the British royal family and the British people on the death of King George VI.

"God bless Queen Elizabeth and may her father's exemplary memory provide the courage and inspiration she will need in the great responsibilities that lie before her," Truman said in a public statement.

Mr. Truman also sent private messages of condolence to the queen, her mother, and her grandmother, Queen Mary.

He also expressed his sympathy to the British people and the British royal family.

King George VI Passes; Elizabeth Stops African Tour to Become Queen

LONDON, Feb. 6 (AP)—King George VI died peacefully in his sleep today and his 25-year-old daughter, Elizabeth, now Britain's queen, started home from East Africa to assume her throne.

The 56-year-old monarch, sovereign of one-fourth the world's population and land surface, was found dead in his bed by his valet at about 7:30 a. m. (12:30 a. m. MST). No announcement was made as to the cause of the death but medical circles speculated it was coronary thrombosis. At 5 p. m. (10 a. m. MST), the privy council, a 200-member body made up of the greatest of Britons, met at St. James' palace to proclaim the accession to the throne of Elizabeth.

At the same hour they met, Elizabeth had boarded a plane in Kenya to start her journey home as queen.

Queen Elizabeth was born in Kenya in Uganda where she and Philip will board a British Overseas Airways Airways plane, she is expected to arrive in London at 4:30 p. m. tomorrow (12:30 p. m. MST).

News of the king's death was kept within the royal family and the highest government circles at the royal lodge in Mombasa, Kenya, until 10:30 p. m.

King George's death cut short one of the king's state visits to the United States. He was to have arrived in Washington on Feb. 10.

of a city-county health unit, the chairman of the county commission said. "If the city wishes to join us, we will be glad to have it," he pointed out.

Following the formal session with state health officials Tuesday at Pocatello, various Magic Valley county commissioners held an informal discussion on the matter of county health units.

The statement issued by Mrs. Hayes follows: "I am very much concerned regarding the announcement that the county commissioners of Magic Valley intend to withdraw from the south-central district health unit."

"I refer to this legislation because it reflects the studied thinking of thousands of people who, throughout our residence here, have watched with satisfaction the improvement in community health through better health services are available."

"Parent-Teacher members in our community have reason to be grateful for the sympathetic help given to our child-health program."

"The Idaho Congress of Parents and Teachers worked diligently to secure the services now available through the district health unit."

"The future of our city in general and the health and emotional stability of the children. There is no doubt in the minds of the parent-teacher members of the health unit that the health unit is a well-directed service available to us for many years in the future."

"The board will be glad to cooperate with the state health unit in the same manner in which the health unit has been cooperating with the state health unit."

Club Speaker Warns Voters Need Interest

A warning that voters should take a stronger interest in the 1936 presidential election was sounded for members of the Twin Falls Golf Club Wednesday noon by Lester Klenke.

Klenke, member of the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce, reported his organization has taken on "politics" as a No. 1 project for this year.

The speaker noted that most citizens have no idea how a candidate is selected by either major party to run for President. He said when a man is nominated, only about half of the voting public will turn out to the polls.

2 Companies Join for New Pipeline Job

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Continental Oil company and Sinclair Oil corporation announced plans yesterday for building a new eight-inch pipeline from Binalco, Wyo., to Salt Lake City.

The new line will be about 310 miles long and will cost about $4,000,000, the joint announcement said. Actual surveys now are being made and right-of-way are being arranged. Construction is expected to begin this spring and the companies hope to have the line in operation before the end of the year.

Company Formed

The announcement said a new firm named Pioneer Pipeline company has been formed to build and operate the line. The capital stock of this company will be owned 50 per cent by Continental Oil and 50 per cent by Sinclair Pipeline company.

Initial carrying capacity of the new pipeline will be 12,000 barrels daily. About 100,000 barrels of products will be required for line fill alone.

Terminal Planned

Plans provide for construction at Salt Lake City of a products terminal and storage facilities for approximately 500,000 barrels of products. The announcement added, "At the terminal there will be a 10-tanker loading rack and a four-section truck loading rack with facilities for loading at the maximum rate of 200 barrels of products an hour. It is estimated that the new terminal will cost about $1,000,000.

When completed, the new line probably will tie in with the Salt Lake Pipeline company's line which extends from Salt Lake City to a point on the Columbia river in Washington, the oil companies said.

Defense Role of CAP Is Discussed

Federal Red-Tape Gets Blame For Drop in Wool Production

BOISE, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Idaho's 45 per cent drop in wool production in the past 10 years is blamed primarily on insecurity arising out of a mass of governmental regulations, the president of the Idaho Wool Growers association said today.

David Little, Emmett, listed prices, collars, labor shortages, excessive taxes and government subsidization of synthetic plants as primary factors. The state's wool output has dropped from 17,000,000 pounds to 9,400,000 pounds since the beginning of World War II.

His comments were made in an interview after a congressional committee said the nation must raise more wool to meet a possible shortage in case of war.

"We must have a sound constructive program to assure those who might be in the sheep business or who might receive it that the economy will not be disrupted by regulations or manipulations that are not practical and would discourage increased production," Little said.

Ten years ago the United States produced more than half of the wool used in this country, he said. Today it is dependent on imports for more than two-thirds of its consumption.

Little said price regulations imposed by the OPA during World War II started the nation on the downward-spiral wool production. He said that two days after Pearl harbor he started the nation on the downward-spiral wool production. Auction Sale to Aid in Campaign

MURTAUGH, Feb. 6.—An auction to benefit the March of Dimes will be held following the Castleford-Murtaugh basketball game here Friday night. The game starts at 7:30.

John Savage, Murtaugh, vice-March of Dimes chairman, reports a similar auction last year raised more than $400 for the March of Dimes. The last auction, included there were fewer government regulations and less labor was required.

"The many governmental agencies and their rules and codes will be done with the sheep industry must deal have given no assurance that would justify reestablishing business... due to the tremendous sums it would take under inflated conditions," Little said.

"He said the government's plan to subsidize synthetic fibre plants was one factor in causing the price of wool to drop more than 50 per cent in the last year."

"To add weight to the contention," he said, "last June high government officials sponsored subsidization of industries through tax amortizations to produce synthetic wool. Naturally this continued our wool manufacturers and threw them into a state of instability and they quit buying wool. There's been no market for wool since last June and today's price might be 50 per cent of a year ago for graded wool."

Last year Idaho growers were being offered $1.10 for their wool. Few sales are being made today but Little appraised the wool market at around 60 cents.

Little said Idaho's sheep flocks have been cut to 930,000 head, compared with 1,200,000 before Pearl Harbor.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI. There should be a time in the day when the child can free his mind by free play. It is not that they are to run wild, doing what comes into their heads.

There are days when children must be indoors. We should provide for those occasions by planning play that tends itself easily to the home or the playground. Dramatics are just the thing. They offer full choice, full freedom of expression, rich opportunity for creative imagination and expression.

Rescue Crew Is Praised in Crash Efforts

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Feb. 6.—The "great work" of rescuers who dragged survivors from the flaming wreckage of a crashed B-24 was credited today with keeping the death toll down to three of the 11 crewmen aboard.

The four-engine Superfortress crashed and burst into flames yesterday as it approached March field for a landing.

Altogether Field Landing The pilot apparently realized his 13,000-pound craft could not reach the field and attempted to belly-land it in an alfalfa field a mile and a half from the runway.

The bomber plowed several hundred feet through the field, tipped over a wing, smashed down a power pole and exploded in flames on a boulevard, 100 feet from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lien.

Debris scattered over a wide area and sent chunks of the plane flying into the front lawn of the Lien home.

Eight of the crewmen, several still strapped in their seats, were thrown clear of the wreckage, but the other three died in the flames.

The dead were identified as Capt. Charles W. Shell, First Lt. Billy Lee and T/Sgt. Wilbur B. Henson. The addresses of their next of kin were not available immediately.

The B-24 was returning from a routine training mission when it crashed.

Monarch's Death Brings First Queen Since Death of Victoria

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The death of King George VI today brought Britain its first reigning queen since Victoria died 81 years ago.

And the coming to the throne of serious gray-eyed Elizabeth revived a mild superstition—that Britain waxes and prospers with a woman's reign.

The belief grew out of the founding of an empire by another Queen Elizabeth 450 years ago, and its rich expansion under Victoria in the 19th century.

The new queen, only 25, today was in Kenya, an east African colony, at the beginning of a five-month tour of Africa, Ceylon, Australia and New Zealand.

They had intended to complete their empire-cementing journey by continuing around the world, with side visits to the Panama canal and to Bermuda, British colony off the Atlantic coast of the United States.

Their son, 3-year-old Prince Charles, born Nov. 14, 1946, now becomes first in line to succeed to the throne. The line of succession, in order, then is Charles, 7-year-old sister, Anne, and the 11-year-old sister, Princess Margaret.

Death of the king brings back several traditional royal titles. One of them, the dukedoms of Cornwall, in England, and Rothesay in Scotland, automatically go to the prince.

Another title—and the most important one—is waiting for young Charles. He is expected someday to become Prince of Wales, a title reserved solely for male heirs to the throne. The title is not passed along automatically, but must be conferred specifically by the reigning monarch.

Expert Service men say: "I got the story on '50,000 Miles-No Wear' and changed to New Conoco Super Motor Oil". "50,000 Miles-No Wear!" Proved Here— After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper crankcase drains and regular oil changes, engines lubricated with Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence... in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. Amazing proof: factory finishing marks were still visible on piston rings! AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 39.7% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that Conoco Super, with Oil-Plating, can make your car last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil. New-Car Power! Quicker Starts! This Winter get "super" performance... "super" protection! Conoco Super Motor Oil checks the accumulation of harmful water and acids, chief causes of winter wear! Yes, Conoco Super, with its Oil-Plating, fights off rust, corrosion and sludge... virtually stops wear before it starts... keeps your engine new and clean. So, for "summit" performance all winter, change now, to winter-grade Conoco Super Motor Oil. This is a HEAVY DUTY OIL. CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY

"I gave Conoco Super a thorough test," says A. E. Stanbridge, Garage Manager, Blackfoot, Idaho. "My engine never performed better, plus giving me 'economy' in gasoline mileage."

"Believe me, this '50,000 Miles-No Wear' story is all you say it is," writes Harry W. Ferguson, Farmington, Oklahoma, Kansas. "I find engines are cleaner and motors show less wear."

"It is a wonderful feeling to recommend Conoco Super Motor Oil," says T. S. Young, Young's Motor Company, Walsenburg, Colorado. "I know it is the finest motor oil on the market!"

"I recently checked a car that had gone 30,000 miles on Conoco Super Motor Oil," states Joseph F. Bradley, of George McLehane, St. Paul, Minnesota. "I've never seen so little wear!"

"After an overhaul job, my customers who change to new Conoco Super Motor Oil have a difficulty in driving their cars 50,000 miles without any more work on them," reports R. K. Comstock, Garage Owner, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

"I have 50,000 miles on my Chevrolet, using Conoco Super Motor Oil," says Nick Mottram, Fire Foreman, Twin Falls, Idaho. "Oil consumption is as at minimum, and gasoline mileage averages 25 miles to the gallon."
